Leafs Blank Buffalo 1-0; Royals Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veteran righthander John Mackinson has become O'Leary's reliable for the Rochester Red Wings in the International League.

The 32-year-old hurler from Orange, N.J., has produced some brilliant pitching in his last three outings. Mackinson came up with a near two-hit shutout as his mates bombed the first-place Montreal Braves 9-0 Tuesday night. In his past two tries Mackinson stopped the Buffalo Bisons. His first effort was a three-inning run affair, and in his next outing he stopped the Bisons on five hits and one run.

The Montreal loss, coupled with a Toronto 1-0 victory over Buffalo cut the Royals' first place margin to one game. The Syracuse Chiefs kept the Havana Sugar Kings two games off the pace by blanking the Cubans 4-0 and the Richmond Virginians downed Columbus Jets 5-1.

16 HIT ATTACK

The Red Wings backed Mackinson's effort with a 16-hit attack, that extended Rochester's winning streak to five straight. Mackinson struck out seven and didn't permit a Royal to get past second base.

Only four Royals were able to reach base. The Red Wings routed Glenn Cox in the second inning, scoring six times in the first two frames.

Jack Crimian stopped the Leafs' five-game skid with a neat six-hitter. He also bunted across what proved to be the winning in the second inning. With the bases loaded and one out Crimian laid down a squeeze bunt that brought home Lou Limmer from third base.

Dick Farrell brought his record to 10-10 as he shut down the Cubans on five hits. Ben Tompkins wrapped the game for the Chiefs with a two-run single in the second inning.

Syracuse rocked three Havana hurlers for 12 hits. Connie Marroero, who started for the Cubans was charged with the loss. His third hit was charged with the loss. His third hit was charged with the loss.

The Virginians capitalized on two unearned runs in the seventh inning to take the series from the Jets four games to two.

Red Sox Trim London 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRANTFORD (CP)—Brantford Red Sox moved into a tie for fourth place with Leamington Majors here Tuesday night by defeating the Majors, 4-1, in an Intercity Senior Baseball League game.

Southpaw Earl Macdonald restricted the visitors to four singles in chalking up his third straight run off him was scored in the win over the London club. The only run off him was scored in the fourth on singles by Hugh McGillivray and Frank Coleman, and Leo Thomas' infield grounder.

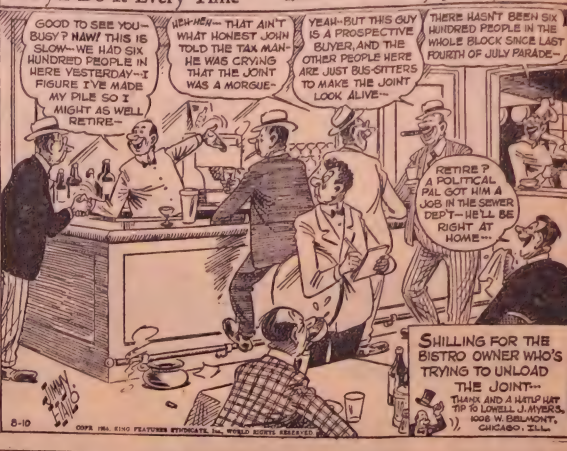

The Sox, who collected nine hits off London lefty Lew Fisher, scored twice in the first inning and added singles in the fifth and seventh.

Ronnie Hodara and Harry Fisher led the Brantford attack with two hits each.

It was the eighth win for the Red Sox in their last 11 games.

Marlene Wins First Round, American Remains Big Threat

By STEPHEN SCOTT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA (CP)—Seattle's Mrs. Edean Anderson Ihanfeldt, Canadian women's open golf champion in 1952, today remained a threat to defending titlist Marlene Stewart of Fontihill, Ont., as this year's tournament entered the second round.

Mrs. Ihanfeldt took medal honors with a two-under-par 75 in the qualifying round Monday. Tuesday she defeated Mrs. E. L. Buchanan of Vancouver 4 and 3 in the first round.

Today Mrs. Ihanfeldt is drawn against Victoria's Dorothy Herbertson, British Columbia junior champion.

The petite and stylish Miss Stewart easily disposed of Marlene Wach of Winnipeg 7 and 5 in another top first round match. Today Mrs. Stewart, who cracked the course record during the Canadian women's close championship last week with a six-under-par 71, was scheduled to play Alberta junior champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton.

TWO OVER PAR Miss Stanhope downed Mrs. D. Rhy-Jones of Victoria 8 and 6 Tuesday. The Edmonton lass ended the first nine holes in 39, two over par and one better than Miss Stewart at that stage.

helpful rays. Difficult problem

You born today are among the world's most ingratiating personalities. You are very capable and possess the joyous gifts of entertaining and helping people, promoting original, clever ideas and stunts. A bit stubborn at times you often want your own way. Cooperating with others without rancor is best for all concerned. Be a plastic temperament. Remember, don't be an innate generous, kind, and above pettiness, so don't be arrogant or egotistical. Keep developing your fine God-given gifts.

Sentinel Pipe
Band at Open Air Concert

RYLSTONE - On Sunday night another large crowd assembled at Crowe River bridge to take part in and listen to another community concert. The weather was much cooler, after the shower of the day before, and though sweaters and jackets were much in evidence, the program was much enjoyed. Several numbers were supplied by the Salem church and community and the Sentinel pipe band was in attendance and played several pieces at the beginning of the program. The weekly welcome was extended by Mrs. Don Kerr, master of ceremonies; Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, Women's Institute president, and Harry Bourne, picnic grounds owner.

The following program was announced by Mrs. Don Kerr: Theme song, "Come to the Church in the Wildwood," with Mrs. Ellis Jones, concert organist, at the portable organ. Sentinel pipe band played several selections.

Community singing was led by J. B. Hagerman, Salem, and was as follows: "Stand Up for Jesus," "Bringing in the Sheaves," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Junior male quartet, "The Lord Counting on You" and "I'm No Secret," by Glen, Joe and Grant Hagerman and Harold Seales of Salem, with Mrs. Vene Hagerman at the organ; accordion solo, "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam" and "Count Your Blessings," by Carol Sine of Salem; chorus, by the intermediate girls' Sunday School class of Salem church, "I've Got a Mansion, Just Over the Hilltop," and "Living for Jesus."

Accordian solo, "Whispering Hope" and "Anytime," by Linda Sine of Stirling, formerly of Salem. Vocal duet, "Kneel at the Cross" and "Farther Along" by Shirley and Marian Broadworth, of Salem, with Mrs. V. Hagerman as accompanist. Group singing, conducted by Mrs. Ernest Irwin, with Mrs. Jones at the organ.

A Juniors, "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," led by Agnes McKeown and Paty Spencer; intermediates, "Old MacDonald had a Farm," led by Gerald Fry and his Marys; seniors, "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross," led by a male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Gerald Barnum, Ernest Sloggett, Claire and Ernest Irwin. Sentinel pipe band played several selections and pipe solo Spencer closed this part of the program with the hymns "He Leadeth Me" and "When He Cometh."

Next Sunday, August 14, the adoc and community brass band will be in attendance and the community of Peter's Corners will supply several vocal and instrumental numbers.

Will Evacuate
Humber Valley
If Rains Come

TORONTO (CP) - Officials in the suburban Humber valley today were ready for flood-scale evacuation of the area flooded by hurricane Hazel last fall as meteorological forecasters warned that hurricane Connie now is following the same route.

Eric Baker, chairman of the Humber Valley Conservation Authority, said a warning system has been set up. Emergency communications and traffic controls have been planned and should serious flooding become imminent police will throw an evacuation plan into operation.

Hazel killed 82 persons in Ontario last Oct. 15 and 16, many in the low-lying Humber valley. Forecasters said there is no immediate threat in this area from the northbound hurricane Connie.

A fierce summer electrical storm which broke over the city and surrounding area this morning disrupted rush-hour traffic, felled hydro poles, filled culverts to overflowing and caused a rash of minor accidents.

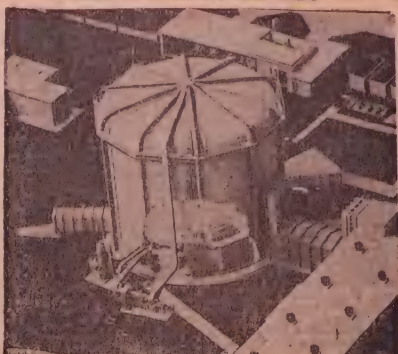

Forecasters said rain must fall for 16 hours to benefit drought-parched farmlands.

SIX REASONS FOR MARLENE'S SMILE

Holder of the Canadian women's close golf championship, 21-year-old Marlene Stewart poses out with her "championship smile" at Royal Colwood Golf Club, Victoria, B.C., for golf pro Bill Court, who holds up six fingers after the Fonthill, Ont. miss rung up her fifth successive close title with a record-setting six-under-par 71. Two days later, Miss Stewart failed by two strokes to capture medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifying round of the Canadian women's open championship, now under way on Colwood course. U.S. contestant Mrs. Edean Anderson of Seattle took medalist honors with a two-under-par 75. Other than Miss Stewart, only one other golfer, Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, has held the women's close title five times. (Central Press Canadian).

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) - For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or strappings of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) - the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only $1.19 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember: if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

Canada's Park Favored In Channel Race

FOLKESTONE, England (Reuters) — Eighteen champion swimmers from 13 countries today prepared to start a long-distance race across the channel from France to England at midnight tonight.

Top favorite in the international contest is Tom Park of Hamilton, winner of the 25-mile world championship race at Atlantic City and holder of the record for the 24-mile swim from Long Beach to Catalina. He made the latter swim in 13 hours 25 minutes.

Park, who confidently says he thinks he will win, was rated even likelier to triumph after Joaquim Baptista Pereira of Portugal withdrew today because of a throat ailment. Pereira won last year's 22-mile channel race in 12 hours 25 minutes. The record is 10 hours 50 minutes, set by Abdul Rehman of Egypt in 1951.

CONDITIONS TOUGH

Park's top opponent now is thought to be Abdel Latif Abu Heif, 27, of Egypt.

Weather experts today gave the all clear for the race though a 16-mile-an-hour wind was blowing off the French coast and visibility was down to between four and eight miles.

Of the five women in the race strongest contenders for the feminine prize appeared Margaret Sweeney, 25, of New Zealand, and Gabriel Vigni, 21, of Egypt. Miss Sweeney said she might contest this year's 32-mile Lake Ontario race if reasonably successful Thursday.

The contest has been organized by Billy Butlin, British vacation resort owner, and the Long Distance Swimming Association.

Prizes are £300 and a silver cup for the first swimmer ashore plus £500 for the first woman to reach England.

Citizens Line Waterfront To View Big Fleet

TORONTO (CP)—Citizens Tuesday lined the waterfront to view the biggest fleet of warships ever to put into Toronto harbor.

Seven warships forming part of the Great Lakes training fleet presented a picture of glittering ack-ack guns and cannon. No more than four warships had previously been in port here at one time.

The fleet, including the 1,335-ton HMCS Wallaceburg and Portage, is on summer-long cruise giving trainees of the Royal Canadian Navy reserve their first taste of life aboard ship.

The seven warships, with 70 young trainees among them, arrived here after manoeuvres held near Frenchman's bay Tuesday morning in preparation for a mock sea-battle by the entire Great Lakes fleet Aug. 16. Fifteen ships will participate.

Parakeet Knew Where to Go For Protection

MILWAUKEE (AP) — This bird knew where to go for protection.

A parakeet, on the loose and pursued by an angry pigeon, sailed through an open window of Judge Ronald A. Drechsler's chambers in downtown Milwaukee Wednesday and perched on the shoulder of deputy sheriff Patrick Dineen.

The pigeon flew. The parakeet stayed. Dineen took the bird to the humane society.

2-Inch Rainfall Floods Many Toronto Areas

TORONTO (CP) — At least one man was dead and several persons were in hospital today in the wake of violent thunderstorms and rain Wednesday that sent most of southern Ontario scurrying for shelter.

Almost two inches of rain drenched the Toronto area, causing floods at traffic chicanes in both morning and evening rush hours. Accompanying lightning left a trail of flaming homes and damaged electrical systems.

Poor visibility was blamed for the death of one man in a car accident near Newmarket, and an Elkhorn boy narrowly escaped drowning when he became wedged in a culvert near his home. Two other men were injured when a car skidded on the greasy pavement near Scarborough.

Toronto's western lakeshore suburbs were hardest hit. Five Elkhorn homes were struck by lightning and all three fire brigades were called out.

Flooding of highways—in some places to a depth of six feet—stalled some vehicles and forced others to move at a snail pace.

Near Port Credit a section of the Queen Elizabeth way was washed out, while Toronto's arterial lakeshore highway at Long Branch and Mimico was swamped with two feet of water.

The morning storm upset five dinghies in Toronto bay and the afternoon storm capsized another 14.

Lightning played havoc with the Toronto transportation commission's metropolitan substation and caused a short circuit at the height of the evening rush hour.

Aurora's hydro also suffered from lightning, which knocked out the suburb's power for three hours.

A home in Markham and two in Lindsay were struck by lightning.

The weather office said the storms were the result of a warm front from the western United States—not a prelude to hurricane Connie, now hovering off the coast of the Carolinas.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A tropical storm, Diane, has developed in the Atlantic 400 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, the weather bureau reported today in its first advisory on the fourth storm of the season.

The advisory stated: "Ship reports indicate that a tropical storm has formed in the Atlantic and was located at 8 a. m. EDT near latitude 23.0 north, longitude 62.0 west. . . . This storm appears to be moving towards the west-northwest or northwest at about 14 miles per hour attended by winds of 50 to 60 miles per hour near the centre and gales outward 100 miles.

"Further intensification is expected during the next 24 hours, with movement continuing about the same."

Diane formed 300 miles north and considerably west of the area which spawned Connie, the great Atlantic hurricane now threatening the United States mainland.

It is too early to determine whether Diane will follow in Connie's path.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Ten-year-old Wilbur today is back home from the hospital today, and so is his turtle.

Wilbur went fishing for turtles Tuesday night from a bridge and caught the biggest one of his career. In the excitement he toppled off the bridge.

An ambulance was summoned but Wilbur, still in possession of the turtle, refused to go unless his catch went with him.

Wilbur and turtle were taken to hospital, where the boy was treated for lacerations and bruises. Both were released in good condition.

Hydrogen-Power Project Going Well in U.S.

GENEVA (Reuters) — The United States "is and has been working for a long time" on the problem of harnessing the power of the H-bomb for peaceful purposes, Admiral Lewis Strauss, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission announced today.

Strauss said progress is being made on the hydrogen-power project. But he said he wanted to emphasize it is "a very long-range project—and I would underscore the word very."

The royal children are on their way to the castle home of the Earl and Countess of Stair. It was the earl's daughter, Lady Jean Rankin, who revealed details of the fishing trip after the Britannia left sailing away from here.

"Princess Anne was thrilled and shouted excitedly when she caught a small perch," Lady Rankin said.

Royal Children Turn Anglers, Princess Anne Gets Small Perch

STRAINER, Scotland (Reuters) — Prince Charles and Princess Anne, turned anglers Wednesday and the five-year-old princess caught a tiny perch.

As she squealed excitedly, her brother, aged six, kept fishing. But he had no luck.

Strauss made his announcement at a press briefing only a day after British scientists revealed their claims is working on peaceful applications of H-bomb power.

While the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh fulfilled public engagements in the area, the children were brought ashore and taken to the castle home of the Earl and Countess of Stair. It was the earl's daughter, Lady Jean Rankin, who revealed details of the fishing trip after the Britannia left sailing away from here.

"Princess Anne was thrilled and shouted excitedly when she caught a small perch," Lady Rankin said.

FOUR FEDERAL BY-ELECTIONS TO BE HELD SEPT. 26

All in Traditionally Liberal Ridings

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal by-elections will be held Sept. 26 in four traditionally Liberal constituencies. Three are in Quebec, the other in New Brunswick.

The contests, to fill four of six Commons vacancies, may give some indication of voters' reaction to such questions as the sale of wheat and butter to Communist countries.

Two of the Quebec by-elections result from the appointment to the Senate of Hon. C. G. Power, wartime air minister who represented Quebec South for 38 years, and of Jean Francois Pouliot, member for Temiscouata for 31 years. The third results from the appointment of J. Philippe Picard, member for Bellechasse since 1940, as Canadian ambassador to Argentina.

N.B. MEMBER DIED

The New Brunswick constituency of Restigouche-Madawaska became vacant last spring through the death of L. G. Boucher, elected for the first time in the 1953 general election.

Date of the by-elections was learned Wednesday from an official of the chief electoral officer's office.

By-elections to fill two other vacancies, previously held by Liberals, will be held later, possibly in October.

They will be in Toronto Spadina, held continuously since 1945 by David Croft, now a senator, and in St. John's-Iberville - Napierville where member since 1945, Fred-William General Aldeide, died last Sunday.

Present standing in the 265-seat Commons: Liberals, 166; Progressive Conservatives, 21; CCF, 21; Social Credit, 15; Independent, four; vacancies, six.

Political issues debated in Parliament during the last session likely will form part of electioneering, and include the question of special defence production powers against which the Progressive Conservatives staged a successful 10-day filibuster. Prime Minister St. Laurent bowed to Conservative demands and agreed to a three-year limit to the powers, vested in Defence Production Minister Howe who at first argued they should be permanent.

Conservative criticisms also followed announcement that Canada sold butter at below cost to Communist Czechoslovakia and guaranteed a $17,000,000 bank loan in the sale of $20,000,000 worth of wheat to Communist Poland.

POLICE GET TICKET

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Two Ontario provincial police constables were in court Wednesday, testifying on traffic summonses they had issued. When they came out to their cruisers, which they had parked outside the court, they got a surprise. They had been ticketed for overtime parking.

She also reported that Anne rode a bicycle for the first time Wednesday. "She saw her brother riding one and thought she would like to try."

Two accidents marred the royal visit to Stranraer.

About 20 men, women and children standing on a small wooden bridge to watch the Britannia leave plunged 15 feet into a stream when the bridge collapsed.

The stream was only about 18 inches deep but some people were injured. They were taken to hospital in private cars belonging to others watching the royal departure.

Earlier, while the Queen and the Duke were presenting prizes at the local agricultural show, a man and a woman clambered on to the roof of a refreshment pavilion just opposite the royal box.

But the roof gave way, they fell about 20 feet, and ended up in hospital.

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI says it has cracked the largest cash bank robbery in history, seizing two men as alleged members of a smooth-working quartet who held up a Queens bank to the tune of $305,000.

Warrants were issued for two other men thought to have been the ring leaders. A fifth has been held as a material witness.

Arrested Wednesday were James McCoo, 36, and Frank Cocchiara, 34, both of Astoria, Queens—nor far from the looted Woodside, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

Cocchiara's wife, Mildred, was a teller at the Woodside bank when four bandits appeared April 6 and made off with their record haul without firing a shot. Mrs. Cocchiara since has resigned. None of the stolen money has been recovered.

Redmond (Ninny) Cribbins, 48, alias Mike Malloy, and Thomas (Duke) Connelly, 30, described as veteran criminals, are sought for questioning.

Vincent W. Krill, 28, a bartender daunted as "Snowing" Cribbins and Connelly, is held in $40,000 bail as a material witness.

FBI Arrests Two Polio Epidemic For Bank Theft, Seeks Two Others

BOSTON (AP) — An appeal for nurses went out today as Massachusetts' polio emergency was labelled for the first time an epidemic—a "mild epidemic," in the description of Dr. Joseph P. Pearson, state epidemiologist.

The Massachusetts State Nurses Association said it hopes to recruit 45 nurses in north shore communities and Cape Cod to serve in four Boston hospitals where staffs are taxed. If not enough respond a state-wide appeal is in prospect.

The 1955 total of 1,038 through Aug. 10 compared with 98 in the corresponding period of 1954. This year's polio has cost 44 lives in New England. Thirty-one deaths in north shore or more injections of Sak anti-polio vaccine, but none who died had received it.

PLAN RUSSIAN TOUR

OTTAWA (CP) — A delegation of Russian farm experts now touring the United States will arrive in Montreal Aug. 25 for a 10-to-15 days stay in Canada, the federal agriculture department said Wednesday. They will spend a day in Montreal, then go to Fredericton and Granby, arriving in Ottawa Aug. 27. They will likely leave the capital Aug. 28 for Regina.

Reds Said on Verge of Solving Mystery of Photosynthesis

By FRANK CAREY

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet scientists told the atoms-for-peace conference today that they believe they are on the verge of solving the mystery of photosynthesis—nature's ingenious method of feeding the world.

A. L. Kursanov told the 72-country meeting that the Russians, using radioactive isotopes as tracers in plant studies, have found out a number of things about the process in which green plants under sunlight convert carbon dioxide and water into the sugars and starches that men and animals eat.

Men of science have long sought the secret of this process, hoping to duplicate it artificially as a help with the world's food problems.

Kursanov described the Soviet findings as "preliminary to the decisive step in the direction of disclosing the mystery of photosynthesis and of mastering this process."

"This probably will take place in the near future," he added.

Kursanov reported the Russians have found that proteins as well as carbohydrates are direct products of photosynthesis in plant leaves. He said carbohydrates are formed under the influence of the red and yellow parts of sunlight while proteins are formed under the influence of blue light.

Kursanov said atomic energy has also been helpful to Russian farmers.

"It was by means of radioactive isotopes," he said, "that the problem of effective application of granulated fertilizer (widely used in Russia) was finally solved."

He explained that experimenters mixed a small amount of radioactive phosphorus with phosphorus active farm fertilizer and introduced it in the soil below planted seeds. Detection instruments then determined the fertilizer's first "contact" with plant roots, enabling the working out of a planing plan to assure prompt assimilation of the plant food.

South Korean Riots Checked By Censure from U.S., U.K.

By MURRAY FROMSON

SEOUL (AP) — Organized South Korean demonstrations against the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission virtually halted today as free-world opinion came crashing down on President Syngman Rhee and his government's threats against the truce terms.

Crowds were still milling around today at the five ports of entry throughout South Korea where the truce inspectors are stationed, but most of the demonstrations consisted of shouting and waving banners.

Demonstrators, once numbered in the thousands, dropped off to 200 at Incheon, Kunsan and Taegu. 300 to 600 at Pusan and 100 at Kangnung.

Rhee's government again today called for a truce against violence in five days of riots has injured 22 American soldiers and 80 Koreans.

An official spokesman, Dr. Hong Kee Karil, said, is greatly to be regretted that those who have come to our aid should be injured as a result of trouble with the Korean people.

"Our aim is to survive, not to harm others."

"Our people, therefore, should be careful not to cause any trouble for our friends through violence or disorderly actions."

Similar sentiments were expressed by Rhee Wednesday—but they came only after a knuckling.

rapping from the British foreign office, which said it deplored the violence against the Communist members of the truce commission.

This morning the reactions poured in from Washington and London. State Secretary Dulles said the United States will fulfill its armistice obligation to protect the truce commission, and admonished the Korean government to move with caution in attempting to drive the NNSC from the republic.

Dulles said the U.S. feels many of the armistice provisions have become obsolete and impractical, but Washington would not try to change them by force.

A British labor newspaper, The Daily Herald in London, today calls Rhee "a noisy troublemaker," and says "his ambitions are unrealistic and must be abandoned."

Meanwhile, at Panmunjom, a Swiss spokesman said the NNSC had decided to turn over a South Korean ultimatum handed it last Saturday to the military armistice commission "for appropriate action."

The South Korean deadline to the commission expires at midnight Saturday.

The Communists, apparently acting on the widespread demonstrations against its satellite Czech and Polish representatives on the commission, has called a full-dress meeting of the military armistice commission for Friday morning.

'Strip Tease' Strike Proposed By 6,000 Clerks

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Some 6,000 third-grade clerks in the Indian government secretariat will start a "strip tease" strike next week to back demands for more pay.

The clerks will appear at work next Tuesday shirtless and unshaven; if their demands are not met after another week they will remove their trousers and go to work in pajama pants.

A week later they plan to replace pajamas by short undershorts and discard their shoes.

If the strike is still in progress on Sept. 5, they will report for duty in jaincloths with bed sheets wrapped around their shoulders.

ROAD MACHINE FOUND

SMITHS FALLS (CP) — A three-day search for a stolen 10-ton road grader ended Wednesday when a $23,000 machine was found abandoned on a side road. Although the grader was found four miles from where it was taken last weekend, Ontario provincial police said about 30 gallons of the vehicle's fuel was spent, indicating it was driven between 15 and 20 miles.

Russian Guests Will Be Shown 'Canadian Agriculture at Its Best'

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is mapping out a 12-day tour for its Russian guests to show them "Canadian agriculture at its best."

S. J. Chagnon, assistant deputy minister of agriculture, said today, "We are proud of our agriculture and we will show them the best there is," he said in an interview.

Mr. Chagnon, who is heading the Soviet Agricultural Exhibition last year, has been placed in charge of arrangements for the Canadian visit of a delegation of Russian farm experts now touring the United States.

Three of the Communist farm authorities visited the giant Ford automobile plant at Detroit today. The delegation, headed by Soviet Agriculture Minister Vladimir Matveev, arrives at Montreal Aug. 25.

The visitors will likely be taken on a short tour of Montreal, then to Granby and Fredericton, Que., and possibly the Macdonald Agricultural College at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

Mr. Chagnon said the plan is to bring the Russians to Ottawa Aug. 27 for a one-day stop and a luncheon at the suburban farm home of the H. H. Hannum, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Then on to Regina where the Russians will see some of Canada's biggest wheat farms at the height of harvest time.

From there the visitors will work back east, stopping off at Winnipeg. They will go through the rich fruit-growing belt of southeastern Ontario, stopping off possibly at Chatham and taking in the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and possibly the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

21 DIE, 15 HURT AS EXPLOSION SHATTERS CAFE

Victims Sought Haven From Fierce Storm

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — A violent explosion and fire leveled six buildings on the nearby Andover village square Wednesday night, killing at least 21 persons and injuring 15. The blast was in the Gateway restaurant, where many of the victims had crowded to escape a fierce thunderstorm.

The two-story frame building disintegrated with a force that shook houses throughout the village of 1,200. Several of the victims plunged into the basement of the structure. Their charred bodies were recovered later by winches hoisted on trucks.

Debris showered Main street in front of the restaurant, ripping up sections of the street and wrecking several automobiles. Then the flames whipped on to other buildings.

Policeman Elmer Bumbulis was driving past the restaurant at the time of the explosion and gave this description of the disaster: "The walls blew out and the roof fell in. There were arms and legs sticking out of the wreckage all over the building."

No one was certain what caused the explosion. Firemen, however, speculated that accumulated gas was set off either by a bolt of lightning or a spark from electrical equipment in the basement, flooded by the heavy rains.

Today, tired firemen and volunteer rescuers still were picking through the smoking wreckage in search of more bodies.

In a makeshift morgue set up three blocks from the scene, authorities today were going through the grisly task of identifying the bodies.

Frank Lacky, a truck driver, was eating in the restaurant when it exploded.

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Towering waves and furious winds slammed into the Carolina coast today as hurricane Connie edged ominously toward the mainland.

Tree limbs, shingles and other debris flew through the air on winds of 60 miles an hour and higher, whipping through exposed resort areas.

The dangerous storm which threatened a vast stretch of the seaboard from Georgetown, S. C., north, was piling up sand and water in the streets of some North Carolina beach towns. Most vacationers and many permanent residents had sought shelter inland.

"It's blowing so hard you can hardly stand up," police chief M. E. Williamson reported from Wrightsville Beach, east of Wilmington.

HIGHER THAN HAZEL

The tide at Swansboro, north of here and near Jacksonville, was reported higher than it was during the same stage of hurricane Hazel.

Communication lines were going out in many areas feeling the force of Connie's extended outer gales.

A fishing pier on the north end of Wrightsville Beach, destroyed by Hazel and rebuilt, was swept away again.

New England was told, meanwhile, it could expect a weather bureau announced Connie is no threat to New England for at least "the next 36 hours."

Small craft were given the green light to resume normal activities in New England.

The 9 a. m. weather bulletin on Connie pushed hurricane warnings down the South Carolina coast as far as Cape Romain, 50 miles northeast of Charleston. The red-and-black flags were up as far north as the Virginia capes.

Tides, already four or five feet above normal, are expected to be double that in some places.

The Flying Fish shoal shipwreck, 45 miles off the mouth of the Cape Fear river and 60 miles southeast of Wilmington, pitched and tossed in winds up to 90 miles an hour and raging seas as early as 8 a. m. At the mouth of the Cape Fear near Southport coast guardsmen at Oak Island reported steady 60-mile winds.

PEAK WIND SLOWS

Paul Moore, forecaster in the Miami Storm-Warning Unit, noted that Connie was spreading out somewhat, thereby reducing peak wind velocity near the centre. But she is far from a dying storm, he warned, and "we don't want anybody to let down their guard."

Inch-and-Half Of Rain Falls In Past 24 Hrs.

Despite almost an inch-and-a-half of rain which has fallen in the Belleville area during the past 24 hours, the month of August is still considerably behind in rainfall as compared with the first ten days of August last year.

Officials at the city water filtration plant on the Trent Road today said there has been 1.80 inch of rain so far this month. During the same period last year the rainfall was 2.23 inches.

But what August has lacked in rainfall it has made up for in hot weather. The mean temperature so far this month has been 75.5 degrees as compared with a mean temperature of 68.5 degrees for the corresponding period a year ago. Last August was just about normal for temperature. The average mean reading for the period over the years is 68 degrees.

Lightning Hits Cedar St. Home

Household members at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penn, 60 Cedar street, were startled when the sleep early today when, during the morning's thunderstorm, their home was struck by lightning which blew out electric fuses, ripped out the TV lead-in and filled the house with smoke.

As a precautionary measure the city fire department was called but fortunately the sharp bolt of lightning caused no fire.

The accompanying rainstorm dumped nearly three quarters of an inch of rain on the city with officials at the filtration plant reporting a rainfall of .72 inch.

Watertown Boy Drowned In Fortune Lake

Falling into the water when he lost his balance as his father was making a turn with a motorboat, an 11-year-old Watertown, N.Y., boy was drowned in Fortune Lake in north Frontenac County shortly before noon Wednesday.

Provincial Police said that Richard T. Jones, son of Watertown parents holidaying at a camp on Fortune Lake had been drowned while out in a boat with his father. Dragging operations were still continuing Wednesday night.

Fortune Lake is almost directly east of Bancroft in the extreme north of Frontenac County. Provincial Constable Harvey Adams of Sharbot Lake detachment investigated.

Trading Slack Despite Wide Produce Offering

Trading was slack on the local market this morning. Despite a wide offering, at mostly steady prices, produce moved slowly.

Tomatoes settled mostly at 50 cents a 6-quart basket with an offering of two at 40 cents a basket. Corn moved between 35-50 cents, according to size. Cucumbers continued in good supply at low prices with slicers selling from a nickel apiece to three for 10 cents and 50 cents a basket and dills bringing 75 cents. Cabbage was 10-15 cents a head and pepper 10-15 cents each. Spanish onions sold for 10 cents apiece while Toher onions were 10 cents a bunch. Potatoes continued at 50 cents a basket while carrots sold from 15 cents quart up to 60 cents a basket.

Everbearing strawberries were 35 cents a pint while Shiro plums continued at 20 cents a quart and 70 cents a basket. Clapote favorite pears were 90 cents a basket. Apples sold from 55 cents a basket for smaller Astrachans up to 75 cents for larger samples while Melbas were 60 cents a basket. Melons and cantaloupes were 15-30 cents, according to size. Montmorency cherries continued at $1 a basket without stems.

Eggs were 73 cents a dozen for large while a large supply of gladioli brought $1 a dozen.

JAMES W. FRIAR

PICTON — A veteran of World War II during which he served overseas with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, James W. Friar was buried here Wednesday afternoon. Service was held at the G. M. Hicks and Son Funeral Home with interment in Glenwood cemetery. Tuesday night members of Branch 78, Canadian Legion, held a memorial service at the funeral home, parading from the Legion hall.

Mr. Friar lost his life on Sunday, his 42nd birthday. Resident of Syracuse, N.Y., for the past two months, he was driving his car on the Thruway. About two miles north of Phelps, at 2 a.m., the car skidded across the highway, crashed rear-end first into a rock embankment, flipped upside down and burst into flames.

Driving alone, he was alive when pulled from the wreckage by James and Rita McHale, 17 Genessee St., Geneva, N.Y., and Edward Herrold, a truck driver, from Gellings Grove, Pa.

DIED IN HOSPITAL
He died in Clifton Springs Sanatorium at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, according to Trooper L. E. Tolakiewicz of Waterloo and Trooper T. E. Gallagher of Auburn. Friar passed Herrold's truck shortly before the accident and minutes before the McHales arrived.

Herrold sprayed the McHales with a fire extinguisher from his truck while they pulled the wreckage from the blazing wreckage. State police say they believed Friar fell asleep at the wheel. He suffered a skull fracture and lung puncture.

Friar was enroute to Niagara Falls, Ont., to spend his birthday with his wife and family. Born in North Marysburg township, Prince Edward County, Friar was a well known carpenter here. In 1939 he enlisted with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, serving in the Italian and Sicilian campaigns. He was twice wounded. He attained the rank of sergeant major and served some time as CQMS.

Returning from overseas he continued as a carpenter here. Later he went to Ottawa and then to Niagara Falls as a housing inspector with the Canadian government for five years. Two months ago he accepted a position with the Gardner and North Roofing and Siding Corporation, 540 S. Clinton Rd., Syracuse, N.Y. That city he resided with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Young and a cousin, Raymond, 13.

Sorrowing are his mother, Mrs. Elmer Young, and Mr. Young; his wife, Nellie; Tattle, two daughters, Sandra, 18, and Jimmie (Gertrude), a sister, Marion Young.

STEPHEN GEORGE PAYNE
(Coe Hill)

The funeral of Stephen George Payne, Coe Hill, who died August 7, in the Belleville General Hospital, was held from the Belleville Burial Company, Coe Hill, Gospel Tabernacle church, August 10.

Interment was in Coe Hill cemetery.

Mr. Fred Wicks officiated. The bearers were Charles Peacock, George Peacock, Albert Ingram, Carman Rowe, William Garrett, Douglas Cameron.

ERNEST ALBERT CURRY
Funeral services for Ernest Albert Curry, Moira, were held Wednesday at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home.

The services were conducted by Bram Humphreys of the Salvation Army.

Interment was in Moira cemetery.

Bowling News

A trebles rink of Bruce Miller, Garn Dobbs and Jerry Hyde is showing improvement. Three years ago the rink entered the Canada Rex Spray tournament at Brighton and came home with the third prize. Last year they again journeyed west and returned with the second award of the trophy. On Wednesday afternoon, they again made the trek and this time were successful in winning the beautiful trophy and the accompanying prizes.

This rink was not the only local rink that was successful at the tournament. Harold Parker, Gordon Edwards and Gordon Waikins won the second prize in three-game high while Fred Rutherford, Webb Kingston and Ernie Stoggett of Campbellford, won the two-game high point. A rink of Larry Hu, Fred Harper and "Ab" Wonnacott won the one-game high. Another rink of Wade Morrow, Al Symons and Wilfred Price did not get into the prize money.

A heavy rain preceded the bowling, which did not get under way until after three o'clock but the greens were lightning fast and some excellent bowling was witnessed. As usual the Brighton club members proved ideal hosts.

Building Boom in Thurlow Has Zoomed to All-Time High

A building boom which saw its birth in the township less than half-a-dozen years ago has zoomed to an all-time high in Thurlow township this year with a construction value for the first seven months totalling $1,205,900. More than half of this total, or $654,700, is for residential construction with 119 such permits having been issued from January 1st until the end of July.

Township building inspector M. G. Wright, noted that construction is going ahead almost too fast for officials to keep up with it. "New housing sub-divisions are springing up all through the suburban Belleville area," stated Mr. Wright. "Farm properties east of the city are being subdivided, the latest planned being that of John M. Parrott, who is sub-dividing part of his farm for residential construction."

Mr. Wright noted that the actual value of housing construction in the township this year would be considerably more than that indicated by permits as for the most part these are builders' estimates of costs only and do not include labor. Lowest permit value issued for residence is $2,000.

Big commercial permits issued in Thurlow this year include the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company plant just east of the city and south of the four-lane highway and the Petro-Fin tank station at Corbyville. A new Catholic school is also planned for Point Anne.

EXPANSION SWINGS EAST
The post war residential building boom in Thurlow township got underway in the College Hill district with the sub-divisions including Reynolds Crescent and Carman Ave. were built up. Then veterans' homes under the VLA were built in what is now known as Parkdale.

Starting four years ago the building boom struck College Hill in earnest and the entire area has now been built up. During the past two years activity has swung to the east of the city. New homes have sprung up on Point Anne Lane, veterans' houses are going up on the Purdy Sideroad and 30 new houses are now going up under a co-operative house building scheme known as Woodland Acres.

And in addition to this several farmers have sub-divided properties with provision for up to 20 homes. And still the building boom continues with another 15 permits for residences having been issued so far in August.

Sacred Vote Down 10 P.C.

EDMONTON (CP)—The Social Credit vote in the June 20 Alberta election dropped almost 10 per cent from 1952. The Liberals party jumped nine per cent.

Ray Crovlin, chief electoral officer, announced Wednesday that 29,134 valid votes were cast. The Social Credit party, returned to office for the sixth successive time since 1935, obtained 178,546 votes—48.4 per cent. The Liberals got 117,731—31.1 per cent.

In announcing the official figures, Mr. Crovlin said 22,914 ballots were rejected. The Social Credit party under Premier E. C. Manning won 37 seats, a drop of 15 from the 52 the party won in 1952.

40,000 Visitors Help Moncton Commemorate Acadians' Expulsion

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONCTON (CP)—About 40,000 visitors streamed into this flag-decorated city today and joined residents in celebrations marking the expulsion of the Acadians 200 years ago.

French tricolors made commercial Main street resemble Rue St. Jean in Quebec City on St. Jean Baptiste day—the national feast of French Canada. Union Jacks and Quebec's own blue-and-white fleur-de-lis flag flew from Moncton an air of festival.

Visitors poured in from nearby New Brunswick towns and villages from Nova Scotia settlements, many other parts of Canada, near by New England states and the State of Louisiana.

BIG PARADE TODAY

Highlight of today's celebrations, which end in the early-morning hours Friday with the unveiling in Moncton's Roman Catholic cathedral of a statue of Our Lady of the Assumption, is a parade of 20 floats and 15 bands. Bands from Massachusetts, Barfield, Ont., Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will march.

James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto opens day-long celebrations with the chanting of a pontifical mass in Moncton stadium.

Tonight visitors will divide their attention among an historic pageant, an international folkloric festival and a concert by Acadian artists. From 11 p.m. until midnight fireworks will fill the sky.

Celebrations continue Saturday with another pontifical mass, to be sung by Archbishop Maurice Roy of Quebec, another parade, a popular concert and a second fireworks display.

Thousands will gather at Grand Pre Aug. 15, Roman Catholic feast of the Assumption, for the unveiling of a monument to Henry Wade Longfellow near the statue of Evangeline, heroine of the epic poem about the Acadian expulsion.

District Golf Tourney Set For Aug. 20

Dubbed "Eastern Ontario's richest 18-hole golf tournament" the 10th annual Bay of Quinte District tourney gets under way at the Bay of Quinte Country Club on Saturday, August 20.

There will be 18 holes medal play with prizes awarded to the first three low gross and low net in Class "A", Class "B" and Class "C" flights.

To the winner of the best low gross goes the Corbin Lusk Trophy. The team prize is the J. J. Morch Trophy. Individual prizes will go to the four team members.

The first one hundred entries will be accepted for the tournament and entries must be in the hands of T. A. Carruthers, Bay of Quinte Country Club, Box 65, Belleville by Monday, August 15. The draw will be published.

Butter Production Declined Eight Per Cent in July

OTTAWA (CP)—Butter production declined eight per cent in July to 40,163,000 pounds from 43,826,000 pounds in the corresponding month last year, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Cheese production declined to 9,928,000 pounds from 12,797,000 in July, 1954, but process cheese production rose to 4,485,000 pounds from 3,422,000 last year.

Ice cream output rose to 5,319,000 gallons from 4,387,000 and margarine output declined to 7,750,000 pounds from 7,802,000.

Police Blotter

The holiday of an American tourist was delayed late Wednesday afternoon when his car was in collision with another vehicle on the four-lane road at the east end of the city.

Police said that Walter J. Pelensky, of Philadelphia, Pa., was pulling away from the north shoulder of the westbound lane intending to swing across onto the east lane when his car was in collision with the auto of Keith Garbutt, R.R. 7, Belleville, who was also westbound.

Damage of about $250 resulted to the American car and about $100 to the Garbutt auto. City police were asked to be on the lookout for Lloyd Heywood, 31-year-old Deseronto youth who is missing from his home.

Soviet Farmers To Visit Ford Assembly Plant

DETROIT (AP)—The three members of the Soviet farm delegation visiting here planned today to visit the giant Ford automobile plant.

Ford officials said they would show them the factory foundry, the final assembly line and the plant steel operations, and then take them to the Dearborn engine plant.

Tonight the Russians leave by plane for Chicago to rejoin other members of their group.

The Soviet delegates apparently were undisturbed by a demonstration Wednesday night which consisted of a small caravan of cars, driven by Ukrainian nationalists and carrying anti-Soviet banners, in front of their Detroit hotel.

It was the second Ukrainian nationalist demonstration against the Soviet delegates. The first took place in Minneapolis last Sunday.

Senator Reid Highly Pleased With Police Raids

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator Thomas Reid, chairman of the Senate special committee on narcotics, says Vancouver's crackdown on drug traffickers "appears to have been spurred by a committed law enforcement man."

The senator said in an interview Wednesday night he is "highly pleased" with joint RCMP-city police raids Tuesday which resulted in drug trafficking and conspiracy charges being laid against 27 persons. Eight other suspects are sought.

Acting police chief Alan Rossiter told reporters "it can be expected" another group of underworld peddlars will try to move in to supply the city's estimated 2,000 drug addicts.

COULD NOT REPLY
The Vancouver Sun says drug capsules, normally $5 each, climbed to between $6 and $10 Wednesday.

The arrests Tuesday followed five months of undercover work by rookie constables Bob Devente, 27, and Paul Scherling, 25.

Police said the operation was guided by chief constable Walter Mulligan, now on leave of absence while a royal commission investigates charges of corruption and graft in his department.

They said Mulligan was unable to answer criticism from Senator Reid's committee last June for fear of exposing the scheme and endangering the lives of the two undercover officers.

Man Becomes Flaming Torch

STOUFFVILLE (CP)—A 68-year-old man became a flaming torch Wednesday when he threw a pall of gasoline on a bonfire in his backyard by mistake.

Douglas Booth of Stouffville is in fair condition with severe burns to his head, face, arms and legs.

Neighbour said Booth had intended to throw a pall of water on the fire, but picked up the gasoline instead. He managed to smother the flames by rolling on the ground, then staggered away from a neighbor who called a doctor.

Coast Guard Cutter Lifts Ashore 43 Men

BOSTON (AP)—The coast guard cutter McCulloch today lifted ashore 43 men evacuated from a United States air force radar platform at sea, including a dozen spilled into the water during a spillover transfer.

Left behind on the "Texas tower" artificial island were 60 workers mending their lives on their faith that the platform are building 100 miles off Cape Cod can withstand hurricane Connie's worst.

Cdr. Louis F. Sudnik, skipper of the McCulloch, said a dozen men were dunked in the Atlantic Wednesday transferring to one of the cutter's boats. The men, all wearing life jackets, were fished out unhurt.

HAVE CONFIDENCE
As for the 60 men remaining aboard the platform—with its three permanent legs now embedded in the ocean floor on Georges shoal—Sudnik said their chances to ride out the hurricane are "in the hands of the Lord."

No rescue craft would dare venture near the tower in heavy seas because "it would hit bottom on the downswelling of the swell."

The $100,000 radar platform is the first of a string to be built out in the Atlantic for the air force. Its radar is intended to provide early warning in event of an enemy attack.

One of the men remaining aboard said in a radio phone talk that he and the others decided to stay because they believe the tower is "perfectly safe and we have a job to do."

Relocation On New Townsite Starts Next Week

IROQUOIS (CP) — Thomas Johnson's frame dwelling is to be the first of 200 homes relocated to a new townsite as a result of the St. Lawrence power development.

It was learned Wednesday the relocation program will start next week. Iroquois, a village of 1,100 population 35 miles west of Cornwall, will be moved a few miles north of its present location which is to be flooded by the power project.

Workers have been laying sewers and water mains and digging house foundations at the new townsite for the past two weeks.

A giant house-moving machine, whose wheel assemblies weigh two tons, has been imported from the United States and is being assembled here.

Seeking Uranium? Amateurs Have Little Luck

GENEVA (CP) — A Canadian geologist today told the international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy that amateur prospectors haven't had much luck in finding uranium deposits in Canada.

Dr. A. H. Lang, acting chief of the mineral deposits division of the geological survey of Canada, said the important discoveries have been made by organized teams of geologists and trained prospectors or by competent independent prospectors.

However, Dr. Lang said, the possibility of important ore bodies being found by amateurs is not ruled out. There was always a chance that an amateur might find an important deposit.

Dr. Lang's paper was designed to explain to scientists at the historic meeting the technical aspects of uranium prospecting in Canada by ground and aerial surveys.

"More people are searching for uranium in Canada today than for any other metal and uranium mining is assuming a major place in the country's mineral industry," he said.

During the last four years more than 1,000 occurrences of radioactive mineral, mainly pitchblende had been discovered. However, only a few were of sufficient uranium content to permit them to be mined at an economic cost.

Farmhand Dies

AYLMER, Ont. (CP) — A 55-year-old farmhand died in a St. Thomas hospital early today of gunshot wounds suffered Wednesday while hunting groundhogs.

Special CBC Program On 10th Anniversary

A special program marking the 10th anniversary of VJ-Day will be broadcast on the CBC Trans-Canada network on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 6.15 p.m. EDT.

Called "Defeat in the East", the 15-minute program will feature flashbacks to that important day, including President Truman's surrender announcement, King George's Thanksgiving broadcast, Ottawa's tribute to the armed forces, and General McArthur's remarks at the formal surrender on the Missouri in Tokyo Bay. Raoul Engle of Montreal, recently returned from across the Pacific, will report on present-day Japan. Bill Boss of Canadian Press, former war correspondent who will be the commentator for the program will conclude the broadcast with a VJ-Day resume.

Labor Minister Critical Of Union's Action

TORONTO (CP) — Labor Minister Daley of Ontario today criticized officials of the United Automobile Workers (CIO-UAW) who this week walked out of a conciliation board hearing of the union's contract dispute with General Motors.

He said in a statement the UAW officers, led by George Burt, violated the "intent of the legislation" which established the provincial conciliation machinery designed to make recommendations in labor disputes.

When Mr. Burt walked out of the Oshawa hearing, he said no conciliation board "ever settled a dispute in the auto industry" and said the union could not respect legislation which established the board because "we've been taking a licking on this legislation for years".

The union is contesting several points with General Motors, including a UAW proposal for establishment of the guaranteed annual wage.

Ten Big Fires Rage Unchecked In Northland

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ten big fires raged unchecked today in the northern forest-lands, where flames still burrow deep below ground. Another 80 were under control.

Rain drenched the southern corner of the province Wednesday but, continuing the ironic seasonal pattern, largely bypassed the north. Firefighters, despite lightning storms and high temperatures, put out 20 small fires Wednesday.

A few scattered showers helped ease the fire siege in the central Sault Ste. Marie area, the weather bureau reported, but no appreciable rain fell in the far north areas of Cochrane and Kapuskasing, where seven of the biggest fires burn unchecked.

Flames in some northern areas still burn a foot below ground. Only heavy rain can reach them. But no prolonged rainfall is forecast.

Firefighters worked around the clock against a 1,000-acre forest blaze at Auden, 200 miles northeast of Fort William, where a fire jump Tuesday isolated 150 men from their camp.

Hearing Resumes

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — Inquest into the deaths of seven young American boys in an avalanche on towering Mount Temple resumes today after a recess of almost a month.

The boys, aged 12 to 16, were swept to their deaths July 11 when a mass of wet, unstable snow broke loose.

A one-day hearing was held July 15.

Although I will be in Belleville from time to time in the future, on the occasion of moving my home and family to Toronto, I would like to acknowledge how much our life in Belleville has meant to us. Mrs. Robb and I came to Belleville at the close of the war as strangers, full of the usual doubts and uncertainties. In the ten years we have spent here we have experienced the wonderful kindness, friendliness and good heartedness of the people of this city and so those years have been full of happiness and satisfactions. I am convinced that not only is Belleville ideally located, its citizens are wonderful people.

NEW TACK ON OLD COURSE

The Communist frontal attack on democracy has acquired a smile. What the Communists failed to take by force they now seek to gain by negotiation. The flashing smiles of the two-faced nature of the Communist conspiracy, Bulganin and Krushchev smiled at Geneva and world tension was supposed to be easing. Molotov ventured to San Francisco with a smile, a jaunty and a ten-gallon hat to attend the 10th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, an organization which he spent some of the most productive years of his life by-passing.

Red China's Communist leaders were pleasant last spring when a delegation of the British Labor Party winged in from Moscow on a state visit. Chou-en-lai tried to render the organization meeting of neutral nations in Bangkok completely useless by offering concessions one day and snatching them away the next like a matador frustrating a bull.

This effort by Communist officialdom to appear as genuinely friendly fellows who have been misunderstood contrasts sharply with Communist performance. Red China has sought political recognition by releasing captive American fliers on the installment plan. Red China, however, has not announced its intention to cease subversion in Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Malaya, or Singapore. Red-Chinese supported governments control North Korea and North Vietnam. Red Chinese armies are deterred from an assault on Nationalist Formosa only by the threat of U.S. retaliation.

Russia still maintains Communist discipline and control over the Baltic states, Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Hungary. At home the Russians still have millions of political prisoners. Elections are farces in which the population is driven to the polls to vote for the state's lone candidate. Censorship regulates what the people will read, see and hear.

The Communist conspiracy abroad is as active, if less successful, as it ever was. Only last year it was necessary to suppress Communist inspired uprisings in British Guiana and Guatemala. The chance of Communist coups in Italy and in France have been too real and too urgent for the forced pleasantries of dedicated conspirators to erase easily.

The Communists in Moscow and Peiping have offered no physical changes in the boundaries of satellite territories, no substitution of dictatorship by democratic method, no compensation for atrocities against captive nations, and no armistice in world subversion. They offer smiles. Bulganin holds a garden party for the diplomatic corps. Delegations from Germany, France and Canada are invited to Moscow hard on the heels of India's Nehru and in conjunction with an invitation to Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito who for years has apparently defied Kremlin overlord by declaring himself a Communist's Communist.

The change in Communist tactics has been dictated by increasing strength and solidarity among Communism's opponents. Recognition of this new strength dictates a new approach. It is a measure of the flexibility of Communist strategy that its leaders can change almost overnight into seemingly reasonable fellows. The sincere yearning for peace among the peoples of the West can be gauged by the pathetic eagerness which greets a few synthetic smiles at Geneva.

A conspiracy that accuses fliers falsely, imprisons them unjustly and shoots down civilian airliners with jet fighter planes while professing peace, is sinister.

The problems of a secure peace, despite Bulganin's brave show of teeth and his garden parties, are as thorny as ever and as difficult of solution.

AMPHIBIOUS CANADIANS

Contrary to the impression which Canadian newspapers may have given in the past week, Canadians are not becoming amphibious. The incredible performance of Canadian swimmers, male and female, in a variety of long distance swims, is truly astonishing. Marilyn Bell was still towelling herself after her successful conquest of the Channel when eight Canadians began thrashing their way through Atlantic City's annual salt water marathon. Incredible as it may seem, seven of the eight Canadian starters, including a 15-year-old girl from Toronto, were among the 15 who completed the race. A Canadian now living in the United States won the race for the second consecutive year and was pursued to the finish line by the same Canadian who was second to him a year ago. Miss Bell's record as the first woman finisher was preserved for Canada by a Montreal resident who has adopted Montreal as her home after emigration from Germany.

Shirley Campbell's magnificent failure in attempting to swim Lake Ontario was a remarkable achievement in that she swam almost 32 miles and stayed in the water for 22 hours.

We salute the accomplishments of these muscular water babies with no suggestion that a generation of young Canadians may be developing webbed feet. We refrain, too, from trying to explain away their feats as merely another way to beat the heat.

Oxide isn't an Englishman's pronunciation of an ox's hide. What it does, however, depends on the company it keeps. The oxide coating on iron, mostly ferric oxide, is better known as rust. The oxide coating on aluminum is a hard, tough coating that prevents corrosion.

POCKETS AND PURSE

He laughed at the purse that she carried about
And the weight of its contents; but still,
If the things in his pockets just then were turned out
A duff bag surely they'd fill.
There'd be keys in a case and too many they'd be,
And a pill box because of his ills,
And if he were past forty, for coffee and tea
A bottle of saccharine pills.
He'd show you a lighter, a pencil and pen,
A wallet with letters of gold
For credit cards clubs and hotels
And matches and bills growing old.

LOOKING BACKWARDS
GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

August 11, 1935
A fish and game association has been organized at Tweed with the following officers: president, Dr. W. A. Paul; vice president, W. H. Crosbie; secretary, J. D. Corcoran; membership committee, W. A. Bently and Alfred Davis. One of the aims of the association is the restocking of Stoco Lake and the streams and brooks in the surrounding district. Joseph Shortt, president of the Belleville Anglers' Club and Joseph Weymark, fish and game inspector, both of this city, assisted in the organizing of the Tweed association.

Miss Laura Hodges is spending her vacation at her home here. Miss Elizabeth Kinneer is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Ross, in North Bay.

Miss Gertrude Gretny spent the week-end in Cobourg with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westley.

Mrs. Blake Totton of Toronto is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. T. Bristol, Burton Street.

Mrs. R. F. McLean (nee Miss Emma Sager) of London, Ontario, is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Sager, in this city.

Mr. F. A. Pinkston has returned home after visiting his son, Mr. Orland Pinkston, at the Ontario Athletic Commission's summer camp at Lake Couchiching of which he is an official.

August 11, 1925
The following members of the 1st Regiment will compete for a place on the Blesley team at the Ontario Rifle Association's meeting which will take place shortly at Long Branch: Major D. P. McManus, Lieut. W. A. Elliott, Sergt. Harry Stanley, Corporal J. Hurford Stanley, Corporal Cousins and Sergt. J. H. Reynolds.

Mr. Charles E. Hanna, M.P. and Mrs. Hanna entertained Lieut. Reg. Hinchey and the members of the Argyll Light Infantry Band at their home last evening.

Messrs. Jamieson Bone, Bert McCoy, Stewart Robertson and Gordon Robertson are spending a few days at Westmeadow Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice of New York City are visiting the late.

Tussle Over Corn Tassel
Is Honored

(Milwaukee Journal) (Montreal Gazette)

The tassel, in moments stolen from what it is to be hoped might have been more important matters, has been spending some time discussing the wisdom of officially designating a national flower.

The rose got most of the plaudits — largely because it was rose lovers who started the whole thing. But there were other proposals — from backers of sunflowers, cacti, orange blossoms, and magnolias, among others. A sideline proposal that the nation have two flowers — mums and poppies, to honor the bulwarks of American homes — hasn't gathered steam enough to get into the running as yet.

All this by way of leading up to the proposal of Senator Flinders (Rep., Vt.). His plea for the corn tassel deserves notice largely because it revives memories of the dusty days of senate oratory. Here's some of it:

"The corn tassel is of American origin, has its roots in every state of the Union, and has served our nation from the time of the landing on our shores of the first newcomers from Europe... In fading the rose dies, but the flower of the corn in fading gives birth to the golden seed which has given sustenance, health and prosperity to the United States. Well may the vast harvest of the golden seed be called the key to Fort Knox!"

Well, there you have it, for whatever it's worth. One thing seems certain. Whether we get a national flower or not, Vermont's Flinders can get himself elected in Iowa any day he cares to try.

But no man would be so much at half a century after death as Jules Verne was not only a man of vision; he was a marvelous story-teller. "Around the World in Eighty Days" and "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" (reproduced in modern terms by Walt Disney), are as fascinating today as stories as they were when they described things yet to be.

Jules Verne is alive today not only because he had the eye to see but also the hand to write. He may not have adventured far himself. But no man did more to open the sense of adventure in life. And in his far journeyings he has not only been overtaken by the scientists; he has been followed by his readers. And they are still vast beyond number.

Quebec Merit Is Stability

(Le Soleil)

The province of Quebec has always set her sister provinces an example in political moderation and financial soundness. In accordance with the conservatism of her people and the traditions of individual responsibility which have been for so long honored amongst us, Quebec, up to the present time has never experienced any of the disturbing radicalism from which our wise neighbor, Ontario, has been far from exempt, that province having in recent years escaped only by a hair's breadth, falling into the arms of a socialist government.

Do all Canadians in other provinces — Canadians who are sometimes very easily scandalized by Quebec's gestures — really appreciate the merit of the quality of stability which the province of Quebec has on Canada as a whole? Do they ever ask themselves what would happen to Canada were Quebec to indulge in the costly whims and political scraps which seem to be normal in several other provinces?

As to the citizens of the province of Quebec, they fully realize that they jointly and severally share the responsibilities which are common to their fellow-citizens in all provinces of the Dominion. Yet, we in Quebec know full well that we must bear the weight of the extravagances and the debts contracted by others, though we of Quebec make great sacrifices to keep our expenditures within a reasonable limit of our means.

Hence it ought to be easy to comprehend that the province of Quebec can feel nothing but repugnance for all systems of fiscal redistribution and for any unduly large increase in the taxation of the province.

The clearest result of which would be to increase the administrative and political responsibilities within the nation.

There under and around a great mound, second only to the mammoth Cahokia Mound in Illinois, have been unearthed the remains of a village which pushes back the date of Mound Builder civilization to the days of Nineveh's splendor, 2,700 years ago.

Parting the curtain to the past has all the fascination attaching to any mystery. And speaking of mysteries and Mound Builders — what lies back of the legend of Prince Madoc of Wales and the Kentucky Indians who spoke Welsh?

Irony picked a handsome bouquet of the Vipers Bugloss, selecting choice stems of blue with a few of the mauve and pinkish variants in the same field he found chrysanthemums and together with his more great abundance of blue with a few pale blue, together with a few wisp of early-blooming goldenrod and some stalks of meadowswamp which is a wild member of the spruce family. He took these to the city and persuaded his florist, one of the most fashionable downtown purveyors of cut beauty, to make an artistic arrangement of the weeds and put them in the window.

The florist cleared his window of all else, and with a suitable drapery for a background, set the vase of Vipers Bugloss and the field weeds in quiet beauty for passing thought to see.

Not half a dozen, but dozens and dozens of people came in during about two days the weeds survived in freshness, trying to buy the same arrangement, please, and asking the price. It was a stunt, the florist explained, to make the city and suburbs, pampered customer who wanted merely to demonstrate the beauty that is all around us, even in the weeds.

Personal Health Talks
Man Wants But Little Oxygen

By DR. WM. BRADY

Inhalation of pure oxygen (from a tank) reduces the pulse rate, abolishes the shallow, hurried breathing and prevents the muscle stiffness which is likely to follow hard boxing bouts of men not in good training. Oxygen is of little or no help to athletes in good training.

I haven't seen everything yet but from I have seen and read, I'd say rushing an oxygen tank to the bedside and administering the gas by inhalator or by keeping the patient in a tent is a beautiful gesture. I listen to add that good medical authorities still advocate the administration of oxygen by inhalation (gas mask, tube in nostril, head tent, bed tent or oxygen chamber) in acute coronary thrombosis, angina pectoris, severe bronchial asthma, the night dyspnea (inability to get enough air) of some disorders of circulation, edema (accumulation of fluid) of the lungs and as a relief for lungers in chronic bronchitis (winter cough) with emphysema (ballooning of the air-cells of the lungs from loss of normal elasticity).

Obviously an oxygen tank at the bedside makes a scene as impressive as the chromo peddled by the A. M. A. — Spoonful Every Hour — a farcical gesture in view of the part that organization has played in breaking down the Code of Medical ethics and promoting trick specialists and "clinic" racketeering.

Here by way of a reply to a good many letters from glibble geeks of all grades the explanation I have had no future, they state that among beneficial effects I ascribe to daily practice of the Belly Breathing exercise there is no mention of increased absorption of oxygen. The exercise does good rather by improving the circulation. A piece to follow will explain how belly breathing promotes better circulation.

So I believe the administration of oxygen by inhalation has a narrowly limited therapeutic or remedial value. Even in the resuscitation of victims of asphyxia a mixture of carbon dioxide and oxygen or air (5 to 7 1/2 parts CO2 with 92 1/2 parts O2 air) is more effective than pure oxygen. For the benefits of wisecracks, tightwads and knuckheads, let me explain that physiologists have proved that any and every spurt of deeper or faster or forced breathing is inevitably compensated by a following period of shallower or slower breathing, even by a period of no breathing, so that the normal level of oxygen and carbon dioxide in blood and tissues is restored in a few moments. This is physiology and not just a notion of mine.

Here by way of a reply to a good many letters from glibble geeks of all grades the explanation I have had no future, they state that among beneficial effects I ascribe to daily practice of the Belly Breathing exercise there is no mention of increased absorption of oxygen. The exercise does good rather by improving the circulation. A piece to follow will explain how belly breathing promotes better circulation.

Strength for the Day

MEASURE OF OUR FAITH

Only a few people come to the end of their lives with large fortune. The overwhelming majority of the people who in their money-making days start out to make money never come anywhere near attaining their goal. Yet when those of us who are past middle life look back over the financial picture, we wonder how we could have been so stupid. A few investments, the soundness of which must have been evident to everyone, if made twenty-five or thirty-five years ago, would have resulted in vast wealth today. Probably there are similar opportunities confronting us now and some will see them and act — and some will not.

Recently I was told of a company in which the principal officers had no faith. The enterprise prospered and they said, "Some time they would shoot a hole of gold for a share of stock. But the man who tried the engine in the boiler plant believed in the enterprise, drew out all his savings, and begged and borrowed every penny he could lay his hands on. Today he has such a fortune that he scarcely knows what to do with his income. The company's officers could not see it, but he did."

Faith! Faith! Faith! It works — in business, in romance, in the pushing of one's life toward the goal of success. "Now faith is the giving substance to things hoped for."

TODAY'S TALK
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

RICH COMPANIONSHIP

Few people ever enjoy being by themselves for any length of time. They want someone near with whom to talk and discuss what is going on in the world and in people's minds during changing times. How often the mind is relieved of worry, or problems, when someone enters our lives for companionship.

It was Elia who put sparkle, life, and beauty of expression into the remarkable essays that Charles Lamb created. On top of it all he was a most companionable human being with many friends who loved him. But there was one whose death he deeply mourned. Lamb not only missed this friend because of himself, but because he always called him "Charlie." "Now," said Lamb, "there is no one to call me 'Charlie!' Jesus said the need for companionship and so selected twelve men to be his disciples — simple fishermen."

Concord, Mass., is one of the most interesting small settlements in all America. Here it was that in all America, the Alcotts, Emersons, Thoreaus, Whitneys, Hawthornes, Channings, and others, were companions, and among them there is no doubt but that subjects were discussed that have left their permanent literature. Thoreau inscribed, and presented, a copy of his "Walden" to four or five of these. Happily these copies may now be seen as a part of the great Berg collection.

Tennyson and Carlyle were good companions — so good that many an evening was spent with few words, but with a multitude of thoughts! A famous quartette of friends, that one which consisted of Henry Ford, John Burroughs, Thomas A. Edison, and Harvey Firestone. To this day many are those who recall the usefulness of each one of these glants in business and life.

Those friends of ours who were writers leave a double heritage to us for, though we miss their voice and presence, we can still read their words in the books they created. Thus it is that the great lives on. For them there is no death — merely transition!

Reading Helpful

Moscow's central library has ordered from a New York publishing house a copy of a book entitled "Good Manners Pay Off," by Sarah Burton. Ah, so that's where Bulganin & Co. got their idea for the big switch.

THE PACKSACK
By GREGORY CLARK

As John Burroughs, the great American nature writer remarked, we have hardly a weed we can call our own. The vast majority of weeds that are a curse to Canadian and American agriculture came from various parts of Europe and Asia in the early days of the pioneers in shipments of various grain seeds and in the fodder carried on ships for the animals that were transported. Many of these weed plants are far more virulent in their new environment than they are in their homelands.

One of the most offensive of weeds is the Vipers Bugloss, which will turn a whole pasture the most heavenly blue you ever saw. Most carefully nurtured bed of delphiniums in a treasured garden like an abandoned pasture sloping to the woodlot and filled with this fast-travelling and possessive weed. At close range and in the hands of a spiny, prickly and most ungrateful enemy, maybe two to three feet long with these most beautiful blue blossoms. Sometimes, the blue shades into mauve or even to pink. A friend of mine with an eye for

7 Jet Bombers On Goodwill Flight to Canada

MONTREAL (CP)—Seven RAF Canberra jet bombers arrived at the nearby St. Hubert air base Wednesday on the third hop of a 21,000-mile goodwill flight to Canada and the West Indies.

The bombers left Hemsley, England, Tuesday and stopped at Iceland and Goose Bay, Labrador. Along with the Canberras are five four-engine Hastings bombers.

From here the planes will go to Jamaica via Miami, then four the West Indian area before returning to Montreal Sept. 1 to take part in aerial exercises with the RCAF's air defence command. After that they will go to the RCAF base at Trenton, and will play a part in the air show at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Acadians Send Queen Message Of Loyalty

MONCTON (CP)—Acadians have sent the Queen written homages expressing their loyalty and affection to Britain.

The date on the hand-written parchment is Aug. 11, date on which 200 years ago the governor of Nova Scotia ordered the expulsion of the Acadians.

The statement in part:

"Under the sovereignty of the crown which today adorns Your Majesty... the struggles and clashes which raged around our early years were stilled, and gradually, in common with so many of Your Majesty's other peoples, we have come to learn that the secret of unity, mutual understanding and peaceful growth is to be found, not in enforced uniformity, but in a spontaneous common allegiance."

Smetona, one of Europe's greatest all-round performers and the world's only head-to-head balancing act will appear for the first time in the entertainment thrills at the great Belleville Fair from Monday to Thursday as part of the sensational grandstand show.

In addition to his head-to-head performance, Smetona and his attractive partner execute a sensational and most difficult perch—balancing act with a massive steel pole resting freely on his forehead while she performs exacting and daring stunts on top of the perch. It is truly an amazing and thrilling spectacle.

Drapeau Honored

MONTREAL (CP)—Nine Israeli boy scouts, including a Roman Catholic and a Moslem, will present Mayor Jean Drapeau with an Israeli-made gift symbolizing the origin of the three major religions in their homeland, when they attend a city hall reception Monday.

The scouts are en route to the world boy scout jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, this month.

Also in the city are six Greek patrol leaders from Athens.

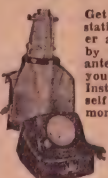

The Greek scouts were guests Wednesday night of the Greek community here at a dinner.

Mrs. Fred Russell, Green Street, Napanee, is visiting her daughter in the city.

Miss Catherine McGreer, of Napanee, is spending a ten-day vacation with her sister, Miss Lois McGreer, Reg.N., who has returned to Belleville, after spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGreer. She also attended the Calgary Stampede.

Miss Ellen Vanderwater, who has been spending two weeks in Wellington, the guest of Mrs. L. Wright, has returned home.

Flt. Lieut. W. J. Brown, formerly of this city, is taking an engineering course at Trenton Air Station. Mr. Brown is stationed at North Bay.

Mrs. J. V. Walsh of Marysville, is spending a few days in the city, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Martin Doyle and Mr. Doyle.

Wedding Party Re-united

In 1905 newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alford (seated) sat for their wedding day photograph with groomsmen John Goodfellow and bridesmaid, then Maria Fox. Fifty years later, the quartet celebrated the jubilee of the first picture-taking by posing for an identical picture in the Alford home at Roslin.

Bride Cooked for Threshers On Honeymoon 50 Years Ago

Back to her husband's farm where the next day she prepared dinner for a gang of threshers was the 1905-style honeymoon for Mrs. W. H. Alford, 8th concession Tyndinaga township, who, with her husband, celebrated her 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

The Alfords drove 20 miles to Belleville with a horse and buggy and were married in St. Thomas church by Rev. George Ross Beamish.

After the wedding they drove back to Mr. Alford's 8th concession farm, where they immediately set up housekeeping.

"The next day I prepared dinner alone for a gang of threshers," Mrs. Alford recalled. "I didn't have much to work with and even had to use an old whiskey bottle as a rolling pin to roll out the pie crust."

"It wasn't my whiskey bottle," Mr. Alford reminded his wife, indicating that he had no use for intoxicants.

"It is all very much different today," Mrs. Alford went on. "Girls nowadays want a home with everything in it before they get married."

Mr. Alford is a native of Tyndinaga township while Mrs. Alford was born within 200 yards of the home which they now occupy. She is the former Annie May Goodfellow, sister of John Goodfellow, well known general store owner at Chisholm's Mills.

ATTENDANTS PRESENT

Both attendants at the Alford wedding back in 1905 were present at Tuesday's anniversary.

As the "best man" at his sister's wedding Mr. Goodfellow had only two miles to go, but the bride, now Mrs. Maria Crawford, had to come all the way from Saskatoon, Sask.

Mr. Alford, now 79, recalled the days before horse transportation had given way to the motor car and highway transports and of shantying in lumber camps in the Gilmour district.

"There weren't any eight-hour days then," he said. "It was up long before daylight to feed your horses, then make the required number of trips with logs to the dump and back to the camp after dark."

Big pine logs were hauled to the banks of rivers where they were dumped on the ice. After the spring break-up the logs were driven down the Moira River to the Bay of Quinte where they were collected into booms for floating on down to Deseronto where they were milled.

RECALLS TRIP
Mr. Alford also recalls making

Previous to her marriage the bride was feted to a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Len Woodley, assisted by Mrs. Robert Fair. About twenty of her co-workers at Northern Electric attended.

the 20-mile trip to Belleville with cordwood which he sold for $4 per cord. "It was hard, dry body work without a knot," he said. "We drew one cord to the load and it took a good long day to make the trip."

But 20 miles to Belleville was nothing in those days. Mr. Alford said it didn't seem much longer than it does today by car.

Incidentally, Mr. Alford has been a horse lover all his life. He never did get around to owning or driving a car.

Staunch members of the Anglican church, Mr. and Mrs. Alford are also intimately associated with Orange Lodge activities.

Mrs. Alford is also a chartered member of the local LOBA association.

One of their prized possessions is their marriage certificate most of it written by hand by the officiating clergyman. The framed certificate is yellowed with age.

Three children blessed the union of 50 years ago. One son, Albert, still lives at Roslin. One daughter, Mrs. Victor Walpole, lives at Oxendon, near Owen Sound, and a second daughter, Mrs. Bert Curtis, resides in Trenton. They have nine grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

FOXBORO W.M.S.

The August meeting of Foxboro Presbyterian church W.M.S., was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Ketcheson on Wednesday.

Mrs. Percy Johnston, the president, presided, and opened the meeting.

Scripture reading was taken from Romans 5:1-10. The theme of the meeting was "Faith".

Miss Bell gave a commentary on "Faith", followed by prayer. Plans were made for catering at the community sales barn early in September. Reading "Tell God about It", was given by Mrs. Barrett. Miss Dorothy Johnston gave a lovely piano solo and Miss Bell a reading entitled "Others".

A paper "Turn Your Eyes Up on Jesus", was given by Mrs. Johnston.

Mrs. Johnston closed the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ketcheson and a social time enjoyed by all.

SILO COLLAPSES

BAMBERG, Germany (AP)—A gravel silo collapsed Wednesday, burying a truck and crushing to death a man and two children in it. Another man was injured.

First Woman Named to Bench By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here was this Republican lawyer, just sworn in as a federal judge, holding a press conference and stitching on needlepoint.

And some of the subjects the conference covered were tulips, remodeling old kitchens, washing clothes, planning Christmas trees.

The new judge, you see, is a woman, Mary Donlon.

Miss Donlon, former chairman of the New York state workmen's compensation board, was sworn in Wednesday as a member of the U.S. customs court, and afterward held a press conference unique in officialdom.

Her honor answered questions while she stitched on needlepoint in a fruit design intended for a seat cover of a chair in her 135-year-old house outside Albany, N.Y.

The small, quiet-speaking woman with softly-waved grey hair holds a 1921 law degree from Cornell University. She is the first woman appointed to a high federal judicial post by President Eisenhower.

The customs court, based in New York, holds hearings in San Francisco, Chicago and other ports. She expects development of the St. Lawrence seaway will increase the importance of other Great Lakes ports—Detroit, Toledo, Buffalo.

Miss Donlon runs her 14-room house with the help of a twice-a-week cleaning woman. Last year she won a ribbon for tulips in a garden club show.

She is considering uprooting an old orchard and planting Christmas trees "to sell when I am old and retired."

HOLLYWOOD VETERAN
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jane M. Crisp, 62, scenarist and co-author of "Smilin' Through" and "Lilac Time," died Wednesday. The former wife of actor Donald Crisp, she had been in the motion picture industry since 190.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

YOUR HUSBAND MAY BE ILL, OR HAVE A GUILTY CONSCIENCE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I feel that I am about to lose my mind over my marital problem, and I do not know where to turn, so am asking your help.

Our trouble started early this year, when I was about six months pregnant with our fourth child. About this time I got the virus, followed by another infection which lasted months, and I was left in a terrible state of depression. My husband neither showed me any consideration nor gave me help of any kind, either with the children or myself. Instead, he adopted a bitter attitude toward me and stayed away from home so much that I began wondering why his profession was keeping him so confined. He was very vague on this point.

When the baby was coming, I never got one endearing word to help my morale, and he was angry because it wasn't the sex he had wanted.

Now, matters keep growing worse. He won't talk to me or let me talk to him, love him or even touch him. If he does talk, he accuses me of being selfish and giving all my time to the children (all but one of them are pre-schoolers) and accuses me of turning his children against him. Night after night I am left home alone with them—because of his business? And on days off, he goes golfing. He is never home any more, and I am going crazy wondering where he is all the time. Our children hardly know they have a father.

I have tried everything I could think of to make things better—held on to my temper, made a special effort to cook good meals for him, tried to think of little surprises that would make him happy—but nothing has any effect on his bitter attitude.

This is my side of things; naturally I don't know his. But if you could say some word in your column that might help, I will be forever grateful. — Mrs. M.K.

Dear Mrs. M.K.:

A letter like yours makes me wish so much that I could sit right down with you and have a heart-to-heart talk in which we could try to work out ways to help solve your heartbreaking problem. I say this, not only because I feel deeply for you in this desperate situation of yours, but because there are always things which letters unwittingly leave unsaid—and how could it be otherwise?—that might be factors very important to a real understanding of the problem. I know you understand this yourself since you show such great fairness and intelligence as to realize that there are two sides to every story.

So that is why I am going to urge you to go at once to some one in your community—physician, minister or priest, psychiatrist or marriage counselor—and lay the problem before him in all its details. He can help you figure out what has happened to bring about this bitter attitude in your husband, and what you can do to cope with it and help restore happiness and harmony to your home. He can help you see, too, whether the trouble is something for which it will, indeed, be possible for you to find a cure, or if it would be wiser for you to try a separation from your husband.

My own feeling from what you tell me, is that your husband may be ill in some way, perhaps emotionally, and perhaps for some specific reason. Possibly he may have done something which keeps him feeling guilty, so he tries to save his conscience by endeavor-

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

EYEBROWS IN THE MAKING

Reams have been written on the cultivation and enhancement of eye beauty, but to what avail a pair of sparkling orbs, artistically made up, if their frames are not in keeping with the beautiful pictures beneath them? We mean the eyebrows, of course. For, in making up your face, that is just how you should regard your brows—as lovely frames for your eyes.

For perfect eyebrow grooming you will need a pair of tweezers and two or three shades of crayon. The latter come in colors ranging from light brown, through auburn, dark brown and black, and the reason you can often do a better job of coloring, particularly if your brows are inclined to be too light, by using a dark shade of the color on the inner side. The two colors will have to be well blended, naturally, and you can experiment yourself to find the two tones which harmonize best with the coloring of your hair and your eyes.

Where tweezing is concerned, if your features are generally good, it's better to let the brows follow their natural line, removing only stray hairs. However, if your features are not perfect or if eyes are too far apart or too close together, the combined use of tweezers and crayon can do much to remedy the situation. You can also groom your brows so as to change the shape of the face entirely.

If your eyes are set too closely together, pluck the hairs at the inner terminals until you have achieved the illusion of more widely spaced eyes. If the eyes are naturally widely spaced, use your crayon to draw the brows a little closer together and you achieve the converse effect.

An abnormally high forehead can be minimized by making a high arch of each brow. Under no circumstances, however, should they be pointed. Keep the brows fairly thick and, with a crayon, widen them a little at the top. A line can be made to appear a little wider if you so groom your brows as to eliminate the arch completely and make the brows run straight across the eyes. In such a case it may be necessary to pluck most of the brow away except the hairs nearest the nose and then fill in the desired shape with crayon. But do keep the coloring and the line as natural looking as possible or the brows will look grotesquely out of place. A little experimenting should help you to acquire the perfect frames for your loveliest and most outstanding feature.

ing to place blame on you. In any event, I am quite certain that you must get immediate advice from some one near you.

If you feel that your physician or minister could help, go to one of them. Either must know both yourself and your husband well, so would have the advantage of being familiar with your background. On the other hand, if you prefer to consult someone who doesn't already know you—and sometimes it is easier to talk with a stranger—go to a marriage counselor or a psychiatrist. If you don't know the names of any in your vicinity, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope so that I can reach you personally, and I will supply these.

Whatever you decide to do, please let me hear from you again. I am concerned about you, and want to help you in any way I can.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BECKMAN

ABOUT INVITING NEW MINISTER AND HIS WIFE

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

The minister of our church, who is to perform our marriage ceremony, has only recently come to the church and we don't know him and his wife very well. Ours is to be a large formal wedding, followed by a large reception at our Country Club. Do you think we should send a formal invitation to the minister and his wife? Is this the customary thing to do? (Of course, we would send a wedding gift.) — Rita G.

Yes, when the reception is to be a large one, it is customary to send to the minister and his wife a formal invitation to the reception. Usually a minister and his wife feel no obligation to send a wedding present, unless perhaps when the bride and her family have been close and long-time friends of theirs. But since your minister is new at your church, I'm positive he would feel no gift-obligation, and he shouldn't. However, if your mother thinks he and his wife might be perplexed about this decision, your mother might invite them verbally by telephone or note. Transportation for them should be provided from the church to the reception. If there is to be a parents' table for a combination of bride's table and parents' table at the reception, the minister is seated at your mother's left, and his wife at your father's left.

CHILD'S FATHER, NOT GODPARENTS GIVE PASTOR A FEE

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

My husband and I have asked two very dear friends of ours, a man and wife who were best man and matron of honor at our wedding, to be godparents for our baby. We have been told that the godparents give the fee to the pastor after the christening. But we're still not absolutely sure about this, and are wondering if we should take this for granted? — Dorothy N.

No... most certainly you should not take this for granted, for this fee is not at all the responsibility of godparents. You have been misinformed about this. It is your husband whose responsibility it is to give the pastor whatever amount he feels would be suitable.

Main Course Summer Salads

By Mary Moore

According to the dear old dictionary the word salad derives 'from the Latin word "salare" which means "to salt".' So salad is something you put salt on.

That ought to answer the purists who disdain anything but greens and raw herbs in their salad food, and leave me free to do happily on and give Mrs. E. D. W. the recipes she wants for meat and fish salads. As long as I tell her to put salt on them I'm technically correct.

Anyway the French, who are supposed to be experts, make a big business of serving cold cooked vegetables such as finely cut strips of green beans, carrot cubes, little peas (petit pois) as your salad—all of these vegetables being previously cooked and chilled.

You know how to make chicken salad but I wonder how many of you use veal as a substitute.

PORCH SUPPER VEAL SALAD

Double these amounts to serve a crowd of 10 or 12.

One lb. lean boneless veal, 1 bay leaf, 1-2 medium onion sliced, 1-4 cup celery tops, 1-4 cup each French dressing, chopped green pepper, finely sliced green onions, 1-2 to 3-4 cup finely sliced celery, 1 1-2 teaspoon chopped pimento, 2 hard-cooked eggs chopped, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing, salt, shake of pepper, lettuce. Just cover the veal ways, and I am heartbroken that she is bedridden, she cannot come to my wedding. My fiancé, who also loves her dearly, and I are planning to drive to her house after we leave the reception, before we start on our trip, to share with her all the news of the wedding. I'm wondering if I could take her my bridal bouquet, instead of throwing it to my attendants. Would you approve? — Nancy S.

Most heartily I approve, and I'm sure your attendants would understand and approve of your loving gesture. (I suggest you explain your plan to them before the wedding.) And of course take your godmother a carefully chosen piece of your wedding cake, and any other mementos of the occasion you will know she will enjoy.

CANADA'S FINEST CIGARETTE

with water, add the bay leaf, onion and celery tops and simmer covered until tender. Lift out the veal and chill it. (The liquid could be strained and used to dilute and flavor canned soup.) Cut the veal into small cubes and pour the French dressing over it to marinate it and chill several hours. When ready to serve add the green pepper, celery, onion, pimento, eggs and mayonnaise. I desired add about 1-2 to 1 cup firm lettuce chopped. Toss until well blended, seasoning to taste with salt as you toss. Chill. Serve in lettuce cups. All you need to serve with this is buttered whole wheat buns, iced coffee and perfect fresh fruits in season.

GRETCHEN'S SALMON SALAD

The above salad has Frenchy touches. This one is definitely German.

One 1-lb. can red salmon, drained, boned and flaked (or equivalent in home cooked salmon), 4 chopped hard-cooked eggs, 1-4 cup chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green onion or chives, 1-2 cup each thinly sliced celery and chopped cucumber, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 cup thick sour cream, 1-8 teaspoon dill seed, 1 teaspoon arnish. Combine the salmon, eggs, parsley, onion and cucumber. Blend together the lemon juice, sour cream and seasonings. Add to the salmon mixture and toss until well blended. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce. (This will serve six.)

W.HOLE MEAL SHRIMP SALAD

Two cups cooked or canned shrimps (home-cooked are better), 2 1-2 cups diced cooked potato, 1 cup diced celery, 1-4 cup chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon finely minced onion, 1-2 cup French dressing, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, lettuce or curly endive, tomato wedges. Combine carefully the shrimps, potatoes, celery, green pepper and onion. All the French dressing, lemon juice and salt; onion. At serving time add mayonnaise or salad dressing, tomato garnished with greens, tomato and olives if desired.

Million-Dollar Call Girl Racket Said Smashed by Montreal Police

MONTREAL (CP)—The morality squad, under vice-buster Pacific (Pax) Plante, claims to have smashed a million-dollar-a-year "call girl" racket involving some 300 personable young women, including businesswomen.

Assistant city police director Plante said Wednesday night that the racket, in which the otherwise self-supporting women were lured into prostitution, was broken with the help of the RCMP narcotics squad and Quebec liquor commission police following three months investigation.

"This proves that it is not only poverty that directs a certain type of girls to this profession," Plante added after terming the case "shocking."

300 WOMEN LISTED

The morality squad reported uncovering a recording system in which the names, addresses and telephone numbers of 300 women were listed.

Plante said, "It is appalling to see names of so many business and office girls, all of them working for reputable, decent firms, who have been supplementing their income in this fashion."

"I've received numerous phone calls from parents and others asking about names on the list of girls, but there is no use phoning me for these names. I won't give them out. People might be damaged."

"Every one of the girls is being watched, and we are watching particularly the public relations men of many big firms, as well as some professional men who were in on this thing. We have their names."

Police said customers of the call girls included "certain leaders in both business and industry," as well as out-of-town businessmen and tourists.

RAIDED COTTAGE
The first break in the case came May 18 when the morality squad, headed by Lieut. Leo Léquin, swooped down on a Park avenue cottage and arrested a woman identified then as Anita Raymond. The name has subsequently proved to be an alias, police said.

The woman pleaded guilty to charges of operating a disorderly house and was fined $200 and costs or one month in jail.
Lieut. Léquin said the woman was arrested after he planted three men in a well-known downtown "club."

"We called this woman and she said she would call us back," he said. "When she did, she had 'arranged' for three French-speaking girls to visit us within the hour."

The call girls were "not really prostitutes in the real sense of the word," police said. "This was an 'after hours' way of making money."

The women acted as "hostesses" at special business parties and receptions, as "call girls" for tourists and as "dates" for out-of-town businessmen.

Horn Flies Hit Cattle Hard

Cattle use up an enormous amount of energy fighting horn flies which rob them of sizable quantities of blood each year. This loss of energy and blood represents a great waste of forage and feed. An animal bothered by the parasites may lose as much as half a pound in weight a day, and milk flow may be reduced as much as 20 per cent.

The horn fly resembles the house fly, but is only about half as large. The female lays its eggs on fresh cattle manure, and in warm weather the eggs hatch into maggots in less than a day.

The maggot feeds for five days, then rests as a pupa for about a week before emerging as an adult ready to lay eggs in two days. Thus, the complete life cycle from egg to egg takes only two weeks. At this rate, there would be 12 generations in six months, from spring until fall, but fortunately, there is usually a decrease in numbers during hot, dry weather.

Horn flies are primarily a pest of cattle, and spend most of their lives upon their unwilling hosts. They feed by piercing the cattle's skin and withdrawing blood. They usually attack the part of the animal's back that cannot be disturbed by a swing of the tail or head. The flies are sensitive to changes in weather. To avoid hot sun or rain, they may congregate on the under side of the animal, but when the air is cool they frequently infest the base of the horn—hence, the name "horn flies."

A quick and easy method of controlling horn flies on dairy cattle, is to sprinkle a tablespoon of "Marlate" 50 per cent methoxychlor insecticide along the back of the cow and then spread it around and rub into the hair with a few sweeps of the hand. It should be distributed evenly over back, neck and upper sides. Two to three weeks' control has been reported with this treatment. Four pounds of the insecticide applied at two-week intervals is said to be enough to control flies on up to 20 milk cows for 10 weeks.

Wheat Board Issues List Of Fixed Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian wheat board today issued a list of fixed minimum carlot prices for oats and barley and a schedule of provisional street prices for the same grades.

Board agents now are authorized to purchase oats and barley of these grades at prices indicated for 1955-56 pool account.

Fixed-carlot prices, basis Fort William-Port Arthur, for oats ranged from 65 cents a bushel for Nos 1 and 2 Canada western down to 60 cents on No. 1 feed. Fixed-carlot prices for barley, basis Fort William-Port Arthur, ranged from 98 cents for Nos. 1 and 2 cw 6-row down to 87 cents on No. 1 feed.

Street-handling charges were the same as during the 1954-55 crop season. Authorization to purchase oats and barley at street prices became possible when elevator companies agreed to continue the 1954-55 handling agreement pending negotiation of the 1955-56 agreement.

END 14-DAY STRIKE

GEORGETOWN (AP)—British Guiana's 14-day sawmill strike, involving more than 1,200 workers, ended Tuesday following a back-to-work directive by union president Cheddi Jagan. Labor commissioner J. I. Ramphal announced that negotiations for the union's recognition and for increased wages will start shortly.

G.M. July Sales A Record Level

OSHAWA (CP)—Retail sales of new General Motors of Canada passenger cars during July were the highest in history for that period, W. A. Wecker, president, said Wednesday.

Sales for the first seven months of 1955 exceeded any seven-month period in the history of the company.

July deliveries amounted to 19,218, a 53.5-per-cent increase over July, 1954. The seven-month figure was 121,002, a gain of 35.2 per cent.

Mr. Wecker said Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac all posted records for both the July and seven-month periods.

Machine Tools, Equipment Sold For $100,000

NEWMARKET (CP)—More than $100,000 was realized Tuesday at an auction here of the machine tools and equipment of the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Company.

The plant, which once employed 145 workers in the production of laundry machinery, also came under the hammer but the highest bid, $100,000, was not accepted.

Auctioneer Meyer Gronik of Milwaukee said the plant would not be sold for less than $200,000.

Buyers came from Winnipeg, Kingston, Oshawa, Buffalo, Detroit, Fredericton, N.B., and Barrie for the auction.

Mayor H. M. Gladman said the town hopes some industry will move into the vacant plant, which was opened after the Second World War.

Evacuation Best Defence

Never Look at Beginning Of Atomic Blast, You Might Be Blinded for Whole Life

(Editor's note: Evacuation in advance is the best defence against the H-bomb, with the second choice a sound shelter. But if both defences are lacking, there still may be hope. This third of four articles on atomic survival tells what to do if caught outdoors.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — A brilliant silent eerie light, like nothing you have seen before, marks the beginning of an atomic blast.

If it ever comes, don't look at it or you might be blinded for life.

If you sense such a flash, duck, fall flat or jump behind some protection. You could be injured by being knocked down by the blast or by flying debris.

Out in the open, you have a better chance if you fall flat. And a still better one if you can duck behind a ravine, behind any little hillock, into a hole. In town, fling yourself behind the protection of some building if there is time.

SAFE IN TRENCHES

In Nevada, hundreds of persons have crouched safely in trenches within two miles or less of atomic blasts as big or bigger than those exploded over Japan. These people would undoubtedly have been safe even closer, for mother earth would have protected them from blast, from heat, and radiation. The light comes first, and with it, simultaneously, the flash of heat and the x-rays unleashed by the bomb. They are all quickly gone. Next comes the blast which can bowl over humans or buildings, depending upon how close they are to the explosion.

If you're in an automobile, open the windows a bit and fall flat on the seat or floor.

Autos have been exposed to test bombs. With windows closed, windows and windshields often were blown in and broken glass could cut occupants. Tops were dished or caved in. But with windows slightly open, this damage often did not happen.

Underground shelters are, obviously, the best protection. But even shelters that stand above ground could save many lives in areas outside the immediate centre of destruction. Concrete shelters — as well as tool sheds or spare storage rooms near homes that lacked strong basement shelters — stood up well despite being within a half-mile or so of the atomic blast in Nevada last May.

SEEK HARMFUL EFFECTS

Animals surviving a blast in these shelters. These animals now are being observed to learn whether humans in such shelters might have suffered harm from the blast effects, or from radiation. The heat flash is one hazard of atomic blasts. An intense heat wave reaches out, capable of giving skin flash burns or setting fire to highly ignitable materials. The intensity — the ability to cause burns — falls off extremely rapidly with distance from the bomb.

Generally speaking, anything which is dense enough to cast a shadow can give protection against the flash burn.

The heat flash can start fires. So can a blast which might knock over a kerosene lamp or even a candle.

Closed venetian blinds in one spot stopped the heat flash, preventing fires of draperies or furniture. The blinds were blown down by the blast arriving some seconds later.

One atomic specialist gives this advice:

"If you see or sense that intense light, duck, and count to 10. If you reach 10, you have survived."

Tourist Fined For Having Over Limit of Bass

LINDSAY (CP) — A Youngstown, Pa., tourist recently was fined $1 for having more than the legal limit of black bass in his possession — and went right back to his fishing, authorities said Wednesday.

Officials of the Ontario department of lands and forests quickly informed the persistent fisherman, Eugene Hopper, that the conviction automatically suspended his licence.

Ken Kimbe of Bobaygen also lost his licence over the case. He had 14 fish, well over the limit of six in any one day.

Paper Says Ike Was Victim Of Russian Joke

AMSTERDAM (Reuters) — The newspaper De Telegraf says President Eisenhower was the victim of a Soviet joke when he presented wedding gifts in Geneva for Marshal Zhukov's daughter.

Such at least is inferred from subsequent inquiries by Charles Bohlen, the U.S. ambassador in Moscow, a dispatch to the Dutch paper from its Washington correspondent says.

On the first day of the Big Four conference last month, the Soviet Communist party secretary, Nikita Khrushchev, took Eisenhower aside and whispered, "Do you know Zhukov's daughter is getting married on Saturday?"

The president immediately obtained wedding presents — a portable radio and a fountain pen with a marble holder — for the daughter of his old wartime comrade.

Bohlen subsequently made inquiries and, De Telegraf said, "in careful, extremely diplomatic language he reported that he had been unable to discover:

"1. Where Zhukov's daughter was married;

"2. To whom;

"3. Whether Zhukov indeed had a daughter of marriageable age; and

"4. Whether the Soviet marshal had a daughter at all."

Bohlen's report concluded that Khrushchev was probably "a big practical joker," the dispatch asserts.

Seventy Leave For San Marino To Cast Votes

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventy men and a woman left by air for San Marino Wednesday in a bid to keep the tiny republic in the heart of Italy's mountains from getting its second Communist government.

Their 3,000-mile transatlantic mission will be climaxed Sunday when male voters of the world's smallest country go to the ballot boxes.

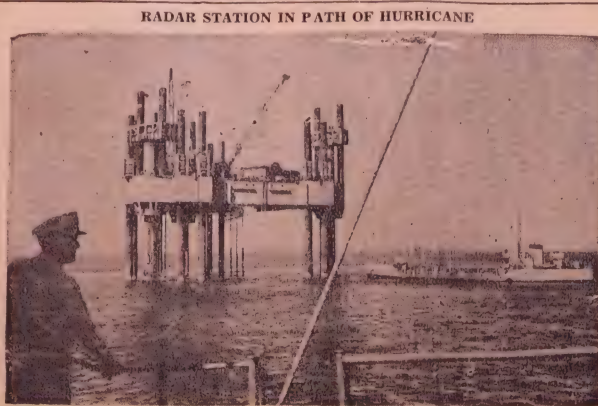

The Communists captured control of the 38-square mile republic with its 13,500 inhabitants in 1951. Together with the Socialist and the left-wing Patriotic Association, they received 139 more votes than the Christian Democrats.

The group are immigrants from San Marino whose United States citizenship applications are pending. A spokesman for the U.S. immigration and naturalization service said "there is no reason why they cannot leave the country temporarily, cast their ballots and return."

From the deck of a supply ship, this view may be had of the progress being made on the first man-made radar island. Located about 100 miles east of Cape Cod, Mass., it is the first of a chain of warning systems that eventually will stretch from Newfoundland to Norfolk, Va. All will be similar islands, patterned after offshore oil-drilling devices. The 6,000-ton platform is elevated to a height of 87 feet by air jacks. It is triangular in shape and about 200 feet in length. At present, the island has been stripped to withstand a hurricane moving north and workmen may be removed. (Central Press Canadian).

This model shows how the island will appear when completed. It will be manned by 50 to 75 port ship.

Historic Old Town Prepares To Welcome 10,000 Scouts

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (CP) — This historic little town at the mouth of the Niagara river on Lake Ontario is preparing for guests — 10,000 of them.

Next week, the first of hundreds of troops of boy scouts from more than 50 countries will begin arriving for the eighth world scout jamboree.

The bustle has already started. Breakfast cereal is arriving by the truckload to fill 10,000 cereal bowls every morning between Aug. 18 and 28. In all, about 400 tons of foodstuffs have been ordered, including canned goods, milk, canteen supplies and freezers full of steaks and roasts.

The details are clicking into place as the boy scouts of Canada prepare to welcome their world visitors. Including the 1,000 civilian volunteers who will work to look after the boys, the campers will outnumber the residents of this settlement at least four to one.

By next week about 5,000 tents will spring up on the camping grounds. The Canadian Army has loaned $400,000 worth of equipment, including tables, benches, water pails, hospital tents, kitchen shelters, blankets, sheets and pillow cases, 500 garbage pails and 80,000 miscellaneous items.

A grandstand to accommodate 10,000 persons is nearing completion and a school across the road from the camp grounds has been turned into a 120-bed hospital staffed by nine doctors, two dentists, 18 nurses and 30 other assistants.

A special camp switchboard now is in operation, connecting 115 telephones. The Bell Telephone Co. has arranged for long-distance calls to be handled on 30 special lines from nearby St. Catharines. Anyone, anywhere in the free world will get the camp by simply asking for "Jamboree, Ontario."

A special rover scout work moat (gathering), including scouts from various parts of Ontario, has been aiding in preparations since Aug. 6, and will remain on duty until Aug. 14.

Executive staff members under direction of Fred J. Finlay of Ottawa, one of two deputy camp chiefs, have been here working since Aug. 2.

The town itself, oldest in Ontario and at one time capital of Upper Canada, has blossomed forth in scouting tradition. The town hall is decorated with signs and symbols and plans are afoot to decorate houses, stores and even street lamps.

Meanwhile, the battle against small problems continues. A system of signs in picture language will overcome linguistic difficulties in directing visitors around the camp. A newspaper, to be printed daily, will carry text in English and French with Spanish under picture.

TO VISIT SCOUTS

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE (CP) — Roman Catholic Cardinals Paul-Emile Leger of Montreal and J.C. McGuigan of Toronto will attend the eighth world scout jamboree to conduct services Aug. 21 for the 3,000 Roman Catholic scouts, jamboree officials announced Wednesday. Cardinal McGuigan will say mass at 9:30 a.m. and Sunday evening Cardinal Leger will conduct a quiet hour and say the rosary in five languages—French, English, Italian, Spanish and Latin.

Japanese Will Accept Offer To Build Plant

TOKYO (Reuters) — Japanese authorities Wednesday said they would accept any American offer to build an atomic-power plant in Hiroshima, first city to be atom-bombed 10 years ago.

The electric power council of Chugoku (western Japan) said it had received assurances from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission such a plant would not create dangerous radiation.

Representative Sidney R. Yates (Dem. Ill.) had proposed building an atomic-reactor power plant for Hiroshima for an estimated $22,000,000.

Reds Introduce Simplified Form For Travel

BERLIN (Reuters) — Russian authorities have introduced a new, simplified form for entry and exit visa applications for travel in Russia, it was learned Wednesday.

The new form omits 11 of the more embarrassing questions contained in the previous list of 21.

Among the questions left out are: "If you have been in military action against the U.S.S.R., on which front? Which unit? Conscript or volunteer?"

Others omitted are those put to Russian emigrants: "When and in what circumstances did you leave? With what papers and over which frontier?"

Hydro Accused Breaking Pledge In Property Deals

CORNWALL (CP) — The Ontario hydro electric power commission was accused Wednesday of breach of faith in property deals connected with the St. Lawrence seaway project.

In a prepared statement, the Chamber of Commerce of the twin seaway communities of Mills and Moulinets soon to be relocated, said Hydro has begun pulling down some properties for reconstruction without having paid owners a cent in compensation.

In other cases, the statement said, property deals signed months ago have not yet been settled.

The statement, read at a chamber meeting attended by A. W. Lamport, Hydro's seaway project property officer, said land acquisition methods were a breach of the "fair and equitable treatment."

The complaint will be forwarded to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lamport announced at the meeting that a new townsite to replace the two municipalities will be completed northwest of the hamlets by June, 1955. It will initially house 1,000 persons.

West Germany Challenging U.K. for Second Place Among Industrial Powers of World

By PETER JOHNSON

BONN (Reuters) — West Germany is challenging Britain for second place after the United States among industrial powers of the Western world.

At present, economists of both countries regard Anglo-German export competition as a healthy factor in encouraging lower prices and increased production in an expanding world market. But they warn that if a reverse trend sets in the struggle for economic survival, or at least sobriety, might revive the bitterness of previous periods.

In steel production, usually regarded as a pointer to overall industrial strength, the two countries now are running almost neck and neck.

During 1954, West Germany produced a monthly average of 1,453,000 tons of crude steel compared with the British figure of 1,568,000 tons. Figures for the first quarter of this year showed that West Germany had narrowed the gap to about 50,000 tons.

In coal production, Britain remains well ahead, with a monthly average of about 19,000,000 tons in the year ended March 1955 compared with West Germany's figure of about 11,000,000 tons. However, West German lignite production of about 8,000,000 tons monthly and her increasing oil production, expected to reach 3,000,000 tons this year, level off the difference to a large extent.

In some fields, West Germany is already ahead of Britain. Her production of aluminium, for example, totalled 129,000 tons in 1954 compared with Britain's 32,000 tons, and the United States' 7,300 tons.

Comparison of exports during the last three years shows a pattern similar to that of total production.

Three years ago, the average monthly value of West German exports was slightly more than half that of Britain's. In the first Gordon Shortreed of Clinton, Ont.

quarter of this year, it was nearly two-thirds of the British level, which then stood at £257,000,000.

West Germany's greatest challenge in the export market is machinery, of which she sold about $80,000,000 worth in the first three months of this year.

In shipbuilding, she passed Britain in export orders last year, but this was partly due to the fact that domestic demand for British ships is much greater than that of Germany. Figures announced this month showed that gross register tonnage on order in German shipyards totalled 1,800,000 tons, compared with 4,000,000 tons in Britain.

Other export fields in which West Germany has been catching up and overhauling Britain are chemicals, iron and steel products, electrical and optical goods and motor vehicles.

Big German industrial firms have gained many big contracts by offering long-term credits to economically weak Asian and American countries, or by willingness to invest in joint projects in these countries. The German negotiators of such deals have been helped by Asian suspicion of Britain as a colonial power, a status which Germany lost in 1918.

Another factor has been the ability of some German firms to offer earlier delivery and firmer agreements on prices than some of the British competitors, a factor evident in recent ship repair contracts given by British firms to German yards.

This is partly due to the industry of the average German workman and the average 55-hour week, including overtime, which he works in most export industries.

NAMED PRESIDENT

SASKATOON (CP) — James Wylie of Regina was elected Wednesday as president of the National Defence Employees' Association for a three-year term. He succeeds Gordon Shortreed of Clinton, Ont.

Govt. Not Inclined to Grant Demand for Higher Tariffs

OTTAWA (CP) — The government apparently is not inclined at the present time to grant the Canadian textile industry's demand for higher tariffs on Japanese textiles.

A federal authority said Wednesday no decision will be made until the government hears representations from the National Garment Manufacturers Association which recently described the importation of low-cost Japanese textiles as "a multi-million dollar blow" to the Canadian industry.

However, he said: "It would seem unlikely that the government would want to increase import duties on Japanese goods at this time."

The government's view is that high tariffs interfere with free trade, lead to retaliation by countries hit by the increases, and in some cases only serve to protect "sick" industries.

As Trade Minister Howe put it in the Commons last month: "By letting the law of supply and demand work we keep our industries efficient and in line with Canadian industry today is efficient."

A spokesman for the textile industry said in Toronto Monday a delegation will ask Mr. Howe to raise the tariff on Japanese textiles.

Under the 1954 Japanese-Canadian trade treaty, Canada reduced tariffs on Japanese goods, but an "escape clause" gives it the right to raise higher tariffs if imports hurt Canadian manufacturers. However, Canada has not used the clause.

The bureau of statistics estimates that imports of Japanese textiles almost quadrupled to $3,554,000 in the first five months of the year from $942,000 in the corresponding 1954 period. The 1954 total was $4,000,000.

Exports to Japan in the five-month period dropped to $35,882,000 from $33,310,000, while imports rose to $10,985,000 from $4,756,000. This halved the trade balance in the textile trade.

Police Know Name of Third Man in Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The search for a mysterious third man involved in the $150,000 Brink's armored car robbery last week was concentrated today on a man police said lived for a month in a motel near Baltimore.

Police said they had positive identification of him but would not disclose his name.

They said an accomplice named by Sylvester Patterson, 46, of the Bronx, and Anthony Rattino, 39, of Baltimore, the two captured bandits was "phony as a $3 bill."

Mazzella and Rattino were ordered held on first-degree robbery charges.

A guard was wounded during the attempt to rob the Brink's car carrying nearly $500,000 in receipts from the Erie Downs race track. The jailed bandits were captured after a running gun battle with the police.

Assistant detective chief Leo Swankamp said, "We know that the third man lived in a motel near Baltimore all during the month of May with Mazzella and Rattino."

Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN—The farmers of this neighborhood are suffering a great handicap, in fact, all communities are suffering in the same way—the lack of sufficient help for threshing their grain.

Most town men, when the weather gets as hot as it has been lately, do not relish working out in the scorching sun, as they are not used to it, but he themselves to some resort.

In olden times there was nothing but a threshing machine to thresh the grain and farmers helped each other, giving a day's work for a day's work and that meant a lot of time spent away from home, from early morning till late at night, coming home dirty and tired. Their wives and children did their best to get the chores done so poor hubby wouldn't have to do it.

Nowadays many of the farmers use combines of their own, helping no one but themselves. As a rule, it took from 12 to 14 men to follow the threshing machine, some having as high as 18. The combine needs only two or three.

I heard of one man who was able to locate only four or five men for the threshing machine. That makes it a grueling job. The fact that so few men are required in operating the combine is the reason for its popularity. Some farmers do not like the combine because they claim the grain is not as clean, also that the straw is scattered all over the field, but some clever guy will come along to change all that soon.

It looks as though the threshing machine has had its day, although some farmers will still cling to the old way.

JACKSONS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers and Mr. Arnold Meyers and Mrs. Ryerson Harvey of Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman French, also of Trenton, attended the get-together on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson, of Rose Hall.

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson of Hollywood, California. Fred was an old Trenton boy who played in Trenton I.O.O.F. Band, sang on King Street choir, and at one time played in the orchestra of Grace United church. He has not been in Trenton in 26 years. He is now working for an oil company in Hollywood proper, where he has held an office for 26 years and expects to retire in a month's time.

At one time, the Jackson family owned the larger share of the block that holds the Bethel Temple. Fred's father was killed in the yard beside the white house where the Gaulier family lives, which was the Jackson home at that time. The father was sawing lumber when his sleeve caught in the belt, taking him along with it. There were seven children besides a boy who had been adopted, Ernest Browning, who died some years ago in Medicine Hat, Alberta. Fred's mother, a faithful worker in the Grace United church and for 23 years a Sunday school teacher, died some years ago.

The brothers and sisters are all alive, Mr. Frank Jackson of Rose Hall, Mrs. Alva Meyers, of Trenton, R.R. 5; Mrs. Ernest Curtis of Trenton, R.R. 5; Mr. Stanley Jackson of Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. (Dr.) C. S. Barrel of Silver Creek, N.Y.; Mr. Edwin Jackson of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Fred Jackson at the time of the First World War was sent to Siberia in Russia. The men were used so well by the Salvation Army that when he was in Hollywood several years later, where he has been for 35 years, he joined that organization and not both he and his wife, who by the way, was a movie star at one time, work in the prisons in Hollywood to try to help those people who have gone astray.

hostess for the September meeting, Mrs. Maurice Mallory read a story called "Along the African Trail". Several short poems were read "Gits", by Miss Gail Lohness; "Wishing", by Mrs. E. Clapp; "That Trouble-come Age", by Mrs. E. Clapp; "Over the Styles" by Mrs. C. Curtis.

A contest was put on by Mrs. E. Bush with Mrs. M. Mallory winning the prize. Refreshments were served by the gracious hostess and conveners with the young girls acting as waitresses.

JOHNSTOWN W.A.
The Johnstown W.A. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis last Thursday with a fine attendance of 12.

Mrs. E. Clapp, 1st vice president, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Jack Ferguson, president.

The lesson found in John chapter 10 11-18 verses, was read by Mrs. Alec Vandervoort. The lesson thoughts were given by Mrs. W. S. Harry, concerning the "Good Shepherd". Jesus is concerned over every sheep that goes astray.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

"IN THE SWIM"

Pictou, one of the nicest places in Ontario we know, has never been a backward town. During its storied past, it has made city and metropolitan headlines, featuring its activities and the exploits and achievements of the sons and daughters of the town and its favorite country.

The name "Pictou" is a second breath to speedboat daredevils of a continent. Its famous Gold Cup is a byword in racing circles. Its beautiful water raceway is as well known.

Now, Pictou is in the "swim" again, literally speaking. The pretty Prince Edward county town, not to be outdone by its city and other counterparts, won't be left in the wake of publicity.

For on August 20, a pretty 23-year-old girl will plunge from the dock at the Prince Edward Yacht Club and stroke her way to the government dock at Deseronto, an estimated 16 miles away.

She is Betty Berry, a registered nurse at present on the staff of Ottawa General Hospital, and a daughter of Jack Berry, building foreman of the Bell Telephone Company here, but who makes his home in Deseronto.

The swim is being sponsored by Branch 280, Canadian Legion, Deseronto, and is a feature of that organization's big jamboree being held on Saturday, August 20.

Betty will leave the Pictou Yacht Club wharf around 11 o'clock in the morning and is expected to reach Deseronto by 3 p.m. A swimmer of Betty's ability should cover the 16 miles in much less time than that, but Legion plans call for her arrival at that time, so that the public will get the opportunity to accord her a victor's welcome. That is, of course, if she finishes the long grind.

It is the first time in history that a swim from Pictou to Deseronto has been attempted. Tommy Pedder, Belleville distance swimmer, swam 16 miles from Trenton to Belleville a few weeks ago, negotiating the distance in seven hours, 40 minutes.

Miss Berry will be coached by her father, who has accompanied her on several long distance nautical hikes. She will be paced by sister Vera and brothers Ronnie and Jackie at various intervals. Her pilot will be Clarence "Sixty" Wagar, who is well acquainted with the whims and whistles of the Bay of Quinte along this route.

Betty is no stranger to swimming circles, having competed in the CNE and other distance swims. She has the reputation of having defeated Lies Put, Netherlands-Canadian swimmer, who finished first in the ladies' division of the Atlantic City swim marathon a short time ago.

She is training hard for the Aug. 20 event. She swims two eight mile routes and two five-mile grinds four times a week. She is said to be in splendid condition as her record of five miles in two hours, 17 minutes a few days ago will evidence.

Betty does not measure up to the weighty, muscular type of females, usually associated with distance swims. To the contrary, she is the small economy size, weighing some 110 pounds and standing five feet two inches in her wet tootsies. There will be nothing glamorous about her when she plunges into the bay. As her father says: "She will tie up her hair with a piece of string—and she's away."

She took to sports like the proverbial duck to the water shortly after she graduated from the toddling stage. In fact she leaned toward the "tomboy" type, preferring to play baseball, hockey and football with the young gaffers, instead of fraternizing with her feminine counterparts. Today she is recognized as a star softball player and holds a fine reputation on the tennis courts.

Betty, her father, brothers, and pilot will arrive in Pictou early August 20 aboard a power craft. The start time is definitely set for 11 a.m.

Deseronto is agog over the feat. Merchants of the town and Nanapan are behind the Legion in its effort. Betty will receive a splendid welcome when she "touches" the dock in victory—barring incidents and accidents.

LOOK OUT!

There will be skulduggery aboard ship tomorrow night when the dastardly Vons, Schober and Erich, tangle with the Rover boys, Lord Layton and Prince Maiava.

The Terrible Teutons say they will more or less dismember the blue-blooded opposition while Athol and the Samoan hunk of royalty utter over their tiffin and bloody well lawf off such mouthings.

It should be more or less of a grudge battle since the Vons, who are built like a brick edition of a Chic Sales emporium, did the whites dirt in their last meeting and "fawbilled" their way to victory. It should be a furious battle. Then there is ferocious Doc Gallagher, he of the silver locks who tangles with Red Vagnone and Tiger Tasker, who meets Sammy Berg in the opener.

Kiner Blasts Grand-Slammer In Ninth to Defeat Detroit; Boston Bows to Bombers in 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the last two weeks Kansas City Athletics have had a surprising voice in the snarled American League pennant race.

In that span, Lou Boudreau's sixth-place also-rans have thwarted the big contenders in five of nine meetings. And Wednesday night, they rapped Chicago White Sox out of first place with a 5-4 decision—leaving the way clear for Cleveland to claim the lead for the first time since May 21 as Ralph Kiner smacked a ninth-inning grand slam homer to trim Detroit 6-4.

That left the Tribe two percentage points ahead of White Sox, who in turn are four points to the good over New York after Yankees' 3-2, 13-inning victory over Boston. The defeat sent Red Sox two games behind.

As, who took two of three from Boston and split a four-game set with Yankees before matching Chicago 1-1 in their three-game series, belted the Sox for the first time in 13 games. Hecctor Lopez then put them beyond reach with a home run and single that made it 6-2.

MINOSO GOT HOMER

Chicago had just four hits in seven innings off winner Alex Kiner, one a two-run homer by Minnie Minoso, while As were belting Harry Byrd. Then, when reliever Tom Gorman opened the eighth, the Sox got two more runs, one on Bob Neman's homer, before the right-hander fanned Minoso with the bases loaded.

Cleveland had home runs by Al Rosen and Hal Nason (his first in the majors), but trailed Tribe's 4-2 on the strength of Earl Torgeson's two-run shot off Mike Garcia in the seventh. Then after pincuts by Hook Evers and Hank Follies and Al Smith's bunt single, Kiner put Al Aber's first pitch over the left-field fence.

Two innings earlier, Aber had relieved rookie Jim Bunning to fan Kiner with the bases loaded. Only Lou Gehrig (23), Jimmy Fox (17) and Babe Ruth (16) hit more grand slam homers than Kiner, who has 13.

An error by Billy Klaus and a drawn-in outfield that enabled Carey to line a run-scoring single over the head of Ted Williams broke up the Yank-Red Sox duel. Don Larsen, making it three straight since returning from the minors 11 days ago, too, hit it. Frank Sullivan after New York had matched Grady Hatton's two-run single in the second with a pair in the third.

Rain postponed Washington at Baltimore in the only other American League game on tap.

RAIN STOPPED GAME

In the National, Brooklyn topped New York 5-4 in a game called in the seventh inning; St. Louis put second-place Milwaukee 15 games back, 7-2; Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati took two at Chicago, 7-2 and 6-3.

Gil Hodges drove in three runs with a double and single as Dodgers packed their scoring in the first two frames. Giants scored twice in the first without a hit against rookie Roger Craig. Karl Spooner won in relief after Craig went wild again in a two-run Giant fifth.

St. Louis smacked 11 hits, three each by Stan Musial and Alex Grammas, while Tom Poholsky led Braves to six. Musial got his 1,000th extra base hit with a double.

Ted Kluszewski hit his 37th homer and Cubs' Ernie Banks tied Brooklyn's Duke Snider for the major league lead with his 38th in the second game as the Redlegs snapped Chicago's six-game winning streak. Rookie Don Gross won his first major league decision in the opener.

A bases-loaded single by Jerry Lynch won for the Pirates, who had an early 2-0 lead on Frank Thomas' two-run homer.

Field of 105 Starts Chasing Golf Rainbow

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 105 pros today start chasing golf's rainbow for the pot of gold going to the winner of the "world" tournament at Tam O'Shanter.

One of them will be a wealthy man after the 72 holes are completed Sunday.

The champion receives $50,000, a $55,000 contract for an all-expense paid tour of 35 exhibitions, and an option to play 50 more at $1,000 each.

One had shot and 20 guys will pass you up," said defending champion Bob Toski, who last year recovered from a two-over-par seven to carve a par 72 on the final round and win by one stroke over collapsing Earl Stewart and Jack Burke.

Toski won the hard way—as has been the case in many of these "world" meets. He had to can an eight-foot birdie-three putt on the 72nd hole for a total of 274, 14 under par.

In 1953, Lew Worsham holed out a long wedge shot for an eagle two on the last hole to beat out Chandler Harper by a stroke. Harper had just brought applause from the crowd by sticking a No. 8 iron second shot two inches from the pin on the 72nd green—and was ready to make his putt when Worsham's approach rolled in.

The single round course record is 63 set in 1948 by Lloyd Mangrum—now on the sidelines with a rib injury. He became the first and only player ever to make a grand slam at Tam by winning both the "world" and all-American titles in the same meet. The first pro to break his 18-hole mark will get an additional $10,000.

BC Lions Clobber Argonauts, Eskys Twist Tiger-Cat Tails

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—A record 22,448 delighted fans saw British Columbia Lions win their second game here Wednesday night as the Western Interprovincial Football Union club clawed out a 30-24 exhibition win over Toronto Argonauts of the eastern Big Four.

Lions did it with a stone-wall line and a backfield full of flinging quarterbacks. Last season, their first in the WIFU, Lions won one game and that in the rain on a field turned into a quagmire by poor drainage.

Wednesday night, Lions—rebuilt at an undisclosed cost—played on a field rebuilt at an outlay of $56,000. For Argos, their first venture west of the Rocky mountains was costly. Ken Foster and Maury O'Callaghan were taken to hospital.

Trainer George Stockwell said Foster, a 25-year-old halfback, suffered a broken ankle and O'Callaghan a fractured clavicle.

BARTOSH SCORED THREE

Lions' victory was fashioned by five converted touchdowns—three by Gil Parosh of Texas. Al Polard and Bob Holburn scored the others.

Toronto scored three converted touchdowns, one not converted and a single.

Lions' Arnie Galiffa and Toronto's Tommy Dublinski fought through the air for most of the game and the teams went into the last 15 minutes tied 18-18.

Chuck Holmes, Bucky Curtis, Dick Shatto and end Al Pfeifer scored majors for Toronto. "Kloster" Klosterman, standout for Argos, converted three of them and kicked a single in the third quarter.

kicked by end Ken McCullough from Oklahoma A and M.

Carl Voyles' Tiger-Cats were held scoreless until the fourth quarter when Wikowski passed 14 yards to Lou Kusserow, standing inside the Edmonton goal line. The convert by veteran Tip Logan was good.

Bright scored his first-quarter major on a two-yard plunge after a handoff from Parker. Jackie set up the play with a 28-yard pass to Earl Lindley. The next two Edmonton majors came on spectacular runs. Miles grabbed an attempted lateral by Wikowski in the third quarter on the Edmonton 36 and ran 74 yards for the touchdown.

West, a castoff from Calgary and Winnipeg, ran Hamilton's third down punt from his own 45 for a fourth-quarter major, as most of the Hamilton team stood seemingly idle.

WINS RICH HANDICAP
CHICAGO (AP)—Blue Choir, four-year-old Irish colt, required a late challenge from Mister Black to win by a neck Wednesday in the $25,550 Grandstand Handicap at Washington Park.

It was Blue Choir's third victory in 15 starts in the United States and all were scored over Washington Park's turf course. Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well, 2-to-1 favorite, finished third. Blue Choir paid $8.00, $5.00 and $2.80. Hasty House Farm's entry of Mister Black and Rube paid $4.20 and $2.80 and Mark-Ye-Well was good for $2.60.

GETS TV RIGHTS

CHICAGO (AP)—The Aug. 31 match race between Swaps and Nishua at Washington Park will be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Benjamin Lindheimer, executive director of the Arlington and Washington tracks, also announced CBS has purchased TV rights to four other feature races at Washington Park.

These include: the $100,000 Princess Pat this Saturday; the $145,000 American Derby, Aug. 20; the $50,000 added Meadowland Handicap, Aug. 27; and the $145,000 Washington Park Futurity, Sept. 2.

Gross Inaccuracy in Day-Time Programs in Respect to Dress

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Perhaps the most ancient pastime of television viewers is taking potshots at dramas when their sense of authenticity is outraged.

A viewer may disagree with a drama's philosophy of life and still accept it passively. But we bet the drama that has a minor technical flaw.

If an actor picks up a cross-cut saw when he should have reached for a rip saw, the do-it-yourself addicts rise in wrath. Physicians demand a medical school graduate's technique from an actor who trained on Broadway for his doctor's role. Lawyers are especially picky about the rules and manners of jurisprudence. And so it goes, everybody a specialist these days and demanding a specialist's finesse on his TV screen.

NOT DOWDY ENOUGH

Television's technical accuracy has improved and viewers are getting to accept something you might call "television licence," dimly related to "poetic licence."

The Kibitzer

Consider the basic way of becoming a sound bridge player. This is to assume that partner has no more than two tricks (one less than his expected average) until he tells you he has more than that.

Even the most ignorant beginner knows that a bid of one must take seven tricks. So, what does an opening bidder show? Five tricks. These and the two assumed with partner totals seven.

The basic meaning of the word no-trump is that the player has no trump suit that is biddable. This may be what some players like to use no-trump for. But despite them it is what no-trump means.

Therefore, an opening bid of one no-trump has but one basic real meaning. It is a promise of a hand that contains five no-trump tricks and no biddable suit that is desirable as trumps.

You hear of all kinds of stunt methods for determining how many no-trump tricks your hand contains. Such as point counts, honor tricks, and such. All of which are unnatural methods.

Simply count each high card (ace or king or queen) as one no-trump trick and you will do what nature intended. Because the highest cards in the pack are the most likely cards to take tricks at no-trump.

Two sure tricks will solidify your holdings in an opening one bid. So, an opening of one no-trump needs five high cards with two aces.

Soap opera heroines face up to life with straight stocking seams and dresses décolleté as they win and lose husbands in staged kitchens and living rooms.

As any man who has stayed home on a weekday knows, life at home just ain't like that. To wit, under pressure of the job it was sitting home before the set the other week day, staring at an unfolding emotional crisis, while in the kitchen a woman was unfolding a real life emotional crisis to my wife.

You never saw better dressed women than those on the screen. But what were my wife and the woman in the kitchen wearing? They were dressed in shorts, T-shirts and sandals—it being a hot day.

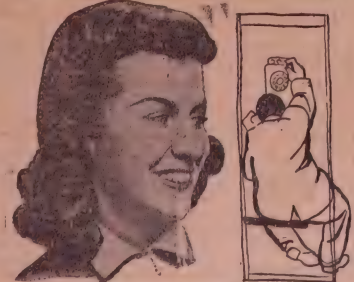

No ungallantry is intended. That's simply the way life is. So, being that way and the soap opera wanting to be lifelike, let's have the wardrobe departments throw in a little authenticity.

Heavy Seas Cancel Race

TORONTO (CP)—Fierce rain squalls and churning seas over-turned racing craft and brought cancellation of the first race at Wednesday's opening of the Canadian Dinghy Association's annual regatta.

The first of three scheduled races was called off after it started when three dinghies capsized on the Lake Ontario course. The other two events, over five miles, were sailed over a Toronto bay course and were completed despite capsizing of eight of the 38 starters. There were no casualties.

Thirty-eight 14-foot dinghies started in the second scheduled race won by Fred Buller of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Toronto.

Bud Whitaker of the RCYC won the third race with John Henderson of the RCYC second.

Birthday Hunch Wins for Better

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (CP)—Caterer Frank Stevens marched confidently to the wicket at Saratoga Wednesday and picked Born Rich, a maiden two-year-old, for the first race and Montana, a maiden three-year-old, which finished 10th last time out, in the second.

When he pocketed $627.50 for the daily double, someone asked him how he'd found the right combination in choosing among 27 young horses in the two events.

It was easy. Born Rich had No. 7 post position in the opener. Montana was No. 5 in the second. It was his 75th birthday.

The south opening of one no-trump shows five high cards of which two are aces. With four high north sees nine in the pair. Therefore, he should go to three no-trump. It takes nine tricks to make a game of three no-trump. He knows of that many in the partnership.

A peculiar distribution of unseen cards may defeat it. Clever defence or wrong play may contribute to its downfall. But a pair should be in no-trump game with nine high cards. Or go play pinocchio.

'Do It Yourself' Craze Finally Has Hit Moviemaking

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The "Do It Yourself" craze finally has hit moviemaking.

The reason is Andrew and Virginia Stone, a husband-and-wife team who have made a real suspense thriller for $71,000. By Hollywood economics that is something less than peanuts.

Called "The Night Holds Terror," the picture is a real sleeper. Best proof of this is that Columbia studios has allotted $250,000 just for advertising a $71,000 picture.

Andy reveals that the studio had outlined a $250,000 budget for his script on a "B" picture basis, using old sets, stock footage and simple shooting.

"That's the absolute minimum the picture could have been made for inside a studio sound stage," he reported.

USE OWN HOME

So the Stones used their own studio—a station wagon and a couple of rooms in their home.

Andy is producer, writer, director. Virginia is feature editor, cutter, casting director, wardrobe woman (designer and purchaser) and location scout.

They use no sound stages. All shots are made in actual locations. If the scene calls for a restaurant, Virginia approaches the owner.

He gives him a $100 fee and shoots the scene in a real restaurant, often with the regular customers.

If the shot calls for a moving automobile, they shoot it in a moving automobile—sound and all.

They use no sound stages. Synchronized film supplies the traffic atmosphere.

NO UNION PROBLEMS

One of the best scenes in "The Night Holds Terror" shows how the telephone company helps police in tracking down a ransom phone call. The whole scene, with telephone company technicians acting their everyday jobs, was shot in a major exchange of the Pacific Telephone Company.

Although the Stones work with 15 people, less than a third of the crew used on a normal movie.

One question. Suppose a major studio gave you a $3,000,000 budget to work with, would you still operate the same way out of your station wagon?

"Absolutely," replied Stone. "I'd just make 30 pictures with that $3,000,000 instead of one."

URGES EVACUATION TEST

TORONTO (CP)—A test evacuation of part of Metropolitan Toronto will be proposed to the Metropolitan area's civil defence committee at a meeting Friday.

Frank G. Gardiner, chairman of the Metropolitan council, said he thinks a test evacuation involving 20,000 to 30,000 persons should be carried out by the civil defence organization within the next six to eight months.

Reach Agreement On Several Major Provisions

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers Wednesday announced agreement on several major contract provisions, including a layoff plan similar to those won by the union at General Motors and Ford.

At the same time the union said it was dissatisfied with company offers on such matters as annual wage increases, pension plans and insurance and holiday benefits.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice-president and director of the union's American Motors department, said the union would continue to hold out for gains on these provisions equal to those made in three-year contracts with GM and Ford earlier this summer.

The layoff plan would provide idle workers with 60 to 65 per cent of their take-home pay for a maximum of 26 weeks. The union would allocate five cents an hour per employee to a fund to supplement unemployment benefits.

American Motors, makers of Nash and Hudson automobiles, offered a three-cent hourly wage increase this year and a raise in 1936 of six cents an hour or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater. The Ford and GM pacts provide six cent hourly raises both years.

Stirling

BIRTHDAY DINNER GUESTS

STIRLING—Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery, Front St., entertained on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parsons, Joe and Mary Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Warren, Joan, Burnadette, Harry and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bernand, Joanne, Larry, Brian, Gail and Jill of Marmora, also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanna and Billy. The group enjoyed a delightful birthday dinner in honor of the host.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Seely and children are holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Williamson at Mindemonga, Manitoulin Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Rollins entertained Mrs. S. B. Rollins, of Tweed, last week.

Miss Eleanor Bush, Stirling, RR 4, Miss Jean Love, Madoc, and Miss Alice Heaman, Belleville, returned home on Friday, Aug. 5 from a five weeks' motor trip. The group travelled via Fort William and attended the Calgary Stampede. They visited relatives in Kamloops, B.C., and visited Victoria and Vancouver. From there they journeyed to Seattle and Yellowstone Park and returned home by Sault Ste. Marie and North Bay and Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ward are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crampton, Innisville, Ontario.

YWCA OFFICER DIES

TORONTO (CP)—Constance Maud Mary Body, a former general secretary of the YWCA for Canada, died Tuesday at her home. She was 69. She was the association's national secretary from 1927 to 1929.

Horsepower and HORSE COLLARS

An English sports car that has set 100 world records for its class uses aluminum in its bodywork and in parts of the chassis. ... And a French company is making lightweight aluminum collars for draught horses.

Just goes to show that in this age of aluminum it isn't just the newest marvels that make use of aluminum but some of man's oldest inventions, too. Which is one of the reasons why we have already started work on expanding the ingot capacity of our new development at Kitimat from its present 91,500 tons a year to 331,500 tons.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

BLACKHEADS

Don't squeeze blackheads—desolve them. Get two ounces of PEROXINE POWDER from any drug store and apply gently with wet, hot cloth over the blackheads. They simply dissolve and disappear by this simple method.

WHALERS AGAIN ACTIVE OFF B.C. COAST

Whaling crews are once more in operation off British Columbia. The huge sea mammals are shot by this explosive harpoon fired accurately from a gun mounting. Few shots are wasted.

This 50-ton humpback whale is resting on a former RCAF seaplane ramp at Coral Harbor, B.C., while whalers attack the carcass with razor-sharp flensing knives. The hide is cut from tail to head and the blubber is then sliced and diced to be put in steam tanks for reduction into oil.

Lutheran Pastor Faces 8 Counts

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Rev. John Gerberding of suburban Menomonee Falls—second young Lutheran pastor in the Milwaukee area to be charged with heresy this summer—was accused by his church Wednesday on eight counts of "preaching and teaching doctrines and opinions" in conflict with church doctrine.

Pastor Gerberding was questioned last week by an investigation committee of the northwest synod, United Lutheran Church, and advised he must stand a formal church trial here Aug. 30.

The 33-year-old pastor, father of three children, said he received the specifications of the charges Wednesday. One, he said, alleges that he "denies the divine authority of the Holy Scripture contrary to the witness of scripture to itself and contrary to the Lutheran confession."

He issued a general denial of the charges, claiming they did not "accurately describe" his ministry in the church.

West Huntingdon

WEST HUNTINGDON — The farmers have been extra busy with their stook threshing. The grain has been yielding good. The rain that came on Wednesday was much appreciated.

The Royal Black Precentory divine service was fairly well attended on Sunday afternoon in the United church here. Mr. John Murray was the guest minister and as usual brought a wonderful message. Mr. John Lanson welcomed the minister and visitors and Mr. H. R. Burke assisted the minister by reading the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. William Grant gave as a solo, "The Holy City."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emper, of Madoc, were tea hour guests on Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy.

Miss Muriel Morton, of Beachwood Lodge, Lakefield, was a week-end guest of Miss Marilyn Fitchett.

Nervous, Tired, Rundown, Headaches, Stomach Rebelled

Miss Margaret Hughes, 526 Talbot St., London, Ont., Said in a Recent Report:

"About two years ago I had a nervous breakdown and was in a very run-down condition. I could not sleep as my nerves were so on edge and I would get up mornings feeling exhausted and worn out. What food I ate would not digest properly, but caused awful gas, indigestion and sour acid ratings. I was subject to throbbing headaches and constipation.

Tried Many Things

"I took all sorts of medicines that were recommended to me for nervousness, but nothing helped me. Then my father suggested that I try Syntona. So, I got some and from the first few doses my stomach felt better. I was so encouraged that I kept right on taking it. Now I am delighted with the improvement. My nerves are calmed down. I sleep well at night, and have no trouble with headaches or constipation. My food digests so much better."

Syntona is made principally from the Herbs and Roots that have long been known for their medicine value. Syn-

YOUTH GOT MIXED IN HIS DIRECTIONS

A 14-year-old Trenton lad out for a spin on his bicycle, got his bearings mixed yesterday with nightfall finding him miles from home and in a strange district. Finding himself completely lost he enquired his way at a farmhouse and found that he was on the third concession of Thurlow township, a good 15 miles or more from Trenton. Farmhouse occupants called police and asked if the lad could be picked up by car and taken home.

Police Blotter

City and provincial police are on the look-out for two automobiles reported stolen during the night from the J. B. Boyce and Sons used car lot on Foxboro Rd. One of the stolen autos was a 1955 model sedan and the other a 1953 model car.

A door-to-door salesman offering cleaning compound, roused the ire of householders on Purdy St. who complained the man was abusive when he failed to make a sale. Police said the itinerant salesman was one, Cory Lee, of no fixed address.

Baby Smothered Under Blankets

Smothered in the blankets when he rolled down between the bed and the wall, Gerald Lyle Tugwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Tugwood, was asphyxiated at his grandparents' home on the Mohawk Indian Reservation Thursday evening.

Provincial police said the baby had been placed on the bed by his mother with a pillow placed to prevent his rolling off onto the floor. Instead the baby rolled between the bed and wall and asphyxiated in the blankets.

Mrs. Tugwood was living with her mother Mrs. Hilton Leewen, while the husband is away on army manoeuvres at Gagetown, N.B.

Minor Softball

Blain's Sportsmen squared their pee-wee softball playoff series last night with the Tip Top Cleaners, defeating them by a 10-7 score at the Fire Hall diamond. Each team has a victory to its credit. The third and final tilt will be played Saturday night.

The winners meet the Elliott Regents for the right to enter the OASA playoffs.

Holloway pitched for Blains giving up six hits, striking out five and walking 10. Hull and Lockyer hurled for the Tip Tops giving up seven hits walking 10 and whiffing five between them. McKen hit a home run and triple for the winners with Holloway getting a double. Pointer, Ron MacDonald, E. MacDonald and Lessels had singles. McGuire hit three singles for the losers with Locke having a homer; and Gardner a double and single.

The score: Blain's — 001 124 2-10 7 3 Tip Tops — 000 043 0-7 6 4

Penny Carnival Concludes Playground Week in City

Playground week in Belleville last week was a huge success with an estimated 2,000 persons, including children and parents, attending the Penny Carnival which wound up the week's events.

Prime purpose of Playground Week was to hold open house at all playgrounds to allow parents to visit and participate with their children in the regular program, and to see what was actually being taught at the playgrounds.

Monday showed the daily routine of playground supervision with the program of arts and crafts, games, story telling, sports, and other events being carried on. Tuesday evening each playground held a variety night and carried on a special program. At some there was a father and son softball game, demonstration of arts and crafts, talent shows, singing games and as a special attraction all ten playgrounds picked a Miss Playground to compete for the Miss Penny Carnival title at the end of the week.

Wednesday was a big day for the girls when they entertained their mothers at all playgrounds with a mother-daughter tea. During the day the mothers watched and took part with children in arts and crafts, skits and plays and singing games. The evening was topped with a movie at the East Hill playground.

Thursday was left open for preparations for the penny carnival, while Friday saw a full day of events with the carnival getting underway at 7 p.m. Events for the carnival included a fish pond, hit the can, fortune teller, bean bag, horseshoes, ring toss, doll show, weight guesser, fat lady, guessing games, age guesser, and bingo. All events cost a penny and were well patronized.

Highlight of the evening was the choosing of Miss Penny Carnival, which saw Miss Patsy Huddleston of the Fire Hall Playground emerge as winner. Runner-up was Miss Marlene Fremming of the St. Charles Playground, while Miss Anita Ten Hoop of Queen Elizabeth Playground, was third.

Ten contestants each representing a city playground, paraded for the panel of judges, some in bathing suits, others in pretty dresses. The judges had a difficult time declaring a winner but judging by the applause their final choice met with the full approval of the crowd.

A square dance with children taking part concluded the carnival program and also Playground Week.

Playground Week in Belleville was one of the first to be held in Ontario. It was a big success and is hoped will be an annual event.

North Residents Have a Yen For Boiled Eggs

TIMMINS (CP)—Northern Ontario residents are mad about eggs. Miners have a yen for boiled eggs and find them convenient to carry in lunch pails. Many persons like raw eggs in their beer.

Because of this, says Lindsay Gray, poultry products inspector of the agriculture department, more eggs are eaten in northern Ontario than in any other section of Canada. Suburban tops them all with the highest per capita consumption of eggs.

Mr. Gray made the comments Thursday after investigating reports that the quality of eggs sold in the Timmings area was not consistent with good grading.

He said generally eggs in retail stores were in good condition but many were not stored under proper conditions. The heat wave was responsible for a number of eggs deteriorating.

START HARBOR Port Credit (CP)—Drilling crews Thursday started work on the first phase of the proposed $3,000,000 deep sea harbor at this Lake Ontario community 15 miles west of Toronto. Construction of three piers is expected to take about 22 months.

Obituary

RICHARD W. EGGLETON (Hillier)

The funeral of Richard W. Eggleton, 64, RR 2, Hillier, was held from the Weaver Funeral Home, to White's cemetery yesterday.

Rev. A. Foulter of Wellington, officiated.

The bearers were: James Thow, T. R. White, Wilmet Rose, Ralph Hubbs, Kenneth Sine, and Horace Church.

Mr. Eggleton died August 11th at his residence, after he had been in ill health for the past two months. Born in Rawdon township, son of Mrs. Walton Eggleton and the late Mr. Eggleton, he had resided in the district for the past 20 years, coming there from Sidney township. A farmer, he was a member of the United Church at Wellington and was active in IOOF activities, being a member of the IOOF Trent Lodge 113 and of Canton IOOF.

He leaves three sons and three daughters: Ormal, Peterborough; Everett, Port Credit, and Bert, at home; Marie, (Vivian) Hannah, Kleinburg, Ont.; Mrs. Cecil (Norma) Harry, Foxboro; Mrs. George (Shirley) Vincent, Picton.

Also surviving are two sisters: Mrs. Thomas (Mary) Cassidy, Toronto and Mrs. James (Ethel) Morrison, Kingston, and two brothers, Clinton, Washington, DC, and Clayton, Belleville.

He also leaves six grandchildren.

The evening previous to the funeral a lodge service was held in the lodge home under the direction of Trent Lodge IOOF, 113.

JAMES SARGINSON

The funeral of James Sarginson was held Thursday, August 11 from the Pinkston and Luscombe Funeral Home, 60 Victoria Ave. at Church Street, to Wood Urd Church. Rev. Stanley Snowden conducted the service.

The bearers were: William, Arnold, Robert, William, Howard, Percy, Clifford and Claude Sarginson.

Interment took place in Wood cemetery.

Baroness Has Passed Crisis

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Baroness Nancy Oakes of Hovington-Huene, seriously ill following surgery, was reported by her doctor Thursday to have passed the crisis and to be on her way to recovery.

The baroness gave birth to a son, Alexander, six months ago. She appeared in good health when the child was christened by the Bishop of Nassau late in July.

Her mother, Lady Eunice Oakes, interrupted a Canadian vacation to be with her daughter. The operation was performed by Dr. Meyer Rassin, well-known English specialist.

Nancy is married to Baron Ernst-Lyssonard von Hovington-Huene, of German nobility. She divorced her first husband, Alfred de Marigny, after de Marigny was acquitted of a charge of slaying her father at Nassau in 1940.

QUEENSTOWN, Md. (AP)—The Queenstown News will miss its first edition in 73 years next week because publisher George J. Steinfield figures the staff needs a vacation.

On its Steinfield said in a front-page notice in this week's edition: "... Because we need a rest and vacation, I—the editor, publisher, owner, janitor, etc.—intend to take my family on a week's vacation. Hope we will not be missed too much. Look for your next issue on Friday, Aug. 26."

The eastern shore weekly (circulation about 800) is a one-man operation.

Former Owners of Restaurant Arrested After Disturbance

CAMPBELLFORD — Campbellford residents had cause to appreciate the alertness of their police constable Sam Baird on Monday, when he apprehended Kew Fong and his wife, Go Hong Fong, who had entered a restaurant they had formerly operated with a loaded revolver.

Fong and his wife, Go Hong Fong, who had entered a restaurant they had formerly operated with a loaded revolver. Fong and his wife, Go Hong Fong, who had entered a restaurant they had formerly operated with a loaded revolver.

Monday Constable Baird was on duty when he saw the pair entering the restaurant. He thought he had noticed a revolver in Fong's hip pocket and decided to investigate. When he tried to enter, however, he found the door to be locked and though Mrs. Fong was standing just inside, she refused to open it.

The policeman then saw Fong brandishing the gun and ordering him to drop it, he forced entry to the store by kicking the door, breaking the lock.

Fong is said then to have placed the gun back in his pocket and he struggled, when Baird tried to put handcuffs on him, the two falling to the floor. Mrs. Fong, who was sitting down on the other side of the room, then rushed over and began beating Baird about the back and head with her fists. She was finally subdued and the two were taken to the police station where they were lodged in the cells.

ORDERED WAITRESS OUT The proprietress, Mrs. H. Stillman had been sleeping in a room at the rear of the store, when Fong entered. She had awakened to hear him ordering a waitress, Josephine McKenzie, out of the restaurant and came out in time to see the former owner and his wife taken into custody. Considerable damage had been done as a number of dishes had been broken and tables and chairs were upset.

The gun that Fong had carried was a .35 German Mauser automatic pistol, with eight rounds of ammunition in the clip, but there was none in the chamber. The pair had been forcibly evicted from the restaurant a few weeks ago, when they had tried to take possession of the place.

Constable George French of the Trenton police was visiting with Constable Baird and assisted in taking the pair into custody. A customer in the restaurant at the time, Doug Pickering of Campbellford, also grappled with Fong and got possession of the gun.

Passersby gave a great deal of credit to Baird for his courage in entering the store and leaving his own gun holstered throughout the struggle.

The pair was charged with causing a disturbance and taken to Cobourg, where they were released until 10 a.m. on Friday and lodged in the county goal.

U.S. Ambassador Godfrey Clips To Thailand Killed in Crash

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—American ambassador John E. Peurifoy and his nine-year-old son, Daniel, were killed today when the ambassador's sports car collided head-on with a truck on a narrow bridge 125 miles south of the Thai capital.

Peurifoy's elder son, Clinton, 14, was critically injured.

The tall, handsome ambassador, who celebrated his 48th birthday Tuesday, came to Thailand last November after brilliant service in Greece and Guatemala. A career diplomat, he began his government service in 1935 as a $90-a-month elevator operator in the Senate office building in Washington.

The outspoken diplomat's first big foreign assignment was in 1950 when president Truman named him ambassador to Greece.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Cattle prices were firm to as much as 50 cents a hundredweight higher this week at the Ontario public stockyards. Calves showed gains of $1 to $2 a hundredweight, hogs were 75 cents higher and sheep and lambs sold steady.

Cattle receipts were some 1,600 head more than last week and 800 fewer than the same week last year. Receipts from western Canada were 184 head, a decrease of nearly 300 head under last week. Western receipts were all stockers.

Shipments to eastern Canadian slaughterers continued light at seven carloads. There were no exports to the United States.

QUALITY IMPROVES

Feature of the week was a noticeable improvement in the quality of steer and yearling crops. This plus a good demand for better grades, made for an active market. Good and choice grades showed gains of 25 to 50 cents. Common and medium grades did not show the price upward. Top quality heifers were firm, while good and choice fed yearlings sold at rates 50 cents higher.

Cows and bulls met a broad demand all week with the former selling 50 cents higher and bulls gaining fully 25 cents. An estimated 300 stockers will be unsold at the close. The dressed beef trade is reported good.

Prices: Choice steers $20-21; sales to $21.50; good steers $19-20; mediums $17-19; commons $12-16; good heifers $18-19.50; a few choice to $19; mediums 16-18; commons $12-16; boner steers and heifers $8-12; choice fed yearlings $20-20.50; one small lot $22; good fed yearlings $19.50-20.50; medium $17-19; good cows $13-13.50; good light heifers $14; canners and cutters down to $8; good heavy boned bulls $13-13.75; good light butchers bulls to $14; common and medium light bulls down to $8.

Replacement cattle: Although prices remained steady, shipments back to the country will be heavier than in the past several weeks. The bulk of the offering was made up of common and medium grades although one straight lot of picked short keep feeders weighing 795 pounds sold at $19.50. Medium stockers were $16-17.50; commons $12-16.

Calf receipts were comparable to last week. Monday and Tuesday's sales were steady to last week's with good and choice vealers selling at $20-22; mediums $15-20; commons $10-15. With auction selling of calves going into effect on Wednesday for the first time all grades of calves showed gains of $1 to $2 under this method of selling. Good and choice vealers were $21-23; some sales were higher; mediums $16-21; commons $10 - 16; grass calves for slaughter were $10-12; some stock calves up to $15.

Hogs were firm at $28 for grade A with several loads out at $28.50; some $17.75, dressed and stags $14 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 200 head more than last week. Good heavy-weight ewes and wethers sold steady at $21. Bucks were discounted $1 and heavies $2; common and medium lambs were $14-18; good light sheep generally $8; common and heavy down to $3.

3 Firefighters From Trenton Station Injured

TRENTON (Special) — Three R.C.A.F. firefighters yesterday suffered painful leg injuries, when the foam truck following the fire truck on which they were riding crashed into the back of it due to brake failure. The firemen were answering a practice call when the accident happened. The men were thrown to the pavement by the impact.

Hurt and taken to hospital on the base were: L.A.C. C. C. Barley, 82 Front Street, Trenton; AC 2, P. Zdrko, Beausjour, Manitoba; AC 1 J. L. Gaudreau, no address available.

Barkley received injuries to the foot, Zdrko, injuries to the leg and Gaudreau, injuries of a minor nature.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

James McClintock, 25, a farmer on R.R. 4 Trenton who faces trial on a charge of criminal negligence, the trial to take place at the fall session of Supreme Court at Cobourg.

That was the decision handed down yesterday by Magistrate R. B. Butler presiding at the preliminary hearing.

McClintock was charged following an accident on highway No. 2 April 23 when his 75-year-old wife died from injuries after her husband's car went out of control and rolled over several times. A witness at the hearing said he saw Mrs. McClintock fall into the path of the rolling car.

Will Not Give Woman Another Chance to Answer

EW YORK (AP) — The producer of the TV program "The $64,000 Question" said Thursday it had decided against giving another chance to a woman who missed a question about the painting "Mona Lisa."

Steven R. Carlin, executive producer of the program, said the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Philadelphia Art Museum, the Encyclopedia Britannica "and five or six other" authorities backed up the fairness of the question and answer.

Mrs. Jean Thompson, 26, a Waterbury, Conn., housewife, was unable Tuesday night to give the name of the model for Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa." The show said the model was the wife of Francesco di Bartolomeo del Giocondo.

A controversy developed after an art magazine editor said no one knows who actually posed for the picture.

Mrs. Thompson was trying to win $8,000 by answering the question. As consolation, she received a Cadillac convertible.

"She was not dissatisfied," said Carlin. "She said she thought it was a perfectly legitimate question."

Hot Seat Cooled As Bomb Found In Theatre Chair

NEW YORK (AP) — A homemade bomb was found inside a seat in the Ritz theatre Thursday. Police said they believe it the work of a mysterious bomber for whom they have been searching since 1940.

The crude device, made of a five-inch length of small pipe, was found stuffed into the upholstery of the seat. A workman had taken the seat to a basement shop to repair its upholstery.

Police said the manner in which the bomb had been made and placed linked it with 22 others believed planted in various places during the last 15 years by the bomber. Eighteen of the bombs have exploded, injuring seven persons.

Will Investigate Hospital Fires

WINDSOR (CP) — Lieutenant John Lambie of the Windsor fire department said Thursday the Ontario fire marshal's office will be asked to investigate two "mysterious" fires in the nurses' residence at Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Lieut. Lambie said two small fires broke out within a few hours of each other early Thursday. In both cases, he said, the fires started in rooms which had not been occupied for some time before the fire broke out.

2,200 Strikers Lose Their Jobs

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP) — Calumet division of Calumet and Hecla Inc. has told its 2,200 striking CIO United Steel Workers employees that it is liquidating the division.

The action followed the union's rejection Wednesday of a "final" company offer to settle the strike, called May 2 to support union wage demands in a new contract.

The division operates five copper mines and a smelter in Michigan's upper peninsula.

Rescuers Search Cafe Wreckage For More Bodies

ANDOVER, Ohio (AP) — Rescue crews, pushing aside blackened beams with crowbars and digging into ashes with shovels, continued today to search the wreckage along Andover's explosion-torn square for more victims.

Officials said they fear the death toll from the blast and fire which hit this small community Wednesday night may rise above the last figure, 21. At least 21 persons were injured. The bodies of 19 victims have been identified.

The cause of the explosion, which centred in a restaurant where many victims had sought shelter from a storm, remains a mystery.

Fire Hazard Almost Normal In Northland

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The fire hazard in most of northern Ontario is almost normal today for the first time in months.

The rating in the Cochrane-Kapuskasing district, where 31 of the 79 fires are burning, still is high.

Five new fires broke out Thursday and 14 were extinguished. Ten were out of control—five in the Cochrane district, three near Kapuskasing and two at Kenora. Although rain was general throughout much of the province Wednesday, only scattered showers hit the forest fire areas.

Patrol Soho District to Check Gang Warfare

LONDON (Reuters) — Plainclothes and uniformed police patrolled London's Soho district in force today to check a feared outbreak of gang warfare in Soho.

Police have emergency plans to deal with incidents and activities of a number of men are being watched.

Detectives sat all night at the bedside of two wounded duellists, Jack Comer, otherwise known as Jack Spot, 43, self-styled British gangster No. 1, and Albert Dimes, 36, race track follower.

Both were injured Thursday after a running street fight witnessed by hundreds of screaming women workers and other residents of the capital's colorful "continental" district.

Dimes was wounded in the stomach. Comer had an operation during the night for a lung wound. Today both were in "serious but not critical" condition—in separate hospitals, by police order.

GE Workers Get Pay Raise, Five Year Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — The General Electric Company and the International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO) reached a five-year agreement providing wage increases but not the guaranteed annual wage the union sought.

The union claims to represent 100,000 of GE's 220,000 employees in plants across the country.

James B. Carey, IUE president, said the agreement will provide pay raises of 33 to 34 cents an hour by the end of the fifth year.

$50,000 Damage In Toronto Fire

TORONTO (CP) — Firemen said $50,000 damage was caused today in a fire at an east-central factory which covered several blocks with a thick smoke cloud and delayed morning rush-hour traffic.

The two-alarm blaze was confined to the third floor of the three-story Stereo Products plant, Victor Ciolek, the only person in the building at the time, darted down the stairs to safety.

Firemen said the fire apparently was started by a spark from a fan which ignited cushions and binding material.

THE PROBLEM OF HIGHWAY SAFETY

A million people have died in automobile accidents in the United States in the last 50 years. This year another 35,000 lives will be lost. In Canada, 3,000 persons will die from injuries incurred while driving or riding in automobiles.

No epidemic disease kills as many people in Canada each year as does the automobile. Maternal mortality in childbirth claims fewer than a thousand lives a year in Canada.

Accidents, next to heart disease and cancer, claim more lives than anything else and fatal auto accidents constitute a significant percentage of accidental deaths.

Suggestions to reduce the number of auto fatalities are legion. Traffic officials, safety councils, newspapers and private citizens seem to propose new safety plans almost daily.

Automobile manufacturers, conscious of the physical carnage being wreaked in their products, are acutely aware of the need to reduce the number of fatalities. In fact, almost every suggestion put forward is given careful study by them. Those ideas bearing directly on the construction and performance of cars are carefully screened and worthwhile improvements are incorporated into the design of new models.

Just what the auto industry is doing to increase the safety factor in driving was outlined recently in an address by H. Richard Steding, chief engineer, executive staff, of the Chrysler Corp., to the Ontario Traffic Conference at Windsor.

He pointed out that the appalling statistics on highway fatalities, when taken out of context, distort the true picture of driving safety.

In the 17 years from 1936 to 1953 the number of motor vehicles registered in Canada tripled, the use of vehicles increased three-and-one-half times and the number of traffic fatalities per 100,000 vehicles miles dropped 33 1/3 per cent.

Mr. Steding attributes the decline in the ratio of fatalities to passenger miles to improvement of the automobile by increasing horsepower, increasing glass area, improving tires, lights and installing power steering and power brakes.

In defending increased horsepower Mr. Steding states that the highest highway fatality rates in the world occur in those countries which specialize in low horsepower cars. "A 30 per cent increase in horsepower may result in only a five per cent higher top speed. At the same time, however, a 35 per cent increase in the middle speed performance may be gained," he said.

Mr. Steding pointed out that 87 per cent of serious injuries occur at speeds of 40 miles an hour or less and states that the great increase in power "in the middle speeds" is a safety factor in passing.

Increasing window area is a safety factor in providing greater driver visibility. Four wheel hydraulic brakes, introduced in 1924, cut the stopping distance in half at one stroke. Pedal pressure at a given rate of deceleration has been cut 50 per cent in the past 20 years. Improved brake linings reduce repairs and give maximum safety for longer periods. Brake pedals on new models are being enlarged for easy operation by either left or right foot. Power brakes permit smoother application of braking power with less effort affording quicker stops.

Power steering, alleged by some to contribute to drowsiness and driver error, is credited by Mr. Steding with reducing driver fatigue on long trips and increasing efficiency.

He claims power steering not only makes turning easier but prevents wheels from turning in case of blowouts, hitting holes, ruts or soft shoulders.

Headlights have been improved in power and performance to provide added safety for night driving; tires are constantly being improved; body structural strength has been increased and suspensions have been redesigned to give better road holding stability and handling ease.

This impressive list of manufacturing improvements will be supplemented in the near future by seat belts, padded dash boards and elimination of projecting knobs and handles on the dash.

Improvement in the physical qualities of automobiles has not been matched by improved highway construction or more effective safety education. Experts estimate that automobile production and highway traffic has outdistanced highway improvement by 20 years. They claim complete modernization of highways will automatically slash the accident rate by 40 per cent.

Driver training is inadequate. People cause accidents and people are not being trained to be good drivers or to be safety conscious.

Maximum effort of safety campaigns aimed at reducing the number of highway fatalities, therefore, should be aimed at improving highways, but most of all, at improving drivers.

BAD STREETS

Trentonians who think the streets in this town are less than could be desired should drive along No. 2 Highway through Belleville. That would end their complaints. This section of road should be cut up and sold for washboards. (Trenton Courier Advocate.)

CUSTOMER AND CLERK

"The customer is always right" they tell me.
And I am one, insisting those who sell me.
Must always pleasant be and uncomplaining
Though I may be a grumbler when it's raining.
I may be disagreeable and worried.
I may be out of patience when I'm hurried.
But when before a counter I am standing
I'm right, although discourteous and demanding.

I like attention. Gladly I receive it.
But I'm always right, I don't believe it.
Troubles are common. No one hasn't any.
Clerks may have more than I, or often just as many.
I am not always right and well I know it.
I'm quick to anger and too oft I show it.
A headache makes the customer a frotter,
But clerks with headaches bear them so much better.

The House of Wittelsbach

(New York Times)

The German princely house of Wittelsbach — so much more fantastical and oddly ingratiating than those two other outstanding clans of the Germans, Hohenzollern and Habsburg — came into the news lately with the death of Crown Prince Rupprecht, 86. It is always news when a Wittelsbach dies because, as has been said, "like God, they have always been." Chroniclers count some forty generations of them who ruled in Bavaria, as counts, dukes, margraves and kings for a thousand years up to 1918, and the blood of Charlemagne is traced in their veins.

Rupprecht through a complicated vated man, never relinquished his claim to his ancestral kingdom. At a time, between the two World Wars, some observers thought he would be called to it.

Rupprecht, through a complicated descent on the direct side, was also Stuart Pretender to the British crown. This did not prevent him from leading a German army in World War I. But on anniversary of the day in 1918 when Charles I was beheaded in what is now London's Trafalgar Square, clusters of white roses, their ardent, nonsensical, lost-cause message implicitly used to turn up mysteriously at Rupprecht's palace.

Among the Wittelsbachs were extraordinary, grandiose builders, patrons of many arts. In some of them, madness appeared; in others, it was the margin of their spirits. They were inclined to be theatrical and moody; many were charming and dandy handsome. Notable among them, of course, was Ludwig I, who, somewhat like Shakespeare's Shepherd, was a weather-bitten conduit of two eras. He was a godchild of Marie Antoinette — and he lived until 1868, twenty years after he had lost his throne for the love of that general charmer and ballerina, Louise Montez. Ludwig's grandson, Ludwig II, was another extravagant, with the

Churchill's Modern Fable

(By Sir Winston Churchill, written in 1928, republished in Newsweek Magazine.)

Once upon a time all the animals in the zoo decided that they would disarm, and they arranged to have a conference to arrange the matter. So the rhinoceros said when he opened the proceedings that the use of teeth was barbarous and horrible and ought to be strictly prohibited by general consent. Horns, which were mainly defensive weapons would, of course, have to be allowed. The buffalo, the stag, the porcupine, and even the little hedgehog all said they would vote with the rhino, but the lion and the tiger took a different view. They defended teeth and even claws, which they described as honorable weapons of immemorial antiquity. The panther, the leopard, the puma, and the whole tribe of small cats all supported the lion and the tiger. Then the bear spoke. He proposed that teeth and horns should be banned and never used again for fighting by any animal. It would be quite enough if animals were allowed to use their claws, or a gas like which they quarrelled. No one could object to that. It was so fraternal, and that would be a great step toward peace. However, all the other animals were very offended with the bear and the turkey fell into a perfect panic.

The discussion got so hot and angry, and all those animals began thinking so much about horns and teeth and hugging when they argued about the peaceful intentions that had brought them together, that they began to look at one another in a very nasty way. Luckily the keepers were able to calm them down and persuaded them to go back quietly to their cages, and they began to feel quite friendly with one another again.

Even a mere look at a sturgeon, under normal circumstances, is enough to upset some people. This denizen of the deep waters of the St. John river and Bay of Fundy is one of Nature's uglier creations. It has an alligator-like armored body with a ridged back and a long snout, and from the chin hang four feet which the fish evidently uses to keep posted on how close it is to the river floor. Even if a person can look a sturgeon in the eye in a fish-store window without shuddering, he hardly do that if he meets one face to face while swimming under water. For the sturgeon, which grows to about twelve feet long and a weight of sometimes over pounds, resembles a ferocious undersea dragon.

This, however, is just his "outward appearance"; it doesn't reflect his nature. Actually he's as docile as a cow.

CAUSE OF ALARM One thing that the Grand Bay incident is likely to do — unless it is proved that it wasn't an eagle that dropped the fish — is cause some alarm, perhaps unnecessarily, about the danger of such things to small children.

Naturalists know of no cases at least in this part of the world, where they have bothered youngsters, although there is a story that an infant, Lord Lonsdale, was attacked more than half a century ago and would have been carried off if his clothing had not caught on a fence.

But it's rarely today that eagles are seen in the wild. Their numbers have been thinned so greatly that in many parts of North America they are protected by law.

Some old-time American saloons are preserved. Usually, they are built of stone or brick, and have a real historic value. The saloons of Virginia City, where Mark Twain and other notables practised at the bar, are famous. Recently, in Colorado, where a high-falootin' opera season is enacted in historic buildings and in the midst of mines, treasures the old saloon above every thing else. Towns of the Western mining country, to a considerable extent, are keeping their old saloons in view. There are genuine reasons behind such preservations.

The saloons of the old West were social centres, sometimes literary centres, headquarters for gun fights and big gambling. Certainly, historic and romantic interest attaches to many of these old-time drinking places. There is art and romance in the more authentic survivals of a "hush" American era.

In England there is official sanction of saloons; the Britons call them public houses, or, colloquially, pubs. Many of them are real centres of interest; the oldtimers of letters and law and politics and science frequented them, as far back as before the time of Henry V. The British pubs have romantic and realistic names, whichever you prefer. The Red Lion, the Golden Fleece, the Maiden Head, the Golden Cross and others, sacrosanct under British law. There are about 2,000 of these protected places, and some of them are of great interest in the development of British history and culture for upwards of a thousand years.

Hardly had Ludwig II ascended the throne in 1864 when he sent for Wagner. For the composer, hounded by creditors, with thirty years of virtual failure behind him, it was a miracle. When they met, the 19-year-old King was like a worshipful subject. Wagner, at 51, had found his patron.

The Swan-Prince disliked accepting Cosima Wagner as a third element in his relation with Wagner. He became a misogynist, presently a recluse. He avoided his capital, spurned his ministers, sank into a fantasy world. He had a kind of inner desperation, apparently fearing the lunacy which had overtaken his younger brother, Otto. Presently, as far as his kingdom was concerned, he crossed over the latitudes of reason. He was deposed, and his uncle Ludwig took his place.

It was from this more balanced ruler that the late Crown Prince Rupprecht descended. And it is from this line that the house of Wittelsbach continues.

Rupprecht's Prince Albrecht was born in 1905. By Wittelsbach standards he is a young man. There are still royal pursuits available to him, royal balls, royal hunts, royal games and royal sports. He is a kind of a prince of the modern world, the lewelled lakes and easelands. He doubtless can hunt the stag, as his father did, can roam through the forests of his ancestral lands. And he can ruminate, if he pleases, on the grandeur and mystery of the Wittelsbach story through many years.

Where to put the TV set is now a matter of policy in which TV dealers are settling down to a general agreement. And not in the living room seems to be the consensus. In a great many houses, especially those in the housing subdivisions where you see the forest of TV masts even before you notice the houses, there is generally no place other than the living room for When TV was new, and expensive, and before it became a sort of common right, the living room was the favorite locale of the set. But inside a couple of months, it was realized that TV was going to put an end to social intercourse and domestic ease. The darn thing took over the joint, like a brush salesman.

The next development was that everybody who had a playground in the basement chose that for a TV room. There were saved TV rooms. During the West crisis, which usually take place around 11 to 6:30 p.m., families all knew where they were, and they were out of the way during the preparations of supper. And they could be herded to supper with ease. The second development was that after the child purpose was the child's, the child had been bulldozed to bed, if anybody wanted to see a program, they could go down to the playroom, leaving the living room for normal use.

But to shut-in, to the solitary, the lonely, the TV is still, and probably always will be an all-day, all-night bomb. A TV dealer tells me I would be astonished to know how many apartments in a big city there are down-town rooming houses with a TV in practically every room. There are thousands of people who can afford a new pair of shoes basking in the delights showered upon them by the manufacturers of de luxe shoes, and cosmetics for what the cooling society matron who does the announcing calls the luxury trade.

New Style Flying Fish

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

We've heard this Summer of fresh Saint John Harbor salmon flying across the Atlantic to London and Paris in swift transport planes — but the fourteen pound two ounce sturgeon that fell out of the sky at Grand Bay is evidently in a class by itself.

Just how this four-foot creature took to the air, how it travelled a quarter of a mile from the St. John river to plunk down with a terrific thump on Walter Hudson's verandah, remains a mystery, but it is thought it slipped out of the talons of a powerful northern bald eagle. The bonanza of sturgeon steaks and caviar tumbling out of the sky is hardly worth the shock of hearing a violent crash a few feet away and thinking your wife has suffered a bad fall.

Even a mere look at a sturgeon, under normal circumstances, is enough to upset some people. This denizen of the deep waters of the St. John river and Bay of Fundy is one of Nature's uglier creations.

Some old-time American saloons are preserved. Usually, they are built of stone or brick, and have a real historic value. The saloons of Virginia City, where Mark Twain and other notables practised at the bar, are famous. Recently, in Colorado, where a high-falootin' opera season is enacted in historic buildings and in the midst of mines, treasures the old saloon above every thing else. Towns of the Western mining country, to a considerable extent, are keeping their old saloons in view. There are genuine reasons behind such preservations.

The saloons of the old West were social centres, sometimes literary centres, headquarters for gun fights and big gambling. Certainly, historic and romantic interest attaches to many of these old-time drinking places. There is art and romance in the more authentic survivals of a "hush" American era.

In England there is official sanction of saloons; the Britons call them public houses, or, colloquially, pubs. Many of them are real centres of interest; the oldtimers of letters and law and politics and science frequented them, as far back as before the time of Henry V. The British pubs have romantic and realistic names, whichever you prefer. The Red Lion, the Golden Fleece, the Maiden Head, the Golden Cross and others, sacrosanct under British law. There are about 2,000 of these protected places, and some of them are of great interest in the development of British history and culture for upwards of a thousand years.

Hardly had Ludwig II ascended the throne in 1864 when he sent for Wagner. For the composer, hounded by creditors, with thirty years of virtual failure behind him, it was a miracle. When they met, the 19-year-old King was like a worshipful subject. Wagner, at 51, had found his patron.

The Swan-Prince disliked accepting Cosima Wagner as a third element in his relation with Wagner. He became a misogynist, presently a recluse. He avoided his capital, spurned his ministers, sank into a fantasy world. He had a kind of inner desperation, apparently fearing the lunacy which had overtaken his younger brother, Otto. Presently, as far as his kingdom was concerned, he crossed over the latitudes of reason. He was deposed, and his uncle Ludwig took his place.

It was from this more balanced ruler that the late Crown Prince Rupprecht descended. And it is from this line that the house of Wittelsbach continues.

Rupprecht's Prince Albrecht was born in 1905. By Wittelsbach standards he is a young man. There are still royal pursuits available to him, royal balls, royal hunts, royal games and royal sports. He is a kind of a prince of the modern world, the lewelled lakes and easelands. He doubtless can hunt the stag, as his father did, can roam through the forests of his ancestral lands. And he can ruminate, if he pleases, on the grandeur and mystery of the Wittelsbach story through many years.

Where to put the TV set is now a matter of policy in which TV dealers are settling down to a general agreement. And not in the living room seems to be the consensus. In a great many houses, especially those in the housing subdivisions where you see the forest of TV masts even before you notice the houses, there is generally no place other than the living room for When TV was new, and expensive, and before it became a sort of common right, the living room was the favorite locale of the set. But inside a couple of months, it was realized that TV was going to put an end to social intercourse and domestic ease. The darn thing took over the joint, like a brush salesman.

The next development was that everybody who had a playground in the basement chose that for a TV room. There were saved TV rooms. During the West crisis, which usually take place around 11 to 6:30 p.m., families all knew where they were, and they were out of the way during the preparations of supper. And they could be herded to supper with ease. The second development was that after the child purpose was the child's, the child had been bulldozed to bed, if anybody wanted to see a program, they could go down to the playroom, leaving the living room for normal use.

But to shut-in, to the solitary, the lonely, the TV is still, and probably always will be an all-day, all-night bomb. A TV dealer tells me I would be astonished to know how many apartments in a big city there are down-town rooming houses with a TV in practically every room. There are thousands of people who can afford a new pair of shoes basking in the delights showered upon them by the manufacturers of de luxe shoes, and cosmetics for what the cooling society matron who does the announcing calls the luxury trade.

How The Diaphragm Works

How The Diaphragm Works Here's something to think about — if you ever think: The three vital functions — digestion, circulation and breathing — are controlled and regulated by the autonomic, automatic, sympathetic or involuntary (not subject to will) part of the nervous system. All of these functions are most efficient when we are asleep or unconscious. When we are awake they are most efficient when least interfered with.

One who practices "deep breathing" or "breath control" as suggested by an instructor whose knowledge of anatomy and physiology is deficient generally gets as much help from it as he would from hoisting himself with his own bootstraps. Some "deep breathing" instructors have weird conceptions of the anatomy and physiology of breathing. For instance, a noted trainer of athletes blatantly explained in a magazine article that "the diaphragm contracts to drive air out of the chest."

Every schoolboy should know better — would know better if elementary education in Yankeland were not so restricted by prudery. The diaphragm works, contracts, functions when air is drawn into the chest (inspiration, inhalation). The diaphragm rests, relaxes when air leaves the chest (expiration, exhalation).

The diaphragm is a partition between the upper body (chest, thorax) and the lower body cavity (abdomen). It is composed of muscle and fibrous tissue. The muscle is a ring attached to the inside of the tip of the breast bone, the lower ribs, the spine, just below the ribs, this but strong. The diaphragm resembles a taupaulin covering a haystack. When the taupaulin contracts (when it shrinks) it compresses whatever it covers. This is the point to remember — namely, that when the diaphragm works (contracts) it presses down upon the abdominal organs — stomach, intestine, liver, gall-bladder, spleen, pancreas, blood vessels, lymph channels. At the same time it tends to lower or release pressure upon the organs in the chest — heart, lungs and blood vessels. This tends to produce a vacuum, into which air enters by "suction," as one might say.

The importance of this point is not that contraction of the diaphragm (shrinking or tightening of the taupaulin) permits air to enter the chest (inspiration, inhalation, expansion of lungs) but that it squeezes everything down below, including the great veins and the vast network of small vessels of the splanchnic pool, which is capable of holding out of circulation, stagnant, volume of the blood in the body.

Just remember — provided you never draw breath — provided you do it naturally and not as the deep breathing cultists teach — you not only massage your spleen, gall-bladder or cecum, but put in operation your circulator.

Tomorrow, if I'm here tomorrow, I'll (let the physiologists) describe how the booster pump works.

THE UNCHANGEABLE

Everything in the world changes, with the passing of time. Everything? Not quite. The power of God is the same now as it ever was. The day He laid the foundation of the earth, and on this day as He holds the planets in their courses, his power remains the same.

His wisdom never changes. What was ten billion years ago — if time goes back that far — is true today. Men dip their thumb-like legs into the sea of knowledge and hold up the contents and gurgles with joy like little children. But there is the sea in all its fullness — a sea without horizons, and it represents the unfathomable wisdom of God.

Everything changes — but God and his word and his purposes, never change. There is the essential stability of the spiritual world, the unchangeableness of God's purpose upon which we must build everything that will endure. "Heaven and earth shall pass away," said Jesus, "but my words shall never pass away." The voice which cried in the beginning, "Let there be light," still cries out to the dark life of the world — still rebukes us, still calls and mine. The One who said, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you," is still uttering these same words to the troubled and distraught minds of men and nations.

Weddings

WALLBRIDGE-SCOTT

A lovely double-ring wedding was solemnized on Friday, August 12, at 7:00 p.m., in Holloway Street United Church, Belleville, by the Reverend S. E. Larman, pastor of the church, before a background of pink and white gladioli in tall, white standards interspersed with ferns, when Norma Joyce Scott, of Belleville, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Scott, became the bride of Walter Robert Wallbridge, also of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallbridge. The guest pews were designated by white satin bows.

The wedding music was furnished by Mr. William Connor, guest organist from Victoria Avenue Baptist church, who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. A. Gardner of Christ Church, as she rendered "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harvey Scott, the bride was charmingly groomed in white organdy over blue tulle, with a long, flowing veil of white tulle, and a single strand of pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of her bridegroom, and carried a white Bible crested with white satin streamers. Miss Mae Sedore of Belleville, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, was attired in yellow tulle with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses and adiantum fern tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis George Hutchinson are shown cutting the wedding cake following their marriage in Yonge Mills United Church, Lyn, Ontario. The bride is the former Miss Edith Verna Gardiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crawford Gardiner. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Walter Hutchinson of Belleville, and the late Mr. Hutchinson. ## HUTCHINSON-GARDINER

Baskets of pink and white gladioli formed the setting in Yonge Mills United Church, Lyn, Ontario, for the marriage on Saturday, July 23, of Edith Verna Gardiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crawford Gardiner, and Willis George Hutchinson, of Belleville, son of Mrs. Walter Hutchinson of Belleville, and the late Mr. Hutchinson. The Rev. C. K. Mathewson officiated.

Mrs. Harold Eligh rendered the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Walter Shipman, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a graceful gown of white nylon organdy over tulle, with a long, flowing veil of white tulle, and a single strand of pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of her bridegroom, and carried a white Bible crested with white satin streamers. Miss Mae Sedore of Belleville, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, was attired in yellow tulle with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses and adiantum fern tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Master Bobbie Scott, six-year-old only brother of the bride, performed the duties of ring-bearer, natty in his blue blazer with white carnation boutonniere, and grey trousers. Mr. Ted Wallbridge of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, acted as groomsmen, while Messrs. Ronald Benlap and Paul Wilson, both of Belleville, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, where the bride's mother, wearing a blue crepe gown with white accessories, and corsage of pink and white gladioli, received the guests. The bridegroom's mother assisted, gowning in teal blue with navy accessories and corsage of red and white roses.

For the wedding trip to Toronto and the United States, the bride chose a grey and white flecked ensemble with white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Wallbridge are residing in Belleville.

Guests were present from Preston, Ontario; Toronto; Sarnia; Clinton; Napanee and Massasauga. Showers in honor of the bride were given previously to her marriage by the Northam Electric girls of the office staff, of which the bride is a member, at the home of Miss B. Salisbury, Burton Street and by the Point Anne Orange Hall.

JEFFREY-IRISH
St. Paul's United church, Stirling, was the scene of the marriage on Saturday, August 6, at 2:30 p.m., of Miss Mary Irene Irish, of Stirling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Irish, and Mr. Robert Walter Jeffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jeffrey, Stirling.

Woman Named As Lecturer In College

OTTAWA (CP)—A 32-year-old woman Thursday was appointed lecturer in political science at Ottawa's Carleton College.

She is Dr. Pauline Jewett, who recently completed a history and analysis of price and related controls in Canada during and after the Second World War for the finance department.

A native of St. Catharines, Dr. Jewett will be a member of the staff of the graduate school of public administration at the college.

Dr. Jewett received her master's degree from Queen's University, Kingston, and her doctor of philosophy from Radcliffe College at Harvard University in 1950. She also studied at the London School of Economics and at Oxford University.

Between 1946 and 1952 she was an instructor in politics at Wellesley College in Massachusetts and a full-time lecturer at Queen's University. At that time she was employed by the Canadian Nurses' Association to study the functions and objectives of that organization.

Women Wolf Cub Leaders Will Help Out

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (CP)—It won't be entirely a man's world at the annual world Boy Scout jamboree here. Some 250 women Wolf Cub leaders will be helping out with camp operations. They have already started arriving from several countries and by Aug. 18, when the camp opens to 10,000 scouts, they will be helping in the canteen, clerking at the trading post and doing administrative work.

On the emotional side they also expect to be called on to comfort homesick little cubs who may feel the miles from home.

Col. George Simmons of Ottawa, executive commissioner for the Boy Scout Association of Canada, said Thursday the cub leaders pay all their own travelling expenses for the jamboree and volunteer their services during the 10-day meeting. Most will be Canadians but some are expected from Jamaica, a few from Bermuda and one from Venezuela.

Eleven of the Ontario Intelligence office girls enjoyed a combined wiener-corn roast last night at Presqu'ile. Before the roast, a few of the braver ones went swimming in the lake. One of the girls, who hails from England, had never tasted corn of any type before, so the roast was an extra treat for her.

The evening came to a close with the usual singing, story telling, and picture taking.

CELIBATES WIN OUT

SEOUL (Reuters)—A dispute between single and married South Korean priests ended Thursday when a combined committee of both sides voted to give control of Korean Buddhism to bachelor monks and nuns. The religious dispute flared up in May last year when South Korea's President Syngman Rhee branded married priests as pro-Japanese and told them to turn over Buddhist temples to the celibates.

REPORT REFUSED

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has rejected a request by the Canadian Postal Workers' Brotherhood for a $500-a-year salary increase for 13,000 postal employees, it was reported Thursday. Finance Minister Harris also told the Brotherhood in a letter that a general salary increase for civil servants is not warranted at the present time.

CARE OF THE HANDS

A woman can truly be called beautiful if her hands are not beautiful. And to have lovely hands one must give them the same devoted care which is given to the complexion.

If, occasionally, you give your face a "mask" treatment, you realize how it improves and refines the texture of the skin, how it stimulates the circulation, giving new radiance and the glow of health. But have you ever considered treating your hands in the same way? You should at least once a week. And you'll be pleasantly surprised at the results. Here's how you go about it:

Use the same mask cream that you use for your complexion. After nail polish has been removed, apply it to hands which have been thoroughly washed and dried and leave it on for 15 or 20 minutes. By that time you will feel the skin on your hands begin to tighten and can remove it with either vaseline or tepid water, depending on the type of cream used. After the last traces have been removed, saturate a piece of cotton with witch hazel or any other astringent and rub it thoroughly, but lightly, all over the skin.

If your hands are in a really bad state, perhaps after a season of gardening or other outdoor activities, the mask treatments should be supplemented by nightly massages with olive oil or a good hand cream, a thin film of which can be left on overnight. Wear white cotton gloves if you do so, not only to protect bed linens but to keep the emollient on your hands so that it will be completely absorbed into the skin by morning.

Once your mask treatment is complete, you are ready to give yourself a manicure. Begin by filing, of course, but be careful not to file deeply into the corners. Nails remain stronger if they are less liable to chipping and breaking if they are kept in an oval shape. After filing, buff them well. This is a practice which is often overlooked but, in the manicure routine, it should be just as automatic as filing, removing cuticle or applying polish, for buffing stimulates the circulation and helps to keep the nails healthy.

After buffing, soak the nails in warm soapy water for about three minutes, then massage nail cream around the base of the nails. With an orangewood stick, press cuticle back lightly. If cuticle is unusually heavy, use cuticle remover on a piece of cotton, wrapped around the stick. Rinse hands and dry thoroughly before applying polish. Use a base coat, first, then two coats of enamel, and finally a protective seal. Always dry your nails at normal room temperature since heat keeps polish soft, while a draft from an electric fan will cause the polish to blister.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MAYBE IT'S JUST MIDDLE-AGE THAT AILS HIM

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

My husband and I have arrived at middle-age and trouble. That is, I am the one who is having the trouble. He, I assume, is having fun.

Let me tell you the situation and see what you think. Up until about a year ago, my husband was always very attentive to me, and we were very happy together. He never thought of going anywhere without me. Suddenly things changed, and he began to go off in the car by himself. He says he goes to the movies, or to see some of the men he works with.

Often he goes out when I am clearing up after dinner, when if he would just wait a little while, or even help me with the dishes, I could go along.

Do you think that when I see him getting ready to go out I should just drop everything and insist on going along, or should I stay home alone, make things pleasant when he is home, and otherwise let him go and come as he chooses?

To take the last part of that last sentence first, I think you had better for the time being, just let your husband come and go as he pleases, because I don't know how you are going to be able to influence him much at this point. Quite obviously, what he wants at the moment, and intends to have, is some independent life of his own, which you are not to share. You say that if he would just wait until you have finished clearing up after dinner you might go along with him. But the very fact that he sees you tied up is, of course, the reason he selects that time to make his getaway.

It's possible that the explanation of your husband's unusual behaviour is to be found in what you say in the very beginning of your letter—that the two of you "have arrived at middle-age." For it's not an uncommon thing at all for people, whether men or women, to suddenly start doing things in middle age that seem completely out of character. All at once they become dissatisfied with the routine life they have been leading for so many years, feel that more interesting and exciting things have been passing them by, and that unless they move fast, they'll lose forever the opportunity to experience any of them. So off they go.

Many a marriage has broken up for good as a result of such a situation. Many another marriage has eventually been saved because the wife, or the husband, or the one who is going through this period of restlessness and upheaval has been able to be understanding and patient. It takes a great deal of courage and character to be patient and understanding under circumstances of this kind, but it often does pay off in the end.

So my advice to you is to try and exercise these very useful qualities for awhile, saying nothing—if you can manage such a check on your tongue and temper—while your husband goes his own way, and keeping your home as happy and pleasant as possible. It won't be easy, but it's your best bet.

I suggest also that you go out as much as possible yourself when your husband has walked out for the evening. If he takes off while you're doing the dishes, finish them up and go to a movie, or to see friends yourself. Occasionally, just leave the dishes in the sink, or even let them stay on the dinner table, and go somewhere. Not just anywhere. Use your head and make a definite plan for something enjoyable. And it wouldn't be a bad idea at all to stay out late enough so that your husband gets home before you and wonders what took you off so fast, and kept you out so late, that the dishes are still unwashed. It might give him a very healthy jolt to discover that you

Short Bedtime Story

By TRACY ADRIAN

If you are planning on a trip in the near future you will find this version of the short sleeper a fine travelling companion. It packs easily and takes up very little room in an overnight bag and besides that is washable, quick drying and requires no ironing. Made of nylon tricot this model is designed like one-piece pajamas and looks like a play suit. There is an elasticized back-waist and a soft tie at the front. The colors are a haze aqua, canana red and white.

Readers' Friday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Last fall I tried a recipe for canned fruit salad from your column, and am wondering why it did not keep. The instructions were to allow peaches, pears, apples, etc., to stand in sugar for 4 to 6 hours before placing in hot sterile jars. Then they were to be processed for ten minutes in a hot water bath. I followed the directions closely but when I went to use the fruit a month later found it was all spoiled. Two or three possible reasons have occurred to me. Would it be because there was no cooking of fruit or syrup beforehand? Is 10 minutes really long enough for processing, even after the boiling point has been reached? Or could I have broken the jars again after they had cooled?

I processed the fruit by placing jars in a large kettle with about enough water to come 3-4 way up the sides of jars. The water then was heated to boiling and allowed to boil for a good ten minutes—(Mrs.) G. C. S.

ANSWER: I was alarmed when I read your letter and am giving my answer to you priority over dozens of letters received ahead of it. On looking back through the file I find one sentence has been left out of the instructions—the fruit in the sugar syrup should be heated (after standing 4 to 6 hours) to boiling point before

CANNED FRUIT SALAD

Three quarts each medium-sized peaches and pears, measured before peeling and cutting, 5 oranges, 1 grapefruit, 5 cups water, 5 cups sugar, 1 bottle (8-oz. size) "narschino" cherries. Make a syrup of the water and sugar. Peel and cut up peaches and pears as for salad. Cook in syrup until peaches are barely tender. Five minutes before peaches and pears are done add oranges and grapefruit which have been peeled and cut from membrane in sections. The last minute add well-drained cherries cut in halves. Seal in sterile jars while boiling. Process ten minutes in boiling water bath. Makes 5 quarts. Note: Some experienced canners do not give this pack those last boiling water process but for safety's sake I recommend it.

NOTE: Canned cubed pineapple may be added to the mixture with the oranges and grapefruit if desired—1 20-oz. tin. When this is opened you can extend it by adding seedless green grapes halved, and sliced bananas if desired.

QUESTION: Could you tell me how these pasteurized dil pickles are made that you buy at the store? . . . why overfilling and seal. Store in dark place four weeks before using.

ANSWER: I do not know the process used for "pasteurized dil" made commercially. But pasteurization means product has been heated and held at a certain temperature to kill bacteria. I am giving you the recipe we use in our family. Did you see the recipe for Crock Dills earlier this week?

DILL PICKLES

Pick fresh 4-inch cucumbers and pack in sterile jars after scrubbing. Prick each end with silver fork. Put flower of dill in bottom and on top of jar, also garlic—1 piece at top and bottom. Pour over them: Bring to boil 1 pint vinegar, 1 cup salt, 2-4 quarts water. Just bring this to boil but do not boil. Put jars to overflowing and seal. Store in dark place four weeks before using.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BECKMAN

BRIDE'S FATHER ASKS FOUR QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

I'm the father of the bride, and I'd like to ask you several questions (and I'm glad I can ask them anonymously!) concerning my "procedure" in the wedding that is to take place in about two months.

1. The bride-to-be is my only child and most dearly loved. I'm to give her in marriage. Now not so long ago her mother and I went to a beautiful wedding, the bride the daughter of good friends of ours. Her father told me beforehand that he was going to reply to the clergyman's question—"Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?"—"Her mother and I do." He did this, and I thought it was a wonderful idea, and really he made it more wonderful by the way he said it. Is this always correct? I'd so much like to say this. To register our mutual love for our daughter and our devotion to and complete faith in her bridegroom.

2. Am I supposed to wear the type of attire the bridegroom decides on for himself and his attendants (Formal daytime attire, I'm quite sure, for this formal afternoon wedding in our church.)

3. Going up the aisle, is the bride supposed to be on my right, or my left?

4. My good wife says that I may either stand in the receiving-line or, if I prefer, I can be circulating among-the-guests host while she is receiving the guests. Which do you suggest I do?—Father-of-the-Bride.

Welcome to the column, sir. . . I'm delighted to talk over your "procedure" questions with you.

1. This comparatively recent idea of having the bride's father respond "Her mother and I do," to the clergyman's question, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" is, to my way of thinking, a mighty good one. And I'm delighted to see it growing so rapidly in popularity. It's a "natural" of a response, for it rightfully and tenderly includes both mother and father in the "giving." I've heard many a father say these lovely words with deep significance, looking lovingly at the bride's mother as the words are said. (I'm not absolutely sure that all churches permit this response, and so you should inquire of the clergyman before rehearsal.)

2. Yes, you, the bride's father, since you are to give the bride in marriage, are considered a member of the wedding party, and therefore are expected to wear the same type of attire worn by the other men in the wedding party, also you are the host of the wedding.

3. Generally the bride walks up the aisle on her father's right arm. But occasionally it is the preference of the church or of the clergyman to have the bride walk at her father's left. About this you will be advised by the clergyman at the rehearsal.

4. As your "good wife" says, you may choose whichever you wish. Personally I like to see the bride's mother as the words are said. . . making introductions, directing guests to the receiving line and seeing that everyone is happy and taken care of. . . then that's doubtless the best idea for you.

Non-Professional Workers Backed by Hospital Union Seek Higher Wage Scale

GIRL WINS HOUSE
CAN'T CLAIM IT

Brenda MacLeod, eight, won a $20,000 dream house in a raffle at Regina, Sask., but as a minor, she cannot claim title. The ticket was bought for her by her grandmother, Mrs. B. Sauer, with whom she has been living. Three lawyers are engaged in determining who is Brenda's legal guardian.

Mrs. Irene MacLeod, who had not seen her child for six years, was found in Toronto and said she would take a plane to Regina to establish Brenda's claim to the house. The home may be sold and the money put into a trust for the little girl.

Techniques Lay Bare Hidden Secrets of Body

GENEVA (AP)—A British scientist today reported the development of an atomic-age device showing the size and shape of a thyroid gland or a brain tumor, under certain conditions, on a television screen.

Other scientists at the atom-for-peace conference described other revolutionary techniques laying bare the hidden secrets of the human body to medical science at a rate never experienced before in history.

The television technique was reported by Dr. W. V. Mayneord of the Royal Cancer Hospital, London.

He said it was possible to watch the effects of radiation treatment in changing the size and shape of the thyroid gland either by external irradiation or by radiation from radioactive iodine in the thyroid itself.

ALSO IN BRAIN STUDY
"We have been able to find by this technique secondary tumors not revealed by normal radiographic methods."

He said similar techniques may be applied to the study of brain tumors. This is done by adding radioactive iodine to the dyes used normally used as stains in brain surgery.

A Soviet scientist, M. N. Fataeva, reported the Russians use radioactive sodium and phosphorus in studying heart diseases. They found a definite relation between the rate of blood flow and some form of heart disease, which helps in diagnosing the exact type.

Two American doctors, W. F. Bale and L. L. Spurr of the University of Rochester, told the conference of a new kind of "guided missile" against cancer.

SEVERE DIVORCE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Antenor J. Uno, Belleville in Ontario, has filed suit for divorce from Maria Cristina de Bourbon—his wife for 21 years—on grounds of abandonment, judge Alberto Garza said Tuesday. Their daughter, a 10-year-old girl, filed in childhood last year.

TORONTO (CP)—A union which says it is in a position to paralyze the operation of seven major hospitals in Ontario said Thursday it will not back down in demands for improvements in the wage scales of its members.

Al Hearn, Canadian chief of the Building Service Employees Union (AFL-TCU), said hospitals and sanatoria are paying "sub-standard" wages to their non-professional workers and his union will use every weapon it has to force improved standards.

He said the union's get-tough policy has led to deadlock in negotiations at three Toronto hospitals and one in Windsor and one in St. Thomas. Negotiations in two other Toronto hospitals are proceeding. If necessary, he said, the union, for the first time in its history in Canada, will call a strike of its employees in the hospitals concerned.

UNION MAKEUP

Union membership includes orderlies, nursing and ward aides, cleaners, elevator operators, laundry workers, kitchen assistants, food handlers and maintenance employees.

"The union is making an all-out stand this year for the right to bargain on the same points and in the same manner as any other industry," Mr. Hearn said. "Unless the hospitals are prepared to make reasonable concessions, every avenue of collective bargaining, including the strike weapon, may have to be brought into force."

HEARINGS IN SEPTEMBER

Contracts with the two hospitals, covering 750 employees, expired last December. Hearings before a three-man conciliation board are scheduled to open Sept. 7. Seven days after completion of a report by this board the union will be in a legal position to call a strike, leaving the two hospitals without food or upkeep services.

Conciliation boards have also been established to attempt settlement of contract disputes at Toronto Western Hospital, Hotel-Dieu Hospital, Windsor, and the St. Thomas General Hospital.

Negotiations are in progress at the new Mount Sinai Hospital and Weston Sanatorium. The St. Thomas board will sit Aug. 22 and Windsor Aug. 24.

Mr. Hearn said wages for hospital employees represented by the union range from $27.50 to $55 for a 44-hour week. He said the union's basic demands are for a $15 monthly wage boost, a 40-hour week and a modified form of the Rand formula for union security.

30 Summer Cottages Will Be Moved

PORT BURWELL, Ont. (CP)—Advancing waters slowly are threatening to flood an entire section of this village of summer cottages on Lake Erie, 32 miles south east of London.

Village clerk H. E. Brieve said one street has been cut off 2 1/2 blocks from the heart of the village and about 30 cottages will have to be moved within the next two years.

He said recent rains have speeded erosion of the waterfront. "She's moving back fast."

Police Reports Are Exaggerated

WINDSOR (CP)—Police Inspector James Burt said Thursday police reports of recent teenage disturbances in the city were "exaggerated."

He said he had conducted a thorough investigation of the reports.

He criticized a police constable who reported that last Tuesday 50 teenagers were ready to fight over a 14-year-old girl.

He said his investigation showed there were "only a lot of" youths milling around at the time, but there was no indication that a fight would develop and there "was no riot."

Earlier Thursday, residents of the area where the disturbances were reported to have occurred, denied the reports and accused the police of "interfering."

Six prominent men, paddling canoes along a 450-mile, old fur-trading route on the Churchill river in Northern Saskatchewan, pull into Stanley, a fur-trading post on the Churchill river on their way to The Pas, Man. The men started their journey at Ile a la Crosse, Sask., 16 days before. Included in the group are: Dennis M. Coolican, president of the Canadian Note Co.;

A. H. J. Lovink, Netherlands ambassador to Canada; Major-General N. E. Rodgers, general officer commanding army's prairie command; Sigurd F. Olsen of Ely, Minn., president of U.S. National Parks Association; Dr. O. M. Solandt of Ottawa, chairman of the defence research board; and Eric W. Morse, national director of Canadian Clubs. ## Belgium's First Experimental A-Station Nearing Completion

By RONALD FRASER

MOL, Belgium (Reuters)—Belgium's first experimental atomic station now is nearing completion on ground formerly belonging to the Belgian royal family near here.

The station marks the first step in the country's nuclear energy program which, despite the fact that Belgium possesses one of the world's largest sources of uranium in the Belgian Congo, has not advanced far in the last 10 years. The delay in getting the program going has been partly due to a secret wartime agreement under which Belgium supplied the Congo's total output of uranium ore to a joint Anglo-American purchasing agency.

This agreement recently was replaced by a new 10-year agreement with the United States under which Belgium will receive certain vital aid and information from the United States in part return for Congo uranium supplies so that she can start her own nuclear energy program devoted to peaceful purposes.

The experimental station should be in operation next year. The station will not produce electric power but will serve as a test-bed for experiments, a training bench for scientists and to study construction methods for future reactors.

The station spreads over more than 450 acres of land bought from the royal estate. The dozens of laboratories which surround the reactor itself are divided into "hot" and "cold" wings. In the hot wing, studies of contaminated and radioactive materials will be carried out, while the cold wing will do research work on "normal" materials.

A modern village is being built nearby to house the scientists and engineers who will man the reactor.

The Mol station is only a prelude to a larger program for the commercial production of electricity by "power" reactors. Professor L. de Heelm, director-general of Belgium's nuclear energy study centre, said recently that he believed that the first of these power reactors would be in operation by 1949 or 1950.

The first type would probably have a power of about 150,000 kilowatts and be built and run by private industries, he explained. The interview was with the Brussels newspaper Le Soir.

The government view, as stressed by Pierre Ryckmans, general commissioner for nuclear energy, is that Belgium will study the results obtained from various types of power reactors now being built in the United States and Britain before deciding which is the most suitable for this country's needs.

Under the new agreement, the United States and Britain can buy up to 90 per cent of the Belgian Congo's uranium ore production for the next two years and 75 per cent for the following two years. In return, Belgium has the right to all technical "classified" information needed to build and run various types of reactors here and in the Congo.

The different types include reactors using heterogeneous thermic neutrons, or any other reactors which private American industries have the right to build or which the United States Atomic Energy Commission considers sufficiently developed to have a commercial or industrial use.

In return for Belgium's contribution to Western defence by her wartime and current uranium supplies, the United States also has undertaken to sell her as much enriched uranium (isotope U-235) as she can meet Belgium's needs for its nuclear energy program, as well as technical information required for that purpose.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission also will supply classified information about types of reactors used in submarines, boats and aircraft when it considers that these could be used for peaceful purposes.

Girl Stowaway on Can. Ship Returning to Hawaii by Plane

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's back to Hawaii for Joycelyn Joan Pilapil, 16, probably the only girl who ever made the trip here in a Canadian destroyer.

Pleading guilty Wednesday to a charge of juvenile delinquency, she was given five years' probation and orders to go back to her parents in Hilo.

The United States government will fly Joycelyn to Hawaii in a navy transport today or Saturday, so it won't cost her parents anything. Her trip here on the destroyer Athabaskan—on which she admitted stowing away—probably won't cost anything, either.

The commanding officer was happy enough just to see her leave the ship, said the prosecutor's office.

Quick Thinking

PROSPECT HILL, Ont. (CP)—A quick-thinking neighbor jumped on a flaming tractor and drove it clear of buildings Thursday when it caught fire while being refueled. William Eagan was the hero.

Prekup filled the gas tank of Prekup's tractor when it burst into flames. Eagan's action is believed to have prevented explosion of a gasoline storage tank. Prospect Hill is 13 miles north of London.

Jump Into Lake After Cruiser Set on Fire

JACKSON'S POINT (CP)—A couple leaped into Lake Simcoe from their cabin cruiser Thursday night after the craft was rocked by an explosion which set it afire.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Draper of Sutton West were rescued by Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Morgan who saw the explosion while watching from the boathouse.

Mrs. Draper suffered second-degree burns to the arms and her husband suffered shock. Cause of the blast was not known.

KILLED BY BOMB

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (CP)—A British officer and a private were killed and eight soldiers wounded in a bombing accident, the army announced here today.

The army said an RCAF plane attacking terrorist hideouts released a bomb prematurely and it exploded among a group of soldiers ordered to carry out a follow-up operation.

Legal Guardian For Child Winner Being Arranged

REGINA (CP)—The mother of an eight-year-old girl who won a "dream house" in a raffle here last week arrived in Regina Thursday as lawyers attempted to name a legal guardian for the child.

Brenda MacLeod won the $20,000, six-year-old house while spending a holiday with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. B. Sauer. Brenda, too young to hold title to real estate, told officials her mother was living in Toronto. Thursday Mrs. Irene MacLeod arrived on a plane after identifying herself Wednesday to Toronto police who had been searching for her two days.

Lawyer F. Alexander said Mrs. MacLeod intends to sign the deed for the house on Brenda's behalf.

NAMES LAWYER

Brenda's father—a sheetmetal worker at Assiniboia, Sask.—arrived in town Wednesday and named lawyer Stan Norman to handle his daughter's interests.

Mr. Norman said the guardianship likely would go to Mrs. Edith MacLeod of Woodrow, Sask., Brenda's paternal grandmother, who has cared for the girl since infancy.

However, Mr. Alexander said Thursday.

"The mother is always the guardian of the child in her tender years. It is a matter of law that has been in force as long as there has been law in the British Empire."

Polish Scouts Will Be Unable To See Jamboree

MONTREAL (CP)—Jackson Dadds, deputy chief scout for Canada, said in a statement Thursday that by decision of the International Scout Conference there is no recognition of national scout associations in exile.

It is for this reason that groups in Canada known as Polish scouts in exile will be unable to attend the world scout jamboree Aug. 20-28 at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

At the same time, Mr. Dadds made it clear that Polish or other nationals are welcomed into recognized associations without losing cultural or other distinctive activities.

In Toronto last week Andrew Gukowski, deputy Ontario commissioner for the Polish scouts in exile, said the group will seek to join with Canadians without losing their identity as Poles and that there is no question of disloyalty to Canada.

Mr. Dadds' statement said that the 1947 International Scout Conference at Rosny, near Paris, gave careful consideration to the situation of scouts among displaced persons living temporarily in Germany and Austria.

"It was resolved that the Boy Scouts International Bureau should create a special division which would look after the interests of these boys who were in a state of transition. Troops were accordingly organized and recognized from 1948 to 1951.

"By the latter date most of the boys had left Europe and taken up permanent residence in other countries and the division was terminated."

The Boy Scouts International Conference and its executive office, the Boy Scouts International Bureau—does not recognize any scout association in Poland or in any other Communist country in any part of the world."

Acadians Launch Folklore Festival At Square Dance

MONCTON (CP)—Acadia planned a starry foot Thursday night and whirled in dance with Acadians and Scot whose ancestors worked the soil of Nova Scotia almost side by side 300 years ago.

English and French whose mother countries clashed long ago in bloody empire-building struggles and Irish whose fathers came to help develop a new land, joined in this city's festival of folklore.

The song-and-dance event that packed the punch of Louisiana bayou life played by a band from Pond Breux, La., the lilt of pioneer square dances, the accents of "Quebecois folk songs," and skirl of bagpipes, was one of a half-dozen demonstrations marking the bicentennial of the Acadian expulsion.

Religious services, rallies, speeches and a parade, watched by thousands in a torrential downpour inaugurated the festival that was to be a string of original Acadian villages along the St. John's river.

James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto chanted an inaugural pontifical mass before 5,000.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A delegation of prominent Ontario officials, headed by Premier Frost, will be guests of Michigan State University at the farm mechanization centennial celebration Aug. 17.

Japanese Govt. to Restrict Low-Priced Textile Exports, Seeks U.S., Can. Good Will

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's most influential economic journal, the Nihon Keizai Shimbun, says the Japanese government will take strict measures to prevent indiscriminate sales of Japanese cotton goods to the United States and Canada.

The paper says the government wants to meet protests of U.S. and Canadian cotton manufacturers against recent increases in imports of Japanese cotton goods into the two countries, and to forestall any unfavorable legislation against Japanese imports.

The Japanese government, the paper adds, is concerned over the protests in view of Japan's admission into the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and the possible abuse of favorable treatment to be accorded Japanese imports by GATT countries.

Nihon Keizai says exports of gingham will be halted immediately, until a stricter export standard is instituted.

U.S. cotton-goods interests have protested against "dollar blouses" from Japan. In Canada the National Garment Manufacturers Association said Monday in Toronto "low-cost Japanese textiles" had dealt a "multi-million-dollar blow to the Canadian industry."

Woman Robbed Of $2,600 By Lone Bandit

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Sylvia Alter told police she was robbed of more than $2,600 Thursday night by a man who threatened to shoot her through the head if she tried to signal for help.

Mrs. Alter said she left her shop after working late, climbed into her car and was about to pull away when the man, lurking in the back seat, spoke to her.

"I am so scared I didn't know if he was going to hit me or choke me or what," she told police.

He robbed her of $2,600 and jewelry and drove away in her car. Mrs. Alter said the man appeared familiar with her habit of going to the hairdresser every Thursday and then returning to her shop to work late.

"Just take your regular route," the man said when she entered the car.

Mrs. Alter said she considered hitting another car to attract attention but the man warned her he would shoot her through the head if she tried to signal for help.

After the man ordered her from the car and drove away, she ran into a nearby house and called police.

Polio in Canada Shows Decrease From Other Years

OTTAWA (CP)—The incidence of polio in Canada so far this year dropped to less than one-third of the average rate for the 1950-54 period.

The health department announced Thursday that 277 cases of polio were reported to Aug. 6, compared with the five-year average of 848 to that date.

There were 148 cases of paralytic polio compared with an average of 405 for the five years.

Polio caused nine deaths to Aug. 6, compared with 39 to the corresponding date last year. No death occurred during the two weeks ended Aug. 6.

Health officials said that it was too early to say whether the drop in polio was related to the Salk vaccination program.

Cow Drags Boy Through Field, Fatally Injured

BATH, N.Y. (AP)—A six-year-old boy was injured fatally Thursday night when he got his hand twisted in a cow's tail and was dragged through a barn and a briar patch.

Police said the boy, Tommy Crane, had gone to a neighboring farm for milk. As the farmer moved a cow from a stanchion the boy grabbed the cow's tail to keep it from switching, police said. His hand became entangled in the long hair at the end of the tail.

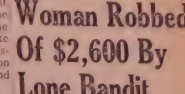

The animal, galled out of the barn into a field, killed the boy, killing the fish. Hatchery attendants captured the intruder.

STOCK SKUNK

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—A skunk was responsible for the loss of a number of fledgling fish at a Red river fish hatchery. The skunk crawled into one of the upright, 24-inch pipes placed over inflow valves to fish ponds. It got stuck and in its struggles turned the valve wheel enough to shut off water, killing the fish. Hatchery attendants captured the intruder.

TO OPEN TOMB TO PROVE HIS STORY

Calvin Hoffman, New York drama critic, studies the inscription on the tomb of Sir Thomas Walsingham at Chislehurst, Eng., which he has obtained permission to open and examine. Hoffman has spent 19 years collecting evidence that proves, he says, that Shakespeare is the author of the plays attributed to William Shakespeare. He is examining the tomb of Walsingham, who was a patron of Marlowe, in the belief that Marlowe's original manuscripts were buried with Walsingham. (Central Press Canadian).

Like the elephant on which James Marshall Showers, 27, is riding, police officers don't forget. As a result, Showers, who had assumed the name of Jimmy Mitchell, was taken in New York as a fugitive shortly after he had appeared on a TV show. For weeks he had been appearing on TV as an elephant boy. He was sought for transportation of a stolen car. (Central Press Canadian).

Giant Exercise By Canadian Army Ended

By DAVE MCINTOSH

Canadian Press Staff Writer
CAMP GAGERTOWN, N. B. (CP)—The Canadian Army's biggest peacetime manoeuvres in history ended today as they began—in the rain.

Generally, the 1st Infantry Division's exercise Rising Star was considered a success.

But some officers said they felt it could have been made a lot more realistic with a bigger "enemy" force.

The role of the enemy was taken by only one battalion, the 2nd Black Watch, ranged against it.

As a result, some said, non-veterans in the big force had no real sense of what an enemy could do.

BLAME THE UMPES
The umpiring also fell down at times so that elements of the division were able to make advances that would not occur in actual warfare.

This was particularly true Thursday when the division staged a breakthrough. The umpires had to call a temporary cease-fire to sort out the situation and pull back the attackers who had stormed ahead too far.

The 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, travelled so fast, in fact, that it lost the umpire moving with it and nearly decimated a theoretical force nine times its size.

First phase of the breakout, gained after an initial repulse on Knob hill, was accomplished by the 1st Black Watch, 1st Royal Canadian Regiment and 1st Royal 22nd.

SECOND PHASE
The second phase, involving a left wheel, bridging of a river and advance from bridgehead, was carried out by the 2nd and 3rd Canadian Guards, 3rd Royal 22nd and the Royal Canadian Engineers.

The bridging was done at night, over a river swollen by a day's torrential rain.

The infantry spent the day and night slogging through sodden fields or crouching in weapon pits half-filled with water.

The exercise began in similar weather last Sunday. It cost one man's life when a Bren-gun carrier slipped off a muddy road at night and tipped over in the ditch.

The general plan was a divisional advance on a five-mile front to defensive positions, a general withdrawal under enemy pressure, prodding attacks and then a counter-attack. The plan was followed fairly closely with only minor hitches.

Housing Shortage Catches Up With Boom Town Residents

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LYNN LAKE, MAN. (CP)—George and Geneva McNeil are caught in a housing shortage. Until their new home is finished, the couple, with their two children, must live in two rooms in the rear of a house in Lynn Lake, Manitoba's new boom town 500 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

"We have to put up with this because it's all we can get in town," said George. "But we're not the only ones."

The McNeils pay $25 a month for the rooms. Their electric stove and oil heater take up a good part of the kitchen-living room and the bedroom is bursting with furniture and personal belongings.

MAIL-ORDER CLOTHING

Twenty-year-old Geneva says the cost of food is higher in Lynn Lake stores but not excessively so. Their monthly grocery bill runs to about $100. They pay $12 a month for electricity and $5 for water and garbage disposal. Fuel oil costs 27 cents a gallon.

Because of the small selection in the local stores Geneva usually buys clothing by mail order for her children, Gwendolyn, 2, and Gary, six months.

George is one of 450 car owners in Lynn Lake. Despite the fact there is only 20 miles of pavement on which to drive, they feel their car is a necessity.

When George moved to Lynn Lake last year he decided to ship the car as well.

"It would just be sitting there depreciating and I thought I might as well get some use out of it here," he said.

It cost him $79.50 to ship the car in by rail. Two grades of gasoline are available in the town, at 51 and 54 cents a gallon.

BUILDING OWN HOUSE

George uses the car to drive to work at the Sherritt Gordon nickel mine. At night he collects his friends who are helping him build a new two-bedroom house.

He figures the house will eventually cost him $4,000. They hope to move into it by September.

"We'll just have the roof and four walls up but it will be better than what we are living in now," he said.

As a diamond driller, 28-year-old George is a member of the Base Metal Workers Union, local 292 (AFL-ILC). He is paid the basic wage of $1.72 an hour and works a 48-hour week.

Sherritt Gordon pays a 60-cent bonus to the two-man drilling team for every foot of ore mined. A team usually averages 50 feet a day which works out to a bonus of $15 each. From the $15 bonus is deducted the hourly wage plus the cost of the drilling bit.

Other deductions are $1.57 monthly union dues, hospitalization, income tax and unemployment insurance, leaving a take-home pay of approximately $300 a month.

"If it wasn't for all those deductions we'd be making a good living," laughed George.

MANY BACHELORS

George's friend, 19-year-old Hugh Macdonald, a skip operator, is one of many young bachelors living in the company bunkhouses.

He pays $60 a month for room and board plus $4 a month for laundry. He supplies his own bedding.

The men are assigned two to a room, furnished with just the bare necessities.

"Anything extra, you buy yourself," said Hugh.

The bunkhouse residents are under no restrictions. The men play cards, drink beer at home or in the hotel beer parlor, take in a show, swim and fish in the summer, curl and skate in the winter. There's usually a dance every Saturday night.

But there's a girl shortage in Lynn Lake.

"There's not many young girls here," said Hugh. "And the older ones are either engaged or married."

Three Stake Out Top Claims On Tam O'Shanter Golf Gold

CHICAGO (AP)—The rush to stake out claims on Tam O'Shanter's golf gold had reached Yukon proportions today as 27 pros, supported by only four strokes, tried to keep to the front in the "World" money stampede.

Three comparative youngsters led the "shakes" to roll into the first round last Thursday in an opening bombardment of par 72.

Bob Rosburg, 28, who grips a club like a baseball bat and swings for home runs; Mike Krak, 27, Czechoslovakian-born novice on the PGA tour circuit; and Gene Littler, 25, fourth leading money winner—each ripped a 66 from Tam's lush 6,900-yard course to share the first round lead.

But there were others still strongly on the scene of a treasure that goes to the 72-hole winner—$50,000 in cash, $55,000 for 55 holes, $1,000 in caddy fees, and an option on 50 more exhibitions at $1,000 each.

One stroke away at 67, were two seasoned cash seekers, Fred Hawkins and Bo Winger.

At 68 were Antonio Cerda of Buenos Aires; Henry Ransom, and a California junior crown.

Montreal Kids Top Junior Tennis Tourney

OTTAWA, (CP)—A couple of up-and-coming Montrealers, Willy Chapman and Eleanor Dodge—top the national group at the Canadian junior tennis championships which open here today.

A record 179 players from Canada, the United States and Trinidad are entered in the 12 open and eight close events of the nine-day tourney which begins Thursday at this army summer camp 14 miles west of Ottawa. The other three stages were fired Wednesday despite a rain so heavy it hampered marking of targets at times and twice delayed the shoot.

WON ARMY MEDAL

Second Lieut. Edson L. Warner, Lennoxville, Que., trucker who shoots with the Sherbrooke, Que., militia regiment, shot 162 to win the army Queen's medal.

Concurrent with the Queen's medal match, the Sir Arthur Curry Trophy competition, also won by Gregory, highest score, also won the Curry Trophy. In second place was Lieut. T. F. Baines whose home is in Toronto but who shoots with the navy's Atlantic command team. He also scored 165 but with poorer placing of shots.

It was Gregory's second Queen's medal. He won the army medal as a militia unit member at the Victoria Victory day night.

The Westdale placed first "A" and "C" teams placed third and fourth, respectively, in the other match for four-man cadet teams today to win the General Officer Challenge Cup.

The A team shot 196 of a possible 200 points, the "C" fired 188.

The central command rifle coaching course team from Camp Borden, Ont., placed second with 189.

Members of the Camp Borden team: Lieut. A. Naylor, Concord, Ont.; Sgt. C. E. Beaudette, Cornwall; Cadet R. Thibadeau, Lindsay; Sgt. E. Simpson, Petawawa, Ont.

Queen's Medal Prize Winners Named At Dominion Rifle Association Meet

By ROY LABERGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—Queen's medal prize winners were named Thursday on the fourth day of the week-long Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's 73rd annual prize meet.

And the field narrowed in competition for the coveted Governor-General's medal, the DCRA's top award for past or present members of Canada's armed services.

Final stage of the colorful Queen's medal match—postponed by rain Wednesday—was shot Thursday at this army summer camp 14 miles west of Ottawa. The other three stages were fired Wednesday despite a rain so heavy it hampered marking of targets at times and twice delayed the shoot.

170 Natators Enter Canadian Swim-Dive Meet

MONTREAL, (CP)—More than 170 swimmers from the United States and Canada, including the American team that holds a world women's medley relay record, have entered the Canadian swimming and diving championships beginning here next Thursday.

The record-holding quartet—representing the Walter Reed Hospital Swimming Club in Washington, D.C.—include Shelley Mann, Mary Lou Sears, Doug Gray and Wanda Lee Turner.

All were competing in the U.S. women's nationals at Philadelphia, Thursday night, Miss Gray finished second to Carolyn Green of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who won the 1,500-metre free style championship for the fourth straight time.

CANADIAN ENTRANTS

In the three-day championships at McGill University's Memorial pool, Canada's best bet is Helen Stewart of Vancouver and Lenora Fisher of Ocean Falls, B.C. Both won gold medals for Canada at the recent Pan-American games in Mexico City.

The men's entry list includes George Park of Hamilton, Canada's leading free style swimmer and holder of the Canadian 100-yard sprint, which he covered in 51.5.

Park, however, will face top competition from a couple of American boys, Ted Potter of Cincinnati, who has done the 100-yard event in 51.0 and Dick Hartley of Detroit, who sprinted the distance in 51.2.

Balding Tops Pros With 65 Quinte's Belazs Shoots 82

By CLYDE BATTEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HAMILTON, (CP)—Experts here are wondering if Al Balding's six-year-old record of 65 will hold up against the consistent play of tournament-hardened veterans in the later rounds of the 44th Canadian Professional Golfers Association tournament here today.

Balding, Toronto Credit Valley pro, Thursday shattered the tough, par-70 6,640-yard Ancaster Golf Club course to lead 73 contenders into the second and third rounds today of the 54-hole medal play tournament.

He rates as odds-on favorite to pick up the winner's share of the $5,000 prize money if he can sustain his opening round play.

Behind Balding are Bill Kerr of Montreal, Beaconsfield, a former CPGA winner, and Murray Tucker, Toronto Rosedale, 1955 Millar Trophy winner, tied for second place with 67.

BELOW PAR

Other sub-par scores were carded by Hal Butler, Oshawa, and Lou Cumming, Toronto Golf Club. Butler put together two pars for a 68 and Cumming had 37-32-69.

Balding's record—one stroke more than the course record set by Tom Armour in 1930 with a 64—was highlighted by six birdies. Only one over-par hole, the 11th, marred his par record.

Tucker also had six birdies but had three over-par holes and Kerr scored five birdies and two over-par holes.

Batchelor's Twin Three-Run Homers Spark Orfuns' 11-2 Win Over 'Cats'

Bill Spafford's Orfuns won their third straight playoff victory in a row at the CNRAA Park last night defeating Bob Temple's Bobcats 11-2 in the first of the league championship semi-final series. The Point Anne-Frankford game was postponed due to wet grounds and will be played tonight.

Bobby Hunter took playoff victory No. 2 in his stride, holding the Bobcats to seven hits while his mates pounded out nine off a pair of Bobcat hurlers, two of them home runs by Johnny Batchelor. Hunter struck out five, walked four and helped his mates with a pair of singles.

Vic Allen of no-hit-but-loss was started on the mound for the Cats but gave way to Junior Day in the fourth after being rebuffed for three innings. The pair issued twelve walks between them striking out three.

The Orfuns following their custom got their runs in explosive collections. They scored three each in the first, fourth and fifth adding a brace for good measure in the sixth.

Meanwhile the Bobcats were held scoreless until the sixth inning when they got a hit off Hunter to this point. Jack Hunter struck out and Lockyer laced the second hit of Hunter, a single, to centre field. Bone hoisted a high fly after Lockyer reached second on a wild heave. He went to third after the catch and galloped home on another wild pitch.

Singles by Adams, Duesbury and Empey in the seventh put the Orfuns on balls accounted for the Bobcat run.

Batchelor's twin three-run homers after Wardhaugh was tossed out in the first, then grooved one for Johnny Batchelor who blasted out his first four-sacker to clean the sacks. Carr drew the third walk, but Allan disposed of Locke and Jones.

The fourth innings was practically a repetition of the first. Wardhaugh and Barclay reached first via the walk route and Hull popped to the Bobcat shortstop. Mr. Batchelor again lambasted the four-bagger good for three runs and six RBIs. Carr again walked and again Allan disposed of Jones and Locke.

The Orfuns took kindly to Junior Day's shots in the next innings scoring twice off singles by Hunter, Wardhaugh and Barclay. Day settled down and held the Orfuns to one hit and no runs over the rest of the route.

Batchelor with his twin homers and single was the hit-shot for the Orfuns with Hunter and Barclay contributing two singles each. Wardhaugh and Scoules had singles. Lockyer with a pair of ones led the Cats at the plate with Duesbury, Woods, Bone, Wardhaugh and Empey getting singles.

The teams:

Orfuns—Wardhaugh, Barclay, Hull, Batchelor, Russell, Carr, Locke, Jones, Soules, Beinap and Hunter.

Bobcats—Duesbury, Adams, Woods, Hunter, Lockyer, Bone, Creegan, Wardhaugh, Empey, Temple, Dracup, Day, Allan.

The score:

Orfuns 000 001 100—2 7 0

Orfuns 300 302 00x—11 9 0

Umpires—Carson (plate), Ethier

Thirty-Five Jocks Face Suspension If Plans for Strike Not Dropped

PORT ERIE (CP)—Thirty-five jockeys at Port Erie race track today were faced with an indefinite suspension if they do not drop plans to strike over the suspension of a fellow rider.

A strike would be the first in Ontario turf history and a wholesale suspension could paralyze racing in the province. Only 64 men are licensed to ride in Ontario and more than half of them are here.

The Ontario Racing Commission ordered the suspensions for 7 p.m. EDT tonight, unless the jockeys agree to accept mounts for Saturday's card, the last of the current Port Erie meet.

The riders have threatened to strike Saturday if jockey W. Bovine, set down for what the track stewards called interference in a race Aug. 4, is not reinstated. They claim there was no cause for disciplinary action.

TWO SUSPENSIONS

The threatened walkout already has brought two suspensions. They came Thursday night when two jockeys, Roy Otis and Adelaide Boucher, failed to turn up at the meeting between the commission and the riders. The ORC said Otis and Boucher were suspended indefinitely as of Aug. 13.

Magistrate S. Tupper Bigelow, chairman of the commission said the suspensions would be based on the jockeys' refusal to abide by a ruling of the stewards—which they agreed to when granted licences. He added that Bovine is "satisfied" to serve his suspension.

Bovine was set down for 10 days developments here.

Thirty-Five Jocks Face Suspension If Plans for Strike Not Dropped

—Aug. 10-20 for the commission said, failed to maintain a straight course aboard Lady Lady in an Aug. 4 race here. Jockey George Walker, who made the original claim of foul against Bovine, was one of the riders opposing the suspension as a member of the Jockeys' Guild.

Actually, suspension of Bovine would mean only one extra day's ban on Ontario tracks. Thursday he started a 10-day suspension imposed at Detroit's Hazel Park following disqualification of his mount Sarnap.

The Port Erie suspension was made to run concurrently with the Detroit ruling but involved one more day because U.S. racing suspensions are tabulated by the calendar and the ORC goes by racing days.

Eric Barber, president of the Jockey's Benefit Association said magistrate Bigelow had informed jockeys that advertisements would be placed in publications throughout North America inviting riders to the Ontario circuit as replacements for those suspended.

Barber also said the ORC had said the incoming jockeys would be assured of at least $1,000 a week for riding. Barber added that suspended jockeys would not be reinstated before the end of 1955—if then.

Racing swings to Long Branch racetrack, near Toronto, Monday but it is not known if the cards will be run off. It depends on developments here.

Dinghies Top Yacht Meet

TORONTO, (CP)—Dinghies of the host Royal Canadian Yacht Club dominated racing here Thursday, the second day of the Canadian Dinghy Association's annual regatta.

In the premier 14-foot class, Fred Buller of the RCYC won the morning race over a five mile course, but was unable to compete in the afternoon after spraining an ankle. Bruce Kirby of Britannia Yacht Club, Ottawa, took the afternoon event.

Almost perfect sailing weather saw 38 14-footers, 14 12-footers and three English-designed 18-foot jolly boats compete.

Pfeiffer—Willard Schmidt, Cardinals, allowed just one hit, Johnny Logan's leadoff single, in the eighth and ninth innings in the rightcap as the Cards bested the Braves in twin bill, 7-1 and 7-0.

Hitting—Jim Rivera, White Sox, drove home five runs with a triple and a double in 14-1 pasting of Athletics.

SELECTS HOAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harry Hoadman, captain of the Australian Davis Cup team, caused a mild surprise Thursday by selecting Lew Hoad to meet Fausto Gardini of Italy Saturday in the opening match of the inter-zone finals.

Ken Rosewall will play the second match against Nicola Pietrangeli of the Italians. Hoad sat out matches in New York and Canada and was reported at odds with Hoadman.

HEAVY RAIN ENDS ONTARIO DROUGHT—IN PLACES

Southern Ontario has been little short of a swimming in six-foot puddles on the streets. This drought bowl for the past few months, but half a day of rain changed the picture in many places. A few miles north, farming areas received little rain. (Central Press Canadian).

Rawdon

RAWDON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butterworth, accompanied by their son and his family, of Beaverton, spent some time last week at Mount Pleasant. They visited the church cemetery and her old home on Pump street and called on a few of the old friends which included a short stay at Brinkworth with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hagerman entertained last week. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parker and Lyle, of Elmsdale. Mr. Marvin Sine, Milton, Ontario, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sine, Harold Ontario. While at home, he entertained a friend from Bermuda, and friends from Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Dracup and Mrs. Walter Dracup recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foster, Moira.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Langstaff and family, Lynden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sargenson and Mrs. James Simpson, Hamilton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Grills.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Mrs. Paul Sharp attended the Yards re-union picnic dinner at Tweed park.

Mrs. Allan Simpson Reg. N., has been on holidays from Campbellford hospital for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brooks recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and family, Norwood. In the "July Countrywoman," the women in the various countries are urged to get to know one another better. They stress being friendly and not let any members of any institute feel a stranger.

Each Countrywoman has a special part to play and Mrs. Fairfax says, "Each of us as individuals should work for the common good of all and not think only of ourselves and the country in which we live, but seek to understand other peoples' problems and points of view. The International Conference of Rural Women's Organizations pointed out at the Vienna Conference in 1930 the value of rural groups."

WORKING TOGETHER

One speaker said in part, "All through the world's history whenever the human race has practised making new stretches of waste land habitable, piercing through the jungles, cutting down forests, putting barren moors and wild hillsides into cultivation there you find the wives and daughters working side by side with their menfolk, laying the foundations of homes and amidst all kinds of hardships and personal inconveniences, these women help to provide food and clothes for their families. They hope that their children will grow up well and strong and get a fair start on life's journey."

Now, these women have new ideas, a new outlook on life and gradually they are becoming full citizens of the countries in which they live. These women now find that their opinions have acquired a new value to the members of their legislatures.

Twenty-five years ago when the group met at Vienna no one at that gathering dared to hope that this rural women's group would become a mighty factor.

Mrs. Lang of Canada says, "History has proved that the time was ripe in 1930 for the development of the A. C. W. W. The coming years will see an ever wider vision and through this rural organization the women of the world will steadily work together for a greater material and spiritual well-being."

Mrs. Keates Young, of the United States, stressed that "We must have faith in ourselves as a rural group and we must make the thoughts we think, the words we speak, and the acts we do, an influence for good in our homes and among our fellowmen."

RAWDON — Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hawkins and Patsy, Hamilton,

Mrs. W. H. Williams, Trenton, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Williams.

Miss Judy White returned to her home at Eldorado, after a two weeks' holiday with her grandparents at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan and all of their family enjoyed a delightful picnic at Tweed park. The group included OPP Allan Fisher and Mrs. Fisher and children, Oakville; Miss Bernice Ryan, Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Post and Paul, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ryan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rivers and family of Tweed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie O'Neill have returned to Toronto after a holiday with Rawdon relatives.

Mrs. Thomas Andrews visited her sisters at L'Amable, and Mrs. Clarence Reid at Ivanhoe, during her holiday in Rawdon.

Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs. Marguerite McMullen and Mr. Lorne White were recent guests of Mr.

Russia Will Cut Armed Forces To Ease Tension

640,000 Men Will Be Cut Off December 15th

Trade Minister Will Use Claymore To Sever Ribbon

By DON HOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MULGRAVE, N.S. (CP)—Trade Minister Howe uses a centuries-old claymore to sever a tangle of ribbon today, opening the $23,000,000 Canso causeway and ending Cape Breton's history-long isolation from the Canadian mainland.

Pipes are due to skirt as a hard army piper leads the march over the "Road to the Isles" which Premier Angus L. Macdonald predicted he would head before his sudden death last year.

There will be no one in his place. The piper leads the procession, followed by dignitaries and many of the 35,000 spectators expected to attend.

Mr. Howe, wielding a two-edged broadsword said to have been used by a supporter of Bonnie Prince Charlie at the battle of Culloden in 1746 will declare the mile-long ribbon ceremony as he cuts the blue Nova Scotia tartan ribbon.

Actually, clay has used the causeway since fire destroyed one of the straight-crossing ferries and a second was damaged in an accident several weeks ago.

Among those marching across the S-shaped band of rocks will be Transport Minister Marler, President Donald Gordale, the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Howe and Mrs. Macdonald.

The ceremony writes into one of the greatest North American engineering projects.

Deep in the waters of the strait separating the Gulf of St. Lawrence from the Atlantic, 90-ton boulders form an 800-foot wide foundation for the bridge through the sea.

It tapers to a width of 90 feet at the top.

Across it goes a 24-foot highway, a six-foot side-walk and a single track railway. On the Cape Breton side is a swing bridge to allow ships access to the Gulf and Atlantic through a 1,870-foot long canal.

Reforms Minister Much Improved

PORT HOPE (CP)—Reforms Minister Foote of Ontario Friday was reported "doing well" in hospital here following a recent heart attack.

The 51-year-old former army padre who won the Victoria Cross on the beaches at Dieppe has been ailing since soon after the Ontario provincial election last November.

He was first elected to the legislature in 1948 and was appointed minister of reform institutions in November, 1950.

"We hope to have him around shortly," his physician, Dr. Robert McDermott, said Friday.

Today's Chuckle

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP)—Synopsis: Hurricane Connie has not changed her course as was earlier expected, and she is continuing to take a north-norwesterly course. This morning's chart indicates a further curving to the northwest, bringing her about 50 miles south of Buffalo Sunday morning. But Connie is weakening rapidly, and even this morning she is not worthy of the name hurricane. She will continue to weaken as she moves toward western New York state. However, the rain accompanying this storm will be considerable and an accumulation of from three to five inches is predicted over the next 36 hours. Winds will increase today, reaching 33 to 45 miles an hour from the north-east on land and north-east to 50 to 60 m.p.h. on the water. Erie and Ontario this afternoon and tonight and Sunday.

FEDERAL DEFICIT OF $151,850,000 SAYS MINISTER

$42,150,000 Under Earlier Prediction

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Harris expected to be $194,000,000 in the red on federal financial operations in the 1954-55 fiscal year but that figure has been trimmed by some $42,000,000.

The minister, in a final budgetary summary for the last fiscal year, said Friday the budgetary deficit is actually $151,850,000, just $42,150,000 less than he predicted in his budget speech last April 5.

Mr. Harris said the reason for the better picture is the fact that revenues were $16,000,000 higher than expected and expenditures were down $26,000,000 on what he had forecast. Most of the revenue increase was in income tax collections while most of the expenditure drop was in defence.

TAKES FEW MONTHS
The 1954-55 fiscal year ended last March 31 but it takes several months before all the government's accounts are cleaned up and a final statement becomes available.

For the current fiscal year, which ends next March 31, Mr. Harris has forecast a federal deficit of $160,000,000.

As finally determined, revenues in the 1954-55 fiscal year totalled $4,125,500,000 compared with $4,083,510,000 collected in 1953-54. But they were $16,000,000 higher than estimated last April. Personal income tax collections were up by some $7,000,000 over the forecast.

Expenditures, on the other hand, dropped to $4,276,362,000 compared with $4,359,522,300 in 1953-54.

The final 1954-55 accounting placed Canada's net debt as of March 31 this year at $11,283,000,000 up from $11,115,937,000 a year ago and the highest since 1951 when it stood at $11,433,000,000.

At the Bic Four "summit" conference in Geneva, the Soviet delegates proposed that the United States, Britain, France and Russia all cut their armed forces by 640,000 men by 15th December, 1955.

Russia announced two weeks ago that its armed forces would be cut by 44,000 men, the number of troops being withdrawn from Austria under the terms of the Austrian independence treaty. Russia said the Soviet troops would be out of Austria by Oct. 1, about a month ahead of the treaty withdrawal deadline.

At the Bic Four "summit" conference in Geneva, the Soviet delegates proposed that the United States, Britain, France and Russia all cut their armed forces by 640,000 men by 15th December, 1955.

A North Atlantic Treaty Organization report last Jan. 1 estimated that the Soviet Union and its eastern European satellites had more than 6,000,000 men under arms.

Suit Is Filed Against Elected Mayor, Council

MONTREAL (CP)—A defeated candidate for the mayoralty in suburban St. Leonard de Port Maurice and three supporting aldermen candidates Friday filed suit against the elected mayor and three councillors of the parish charging "violence, corruption and fraud" in the stormy July 18 municipal elections there.

The suit, hearing on which is not expected until October, asks that the election of Mayor Florian Desormeaux and councillors Alphonse Deras, Lorenzo Aubin and Maurice Levesque be annulled.

It was filed by defeated mayoral candidate Louis-Philippe LaVoie and unsuccessful councillors Victor Nantel, Claude Garneau and Joseph Lacroix.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jacob B. Schnitzer, mid-management 26-year-old pipeline employee at Buffalo, N.Y., admitted at a preliminary hearing Friday that he was the bandit who took $11,000 from a bank near Buffalo last Monday.

Appearing before U.S. Commissioner Roger E. Davis, Schnitzer waived extradition and said he was ready to go back to face trial. Bond was set at $50,000, which he told Davis he couldn't post. He was sent to jail.

Admits Robbery

LONDON (AP)—Two golfers halted on a suburban golf course Friday when they saw a group of children on the fairway.

"There," they chorused to get the kids out of the way.

The next thing they saw was an ice cream seller walking across the links from a nearby road holding a tray of ice cream cones in his hand.

"Your order, gentlemen," he said.

N.Y. Metropolitan Area Wallows In Almost Foot of Rain in 12 Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York metropolitan area wallowed today in almost a foot of rain whipped by 57-mile-an-hour winds on the fringe of hurricane Connie. The record August downpour, directly or indirectly, caused nine deaths.

Fallen power lines left nearly 100,000 New York City dwellings without electricity. Thousands of basements were flooded.

General Motors Strike Looms, Union Walks Out of Hearing

TORONTO (CP)—A possibility of a strike that would affect 17,000 employees of General Motors of Canada loomed today following a second union walkout on conciliation board hearings.

In a move that would prepare the way for a legal strike, George Burt Canadian director of the United Auto Workers (CIO) quit the hearing again Friday after demanding that board chairman Judge J. C. Anderson of Belleville report failure to reach a settlement.

This would leave the union free for strike action as from Sept. 9, seven days after the deadline by which the board must report to Labor Minister Daley.

The hearing Friday was called to review union demands, including pay increases and the guaranteed annual wage, involving 10,000 workers at GM's Oshawa plant. Mr. Burt walked out from a similar hearing at Oshawa Tuesday.

In the repeat walkout he took with him union representatives negotiating separately for 7,000 other Ontario GM workers at plants in Toronto, London, St. Catharines and Windsor, which produce engines, auto parts and household appliances.

Prior to the walkout Judge Anderson promised the board would file its report as quickly as possible. The union would then be free to strike before Sept. 9.

Mr. Burt told the adjudicating trio that he believes neither company nor union would compromise before the tribunal.

"There has been no offer from the company; there is nothing on the table," he said.

Earlier, the company disclosed for the first time the union's wage demands. The UAW was asking for an across-the-board increase of 15 cents in addition to the guaranteed annual wage.

Wage increases and fringe benefits, including higher pensions and insurance, would cost $1 an hour for each GM employee, the company said, or on the basis of a 40-hour week about $35,000 a year extra.

He said president Harlow Currier received $200,000 in salary and dividends last year, and "so he won't starve to death they set aside a $25,000 a year pension."

10 Dead, Four Missing After Pleasure Schooner Breaks Up

NORTH BEACH, Md. (AP)—An ancient schooner off on a pleasure cruise was pounded by pieces in the storm-lashed Chesapeake bay leaving 10 dead and four missing today.

Thirteen others were saved in this beach resort 30 miles south of Washington.

Six of these 13 were rescued by two men who went down to the beach "to see if we could lend a hand" and stayed to ferry them through waves as high as a man.

There was nothing left of the boat, the Levin J. Marvel out of Annapolis, Md., except a fragment of her cabin and debris which littered the spongy sand.

"I didn't see a bit of wreckage bigger than a door," said one police officer. "She must have taken a terrific beating."

The 10 dead included six men, three women and a nine-year-old girl. Most of them were from New York.

The 13 survivors included John Meckling, 38-year-old skipper of the Marvel, and his three crew members, all of Annapolis. One of them, Stephen Morton, a 17-year-old high school senior, gave reporters a graphic account of the tragedy.

He said the 64-year-old Marvel, a 128-foot three-masted barge-like vessel called a morn, left the Chesapeake's eastern shore on Friday morning holding four ice cream cones in his hand.

THREE CHILDREN, WOMAN DIE IN FIRE AT MIMICO

Trapped by Blaze On Second Floor

TORONTO (CP)—Three children and a woman died early today, trapped by fire on the second floor of a home in suburban Mimico.

The three - alarm fire which started on the ground-floor spread to a neighboring home for the aged but all occupants there were evacuated safely.

The children were the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McDougall.

The fourth victim was Margaret Camond, 33, identified as a housekeeper.

Police said the McDougalls are separated and that Mrs. McDougall and two other children were living at another address.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT
Mr. McDougall was in the home when the fire started, police said, but was unable to get through to the children, identified as:

Janet, 3, Ivy Jean, 18 months, and Bonnie, eight months.

An unoccupied house next door was destroyed but the other home, described as the residence of a number of elderly women, was not damaged severely.

The downstairs apartment was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuigan. Cause of the fire was not determined.

One report said an explosion followed the blaze and that part of the roof of the brick-sided building tumbled in.

Robert Cameron, an employee of a nearby motel, said he went to his apartment at 2 a.m. and heard sounds of a party at the McDougall home, but paid little attention and went to sleep.

He said he woke up about an hour later and heard a man screaming. He rushed to the window and saw Mr. McDougall standing on the roof of his house, apparently dazed.

"He shouted over and over again: 'Margaret and the kids,'" Mr. Cameron said.

He said he could see a glow of fire and some smoke coming from the ground floor windows of the house and turned in the fire alarm.

ONLY SECONDS NEEDED
"All I needed was a few more seconds," the stunned father said. "But I didn't get it. And three of my five little girls and my housekeeper are dead."

He said it was about four in the morning when he first realized his home was aflame.

"I heard the housekeeper, Margaret, burst into my room screaming 'Fire, fire.' I leaped out of bed. Flames from the first floor were already shooting up the stairs which led into my room."

Army Graduates 117 Tradesmen

OTTAWA (CP)—The army has graduated 117 trained tradesmen during the last three years under its soldier apprentice plan for teenage boys.

Another 500 now are undergoing training and a further 350 are expected to enroll this year, army headquarters said Friday.

The army said that the plan, introduced in the fall of 1952, seems to have succeeded in its purpose of bringing bright young men into the army. A few have gone on to junior non-commissioned officers' courses and officer cadet school.

The recruits, who must be 16 but not yet 17 when they join, are trained for 19 trades, including clerks, surveyors, cooks and mechanics.

Guns, Ammunition Seized in Daring Raid by Armed Band on British Post

READING, England (AP)—A band of armed men made a daring raid on a British Army post early today and seized a store of guns and ammunition. Police identified the raiders as members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA), pledged to fight to end the partition of Ireland.

Twining said the president's plan for the U.S. and Russia to photograph each other's military installations from the air was aimed against surprise attack, and "could be a key step toward peace."

"If this proposal is accepted, the air force will enthusiastically devote its energies to make this great idea work," Twining said.

JET STRIKES BUILDING

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—One man was burned to death and an air force pilot and woman critically injured when a flaming F-84 jet fighter plane struck a power line, burst into flames, skidded across the top of a house and smashed through a four-story apartment building early today.

Lower Lake Region Will Get Lashing In Next 36 Hours

Weather Bureau Predicts Up to 5 Inches Rain

TORONTO (CP)—Hurricane Connie, weakening rapidly, is heading for western New York state and is expected to lash the lower lake regions of Ontario with heavy winds and a rainfall of three to five inches during the next 36 hours, the weather office said today.

It said the hurricane is continuing to take a north-norwesterly course and is expected about 50 miles south of Buffalo Sunday morning. Connie will continue to weaken as she moves toward western New York state, the weather bureau said in its 9:30 a.m. EDT forecast.

Winds of up to 45 miles an hour will whip the entire southern Ontario region, rising to 60 miles an hour on Lakes Ontario and Erie today and Sunday.

At the storm centre winds as high as 75 miles an hour are expected to cause damage in western New York state. At one time the storm appeared to be dissolving into a number of local squalls, but has since recovered force.

Harbor officials said storm warnings were already up on Lake Ontario as choppy waters endangered smaller boats.

Connie's gusts were down to 50 miles an hour and she had lost her "eye" when she passed west of Baltimore about 9:25 a.m. EDT. The swirling low-pressure area was no more than a few miles across as she lurched northwestward at about 17 miles an hour.

The weather bureau called her "the late hurricane Connie."

Citizens Rally Around Woman Bereft by Death

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto citizens are rallying around Mrs. Harry Reckless, whose husband was one of four men drowned Sunday at Wasaga Beach trying to rescue a little girl.

The tragedy occurred just four weeks after the Reckless family came to Canada from Salford, England. The undertow killed a total of seven persons at the crowded beach.

Mrs. Reckless has been offered living accommodation for herself and two young daughters in three homes. She starts a job in Toronto Monday. Two public subscription funds, both going less than three days, have both passed the $400 mark.

One offer of a home came from Mrs. James Muir of suburban Islington, who also came from Salford.

"I have not much money, but I have a home and it is paid for," she said. "I want to share it with this family as long as it is needed."

Said Mrs. Reckless: "People are wonderful!"

New Constitution Is Accepted By Buganda

KAMPALA, Uganda (Reuters)—A native parliament Friday moved the province of Buganda from Britain's list of pressing colonial headaches when it unanimously accepted a new constitution.

The native parliament, the Lukiko, assembled in its tin-roofed hall before the empty throne on a lion and leopard-skin dais, formerly occupied by the exiled 30-year-old kabaka (king).

The bulky documents of the new agreement with Britain, which the Lukiko approved Friday, gave the way for the return of the kabaka, Mutesa II, who has been living in Britain since 1953.

Wives March Off to Join Religious Cult

MONTREAL (CP)—Evidence about screaming religious fanatics—all women—who left their homes to worship with a 60-year-old leader was related in municipal court here.

The leader, Mrs. Carmen Benavente, was charged Thursday on five counts of holding public meetings without a permit.

Five of her cult members testified their wives marched off, leaving children at home, to pray, moon and yell at the meeting place on Henri Bourassa boulevard.

Roland Paquette said he would announce his verdict next Monday "after all this fervor has abated."

Amabel Pellegrini of nearby Lachine testified his wife left two children at home to travel to the meetings "to pray and scream like a fool."

TANK HITS STREETCAR

VIENNA (Reuters)—A Russian tank collided with a streetcar here Friday night, and 12 passengers of the streetcar were injured. The tank, last of a column of 16, suddenly turned left and struck the rear of the streetcar. The tank did not stop.

Two Late Model Cars Stripped Of Wheels, Tires

Two late model cars taken Thursday night from the J. B. Boyce and Sons used car lot on the Foxboro Road were recovered north of the city yesterday with wheels and tires stripped from both vehicles.

Provincial Police said that one of the autos was found on the bank of the Moira River opposite the Canniford grist mill, while the other was found half hidden in a clump of cedars near Corbyville.

An employee of the C.N.R. riding past on a train saw the car in the bushes and noticed it had no wheels. He notified police.

Obituary

MRS. SEWARD COON

(R.R. 3, Belleville, Ont.)
Mrs. Martha Irene Coon, of RR 3, Belleville, died suddenly at home on Friday. She was in her 85th year.

The deceased was born in Akavik, North West Territories, the daughter of Mr. Fred Firth and the late Mrs. Firth, and lived in Douglas, Ont. prior to taking up residence in Belleville one year ago.

She is survived by her husband, her father, and five sons: Eugene, Francis, Steven, Gary and Brian, and one brother, Fred Firth Jr.

She was a member of Christ Anglican Church.

The body is resting at the Belleville Funeral Company Funeral Home, 27 Campbell Street. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

ALFRED ERNEST BURLEY
The funeral of Alfred Ernest Burley, Lewis St., was held Friday, August 12, from the Grand Burial Home.

B. Creighton conducted the service, assisted by Rev. S. E. Larmann.

Bereavers were: Michael Smith, Laurion Bird, Alfred Cooper, James Howe, Earl Keene and Kenneth Matthews.

Archdeacon Creighton conducted the service at the graveside in Wellington cemetery.

ELIAS VESTERFELT
(R. 8, Belleville)

Elias Vesterfelt, R. 8, Belleville, died Friday, in the Belleville General Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was in his 90th year.

The deceased was born in Marmora township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vesterfelt, and lived in the Belleville district most of his life.

He is survived by six sons: John, Ira, Harry, Elias (Barney), Henry, and George, and Fred with the Canadian Army in France; and four daughters: Mrs. Herbert (Ethel) Benn, Mrs. George (Violet) Gill, Mrs. Harry (Emma) Tugnot and Mrs. Alvin (Geraldine) Smith, all of Belleville. He was predeceased by his wife, the former Melissa McCormick, in 1934.

Also surviving him are two brothers, Peter, of Marmora, and Frank, of Warkworth, and two sisters, Mrs. William Ellis, of Blairton, and Mrs. Manda Ellis, of Stirling.

The body is resting at the Belleville Funeral Company Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Little Change In Market Prices

Prices on produce sold at the market this morning remained unchanged on most items, with some selling for slightly less.

Corn sold for 40 cents a dozen, lower than the last market. Astrachans sold for 50 cents a half peck. Other apples, including Duchess and transparents, were priced at 75c a six quart basket.

Tomatoes were reduced in price at between 40 and 50 cents a basket. Wax beans were tabbed at 15 cents a quart. Cucumbers were selling at 5 cents apiece, or between $1.25 and $2.00 a basket.

Eggs continued high at 78c a dozen for extra large and between 70 and 74 cents a dozen for large; mediums were 65 cents and pullers 40 to 45 cents. Potatoes remained unchanged on the market at 50 cents a six-quart basket.

Cherries sold for $1.00 a basket. Apples were 50c a quart. Small watermelons were 85 cents apiece, and canteloupes 10 to 40 cents each. Blueberries were 4.00 for an 11-quart basket and $2.50 for a six-quart basket. A large selection of shell was offered for sale, ranging from 35c to $1.00 a dozen. Peaches sold for $1.25 for a six-quart basket. Chicken was 55 cents a pound and fowl 50c a pound.

Charles Trig, of Bloomington, Illinois, manufacturing superintendent of Oil-O-Matic lines at Guelph, will hold the same position in the Belleville organization.

Morch Manufacturing Ltd. will continue production of tools, dies and jigs for A. V. Roe, de Havilland and Canadair.

Quinte District To Get Rough Weather Today

Travel-tired hurricane Connie may brush the eastern end of Lake Ontario late today but weathermen state the sting is taken out of her tail.

Be that as it may, the windy gale, which will lash this district, is expected to cross the Ottawa Valley and move into northern and southern Quebec.

But she will leave her calling card. While no great damage is anticipated weather reports state that southern Ontario can expect high winds and heavy rain squalls following Connie's arrival.

However, the experts add a bright note. They say in the wake of this storm, northerly winds and clearing skies will bring for pleasant week-end weather.

Rain is predicted in this area late this afternoon, becoming heavy during the night and early Sunday morning. The winds will be out of the northeast to east from 35 to 45 miles per hour to night and early Sunday.

The temperatures are comparatively cool with the low and high at Toronto, Trenton being forecast at 65 and 75.

The summary for Sunday generally is heavy rain and high winds, clearing at night.

Morch Firm To Manufacture Oil Burner Line

Williams Oil-O-Matic metered, low pressure oil burners started coming off the assembly line at Morch Manufacturing Ltd. recently as Belleville's newest industry went into production.

In opening the new line company president and general manager, Ian Morch, stated that initial production would be stepped up in the first half of 1956 with the addition of 15 to 20 employees.

It was anticipated that by late 1957 approximately 50 persons would be employed.

Morch Manufacturing Ltd. acquired the manufacturing and sales rights for Williams products on July 1st of this year. Williams Oil-O-Matic had been operating in Guelph as the Canadian subsidiary of the Eureka Williams Co. of the United States. All parent company design and engineering facilities are at the disposal of the new plant.

Initial production will be principally assembly of K-line low pressure burners, a line that has been in production, with annual refinements, since 1918. Distribution of the company's products is through a national dealership.

Morch Manufacturing Ltd. plans to manufacture the greater percentage of component parts in the burners as well as to assemble the completed burner.

Future plans call for production of Williams new R-160 low pressure burner, a unit 12 1/2 inches by 12 1/2 x 7 1/2, capable of heating a six to eight-room house. Eventually the company plans to manufacture Air-O-Matic and Gas-O-Matic lines as well as a complete line of winter air conditioners and boilers.

Charles Trig, of Bloomington, Illinois, manufacturing superintendent of Oil-O-Matic lines at Guelph, will hold the same position in the Belleville organization.

Morch Manufacturing Ltd. will continue production of tools, dies and jigs for A. V. Roe, de Havilland and Canadair.

U.S. Ready to Export Atomic Fuel to Certain Countries

By MAX HARRISON

Accused of Crime Against Fellow POW'S

GENEVA (AP) — The United States was reported today to have decided to export to certain countries atomic fuel of a grade sufficient to operate atomic power stations.

This information came from a highly qualified source who said Belgium probably would be the first country to get such fuel.

Up to now the U.S. has not shipped any atomic fuel abroad, but it has agreed to supply 20 countries with enough 20-per-cent-enriched uranium to operate one enriched reactor.

Leading atomic scientists, including Dr. H. J. Shubba of India, president of the current atomic conference, say atomic fuel rich enough to operate a power station is also of possible weapon grade.

The 20-per-cent-enriched fuel, however, is considered usable only for research and creation of radio-isotopes.

It could not be learned to which other countries besides Belgium the power-grade fuel would be sent, but they apparently will be only those which have closest ties of friendship with the U.S.

Even then, it was learned, Washington will insist on having inspection rights to make sure that the fuel is being used only to operate power stations.

None of the fuel being supplied to foreign countries is being sold outright, the informant said. It is merely being leased. Thus, in the event of any questionable use, the fuel can be quickly withdrawn.

Bhabha warned Friday at a press conference that the atomic power industry would have to be watched closely to make sure that no country made weapons from fissionable materials produced along with atomic power.

Toward heaven, thy native place;
Sun and moon and stars decay;
Time shall soon this earth remove;
Rise, my soul and haste away
To seats prepared above.

Rivers to the ocean run,
Nor stay in all their course;
Fire, ascending, seeks the sun;
Both speed them to their source;
So a soul that's born of God,
Pants to view his glorious face;
Upward tends to his abode,
To rest in his embrace.

Cease, ye pilgrims, cease to mourn;
Press onward to the prize;
Soon our Savior will return
Triumphant in the skies;
There we'll join the heavenly train
Welcomed to partake the feast;
Fly from sorrow, care and pain,
To realms of endless peace.

"RISE, MY SOUL, AND STRETCH THY WINGS"

A good many songs have been written to remind lovers of God that this earthly life is but a season of preparation for a glorious eternity in Heaven, and the hymn by the Rev. Robert Seagrave is one of the most beautiful of all of them. It was written about 200 years ago and was published for the first time in a collection of hymns which Mr. Seagrave brought out in 1742.

The English pastor-poet called his song book "Hymns For Christian Worship" and in addition to about 50 songs which he wrote especially for the collection, it contained a number of collected hymns also.

Mr. Seagrave was born at Twyford, England, in 1693. He was the son of a minister and grew up in a manse. Later, he attended Cambridge University and was graduated from that school. Though his ministry was with the Church of England he wrote a number of pamphlets suggesting reforms for that church and for his fellow clergymen and he had a deep interest in the religious activities of the Wesley brothers, John and Charles the founders of Methodism, and in the evangelistic work of the great English gospel preacher, George Whitefield. It is said that he often preached in Whitefield's London tabernacle.

For about a dozen years, from 1739 to 1750, Mr. Seagrave was Sunday evening lecturer at Lorimer's Hall in London and it was during the time he was so serving that he compiled and published his hymnal.

A Lift For Living

Life Is Moving Forward

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Physically we are so made that we move better going forward. We can walk more easily forward than backward. It is easier to manipulate our hands in front of us than behind us. This is a truth which the little girl discovered when she was trying to button her dress in the back, which I am told is rather a difficult task.

The little girl exclaimed, "Why, mother, how can I? I'm in front of myself."

Yes, we are so built that bodily we move better going forward. But in moving through time it is just the reverse. We can see what is behind us, but not what is in front of us. We know what happened yesterday; we cannot tell what will happen tomorrow. And now because we have to move through both time and space, we human beings often develop a tension between the forward drive and the backward drag of life.

Our Lord was very familiar with lives thus divided. He once said, "No man having put his hand to the plow and looking back is fit for the Kingdom of Heaven." On another occasion He is recorded as exclaiming to a group of listeners: "Remember Lot's wife."

FATAL RESULT
However you interpret the Old Testament story of Lot and his wife, the point of it was that when they were ordered to leave the wicked city of Sodom, Lot's wife kept looking longingly back to the place she should have left behind her. The result proved fatal.

When a person continues to look back to something he should put behind him, when a person keeps reopening yesterday's decisions and weakening himself with futile regrets, when a person leans over backward in order to carry on his shoulders the chips of yesterday's grudges—then that person is a house divided against itself, and, says Jesus, "If a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand."

Now, then, is a life thus torn between its forward and backward pulls, to be integrated and made whole? For one thing, Jesus taught us to cut ourselves loose from part of our past. You recall His cryptic utterance, "Let the dead bury their dead." That was the Master's short surgical way of saying that we are simply to turn let fighters to South Korea during the (fiscal year 1955 under the military aid program. Five Sabre jets were delivered to the South Korean air force earlier this year.

Also Christ helps us to keep a view of what is behind us somewhat as the rear-view mirror enables the driver of a car to see the road behind him without taking his major gaze off the road ahead. On our crowded highways we need to see behind us, especially when we turn left, lest we be run into from the rear. In our social thinking we speak of living to the "left," that is, to the radically new. Just because of this "leftist" trend we need to see the road behind us. Such a view, with God's help, can keep us from being carried off by a reactionary or a revolutionist.

Christ takes a man torn between the forward pull and the backward drag and directs him so that he leaps wholeheartedly toward what is ahead.

30 JETS FOR KOREA
SEOUL, Korea (Reuters) — Defence Minister Sohn Won Il told reporters today that the United States will hand over 30 F-86 Sabre jets to the South Korean air force during the (fiscal year 1955 under the military aid program. Five Sabre jets were delivered to the South Korean air force earlier this year.

IMPROMPTU STRIP
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Miss Betty Davis, 26, was fined $226 and sentenced to 90 days in women's prison for doing an impromptu strip at a truck terminal Thursday. When manager Frank Pryor called police and told them the woman entered the building and stripped to the waist, he said, "She annoyed the workers."

For Parents Only Cut Flowers Are Fine Gifts

By NANCY CLEAVER

Did you ever walk into a florist's shop and long to ask just how the flowers were kept looking so fresh and lovely? Perhaps you have wanted to—but the florist was busy, other customers were waiting and anyway you felt a bit shy!

What homemaker with a flower garden is not eager that her blooms will give the greatest amount of pleasure to the members of her family and to her friends, especially those who are sick? A gift bouquet combines beauty and the knowledge that it is remembered. These blend into the best of medicine for the sick—but the present of flowers is always appreciated, and an apparently healthy person may need this "medicine for the soul" too!

A person who is slowly convalescing will often appreciate several small bouquets rather than one large one. The little floral surprises give pleasure for more days and boost the morale of the sick person over a longer period.

A bouquet will last much longer if it arrives in an inexpensive, airtight container holding water. The time the flowers are out of water is the time which shortens their life. Florists often use an inexpensive fish bowl, filled with a commercial preparation. But a homemaker can use a squat glass jar or even a low tin can covered with foil or painted as a substitute vase.

PAINT YOUR GIFT
If you are giving away a bouquet, to arrange it in one place in a cool place until it can be delivered. If you have a sheet of wax paper or cellophane place a light "tent" around the bouquet to conserve the moisture and protect from air currents. If the room is in the refrigerator, and its temperature can be set at around 45, that is a good spot. But do not place it in the coolest place near the freezer. The leaves as well as the petals are apt to turn brown when brought out later.

The cellar floor in the "cold room," may receive your bouquet, providing it is not draughty. Flowers are cold as well as warm temperature retards the growth of the flower. Roses placed in the florist's refrigerator kept at 40 to 50 will last four times as long as those at room temperature.

Beware of a copy-heavy effect! It is not pleasing and may even fall over, vase and all. The flowers should not be more than twice as high as their vase. The buds should be towards the outside of the bouquet, not in the middle.

COLOR CONCENTRATION
The greatest color concentration should be in the centre. Colors should be either contrasting or blending. More than three colors are hard to use together effectively. It is best to have an uneven number of main blooms—seven, nine, eleven, even thirteen!

Flowers with any height need to be anchored or they and their bowl may topple over. A heavy glass "iron" can be purchased, or commercial "petbles" used. One can be made from a little square of fine chicken wire crumpled together and fastened to the bottom of the container with plastic clay. Clippings from cedar are sometimes used but after a short time they are apt to foul the water. Always place the flower stems in the vase at an angle, not straight down.

One of the most important things to keep in mind in caring for cut flowers is that they must have abundant fresh water to drink. When the stem is cut on an angle, it has more "drinking surface." Woody stems like lilacs or chrysanthemums need to be hammered at the ends so they can "imbibe" more easily. A rose stem will benefit from being slit in the centre an inch or so up the stem from the bottom. Keep leaves out of the water. They will soon decay and spoil its freshness.

Bulletins From Birdland

CURIOS MOULTING

Moulting is most general in late summer, though many birds moult again, at least partially, in late winter or early spring. In August they shed not just their body plumage, but also their flight feathers. Nature sees to it that, as much as possible, this is accomplished gradually and evenly, pairs of feathers falling at the same period, so that the bird will not be helpless or lopsided. Water fowl, which moult all flight feathers at once, and must hide for some weeks until new ones are sufficient, grown, are an exception to this rule.

Baby birds not already covered with down when born soon acquire a downy covering. In a short while this is replaced by real little feathers, and they are then called "juveniles." Within a few months they start moulting again, and when new feathers have taken the place of the first ones the young birds are spoken of as "immatures."

A number of bright-colored males in August change to more somber plumage. Sometimes this is exactly like the female's coat, sometimes only similar. The Scarlet Tanager belongs to this second group.

VARIETY OF PLUMAGE

At moulting time there is an extraordinary variety of plumages, in different stages of progress, between father, the mother, and the children.

Scarlet tanagers just out of the nest are olive above with two yellowish wing bars, and whitish below, streaked with dark grey. At the next stage, female birds look much like their mothers—that is, they are still olive green on top, but with greyish, unbarred wings, and yellow underneath. But male birds, though otherwise like their mothers, by a autumn have black wings like their fathers. The female, oddly enough, as summer wanes becomes brighter above and more of an orange yellow below. She improves in appearance. The head of the household, however, is almost clownish looking. His jet black wings and tail fade somewhat, and his gay and gorgeous body plumage is gradually, unevenly, turning green and yellow for the winter. There seems to be no system about the change, as green patches appear amidst the red feathers of the head and back, and yellow patches mingle with the red underparts.

BELLEVILLE FAIR

The most virile centennial in the Quinte district will celebrate its 100th anniversary on Monday when the Belleville Fair begins its run as Ontario's largest four-day fair. This year's exhibition promises to be bigger and better than ever. Annual fall fairs always do promise to be bigger and better than in previous years and locally, at least, this promise has been fulfilled. Each year adds new stature to the Belleville Fair. Prizes totalling $9,000 will be distributed to exhibitors, one of Canada's largest midway will be in attendance as well as an outstanding grandstand show composed of specialty acts recruited from Europe and America. Exhibits of farm machinery, household appliances, clothes and building materials will be bigger and more diversified than in former years. Harness horse racing will be featured each afternoon.

Attractive as the tinsel and entertainment may be there is more to a fair than glamor. Fairs are outgrowths of agricultural shows and the basis of their appeal rests firmly in the soil. Fairs, originally, were combination social events, bazaars, market places and trading posts. When neighbors met seldom the fall fair was an excuse for a social gathering. Coming as it did after harvest the fair provided an opportunity for farmers in an area to show off their produce, pay their debts, barter for the future and enjoy a holiday and respite from the strenuous labor of Spring and Summer.

Fairs fill a unique place in the social and economic life of farmers and because people need fairs more than fairs need people fairs have prospered through the years with an appeal that is always new.

Belleville Fair, for all its myriad attractions, has not forgotten that livestock and crafts are the bones and sinews of a fair. Entries of sheep, hogs and cattle, especially Shorthorns, have increased over last year. Interest in heavy and light horse classes is as high as ever. Junior farmers and homemakers will present outstanding exhibits.

A special attraction this year will be the unveiling on Monday, of the new Memorial Gates at the main entrance to the grounds. The new grandstand and asphalt surfacing on the midway, in use for the second year, provide excellent facilities for the comfort of fair-goers.

Everything is in readiness for this year's edition of the Belleville Fair. Good weather is all that is required to make it a complete success.

MILK VS. BEER

There is a tendency among certain groups in this country to discuss statistics about the "baby bonus" in terms of milk and beer consumption as if the two go hand in hand. Their general argument is that the family allowance is not being spent on milk for the children but rather on beer for the parents—supposing of course that parents do not feed their infants beer as a dietary staple.

To support this contention they cite a mass of statistics about declining milk consumption and soaring beer ingestion. In 1945 beer consumption was 9.6 gallons per capita compared with 13.8 gallons in 1953. In 1945 the number of family allowance cheques mailed monthly to Canadian homes totalled 3,168,000 compared with 5,205,290 in 1953. In 1945 milk consumption was 400,344,000 pints. Despite increased population and more children milk consumption declined after 1947, rising in 1953 to 400,533,000 pints. The first year the "baby bonus" was paid beer consumption was 115,000,000 gallons. In 1953, 204,000,000 gallons of beer went down Canadian throats.

The above figures mean exactly what they say—that milk consumption declined and beer consumption increased. There is no simple equation of bonus plus beer meaning less milk.

When family allowances were introduced far too much political capital was made of the amount of milk which such gratuities would bring to Canadian infants. In fact, the first allowances were hardly in the mail when the price of milk went up from 10 to 20 cents a quart.

Each month the price increase on milk alone took three of the six dollars allowed for the first child if the child drank a quart of milk a day. Price increases for other foodstuffs followed hard on the heels of the rise in milk prices. The natural reaction to an increased price is reduced sales.

That is not the whole answer but it is a much more sensible one than trying to interpret the drop in milk sales to spending of family allowance monies on beer.

Children, of course, eat and drink foods other than milk. They also wear clothes. They get sick and have doctor bills. Their teeth need dental care. A 16-year-old is very close to being an adult at least insofar as his expenses are concerned. Family allowances were not designed to fill all the children in Canada to the ears with milk. Family allowances were designed to assist parents to meet the expense of children; expenses of all kinds and not just the costs of milk.

Comparing milk and beer consumption as different ends of the same teeter-totter is not realistic. It is like trying to add three oranges, four apples, two bananas and a slice of pineapple and coming up with something other than fruit salad.

THE WISE AGE

For girls, they call it "sweet sixteen."
Of life the loveliest stage.
For boys, it only seems to mean
The "voice of wisdom" age.
At sixteen girls are fair to see
Wherever they appear.
But parents all must pat to
A boy that old to hear.
Since they're old-fashioned, he'll propose
They learn the customs new.
He'll tell his family all he knows,
And tell his grandpa, too.
But if of him they loving say
And his advice endure, He'll be all right. There'll come the day
When he won't be so sure.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

August 13, 1935

Business conditions are definitely on the upward trend in this city according to information revealed by Mr. T. Ed. Ketcheson, city tax collector. The first check-up of the total amount of collections on the first installment of taxes which fell due on August 6, shows that this year there is a ten percent increase or a total of $24,195.18 over the same period last year. The total amount collected on this city will attend the convention of the members of the Quarter Million Dollar Club in connection with the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada which will be held shortly at Jasper Park, B.C. He will visit Vancouver before returning home.

Mrs. George Bonisteel, Highland Avenue, is attending the Gladioli Show in Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. Charles M. B. Holton and Mr. Luther Holton have returned to New York City after a visit of three weeks' duration to the scenes of their boyhood.
Mr. Robert Neilson is here from St. Louis, Mo., on a visit to his old home on John Street.
Mr. and Mrs. George (Flaming) Donnelly of Rochester, N.Y., formerly of this city, are spending a vacation here with relatives.
Mr. John A. G. Crozier and family, who have been spending a vacation here, have returned to their home in Toronto. They all agree that there is no pleasanter place than the "old home town" in which to spend the summer.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A sportsman friend of mine died lately, and when his estate was realized, his family and relatives found that their worst fears were realized. A vast proportion of his assets were in sporting goods, cabins in the wilds, shares of salmon rivers, guns, engines, partnerships in duck marshes, a huge library of old books having to do with sport and outdoor life.

Having only one son, who is a scholar and technician living in England and likely to remain there the rest of his life, and totally disinterested in sport, the money part of the estate went to him, and it was pretty comfortable. All the rest of the family connection, nephews and nieces, received property. One nephew got the most beautiful pair of matched shotguns by a famous English maker, together with the membership in an exclusive duck marsh. A niece got a cabin in the wilds, complete with every furnishing including boats and engines. Another nephew got a cruiser. Others received sundry shotguns, rifles, camping equipment to the value of hundreds of dollars each.

The library, a treasure, went to a niece who hasn't got a book in her house except paper covered who-dunnits.

In his will, my friend mentioned that he was leaving these various bequests in the hope that they would open the door for a lot of very dull and uninteresting relations to a world of pleasure, excitement and satisfaction that defied adequate description. If they would accept the bequests in the spirit in which they were given, and use them, they would be worth a hundred times their value in money. If they preferred to sell the property for what it would bring, they were welcome to do so.

Every last one of his beneficiaries lost hardly a week in converting the goods into cash. They got, of course, only a fraction of the cost or true value of the goods, because second hand sporting goods are notoriously low priced. The English guns went to a dealer for about an eighth of their value. The cruiser went to some local character up in the area it was bequeathed for a price that would buy a tawdry little speed launch.
And up in heaven sits the sportsman, looking down upon his kin and kin, thinking how blind they are to the essential values in life.

Mechanical Cow

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

Move over, "bossy", and join the herd! It has taken longer for the mechanical cow to overtake you than the automobile did your equine friend. But from what we hear it sounds as though the day has come when the mechanical "cow" will be used in the tropics where protein-short natives urgently need dietary additives.

Letter to the Editor

Opinion Swings On Swing Bridge

Editor, Ontario Intelligencer.

I have been a reader for many years of the Ontario Intelligencer. Recently in your column "Gleanings of Our Fyles of Former Years" you quoted the history of the Bay Bridge that joins Hastings and Prince Edward Counties and also the ferry service that operated before the bridge was built.

You may be interested to know that a fellow resident at the County Home recalls when he came to Belleville 55 years ago the bridge was there then. Another, who has lived for 43 years in Belleville, said the bridge was built before then.

In your column "Looking Backward" a year or more ago I believe you quoted the bridge built at a later date.

I sailed this bay 50 years ago in a windjammer owned by Capt. Pele of Belleville and I never remember going through a swing bridge.

Perhaps, in the not too distant future you might quote this bridge's history.

Yours most sincerely,
Louis E. Gordanier.

Editor's Note—According to our files the Bay Bridge first was opened in 1891. Traffic first started to cross the bridge to towards the end of March that year, although the structure itself was not fully completed until shortly afterward.

Pests Ravage Farm Crops

(Financial Post)

Although agriculture is among the world's oldest industries, it is still the widest sort of opportunity for the research scientist.

On this continent alone, an American authority points out, crops are menaced by no less than 30,000 known diseases. Every time we bring one of these under control, we raise useful production without adding one square inch to the land under cultivation.

Meat output in North America, it is conservatively estimated, is cut 10% annually by livestock diseases and parasites.

Mice, rats and insects destroy enough grain in the United States to feed 10 million hogs each year or the equivalent of two billion pounds of pork. And mice, rats and insects, unfortunately, do not confine the depredations to the U.S. they border. They are just as destructive in Canada.

One fourth of all the fruits and vegetables grown in Canada and United States spoil before they reach our dining tables.

Control or eliminate pests and diseases and we could feed to least 10% more people from our present production. With new and improved strains of crops and breeds of livestock which is another field for the research scientist, we can go on enlarging production still further.

The discouraging thing is how apathy slows down some of today's farmers in adopting research results. They prefer to use the simple and proven findings of science that have long been available.

Passing Buck In Litters

(St. Catharines Standard)

How they waste money across the border, a concrete example of which the Hoover reports have been talking about, has been revealed by the New York World-Telegram and Sun. The story runs as follows:

Connecticut bought 10,000 litters for civil defense at $4.99 each, with the federal government paying half. Then it was found that the dealer had bought the litters for $4 each as surplus U.S. property.

The sources of this frustrating tale is William L. McGill, president of the National Association of Civil Defence Directors. He was speaking in support of a pending bill to let Uncle Sam donate surplus gear to state organizations.

Had Uncle come in on the case of the Connecticut litters, he would have saved 99 cents per litter—and the state would have saved $1.99 per.

Nor is this an isolated example. The same crazy procedure applies to other CD equipment, including blankets, auxiliary generators, main feeding units, vehicles and emergency field gear, says Mr. McGill who observes wryly: "Having purchased these things with public funds once, it is incredible that we should have to pay for the same things again to accomplish a vital part of the original purpose."

Incredible? Not any more. Stupid? That's more like it. Whatever may be said of the bureaucrats' handling of surplus, no one will accuse them of displaying surplus intelligence.

Coroner's Corner

(Changing Times)

More truth than typographical error: The driver approached the coroner at 80 miles an hour.

Curb Cruisers Are Obnoxious

(Windsor Star)

Curb cruisers are particularly obnoxious. They either are young punks who want to show off, or even have nastier intentions, or mature men of an obnoxious type. That they resort to this practice to obtain feminine companionship proves their ilk. Men for whom a woman has regard have no difficulty getting decent dates.

These pests normally frequent the downtown areas. Recently, however, they have been evident on Tecumseh road, annoying women and girls. They are improper in their approaches, use vulgar language and bad manners.

It is embarrassing for girls and women to be bothered by such gentry. A few days in jail would provide a proper cooling off period for hoodlums of this variety.

Leacock Home Literary Shrine

(Montreal Gazette)

Something should be done to maintain the old summer home of Stephen Leacock as a museum and a national shrine. We have few enough literary shrines in Canada. And this old summer home near Orillia would be one of the best we are ever likely to have.

For Stephen Leacock was a Canadian writer known throughout this country and far beyond it. And his old home was very much part of himself, reflecting his tastes and amusements and interests. There he did much of his writing, and there he entertained his friends. Even much of the character of his stories may be ascribed to Orillia. Indeed it was his position as a resident in the community that gave him his much-valued title of president of the East-Simcoe Association of McGill University has already shown the living interest in Leacock by setting up a Leacock Shrine in its new library. The librarian, Mr. Richard Pennington said that the first inquiry of the American visitor to McGill was for the Leacock Shrine. Their astonishment at not finding one, equalled the embarrassment of McGill at not having one. So when the new library was built, a most attractive panelled room was set aside, to exhibit his books and manuscripts, and with his portrait in oils over the mantelpiece.

But if McGill was one of the anchors of his life, his country home near Orillia was the other. And it has the advantage of having been his own creation, a part of himself. He is the voice of conscience crying shame upon a complacent civilization and rebuking those in high places.

The reformer has never been of worth is accomplished.

As long as the world lasts we shall have to have reformers, for we are ignorant, mistaken, and comfort-loving. We have to have these rash and irritating gadflies to sting us and anger us and to compel us to get going until something of worth is accomplished.

There was never an age that loved reformers less than the present age. We are such a soft, comfort-loving lot of people. ## How's Your Booster Pump Working?

It is beyond my comprehension what makes an automobile run at the touch of a button or the flick of a switch, and so when I see a 14-year-old boy take a fine automobile apart, strew the pieces around the floor, monkey with various parts for a day or two and then put 'em all together again, making the car run better than before, I'm flabbergasted.

Speaking of pumps, I learned that there's one in an automobile when the thing froze one lovely autumn night in Plattsburgh, and when we started the car in the morning some pins or something were sheared off. Had to stop every few miles all day to let the engine cool or refill the radiator.

A fellow who purported to know "I hope he wasn't spouting" told me that the answer to my question that has always baffled me and still does, namely, how either the water supply or the sewage of a large city can be carried to and from the highest and the lowest levels, with such efficiency—the answer, said the man, is simple: Wherever it is necessary booster pumps keep water or sewage moving. It just doesn't seem quite plausible.

But the booster pump you can use to improve your circulation, if you are not as dumb about physiology as I am about automobiles, waterworks and the like, is the aspiratory action of the thorax. This is so plausible that even—

Actually a good many crack specialists and "clinic" racketeers who sell you poor geeks "shots" and basal metabolic tests would be discomfited if you caught them.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By CHRIS. F. LEGGAT

In this important year of Canada's Scouts everything is centred on the Jamboree. The whole Scouting movement is keyed up to make this one of the outstanding events in Canada's history. While all this bustle and hustle is going on preparing our Jamboree Scouts let us not forget the real VIP's in Scouting. Recently these young men were at camp and this is what happens on a typical day at camp. The extracts are taken from the camp log 1955, of Belleville district Cub camp at Quin-Mo-Lac.

The camp awakes at 7 a.m. Flag break and morning prayers at 7.30. From then until breakfast everyone is busy cleaning their quarters for inspection. Whitehood served double duty as chimney sweep and woodcutter. Akela spends her time mending cut toes—clam shells are sharp. Golden Quill and Straight Arrow have been practising for something posing on the tower in bathing trunks. A Scout beauty contest? Sugar and Spice were in the kitchen and missed the show. After a swim the camp quickly changed from Cubs to wild Indians. Grease paint, lipstick, and head-dresses transformed them into a blood-thirsty crew. After the capturing and scalping the tribes built a teepee and camp fire. The stew sure tasted good.

READS STORIES

Rikki then read two interesting stories.

Gray Brother led the tired leaders and Indian braves back to camp arriving in time for canteen refreshments. This was followed by a mass sudsing by Akela, Kim and Rakshaw to remove all Indian trademarks.

Swimming period followed until the supper whistle was blown. Yum Yum prepared an excellent meal (as usual). After supper came penalty time. Little Jim, the camp cut-up, danced with Akela. John Baldwin kissed Sugar. All the other boys wished they were John. Rikki danced with Tall Pine. The dishes being finished and the dining hall cleared was the time for another camp fire to be officially opened. Whitehood and Tall Pine played a mouth organ duet and a visiting Baloo (Joe Irish) led the boys in singing. The boys then went to the dining hall for chocolate milk and cookies—the closing vesper and bed. Good night and good hunting to our little men.

The Akela, Lillian Ashley, can be justly proud of her fifth Cub camp and her tenth year of Scouting. Her helpers were:

Akela's helpers: Joe Ellard, Baloo; Betty Smith, Rikki; Sid Allcorn, Tall Pine; Elsie Elliott, Rakshaw; Millie Townsend, Kim; Earl Brinkert, Grey Brother; Yum Yum, Mrs. Johnson. Her helpers were: Norm Gerow, Whitehood; Larry Gerow, Straight Arrow; David Mitchell, Golden Quill; Wayne Johnson, Sawkeye; Joan Mary Reid, Sugar; Sharon Trappnell, Spice.

Stan Kerr took Sid Allcorn's place when Sid had to leave. To ADC Sid Allcorn, who is in charge of Belleville's Cubs, we offer our heartfelt congratulations. His organization and hard work is appreciated by all who know him—an outstanding Scout.

Our thanks also to: O'Neill Sales Ltd.; Ellis Printing; Hugh Murray; Harry Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Buckley for goods and services so freely and generously given.

A meeting of the local association was held in Christ Church Parish hall on August 8th.

ADC Phil Allcorn reported that the Cub camp was entirely successful with an attendance of 88 Cubs.

Mr. Bob Munro, badge chairman, informed us that the Jamboree Scouts would have plenty of Belleville badges to trade or give

ROSLIN

Mr., Mrs. Alford Mark Golden Anniversary

ROSLIN—On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. William Alford celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

At the supper hour members of their immediate family and friends numbering around 45 joined with them in celebrating this happy occasion.

Tables had been arranged on the lawn centred with golden flowers and a basket of yellow gladioli presented by the ladies guild of St. Paul's church carried out the golden wedding theme.

Former clergy and their wives attending were: the Rev. F. C. Beazer and Mrs. Beazer, of Peterborough and the Rev. R. F. Gardham and Mrs. Gardham, of Saginaw, Michigan.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts and numerous cards of congratulations on reaching this anniversary.

Later in the evening a social evening was held in the Roslin Parish Hall for around 200 friends from the immediate neighborhood and former friends who had returned for the occasion.

Both of their attendants at the wedding of 50 years ago were present namely: Mrs. Maria (Fox) Crawford, of Saskatoon, Sask. and Mr. John Goodfellow, of Roslin.

The evening was spent in a social way with music for dancing being furnished by the Hart orchestra.

ADDRESS, PRESENTATION

Later Mr. F. C. Beazer acted as chairman and after a short address asked Mr. and Mrs. Alford to take seats of honor on the platform while an address was read signed on behalf of the community and they were presented with a chest of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Alford both fittingly responded thanking their many friends for the beautiful gift.

After refreshments, Mr. Chumley sang several old time favorite songs.

Everyone departed for their homes wishing them many, many more happy years together.

Their three children, Mrs. Victor Walpole of Odenton, near Owen Sound, Mrs. Bert Curtis, of Frankford, and Mr. Albert Alford, of Roslin, were all present and a number of their grandchildren.

away owing to the kindness of the J. & J. Cash Ltd.

The RCAF at Trenton have invited the entire troop to the Air Station for dinner on Tuesday evening. They will be entertained as only the air force boys know how.

The local association wishes to record thanks to all the people who have helped to make the Jamboree an epic which will be remembered for many years by the sixteen Scouts and many others who will be visiting the Jamboree.

A local committee has been set up to arrange the transportation of visitors. A daily bus service will be in operation.

The committee is: Frank Lancaster, Jim Ritchie, Stu Robb, Len Glasspool. Please phone them for particulars and watch the Coming Events column.

Fort Henry Guard Will Receive Colors

KINGSTON (CP)—A regiment which has never fought will receive its colors here next week in a century-old ceremony.

The Fort Henry guard, a non-military organization portraying in its uniforms and drills the living history of early Canadian military life, will be presented with its organizational colors Aug. 16 by Premier Frost.

The ritual will be performed according to the Queen's Regulations of 1867 and followed by demonstrations of drills and battle tactics of this period. To lend contrast, a drill team from the Royal Canadian School of Signals will go through its paces in 20th century style.

PATH BLOCKED

TORONTO (CP)—Police said Charles Mansell blocked the path of a driverless truck with his new automobile Friday—and probably saved a group of children playing in the road.

The rear of the car was smashed but no one was hurt.

The truck was parked 100 yards from the children when it started to run down an incline, police added.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IF YOUR FRIEND WANTS TO REFORM, HE'LL REFORM HIMSELF

Dear Beatrice Fairfax: What do you think about a fellow who says he loves a girl but that she'd better have nothing to do with him because she's too good for him?

About two months ago, I met this fellow, who seemed very nice and I liked him a lot right away. I am 20 years old, and he is 22. He has asked me out on a number of dates since our first meeting, and I have always enjoyed being with him very much.

Then all of a sudden the other night he said that he thought I shouldn't see each other any more, because we might get too interested in each other, and he didn't think that would be a good thing. He said he wasn't the kind of fellow a girl like me should be going with; that I was too good for him and he didn't want me to get hurt. When I asked him to tell me just exactly what he meant by this, he said that he knew he didn't live the right kind of life; that he went out with girls who weren't good like me, and went with them for just one thing. He said I could guess what that was.

I told him that I thought he did these things because he was hanging around with the wrong sort of fellows, and that if he'd stop that, he'd be all right. He said I had a lot of sense for my age, and that I was probably right, but he didn't say he'd do as I suggested. He just said he felt better for telling me what he did, and he had tears in his eyes when he said it.

What I want to know is, do you think a fellow like this is likely to change his ways and make something of himself, or what? — Mary T.

Dear Mary: It is certainly possible for a young man who has got off on the wrong foot to move over to the right one if he really wants to do so, but I think you'd be wise to wait and see if that happens before letting yourself become too involved with this one.

And don't get the idea that if you take him on as a project, you can be a good influence on him and reform him. Altogether too many girls and women have tried this and found they had wasted their time—and only got hurt for their pains. If a man is interested in a woman, and has any basic soundness of character at all, he'll reform himself, and not depend on anybody else to do the job for him. So far as this particular chap is concerned, I can't see that he has given you any reason to believe that he really wants to live any different kind of life. He admitted you were right when you said he was going around with the wrong sort of friends, but he didn't indicate that he intended to give them up and find the right sort.

My feeling is that while it's possible this young man may have moments of regret over his bad habits, they're not strong enough to make him very anxious to give up those habits. I'm not convinced by tears in the eyes, either! The old saying that "actions speak louder than words" is still a good sound statement of fact and I recommend that you keep it in mind.

And one more word of caution: My experience has been that when a young man tells a girl that she is "too good" for him, he is usually right. If she's wise, she'll stop and think carefully before going any farther with him.

As a rule, except in rare instances, there are just two reasons that I know of why a man ever says a thing like this. Either he is using it as an excuse for freeing himself from a friendship of which he is tiring, or he really has lived the kind of life he knows no decent girl would condone or approve—

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

RELAX FOR BEAUTY'S SAKE

History is replete with the names of famous men who were able to do endless hours without sleep, yet whose accomplishments were amazing. They seemed never to tire, never to lack the energy needed to carry on their duties. But there was one thing they had learned to do, and that was to relax at odd moments. Napoleon's 1 - minute naps in the midst of his most bitterly fought campaigns are legendary. Thomas Edison's daytime catnaps equally so. And today's busy men and women are trying to learn the technique. For nervous tension is a product of our times and is responsible for more aches and pains than those caused by organic troubles. Nervous tension is also one of the greatest enemies to beauty since it produces wrinkles, frown lines, tautness of the mouth and rigidity of movement—none of which contribute anything worthwhile to a woman's appearance.

If you are a homemaker, you should make it a point, no matter how busy you are, to take at least 10 or 20 minutes twice a day to just "let go" and do nothing. Impossible, you may say, but you can train yourself to do it. At first, you may lie down and spend your "relaxing" period worrying what to buy John for his birthday or trying to figure out if the budget will really stand for a large juicy steak when Aunt Mame and the kids come on Sunday. But if you will try to put these thoughts—and all thoughts—out of your mind during these periods you'll soon get the hang of it and feel infinitely better for it.

Sometimes an exercise will help you to relax. One which is particularly efficacious relaxes both nerves and muscles which is, after all, the ideal relaxation. Sit on the floor cross-legged, with wrists crossed over your ankles and leaning forward slightly from the waist. Now, drop your head forward so that you feel a definite tugging on the nerve centers at the base of your spine. Hold this position for a few moments then, with all your muscles completely relaxed, roll your head from left to right in a complete circular motion. The front of the head should go from left, to back, to right and return to first position. Close your eyes while exercising and repeat the movement slowly and rhythmically five times; then do the exercise counter-clockwise. You will feel thoroughly relaxed after doing this exercise for about ten minutes. Don't wait until you are thoroughly fatigued before doing it, however. Relaxing exercises and catnaps should be taken to prevent fatigue—not to cure it.

And perhaps finds it more to his liking than giving it up and living her kind of life. So be advised, Mary, and don't let your maternal instinct get you burning with the desire to rescue this chap from his evil ways. If he wants to be rescued, he'll rescue himself.

Readers' Saturday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Being a homemaker like yourself, your column is the most interesting to me in all the paper. You have such a happy way of adding a story to your recipes that we all feel we almost know you personally. Your daughter's wedding must have been very beautiful, and I'm sure all our very best wishes go out to Marianne and Herbie. Our only daughter (who has four brothers), is being married end of September, and is having a church wedding, but wants it to be simple. I expect will be in the afternoon. Most of the preparations will be done by myself, as Anne is working and I would very much appreciate any suggestions you could give me regarding quantities and preparation of same, something not too elaborate that could be done the day or days before. I expect to make the wedding cake and will have a friend, who is an expert at that sort of thing, to ice it. — don't answer until after your trip. Happy holiday, I'm sure you deserve it.—F. M. N.

ANSWER:

You readers make it impossible to be anything but happy. How lucky you are to have four potential ushers right on hand!

In 1935 in May in this column I gave a wedding reception buffet menu for 75 guests, in anticipation of the June weddings coming up. Mothers of brides and brides-to-be liked the idea so well that I have sent out hundreds of copies since then.

This is a repeat of that menu:

WEDDING RECEPTION BUFFET MENU

Lobster Salad Loaf (cold) and Hot Small Buttered Rolls or Chicken or Turkey a la King (hot) in small patty shells; Stuffed Celery Curis or Perfection Salad; Assorted Olives and Pickled Watermelon Rind; Fresh Peach or Strawberry or Walnut or Coffee Ice Cream; Orange Pecan Cookies (icebox); Angel Food Cake, Salted Pecans, Wedding (Cake, Reception Punch, Coffee.

LOBSTER SALAD LOAF

(Serves 25; triple this for 75.) Four cups soft fresh bread-crumbs, 4 6-oz. tins lobster, 2 8-oz. tins best quality red salmon, 1 cup canned mushrooms chopped, 1 tablespoon finely grated onion or chopped chives, 8 beaten eggs, 2 cups rich milk, 1-4 cup chopped pimientos (or finely chopped stuffed olives), salt and pepper. Remove liquid and bones from lobster and salmon and flake them and add to chopped mushrooms and the crumbs. Beat the eggs, add them to the remaining ingredients, tasting for salt and pepper. Turn into greased loaf tins. Stand these pans in a very large shallow pan containing hot water and bake in slow oven of 325 deg. Fahr. until set—about 40 minutes. Chill. Turn out on platters on beds of delicate green lettuce leaves, garnished with tomato and lemon wedges and parsley. The salmon takes on the flavor of the lobster and reduces the cost. All lobster may be used, substituting 3 more 6-oz. tins and omitting salmon.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY A LA KING

(Serves 25; triple this for 75.) Ten cups cooked chicken or turkey. (A 4 1-2 lb. chicken yields 4 cups well-packed cooked diced meat.) One-half cup chopped, drained, canned pimiento, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 lb. sliced mushrooms sauteed in 3 tablespoons butter gently for 10 minutes, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 6 cups white sauce. Cut chicken or turkey in cubes before measuring. Make white sauce by melting 3-4 cup butter, stirring in 4 cup flour and when blended, 3 1-2 cups whole milk, until thick. Add salt and pepper to taste to the white sauce. Now add the mushrooms, which have been sauteed, to the sauce with the chicken and all other ingredients. Heat through in large double boiler, never over direct heat. Serve this on split baking powder biscuits, buttered or in patty shells daintily garnished. If you would like the recipes for the cookies or punch please write again. Best of luck.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

CONCERNING VARIOUS QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. I have several questions I'd very much appreciate your answering. The first is: Is it proper to have informals printed Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, Or should the names used be Ann and William Jones?

2. Is it good taste to use initials in wedding invitations?

3. Is it all right to wear white shoes with a floor-length gown in November?

4. My daughter is to be married soon, and my one-year-old baby will attend her wedding. Should she walk up the aisle with me, or with her 14-year-old brother? — A.L.J.

1. Mr. and Mrs. William Jones is the form of name generally used on the first page of Informals. This is the more practical form, as the cards then can be used for more uses... and whatever message or invitation is written on the inside pages may be signed with the informal names.

2. No. On wedding invitations initials should whenever possible, be avoided.

3. This depends on the type of white shoes and on the dress. With a formal white evening dress why not, in November white satin or crepe or lame evening shoes?

4. Your one-year-old daughter is really too young to attend the wedding. Certainly she should not walk up the aisle with you... your entrance should be posed and dignified, and you should not be distracted by having to give attention to your baby. And I do feel sorry for a 14-year-old boy who must care for his baby sister at the wedding. Your bride-daughter, not your baby-daughter, should be the center of all interest and attention on this important day!

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

SHOULD BE A THRILLER

Seven runners will face the starter's gun at the inaugural "Mead Mile," the first track attraction to be held in conjunction with the Belleville Fair. The race is scheduled to start in front of the grandstand on Monday afternoon at 3.30 and will finish at the same spot. The entries will race two laps. The track has been measured and found to be a correct mile.

Bill Phillips of the BCI staff has done a splendid job in arranging and organizing the race, which has been so named because of the handsome challenge trophy which will be held by the winner for a year. Donated by the Mead-Johnson Company of Belleville, the trophy will be presented to the winner on Monday by Mr. Robert Taylor of the Mead-Johnson Company.

The entries to date are: Bill Gault; Jimmy Green; Gerald Hill; Bill Dickey; John Marshall; Glen Maracle and Charlie Hewson. The runners are requested to meet Mr. Phillips at the main gate at 2.30 p.m., where they will be taken to the grandstand. Here, Dr. Russell Scott, fair president, will formally present them with complimentary tickets to the four-day exhibition.

Bill "Sammy" Gault is best remembered by his sensational race in the Ken Colling Memorial Cross-country run sponsored by the BCI athletic board annually. Last spring Bill raced to a new record for the event and established himself as one of the city's distance stars. Jimmy Green chased Sam to the wire in the cross-country and will be an outstanding threat to him in the Mead Mile. Gerald Hill, another secondary school track star, also ran in the cross-country and gave a highly creditable performance.

Glen Maracle, Bill Dickey, John Marshall are also runners of repute and will provide plenty of opposition. Charlie Hewson, a trackman with enviable records a few years ago, has come out of retirement to enter. Charles is a member of the Belleville School Board and the Chamber of Commerce, and is associated with the Mead-Johnson Company here.

Said Charlie when he filed his entry with this department: "As a public-minded citizen I wish to help make this first Mead Mile a big success." Charlie was a familiar figure on tracks of various army camps, also those of universities. He might prove to be the dark horse. In any event Charlie will be ready and rarin' to go when the starter's pistol barks on Monday.

The starter will be Mr. Jim Musgrove of BCI. Chief timer is Jack Bennett of Northern Electric, who with his assistants will time the race with a Northern electrical timing device. This insures absolute accuracy. The chief judge is this corner who will be assisted by Boyd Upper, Harry Mulhall, "Red" Doran and Bruce Bishop. Pre-race and other events will be announced over a public address system by Jack Devine.

The "Mead Mile," which has the all-out blessing of the Belleville Fair directorate, may be the forerunner of other special track events to be held in conjunction with the fair. Plans for an open two-mile relay race in connection with the Mead Mile are being considered for next year. Much interest has already been evidenced in a track relay and it is practically certain the event will be held next year.

Track and field events have been in the doldrums as far as the public here is concerned for many years. It is felt the Mead Mile and other events which may be staged, will be a long-necessary needle for a sport that, with the exception of school meets, has almost passed out of existence in this district.

Mr. Phillips won't like this, but this column does its hat to him for a job well and truly done. He has borne the brunt of the work necessary for the arrangement and completion of many plans necessary to the success of such a race. That will be his reward. And another tip of the sombrero to the Mead Johnson Company for its generous gesture in the donation of the handsome trophy, which bears its name. Incidentally, it is stated that another well-known industrial firm of the city has intimated it will donate a similar trophy for the proposed two-mile relay event.

SHIRLEY CAMPBELL AT MADOC

On Sunday, Bill Hawthorne is holding a speedboat regatta at well known Crystal Beach resort near Madoc. Says Bill: "The fastest craft in the outboard field, some 70 all told, will be on hand to vie for handsome prizes. Toronto outboard officials will be on hand for the meet which has been sanctioned by the Canadian Boating Federation."

And lookit, who's coming to present the trophy to the top prize winner, the bloke who has the fastest boat at the meet. None other than Shirley Campbell, pretty Fergus miss, who made a callant but unsuccessful bid to swim Lake Ontario recently. Yup, Shirley will be on hand to do the honors and probably splash around in the water just to keep in swim-shape. The kiddies get in free, in the park, that it.

HODGE PODGE

The winners of the TPT-Parkdale pee-wee baseball series will meet Goldie's Shells for the city championship. KC's go against Vics for the bantam city title. In OBA play-down competition are: Vaughans (bantam); Belleville Quakers (pee-wee); Houston's All-Stars (midgit); Belleville All-Stars (juvenile). Trenton softball representative in OASA playdowns have been removed from the intermediate "B" list, because of population, we are informed. This eliminates three scheduled playdowns with Frankford who will likely play off with Picton. Leo Lucella's Shellelites start their OASA intermediate girls' playdowns Monday at Alewife Field with the Trenton RCAF lassies. Return game Wednesday.

Whomp Kansas City for Two As Chisox Edge Tigers 2-1; Yankees, Boston Fall Behind

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Cleveland really has shaken its slump and Bob Lemon is back to stay, can Indians' second straight American League pennant be far behind?

It's been a pleasant mystery to manager Al Lopez how his Tribe has managed to stay so close in the touch-and-go race without a consistent attack and with his ace right-hander nursing an injury. Now regaining the lead for the first time since May 21, Indians have jumped into a one-game edge, triggered by a five-game winning streak.

They lengthened the gap by sweeping a day-night doubleheader 17-1 and 6-5, at Kansas City Friday while runner-up Chicago snared a 2-1 decision at Detroit. Third-place New York fell 1½ games behind and fourth-place Boston wound up four games back as the result of rainouts fostered by hurricane Connie.

AVILA HOMERS TWICE

A continued power streak and the first starting job in more than three weeks for Lemon brightened the pennant picture for the Tribe in the afternoon contest. Bobby Avila clubbed two of the Tribe's four homers, pairing his first with Jim Hegan's grand slammer in a seven-run first inning.
Lemon, now 13-7, worked just six innings in the first test of his injured leg and gave only four hits. His control was perfect, walking none, and he fanned one. A year ago, he was 16-5 at this point—then won seven as the Tribe clinched the pennant in the last 40 games. Sal Maglie mopped up in the first game.

In the night contest, Cleveland overcame a 2-0 Kansas lead with five in the sixth as Hal Naragon tripled with two on and Al Smith hit a two-run homer. Ferris Fain doubled home what proved the clincher in the ninth.

SOX HELD LEAD

White Sox took the lead on Jim Rivera's two-run homer in the first inning off loser Steve Gronke and managed to make it stand up. Virgil Trucks, with help from Millard Howell who fanned Ray Boone with two on in the eighth, won his 11th.
It was the fifth straight setback for Tigers, now 9½ games behind in their fifth-place spot.

Rivera has driven in seven runs in two games, counting five with two triples and a double at Kansas City Thursday.
In the National, where Philadelphia at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at New York also were washed away by heavy rain storms, Milwaukee tumbled 16½, Kansas City 11½, front-running Brooks by taking a 7-1 licking at Chicago. St. Louis rallied twice to split Cincinnati 8-7 in the only other game.

Marksman Tie For Top Shooting Honors

By ROY LABERGE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—The dream of Canada's marksmen were scheduled to compete today for three big prizes for which most have been practising all winter.

They are: the Governor-General's medal; a place on Canada's 1956 Bisleis team; and a new award, the Canadian service rifle championship.
Three hundred competitors—survivors of a Thursday qualifying match—will battle for the Governor-General's gold medal in morning and afternoon shoots.
The 18-man Bisleis team will be chosen from the marksmen with the top aggregate scores in the Governor-General's final stage and various matches shot previously at this week-long meet.

The new award, the service rifle title, goes to the competitor with the highest aggregate score in the Bisleis aggregate matches plus three service condition matches already fired at this army summer camp 14 miles west of Ottawa.
A Toronto civil engineer Friday led all comers when the grand aggregate was tallied—the score added to the Governor-General's match final stage to select Bisleis team members.

Lieut. Gilmour S. Boa, 31, had a 662 aggregate of a possible 675.
2nd Lieut. Edson L. Warner, 25-year-old Lennoxville, Que., trucker, who Thursday won the coveted army Queen's medal—one of the meet's top awards—was runner-up to Boa with 655.

Warner won a 600-yard major match Friday, the City of Ottawa. He shot 20 consecutive bullseyes—10 from 200 yards and 10 more at 900-yard range—for a perfect 100 score.
Capt. J. R. Newell of the Winnipeg Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders was second with 659. He made 49 points on the 200-yard range and hit the 50 possible at 900 yards.

In other matches Friday:
An eight-man Canadian team edged a British squad by one point to win the Michael Faraday Trophy, up for annual competition between Canadian and United Kingdom cadets and held by Canada since 1939. The Canadians scored 752 of a possible 800.

Ontario won an eight-man provincial match, scoring an aggregate 511 of a possible 600 points, firing at targets 1,000 yards away.
Members of the winning team included: Sgt. Jack Draper, Cochrane, Ont., 62.

Cliff Buckman posted a 21 of a possible 25-point score to beat out 10 other newspaper men in the annual unofficial press shoot and retain the Press Trophy, he first won last year.

The newspaper men fired five rounds each at 200 yards. Lowest score was a zero.

American Beats Canuck Swimmer

PHILADELPHIA (CP)—Wanda Werner, 14-year-old sprint swimmer of the Walter Reed Swimming Club, Washington, Friday night swam to a three-metre victory over Helen Stewart of Vancouver in the 100-metre free style event of the annual women's national AAU swimming and diving championships here.

Miss Werner tied a meet record in winning the event in 1:05.1.
Carin Cone, 15, of Ridgeway, N.J., tied a world record for a 50-metre course with a 2:45.6 performance in the 200-metre backstroke.
Marie Gillett, 17, also of Walter Reed, turned in the top job of them all as she eclipsed her own world record of 6:06.9 for the 400-metre individual medley with a 6:01.5 effort.

Royals, Leafs Keep Pace In International

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

First-place Montreal Royals continue to come up with strong pitching and powerful hitting as they continue to cling to their slender one game margin in the International League.
Righthander Pete Wojty and rightfielder Bobby Wilson combined to give the Royals a runaway victory over Buffalo Bisons 10-1 Friday night.

Runner-up Toronto Maple Leafs kept on the heels of the pace-setters, by downing Rochester Red Wings 4-2, but Havana Sugar Kings fell 3½ games off the pace, dropping a 4-1 decision to Columbus. The Richmond Virginians moved to within half game of seventh place by edging Syracuse Chiefs 3-2.

Wojty, wild in spots with seven walks, scattered six hits in registering his ninth victory in 13 decisions for the Royals. Wilson contributed four hits, two doubles, a triple and a single—good for six runs batted in—in Royals' 11-hit attack. Southpaw Bob Schultz, who lasted four innings for Bisons gave up eight runs on seven hits.

THREE IN THIRD

Leafs came up with three runs in the third inning to insure their victory. Stan Jok got Red Wings off to a 1-0 lead in the first with a home run, but Toronto came back with three singles, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly in the third for a 3-1 lead.

Ken Johnson started for Leafs, but Johnny Hetki relieved him in the seventh to preserve his victory. Millard Heim, first of three Rochester hurlers, was charged with the loss.

The Jets broke an eight-game Havana hex. Two errors by Cuban second baseman Yoyo Dava-

Vons Win With Nifty Wallop Thanks to Palsy Joey Gollop

By GEO. H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

No, no, Joe, please! We know you do not have eyes on both sides of your noggin—but please use those that somebody placed on the front side of your head. Gad, man, that decision reeked. We know that you did not or could not see what happened, but swelp me, the Prince, Malava, that is, had the Heinie flatter than our wallet two minutes after payday. He surf-boarded the Vons to perfection. And what did you do?

It is what you did not do—or see. You did not see the other Vons into the ring and horse-dance the Prince with a vicious kick to the midriff. No Joey, you are a good boy, but you are a good boy, and if Marce Tunney reads this, he should cut your salary to a five-figure job.

In other words, mess amigos, the Vons, Erich and Schoder, Joey'd a decision over Lord Athol Layton and his Samson Highness, Prince Malava last night. The melees was all square after two falls and dagnabbit, Prince Malava had that two Heinies looked for a pickle jar to park in, when it happened.

Jeez, the faithful scented a victory for the whites. Athol, the old-end-so from Surrey, huh, had saured the brute to a doozy or less standstill in the third fall when in leaped the princeling. Coconut Willie, a tub-thumping son-of-a-bitch, the prince's entourage, skinned the doozy's royal boss. The Prince, his wild, shaggy locks tossed by the four winds, leaped, skeddaddled, flew into action. He had Karl, or was it Fritz? who cares, in a tizzy with his wild but effective antics. Then he applied his famous "surfboard" hold. It was all over to intents and purposes—but the outboard Heinie was it. Karl or Fritz leaped into the ring minus invitation.

His partner in "rasslin" crime immediately sauged over and Joey ever steady, Braille, kid? gave the Germans the Vons. Swelp me, Joe Gollop, for two years we miss-spelt your name unintentionally. Now what happens? Any misdeeds on your part were covered by our typographical errors. Now that we have your correct name, you come up with this Jesse James act. Shame on you.

Anyhow, it was a good show with the Heinies coming up with the usual mayhem tactics and our side, Layton et al, doing right nobly for the cause of justice.

What tickled this rasslin palate was the Prince. The Samson son-of-a-surfboard really cut loose in that third heat when he practically cleaned the ring of its Teuton aroma. Gad, the shaggy-haired one ran wild and even pal Athol stood by in admiration.

Then, Joe, you pulled your blooper. You're a nice guy, Joe, socially, that is, and we like you. We can forgive you for the most of your imperfections . . .

But ring-middle robbery is something else. From now on you use your own underarm, sweat sticks, etc. We finished. Besides we are leaving for a vacation. And don't write us. And a word of warning. Our boy Friday, Gary Alexander, will be covering wrestling while we are away. He's only a pint-size . . . but totes a man's guts. Don't fool around with him. He writes it as he sees it.

This Doc Gallagher, the silver-haired, cat-like, wrestling homo sapiens, is really a nice guy . . . when he is not mixing matters with another matman. We talked with the "Doc" in the dressing room last night . . . and he was a pleasant chap. We like him. He hates publicity like a juiced-up bobcat hates a plump rabbit. We promised him at least three columns . . . spread over a period of ten years. But the "Doc" is a pleasant chap. We like him.

But come as they may, our chapeau goes off again to a scholar, a gentleman, and a regular guy. You may not agree, but our friend ringside and otherwise, Lord Athol Layton, is one of the best persons wrestling has produced. He is big, handsome and clever. And a fellow one would be proud to call "pal."

Marlene Meets Mary Gay In Women's Open Golf Final

By STEPHEN SCOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA (CP)—Mary Gay, 23-year-old clouter from Kitchener, tees off today in her final round of the Canadian women's open golf championship. The question is: Will history repeat itself?

Miss Gay, who upset medalist Mrs. Edean Anderson Ihanfeldt of Seattle 1 up in a semi-final match Friday, meets defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., in the 36-hole final.

For Miss Gay, victory over Mrs. Ihanfeldt was doubly sweet. She was runner-up to the precise American golfer when she won the 1952 Open. Today she takes on the girl who beat her in the women's Close in 1953 and the Open in 1954. She lost to Mrs. Ihanfeldt and Miss Stewart in the Open by the same score—3 and 8.

Miss Stewart entered the finals with an easy 5 and 4 win over Sheila Ross of Vancouver, runner-up in the Vancouver city championship.

SIX UNDER PAR
In the tight Ihanfeldt-Gay match, Miss Gay toured the tough 6,253-yard Royal Colwood golf course in an approximate six-under par 71, the same score Miss Stewart had in the Close last week which she won with a record-breaking 223.

On the back nine Miss Gay broke all women's records, coming in with a six-under-par 34 against Mrs. Ihanfeldt's 35.

On the eighth Mrs. Ihanfeldt's drive shot was heading for the trees and the rough when it hit a woman spectator in the stomach and bounced back onto the fairway. The woman was just wounded and Mrs. Ihanfeldt went on to split the hole.

The lead switched four times and after Mrs. Ihanfeldt won the first two holes and lost the next two, neither was more than one up on the other.

Both were playing near-perfect golf although Mrs. Ihanfeldt was having trouble on the tee. They BLASTED AN EAGLE

Mrs. Ihanfeldt went one up at the 10th with a par four. But then Miss Gay blasted an eagle two from the 220-yard 11th, chipping in from two feet from the edge of the green, two square the match.

They split the 12th and Miss Gay missed a two-foot putt on the 13th to give the American the hole. The match was deadlocked again on the 14th, then Miss Ihanfeldt went one up again on the 15th or 16th when she missed a 383-yard 16th when Miss Gay dropped her third ball in a 12-foot putt. Mrs. Ihanfeldt had the tee to get within 30 feet of the cup.

Miss Gay took the lead at the 200-yard 17th when Mrs. Ihanfeldt just missed the cup with a chip shot from five yards in front of the green and the Ontario girl

Three BCI track stars will take part in the inaugural "Meat Mile" race at the Fair Grounds Monday afternoon. They are Bill "Sam" Gaul, who set a new record at the Ken Colling Memorial Cross-Country race this spring; Jimmy Green, who chased Sam to the wire in the thrilling final; and Gerald Hill, another fine runner. The BCI trio should furnish plenty of thrills as they are evenly matched.

Vancouver Lions Completely Rebuilt; Also Empire Stadium

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—It's what's underneath that counts.

The uniforms look the same and the green field into which they were trampled last season is the same emerald shade.

But this year's version of the British Columbia Lions is not the same. Nor is the field on which they will romp.

Lions' low men on the Western Interprovincial Football Union totem in the autumn of 1954, have been rebuilt at an estimated $100,000 more than the $435,000 they ran through last year.

That was about all they ran through, too—losing 16 games and winning one.

And Empire Stadium, rushed to completion for last summer's British Empire Games, has been returned at a cost of $56,000—payment of which the City of Vancouver is still trying to determine.

From present indications, the cleaned 76, 28 struggle for the Grey Cup should be a far cry from the mud-fights seen at the 25,500-seat stadium last year.

Lions play only one exhibition game this year—the Wednesday night encounter they took 30-24 from Toronto Argonauts of the eastern Big Four.

The game drew 22,448 paying customers, compared with the 29,000 attracted in exhibitions last year against Montreal Alouettes.

Winnipeg's Larks—and Hamilton Tiger Cats, who triumphed 12-0.

Even the win over Toronto gave Lions' head coach Annis Stukus disciplinary action handed out to the 28-cutting day.

Dan Edwards, here via New York Yankees, Dallas Texas and Baltimore Colts, and Sam Adams galloped in the accurate passes of Arnie Galiffa and Ron Clinkscales.

No Suspension for 35 Jockeys, Riders Call Off Threatened Strike

FORT ERIE (CP)—The horses were to go to the post as scheduled today at Fort Erie race track after 35 jockeys called off a threatened strike rather than face mass suspension.

In an 11th hour decision, the riders agreed to forget their grievance and ride on Ontario's tracks for the rest of the season. But they demanded that the racing stewards here be replaced.

The strike plans were to protest disciplinary action handed out to jockey Vic Bovine, suspended for 10 days for interference in a race Aug. 4.

The jockeys had threatened to refuse mounts for today's racing, the final day here, unless Bovine's suspension was lifted.

FACED SUSPENSION

In reply, the Ontario Racing Commission gave the jockeys until 7 p.m. Friday to change their minds or face mass, indefinite suspension.

But the jockeys didn't back down completely. At a meeting they declared that the track stewards here were "inexperienced, incompetent and lacked judgment."

Len Stroud, business agent of the Jockeys' Benefit Association of Canada, said horsemen would be invited to sign a petition asking the commission to replace the present Fort Erie stewards and appoint men of "wide experience in horse racing."

HARM ENTERTAINMENT
Stroud said the stewards had exceeded their powers and would not be upheld by the courts. But he said the jockeys had been advised that a strike today would have harmed the entertainment of the race-going public and the finances of the track operators.

The jockeys said Bovine's suspension "was not justified by the photo film of the running of the race. The stewards said he interfered with a horse by not keeping a straight run."

William J. Riswick, racing supervisor for the commission, said the petition was "a farago of nonsense."

as if they owned the ball. Adams is fighting for Mac Speedie's spot at end.

Al Pollard, ex-army holdover from last year, Galiffa and Clinkscales are set in their spots, making the fight tough for Primo Villanueva, swivel-hipped rhumba dancer from Canada's Ted Dunlop.

Barthol, the ranger ghost who is fighting for halfback spots, and by Bailey at wing-back.

Galiffa and Clinkscales will alternate the quarterbacking with an assist from Canadian Ted Dunlop.

None of the three slotmen used last year—Johnny Mazur from Notre Dame, old pro Gerry Tuttle or Canadian Gene Robillard—were invited to try out again in 1955.

Bob Levenhagen, Arnie Weinmeister and Laurie Neimi, the men who bulwarked the line last year, are back.

"We know nobody's going to run through our line," Levenhagen said. "And now we know we've got an offence. But who will cut those backs?"

"Crowe," replied Stukus, pointing at line coach Clem Crowe, formerly coach of Ottawa Rough Riders. "As of now I'm naming him cutting coach."

The season ticket cost to view the results will be $32 near the stadium line for the eight games inside the stadium; $23.29 in four corners and $14 in the end zones.

And the Lions are going to need every penny of it. Their higher budget involves two extra coaches this year—Crowe in the line and Vic Lindskog from Philadelphia on the backfield. Lions went to training camp, costing an estimated $12,000; there are higher salaries to pay and nearly $4,000 set aside for developing minor football.

Also, there will be one more trip to the Prairies than last season. The average attendance last year was 16,000—Lions figure to need about 18,500 to break even this year.

WOLVERHAMPTON LOSES
MOSCOW (Reuters)—Britain's Wolverhampton Wanderers lost 3-2 to Moscow Dynamo before 80,000 fans at Dynamo Stadium here Friday night.

The Wolves dropped their first game here 3-0 Sunday to the Moscow Spartak team.

Terriers Win Over Elgins
GALT (CP)—Jimmy Martin bested Gene Florey in a pitching duel Friday night to give Galt Terriers a 2-0 victory over St. Thomas Elgins in an Intercounty Baseball League game that took only one hour and 40 minutes.

It was Martin's top performance of the season. He held the Elgins to four hits and struck out nine. Only two Elgins got as far as second base.

The Terriers got their pair of counters in the seventh when Ralph Brawner doubled on the first pitch and was sacrificed and came home on Dick Anderson's hot single through second. A hit batsman and Jim Martin's single to left field, netted the second and last counter of the game. The bunching of three hits in that frame was the deciding factor in the game.

South Hastings Baseball League
Latta evened the count in the South Hastings Baseball League semi-finals last night, defeating Cannifton by a 9-4 score. The teams meet in the third game of the best-of-five series at Cannifton on Monday night.

Oliver on the mound for Cannifton was touched for ten hits. He struck out the same number and walked two.

Cannifton scored three in the first, one in the fourth, two in the seventh and three in the ninth. Latta hit for a single in the first and was held scoreless until the eighth when they shoved over three runs.

Line-ups:
Cannifton: Harder, Moore, N. Stollker, MacDonald, Sheffield, Petrie, Cole, Marnier, Oliver.

Latta: Gero, Ray, Glass, Sullivan, Parks, Waite, Meeks, G. Gow, S. Reid.

Umpires: Platte, Williams; bases, Strachan.

Line Score
Cannifton 300 100 203—9 11 3
Latta 000 000 030—4 10 2

Next games:
Saturday, August 13, 6:30 p.m., Shannonville at Read.

Monday, August 15, 6:30 p.m., Latta at Cannifton.

Tuesday, August 16, 6:30 p.m., Read at Shannonville (if necessary).

Wednesday, August 17, 6:30 p.m., Cannifton at Latta.

Friday, August 19, 6:30 p.m., Latta at Cannifton (if necessary). Shannonville 2, Read 0.

Latta 1, Cannifton 1. Best three-out-of-five.

Rosburg Sets Pace In Tam O'Shanter

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Rosburg, as unorthodox a golfer as you'll find, has the picture-swinging proof of his duster in the "World" money rush at Tam O'Shanter.

Rotund Robert, with a sensational two rounds of 66-67 for 133-11 under par, today was setting a record pace by two strokes in the scramble for first prize of $50,000 in cash and an exhibition contract of a potential 105 matches worth $1,000 each.

He was better at the halfway mark by a 12-stroke lead than Byron Nelson when the latter fired his 72-hole record of 269 in 1945.

Following Rosburg into the third round was Wally Ulrich, seeking his first tournament victory since taking the Kansas City Open last year. Ulrich hooked up the best second 18-hole score of the field, a 66 for a midway total of 135.

REACHES PEAK

At 138 was Henry Rosburg, the 1950 "World" winner who has shaken off a back ailment to reach the peak of his game.

Grouped at 140 were Jay Hebert, former Louisiana state star now in his seventh year as a pro; Gene Little, fourth leading money winner, and Bo Winingham.

Farther behind were such big time champions as Doug Ford with an even-par 144; Cary Middlecoff, 147; Jack Fleck, 142; Peter Thomson, 143; Sam Snead, 147; Lew Worsham, 148, and defending "World" champion Bob Toski, 152.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a 75 for a 147. Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., added a 73 for a 149 total.

NOT SINCE 25 YEARS

Probably not since Paul "Little Poison" Runyan was knocking off the big shots 25 years ago with his chuckle-provoking back swing has there been a pro like Rosburg.

Respectable, rather stoop-shouldered and sporting a bay window, he looks out of place among the lean, weatherbeaten bunch he travels with on the tourney circuit.

He grips the club as though it were a baseball bat.

"The big thing," he said, "is to get the ball in the hole. I seem to be doing it."

Rosburg has been in the money consistently since he turned pro in April 1953. His latest triumph was in the Miami Open last December and he has won $15,000 since.

Consistent Al Balding Adds Pro Title to Other Crowns

By CLYDE BATTEN

HAMILTON (CP)—Al Balding of Toronto has proved himself one of the most consistent winners in Canadian golf today.

Friday he added the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship to his record of two wins in the Millar Trophy competition and two in the Bursary competition.

His six-under-par 204-total for the 54-hole test gave him a five-stroke lead over runner-up Murray Tucker of Toronto Rosedale, who had 209. Sox broke off the pace was Gordie Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, with a 210 to take third spot honors.

Balding's win in the two-day tournament appeared certain after the first round Thursday in which he scored the par-70 Ancaster Hamilton golf course in a sizzling 65.

His score in that round was one stroke off the course record set in 1940 by Tommy Armour.

Following up his first-round score, Balding carded a 67 to take a commanding lead going into the final round. The 31-year-old ace ran into some trouble on the final 18 and settled for a 72.

Tucker, this year's Millar Trophy champion, played par golf but was no match for Balding.

In a tournament billed as preview of the Canadian Open to be played at the Weston golf course next week, Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon, 1954 Canadian Open champion, fell victim to the "flu bag."

Fletcher came off a sick bed to play the opening round Thursday where he scored a 71. He blew to a 77 in Friday's early round. The third round proved too much for him and he picked up on the 12th hole.

Bill Kerr, of Montreal Beaconsfield president of the PGA, finished in fourth spot behind Brydson with a 212 total. Bill Korzak, St. Catharines, and Henry Martell, Edmonton, finished in fifth spot with 214 totals.

Balding's prize—winning effort brought him $750 in cash plus smaller gifts. Tucker picked up $600 while Brydson went home $500 richer.

Korzak took home $275. Hal Butler of Oshawa won $190 as did Lloyd Tucker, Kitchener Rockway.

Altogether more than $4,000 in prize money was shared by the winners.

In conjunction with the PGA tournament a senior golfers' tournament was held in which the best scores carded by golfers over 50 years of age in the first 36 holes of the tournament were awarded prizes.

First prize winner was Willie Lamb, Toronto Lambton, who won $200. Second spot went to Normie Himes of Kitchener Westmount. He received a $100 cheque.

Ma was looking at pop with a thoughtful expression, saying,
"Really, William, I mean actually, if all men were as modest and retiring as you, the world would be a different place."

At least it would be more modest and retiring, pop said, and ma said, "Now William, I'm serious.
Other men stick out their chest and blow their own horn all over the place, but it's a rare exception to hear you brag about yourself, even in a good cause. If I was a man
I'm sure I couldn't help being proud and cocky if everybody told me I look exactly like such a famous actor as Cornwall Lord, as you're constantly being told, she said."

I might let the compliment go to my head if the comparison didn't have a sting attached to it, pop said. It seems I'm only supposed to look like Cornwall Lord when I've got my hat on, he said.

Meeting on account of Cornwall
Lord being famous for having a lot of wavy hair, and pop being famous for not having hardly any, and ma said, I know what you mean,
William, but there's no barrier that can't be shrugged off with a philosophical laugh. There's such a thing as mind over matter, and it lifts men from the lowliest depths to the loftiest heights, she said.

Maybe so, my dear, but the plane truth is, I don't quite follow you, pop said, and ma said, Well, other men have worn a toopy on their head, even though they didn't even remotely resemble Cornwall Lord.

What a wig? pop said. Yee gods, that's the limit, that's the end, that's the ultimate jumping off place. Excuse me while I retire modestly behind my newspaper, he said.

Being the sad end for ma.

CAMPBELLFORD

Council Requested To Provide Funds For New School

CAMPBELLFORD—The Campbellford Town Council held its regular meeting this week, when one of the items on the agenda was a letter from Mrs. E. C. Roberts, secretary of the Public School Board.

It was requested that the council apply to the Municipal Board for permission to issue debentures to the sum of $130,000 for a six-room school to accommodate an anticipated increase in attendance. At present, it was pointed out, there is a room being used in the basement of the present school to care for the overflow.

Council decided to hold a joint meeting with the Board to discuss the problem.

Taxi operators interviewed the council, asking that the number of licenses issued be limited. No action was taken pending further representation by the taxi men.

Mr. Jos. Maddocks asked for an extension of sidewalks at his home, Market Street and Dosses Ave., and some betterment in his sewer facilities. The latter was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee to report, and the extension of 20 feet to the sidewalk was granted.

Mr. R. H. Townsend reported building permits for 1955 down decidedly and spoke on the re-organizing of the Public Library. This was, he claimed, recommended by the inspectors, and was done at a cost of about $455.

Reeve Maybree reported that the prime and sand for resurfacing the streets done this year had cost about $800 and $2,400 had been spent on the sidewalks. Regarding improving the approach to the Sunoco Service Station at Second and Centre Streets, he reported that the improvement of the shoulders of Bridge St. West near Canrobert St., to eliminate dust and dirt, the Road and Bridge Committee was given power to act if the budget would allow the expenditure.

WILL BUY SPEED TRAP

The Police Committee was authorized to spend $350.00 for a speed trap and signs.

Mr. Ivey reported that the case concerning equalization with the United Counties would be reviewed on September 26th at Cobourg, when all assessment rolls would be available.

Insurance on the building occupied by the Public Utilities Commission is to be increased to a figure commensurate with the value, as the Commission spent nearly $5,000 on its renovation.

Considerable discussion, but no action was provoked by the question of the use of the council chambers by outside organizations. Cleaning costs are considerable and it was felt that a charge should be made for the use of the room.

An "Old Boys' Reunion" for 1956 was discussed. The event would commemorate the 50th anniversary of incorporation of Campbellford as a town. Mayor Locke named councillors Linton, Nichols and Tatham, together with the clerk, as a committee to institute proceedings to have a reunion next July.

There was a lot of discussion on the problem brought up by Councillor Linton concerning the Baptist Church corner.

It was decided to erect stop signs three ways at the intersection, remove the gravel and paint lines for the observance of the traffic at this corner.

Council empowered the Park Committee, to which Councillor Macmillan's name was added, to spend up to $500 on the parks on the canal bank south of town to improve their appearance and utility.

After the passing of the pay sheet, council adjourned.

Wheat Stockpile Third Highest In History

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's wheat stockpile is down almost 100,000 bushels from last year but is still the third highest in history. The stockpile on July 31 stood at 481,785,000 bushels compared with last year's near-record 582,675,000 bushels and the record carryover of 594,626,000 in 1953.

The bureau of statistics, reporting the figure Friday, also announced that over-all holdings of all principal grains is 98 per cent higher than for the last 10 years.

Of the 481,785,000 stockpile of wheat, 1,395,900,000 bushels were held on the farms, mainly in the prairie provinces, again the third highest in history. Reports from the West say farmers fear all this wheat will create an acute storage problem and Agriculture Minister Gardiner already has been reported as gesturing expansion of farm storage facilities.

Besides the farm-held wheat, 212,230,000 bushels are in private elevators and 40,332,000 in Lake-head terminals.

FLYING SUPERSONIC LABORATORY

The first aircraft designed and built to investigate heat and speed problems encountered well beyond the speed of sound, the new Bell X-2 is shown in flight over Edwards Air Force Base, California. To be used solely as a flying research laboratory, the X-2 has a rocket engine capable of developing as much power as a modern navy cruiser. It is declared to be an advanced version of the X-1A which blew up in the bomb bay of the mother B-29 over the Mojave desert in California. (Central Press Canadian.)

Aircraft Repair Section Wins 6RD Track and Field Meet

TRENTON (Special) — Competition among the athletes was keen and enthusiasm in the bleachers high at the annual sports day for personnel of No. 6 Repair Depot RCAF yesterday. No former records were broken, however, as the team representing the Aircraft Repair Section swept away the honors of the meet. ARS athletes will carry depot colors to Station Trenton later this fall to Command and inter-station track and field and water competitions.

Honors for the athlete with the highest aggregate score went to Corporal Peter Howell, who placed first in the hop, step and jump and broad jump events and second in the javelin throw. He collected 13 1/2 points. The best woman athlete of the day, AW2 S. Mansell gathered a like total in nosing out WD Corporal J. Blackie and WD F/C B. Hart tied for second place.

The mile run, always a thrill producer, had the crowd cheering as Corporal George Fedak, running under Acceptance and Ferry Flight ribbons, crossed the finish line striding strong and well out in front. The real tussle was between LAC Critchley and Corporal Jeff Grovostine, the latter after what appeared to be a poor start, spurred the last quarter mile to overtake the field and threaten the leaders. Time for this race, 6:05, was slow compared to the four minute efforts being turned in by milers lately.

Time for the 100-yard dash was far from the record but considering track conditions LAC Al Bamford turned in a sterling performance covering the distance in 11.1. The other dash, the 220 was taken

DEVISE NEW JOB

HAMILTON (CP)—The board of control has answered jail governor J. D. Huddle's request for a new type of work to keep prisoners busy. The men, the board said Wednesday, could paint city-owned equipment if council's jail committee agrees.

Service...in all sizes!

That's just about what our business comes down to.

One of our old customers — a long time borrower — wants very little.

All he asks for is fast and reliable service when he needs a cash advance.

But we have other customers too.

People who come to see us about financial problems, budget problems, or just advice. Perhaps you don't need a loan at all. Maybe a bit of advice from our Manager on how to help manage your funds would be useful.

We don't know what size service you take, of course.

But we do know you can find it at

Tax Incentives For Industry Tapering Off

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director Arthur S. Fleming of the office of defense mobilization has announced new orders which may lead to a sharp tapering off in the kind of tax incentives which have been granted in the United States for $30,500,000,000 worth of plant and equipment expansion held essential to national security.

The action was late Thursday after a series of other orders aimed at tightening up credit.

Fleming ordered an end to special tax benefits in 19 industries and a suspension, pending a review expected to take a month or more, in 38 others. The incentives were kept available for 20 "expansion goals"—chiefly applying to items of high military demand.

It is too early to tell what effect the orders will have.

Consolidated Edison Co. of New York said its construction plans would not be affected at all, but the Aluminum Co. of America (Alcoa) indicated at Pittsburgh it might drop some plans if tax benefits for that industry are shut off.

STARTED DURING WAR

Both are in the category suspended pending further study.

The present writeoff program, started during the Korean War, was similar to one used in the Second World War. Companies undertaking approved expansion projects can write off a portion of the cost for tax purposes in five years.

The suspended "expansion goals" included such industries as electric power, iron and steel, railroads, oil, metals including aluminum, commercial aircraft, ocean shipping, chemicals and airport facilities.

The industries for which the tax benefits were ended include asbestos, lead, manganese ore, cement, tungsten, zinc, various alloying minerals, and certain types of steel.

The 20 expansion goals kept open for the fast write-offs cover such items as aviation fuel, copper, nickel, mercury, titanium, and products ordered directly by the armed services and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Candid Report on Florida Fishing

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT, (Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Solunar Tables.)

My son, Dick, has just returned from a six-weeks visit to south Florida where he was collecting material and photographs for a series of magazine articles. Dick attended the University of Miami for two years and, after graduation, lived in Miami for three more years. Thus, he has been well acquainted with Florida fishing since 1949.

South Florida is one of the nation's playgrounds. As such, the mismanagement of that state's wildlife supplies and natural resources is, in fact, a matter of national rather than local interest. For that reason, I am setting down my report here just as he gave it to me. While the report is far from favorable, it is a frank statement of conditions as he found them. Here it is:

"Miami and Miami Beach lie on the shores of Biscayne Bay. This body of water is lined with fashionable homes, hotels and boat docks. Even with this encroachment of civilization, these waters annually yield some splendid fishing. That is, they have in the past."

HUGE CATCHES

"I've talked to old residents in this area—those who can remember back to the days when there was one rickety wooden causeway crossing the bay. They talk of huge catches of trout and snapper—in part, they live in the past. No fishing or hunting can stand the advance of progress without showing a decline. But abuse and waste has hastened this decline beyond any schedule predicted some fifteen years ago."

"Recently, the City of Miami built a new public library. It is an imposing structure, well worthy of this rapidly-growing town. Traffic systems have improved, streets are built and repaved—all worthwhile endeavors. Yet the waters of Biscayne Bay are becoming a muddy brown from constant drainage of sewage from the city."

"Not many years ago, Crandon Park, a recreational area of no inconsiderable size, was constructed out of south Florida. Spanning the bay there is Hickenbucker Causeway, a series of concrete spans passing over some of the finest bottom fishing grounds in the bay. Yet in Bear Cut and along the public bathing beaches, with certain changes of tide and wind, garbage bobs merrily among the bathers."

GOOD FISHING GONE

"The fishing? What would you expect? Where trout fed on grass beds within a half mile of the business section of Miami, there are now only a few small ones, but the good fishing is no longer there."

"Recently, a group of sportsmen in south Florida banded together in protest against the flagrant man ravages. This bill was sent to the State Capitol for legislative action. There, so help me, it was shelved and by-passed. Why? Because commercial fishing interests raised such a scream over losing possible revenue from snook selling at the fish houses (at recent check) at the rate of twelve cents a pound."

"The Tamiami Trail runs from the east coast of Florida to its west—a straight ribbon of a road seemingly under constant construction. From the turn at Everglades City, on across past Marco, snook used to cruise the canal flanking the road, giving the weekend angler better-than-average sport. Fishing at times was phenomenal along this stretch, with some truly monstrous fish being taken."

"Some state engineer, who obviously knows more about a slide rule than he does about fishing, decided to block off the Everglades Canal from emptying into the Trail Canal. Not only did he seal it forever, thus cutting off fish migration, but he had it moved some hundred feet at Everglades turn. The gentleman who is responsible for this should be proud of himself. He managed to ruin more good fishing with one decision than any other one instance I can recall at present."

"A recent survey, conducted by Sports Afield Magazine, shows that hunting and fishing jointly constitute one of the nation's largest businesses. Annually within the United States, a sum slightly in excess of $9,000,000,000 is spent by the followers of these two sports. Nine billion, that is—not mine."

"The vacation states, of which Florida is most certainly one, know that one of their main sources of revenue is fishing. Pleasant climate and surroundings, while always nice to have, are of secondary importance if the fishing is good."

"When the state in question caters to local pork-barrel politics, generally ignoring conservation and improvement of the out-of-doors for the furtherance of its sports Afield Magazine, shows that hunting and fishing jointly constitute one of the nation's largest businesses. Annually within the United States, a sum slightly in excess of $9,000,000,000 is spent by the followers of these two sports. Nine billion, that is—not mine."

"We, my father and I, have been familiar with the fishing in south Florida since the winter of 1948-49. We have watched it go from bad to worse to increasingly worse. It is high time that Florida, as a whole and its individual municipalities realize that the handwriting is on the wall."

"Without doubt, there is much work to be done and the damage from many mistakes must be undone. Here's hoping that Florida, one of the nation's playgrounds, realizes this before it is too late."

WOMAN SUFFERS
SPINAL INJURY
IN CAR CRASH

Mrs. Betty Pietrandia, Detroit, suffered spinal injury Sunday afternoon when a car driven by her husband Anthony went out of control near Marysville and went into the ditch. She was admitted to Belleville hospital where she was treated by Dr. A.C.R. McGonigle.

Heavy Damage
In 7-Car Pileup
At Shannonville

Damage estimated at $3,000 to $4,000 resulted Saturday in a seven-car collision near the Shannonville bridge on highway No. 2 about ten miles east of Belleville.

Drivers of the vehicles involved were confused as to the cause of the accident. Lead driver in the seven car pile-up, said he slowed his car in heavy rain when a transport truck in front of him slowed approaching the bridge.

Other drivers said they stopped their cars and then were rammed into the car ahead of them by a car from back in the line.

It was not clear whether any of the drivers came to a complete stop before crashing into the car ahead of them or whether they skidded on wet pavement or were rammed from behind by other vehicles.

Drivers of the cars were: Arnold Nataro, of Ozone Park, N.Y.; Manor Griswald, of Brantford; Cyril Bonner, of Guelph; John Zimmerman, of Dearborn, Mich.; Mrs. June Unapher, of Rosford, Ohio; Allan Becker, of Toronto; and Reginald Hollis of Naperville.

Constable J. A. Fullerton investigated the accident. No charges were laid.

Unapher's 20-month-old daughter suffered a fractured collar bone when she was pitched forward by the collision. She was treated in Belleville General Hospital and released.

Shriners Will Be Fair Hosts
To Kiddies

In keeping with their annual policy members of the Belleville Shrine Club will play hosts to some 25 crippled kiddies of the district at the Belleville Fair on Wednesday afternoon.

Shrine President Jack Bush and secretary Lionel Crawford would come 25 Shrine members on hand to help entertain the youngsters. The party will meet at the Shrine Club at 12:30 Wednesday.

Arrangements for lunch have been made to be taken by one of the organizations at the Club Commodore. Shrine "Paddy" Conklin will provide the rides for the youngsters.

Service Lines of Utilities,
Bell Telephone Company Take
Brunt of Damage in Storm

Service lines of the Belleville phone company took the brunt of Public Utilities and the Bell Telephone Company's damage in the Bay of Quinte area Saturday afternoon as Hurricane Connie blew herself out cross-country.

Slightly over two inches of rain fell during the afternoon and high winds carrying away branches and toppling trees interrupted hydro and telephone service.

Hydro and telephone repair crews worked continuously throughout the week-end restoring services ripped away by branches and trees.

Here and there a chimney was knocked off, a few screen doors fell victim to the wind, but otherwise the Quinte district escaped without too much damage.

"We had everybody out all week-end," an official of the Bell Telephone Company reported. "Wires and cables were down all over the city."

Many residents in the city had to do with cold suppers as local power supply was cut off during the late afternoon and was not restored for several hours.

A big branch crashed on Octavia street carrying away both hydro and telephone service and knocked down a hydro pole.

In the east end of the city several trees came crashing down with the wind disrupting hydro

Obituary

MRS. HARRY A. COOK
(Clarkson - Stirling)

Suffering a stroke a week ago, Mrs. Ida Mae Cook, former resident of Prince Edward County and Stirling, died in Oakville Memorial Hospital on Saturday evening.

She has been in failing health for some years, but her illness and death were unexpected.

The late Mrs. Cook was born in Prince Edward County, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stirling. She resided in this city and Stirling for some years when her father operated the old street railway here and in Stirling where he conducted a hotel for many years.

While a resident in Stirling she married Wm. Ferguson, but he died a few years later and she again married Harry A. Cook, who survives.

The couple recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Cook spent many years of her married life in Western Canada, where she was well known and highly respected. She took an active interest in the church, community and political life in the centres where she lived.

Some years ago the family moved to Toronto and later to Clarkson. She was a kind and gentle woman, had a kind personality and made a wide circle of friends in every community in which she lived.

Surviving are her husband, Harry A. Cook; three daughters: Mrs. Pearl Black of Hollywood, California; Miss Timothy (Florence) Munroe, of Clarkson; Mrs. Cecil (Bernice) Howe of Regina, Sask.; and one brother ex-Mayor George O. Tice, of this city. Mrs. George Cornish and Claude D. Tice of this city, are a niece and nephew.

The funeral will be held at Port Credit on Tuesday.

JOHN ENRIGHT

(Read)
John Enright, of Read, died suddenly at his home on Saturday evening, August 13. He was in his 68th year.

The deceased was born in Read, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Enright, and lived in that community all his life. He was a farmer.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Horigan; three daughters: Mrs. Clarence (Madeleine) McGrath, of Timmworth; Mrs. Mervin (Mildred) Burkholder, of RR 7, Belleville; Mrs. Gilbert (Margaret) Cowan, of Niagara Falls; and two sons, Francis, of Belleville, and Harold, at home.

He was predeceased by two sons, Joseph and James.

Also surviving him are two sisters: Mrs. John (Mary) Ringe, of Read; Mrs. Dennis (Kathleen) Kehoe, of Read; and one brother, James Enright, of Sutherland, Sask.

He was predeceased by three brothers: Joseph, Richard and Peter.

The deceased was a member of St. Charles' church, Read, and the Holy Name Society.

The body is resting at the deceased's late residence at Read. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

The east wind kicked up huge waves in the Bay of Quinte, the heavy waves rolling completely over the government dock. A few smaller boats were reported swamped while at anchor but otherwise no damage was reported.

APPLES ESCAPE HEAVY LOSS

Surprisingly enough very little damage was reported in the rural areas and even apple orchards were reported to have escaped without much loss.

Alton Heaver, Rawdon township orchard owner, said the damage was not too serious. Apples are still sufficiently green to have a good hold on the trees.

Also trees are very heavily laden with fruit and it takes a very severe wind to shake them.

Mrs. A. O. Dalrymple, county agricultural representative, said that on the whole farmers apparently suffered little loss.

A few corn fields are lodged but grain for the most part has been blown down with much of it already threshed.

The heavy rain would do much to freshen dried pastures and in turn would boost the milk flow.

In the city, public works crews this morning were still cleaning up the mess of limbs and branches which fell in all parts of the city.

During his stay in the Trenton area the writer was the guest of Group Captain G. G. Diamond, A.F.C., commanding officer RCAF Station, Trenton. She was taken on a tour of the big base and given the facts on Canada's CF-100 all-weather jet and a general centre tick. She was guest of the commanding officer and senior officer at luncheon.

The writer was staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Maude Zimmerman of Carrying Place.

Storekeepers and residents in the downtown section learned to respect hurricane Connie although the big blow that brought death and disaster to the east coast of the United States was just about spent by the time it reached this part of Ontario on Saturday.

Failure of hydro power caused by the storm hurt trade and caused discomfort to housewives between 2:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m.

Throughout the gale, accompanied by a deluge of rain, workmen of the Public Utilities, led by manager C. B. Campbell, worked feverishly to restore the service knocked out by falling trees and limbs.

While the heavy wind was blowing and rain was pelting down so hard that investigating officers could hardly see five feet in front of them, a taxi and the Brown car collided at the Crown and Campbell Streets intersection on the east side of town. The impact turned the car around and flipped it over on its side. The Browns' walked away without injury but were shaken and soaking.

Taxi driver, Edward F. Noble, and his passengers, Bill and Joyce Simpson, were not hurt.

Police estimated it would take $150 to fix Brown's car and $25 worth of repairs for the taxi.

In hospital with a broken neck is Mrs. Dorothy Mousseau, 27, of 574 College St., Toronto. Also admitted were her husband, Geo. Mousseau, 27, driver of the car, who suffered severe scalp and facial lacerations; Lucien Mousseau, 16, of Foxboro; Lucien Mousseau and Miss Gagne were under observation for undetermined injuries.

The car left Highway No. 14 three miles north of Belleville, while rounding a shallow curve, turned on its side, righted itself and rolled 150 feet before ramming a hydro pole head-on.

Thompson's ambulance, called to the crash, skidded off slippery pavement and went into the ditch. Driver David Thompson was treated in hospital for cuts and abrasions. Damage to the ambulance was estimated at $500 and to the Mousseau car, $2,500.

Heavy rain and low visibility were blamed for the accident.

Second Book

TRENTON. (Special).—Jacqueline Hazard Weaver, an annual visitor to Carrying Place, five miles south of here, has concluded her holidays in Canada and is on her way back to Los Angeles, California, to start work writing a second book.

The grandchild of one of Carrying Place's earliest settlers turned out one of this year's best sellers on her first attempt. The title of the book is "The Lonely Sky."

The true story reveals the fears and sensations of a test pilot, experienced flying a supersonic rocket ship at twice the speed of sound.

Acclamation critics praise the writer's ability to explain the technical points involved in flight beyond the sonic barrier and preparatory tests leading up to it. The story holds interest while the author dwells on pertinent facts.

The five words "Truth is stranger than fiction," best describe Jacqueline Hazard Weaver's book.

Two Boats Sunk
During Storm

With Hurricane "Connie's" tail-end antics kicking up a from 40-50 mile an hour wind in this district, boat-owners came in for some anxious moments.

Due to the more or less sheltered nature of the bay off the city the bigger craft rode out the storm with little or no damage done.

Some, however were not so fortunate. The craft owned by Mr. George Graham sank at the dock at his Trent Road home. Water was pumped out of the boat by an electric motor and it was successfully floated with small damage reported.

Walter Allor, proprietor of the Belvedere Hotel, who has his outboard powered boat along the lake where it carried off a tree before slamming head-on into a second tree 150 feet up the highway from the base of the flasher light.

Bardos suffered facial lacerations and a shaking up, but was not seriously injured.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500.

2.02 Inches Rain
Dumped on Quinte
District in 18 Hrs.

Winds up to 50-miles per hour lashed Belleville Saturday as the tail end of Hurricane Connie dumped 2.02 inches of rain on the Quinte district in 18 hours.

Wind and rain contributed to a rash of highway accidents in the Belleville district but traffic mishaps in the city were few.

Wind blew down trees, which cut power lines all over town. Public utilities and hydro crews worked after midnight to restore service in certain sections of the city. Traffic lights on the main street were out of service for an hour Saturday afternoon and police were called out to direct traffic.

The Belleville General Hospital was without power intermittently Saturday afternoon but no operations or deliveries were in progress and no serious interruption of service occurred.

Belleville's radio station was not cut off by power failure.

Yachts and cruisers in Belleville harbor were completely protected from driving east winds and rode out the storm without damage.

A few TV aerials blew down but damage was minor.

Woman Injured
In Collision
On 4-Lane Road

A Toronto woman was admitted to Belleville General Hospital Saturday at noon with severe facial lacerations suffered in a car crash on No. 2 Highway, three miles east of Belleville.

Mrs. Heddy Hill, 44, of 660 Bayview Ave., Toronto, a passenger in a car driven by Stephen Bardos, 58, of 148 Hillon Ave., Toronto, was rushing comfortably Sunday after treatment for lacerations and shock.

Bardos told OPP Constable J. A. Fullerton that he was attempting to pass a westbound American car on the four-lane highway, when the car veered left in front of him.

Bardos took the left shoulder. His car knocked a yellow flasher light 100 feet across the east-bound lane before swerving right across the west-bound lane where it careened off a tree before slamming head-on into a second tree 150 feet up the highway from the base of the flasher light.

Bardos suffered facial lacerations and a shaking up, but was not seriously injured.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)—Prices edged slightly ahead in first-hour trading at the Toronto stock exchange today.
Industrial price changes seldom went to more than 1 1/2 points. Base metals showed best improvement. Gold and western oils were mixed. Utilities gave best support to industrials. Fractional gains went to Bell Telephone and B.C. Power. Ahead a point were Canada Bread B and a high of 60, Canada Wire and Cable B and Minnesota and Ontario Paper. Ontario Steel Construction slipped 1 1/2 and Asbestos a point.
Among base metals Hudson Bay added 1/4 to a high of 69 1/2. Front. Gunner and Consolidated Denison lost fractions in uranium.

Gold generally moved in a narrow range with the biggest change going to Teck-Hughes, down 20 at 52 1/2.

There was little movement in western oils.

Holding companies were quiet except for Yellow Bear which traded 97,000 shares, gaining 12 at $237.

The Marsh Insurance Company office at the corner of Coleman and Bridge streets nearly had early callers this morning as a motor car and half ton truck collided at the intersection and ended up almost against the building.

Charles R. Hewson, North Sidney street, was eastbound on Bridge while Lorne R. Palmer, 276 Coleman street, was southbound on Coleman driving a half ton pick-up truck. The two vehicles came together in the intersection, the force of the impact swinging both vehicles toward the insurance company office. One of the vehicles struck a water hydrant. Damage to both vehicles was about $125.

At the corner of Front and Bridge streets a Scobie's transport driven by William Ralph of Toronto cut off a car driven by Mrs. May Harrison of Wooler as it was making the turn. The truck was crowding the centre lane to give room to make the right turn when the car pulled up along the right side and was cut off at the curb.

The left door of the car flew open and was badly damaged while Mrs. Harrison received a bad fright although she was otherwise uninjured.

Fred Booth Pense
Of Kingston Dies

KINGSTON (CP)—Fred Booth Pense, 64, a newspaper man all his adult life, died today.

Born in Kingston, Nov. 1, 1890, he joined the old British Whig, published by his uncle, the late E. J. B. Pense, after graduating from high school. During the First World War he served in France with the 1st Canadian division.

He returned to the Whig and continuing after its amalgamation with the Kingston Standard in 1928 to form the Whig-Standard. Later he was editor of the Port Credit Weekly News. He returned to the Whig-Standard in 1940.

He served on Kingston's board of education for 10 years, three as chairman. At his death he was chairman of the public utilities commission. He also was on the board of publications of the United Church of Canada.

In 1950 he was president of the Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees' Association.
Surviving besides Mrs. Pense are two brothers, Col. H. E. Pense, Kingston, and Dr. Arthur W. Pense, deputy commissioner of the New York state department of mental hygiene. A daughter, Margaret, died in 1941.

Backbone of Industrial Progress

Each year Canadian utilities become more and more popular with Canadian investors. This trend is one which is likely to continue as Canada moves ahead in population and in the development of her resources: : : for power and communications are the backbone of industrial progress.

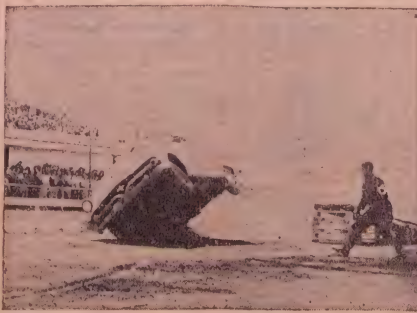

The securities of many Canadian utility companies are particularly attractive for long term investment. Already straining to meet the present demand, they will be called upon to serve the needs of a population which is expected to reach 25 million by 1975.

The foresight and imagination of the electric, the gas and the telephone companies in expanding to meet the demands of the future, evidence their awareness of their opportunities: : : and their obligations as public utilities. Moreover, the essential nature of the services they provide, and in most cases their long record of financial stability, make their securities attractive for income and growth possibilities.

We would like to discuss with you the securities of public utilities which would suit your investment requirements.

Three on Raft
Drift Aimlessly
In Atlantic

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre et Miquelon (CP)—Three impetuous adventurers who hope to sail the Atlantic on a flimsy raft, Sunday cut themselves loose from a freighter towing the L'Egare to Newfoundland and now are believed drifting in the Atlantic.

The captain of the motor vessel Langlade said here the towline between his vessel and the craft was cut shortly after midnight Saturday. He gave no explanation for the incident except that the men were "impatient" to start the last leg of their trip.
Bernard Sorel, fourth member of the raft crew, remained here because of illness.

Expedition leader Henry Beaudout said the raft has been stocked with provisions to last six weeks. He said the crew members would supplement their rations with fish during the trip they hope will land them on the coast of Portugal by mid-October.

Port authorities here said the Langlade's captain was ordered to Representatives Of Four Nations

At Ceremony

GRAND PRE, N.S. (CP)—Representatives of four nations gathered in this quiet village today to mark a stirring incident in Canadian history.

Hubert Guerin, French ambassador to Canada; R. Douglas Stuart, United States ambassador to Canada; Neil Pritchard, United Kingdom high commissioner to Canada, and Resources Minister Lesage arrived to commemorate the bicentenary of the Acadian expulsion.

In the larger pattern of empires struggling for mastery of a new world the expulsion seemed an incident. But it was an incident never forgotten.

With the passing of time and the publication in 1847 of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's 1,400-verse "The Wreck of the Acadian" the Acadians of Nova Scotia's south and west coasts became remembered as one of the dramatic chapters of Canadian history.

COME FROM AFAR

This year, descendants of Acadians dispersed in 1755 have come here from all parts of Canada and from the U.S. as well to mark the event.

Celebrations began last Tuesday at Moncton, N.B., and continued at nearby Nemamook, site of the first return to Canada of some of the exiles. Today the celebrations will be climaxed with the assumption of the Virgin Mary, a traditional Acadian holiday.

Southern Louisiana is heavily populated with descendants of Acadians who marched in 1755 from the English-held colonies, where they had been taken, to the French-controlled territory.

Annual Reunion

A Peterborough man, Norman Johnson, was apprehended by CNR police at the north station this morning and is being held for return to Brockville, where he will face a breaking, entering and theft charge.

Police said Johnson was carrying a bag containing a quantity of cigarettes and cigarette lighters taken from a store in Brockville. Several minor accidents were investigated by police but otherwise there was little activity over the week-end. Several drunks were apprehended while police attention was called to a couple of family quarrels.

A complaint of a prowler in the Boswell street area took officers to that neighborhood but apparently the intruder had been frightened away.

TV LICENCE FEE

There has been a suggestion that the federal government might institute a $15 licence fee for television sets to bolster CBC revenues.

The CBC, Canada's much maligned radio and television octopus, has never successfully challenged criticism of its mounting deficits. Each year sees a bigger budget followed by a bigger deficit. For some years a $2.50 radio licence fee was imposed in order to bring CBC radio receipts closer to production costs. A few years ago the fee was abolished when the travails of collection and the indignant wails of the general public proved to be a nuisance of such magnitude that the government ended it with a straight grant.

When the CBC commenced working in television production costs began to spiral. Even CBC monopolies in major population centres and a practice of merchandising package shows to advertisers failed to keep receipts in line with costs.

Despite all the criticism which has been brought to bear on CBC television presentations, all of them have not been bad. In fact, some, including a two-hour presentation of "Hamlet," have been very good.

But, good and all as some CBC shows may be, is it necessary for the CBC to produce radio and television programs at all? There are many private interests only too willing to build and maintain television stations in the rich Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Halifax markets. They are prepared to take the risk of losing money in such ventures. They are not permitted to risk their money in areas appropriated by the CBC in which the CBC cannot make a profit.

Private, as opposed to government-sponsored, television is a reality only in a few smaller centres such as Kingston, Peterborough and Sudbury. The CBC seems perfectly willing to allow private companies to risk money providing television service to limited markets but is completely resistant to private competition in large trading areas where one would imagine there is more likelihood of profit.

The CBC is a hothouse commercial enterprise. It would be bankrupt long since had not the government covered each annual deficit. The CBC is providing a service of commercial value that could be provided by private enterprise if given the chance. The CBC is doing nothing that private enterprise cannot do. The CBC is not indispensable.

If the CBC, operating as it does free of competition in major markets, still needs the support of a $15 per set TV licence fee then it is time the CBC retired as gracefully as it might from television broadcasting and gave private sponsors an opportunity to lose their personal treasure at a saving to taxpayers and owners of TV sets.

HOBBIES

Until the new quiz show, "The $64,000 Question," came along it was difficult to estimate the value of a hobby.

With opera-loving shoemakers and Bible-reading middle-aged ladies capitalizing on their hobbies for $32,000, the value of incidental knowledge has assumed a new dimension. Knowing that Toscanini conducted "Aida" in Brazil on Christmas Eve is really of little import to anyone except Toscanini, the performers and the audience. To anyone but a lover of opera or a business manager, the details mentioned would be quickly forgotten. Just what particular pleasure one derives from possession of such information is hard to imagine, especially by individuals who find major league batting averages, horse pedigrees or railroad timetables a consuming passion.

By definition a hobby is something one does in one's spare time. A person usually has a particular liking for his hobby. A hobbyist may do his job cheerfully enough, may even enjoy it, but his hobby attracts and fascinates him. A hobbyist lavishes time, care, attention and even money on his hobby. He asks nothing in return except the pleasure involved in pursuing his own likes without the distraction of dislikes.

What is one man's job may be another's hobby. The man who fishes all day for a living may run model trains at night while a full time railroad engineer may devote himself to horticulture. There are as many hobbies as there are jobs. It is the attitude of the hobbyist which transforms business into pleasure. Some hobbyists, it is true, develop their hobby into a business and sometimes a career. The casual photographer may become so proficient with his camera that he creates a demand for his work. Such transformations are rare because the true hobbyist never demands that his hobby be profitable in anything but pleasure.

Winning $32,000 is certain to be a pleasurable experience for anyone. When a hobbyist wins $32,000 for something which relates to his hobby it is doubtful which gives him more pleasure—the money or the hobby.

THE SEASONS

Now it's summer. Should you go there.
It is winter in Australia.
In New Zealand, if they grow there.
Dead are zinnias and dahlias.
When of lightning there's no glint or roar and rumble of the thunder.
And we're shovelling snows of winter.
It is summertime down under.

Seasons never come together.
As the world continues twirling.
When we're having summer weather
Somewhere else the snow is swirling.
Here's a notion rather pleasing
Though to write of it seems silly.
While we sweeter, some are freezing.
When they sweeter, we are chilly.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

August 15, 1915

Mr. Fred Adams has returned to St. Thomas after spending his vacation at his home here.

Miss Margaret Gymer has returned to her home here after spending two weeks' vacation at Moira Lake.

Miss Hilda Reid, Johnson St., is spending a two weeks' vacation at Pleasant Point, Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Huffman have returned home after spending a week with friends in Midland.

Mr. Heiler Evans, formerly of this city, who has been engaged for some time prospecting and working through the new gold country in Northern Ontario, is renewing acquaintances in town.

Miss Helen Smith, Boswell St., is spending ten days at Normandale, Lake Erie, camping with the Canadian Girls in Training Council of Ontario.

Miss Mary Webster, Miss Doris Allaire, and Miss Mary Lee have returned home from Crow Lake where they spent two weeks camping.

Mr. Barton Haggerty, Toronto, and Mrs. Roy Boake of Montreal, sold at 85 cents per bushel; plums 75 cents to 85 cents per bushel; huckleberries 20 cents to 25 cents per quart; long blackberries 25 cents per box; red and blue raspberries 20 cents per box; eggs 35 cents per dozen; butter 45 cents per lb.; chickens $1.50 per pair.

Dr. R. J. Hallman of Rochester, N.Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meagher, Charles Street.

40 YEARS AGO

August 15, 1915

Mr. J. W. Coulter, formerly of Foxboro, has purchased the desirable residence of Mr. J. E. Benson of Rednersville and is intending moving there in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Clarke of St. Olaf, are spending a few days in town.

Mr. Ernest A. Blaind is spending his vacation with friends near Quebec.

Dr. Isaac Riggs and Mr. Robt. C. Riggs of Chautauque, N.Y., are the guests of their nephew, Mr. W. B. Riggs, Bridge Street east.

50 YEARS AGO

Mrs. A. Dulmage of Toronto, formerly of this city, is visiting friends here.

Mr. Joseph N. Doyle is home on a visit from New York City. The retail grocers in this city are contemplating falling in line with the local cash dealers and adopting a strictly cash system of doing business.

Shortly after noon today a cab belonging to Adolphus Burgoyne was on Moira Street when a farmer backed his wagon into it and broke the carriage tongue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Pretty of Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting at the home of Mr. Henry Pretty in this city.

From our file copy at this time in 1895, The market today was one of the largest held for some time. Fruit was offered for sale in large quantities and as a result the prices obtained were only fair. Potatoes sold at fifty cents per box; eggs 35 cents per dozen; apples thirty cents to forty cents per bushel; pears twenty five cents to forty cents per bushel; plums ten cents per quart; butter eighteen cents per pound; chickens ten cents per dozen; chickens thirty five cents to fifty cents per pair.

Sanctuary for Wild Horses

(From The Bulletin)

German Federal Govt.

Near the Netherlands border the meadows and woodlands of the so-called "Merfeld Bruch" stretch away to an horizon touched with windmills. In summer the land is white with drifting sand and cotton grass, in winter with snow that is long in melting. This is where one of Europe's last herds of wild horses has been given sanctuary by the Duke of Crov.

These horses have not been harmed by this year's never-ending winter; when it is bitter cold they are provided with plenty of hay. "Our little Merfeld horses are tough," says the German keeper of the herd, which consists of about 200 stallions, mares, colts and fillies. "Hardly ever does one of them take ill. They are outdoors all kinds of weather; no such thing as a stable."

All year round the herd never sees a human being — except on "rodeo day" when the yearlings are rounded up for marking. On only last Sunday in May, the annual "rodeo" is a festive affair on the horseshoe-shaped course in the heart of the preserve. It is no exception that as many as 15,000 guests come to witness the event — from the Ruhr area, from Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands. Not least of all they come from the farms of Westphalia, whose owners are traditional horse-lovers; traditionally thrifty, too, but not when it is a matter of keeping 100 marks entrance fee to help pay for the wild herd's upkeep.

When the natural stadium is suddenly filled with the whole stamping herd, it is a breath-taking sight. Village boys with red caps throw themselves on the yearling's necks and are dragged across the course's turf for a long distance before they succeed in subduing the small, vicious animals long enough to place the Crov stud-mark.

Every year a few of the herd can be won with a 50-Pfennig lottery ticket. At the end of the day, one or another of these can be seen behind the driver's seat of a high-speed, lighted, and blinking at the lights of an alien world on their way to civilization.

"Don't they kick their stalls to bits?" — "By no means," says the keeper. "The new owners are always pleased with these animals, whether their job is to deliver milk or to carry a circus princess. One of their main tasks is to improve the breed of horses for German high-altitude farms, where tough, small horses are needed. They are the very steel of horse breeding."

The pedigree of these wild horses goes back to 1816. Off and on, British ponies or other foreign breeds are brought in to avoid degeneration.

WORLD DRESSAGE CHAMPIONSHIP — A NOVEL EXPERIMENT
Following a suggestion made some time ago by Germany to the Federation Equestre Internationale to establish a World Dressage Championship similar to the World Show Jumping Championship, the first trial contest of this kind, on a national level, took place at the Hamburg Derby and proved successful.

After the three best riders had been selected, the final test began. Each horseman first had to ride his own horse and then the test consisted of a series of exercises lasting 8 minutes and including most difficult tasks for horse and rider. At the first test, each rider on his own horse, Schultze led the parade with 21 points before Boldt (16), and Klimke (16.5). The following act.

Cute Martians Coming Up

(Ogdensburg Journal)

One could hardly pick up a newspaper for a few days without being reminded that the world's most beautiful women gathered at Long Beach, Calif., for the annual "Miss Universe" contest.

Which is all right with this department and, we are sure with all good red-blooded American boys.

We certainly have no objection whatever to granting our pages with the photogenic features of such as Miss Sweden.

But that contest title — "Miss Universe" — oh, no! Even in America, where promoters are hardly noted for letting facts interfere with their sales pitches, this strikes us as so colossal a presumption. They have in effect, said that the earth's women are superior in intelligence, in physique, in beauty, in everything but the fact that they are not. People there may prefer their own kinds of beautiful women; they may have speechless domesticated varieties for example, with four arms, the better to serve their masters.

So before those rocket ships take off, and the various worlds of the universe get to know each other, hadn't we ought to quietly switch that contest title from "Miss Universe" to "Miss World." Don't we have enough friction on earth without inviting more from outer space?

(Besides, a speechless beauty with four arms to wait on a fellow — h-m-m-m, now that's not such a bad idea. . .)

10 Years After Hiroshima

(New York Times)

Ten years ago this morning modern war reached its ultimate expression when the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, an atomic bomb that killed more than 75,000 human beings. Today we can make bombs that will kill more people and devastate a wider area at a single stroke. Today we can make bombs that, if used in sufficient numbers, can destroy all life on this earth, and which can certainly destroy for an indefinite period all that makes life worth living. But this is merely a more effective weapon, just as the original A-bomb was more effective than the weapons that preceded it. The A-bomb and H-bomb are primarily war-saving devices.

Let us in the horrible business keep our perspective. The principle that the old and the sick, the very young and the totally innocent are to be spared in war had been abandoned by other nations and by ourselves long before the bombs dropped on Hiroshima. The Western democracies did not begin this kind of diabolism. Hitler began it. Nevertheless, and because in war cruelty always drives out mercy, we followed Hitler. After he had destroyed large parts of British cities, we and our allies destroyed German cities. Likewise, in revenge for the crime of Pearl Harbor and for the purpose of reducing the slaughter of our infantry, we created havoc in Tokyo and other Japanese cities by old-fashioned means. These were no more merciful than the A-bomb. We destroyed the guilty and the innocent by fire long before we destroyed them by atomic explosions.

We and our allies made the A-bomb lest the Germans make it first. The Japanese never came anywhere near producing this weapon. Yet, with the horrible irony of war, the Germans never felt the A-bomb's force and the Japanese did. They were going about their business in Hiroshima on the morning of Aug. 6 ten years ago, when the bomb fell. In an instant nearly one-fifth of them were dead and one-tenth of them were wounded.

They suffered this fate because our commanders believed, on such evidence as they had, that the bomb was a new kind of weapon, a proper military target and that only by the use of the A-bomb could we prevent the long-drawn-out horror of a landing on the main islands of Japan.

That is now an academic issue, but those who were victims of atomic war perhaps did not die in vain. In their deaths they may have served a purpose. The world is much less divided by the rigid efficiency of its new weapon. Now surely there are signs that even where there is utter tyranny and cynicism absolute, even there, those who might say the word shrink from atomic war.

For the much-quoted words of John Donne come home now as they never did even at the peak and crest of war: "Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind; And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." In these decisive days it lies within our power to toll the bell that will be a warning to all that man has loved and hoped for on this earth.

Or it could be the function of this generation to set pealing the bells in all the steeple houses of the world with the news that war has been forever abolished. But in either case we need not ask for whom the bell tolls — or rings. It is for us.

It's Comforting To Know

Thanks to your writings writes a woman, no member of our family has had a cold in the three years.

An intelligent person must realize that it is stupid to call any ailment a "cold." What would you think of a teacher, nurse or doctor who looked at Johnny's throat, pronounced it "just a cold," and told Johnny to remain in school, or Gertrude, in Johnny's class, presently came down with measles, meningitis, infantile paralysis or diphtheria?

Wisconsin sexagenarian with the idea of a nonagenarian says a recent article in this column, in which I tried to insure readers have nothing to do with susceptibility to the tri (tree, common respiratory infections) was "the same old ballyhoo. You invite physicians to challenge you about this. Why should they? You are helping their business."

Why don't I let my hair down (if I have any) and give in and admit I'm stubborn? How about a pinch or more of the people who are 60 percenters and haven't the resistance that soldiers, sailors, explorers, hunters, fishermen, forest rangers and other vigorous young men have? And so on, yaky-yak.

Having needed me cruelly the man parties the blow I was required to deliver by adding that "we have been reading your articles for fifteen years or more. We hope you live forever and keep on writing. I say about 'resistance.' I don't like soft soap, Mister. I don't really hanker after any kind of soap. So I beg to remind you that nobody has proved scientifically that ordinary 'exposure' to wet feet, drafts, chills, insufficient clothing, sudden change of weather or environment or dampness causes or predisposes to illness."

I didn't invite physicians to challenge me. I merely promised to print the statement of any physician who desires to refute what I say about "resistance."

I say no physician can define "resistance," or show that there is such a state, apart from immunity.

It could be silly to imagine or imply that wet feet, drafts, etc. have any effect on any immunity one happens to have against a specific disease, that unless brains have to conjure up something elusive and intangible to "yaky-yak about," and "lowered resistance" suits the requirement.

There are circumstances under which it is absolutely comforting to know that, short of frostbite or freezing exposure to cold and wet is harmless.

THE PULL DOWNWARD

Probably the most apparent and irresistible force is gravity. For some reason not adequately understood the world tends to draw everything toward its center.

Many people do not realize that gravity operates in the moral and spiritual world precisely as it does in the physical. Moral character is itself does not improve, but deteriorates. It takes effort to lift an object off the ground; it takes effort to lift one's life above baseness, carnality, envy, hatred, avarice and a whole host of other evils.

The pull of moral gravity operates on our souls as physical gravity operates on our bodies.

Mechanical progress largely consists in overcoming the pull of physical gravity. We will stay in the same spot until we can drift into some other place to move. The automobile business thrives because it enables us to circumvent the pull of gravity. We do not stay in one place; we get on a set of wheels and go elsewhere.

The cure of the modern world is not atheism but spiritual neglect. Better disposed people have never lived than the people of these modern times. But they live under the delusion that they can drift into spiritual righteousness. They need to comprehend the seriousness of moral and spiritual gravity.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Edmond King, a farmer friend of mine who works one of the less arable regions of the Georgian plateau, countered a very large bull, frog on the marshy beach of his property. He used to see it regularly in his passage along the path, and he grew impressed with the pomp and dignity of the creature as the bullfrog grew more and more accustomed to Edmond's presence.

Edmond took a long stem of timothy with the seed head on it and squatted down, reached out and tickled the bullfrog's nose. The bullfrog stonily submitted to the indignity. Edmond drew the timothy head across one eye of the frog. Some seeds got in the eye, and the bullfrog indignantly, and with almost human impatience, wiped the seed from his eye. Then he reared back and glared, to express his impatience with such nonsense. Edmond ran back three or four paces, in pretended fear. The bullfrog was suitably impressed.

Next day, Edmond repeated the tackling with the timothy, and this time the bullfrog opened his capacious mouth and snapped in the timothy head. Edmond gave a sharp jerk, and the seed-loaded timothy head stayed in the frog's mouth. With his forepaws, and after the other, in literally fat-man fury, the bullfrog fought to remove the dry and unpleasant timothy head from his mouth. And when he had got it cleared, he again glared at Edmond, reared up threateningly, and again Edmond, in mock horror, ran back several paces.

The next morning, Edmond approached with the timothy straw

Bodies Found Floating in Water At Gravenhurst

GRAVENHURST (CP)—Searchers found the bodies of one man and two seven-year-old girls Saturday floating in 12 feet of water off nearby Walker's point in Lake Muskoka.

The trio, who had been missing since Friday, were Andrew Clark, 52, of Toronto; his daughter Betty Ann, and her playmate from Toronto, Barbara Steele.

John Clark, 24, son of the missing man, reported them missing Friday night. Police started dragging operations Saturday after a Walker point resident, Victor Campbell, reported seeing a sunken boat 40 feet from shore.

When Clark's body was recovered it was without shoes. Police believe he may have attempted a rescue before drowning.

A resident of the resort area near here reported seeing a motorboat operator in trouble on the lake Friday. It is believed Clark was trying to restart the motor when he tipped the 12-foot boat laden with ballast rocks.

Clark's other daughter, Ruth, is expecting a baby and her mother stayed in Toronto.

Bedard Headed For Fifth Tennis Crown

By MEL MORRIS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., set out to make it five championships in a row today after polishing off veteran Henri Rochon 8-6, 6-2, 6-1 in the men's singles final of the Canadian tennis championships.

Bedard, unbeaten since returning from a tour of European winter tournaments, was on his way to Toronto to take part in the Ontario provincial championships. He has already won the Quebec and Nova Scotia provincial titles and the Quebec City and district crown since returning from overseas.

For a time Sunday, he appeared that Rochon, a 31-year-old veteran of nine Davis Cup teams, might put an end to the 23-year-old Sherbrooke player's string of victories. He led 3-1 in the first set and had placements dropping to the 13th game and went on to win 8-6. From there on it was all Bedard.

Bedard was second-seeded in the tournament, behind Lorne Mack of Toronto, who bowed to Rochon in a grueling five-set match Saturday. He became the first Canadian to win the singles title since Brendan Macken of Montreal took the crown in 1950. Last year's champion, Bernard Barzen of San Angelo, Tex., did not defend the title.

Hanna Sladek of Montreal survived a shaky start in the women's singles to outlast Connie Bown of Hollywood, Calif., 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Bown gained a measure of revenge when she teamed with Ann Barclay of Vancouver to defeat Mrs. Sladek and Therese Helie of Montreal for the women's doubles championship, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Bedard squared the set at 3-3 and the two players battled it out on even terms until Bedard broke Rochon's serve in the 13th game and went on to win 8-6. From there on it was all Bedard.

Bedard squared the set at 3-3 and the two players battled it out on even terms until Bedard broke Rochon's serve in the 13th game and went on to win 8-6. From there on it was all Bedard.

Bedard was second-seeded in the tournament, behind Lorne Mack of Toronto, who bowed to Rochon in a grueling five-set match Saturday. He became the first Canadian to win the singles title since Brendan Macken of Montreal took the crown in 1950. Last year's champion, Bernard Barzen of San Angelo, Tex., did not defend the title.

Hanna Sladek of Montreal survived a shaky start in the women's singles to outlast Connie Bown of Hollywood, Calif., 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Bown gained a measure of revenge when she teamed with Ann Barclay of Vancouver to defeat Mrs. Sladek and Therese Helie of Montreal for the women's doubles championship, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Admiral Earl Mountbatten, Britain's First Sea Lord, To Visit Canada in October

By RON EVANS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Admiral Earl Mountbatten, Britain's first sea lord, is wheeling a Whitehall desk into one of the Royal Navy's toughest battles.

The suave sailor, who took over the navy's top service post five months ago, is fighting for the senior service's survival in the nuclear age.

Some observers say it's the stiffest engagement in the navy's history. Mountbatten must face and answer not guns, but a formidable array of critics who claim the navy is obsolete in terms of hydrogen warfare.

But the 54-year-old peer, who will visit Ottawa for three days in October, is ready with his answers.

"Remember we are still an island," he recently told an audience of naval cadets, "and we have to import our foodstuffs and raw materials to the tune of at least 1,000,000 tons a week if we are to survive."

Nor will the navy fight any future war in terms of the last.

"The main offensive strength of the fleet in future will be built around the fast battle-groups, each group consisting of one aircraft carrier, one cruiser and a squadron of destroyers. The cruisers and destroyers will be of modern design and they will be equipped, as soon as the weapon is available, with guided missiles."

Even her sternest critics admit the navy could hardly have found a better spokesman than this royal admiral, nicknamed by his men "lord high, wide and handsome."

Physically, he is an impressive figure. Some six feet tall and built like a streamlined weightlifter, he is an avid polo player and underwater fisherman.

He has been a courageous ship captain, rugged commando chief, and respected allied commander in the Pacific and Mediterranean.

Since moving into the cream-colored admiralty office overlooking St. James's Park, Mountbatten has campaigned energetically for the silent service. Some of his enthusiasm may stem from the particular pride with which he accepted the post of first sea lord.

After the war, Mountbatten took on his most ticklish task to date, as viceroy and later first-governor-general of India during her progress to independence within the Commonwealth.

But things changed with the Second World War. Mountbatten took command of the destroyer Kelly, moved on to the aircraft carrier Illustrious and later, as chief of combined operations, planned some 30 major commando raids on occupied Europe. These included the tragic Dieppe landing of Aug. 19, 1942 which resulted in more than 3,000 Canadian and British casualties but provided invaluable lessons for the Normandy invasion.

In 1945, as Allied commander in Southeast Asia, Mountbatten accepted the surrender of 750,000 Japanese troops.

'Grand Old Lady' Of Chalk River 101 Years Old

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. William Leach, known as the "Grand Old Lady" of this atomic research settlement 100 miles north west of Ottawa, celebrated her 101st birthday Saturday.

Mrs. Leach, the village's oldest resident, has never spent a day in hospital in her life and is in the best of health except for being a little deaf.

Mrs. Leach was born in Prescott, Ont., Aug. 13, 1854 and resided in Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., before taking up residence in this area 50 years ago.

But things changed with the Second World War. ## Weddings

NEWMAN—GOLDIE
All Saints Anglican church, Ottawa, was beautifully adorned on Saturday, August 13, at 3:30 p.m. with pastel shaded gladioli and ferns for a lovely wedding when the Rev. W. D. Christie, pastor of the church, united in marriage Sharon Lee Goldie, of Ottawa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Goldie, to William Arthur Newman of Belleville, son of Mrs. Arthur Newman of Belleville and the late Mr. Newman.

Master Brian Carson, soloist, rendered the traditional wedding music, accompanied by the church organist, Mr. Peter Andrews. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Fred K. Goldie, was radiant in her floor-length, bridal gown of white nylon tulle over satin topped with a Chantilly lace coachman's coat cascading to form a chapel-length train, and buttoned from the waist to a high standing, pointed collar. A design of French applique enhanced the front panel of the skirt. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a Juliet cap encrusted with seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls and matched earrings, and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Karen Masters of Belleville, attended the bride as maid of honor, wearing aqua nylon net over taffeta with matching headpiece, and carrying a bouquet of yellow gladioli blooms centred by a yellow gardenia.

Mrs. Grant Kells and Miss Sandra Newman, sister of the bridegroom, both of Belleville, wore bridesmaids, gowned in pastel yellow nylon net over taffeta, with matching headpieces, and carrying bouquets of yellow gladioli centred by a contrasting gardenia.

Mr. William (Bill) Clarke of Hamilton, attended the bridegroom, while Messrs. Clarke, Goldie, brother of the bride, and Murray Arnott, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers. Following the reception, which was held in the church parish hall, Mr. and Mrs. Newman left for the United States, the bride travelling in a cocoa-brown linen suit, with brown accessories, and carrying bouquets of yellow roses. They will reside in Belleville upon their return.

The guests were received by the bride's mother, who was attired in deep blue nylon net over taffeta with matching accessories and corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing brocade nylon bengaline in dusty rose, with heavenly-blue accessories, and corsage of pink roses mingled with blue chrysanthemums.

Guests were present from Montreal, Hudson Heights, Quebec, Toronto, Hamilton and Belleville.

Woman of the Hour

Edna McAllister, Long Manager Of Century Club, Will Retire

By RUTH B. CHAMBERLAIN
(Rochester Times Union)

Edna Fish McAllister, whose accomplishments in the business and cultural life of the city, have been noteworthy, is faced now with another opportunity to use her broad talents for great good.

After 36 years as manager of the Century Club, Rochester's oldest and most exclusive women's social club, she has elected to retire as of September 1, and turn her talents to some of the projects dear to her heart which she could not develop in her busy, work-filled days.

With her usual good humor and progressive thinking, she is turning her thoughts and energies to whatever social service work she can most usefully do. She plans to foster and promote her several hobbies and looks to the future with the same optimism, enthusiasm and quiet dignity that have made her one of the city's outstanding woman executives.

Mrs. McAllister loves people. In the little, everyday human happenings she goes out of her way to help others. This is one of the reasons no doubt that she has been making friends at and for, the club steadily since she came there as executive secretary and manager under the late Mrs. Clarence W. Smith (at the time, Mrs. W. H. Smith), the recognized social leader of the city and a founder of the club.

Reminiscences of those early days at the club, when such important edicts as a ban on women smoking in the clubhouse were strictly enforced, bring a merry twinkle to her gray-blue eyes, set deeply in face framed with white curly hair, always impeccably arranged.

Although short in stature, she walks with dignity, calm, and unburied, giving confidence and understanding to those with whom she associates.

Interested in many activities, she enjoys travelling most of all and hopes to make another trip to Europe "a must" on her retirement agenda.

Her talents as a homemaker have been seen constantly in the efficiency and attention to little details which she managed her "club home." But her lights up with scores of little laugh wrinkles at the mention of her own home in Oxford Street, where she resides with a friend of long standing from her native Belleville, Ontario, Mrs. Harry Livingston.

Her little garden and her restful home, filled with antiques and mementoes of her travels and the gifts of friends, reflects not only her good taste but her love of casual, informal living.

Presentations Made To Neighbors

STIRLING—The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ray, William Street Stirling, was filled to capacity on Friday evening, with neighbors, friends and relatives on the occasion of two special events.

A farewell party was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Demorest, who are moving this month to Marmora to reside and a 25th wedding anniversary party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray.

The rooms were a bower of beauty with large baskets of variegated gladioli and low bowls of summer blooms.

At 9:30 p.m. the four were given seats of honor in the living room and Mr. Clarke Rodgers as master of ceremonies, spoke briefly re the double event. He hoped Sid and Eileen, and their children, Herbie, Betty and Tommy would make many new friends in Marmora and said when Norman and Helen had reached their 50th anniversary everyone would be back to help celebrate.

Several numbers of community singing were interspersed throughout the program.

APPROPRIATE SELECTIONS
Appropriate selections were read by Mrs. Charles Vance, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, Mrs. Elizabeth Foster and Mrs. Ernest W. Walker.

Garry Devolin sang a humorous song and Mrs. Percy MacMullen recited a selection. Brief addresses were given by Messrs. Harvey Pitcher, Roy Eggleton, and the Rev. W. H. V. Walker.

Mrs. Lloyd Dafeo read an address of appreciation and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Demorest and Mrs. Charles Devolin and Mrs. Hector Eggleton made the presentation of a square lamp table and an electric table lamp with black wrought iron base and red shade in modern style.

Sid and Eileen both voiced thanks for the gifts and program with a special "thank-you" to the Ray family, and invited the group to visit them in their new home in Marmora.

Mrs. Clarke Rodgers read an address to Mr. and Mrs. Ray voicing congratulations and best wishes on their 25th wedding anniversary and quoted an appropriate selection by Edgar Guest.

PRESENTATION
Mrs. Devolin and Mrs. Eggleton made the presentation of a tri-lite floor lamp with white shade and silver trim also a silver casserole, on behalf of friends and relatives.

Ralph Ray presented his parents with a five-piece silver tea service on behalf of the immediate family, Ralph and Shirley, Beverly and Barbara.

Norman and Helen graciously thanked their friends and relatives for the lovely gifts. The event was a real surprise to Helen until after 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray were married August 17, 1930. She was the former Helen Montgomery, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

CONTAGIOUS

The "high cost of operation" bug which raised Cain with hockey clubs throughout the province last season, is no respecter of sports. The beggar has his hand at baseball this summer, with the proud Intercounty senior league willing under its attacks.

Chick (Stratford Beacon-Herald) Appel writes: Every senior "A" centre has discovered the price paid for imported talent high. Says he: "Encouragement and expansion of minor baseball is the only logical answer."

"They're having money troubles in every one of the current senior 'A' Intercounty clubs right now, with only Ottawa Merchants able to take a loss, thanks to a generous sponsor, who is said to be shelling out the dough because baseball is more of a hobby for him. The league might as well face the issue squarely and consider the plights of Galt and Kitchener, where the players have taken over and are running their own show, gambling on getting a return for their services at the end of the season.

"Attendances at games in London, Brantford, St. Thomas and Oshawa are also greatly reduced, according to reports from these cities, and the possibility is strong that unless the picture changes, Brantford, Galt and Kitchener won't be back next year. St. Thomas also hints at this possibility, in which event London and Oshawa could hardly carry on successfully with a two-team group.

"One dare not view the situation through rose-colored glasses, because its all too evident that the Intercounty senior 'A' grouping is doomed unless the clubs cut the cloth to suit the garment. That means just one thing, slashing the expenses, the major one being the high cost of imported talent. The solution is to give the local kids a chance to develop their talents, and in a few years you won't have to worry about imports or senior ball players."

LADY GOLFERS

A reminder to those excellent lady golfers of the Bay of Quinte Country Club. The Ladies' Open Tournament of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, Peterborough, gets under way at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, August 20. The Examiner Silver Trophy will go to the lady scoring best low gross; the McLeod-Irwin trophy to the low net winner. There are prizes for four flights. Get in touch with Mrs. E. W. Collins, 757 Chesterfield Ave., Peterborough. No post entries.

HODGE PODGE

Hurricane Connie kicked up a dying shindig in these here parts Saturday, putting an effective quietus on all sports events scheduled. . . . The four semi-finalists in the Belleville-District Softball League swing into action tonight, weather and grounds their feud with Frankford on the latter's diamond, while Spaford's Orfuns engage Temple's Bobcats in the second game of their series at the CNRAA Park. . . . Windy "Connie" whiplashed the countryside with a fifty-mile breeze. Over in Wellington where we were trying to establish a vacation beach-head, the holiday and fisher folk had their craft high and dry, mostly high. Driving spray splattered even the highway at various points and we were a pretty sodden crew before we eventually reached the comfort of "Dewey" Stoneberg's cottage. . . . But "Connie" eventually took off for parts northerly and Sunday the lake was as calm as a hunk of plate glass. . . . Tonight at the Aleutic Field, if in condition, Leo Lucchiola's Shellelites open the OASA intermediate girls' series with Trenton RCAF lassies. . . . As was announced in this pillar before, Tommy Peddar will enter the CNE Lake Ontario swim. Our best wishes, Tommy. . . . Johnny Mowatt's Wellington baseballers will play off with the winners of the Haggis Juniors - Pictou series for the league title. . . . Incidentally, the Juniors and Pictou play the third and deciding game of their series in the Prince Edward town tomorrow night. . . . They tell us some pretty good "Dan Patches" are entered in the harness races at the Fair tomorrow and Wednesday. . . . Sherman Reid dives off the bay bridge Friday on that estimated 30-mile swim to Pictou. . . . Next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock petite Betty Berry plunges off the Pictou Yacht Club wharf for her 16-mile swim to Deseronto. Our best to both.

Shave Tribe's Lead to Game As A's Cut Indian String; Yankees Take Pair from Birds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago White Sox, despite their third-place position, appeared today to be in the most enviable spot among the four top contenders for the American League pennant. Cleveland's inability to pull away from the field and Chicago's easy schedule ahead compared to those of Indians, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox give White Sox a seemingly big advantage.

The White Sox got a lift Sunday when they defeated Detroit 5-4 while the lowly Kansas City Athletics snapped Cleveland's six-game winning streak with a 7-3 decision. Although they slipped to third place because the Yankees took two from Baltimore, the White Sox cut Cleveland's first-place margin to one game.

Only 3 1/2 games separated the first four teams as the fourth-place Red Sox also won two, defeating Washington 9-6 and 2-1. The Yankees climbed into second place, half a game behind the Indians, by mauling the Orioles 7-2 and 20-6.

GET THE BREAKS
In the final three-game series of the campaign, Sept. 23-25, White Sox will be playing Kansas City at home while Indians are engaging Tigers in Detroit and Yankees are guests of Red Sox in Boston.

Pierce gave up five hits for his ninth victory and first over Tigers in two years. Rivera carried across the winning run in the eighth when he singled off loser Ned Garver.

Hector Lopez' three-run homer off Mike Garcia and two-hit relief pitching by Al Dittmar combined to give Kansas City the victory over Cleveland.

Two-run homers by Hank Bauer and Mickey Martz off Yankees Eddie Lopat helped White Sox win his 13th for the Yankees in the opener. Yanks clubbed seven Oriole pitchers for 20 hits in the nightcap. Hank Bauer cracked another homer and Yogi Berra drove in four runs with a home run and single.

DROVE IN 5
Rookie first baseman Norm Zauchin drove in five runs with a pair of homers and a single in the first game and rookie pitcher George Susce hurled a seven-hitter in the third game to give White Sox a 2-1 victory over Washington.

The National League featured a thrilling duel between Robin Roberts and Don Newcombe the circuit's two top hurlers. Victory No. 19 was at stake for both right-handers as Roberts won 2-1 in 10 innings to give Philadelphia split in the doubleheader with Brooklyn. The Dodgers won the second 5-4 in 13 innings.

Runner-up Milwaukee's shad a d Chicago 4-3 in 10 innings but the Braves still trail Brooklyn by 1 1/2 games. New York Giants limbed within 1 1/2 games of the Braves, knocking off Pittsburgh 4-2 and 3-1 in another 10-inning tussle. St. Louis overcame Cincinnati 5-4.

Willie Jones' 10th-inning single scored Richie Ashburn with the run that gave Roberts his 19th win against nine defeats and Newcombe his third loss compared to 18 triumphs. Carl Furillo smashed two home runs in the second game, then singled in the winning Dodger run in the 13th off loser Bob Miller.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli registered his 10th victory with a six-hitter and righthander Jim Hearn followed with a four-hitter for his 13th triumph in Giants' twin successes. Sid Gordon was the big gun at the plate, pounding a homer in each game.

Johnny Logan's single scored Danny O'Connell with Milwaukee's winning run in the 10th. Ken Boyer with Cards' winning tally in the 10th. Ted Kluszewski hit his 40th and 41st home runs to take over the National League lead. His second four-bagger came after St. Louis manager Harry Walker replaced righthander Tom Poholsky on the mound with southpaw Luis Arroyo, with Poholsky moving to left field. After Kluszewski's homer, Poholsky returned to the mound and finished the game.

Soccer All-Stars Whip Britain

BELFAST (AP)—A star European soccer side outlasted the best of Britain Saturday and coasted home to a 4-1 win.

The Europeans spent the whole second half toying with the British side that wilted under constant pressure and a blazing sun.

The only wonder was that Britain held the score so low.

At half time the score was 1-1.

The United Kingdom team, which included star players from the English, Scottish, Welsh and Northern Ireland international teams, was outclassed by a brilliant European forward line.

Yugoslavia's classy blonde bombshell Bernard Vukas hammered in three second-half goals from inside right. Around him was a great collection of stars as the Irish have ever seen.

Danish-born Jorgen Sorensen and French center forward Raymond Kopa carved out chance after chance.

Boros Wins Tam O'Shanter Golf Lode Worth $105,000

DAY LEAD WORLD GOLF

CHICAGO (AP)—Stolid Julius Boros, a golfing son of a Connecticut machinist, Sunday struck Tam O'Shanter's gold lode for the biggest haul in the history of the game—$105,000.

Boros' coolly-carved 70 for a seven-under-par 281 in Tam's "World" pro meet Sunday captured for the 35-year-old shotmaker from Southern Pines, N.C., via Fairfield, Conn., a $50,000 cash prize and a $55,000 exhibition contract.

Boros, the 1952 U.S. Open champ, finished two strokes ahead of another old pro, Fred Haas, whose closing 68 was the final day's best round.

Boros won a playoff triumph in the 1952 "World" meet when he hauled in $25,000 and in 1953, he copped $1,200 with an also-ran finish.

ENORMOUS CROWD
It was a fabulous windup at Tam Sunday, witnessed by an estimated crowd of 53,000.

The huge crowd actually sewed it up for Boros. His errant tee shot on the 70th hole was deflected by pion Peter Thomson and Henry the closely-packed throng and bounced onto the green to set up a par three.

In the concurrent "World" women's pro tourney, Patty Berg won her third straight title and a $5,000 top prize with a 298 total, one stroke ahead of Mary Lena Faulk.

The "World" men's amateur went to Doug Sanders of Cedar-town, Ga., a University of Florida star, who shot a four-under-par 284 for an eight-stroke triumph.

The "World" women's amateur meet was captured by Wiffi Smith, 18-year-old from St. Clair, Mich., with a 209.

Miss Berg and Miss Smith and Sanders had won the All-American titles in their respective divisions last week.

SWEETS PAID
Boros swept past Bo Winger, the 54-hole leader, and Wally Ulrich and Gene Littler, just one stroke off the three-quarter pace, in his drive to the rich prize.

Haas took the $10,000 second prize in the "World" pro, while a three-way tie developed at 284 between Littler, British Open champion Peter Thomson and Henry Ransom. Each collected $3,900. Ulrich finished in a tie with Tony Cerda at 285, worth $1,950 to each, while two deadlocked at 286, Fred Hawkins and Lionel Hebert, collected $1,750 apiece.

Winger, faltering to a final 75, wound up in a three-way tie at 287 with Jay Hebert and Bob Rosenberg with $1,433 going to each.

Two Canadians, Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., finished out of the money.

Marlene Wins Women's Open, Turns Eyes on American Title

VICTORIA (CP) — Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., turned her eyes toward the U.S. open golf championship today after winning the Canadian women's open for the third time.

Miss Stewart won the 36-hole tournament in 11 and 9 Saturday when Mary Gay of Kitchener, runner-up in two previous Opens, conceded the 27th hole.

The 21-year-old "Little Professor" had no trouble in the final. Miss Gay defeated a medalist, Edean Anderson of Seattle, winner of the open when Miss Gay was runner-up in 1952, in the semi-final Friday after a tight battle and was expected to give Miss Stewart the same competition.

But she admitted later that she went to pieces after shanking a shot into the rough at the fifth hole and never recovered. She was in almost constant trouble on the Royal Colwood course.

The Kitchener golfer was runner-up to Miss Stewart in the women's Close in 1953 and the Open in 1954. "Every time I get in the final I play like a plumber," said the 23-year-old Miss Gay, who lost the previous Opens with identical scores of 9 and 8.

Miss Stewart won the Duchess of Cornwall Trophy, which she first won in 1951 and lost in 1953 to Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif.

She won the women's Close Aug. 6 with a record-breaking 223 and continued playing precision golf last week. She said later she played good golf throughout and that she was ready for the American tournament at Charlotte, N.C., Aug. 22.

Miss Stewart played calmly after the first nine holes. Friends said they had never seen her start so neurotically.

She lost the first hole to Miss Gay when she drove into the rough and Miss Stewart went down in four. She split the next two holes and squared the match at the fourth when she went down in par three.

After that she never was behind. She won the next four holes and lost the ninth to a 35-foot putt to end the first nine three up. She took complete charge of the match on the second nine and ended the 18th at five up.

The last holes Miss Gay won were the 13th and 15th.

Her lead growing steadily, Miss Stewart went six up after getting on the green at the 388-yard 19th in two and going down in par four. She won the 20th when Miss Gay missed a 10-foot putt and was eight up at the 22nd after the challenger missed a four-foot putt.

The challenger conceded the 27th to lose the match.

Miss Milligan of Jasper, Alta., runner-up in the Close and said to be one of the main rivals to Miss Stewart until she was knocked out of the open by Mrs. J. H. Hainford, received the Ella Murray rose bowl for the lowest gross score for a Canadian in the qualifying round of medal play.

The Ontario and Alberta champions were awarded the trophy although her 78 was higher than Miss Stewart's par 77. The Canadian Ladies' Golf Union forbids a player winning two major awards.

Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw of Laval-sur-le-Quebec, best Judy Darling of Hudson Heights, Que., 3 and 2 in the championship consolation flight.

The Ladies Golf Union bowl for the low net score for Canadian players went to Mrs. H. J. McIntyre of Victoria, who had a six handicap and a net of 77.

Montreal Boy Wins Juvenile Tennis Title

OTTAWA (CP) — The first title was decided in the closed events at the Canadian junior tennis championships Sunday when Geoffrey Carpenter, 12-year-old Montrealer, upset top-seeded Ken Zlatin of Halifax 6-1, 6-3 to win the closed juvenile boy's singles crown.

Three Quebecers and a Nova Scotia player reached the semi-finals of the closed junior men's event.

Francois Godbout of Quebec City meets Nick Weatherston of Halifax in one semi-final today while two Montrealers, Geoff Black and Smith Chapman, clash in the other semi-final.

Pat Watt of Toronto provided the day's biggest upset when she defeated top-seeded Gertrude Delacretaz of Cornwall, Ont., 7-5, 6-3 in the junior women's semi-finals. Her next opponent has not yet been decided.

Andre Toupin of Montreal and Don McKuss of Winnipeg reached the finals in the closed boys' singles.

The open events in the junior championships begin today and a large contingent of foreign entrants will be on hand.

Governor-General's Gold Medal Won by Marksman Lieut. Gil Boa

By ROY LABERGE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP) — The Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's 73rd annual prize meet ended Saturday when a throng of Canada's best marksmen, led by a military band, marched through the rain, carrying a smiling, young Toronto militia lieutenant in a chair.

The officer was 31-year-old Gilboa, a civil engineer, who was presented with Canadian rifle marksmanship's gold medal — the Governor-General's gold medal — by Chief of Staff Gen. G. C. Simonds at this year's summer camp 14 miles west of Ottawa.

Boa scored 195 of a possible 200 points Saturday to win the final match of the meet.

Runner-up was a 75-year-old veteran of several Canadian Bisley teams, Sgt. Alec Parrell of Montreal, who was just one point behind with 184.

Boa also won another coveted prize, the Spittal Memorial Trophy, awarded the top man on the Bisley aggregate list—the 18 competitors with highest aggregate scores in various matches in the meet. He scored 857 of a possible 875 points.

Another young militia officer copied several other awards. Lieut. Edson L. Warner, 25-year-old Lennoxville, Que., trucker, won the Canadian army service rifle championship based on total points in Bisley aggregate plus three service condition matches not counted in the Bisley total.

Warner also took the coveted Queen's army medal Thursday and the City of Ottawa match Saturday, fired from 200 and 900 yards, and was runner-up to Boa in the Bisley aggregate with 841.

More than 720 competed at the meet which opened Monday.

A prized plum was a place on the 18-man Bisley team. Officials announced Saturday night names of the top 18 men in the Bisley aggregate who will be invited to shoot as Canada's team at the annual Bisley, England, meet next summer.

One Crew Member Drowned, Fishing Boat Swamped

PORT DOVER, Ont. (CP) — A two-hour battle to save a sinking fishing boat ended Saturday when the boat went down with one member of her three-man crew aboard.

Clifford Weaver, 31, of Nanticoke, is believed to have drowned when the 40-foot, open-decked Irac sank in 100 feet of water about 1½ miles northeast of Long Point island in Lake Erie.

Two other crew members of the Irac were snatched to safety after she swamped in rough water while another fishing boat was attempting to tow her back to port.

DISTRESS CALL

Cecil Martin, skipper of the 60-foot fishing boat Southside, said he picked up distress signals from the Irac Saturday morning. The Southside's crew found the Irac shipping water and with her engine dead.

Martin said the Irac was towed two miles to a sheltered area and pumped out. The Southside then set off to tow her here. After about two hours, Martin said, a "freak sea" swamped the Irac and "it went down almost immediately."

The H. H. Misner, skippered by Elmore Misner of Port Dover, one of three other boats standing by, pushed to the Irac and pulled off Pat Fehman, 50, and Bob Hamilton, 22, both of Selkirk.

TAKES YACHT TITLE

MONTREAL (CP) — Archie Cameron, sailing under Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club colors, Sunday won the Canadian Y-Flyer class championship for the third time in five years. The three-race series was held at the Lord Reading Yacht Club on nearby Lake St.

Toronto Yacht Takes Trophy

TORONTO (CP) — John Henderson of the Royal Canadian Yacht club won the Viscount Alexander of Tunis Trophy and the 14-foot championship at the Canadian Dinghy Association's annual regatta here Sunday.

Henderson finished first after the dinghy sailed by J. Hartley Watlington of Royal Bermuda Yacht club capsized only 1-2 mile from the finish line.

Watlington led the field of 32 starters for 9 1-2 miles of the 10-mile race. He was several boat lengths in front of Henderson when a savage gust of wind sent his craft rolling wildly.

Bermuda's Mac Paschal was only four seconds behind Henderson and five seconds ahead of Paul McLaughlin, RCYC.

BEATS FLAM

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., won the Newport invitation tennis tournament for the second straight year Sunday by drubbing Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-2, 6-2.

WINS TROPHY

BRAMPTON (CP) — Brampton Saturday won the J. P. Bergin Montreal Trophy defeating Port Dalhousie 11-7 in the final round of the Ontario Lacrosse Association under-10 novice class playoffs here. They had previously trounced Inglewood 8-3 while Port Dalhousie edged Peterborough 8-6 in overtime.

Leafs Tangle With Royals For Loop Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First place in the International League is up for grabs tonight when the Montreal Royals meet Toronto at Maple Leaf Stadium.

The Royals slipped to a three percentage point lead over the defending champions after losing twice to Buffalo, 2-0 and 0-3, Sunday.

The Leafs lost a chance to take possession of the top spot by splitting with Rochester. Their 6-5 second game triumph tied with Montreal in games behind after they dropped the opener 8-5.

With the spotlight focused on the tense race for the championship, the most glittering performance of the day was delivered at Columbus where Dick Hoover of the Jets fashioned a seven-inning no-hitter in the nightcap against Richmond.

Hoover walked but one in winning 10-0 after his mates' 5-3 victory in the first game.

HAVANA WINS TWICE

A game and a half now separates the first three clubs in the league as Havana swept Syracuse twice 5-4 and 7-5.

Hoover displayed near perfect control. After disposing of the first two hitters, he walked Lou Ortiz and then went on to retire the last 19 Virginians.

In the opener, the Jets slammed 14 hits against Niles Jordan, including Ted del Guercio's home run and three safeties by winning pitcher John Gray.

Chuck Wilhelm, Al Lakeman and Russ Sullivan supported Hoover with home runs.

Dick Marlowe, who handed Montreal its 10th white-washing, gave up five hits in the opener. Don Drysdale allowed a like number of safeties but lost his 10th game in 21 decisions on two unearned tallies.

THREE IN EACH

Toronto cracked out three homers in each contest in support of spotty hurling. First-game starter Ed Eklake, Mike Gollat and Archie Wilson accounted for all five Leaf runs. But Blake, and three Leaf relievers were racked for 14 safeties by the victorious Wings.

Gollat's second round tripper broke a 5-5 tie and gave Jack Crimian his 15th victory in the nightcap. Joe Taylor got the Leafs off to an early lead with a pair of two-run homers. It was the end of season play between Rochester and Toronto—the Wings gaining an 11-10 edge.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Battling—Norm Zauchin, Red Sox — Battled in five runs with a pair of homers and a single as Red Sox defeated Washington 9-6 in the opening game of their double-header.

Pitching—Robin Roberts, Phillies — Won a thrilling 3-2 hurling duel in 10 innings from Don Newcombe as the first National League game became the first National League game to win 19 games.

Pitcher—Don Newcombe, New York — Also running for his 19th, lost his third.

Rosewall, Hoad Give Aussies Two-Game Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, the 20-year-old whiz kids from down under, sent Australia into a 2-0 lead over Italy Sunday in the Davis Cup Interzone final.

Rosewall whipped Nicola Pietrangeli, 8-6, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, while Hoad celebrated his return to action by crushing Fausto Gardini 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

Australia needs win only the doubles today or one of the remaining two singles Tuesday to qualify to meet the United States in the challenge round at Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 26-27-28.

Hoad, kept out of the semi-final of the Interzone competition against Japan last week because he had been playing poorly, was in good form. It was the third time this season he has beaten the Italian, who showed no desire to get in and fight.

It was a different story with the 21-year-old Pietrangeli, who made a good try against Rosewall. Rosewall's experience won for him.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"I bought them all at once so we could have one big scene and get it over with."

Ten Swimmers Fail to Conquer Various Waters

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A plucky 20-year-old stenog-rapher was the only person to have anywhere near her goal as 10 mar-athon swimmers attempted to con-quer various waters in western Canada during the weekend.

Kathie McIntosh of Winnipeg, attempting to be the first person to swim 18 miles across the lower end of Lake Winnipeg, was pulled from the choppy waters only four miles from her destination Sunday night. She had swum for almost 10 hours.

Earlier in the day, six swimmers failed to last more than a third of a 12 1/2-mile course. Each of a 30-mile swimmer, Ed-monton, Cold water forced them out.

Two men and a girl set out Sat-urday night in Juan de Fuca, strait between Vancouver Island and Washington state. All were de-feated by rough water.

BEATEN JUST ONCE The strait has been mastered only once, Bert Thomas, a Tacoma, Wash., lawyer, completed the swim during this summer.

Fifteen-year-old Janice White of Toronto stayed in the water rather than either of the two men at-tempting to defeat Juan de Fuca.

Janice, making her third attempt, was pulled out after three hours because she wasn't making any headway.

Bob Bowden of Victoria came out shortly after setting out and Bob Quinn, Toronto, steelworker, was beaten by seasickness after 1 1/2 hours.

Bill Muir of Saanich, B.C., took a close look at the water and driving rains of hurricane Connie caused the third attempt.

POSTPONE ATTEMPT Rough water in the wake of hurri-cane Connie postponed the attempt of one hopeful to swim Lake On-tario.

Leon Bouchard, 25, of St. Catharines says he will enter the water tonight in his try to become the first male to make it across the 32-mile stretch from Niagara-on-the-Lake to Toronto.

Must Maintain Military Power Is West's View

WASHINGTON (AP)—The West-ern Allies are reported to have agreed that the Western bloc must maintain its military power at a high level if the United States, Britain and France are to conduct further effective peace talks with the Russians.

Officials here say that since the "summit" conference at Geneva last month there have been several exchanges of views in the North Atlantic Council at Paris. The 15 member governments are agreed there is no evidence yet that would justify changes in the Western de-fence buildup.

The Soviet government an-nounced Friday night it has de-cided to reduce Russian armed forces by 640,000 men by Dec. 15, and the U.S., Britain and France are expected to confer early this week on the Soviet move.

WELCOME STEP They welcomed it as a step in the direction of reducing arma-ments, but were suspicious of whether the Soviet Union would make the full cut and just what its intentions were.

Barring some surprise move that would drastically alter Western thinking, they seem certain to go into the October foreign ministers' conference with Russia at Geneva in as strong a position as they held during the top-level talks last month.

But diplomatic experts expect Russia to make a big play in the conference month for public-opinion pressure to force cuts in Western arms expenditures.

Accident Toll In East Canada Takes Big Drop

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Eastern Canada's death toll dropped sharply this weekend. Al-though the high winds and driving rains of hurricane Connie caused two deaths, the count — for weeks averaging 40-50 deaths — was down to 29.

A Canadian Press compilation from 8 p.m. EDT Friday to mid-night Sunday showed 14 persons died in traffic accidents, eight were drowned and seven died from vari-ous other causes.

Traffic accident drawings, always the worst of the weekend killers, claimed 22 lives compared to last weekend's 44.

ONTARIO LEADING Ontario accounted for most of the deaths with 15. Three died on the province's highways. Three persons were drowned in one accident near Gravenhurst for a total of six deaths. One man was el-ectrocuted, there was one fatal fall. In Toronto three children and their housekeeper were burned to death.

Quebec recorded nine fatalities, all through traffic accidents. That province, whose regular weekend count has been boosted to between 30 and 35 by a large number of drownings, this weekend had none.

The Maritimes reported 11 ve-deaths, four in Nova Scotia. There was one traffic death, two drown-ings and one man was crushed by a tractor. New Brunswick re-corded one traffic fatality. There were no deaths in either Prince Edward Island or Newfoundland.

Japan Observes 10th Anniversary Of Her Defeat

TOKYO (AP)—Japan solemnly observed today the 10th anniversary of her crushing defeat in 1945.

Japanese mourned the war dead in Buddhist-style prayers at 100,000 fore-noon-banked altars in many cities.

Some attended sports events. Al-most all seemed big-picture and very solemn in their new-ports, showing Japan broken and de-vastated Aug. 15, 1945, but forg-ing rapidly ahead today.

Mr. and Mrs. Berdhouse invited pop and Mrs. for dinner last night out of revenge for eating dinner at our house, and this morning at breakfast ma said to pop, Really,
William, I mean actually, I think
Mr. Berdhouse ought to be ashamed of himself.
Maybe he is what did he do?
pop said, and ma said, Oh, you heard him, Mrs. Berdhouse may not be the most wonderful cook in the world, but my man who disparages his wife's cooking in comparison to his mother's, in the presence of guests, is nothing but a barbarian in no uncertain terms, even if his criticism may be partly true, she said.
I agree 125 per cent, pop said.
That's something you'll never catch me doing, no matter how much
I'm tempted, he said, and ma said,
I never knew you were even tempted. I must say for land sakes.
Oh, I never was, my dear, pop said. Quite the contrary. The simple truth is, my mother was a remarkable woman, but I must admit her mash potatoes were lumpy, her biscuits were dumpty, and her dumplings were bumpy, he said, and ma said, Now William, after I spend half my waking life planning and scheming and toiling to set tasty meals in front of you like a king, I must say I don't consider that's a very high compliment, even if it's in my favor.
Well the fact is, I'm probably a little prejudiced, because I never really knew the meaning of perfect cooking till you took me by the hand and took and led me through the fields of honey and ambrosia, pop said, and ma said, Well now that's very sweet, William but I'm sure you're doing your mother an injustice. I'm sure she was an excellent cook, she said.
My dear, that's very broad minded of you pop said.
And he folded his paper and kissed her goodbye and left for his office.

Professor Lang Says Dunlop
'Disappointment' as Minister

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Marcus
Lang, professor of philosophy at the University of Toronto, said Saturday Hon. William Dunlop has been a "disappointment" as minister of education in Ontario.
He also told the annual meeting of the Canadian Teachers Federation that low salaries paid Canadian teachers can be increased only by provincial and federal governments increasing grants in aid of education.
Dr. Lang said it is a mistake to presume that governments always are wise in the steps they take in the education field. An example of this had occurred in Ontario since the appointment of Mr. Dunlop as minister of education in 1951.
Under Mr. Dunlop's regime, he said, standards for teachers have been set that "threaten to destroy the status of the teaching profession and flood schools with incompetent teachers."

Mr. Dunlop boasted that no Ontario schools would be without teachers. He might be right but it "might be better for a classroom to be without a teacher than to have an incompetent one."
"No other profession but teaching would have accepted a policy that would have accepted a policy that threatens to put the training of our children in the hands of people not properly trained to do the job."
Dr. Lang said competent men and women could not be attracted to the teaching profession without better salaries, industry was attracting potential teachers by offering better salaries and working conditions and more chance for research.

from areas it has illegally engulfed."
For her part, South Korea would insist upon "the liberation of North Korea" in any future negotiations.
Rhee deviated from his prepared text to warn his countrymen against violence in their demonstrations.

Demonstrations
In South Korea
Quieting Down

SEOUL (AP) — Demands for Communist truce inspectors to get out of South Korea continued today, but demonstrations quieted as the republic celebrated the 10th anniversary of its liberation from Japan.
President Syngman Rhee opened the celebrations with a speech attacking American policy in Asia and restating his determination to remove the neutral nations' supervision commission from Korea.
Koreans claim the Communist Czech and Polish members of the NNSC's truce inspection teams are spies trying to hasten the day when North Korea will attack again.
Meanwhile, Red China's official newspaper accused South Korea of planning "an armed march to the north," and suggested a Far Eastern conference to reunite the divided peninsula.
Rhee, addressing 10,000 people in Seoul Stadium Sunday, said President Eisenhower had enunciated a new United States policy at Geneva — one advocating the new "peace of mutual forbearance."
Rhee urged the free world to abandon any drift toward this or any other "status quo" policy, and instead "roll back the Iron Curtain

Ten Years After Surrender Japan Raises Shining New Communities from Ashes

By JIM CARY

TOKYO (AP)—A vast wilderness of rubble and debris stretched as far as the eye could look.

A few people, faces blank with shock, wandered through smoking ruins left by the nightly armadas of giant planes.

Tokyo and 144 other cities of Japan were broken, prostrate, and bleeding when the Pacific war ended Aug. 14, 1945.

Today, 10 years after the surrender, Japan has raised shining new communities from the ashes. Asia's finest trains flash between cities throbbing with commerce. The Japanese live under greater freedom than they have ever known. And Japan is striving for a position of full equality in the world of democratic nations. This is a nation that lost a war.

COUNTRY DEVASTATED

In the first days after surrender, the world learned how great was the catastrophe that had overtaken Japan.

The Ginza—Tokyo's Broadway—was a flattened ruin. Most of the city was a mass of black, twisted wreckage. Throughout the country 2,561,906 homes and buildings had been destroyed. An unofficial 2,000,000 persons, and perhaps 1,000,000 more, had lost their lives. Those spared were hungry and in tatters, many living in dugouts and caves.

Now the Ginza, glittering with neon signs, is again the centre of bustling trade. Tourists and local residents cram its lusty night spots. Scars of the war are difficult to find and last year industrial production surpassed that of 20 years ago by 65 per cent in the home islands.

ORDER RESTORED

Rebuilding began almost with arrival of the first occupation troops. They helped Japan put brick on brick, restore water, sewage and electric systems, erect new homes and lift up again the factories that had made her a great power.

Foreigners had brought food and medicine instead of expected pillage and rape. The Japanese treated them as if they could do no wrong.

But with the coming of independence in the San Francisco treaty of Sept. 8, 1951, Japan's attitude grew firmer. Now, under the administration of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama, there is a stiff, projected program of up to 65 per cent taxation for foreigners, fingerprinting and careful scrutiny of their activities.

The government denies these moves are anti-American, or anti any other foreign group. But there are officials who quietly admit Japan wants some foreigners out, particularly night club and cabaret operators and others who came to make their fortune.

NEW CONSTITUTION

The new constitution has general public approval although Conservatives want to revise its armaments—renouncing clause to permit a bigger defence buildup, and to enhance powers of the emperor, demoted from a godlike-inviolable monarch to a mere symbol of state.

Land reform and women's suf-

Coal Black...

or "Aluminum Blonde"?

Don't be surprised if one of these days you see a coal truck go by loaded with shining stuff that certainly doesn't look like coal. One big coal company now sprays its anthracite with aluminum paint. Not only makes it cleaner to handle; it burns better, too.

We note, too, that aluminum is involved in another fuel operation—this time in capturing heat from the sun. An aircraft company operates a solar furnace that focuses the sun's rays by means of a 120-inch aluminum reflector to create temperatures up to 8,500 F. It is used to test materials under extreme heat.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

frage are probably the most successful of the changes. Yet these issues faded into insignificance alongside Japan's historic struggle to stay solvent as a nation.

Briefly this is the problem: Japan's foreign trade was crushed by the war. Her exports now are only 46 per cent of the 1938-39 level, imports 76 per cent. She has 88,500,000 persons living in half the area 72,000,000 used in 1941. Only 15 per cent of her land is tillable. Twenty per cent of the food supply and most raw materials must be imported.

Exports this year will be an estimated $1,800,000,000 imports $2,200,000,000. The difference doubtless more than made up by $450,000,000 in U.S. troop expenditures.

MUST OVERCOME DEFICIT

It is this deficit, covered by steadily decreasing U.S. purchases that Japan must overcome.

Her accession to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and the trade plans negotiated with 17 member nations will take up perhaps $4,000,000 or $50,000,000 of the slack.

A little more may be picked up by present ventures into the Middle East, Europe, Latin America and the United States.

A very little additional may come from Red China and Russia, but this vaunted market has so far been a mirage with strong over-

Where then is the difference to be obtained? Experts give an almost universal answer—from the nations of south-east Asia, the same ones Japan failed by war to weld together in a "co-prosperity sphere."

The Philippines, Malaya, Indonesia, Thailand, Burma and Indochina all need Japan's manufactured products and Japan needs their foodstuffs and raw materials. Economists say before this swap can materialize these nations must develop a surplus, to sell, and Japan must launch a painful plant modernization program.

In politics the balance of power lies heavily with the Conservatives and probably will for a number of years in spite of slow Socialist gains. Communists, widely discredited and disliked, have a meagre 60,000 cardholders.

LIFT RED BAN

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Carlos Ibanez has promised the Chilean Workers Federation that he will ask Congress to speed work on a bill lifting the ban on the Communist party, it was reported authoritatively today. The report followed a conference between the president and Cletorio Bliest, president of the federation, the most powerful labor organization in Chile.

After 53 Years Canso Strait Finally Bridged

By DON HOYT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MULGRAVE, N.S. (CP) — Ira MacDonald tugged at his grey moustache Saturday and looked at the $23,000,000 Canso causeway running under his feet.

"They did a good job," the 88-year-old Scotsman said. Then he chuckled and said: "I guess maybe this is even better than a bridge." Ira MacDonald wasn't among the dignitaries who sat on the platform waiting to take their part in ceremonies officially opening the ribbon of granite that stretches a mile across the turbulent Canso strait between Cape Breton and the mainland.

He stood with 40,000 spectators jamming the roadway and went unnoticed except by other oldtimers who remembered the resolution he put before the Victoria council 53 years ago urging construction of a bridge across the strait.

The dream came true Saturday and 100 army, navy and air force pipers marched over the "Road to the Isles" to carry out a prophecy of the late premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia.

Although he died a year before the snaking causeway was completed, the name "Angus L." was the centre of the opening ceremonies.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe called him "a man who gave unstintingly of his time and energy" in making the causeway an engineering triumph.

President Donald Gordon of the Canadian National Railways said: "The voice we miss today is that eloquent voice of Angus L. Macdonald. Here is the moment that properly belongs to him."

Mr. Macdonald's widow, standing as proud as she did when opening the Angus L. Macdonald bridge across Halifax harbor a few months ago, said the causeway "was a man's hope and dream for many years."

IN PEACE

"May the 'Road to the Isles' be ever a happy highway. May it carry travellers in peace, in contentment and friendship," she said. A rousing cheer greeted Trade Minister Howe as he sliced a Nova Scotia tartan ribbon with a centuries-old claymore and declared the causeway open.

The causeway offers easier access to mainland markets for products from the steel mills of Sydney and coal mines of Glace Bay.

WINS TITLE

ROME (Reuters)—A 48-year-old mother of 11 children, Mrs. Caterina d'Auria, has claimed the title of Italy's fattest woman. To support her claim, she stood on a weighing machine before reporters and photographers Friday night. Her weight, 413 pounds.

British Police Recover Guns Stolen For IRA

Found in Junk Shop Cellar, Ready to Ship to Ireland

LONDON (Reuters) — Police today found all the weapons stolen Saturday by the outlawed Irish Republican Army from a British army barracks. They were discovered in a junk shop here.

The guns and ammunition were found in the shop's dusty cellar, some already packed in boxes ready for shipment to the Irish Republic.

A total of 110 guns, including machine-guns, and 151,000 rounds of ammunition were taken in the raid at the Aberfeldie arms depot Saturday, police said.

SET AMBUSH

Twelve members of Scotland Yard's special branch, which deals with political crime, lay in wait all Monday night outside the suspected junk shop, on Caledonian road in the down-at-the-heels Kings Cross district.

Before raiding it they wanted to ambush any IRA members who might turn up. All the police were armed, unusual in Britain, because they had been warned the IRA men might try to shoot their way out of the trap.

But not one turned up and today the police raided the shop.

SECRET EXIT

Searching the cellar, police found a secret hideaway leading under the road. It was in pitch darkness and anyone hiding in the basement could have retreated into it if anyone broke in to the cellar.

The IRA men, who followed up the Aberfeldie raid with two further swoops on depots in Wales and England, have been described as "desperate and dangerous."

Fears grew that the swoops by the outlawed Irish Republican Army, dedicated to ending northern and southern Ireland, by force if necessary — might lead to guerrilla warfare in Ulster, the six northern counties of Ireland still under the British crown.

RECOVER CARS

Police also have found three vehicles believed used in the Aberfeldie raid.

One truck loaded with cases of ammunition was found on the day of the coup near Aberfeldie. Another truck and a passenger car used in the raid were found abandoned and empty in London earlier today.

The war office meantime clamped a tight guard on its armories and special watch was kept on the means of exit from England to prevent smuggling of the arms to Ireland.

The Daily Sketch speculates that the IRA may adopt guerrilla tactics in Northern Ireland, pointing out that a "few thousand terrorists in Malaya have defied the might of the Empire far longer than Hitler did."

The New Chronicle and Daily Mirror says the IRA has a definite timetable for an invasion of Ulster. The New Chronicle says part of the plot would be to "seize the Dublin broadcasting station and appeal for an Ireland-wide uprising against Britain."

Both Irish governments have warned against any such violence. George B. Hanna, Northern Ireland's home minister, said in a speech Monday night in Belfast that any IRA invasion would be met by 13,000 policemen and the loyal people of Northern Ireland, standing side by side—and, I promise you, armed to defend themselves."

James Dillon, the Irish Republic's agriculture minister, said in Donegal that a partition of Ireland "will never be accepted by the Irish people." But he warned of the dangers of civil war and appealed for patience.

Penny Ryan, IRA recruiting officer in Britain, told a London crowd Sunday that the "Republican Army (IRA) is an army, and it will take the field against the British Army when the time is ripe."

Police took the names of IRA officials at the meeting where Ryan spoke, but no arrests were made.

British newspapers have denounced aggressive government action to curb terrorists' operations.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — The weather office says the weather will be mostly cloudy over southern Ontario today. Rain is expected to cloud over Wednesday afternoon with scattered showers "frequent for Wednesday evening."

CNR PRESIDENT HIGHEST PAID GOVERNMENT MAN

Donald Gordon to Get $75,000 a Year

OTTAWA (CP) — Donald Gordon, 53-year-old former admitted Monday, states police said, that he beat to death with his fists and his cane a woman he claimed was trying to steal $8,000 in United States savings bonds.

Leonard Rossman of Niverville, a former steeplejack, was charged with second-degree murder in the death of Mrs. Evelyn Stevens, 43, at his arraignment and was ordered held for the Columbia county grand jury.

The battered, nude body of Mrs. Stevens was found in Rossman's home after he had summoned a physician early Sunday. Troopers said Rossman told them the woman had been staying at his home for the past week.

Rossman said that he had hidden the savings bonds and later discovered the bonds were gone.

Rossman, separated from his wife, lost his sight when he was struck by a steel girder three years ago.

Federation Wants Canadian College Of Teachers

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Teachers' Federation decided Monday it is desirable and feasible to establish a Canadian college of teachers, a professional organization similar to the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The 74,000-member federation made the decision at its annual convention here in accepting the principle of such a college. It said establishment of a college would give teachers professional recognition which they do not now enjoy.

The 80 delegates attending the convention agreed that members of such a college would be recognized as good teachers by provincial governments, which have jurisdiction over education in Canada. A definite decision that a Canadian college of teachers should be established immediately. They decided to ask provincial affiliates for their views and to consider the proposal again at the 1956 convention.

Death of Witness Ruled Accident

COBALT, Ont. (CP) — A coroner's jury ruled Monday that Leonard James Holsworth, 48, found with a fatal bullet wound in his head July 29, died accidentally. Police related finding Holsworth in the basement of his small shack four miles from here, after going to fetch him to the hearing of rape charges against two Cobalt men.

They quoted Holsworth as saying before he died:

"I loaded my revolver to shoot a weasel. I accidentally fell five feet through an open trapdoor into the basement and the weapon discharged, wounding me."

Enjoys Centennial Birthday Party, Buckingham Palace Says Date Wrong

POTTERS BAR, England (CP) — For 100 years, Mrs. Mary Budd believed her birthday fell on Aug. 16.

Today she found out she was wrong.

Buckingham Palace officials spotted the error when they checked on Mrs. Budd's age to send her a congratulatory message from the Queen.

London's Somerset House, where all United Kingdom births are recorded, informed the palace that Mrs. Budd will not become a centenarian for another two months.

South Korea Rejects Plan For Farley to Unite Land

SEOUL (Reuters) — South Korea today formally rejected a North Korean proposal for an international conference aimed at uniting the country.

At the same time United States military police turned high-pressure fire hoses on 50 South Korean demonstrators who tried to storm the Kusan living quarters of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

The demonstrators were turned back in the only reported disturbance at the five South Korean ports where the NSNC — comprising Polish, Czech, Swiss and Swedish delegates — supervises implementation of the 1953 armistice terms. South Korea is demanding the commission's expulsion on grounds that the Polish and Czech members are "Communist spies."

Today's rejection of the North Korean proposal was in an official statement from President Syngman Rhee's office. It called the proposal "completely unacceptable" and declared unification will be achieved only when the North Korean forces have been disarmed and the Chinese Communist troops withdrawn.

Bandit Is 'Not Rough Type' But He Robs Bank of $4,000

OTTAVILLE, Ont. (CP) — A masked gunman, described as "not the rough type at all," held two women bank employees at gunpoint Monday before escaping in a stolen car with $4,000 in cash.

A bakery operator chased the bandit in his truck but lost him after three miles. Provincial police were notified but so far report no trace of the robber.

The bandit, wearing a dark handkerchief over his face, entered the Royal Bank in this village, 30 miles east of London, during the quiet lunch hour period.

He ordered teller Mrs. Dorothy Stanford to fill a brown shopping bag he thrust at her, then ushered Mrs. Stanford and Mrs. Wilma Butler, a stenographer, into a vault.

U.S. Tells World How to Produce Pure Uranium

By FRANK CAREY

GENEVA (AP) — The United States today told the world in detail how to make high-purity uranium metal—a basic material for atomic energy production—on a large scale and at low cost.

The operational technique was described at the atomic-for-peace conference by Dr. H. A. Wilhelm of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's contract laboratory at Iowa State College.

He said the description was intended to be detailed enough to allow uranium producers in any country of the world to duplicate the process.

The process involved mixing a uranium compound—uranium tetrafluoride with magnesium and placing the mixture in a furnace to initiate a "reduction" reaction leading to the production of uranium metal itself.

Uranium metal, as distinguished from raw uranium ore, is the basic material of atomic energy production for both peaceful and military uses.

Wilhelm hinted that the method he described played the key role in the wartime production of the metal for the atom bomb.

In another report to the conference, three Russian scientists described a method of determining simultaneously the content of uranium, thorium and radium in ores and rocks. The method was described as a possible aid to prospectors and processors.

REDS DEFACE CHURCH

LINZ, Austria (AP) — Police reported Monday that Russian soldiers partially wrecked a small church near Urfahr in the Soviet zone. The soldiers broke windows, upset statues and defaced the interior before they were arrested by Soviet military police, Austrian authorities said.

GUILTY IN SLAYING

MEALESTER, (AP) — Dr. Ben T. Galbraith Saturday night was convicted of the March 17 slaying of his wife. A jury fixed punishment at life imprisonment. The 34-year-old heart specialist who is also charged with the murder of his three small children, will be formally sentenced Tuesday.

WILL COMMISSION WOMEN

LONDON (Reuters) — The first Turkish woman has been enrolled as a pupil in the military school in Ankara, Ankara radio said Monday night. Turkish women have helped in wars by carrying munitions, catering and nursing the wounded. Now they will be trained in military schools, receive commissions, and be promoted on the same terms as men.

PULP EXPORTS RISE

OSLO (Reuters) — Norway exported pulp and paper to a value of $89,440,000 in the first six months of this year—seven per cent more than the same period last year. The export of mechanical wood pulp showed the biggest increase, more than 16 per cent.

GENEVA PARK, ONT. (CP) — Marriage between workers at Canada's Chalk River atomic energy plant is discouraged.

This is a safeguard against the remote possibility that atomic radiation will affect the genes which transmit hereditary characteristics to children, said Dr. E. W. R. Stencie, president of the National Research Council.

Adding that such radiation damage to genes is a remote possibility, Dr. Stencie told the Couching conference Monday that every precaution is taken against it, including a ban on married couples from working on the plant.

Dr. Stencie was speaking at an annual conference sponsored by the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

But it is difficult to prevent single people, who meet on the job, from marrying each other," he said.

CHARGE PLOT TO KILL PERON, ARREST FIFTY

'Catholic Nationalists' Said Behind Scheme

By BRUCE HENDERSON

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Government charges that "Catholic nationalists" and opposition politicians have plotted to shoot President Juan Peron have thrown Argentina into its greatest state of tension since the June 16 revolt.

Police said Monday night more than 50 persons have been arrested in connection with the alleged plot, other sources said. Many as 200 might have been jailed. Previous announcements of such plots during the nine years of Peron's regime have signalled widespread roundups of his enemies.

The government crackdown could signal the end of the "pacification" campaign Peron launched after the abortive navy uprising two months ago.

NEW FLAREUP?

It also could mean a new flareup in the feud between the president and the Roman Catholic Church, mostly dormant since the revolt, and a new crackdown on the opposition parties. These had refused to go along with the pacification campaign.

Adding to the unrest were new anti-government demonstrations, in front of Buenos Aires' Metropolitan cathedral Monday night and earlier Monday in the central Argentine city of Cordoba. Police used tear gas and fire hoses to scatter the crowds, arresting 40 demonstrators in the capital and 15 in Cordoba.

The government announcement said the plotters planned to shoot Peron Monday from an apartment they had rented on his usual route between his office and his home.

The announcement charged that the conspirators also planned to kill Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero — the army commander who quashed the June revolt—and other high officials and army commanders, and to launch a wave of terror by disrupting power lines, communications, radio stations and public utilities.

The government claimed that the "Catholic Nationalist" plotters, Communist-like cells, and had secreted their arms in a Catholic seminary. It said some arms caches were seized.

The government singled out as ringleaders in the plot (1) Mario Amadeo, a Catholic lawyer and former diplomat; (2) David Michel Torino, a leader of the opposition Radical party; (3) an unnamed Radical party member of Congress (there are only 12); and (4) Leaders of the Democratic (Conservative) party, whose president made a radio speech last week criticizing the Peron administration.

Amadeo, in hiding since June, caused a sensation last month by issuing printed pamphlets calling on the army to oust Peron.

Hurricane Diane Expected To Hit S. Carolina Coast

Storm Warnings Fly Along Entire Eastern Seaboard

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Diane slowed down a little early today, but kept her 115-mile-an-hour punch aimed at the Georgia and South Carolina coasts.

As if to give the threatened area more time to prepare, the season's fourth hurricane slowed its forward movement from 14 miles an hour to 10 during the night. Its estimated position 23 miles east-southeast of Charleston, S.C., at dawn indicated only five miles forward movement since 3 a.m. EDT.

Diane is expected to continue a forward speed of eight to 10 miles an hour in a west-northwesterly direction during the next 12 to 24 hours.

DUE TONIGHT

The weather bureau said "movement at this slower speed would bring the centre to the South Carolina coast late tonight or Wednesday morning."

Hurricane warnings flew this morning from Fernandina, Fla., to Wilmington, N.C. A hurricane alert extended north of Wilmington to the Virginia capes and storm warnings flew elsewhere along the coast.

Diane was expected to hit the coast later today a short distance south of where Connie went inland and drenched the middle Atlantic states, leaving 42 dead and millions in property damage.

COVERS BIG AREA

Winds of 115 miles an hour were whirling over a small area near the centre and hurricane — force winds extended out 125 miles to the north and east and 70 miles to the southwest. Gale force winds extended another 250 miles north and east and 170 miles southwest.

Tides, one to four feet above normal, were expected to become six to nine feet above normal in places a short distance north of the storm's path.

Small craft on the upper east coast of Florida were advised to remain in port. Similar craft from the Virginia capes to Cape Hatteras, Del. and lower Chesapeake Bay were advised not to venture far from port.

Savannah Beach, Ga., was ordered evacuated and residences along the South Carolina coast boarded up. The American Red Cross called on its forces to stand by.

The American approach to the UN sub-committee meeting, it was learned, is not at the moment to lay down a detailed plan, but rather to negotiate on the basis of the president's Geneva proposal and follow it up by advocating a set of principles upon which a comprehensive control system might eventually be negotiated with the Soviet Union.

77th Birthday Is Celebrated By Tom Kennedy

DIXIE, Ont. (CP) — Tom Kennedy, former Ontario agriculture minister, Monday celebrated his 77th birthday.

Mr. Kennedy, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature for Peel, spent the day quietly at his farm here, near Toronto, together with 30 members of his family.

The youngest of his seven grand-children got him some chewing gum. Mr. Kennedy was premier for eight months after George Drew resigned to become national leader of the party in 1948.

Father Denies Car Burial Story

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A father who has had workmen scoop out a large hole in a cemetery here denied today rumors that he planned to bury an automobile. Reynaldo Garcia was quoted by the cemetery supervisor as saying he was building four burial vaults for future use of his family.

Reports swept this island city Sunday that Mrs. Garcia was planning to bury a car owned by her son, Reynaldo Garcia, Jr., 21, killed in an auto wreck a year ago.

Garcia refused to talk to reporters Sunday and again today. Robert Dean, supervisor of Catholic cemetery where the hole was being dug, talked to Garcia at a reporter's request.

Garcia told him he had never considered burying the automobile.

City officials discussed the matter of whether an automobile could be buried in the cemetery. A priest at the Roman Catholic church said he considered it a matter for city officials to decide.

UNION MEMBERS WILL ATTEND 3-DAY SCHOOL

A strong representation from Belleville will be among Ontario trade union officers attending a three-day school late this month in Lake Cathamora, north of Peterborough.

Under the aegis of the Trades and Labor Congress the labor representatives will study union administration, collective bargaining and other topics at the school, in session August 25-28 at Club Whitepanda, owned by the International Chemical Workers Union.

Those attending from Belleville will include: Jim Prith, Art Whitehead, Ronald Burshaw and Ed. de Leeuw, all of Canada Cement Company; Art Gilroy, J. Calcutt, Jack Moon, Ken Burley, O. Morgan, M. Palmer, M. Crawford and M. Stearns, all of Corby Distillery Limited.

FIRE DEPT. TRUCK AT FAIRGROUNDS

In order to provide the most complete protection possible for the fair board and its patrons, the Belleville Fire Department will have a fire truck stationed on the grounds for all four days of the fair.

The fire truck is stationed under a temporary shelter adjoining the tower building with firemen continually on duty throughout the day.

Two calls were answered by city firemen Monday. One was for a grass fire at the corner of Victoria and Huronwood, and the other was for a rubbish fire at Mowers' Wreckers in Irishtown, west of the city.

SIAMSESE MELONS GROWN AT WEST LAKE

Cecil Kleinstuber, district farmer, is finding canteloupes in pairs.

Picked this week on the Kleinstuber farm at West Lake were two canteloupes, that were really four. The canteloupes had grown to full size Siamese fashion, two canteloupes joined solidly in one body.

Also picked at the same time was a melon, or rather two melons, sprouting in the same fashion.

6-POUND CHANNEL CAT CAUGHT IN MOIRA

One way to chase dog days is to catch catfish.

Last night the catfish were running at O'Brien's bridge for Ken Courneyea, of Toronto. Ken was fishing with his brother, Ron Courneyea, of Belleville.

The item that made the trip worth while was a 25-inch channel cat that weighed six pounds.

Plans for disposal of the finny fellow were vague but baths in castle Courneyea were scarce last evening as the channel cat cruised up and down the tub.

SEA CADETS HELP TO DIRECT TRAFFIC WITHIN GROUNDS

Belleville Sea Cadets are out in force at the fair this week and in addition to "manning" a sea cadet boat in one of the buildings are acting in the role of traffic directors on the grounds.

Motorists entering the fair grounds are directed by courteous sea cadets to parking areas.

MAPS OF GROUNDS SET ON STANDARDS

They possibly still have a lot of persons bureau in any of the court-rooms but there is actually no reason for anyone to get lost at the Belleville Fair this year.

At the entrance to the fair grounds and also at several locations inside the gates are spotted maps of the fair grounds showing all buildings, roadways, racetrack and other points of interest. The maps are in large frames some set in the ground on standards and others at convenient locations.

All in all the map idea was a good move on the part of fair directors.

Farm Machinery Exhibit at Fair Covers Wide Area

A horse's nightmare is to find scarcely a horseshoe to pitch from the stable in the Fairgrounds. It is the big, stolid exhibition of farm machinery which improves year by year with the unimpeded march of technological progress, which by now has pushed the plow horse to oblivion.

The exhibition of 1955 continues to hold up to the steady pace of progressive improvement set of latter years and this year offers as much interest as any in years. One of the largest tractor displays open to the viewer is that of Massey-Harris, a Ferguson firm of the biggest names in farm equipment—Massey Harris and Ferguson to make up its individual exhibition. On view among the Massey-Harris field pieces is a big gun-the 44 Special which is diesel engine that mounts 44 horsepower on the belt. Also on view is a Massey-Harris baller, a Ferguson Mower, two combines and a complete line of Ferguson tractors, including the new 35 model, maine spreaders, plows, discs, and tillers.

The latest thing in Ferguson tractors, the Ferguson 35, which includes a new hydraulic setup in its main pump and with its increased horsepower also possesses six speeds ahead and live-power take-off and power-expanding wheels.

John Bean machinery makes up the exhibit of the Morton firm from Thomasburg. Included here are two Bean sprayers, primarily for orchard work, appearing in this country for the first time. Supporting the rest of the exhibition is a complete line of Ferguson tractors, including the new 35 model, maine spreaders, plows, discs, and tillers.

THREE-POINT HOOKUP

Truck and Farm Supply Limited offer to the viewer a wide range of International-Harvester-McCormick equipment. Included here are a complete tractor line, matching implement, ballers, plows, tillers and spreaders while new tractor models, 100-400 also are on display. Of particular interest in this section should be the 300 model which features a fast, new hitch and a two-point hookup, which can be converted to a three-point hookup.

The Canniford firm of Williams and Howes continues to present Minneapolis-Moline equipment. A highlight here is a new diesel tractor, the Model U, which attains 50 horsepower. Also included is a combine and two-horsepower and four-horsepower garden tractors.

Charles Cox of Belleville, has the usual line of Cockshutt equipment which includes this year a self-propelled tractor.

Trudeau's are among the largest exhibitors with Allis-Chalmers machinery. This includes a forage harrow, a quick-change hitch with grass, hay and corn attachments. Also included is a new loader equipped to fit a WD 45 of CA with a quick detaching flump. Philip and Pyear Farm Equipment of Foxboro, which equipment dealers, this year are presenting a new diesel series of 30-50 horsepower tractors. A feature of the exhibit is the 400 diesel four-pow tractor. Also included are a new spreader and 100-bush PTO spreader.

MRS. H. S. WRIGHT

Mrs. Ida Selina Wright, 37 West St., Hillcrest, died at home on Monday, August 15th, after having been in poor health for some time. She was in her 86th year.

The deceased was born in Pontypool, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brown. She lived at 183 Church St. from 1914 until two years ago when she moved to Hillcrest.

She is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Melissa Thompson, of Belleville; Mrs. W.R. (Olive) Cooley, of Niagara Falls, Ont.; Mrs. Guy (Hazel) Farmer, of Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. L. (Alma) Hawley, of Hillcrest; Mrs. T. (Maude) Farnsworth, of Belleville; and 3 sons, Henry, Samuel and Gordon, all of Belleville. She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry Samuel Wright.

Also surviving her are 19 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

The deceased was a member of Victoria Ave. Baptist church. The body is resting at the Belleville Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Splendid Cattle Show in Prospect

Prospects of a splendid cattle show at the Belleville Fair were in evidence today as Bay of Quinte district breeders brought in their prize stock to parade before the judges for the next three days.

This morning three herds of Holsteins were on hand ready for the judges tomorrow. Holstein exhibitors included Herbert Watt of Foxboro with eight head, Aymer Patheick of Campbellford with 18 head, and Don K. Spencer of Belleville with four head.

In the Ayrshire classes there were two exhibitors, Elmer Wood of Crookston and A. Craven of Bath. Jerseys were represented by Lorne Jarrell of Cannifton.

Fair board officials reported a heavy entry in beef cattle but these had not arrived at the grounds Tuesday morning. The beef cattle breeds were expected to come in this afternoon.

Sheep and swine entries were still coming in this morning with about ten pens of sheep and the same number of swine already on the grounds.

Junior Farmers from the district entered in the judging competition were swarming about the pens with pad and pencil in hand as they judged special classes of hogs and sheep.

Manufacturers and Merchants Have Varied Fair Displays

Manufacturers are manufacturing and merchants are merchandising to judge by the packed exhibits in the manufacturers' and merchants' buildings at Belleville Fair.

You can find and freeze, bake and fry, cook and clean, do-it-yourself, or have someone else do it for you, according to the exhibits presented by local merchants and manufacturers.

There is even an exhibit designed to advance a child's mental development.

Television, bedroom suites, radios, appliances, television, camera supplies, furs, plants, television, deep freeze units, refrigerators, television, stoves, oil burners, water conditioners, vacuum cleaners, aluminum cooking utensils, shoes, leather goods, dry cleaning, hardware and television dominate the displays.

Revolving refrigerator shelves are not the only things left spinning by the kaleidoscope of commerce at the fair.

In the manufacturers' building the John Lewis Co. Ltd. is displaying Gurney, Findlay and Clark Jewel ranges and stoves, Coronado deep freeze units, Ingalls washers, McCleary and Rogers television, Coleman space heaters, Terry oil burners, Inglis automatic washers and driers, Marconi TV, and Electrolux vacuum cleaners and appliances.

The American kitchen, designed to please the Canadian housewife, is a feature of the John Lewis Co. Ltd. display.

Walker Hardware Co. Ltd. is showing Frigidaire air conditioning units, Frigidaire automatic washers and driers, deep freeze units and refrigerators, and Imperial stoves and wall ovens.

War-Ear Aluminum cooking utensils are displayed to show the way to cook anything, on gas, or electric ranges.

Leslie's lines of shoes and luggage make an attractive display. Brentons, of Cambridge, Ontario, is displaying McCleary and Rogers, Johnstons sinks and cabinets, White House kitchen furniture, Sepco Stonestel septic tanks and Monogram oilfree heaters.

The Percival Furniture Co. features bedroom furniture in its fair exhibit.

The Houston Lumber Co. is displaying its lines of building materials, including windows, storm windows and awnings.

Worch Manufacturing Ltd. is featuring the Williams Oil-O-Matic metered, low pressure oil burner in its exhibit, a burner which is now being produced locally.

WinterSeal aluminum doors and windows and Kool Vent exhaust fans can be seen to take advantage of nature's best features, winter and summer.

Gerow Propane Ltd. of Brighton, the only private propane filling plant in Ontario is showing Harvicat gas ranges and Peerless and Dearborn space heaters.

SHOW CLEANING MERITS

Tip Top Dry Cleaners has a revealing argument on the merits of dry cleaning upholstery in its partially cleaned chesterfield and lounge chair.

Paff sewing machines display sewing magic almost as wondrous as their name is difficult to pronounce.

Carson Elliott Ladies' Wear is featuring the nice things ladies will wear this fall.

Wills Hardware is exhibiting the famous Shopsmith all purpose tool, and Scott-Awater outboard motors with ball-o-matic, as well as a wide range of portable power tools.

Stewart-Warner Corp. of Canada Ltd. has a large display of the many sizes and styles of television, radio and radio-phonograph combination sets which the company makes in Belleville.

David's Electric Ltd. features Westinghouse laundromats, washers and driers, refrigerators, ranges, television sets, Beatty washers and Coleman floor furnaces.

Elna and Nechil sewing machines demonstrate the value of a stitch in time.

Both Radio and Television Ltd. gives fair-goers an opportunity to see themselves on television. A TV camera, connected to an Admiral receiver, projects the picture of the crowd on the set. This personal touch features Booth's display of Admiral and Sylvania TV sets, Admiral kitchen ranges, and Leonard refrigerators.

Both Industries, manufacturers of car radios, is displaying its lines of Commodore models along with Motorola radios.

R. Kuntze and Sons, local General Electric headquarters, is showing GE refrigerators with revolving shelves, GE ranges, wash-

Students' Work, Crafts, Fruit, Vegetables Shown

Early this morning the fair grounds were covered with an atmosphere of stillness. The grandstand was empty; the booths were covered with canvas and showed no sign of life except for an occasional operator who was doing beside his stand. A few sweepers were seen clearing away the debris of the day before. The voices of a small group of children could be heard breaking this spell as they returned to the scene of their activity yesterday.

Soon the fair would come alive for its second day, bringing with it the crowds and merriment. One of the popular spots for the youngsters' opening day was the elementary school exhibit. Here they viewed with pride their own creations. Mural drawings were hung on the wall. One of these chalk drawings depicted pioneer days. Another showed life in Switzerland and still another told the history of French Canada. An exhibit of the popular spots for the youngsters' opening day was the elementary school exhibit. ## Police Urge Motorists See Safety Movie

Ontario Provincial Police, as well as municipal police departments in the Belleville area, urge that as many motorists as possible see the highway safety picture "Devil Take Us" now being shown in the area.
The picture on highway safety will be shown at the McCarthy Theatre starting on Wednesday. The film, 21 minutes in length, shows the driving evils and mistakes on the part of motorists which are almost certain to cause an accident and kill them or innocent parties.
At the same time the picture shows correct driving habits based on courtesy and accepted rules of the road. The picture is made up of actual highway shots seen through the eyes of the California State Police.
We feel the picture should be seen by as many motorists as possible," commented Cpl. H. Barker of the Belleville O.P.P.

RESCUE DOG

BLADENBURG, Md. (AP) — Workmen tore through an asphalt street Monday to dig down and rescue a small black cocker spaniel that had been trapped at least 18 hours in an underground drainage pipe. The dog was taken by police to an animal hospital, where it was reported in a weakened condition but otherwise all right.

Minor Softball

The Tip Top Cleaners scored an 11-7 victory over Blind's Sportsmen at Fireman's Park last night and earned the right to meet Elliott's Regents in a best-of-three series to decide on Belleville's O.A.S.A. bantam representative.
Tip Top eliminated Blind's two games to win and meet Elliott's tonight and Wednesday night in the first two games of their important series. A winner must be decided by Saturday when Belleville trek to Peterborough for the first O.A.S.A. game.

Locke hurled for the winners last night, allowing nine hits, fanning three and passing nine. Smith was catcher. Holloway went the distance in a losing effort, giving up eight hits, whiffing eight and walking 13. Pointer caught.
Kieft and Skinner were the top hitters for the losers, each with two singles while Gardner, last night, McGuire, Locke and Sheridan had singles. Latchford claimed a pair of singles for Blind's while Zuhler, L. MacDonald, MacKenzie, Moreton, Rossells and Holloway also hit safely.
The winners had three errors and Blind's five.

Minor Baseball

Parkdale downed the T.P.T.'s 10-5 at Pine Street last night to even the best-of-three peewee semi-finals at one game each. The two clubs clash again on Wednesday night at Parkdale with the winners meeting Goldies' Shellers for the city championship.

R. Stratton was on the mound for the winners, allowing but two safeties while fanning one. D. Rose was his receiver. Phillips worked the bobbles in defeat, giving up five hits and whiffing nine while Tracey caught.

Durrant had a triple for the only extra-base hit on the winner's team while Ward had a double for the only extra-base hit on the loser's team. T.P.T.'s Errors played an important part in the scoring, the victor's bobbles five times and the losers on seven occasions.

Centennial Gates Unveiled to Open Fair

New Centennial Gates, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Belleville Fair, were unveiled at fair opening ceremonies Monday afternoon. After the gates were unveiled by fair officials, Mr.

Memorial Gates Unveiled, Fair Goes Welcomed by President As Exhibition Gets Under Way

Belleville Fair formally opened its 1955 edition on Monday in a blaze of brilliant weather, ceremony and good crowds.
The colorful exhibition was given the patron "O.K." as it unfolded its show-window glory before thousands of first-day children and first-night adults.
It was typical August weather with a bright sun shining down from a cloudless sky. Good weather is predicted for the remainder of the four-day exhibition.

Dual ceremonies marked the opening of the fair. Shortly after two o'clock President Dr. Russell Scott, past-president Harry Rollins, who acted as master of ceremonies, a number of fair board directors and Mr. F. A. Lashley, superintendent of fairs for the Province of Ontario, unveiled the handsome plaque-adorned gates at the entrance to the grounds.

Some minutes later Mr. Lashley, with the fair president, his directorate and special guests formally opened the fair in front of the grandstand.

BRIEF ADDRESSES

Prior to the unveiling several brief addresses were given before Mr. Lashley presided at the ceremony. President Russell Scott said he looked back with pride to the great work done by preceding presidents and boards of directors. "These gates," he said, "are but a small token of the great work done by our forebears."

He paid tribute to the fine efforts expended by his own directorate. Mayor Jack Both said the "Belleville Fair was by far the best in Ontario east of Toronto." "He hoped," he said, "that some time it would reach the dimensions of the Canadian National Exhibition. He extended the city's welcome to the guests, adding that during the next 100 years the fair would improve on the same ratio as it has in the past under great leadership."

At this point at a signal from President Scott, Directors Harry Smith and treasurer Ben Bleeker pulled the cords that unveiled the gates. The Rev. H. H. Hillis then offered a dedicatory prayer.

RIBBON IS CUT

Mr. Lashley then cut the wide, white ribbon strung across the gates in an "opening" ceremonial gesture. In a brief address he said his department has 70 exhibitions that have exceeded the century mark but it had reports that the Belleville Fair existed some 113 years ago.

"We are proud of these organizations, which have served agriculture for over 100 years," he said. "We have a policy to offer societies of this nature $1,000 to gates and establish plaques. You have gone a step further. I note you have paid tribute to our pioneers. It is a very broad-minded gesture on your part. Your society stands out in this respect and also in the fine job it is doing in building its fair. The

MIDWAY CRAMMED WITH NOVELTIES

The exhibition is living up to advance notices. From the humble shout to the proudest Holstein and Percheron; from the family cult to the handsome carriage horse and from all points of exhibition view the fair stands out as one of the best in years.
The Conklin Midway is again crammed with novelties. The stage performance is one of the best ever presented here with the Commodore Orchestra doing yeoman service in a musical sense.

Unofficially the fair opened at 9:30 Monday morning ushering in Children's Day. All afternoon the grounds were thronged with kiddies and proud parents escorting their offspring through the wonders of the midway, the thrills of the many rides and the grandstand presentation.

Paddy Conklin, owner of the midway, lived up to his promise that his 1955 presentation would be outstanding. It is just that. The tented city gleaming with gaily-colored lights at night registered to the familiar cry of the hawkers. Again many laudatory comments were heard with regard to the paved roadways that ribbon to the grounds.

Mr. Conklin has left nothing to be desired as far as rides go for the younger fry and the oldersters too. Outstanding and a prime favorite with all ages is the new "round-up" an aerial thrill that defies gravity. This huge circular ride, whirling then cants at a sharp angle. Thrills, plenty of them.

MANY RIDES ON GROUNDS

There are airplane rides, swang-a-longs, auto rides, pony rides on real ponies, the ubiquitous merry-go-round and the equally popular ferris wheel, and pin-tized railway train and others.

In the tented city there are shows never seen here before but a popular favorite playing a return engagement is the acrobats Slim and his wild western rodeo, and circus with real animals. There is Princess Vago the "Queen of Voodoo" with her retinue of snakes. Kelley Kastle, a fun-filled show, which would be spoiled if described here. Leo the Circus Boy, the fat lady weighing 802 pounds, the Crystal maze, a mirror show.

Then there is "Pigalle" a street in Paris dubbed "Big Alley" by the American G.I.s. Ha, this is a show of beautiful girls, the ideal relaxation for the tired businessman—or any other man for that matter.

GAMES, CONTESTS

However, the shows are but part of the midway. There are games and contests galore. You can pitch darts, shoot air rifles, toss balls, pitch hoops and pennies, play horse racing on a miniature electric track, manipulate a steam shovel and play bingo for prizes. You can have your weight measured, you head and hands read and your fortune told.

You can eat hot dogs, potato chips, hamburgers, ice cream cones, candy floss, cheeseburgers and drink all kinds of soft drinks at your leisure. There are tents where meals are served.

Live stock exhibits, the proud sties, dams and colorful offspring of some of Canada's most famous beef and dairy breeds are here. Horses, you should see. Proud Palominos vie with colorful Clydes, Percheron, Belgians and other draft classes not to mention the prancing carriage breeds. Swine, poultry and other live produce make up the fair.

Industry, business, agriculture in its many phases, not forgetting the ladies, schools, the junior farmers and farmerettes, the craftsmen, federal and provincial, are here taking their place in the show window of Hastings county.

HIGH CLASS SHOW

The stage entertainment presented by the George Hamid Productions of New York City is high-class variety that ranks easily among the best grandstand presentations seen here.

The highlight and feature of the show are the Hollywood Rockets, two men and a pretty girl, who do death-defying stunts atop a 100-foot steel tower. The thrilling climax is the "sway" feat as the principals danger dangerously in air from swaying steel poles. It is a thriller of the first water.

The Marie Shaw Dances, ten beautiful girls, appear in four numbers and their dancing routines are vastly different from the usual. They do a "St. Louis Blues" number, an Hawaiian number, a "half-and-half" and a gypsy routine. The costumes are dazzlingly beautiful in keeping with an outstanding presentation.

Then there is "Bozo" the clown who pantomimes his way through an hilarious routine and is a one-man band in himself. He is good. The Pedro Dussard "knockabout acrobats" are a standout. Pedro an 11-year-old boy is an acrobat wonder and does some uncanny tricks.

The "Virginians" European jugglers, are an act in themselves. A clever young gentleman and his attractive partner provide a lot of almost impossible tricks with dumbbells, balls and other juggling impedimenta. The Trubers, comedy trampoline experts, provide a riot

Finest Horse Show in History Of the Fair Directors Say

Finest horse show in the history of the 115-year-old fair was the way directors of the Belleville Exhibition described the 1955 entry of show horses.

Even Monday night every available horse stall on the grounds was filled. A fair director today stating by actual count there were more than 150 show horses at the fair. This was in addition to the race horses which filled a large number of stalls.

Both heavy and light horse classes are well represented at the exhibition with several new entrants showing up for the fair for the first time this year.

Monday afternoon and evening the Palomino classes were judged, while judging of other horse classes gets underway today.
W. D. Reid, chairman of the horse committee, said this year's entry of horses, was easily the largest in the history of the fair. "We just haven't had more room to put horses," he said.

The quality of horses being shown at the fair is on par with the best shown anywhere, according to Mr. Reid. Indicative of this is the fact that the champion Palomino horse in all Canada is at the fair.

Included among the exhibitors showing horses at the fair with the class of horses shown are the following: John Sheridan, Stirling, L. Ivan Cochrane, Port Perry, R. Saddler, L. Steve Bowerman, L. A. Culmer, L. D. Wilson, pony, H. J. Jamieson, Guelph, L. L. Lance Rumble, Durham, L. Dr. William Bartlett and Sons, Brampton, L. Dave MacDonald, Belleville, Ontario; A. E. Bang, London, H. A.

with tables, chairs and other woodwork, mixing hilarious antics with splendid acrobatic stunts. The stage entertainment plays matinee and evening engagements through Wednesday night.

Other grandstand attractions yesterday were the "Meat Mile" won by Sam Gault, the story of which is on the sports page and the judging of two classes of beautiful Palomino horses. In the evening the first section of a square-dancing contest was held.

This afternoon inaugurated the two-day program of harness racing. Some of the finest paces and trotters in the province are here and lovers of this sport are in for a treat.

PORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who pulled a broken automobile radio antenna out of his chest after it pierced his heart was critically hurt Monday. The antenna was plunged three inches into the chest of Larry Latourette when he fell from a bicycle. It speared the bottom of his heart.

CANADA'S TOURIST DEFICIT

In 1954 the Canadian tourist industry had a net deficit of $80,000,000. That is, Canadian tourists in other countries spent $80,000,000 more than visitors left in Canada.

In 1953 the $382,000,000 which Canadians spent touring other countries $313,000,000 was spent in the United States $69,000,000 overseas. Americans visiting Canada spent $280,000,000 while visitors from other countries spent $22,000,000.

Attracting $302,000,000 worth of business requires a substantial effort. In view of the much greater expenditure of money by Canadians in other countries one wonders if the effort is being directed to achieve maximum effect.

It would seem that a good deal of tourist promotion should be directed at Canadians "to see Canada first." A nation of gypsies that can spend nearly $400,000,000 outside the country each year should be amenable to the lure of seeing the multitude of wonders in their own vast country.

Why do Americans visit Canada? The great volume of tourist literature would suggest that Americans are interested in Mountains, Indians, fishing, hunting and camping, in about that order.

Why do Canadians visit the United States? Practically all of them visit cities to see man-made wonders, to shop or to be entertained at sporting events or winter resorts. Lower prices are a big attraction to Canadians who have a hard time understanding how their dollar is worth more than a U.S. dollar when the latter buys so much more of everything with the exception of restaurant meals. Canadians, for the most part, are drawn to the United States by its cities and its winter resorts while the Canadian tourist industry lures Americans with promises of piney solitude.

Are Canadians and Americans that different? In New York State there are 15,000,000 people, most of them urban dwellers who have probably never spent a night in the open by a cool, calm lake and who would be terrified of the very idea. There are 60,000,000 Americans within a few hundred miles of the Canadian border. Most of them are urban dwellers. Perhaps the call of the wild rouses no response in their civilized hearts. Maybe what they want on a visit to Canada is not assurances of loon calls on still lakes but inner spring mattresses in every bedroom, hot and cold running water, plenty of ice cubes and room service when desired. Packing a canoe and 60 pounds of equipment over a portage is romantic stuff when contemplated by the fireside but tourists might just like something more comfortable.

Americans love Paris. Why not point out that Montreal is the second largest French-speaking city in the world? Why not rapaphone on the continental charm of Quebec—a charm transplanted to Louisiana where the Mardi Gras has become a national legend? It might even be possible to interest the curious in an inspection of that Ontario boom town which calls itself "Toronto the Good."

A DISTURBING LETTER

The Chief Constables' Association of Canada says that "evil forces" are attempting to get Chief Constable Walter Mulligan dismissed from his post.

A letter signed by the Association's secretary, George Shea, says that the Association was "shocked and grieved" to read press reports of the "scandalous accusations" against Chief Mulligan.

The Association can have been no more shocked and grieved by these reports than thousands of Canadians will be by the Association's letter, read to the Vancouver police commission Friday.

A royal commission is inquiring into charges of graft in the Vancouver police department. It has not yet completed its work. Yet the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, the organization of those men entrusted with the direction of police work across the Dominion, thinks that it is permissible for it to comment on one of the questions being considered by the royal commission.

The commission has not yet announced its findings. If the accusations against Chief Mulligan were being considered in a court of law, the case would be sub judice. Technically the status of questions being studied by a royal commission may be in a different category. Common sense will suggest, however, that the interests of justice would best be served if comment were reserved until the commission had heard all the evidence, weighed it and announced its findings.

Even if the Chief Constables' Association feels that it is competent to reach a verdict on the Mulligan case on the basis of "many discussions on the part of the writer (of the letter) with many police officials and others since the opening of the inquiry," the public would have had more reasons to believe that the Association's comment was not a "spontaneous burst of sentiment to defend a member of our organization" if the royal commission had been permitted to reach its own decision without the proffered assistance of the Association.

As it is, we fear that many laymen will wonder how the Chief Constables' Association can possibly reach a verdict in a matter of this nature in such a speedy fashion. Most Canadians, we hope, are suspending judgment as far as Chief Constable Mulligan is concerned. The Association would have been wiser to have followed this example.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

August 16, 1935

For the third consecutive year Mayor George O. Tice has been invited to act as official starter at the horse races at the Lindsay Fair in September. Mr. Bert Ferris is paying a visit to the "old home town" after an absence of thirty years. He has prospered in the United States and is a successful and prominent hardware merchant in Detroit, Minn. During the year he lived here he was employed as a tinsmith with the W. W. Chown Company and also with the Smith Hardware Company. He is renewing acquaintances and many old friends are pleased to see him after so many years absence.

Mrs. W. W. Farley celebrated the 90th anniversary of her birth at her home in Smithfield on August 12th and she was kindly remembered by her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren and by many friends and relatives. Tea was served on the lawn surrounded by the beautiful flower garden; it was a very happy event.

Miss Barbara Turvey, Isabel Street, has returned home after spending three weeks vacation at Lake Rosseau.

Mrs. J. T. Delaney, Mrs. Gordon Delaney, Miss Olive Delaney and Mr. Maurice Gadd have left on a motor car trip to Winnipeg.

Mr. W. J. Hall and sister, Mrs. Hodgen, have returned to the city after visiting friends in Pembroke, Medina, N.Y. and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Hopkins and daughter, Lorraine, of Toronto, are the guests of Mrs. Hopkins' mother, Mrs. Florence Countryman, John Street.

Mrs. B. A. Fleming and daughter, Mary, have returned home from Rochester, N.Y., where they visited friends.

30 YEARS AGO

August 16, 1925

Mrs. Elmer Finkle and son, William, of Cardston, Alberta, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meyers at Carmel.

Miss Aileen Embury of Ros-chester, N.Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meagher, Charles Street.

Yesterday the bands of Belleville, Frankford and Campbellford had a picnic at Glen Ross on the Trent River. Bandmaster Reg. Hinchey of this city conducted the bands in a very pleasing program.

"Daddy" Duseberry of this city is a proud man today and he has proved himself to be some fisherman. Yesterday when fishing in the bay along the Prince Edward County shore, from Niagara Island to the bay bridge, he caught three "lunge" which weighed respectively 18 pounds, 22 pounds and 40 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Yeomans of Chicago, Ill., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Horace A. Yeomans, Bridge Street east.

40 YEARS AGO

August 16, 1915

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Embury and family have returned home from Salmon Lake where they were in camp for two weeks.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnston gave an at home to mark the opening of their remodelled and newly decorated academy of dancing in the Metropolitan Block on Front Street.

There was a large attendance of young people who greatly admired the new quarters. The Ed. O'Rourke orchestra furnished excellent music.

Mr. Harry H. Ponton is home from Graton, to spend a few days with his father, Lieut. Col. W. N. Ponton, at Sidney Cottage, Trent Road.

50 YEARS AGO

August 16, 1905

Norris and Rowe's big circus is here today and there is a big crowd in town to see the show.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will run an excursion per the steamer Aletha on Saturday afternoon, to Deseronto and Napanee. Two hours will be allowed in Napanee.

Mr. Joseph James of Actinolite was in town today.

Messrs. James and Edward McGarvey of Marmora were visitors in town today.

Children Need Parental Aid U.S. Presidents Poor Spellers

(Vancouver Sun)

Maybe Dr. Ralph Rabinovitch, Michigan child psychiatrist, has the right answer about the "problem" of today's teenagers.

They're not crazy mixed-up kids. It's the world they live in that's crazy and mixed up.

Let's consider this a minute. We think what he means is that the teen-agers' parents have got mixed up with crazy theories about bringing up children. They are trying to give them too much independence, expecting them to stand on their own feet while their legs are still wobbly.

Parents after all are more mature than their children, despite some of the sensational speeches made by psychiatrists with ideas different from Dr. Rabinovitch's. Perhaps they don't know as much "book learning" as some of their offspring, but they have the inestimable advantage that age always has over youth of having been around longer, learning the hard way from the knocks that life gives out.

The parent who neglects to give the child the advantage of his own life experience is committing a failure indeed. But it is also obvious that many parents have to clear their minds of a double misconception about the younger element.

One misconception as Dr. Rabinovitch said it is that the young should be given independence early, but the other misconception stems from what might be called a superstition of the 20th century, that today's teen-agers have the devil in them and can't be controlled.

One generation basically is like another. No better and no worse. Today's world is more complex, with more distractions and attractions. All the more reason therefore why dad and mom should be affording their young ones the security and guidance they need.

(From the Indianapolis Star)

George Washington, according to historians, was a very whimsical speller.

His formal education was roughly equivalent to that in the fifth grade of today's public schools, and he spelled by ear. In his lexicon "pear" was "pair," "raccoon" was "rakoon," "oil" was "oyl," "lie" was "lye" and "pleurisy" was "plo Reese."

George Simpson, in his "Book About American Politics," quotes a speech by a Tennessee congressman to show that Andrew Jackson was a poorer speller than Washington.

The congressman said: "Andrew Jackson spelled 'God' with a small 'g' and 'Europe' 'U' but he was a great general and incorruptible judge, and a capable president. He always believed the earth was flat, instead of round, and insisted the proper pronunciation of 'development' was 'development' but he had great ruling qualities nevertheless."

When someone reminded Theodore Roosevelt that Jackson had written "I'll hold New Orleans in spite of Urop and all hell," T. R. replied: "If that doesn't spell Europe, what does it spell?"

Jackson was just another man ahead of his time. He believed in simplified spelling.

Another, no better and no worse. Today's world is more complex, with more distractions and attractions. All the more reason therefore why dad and mom should be affording their young ones the security and guidance they need.

Ghost Study Upsets Authors

(New York Times)

The announcement from London that a group of scientists have agreed on the need for a universal study of ghosts and things ghostly is probably being met with mixed feelings in the world of letters. For ghosts have long been an intrinsic part of our literary heritage. Ghost stories, from such masters as Poe and Henry James on down, have been high on the list of perennial best-sellers. The plots of two of our greatest dramatic masterpieces, "Hamlet" and "Macbeth," turn on the action of the ghosts. So much trouble is caused in "Hamlet" by the ghost of the title role's father, as a matter of fact, that a minor bard named Charles Dalmon has left us this complaint directed at the offender:

"No ghost should be allowed to work
And make such havoc with his talk:
When folks are dead, they should rest
I have no patience with you, Sire!"

Allusions to ghosts are by no means uncommon in our literature. The Bible includes a dozen mentions of "giving up the ghost" as a less onerous way of departing this earth. Hard-headed Macaulay asks: "How many children, and how many men, are afraid of ghosts?"

But the corridors of literary history have long been cooled with the winds of another type of ghost: examples are the minstrel who signed Homer's name to his ballads of Ancient Greece, and Christopher Marlowe, who some say helped out the Bard by crediting him with the authorship of at least three of Marlowe's plays — "Titus Andronicus," "Henry VIII" and "Richard III." Nor is it a secret that the publishing trade today is peopled with this kind of ghost. Occasionally the ghost works under the more technical title of Rewrite Man. Some publishers employ a full-time ghost on their staffs, and he is ready to inhabit for a time the spirit of any celebrity whose signature the firm is fortunate enough to get signed to a contract. If the firm is successful in corraling more than one worthy at a time, the overworked ghost may have to doff and don several shrouds almost without let-up.

A wary reader who doesn't agree that it's fun to be fooled has several clues to guide him in his search for literary phantoms. Let's assume that Mr. Big is persuaded that his life story is worth putting down between boards. He agrees further that he is far too busy to write the book himself, and consents to work with Mr. Small, a member of the ghostly profession.

If Mr. Big lives up to his generosity to his name, he may permit the book to be signed jointly: "By John Big and Richard Small." Or he may prefer just one short chapter and have it read: "By John Big, with the editorial assistance of Richard Small." Perhaps, though, the publisher fears that the public already knows that Mr. Big is long on money but short on words. He may persuade Mr. Big to allow the title page to say something like: "By John Big, as told to Richard Small."

However, generosity may not extend beyond a sentence in the front matter, which only the most careful reader ever gets to. Here, after due thanks to wife and children, the ghostly associate, former teachers, miscellaneous friends and the typist, Mr. Big may add: "And I hereby express my gratitude to Richard Small, who gave me some help in putting this book together." And of course Mr. Small always faces the very live possibility that he will search in vain for any written acknowledgment at all.

The Measure Of Progress Wine Menace To France

(Christian Science Monitor)

The human race, think scholars, has been sliding steadily toward the abyss of alcoholism for a million years. It took these prehistoric men at least 700,000 years, to start chipping stones into more useful shapes, and a couple of hundred thousand more to do the crude fist axes with handles.

A day or so ago the White House announced that American scholars and technicians expect to launch a satellite into outer space within three years. The news makes big headlines — for one day. And two unnoticed but enormously significant points about the announcement are: First, that no one appears to doubt it can be done; second, that no one is crying "black magic" or branding the project as "blasphemy."

For this prospective out-distancing of gravity has come too fast on the heels of other conquests of the human mind as did the theories of Galileo and the practice of steam propulsion. Invention accelerates ever faster as the mind invents, accumulates, and atom-splitting, television, radio, telephone, airplane, submarine, each in its turn and in so short a span of years, had so shattered the frontiers of the hitherto "impossible" that modern men are prepared for almost anything.

That, we submit, has been the measure of the material progress.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

When a manufacturer announces a "new and improved" product, we the people have the right to enquire: "new and improved for whom?" We bought a new red mop the summer to do the cottage veranda and floors off. It was by a long-established and reputable mop manufacturer who is a big advertiser. We asked the salesgirl for a real quality one. Because we don't want to have to drag a new mop up to the cottage every summer or two. The salesgirl selected this one for us, assuring us it was a new and improved model.

The darn mop leaves little wisps and daddies and clinkers of red wool wherever it passes. We have tried many we do the same and rust pipe needles familiar to cottage floors. Now what is new and improved about this? We are entitled to suppose that the manufacturer has discovered some new and improved way of manufacturing the mop that greatly improved the ease and simplicity of manufacturing it, and affords his new mop better.

Last year, our cottage stove pipes reached a state of decline that rendered them perhaps dangerous. So we bought half a dozen new pipes. The pipes I had bought had been manufactured by one of the other three.

All the galvanizing, which must have been painted on with a soft brush, has scaled off, leaving the pipes hairy, scabby, ghastly.

Figuring that the manufacturer had discovered some new and improved way of galvanizing, I wrote to the hardware dealer and enquired the name and address of the firm from whom he bought galvanized pipe. Unfortunately, he replied that he bought from three firms. So I wrote to all three, assuming in each case that my dealer, whose name I gave, had bought from him.

My first letter, I suppose, stove pipe with poetic fervor, and suggested that they go out of business before it is too late. In case they didn't want to go out of business, I tipped the hardware dealer that they had recently hired any new chemists and technicians fresh out of the universities, they ought to let them know the science behind the rust business. Anyway, since the pipes weren't such a mess, it was obvious that any new and improved method they had discovered for galvanizing pipes was certainly very hard on the consumer.

In all three cases, the manufacturers replied that without doubt the pipes I had bought had been manufactured by one of the other three.

Yankee Beriberi Is Endemic

Before we begin today's lesson may I inform knuckleheads I have heard from scores of correspondents about a catcher on a big league baseball team.

Beriberi is a Sinhalese word (the principal race of the island which means least weakness. Full-fledged beriberi causes one-fifth of all disease in Malaya. Formerly it caused 17,000 deaths in a year in Japan. It is endemic (prevails constantly) in India, China, the Philippines, East Indies. It is a nutritional deficiency disease, due primarily to insufficient vitamin B1 (thiamin) but lack of other vitamins usually plays a contributing part.

Beriberi develops insidiously, not abruptly. Instead of a few days or a week it is months as a rule, before it disables. It is characterized by heart-artery troubles, what is wrongly called "neuritis" but is really not nerve inflammation but degeneration of nerves and edema. But such full fledged beriberi is seldom encountered in North America. What we have is Yankee beriberi, or, at least, cases are not diagnosed even if the affected individuals consult physicians. Doctors in America wait for the characteristic manifestations of full fledged beriberi as the disease is described in textbooks — and while they wait for signs or symptoms which are not likely to occur they string patients along with vague and spurious diagnoses such as "neuritis," "run down condition," "overwork and need of a long rest," "poor circulation."

Symptoms are generally out of place in a health column, but even mention of Yankee beriberi would be a disservice unless I tell you what I'm talking about. Here, then, are the common manifestations of Yankee beriberi: Fatigue, Dyspepsia, Palpitation, Breathlessness, Slight swelling around the ankles. Pain produced by squeezing the calf muscles. Pins and needles sensations in hands and arms or feet and legs. Distensions of veins in neck and arms. Squinting on heels is painful and it is difficult or impossible to rise from squatting without using your hands. Poor memory. Inability to concentrate. Anxiety and nervous irritability. Diminished inclination to perform accustomed work.

Now that's a fine assortment of symptoms to try on, eh, what? If perchance I have "hit your case," don't get morbid about it. On bad days — for instance Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, work days, that is — I can muster most of the symptoms myself. On good days — for instance, Wednesday and Friday, bowling days, that is — positively no symptoms.

Here is the prophylactic (care not say remedy lest some naysayers take a few doses and resume dabbling with their favorite nostrums) for all the signs and symptoms of Yankee beriberi: A teaspoonful of B-nutrient syrup with or after food twice daily or 2 B-nutrient tablets twice a day. In either form it is virtually the same supplement — an optional ration of vitamin B1 (thiamin), riboflavin, niacinamide, pyridoxine, calcium pantothenate, vitamin B12, folic acid, ferrous (iron) gluconate and manganese. Supplement the diet thus for at least three months or until you learn how to get daily ration requirement of vitamin B from nature's source — plain wheat.

DRIFTING

One of the most disconcerting things is to go down to the dock where you keep your boat and find to your dismay that it has slipped its mooring and is now drifting.

There are a few people in the world who are definitely evil and who set out to do evil. The great majority of people who fall into any kind of dereliction are well-intentioned people who for some reason started to drift. You may have been in a boat sometime rowing lazily across a river which has a three or four mile current. You were probably not conscious of the current, but as you started to take your eye at / from the place to which you want to go. When you checked up, you found you were hundreds of yards below the place you were heading for.

It is dreadful for parents when they discover that a child has started to drift. It is dreadful for a business man when he awakens to the realization that his moral drifting has led him to get involved in a situation of great seriousness. There is great weeping when husbands and wives who have long quarreled with each other see the shadow of the divorce court falling across their home.

Drifting usually carries us out to sea or over the falls.

TODAY'S TALK

AMATEURS

Is there any idling more delightful than to sit before a log fire in July in Nova Scotia with a friend and talk books, people, the world in general, and specifically to Charles Hodge of the Associated Press and 30 Beekman Place, New York City?

Well, we got to talking about amateurs and the great service they have rendered to the world. Hodge's contention was that out of all amateurs have been among the most useful men and women in all history. Then he named some — Newton, Edison, Pasteur, Columbus and a host of others. His idea was that an amateur was one who initiated a useful idea, or made an unusual discovery.

In a sense most of us are amateurs, but in the way we have today our most useful inventions have been created by amateurs, who had no idea they had struck "pay dirt."

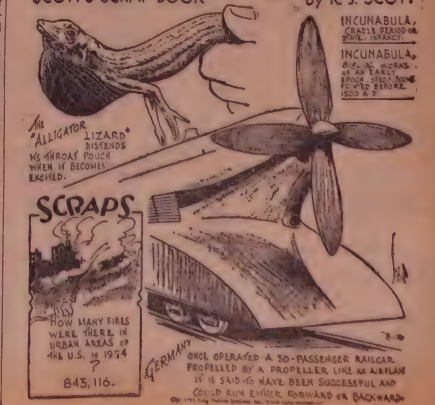

Many a discovery was stumbled upon! But once one started to think of an amateur engineer! He once showed me a contract he signed to do work for a Detroit electric firm at $100 a month.

In my town is a club that puts on an exhibition of paintings by amateurs. I have seen many of them over the years. Many show real talent, and all are quite revealing. It's not a good idea to stay in the amateur class too long, however. We must always try to live each one of our days just a little better than the one gone. We must become constructive amateurs!

The Wright Brothers were amateurs, but what they did in creating interest in aviation was another thing. They got entire nations to become air-minded and, though their attempts in the early days were experimental, they pointed the way to what we have today — travel by air around the globe! Charles Lindbergh, as a captain in the early days of flying, was an amateur as a distance flyer, but he was not an amateur in the way between New York and Paris. Amateurs point the way!

Regional Development Plan Explained to Rotary Club

The Ontario regional development plan Monday was outlined to Belleville Rotary, which is the regional division of the Department of Planning and Development, as guest speaker to the club.

Mr. Turnbull concentrated most of his remarks to the idea and organization behind the recent plan for the province. This plan consists of the formation of Ontario municipalities into nine regions to promote industrial expansion in those areas. Each region will be composed of twelve municipalities within that region.

Mr. Turnbull pointed out prior to the setting-up of the plan his department was finding that while attempting to attract industry to Ontario industrialists were not satisfied with the facilities existing within municipal boundaries. The prospective industrial settler was thinking regionally, forcing the department to do likewise.

"But it is pretty hard to talk regionally to a prospect when he is sitting in his car, selling his goods," he pointed out. "Out of this situation came the regional development program. Under the new system the department will have a regional manager who will handle the industrial prospect on a more immediate level."

"We really think when this plan is operating there will be more prospects," Mr. Turnbull said.

ON PER CAPITA BASIS

Financial participation by the municipalities will be on a per capita basis which will be matched up to a maximum $10,000 per year. Each region is divided into three zones. At least half of the elected committee handling zone affairs should be elected municipal representatives, while the remainder of the body should consist of Chamber of Commerce members or interested citizens within the zone area. In turn, the regional committee will appoint its manager and locate the regional office, which will be composed of twelve men drawn from the zone communities.

What are the direct benefits to be gleaned from the plan? "To be absolutely honest, as far as new industries are concerned I do not think the larger communities are going to get much out of it," Mr. Turnbull stated.

The larger communities have active industrial committees of their own and the regional manager will not support that organization, he pointed out. However, any development in the district around these municipalities, will have a direct impact on the retailers of the central communities.

Also "it is an opportunity for the large to help the small," he said. "Smaller municipalities within the regions, which cannot afford an industrial commission, will be aided by the new setup, but not entirely for the benefit of the little fellow," Mr. Turnbull reiterated.

He was introduced by Gil Scott and thanked by Perc McGroarty.

Splendid Display Of 1955 Model Cars at Fair

One of the biggest shop windows in this part of the country hasn't any glass but it causes many reflections.

It is the automobile exhibit at the Belleville Fair, which, because the industry it displays does so, grows progressively better every year. And 1955 is no exception. Strung out on their separate locations at the Fairgrounds this year's attractions in automobiles are the last word, even in sales talk verbiage, the until next year comes around of course.

Three city dealers have the fruits of their franchises in the big open-air shop window of the fair this year: J. B. Boyce and Sons, Trudeau Motors and Elliott Motors.

First to meet the eye on entering the grounds is the largest exhibition of the three, that of J. B. Boyce and Sons. In all 18 gleaming aristocrats of the highways are on display here — four Chryslers and 14 Plymouths. The 18 automobiles represent in all 14 different models of the two names ranging in price from $4,480 to $2,310.

On show is the new Plymouth, proudly dubbed the longest of the small cars on the market. The trunk of this year's models supports the claim, being eight inches longer than standard. Horsepower among Plymouths range from 115 to 168.

Pride of this particular display is the big Chrysler 79. Ready to drive away with anyone who enters the Fairgrounds with $4,480 on his hip, the giant packs a horse-power punch of 285.

FINE EXHIBIT

Behind the Boyce layout is the exhibition of Elliott Motors, offering the latest streamliners in Pontiacs, Buicks and GM trucks. The display consists of nine autos, six trucks and a school bus.

Kingpin of the Elliott display is a maroon Buick Super tagged at $3,800, while one of the sleekest pieces of the field is a two-tone Pontiac convertible at $2,839.

Other features of the Elliott offering are the Pontiac Laurentian hardtop, the Buick Special hardtop and the Pontiac Pathfinder Deluxe.

The Trudeau layout lies further west of the entrance, behind the farm machinery.

Featured here are Oldsmobile and Chevrolet models, both in autos and trucks. Heavy of the show is the Oldsmobile Super 88 two-door Holiday, which for $3,800 gives a kick of 202 horsepower. Running closely behind with a 183-horsepower tickle beneath its hood is the Olds 88 four-door Holiday, tagged here at $3,700. Other classy cars on view include the Chevrolet Bel-Air sports coupe, a 138-horsepower dandy of the highways going for $2,800. The exhibition also includes several other Chevrolet models and a line of Chev. trucks, ranging from a sedan-delivery outfit down to a half-ton pickup.

Poultry Exhibit Fills Up Fast

With judging of all poultry classes scheduled to get underway Tuesday morning, the poultry exhibit at Belleville Fair was fast filling up late Monday afternoon.

Exhibitors generally were pleased with the new location of the poultry building which makes it more accessible to other farm exhibits and livestock displays. The poultry building was moved to a new site immediately east of the racetrack, the primary purpose of the move being to give more space for the midway.

One fair official noted that the 1955 edition of the fair poultry show was a "better exhibit all around". Quality of the exhibits was up over other years, it was stated.

All poultry classes are well filled with the display of bantams being up considerably, as is the display of ducks.

Fair officials extend a cordial invitation for fair goers to visit the poultry building in its new location.

Wild Life Exhibit Among Features At Fair Here

In a continued effort to make Ontario residents conservation conscious, the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests is sponsoring an attractive wild life exhibit at the Belleville Fair. The exhibit is set up beneath the grandstand.

The wild life exhibit includes cages of pheasants, Canada geese and a raccoon, all cages being set in a background of evergreens giving them an attractive and natural setting. The exhibit is in charge of game inspectors Fred MacDonald and Claude Winters.

One interesting feature of the exhibit is a cross section of the stump of a spruce tree more than a century old. Growth rings on the cross section of the log shows the tree commenced its growth back in 1843, long before the first railway was built in Canada. The tree was cut last year.

The exhibit background also has pictures of fish to be found in Ontario waters and placards urge the importance of conservation from the standpoint of both wild life and timber resources.

FISH EXHIBIT

Appropriately placed alongside the Department wild life exhibit is Don's Aquaria, an elaborate display of gold fish and other marine life for living room decoration.

The exhibit, owned by Don Foster, 80 Emily street, contains roughly 35 species of decorative fish including a Siam species with definite cannibal tendencies. This little fish has a grudge against everything and will even kill and eat its own young.

Decorative fish of every size, color and hue are seen in the aquaria exhibit. Don started his aquarium as a hobby which he has developed commercially.

Shellettes Held To 11-All Tie By RCAF Girls

Osterhous Shellettes and the Trenton RCAF lassies battled to an eleven-all tie in the first game of their OASA intermediate women's softball playdowns at the Alameda Field last night. The second game is slated for the air station on Wednesday evening.

Shellettes pounded out 20 hits off two air-lasse hurlers and led at the end of the fifth by a 10-4 score. The air girls whittled away at the lead and went into the top of the ninth one run up.

Shellettes managed to push across the tying run in their half of the frame and that's the way it ended.

Linda Wagg hurled for Shellettes and was nipped for 15 outs. She whiffed three and walked two.

Brooks and King tossed for their girls whiffing two and walking one between them.

Sandra Slade hit a triple, double and two singles for Shellettes with Helen Reeves good for four singles. Rita Harder had three loners.

Johnson had a triple and two singles for the air force with Anderech getting a double and two singles. Rita Harder had three loners.

The score 002 223 211—11 5 2 Shellettes 140 500 001—11 20 6

Trading Brisk On Local Market

With large crowds in the city for the fair, business on the local market perked up this morning. Trading was brisk on a good offering of produce while prices were steady.

Tomatoes were 50 cents a six-quart basket while cucumbers ranged from a nickel apiece for slicers to 50-75 cents a basket for dills. Cauliflowers and cabbages were 10-15 cents a head while egg plants were 15-25 cents apiece. Peppers were five cents each and carrots 15 cents a quart.

Spanish onions continued at 10 cents each while potatoes were 50 cents a basket. Beets were 10 cents a bunch and 40 cents a basket. Corn sold from 40-50 cents a dozen cobs, according to size, and marrows brought 10-25 cents. Lettuce was 25 cents per two heads.

Blueberries were 50 cents a quart and plums 25 cents a box for Burbanks and 80-90 cents a basket. Green gages, in plentiful supply for the first time, were 25 cents a berry box and 90 cents a quart. Everbearing strawberries were 25 cents a pint while Montmorency cherries with stems were 85 cents a basket. Apples were 75 cents a basket for Astrachans and Transparents while melons and canteloupes ranged from 5-50 cents each according to size.

Eggs were 70 cents a dozen for Grade A large and 65 cents for mediums.

A small offering of gladioli was tabbed at $1 a dozen.

Nothing to Say On Visit by Head Of Aircraft Firm

TRENTON (Special) — Commenting on Charles H. Kaman's visit to Trenton last Friday, Senator Fraser today said "there is nothing to report at this time." Mr. Kaman is the president of the Kaman Aircraft Corporation with headquarters in Bloomfield, Connecticut. He has been giving consideration to locating a factory in Canada to manufacture helicopters.

He was the guest of Senator W. A. Fraser, whom he has known for the last six months.

Adding to his comment the Senator explained that the establishment of an aircraft plant involved millions of dollars and much planning and would naturally be a long-range project. He indicated that Mr. Kaman decided to move into Canada he would possibly select a site at Trenton.

TO WITHDRAW DESTROYER

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is expected to announce shortly the withdrawal of her last remaining destroyer from Far Eastern waters, an informed source said Monday night. Commenting on a Victoria Times report that the frigate HMCS New Glasgow, now at Pearl Harbor en route to relieve the destroyer HMCS Sioux, might return to Esquimaut naval base, the informant said this was probable.

Police Blotter

A car stolen from the city lot of J. B. Boyce and Sons Ltd., city auto dealers was recovered yesterday by Scarborough police.

City police were notified and in turn passed the word along to the dealers. That was the first the dealers knew they were short a car.

Wanted by Brockville police department on a charge of breaking and entering, Norman Johnston, Peterborough, early this morning was taken off the Montreal-Toronto train here by railway police.

Johnston was lodged at a city police headquarters until an escort arrived from Brockville.

Trucks, skirting the corners of Bridge St. East and Front St. yesterday caused two similar accidents just five hours apart. First to fall victim was May Harrison of Wooler, whose car sustained $90 damage from a close-passing truck.

At 2:30 p. m. Harold E. Dray, Connecticut, N.Y., had a $50 dent put in the side of his automobile in a similar occurrence.

Police were called to Boswell St. during the night when a resident said a prowler was trying to gain access to a neighboring house. The prowler was scared off before officers arrived.

Elsewhere, a plethora of minor accidents kept police busy during the day and night watches.

Bill Rankin's 9th-Inning Home Run Nets Frankford 7-6 Win Over Point

FRANKFORD (Special) — Bill Rankin's bases-empty homer with 2 out in the bottom of ninth clinched a three-run rally and gave the Frankford Merchants a 7-6 decision over the Point Anne Cementmen here last night.

This was the first game in their best-of-three Belleville and District Softball League semi-final series. The second fixture scheduled for the Pointers' diamond on Wednesday evening. If a third game is necessary, it will take place in Point Anne on Friday night.

The homesters took a 1-0 lead in the initial frame but the Cementmen came back with four in the fifth and two in the seventh and held a 6-4 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. Murphy, pinch-hitting for Radnor, started the winning rally with a single and with none out Francis Murphy slammed a home run to left centre for a 6-5 score.

Maracle settled down by retiring the next two men and extra innings were in sight when Bill Rankin stepped to the plate and promptly rapped a line drive down the left field foul line, giving his team the one-run edge.

Do's Radnor sweated the distance for the winners, touched for nine safe hits while whiffing 3 and issuing four free passes. Pat Maracle went the route for Point Anne, tagged for 11 hits, fanning four and walking two.

Radnor threw fine ball during most of the mercurial E-T-A-O-N game but ran into trouble in the fifth. Jack Elliott, Cementmen's leadoff man, drew a base-on-balls and Pat Gilmour followed with a single. Bob Hull also walked and Jerry Goyer

CLIMB HIGHEST PEAK

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Campbell, Holloway, Ontario, announce the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine Holla, to Frank Joseph, son of Mr. Morrell of Belleville, and the late Mr. T. O. Morrell. The marriage will take place on Saturday, September 3rd, 1965, at 2:30 o'clock, in Victoria Avenue Baptist Church, Belleville.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ward, Madoc, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Marlene, to Grant Ashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ashley of Belleville. The wedding will take place September 17, 1965, at 12:00 noon in Tabernacle United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Mascaro have returned from Chatham, where they attended the funeral of the latter's father, Mr. C. E. Merilee.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer, Mr. Jimmy Jones and Miss Eleanor Presnell of Birmingham, Michigan, are guests on Saturday of Mr. Palmer's mother, Mrs. Edna White, Alexander Street, and brother, Mr. Jack White.

Philip Terry, B.A., and Mrs. Terry were also guests of Mr. Terry's sister, Mrs. Edna White.

Miss Greta Wray is in Fenelon Falls due to her father's death.

The Rev. L. Arthur Page and Mrs. Page have returned to the city after vacationing at Lake Simcoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Lennox have just returned from a two weeks' trip through Eastern Canada and the United States, having attended Highland gatherings at Maxville, Ontario, the Gaelic College at St. Ann's, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and Syracuse, N.Y. While at St. Ann's, they had the pleasure of speaking to the Champion Highland dancers from Scotland. Mrs. Lennox's father, the late Pipe Major Albert Johnston, was the world's champion piper and dancer himself, at the age of 16.

Weddings

GRAHAM-DOUGLAS

In Trinity United church, Napanee, Miss Mary Graham, Napanee, was united in marriage to Mr. Kenneth Robert Douglas, Graham, in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. A. F. Binnington. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Douglas, Napanee, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Graham, Pakanham.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Alec Gordon, Belleville, and the soloist was Miss Loretta McDougall, Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pearl white peau de soie, fastened on princess lines, the neckline outlined in iridescent sequins. Her fingertip veil was shirred to a coronet of seed pearls and she carried mauve orchids and white heather.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Nanette Smith, Napanee, wearing a cocktail-length gown of white chiffon, white feather hat, and carried mauve Shasta lilies.

Mr. James Douglas, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were, Mr. David Armstrong of Toronto, and Mr. Clement Hallpike, of Lindsay.

The reception was held at the Lennox House, Napanee. For the occasion, the bride's mother wore a gown of cream de caeco nylon sheer with dusty pink feather hat and matching corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a soft blue gown with white hat and gardenia corsage.

The bride and bridegroom left on a motor trip to Eastern Canada. On their return they will live in Belleville, where they are both on the staff of the Ontario School for the Deaf.

FINNEGAN-BOWLER

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized in St. Joseph's church, Belleville, when Mary Catherine Bowler of Pointe Au Lac, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bowler, became the bride of Leo Patrick Finnegan of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Finnegan. The Rev. J. J. Buckley officiated before a background of pink roses and white carnations.

The wedding music was provided by the church organist, Mrs. William Grant, who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. H. Gaffney, who sang, "Ave Maria." "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling."

The bride was charming in her white embroidered Swiss organza floor-length gown with fitted bodice having sheath-like sleeves pointed over the hands. The hem of the skirt was enhanced with an inset of pleated nylon net. Her headpiece was of white.

Flowers Show Effects Of Dry Weather

Considering the prolonged dry weather and its consequent effect on those gems of the garden, the flowers, the exhibitors are to be complimented on the display as shown in the horticulture building. Though they were not as profuse as in other years, the collection embraced a good variety.

Beginning with the splendid display of cacti, which could be seen between the tall evergreen trees on entering—the only plants not too directly hurt by the hot and humid atmosphere, one was taken with the fine assortment of Golden Bells; the ichiavari; the tall pale whitish green Totem Pole; the horny barrel, resembling in some manner the African ant hill, save for its sharp spikes; the Scarlet Bugler with its upright stature and protruding scarlet flowers; the Old Man with his hoary head of hair-like furz; the Euphorbia Hermentia; the Agave Victoria Regina—named for Queen Victoria; the Crown of Thorns with its cruel spikes, and the artistic Agave Americana with its graceful waving white-edged leaves.

The Horticultural Society's display of the pyramid of gladioli was mostly in bud, but here and there brilliant coloring of reds, yellows, crimson, were beginning to burst into view, and would, no doubt be in full bloom before the closing day of the fair.

FLORAL BASKETS

There were baskets of vari-colored zinnias in shades of crimson, yellow, pink, deep rose, gold and mauve and white; baskets of snapdragons; and mixed flowers; baskets of vari-colored asters; mauve, white, pink, both double and single, which with their accompanying sprays of fragrant cedar were most attractive.

Others shown included sweet smelling verbena in pinks, mauves, purples and whites; petunias, caudex, blue delphiniums. There were sprays of gladioli in tones of orange and gold, wine and white, orange and white, and lovely wreaths in deep red with baby breath and cedar sprays; and pink and white.

The centrepieces included mauve and white gladioli florets done in basketing, one in wine and one in yellow. The corsages were nicely assembled in colors of soft pink, deep rose, mauve and yellow, and included carnations, esters, and gladioli. In the floral exhibits were seen a pink rose with golden center, an accompanying rosebud; mauve salpiglossis; ground pinks; petunias in double deep rose, white and pink; a few pansies; blue lace flowers; French mauve; larkspur in mauve, white, purple, pink and rose, red Salvia; dahlias, white, mauve and pink.

The hanging baskets were attractive with their Wandering Jew vines, flowering geraniums, brilliant flossings and French marigolds.

A few cosmos in red, white and pink were also seen, as were the blue cornflowers and the dainty casals with its tiny blooms of red and orange. The ever favored, its buds with its tall white spearheads and dark green, dark lanceolate leaves was also noted.

FOLIAGE PLANTS

Among the plants, noted for their attractive foliage were: the purple resurrection plant with its morning-glory-like flower; the double Sultanas; the ivy with its dark glossy leaves; the lovely Gloxinia with its purple and white bell-shaped flowers; the pink fuchsia; the silver-spotted angel wing begonia; the eye-catching amaryllis; the stately sansevieria; ferns, both sword and Boston compactor variety; the hoary ice plant, the red-leaved begonia, and the rubber plants, making in all a worthy collection and a most interesting display.

matching pleated nylon net embellished with lace and seed pearls in the form of a Juliet cap which held the finger-tip nylon illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Shirley Fox was maid of honor, Miss Rosemary Logan, and Miss Audrey Cronin were bridesmaids. All were gownned alike in waltz-length gowns of sea green, mauve and yellow, respectively, with scoop necklines and full skirts. They were fitted with white sashes and carried bouquets of white summer flowers.

Mr. Joseph Chappelle of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, Mr. Patrick Callaghan, acted as ushers. Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Golden Acre Inn, Kingston Road, where the bride's mother received, gownned in navy white embroidered nylon with white accessories, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore power blue and pink embroidered nylon with white accessories.

For travelling the bride chose a suit dress of cocoa brown and white.

African Violets, 78 Babies Are Entered In Four Classes at Fair

The Horticulture Building at Belleville Fair has for many years been a drawing card to the lovers of the beautiful and this year there were many new additions which were both novel and lovely.

Among these was the attractive display of Mrs. G. Welsh, of a collection of African violets, among which, in their delightful foliage and entrancing little flowers of many shades and combinations of pinks, lavenders, purples, double whifly, and orchid, were: Rose Aurea; Moon Ripples; Gypsy Rosa; Deep Blue, Ruffled Queen; Violet Beauty; Sunrise Double Orchid; Gorgeous Blue Wonder; Snow Girl, and others, all depicting the magic of the "Green Thumb." The two wall brackets with Baby's tears made a fine background for this display.

W.I. EXHIBITS

The other new attraction was that shown by the various Women's Institutes of the neighboring districts, including Cherry Valley, Foxboro, Rednersville, Chatterton, Bay of Quinte, Concession, Quinte Institute, Melrose, Plainfield and Thurlow Jr. Institute. Each Institute showed a collection of centrepieces, pillow slips, birthday cakes, cushions, pot holders, luncheon cloths, aprons and rugs, executed in individuality, all of which testified to the variety that may be achieved, and the delightful results obtained.

One of the outstanding centrepieces was shown by the Foxboro Institute, which consisted of a piece of drift wood, and trailing ivy with flowers, over which a pale blue-green Luna moth was seen to hover. Another fine piece of work was the red rose pot holder done in exquisite crochet, a perfectly executed gadget.

Cherry Valley's outstanding piece of work was the luncheon cloth in pale yellow with blue corner butterflies in the four corners.

Rednersville's display featured a lovely white wool baby dress with pink satin ribbon; Chatterton's, a beautifully hooked rug; Bay of Quinte, a dainty, white lined apron with embroidered Sweetheart pockets, lace edged; Concession, pillow slips embroidered and adorned with double rows of shaded pink satin; Quinte cutwork, pillow slips; Melrose, a floral wool cushion in yellow, pink, green, and brown; Plainfield, a beige satin cushion in lattice work; Canniford, a Corbyville, a luscious looking birthday cake in brown chocolate with yellow trim; and the Thurlow Junior Institute, a blue satin cushion. These are but a few of the fine exhibits offered by the Institutes, all of which are worthy of honorable mention.

Close to eighty sweet young bundles of joy proved a feature attraction at the opening of Belleville Fair Monday afternoon as the annual baby show got underway, attracting a total of 78 mothers with infants under twelve months. There were no twins entered in the contest.

To speed the baby show along, contest directors arranged for two sets of judges, one taking the girls, the other the boys. With the exception of totalling up the scores and announcing the winners, the baby show was all completed shortly after 3:30.

Thirty six girls, 20 in the 7 - 12 months class, and 16 in the 1-6 months class, were entered in the show. The girls were slightly outnumbered by the boys, with 21 in each age class.

Judges for the show were Mrs. Irma Fort, Mrs. Gertrude Ellisworth, Trenton, Mrs. Lillian Assling and Miss Ilmor Newman. Assisting the judges were St. John Ambulance workers, Mrs. F. Grand, Mrs. Mariotti, Miss Hanna, Mrs. Dafeo, Mrs. Hillman and Mrs. Boyd. The contest was under the direction of Lady fair directors, Mrs. Elmer Sandercock, Mrs. Erle Denyes and Mrs. Harry Rollins.

First place winner in the girls' 7-12 months class was Kathryn Elaine Post, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwynn Post, 187 West Moira street. Other winners in the class were: Deborah Ann Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, R. # ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DOES A WIFE REALLY HAVE TO CHOOSE, MRS. W.O.?

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I was interested in what Mrs. H.W. had to say some time ago about living with an untidy husband. I would like to answer her and say:

I have a man around the house that the good Lord!

We are "down to our last child"; there were seven before her. Believe me, it has taken a lot of stooping and picking up through the years to keep things in order. There have been times when I told myself that if one more thing was left on the floor for me to pick up and put away, I'd run down the street screaming and pulling my hair! That if one more person hollered "Hey, Maw! Where's this or that?" I'd just plain go mad.

Twice during those many years of marriage, "Dad" has been in the hospital, and my prayer was always: "Dear God, give him back to me and I'll even dress him myself." And believe me, I do! I run his bath water, lay out his clothes for him, clean up his razor and do anything else I can think of for him. And I love doing it. You see I love the guy, and know I am loved in return.

Now before some one gets the idea I am a dandy good machinist, can fly a plane, plow a field, do the finest needlework, pin on a diaper and really excel in codding my man, I might add that I'm not ugly, either; that between the ages of 10 months and 25 years, I won 15 beauty contests.

Some of these women who complain about waiting on their husbands, and all they have to do, should try living alone for awhile. Then maybe they would appreciate their husbands as they are, instead of trying to make them into obedient children. Let them try thinking with their hearts some time, instead of just with their heads. A happy husband is far more desirable than a tidy house.

— Mrs. W.O.

Dear Mrs. W.O.:

When I'm breathless! You must have the energy of six women to carry on such a schedule as you outline—and with eight children and a husband you wait on so devotedly! I'd say, too, that your happy home life undoubtedly has much to do with keeping you so hearty and healthy as to be able to cope with all you have on your hands.

But what I'd like to know is—what happens to the husband and the eight children when they drop from exhaustion? Do they turn around and wait on you hand and foot? Or don't you ever get tired?

And another question: Do you really think a wife has to choose between a happy husband and a tidy house? I'm perfectly willing to grant that, if the choice must be made, your statement stands. But for the life of me, I can't see why a woman shouldn't have both. If her husband accepted responsibilities that seem logically his own.

Apparently the Mrs. H.W. whose happy letter you saw in my column did have to make a choice, for her husband evidently had no intention whatever of assuming his own responsibilities and picking up after himself. But your letter makes me feel that your husband must be a pretty good guy, if you're so happy with him and so eager to wait on him—which makes me feel, further that he can't possibly be, at heart, so selfish as to be unwilling to wait on himself. So why doesn't he run his own bath water, get out his own clothes, clean up his own razor, and do all the other little personal chores you so tirelessly take off his hands?

That I want to know!

All argument aside, it's wonderful to hear about such a happy family, and both you and your husband must be very fine people to have created such a home. May you have many more lovely years together, and may all those children do you proud!

And, hey!—how about sending me a picture of you all? I'd like to see what you look like!

Mother's Helper

Wonderful play hats can be made from the lids or cut-off sections of round oatmeal boxes. For a "soldier," color them or cover with fancy paper. For a "lady," decorate them with feathers or flowers and a veil. Add a string or ribbon to tie under the chin.

THE ART OF "KEEPING COOL"

Wouldn't you like a dollar for every time you've heard someone say, "I don't mind winter for, after all, you can always put on some extra clothes and keep warm, but in summer there's just nothing you can do to keep cool." Sure, you've heard it often, maybe said it yourself. But it's a fallacy, for you really can keep cool—and look just as fresh and radiantly lovely on hot, humid days as you do on the coolest of Spring days.

The trouble with most persons who will even before the weather forecaster has finished predicting "warmer tomorrow" is that they approach the sultry season with a defeatist attitude. It's going to be hot, they think so "I'm going to feel miserable." Well, why not reverse this type of thinking and say, instead, "It's going to be hot tomorrow so I'd better do something about it."

You don't need to be told, of course, that frequent cool baths are helpful, that the use of fragrant talcum powders, cologne and toilet water are refreshing and that lightweight clothes are all-important to the cause. But have you considered your diet as a means of defeating the heat? You should, since diet is one of the most important means of keeping cool, calm and collected when the thermometer soars.

Avoid rich, spicy foods during hot weather. Concentrate, instead, on salads with thin dressings, raw vegetables, fruit and both vegetable and fruit juices. For your main meals when plenty of proteins are in order, serve meats and fish in aspic. They're not only delicious but you can eat liberal servings without experiencing that full and overheated feeling afterward. Jellied consommés also provide necessary vitamins, minerals and proteins without overheating the body. Where beverages are concerned, drink them cool—not cold. And, if you are served a cold drink, such as iced tea, iced coffee, etc., sip it slowly. Gulping it down may make you feel good at the time, but later you'll feel worse since the iciness shocks the stomach which is already working overtime to properly perform its functions in unusual temperatures.

Avoid sweets and starches, too. Rich pastry, candy, hot buttered muffins—all the goodies you find impossible to resist in winter time can be resisted much more easily during hot weather. So why not try it? You'll not only feel so much better, but you'll find your figure improving, too.

Luscious Fresh Peach Pies

By Mary Moore

Because travel certainly is broadening I could only have a one-inch-wide piece of the double-crust peach pie I made in preparation for this pie column—ding-bust it. And to make matters worse I go and add cream to pie No. 2 and have to hold back on that even harder.

What a mix-up: an appetite like a rhinoceros and a waistline that would balloon like a rhinoceros! If I ate more than 1,000 or 1,200 calories per day—and me in the food business! Woe is me.

Quit glooming Mary and let some of your skinny sisters have some fun eating.

FRESH PEACH PIE

Mix together 3-4 or 7-8 cup sugar (for 9-inch pie) and 4 tablespoons flour and 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon. Wash, peel and slice peaches until you have 4 cups—well packed. Sprinkle the dry mixture over the peaches as you layer them in a pastry-lined pie plate. Dot with 1 or 1-2 tablespoons butter. Seal on well-rashed top crust. Bake at 425 degrees Fahr. for about 35 to 45 minutes or until juice begins to bubble through slits in crust. If desired, about 15 minutes before pie is finished baking you can brush it with a mixture of 1 tablespoon each sugar and milk or cream to give it a nice glaze. This pie is at its best if served warm—but not hot.

NOTE:

If you have apricots in your community they make a delicious pie following above directions but substituting peaches with apricots.

PEACHES AND CREAM PIE

Place in pastry-lined 9-inch pie plate 8 or 12 fresh peach halves (number depends on size of peaches). Mix together 2-3 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1 cup heavy cream. Mix well and pour carefully over the peach halves, making sure it is distributed evenly over and through them. Bake at 400 degrees Fahr. for 30 to 40 minutes.

NOTE:

As you can see this pie is similar to Dutch Apple Pie. An extra touch is to put 1 teaspoon red currant jelly in each depression in the peach halves, just before pouring over the cream mixture. If pastry is taboo in your family try this.

PEACH DOWDY

Six slices stale bread, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 cups well-packed sliced peaches, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon. Cut the bread into 1-2-inch thick and butter each slice using only 2 tablespoons of the butter. Put 2 slices in buttered baking dish, then 1 cup fruit, sprinkled with half of the sugar and dotted with 1 tablespoon butter. Repeat, finishing with 2 slices buttered bread, or cut 1 slice in cubes for the top. Bake at 350 or 375 deg. for 35 to 40 minutes. This is best, I think, served with pouring cream, but some folks prefer a lemon or custard sauce. (But I can dream of drooling over it with Devonshire cream can't I?)

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

WIDOW'S NAME IN NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been a widow for ten years, and soon I am to be married to a man who has been a widower for about nine years. Always, as a widow, I have continued to use my husband's name: Mrs. William David Browne. But now I'm uncertain about what name should be used when I send the wedding information to the newspapers. Should I use my late husband's name or in this special circumstance of a second marriage, should I give my name as "Mrs. Elizabeth Brown"? — Widow

No! You should use the correct form of name you have been using. Mrs. William David Browne. That is the correct form of your name until you actually remarry, and change it to, say, Mrs. Henry Allen Knowlton.

The information you send to the newspapers about your marriage might, for example, begin: "Mrs. William David Browne, of 123 Park Street, this city, was married this afternoon to Mr. Henry Allen Knowlton, of Chicago." (This to be followed by any other information details you wish.)

MORE BRIDESMAIDS THAN USHERS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am planning to have my only sister as matron of honor; her little daughter, my godchild as flower girl; and two bridesmaids. We are planning to have six ushers. Would your advice be to have, in the Receptional, the two bridesmaids walk with two of the ushers, and to have the other four ushers walk in pairs? Ursula C.

No. When there is this difference in the number of bridesmaids and ushers, I definitely advise in the Receptional that the two bridesmaids walk together, and that six ushers walk together, in pairs, as in the Processional. This makes a better-balanced Receptional. First, you with the bridegroom; next, the flower girl, alone; then the matron of honor, either alone or (more customary nowadays) with the best man; next, the two bridesmaids, together; last, the six ushers, two by two.

THANK-YOU NOTES FOR MONEY PRESENTS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We received so many "cash gifts" for our wedding, and I don't know how to word our thank-you for these. Some of the gifts were in currency, and some were checks. Will you please give me a sample of a proper thank-you note for these gifts? R.

Here is a suggestion for a form for your thank-you notes for either a money-gift or a check:

Dear Dorothy,

You and Jim were so very kind to give us such a generous wedding present, and Ken and I thank you deeply for your goodness to us. We are having a happy time planning what we will buy with your present to us, and when we have decided and just as soon as our new home, please promise us you will come to "look-see." What we choose will always mean to us your dear and friendly thought of us.

Dearest love to you both from us both, and again our appreciation.

Lovingly,

STIRLING Open House Held At Playground

STIRLING — On Thursday evening, approximately 300 people, parents, children and friends gathered at the Rotary playground at King George high school for their annual open house.

The display table showed a circus menagerie replete with clowns and animals; Joe's garage and equipment; electric train; assorted plaques of all designs; leather purses, moccasins, artificial fruit, and a large array of hand work, all done by the children under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irish.

Mr. Ed Warren, president of the Stirling Rotary Club, welcomed the large audience. He said in his opening remarks: "The Recreational Centre is a safe playground for the children and the Rotary Club was happy to sponsor such a worthwhile and educational project. The days spent at the centre had been both educational and entertaining and some of the children have become accomplished swimmers."

He also paid special tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Irish for their great contribution as supervisors.

DAILY AVERAGE 92

The daily average for the summer was 92 children and the most in any one day was 132. The children were taken by Rotary bus to Oak Lake in the afternoon for swimming lessons and the daily average there was 54. The most in any one day was 75. All this was a great responsibility for the supervisors and their interest was greatly appreciated by both Rotary and parents.

The program was run off under the direction of President Warren, Dave Duffin, Carl Bateman, Russell Andrews and Joe Irish.

Stirling Citizens' Band, under the leadership of Mr. Maurice Bell, contributed a number of musical selections throughout the evening.

The king and queen of the playgrounds were chosen by ballot by the boys and girls at their regular daily session.

CROWNING CEREMONY

The queen, Jean Ann Mayhew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. X. P. Mayhew, was crowned by Lois Vardy, in a special crowning ceremony at the "Open House Party."

The king, Gerald Malloy, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Malloy, Church St., was crowned by Johnnie Long and these two wore their crowns throughout the program.

The judges for the various events were Carl Bateman, Russell Andrews, Mrs. Maurice Bell, Mrs. Bob Cooke, Mrs. Ed Warren, Mrs. William Wilkins, Mrs. Don Francis and Mrs. Grant Stapley.

The prize of 50 cents in cash was given to the following:

Best Decorated Doll Carriage eight girls, Cheryl Stapley, Shirley Ann McDonald. She wore a rose crepe leghorn hat with matching skirt and her carriage was decorated to resemble a real baby carriage.

At this juncture all the playground children delighted with several selections which included "I want to go back to Ontario", "Over the Hilltop" and "Beyond the Blue".

Best Dressed Doll Fourteen girls displayed dolls, of all sizes and shapes and dressed in various costumes, Edith De Goo, Marsha Shoben.

In the Bubble Gum contest the winners were Jean Ann Mayhew and Doug Bolte.

The Marble Championships had a large number of entries with Michael Long and Linda Rodgers as champions. Linda lives at Renfrew and has been holidaying with her cousins in Stirling.

At this time Mr. Warren spoke briefly and made a presentation to Mrs. Irish and her husband for their splendid co-operation.

Mrs. Irish replied briefly and said Friday morning, would complete the summer activities at the Centre with a full afternoon at Oak Lake. She also voiced thanks for the gift.

Mr. Warren thanked one and all for their support of the Centre and the Band rendered "The Queen".

Owing to the Scout Jamboree, the Centre was closed one week earlier this season.

Crossed Ocean In RCAF Glider, Airman Retires

TORONTO (CP) — A veteran pilot who once crossed the Atlantic in a glider retired from the RCAF Monday.

Navy, army and air force officials assembled at suburban Downsview airport to bid farewell to Wing Cmdr. Fowler M. Gobeil, 49, commanding officer of RCAF Station, Toronto.

He has been with the air force since 1927, and now plans to join an industrial firm in the administrative and personnel field.

During his career, Wing Cmdr. Gobeil has been chief divedev in a flying circus, a trophy-winning airplane racer, a flying boat captain and a parachutist.

The glider trip was made at the end of a tow rope, when the RCAF wondered whether ferrying men by glider would speed things up. The flight proved otherwise.

The trip started at Montreal. By the time they reached Goose Bay they could see the tow rope fraying.

"We taped it up," Wing Cmdr. Gobeil said. They made it safely to Scotland.

plete the summer activities at the Centre with a full afternoon at Oak Lake. She also voiced thanks for the gift.

Mr. Warren thanked one and all for their support of the Centre and the Band rendered "The Queen".

Owing to the Scout Jamboree, the Centre was closed one week earlier this season.

Newsprint Rationing Will End in Britain in March

LONDON (Reuters) — After 15 years of newsprint rationing, the government has announced that starting next March British newspapers may print as many pages as they wish.

The announcement, made Sunday night by the Board of Trade, brought to the surface a simmering feud in London's Fleet street, home of a dozen morning and evening papers who now may face sharp competition for newsprint among themselves.

The Daily Mirror promptly accused The Times of "hogging papers" and said this "irresponsibility" had sabotaged a plan for voluntary rationing after removal of controls. It said some British papers now may be forced out of business.

The Board of Trade announcement said that users of newsprint will, in effect, be allowed to import all the newsprint that is present in the country.

ASKS VOLUNTARY RATION

But the Newsprint Supply Company, which controls paper supplies for the British newspaper industry, promptly declared that it is essential that some form of voluntary rationing should continue. It said the ending of controls does not mean that supplies "will then be adequate to meet demands."

Last year 720,000 tons of newsprint whirled through the presses of British papers, compared with 650,000 in 1953. This year the figure will likely reach 850,000 tons.

But for 1956 "both the tonnage

Lord Rothermere and Lord Layton, chairman and vice-chairman of the Newsprint Supply Company, wrote last month to the Board of Trade to say that a plan to replace government controls by voluntary arrangements had broken down.

The letter said "one of our members refused to accept voluntary restriction on paging, which was an essential feature of the plan."

CHARGES TIMES

The Mirror, with a circulation approaching 5,000,000, charges that the paper refusing to enter the voluntary restriction plan is The Times.

An editorial in Monday's editions says The Times' argument "was that they had arranged for supplies of a grade of paper superior to ordinary newsprint and they held that when they stopped using newsprint they should be exempt from rationing."

"The paper The Times had arranged to get is not newsprint but it is made from the same ingredients as newsprint, and it needs the same kind of dollars to import it," The Mirror adds.

"The Times — a newspaper that frequently publishes the equivalent of 40 Daily Mirror (tabloid) pages in one day — knew this full well, but insisted on hogging paper. And so the scheme fell down."

Yankees Slip Back Into Lead With Twin Wins Over Baltimore Orioles

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

A GOOD START!

Sam Gault churned up the dirt on the Exhibition Ground track, spurted through four or six inches of loose soil that had been kicked up by a horse shoe previously and romped home a winner in the inaugural "Mead Mile" race yesterday afternoon.

And Sam, who finished strongly, ran the mile in 4.55, excellent time considering the condition of the track. In fact we are of the opinion that Sam could have run the distance in ten or fifteen seconds less had he been pushed. He opened up a gap rounding the back stretch on the second half-mile lap and was galloping freshly easily thirty feet ahead of second-place Glen Maracle.

While there was no adult crowd to speak of to view the first mile race, which will be an annual attraction at the Exhibition, we feel the groundwork has been laid—and that Messrs. Bob Phillips and his merry men are away to a good start. There was quite a crowd of teen-age students there and their cheers urged the runners on as they completed the first lap and as they rounded the turn into the home stretch.

Thanks to the generosity of Mead Johnson Company who donated the handsome trophy, and replica to the winner, Bob Phillips, John Bennett, Red Doran and the rest who helped to do the spadework, we believe track and field events have had a "needle" that won't do the sport any harm.

Mr. Phillips, in fact all connected with the inaugural project, are well satisfied with what happened yesterday and feel that it is the forerunner of many such—and additional—events to come. In fact John Bennett, of Northern Electric, which generously donated the use of an electric timer, said after the race that he would be willing to train milers or other contestants for these track events next year.

Charlie Hewson, a grand sportsman, and a former track star, who practically came out of retirement to help this event to the success it was, said after the race that he will be back next year, no matter what the event is. Charlie is a former army and university trackman, and is the holder of former records. However, Charlie, who was running strongly in third position at the half mile, re-discovered that condition is a necessary evil and next year it may be different.

However, credit goes to "Sam" Gault, who set a new mark at the Ken Gilling Memorial Cross Country run this spring. "Sam" ran a grand race. He pulled out in front at the start, was given a stiff race for the first half mile by Glen Maracle and Charlie Hewson; then on the second lap drew away from the pack to sprint home in a grand finish. Our best Sam, m'boy.

However, there is some criticism. While it is not the intention of Mr. Phillips and those in charge with him to bring milers here the ilk of Landy, Bannister or a Chataway (Santee) could be invited, he has yet to crack the four-minute barrier) it is felt that with the success of this inaugural, next year it will be a more wide-open affair.

The Fair Board has given its blessing to the event—but it should remember that these youngsters and oldsters, who are giving of their time and effort gratis to bring a mushrooming attraction to the fair, are deserving of some consideration.

What is meant by that—is they should be given a track that is conducive to at least a fairly good time. The mark of 4.55 yesterday bordered a little on the sensational due to the condition of the raceway. True, it is good for horses—and for judging—but when young fellows are willing to put on a show for the fair and the public, they should be given at least a track that enables them to run in a time-mark that is deserving of their track abilities. However, the issue is in its infancy and plans for next year, we are sure, will develop something better.

NO SILVER AWAY

There will be a welcome change of menu in this columnar fare for the next couple of weeks or so. That's pickier, pike and muskies awaiting the hook in Prince Edward County waters and if Fred Croft's piscatorial savvy and usual luck holds out we expect to haul in one or two of the finny beauties.

Meanwhile, a lot of our sports-writing editors—and others will conduct the pillar while we're off on a black-snaking expedition. In addition to regular staff members such nice guys as Bunny Morganson, Toronto Telegram; Chick Appel, Stratford Beacon Herald; Michael J. Rodden, Kingston Whig Standard; Laurie Brail, Galt Reporter; Cec Perdue, Peterborough Examiner; Frank Feaver, OASA secretary, and others will fill in the white space.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pitching—Leo Kieley, Red Sox, gained a decision in relief, snapping off a four-run Washington rally with two strikeouts in the third and allowing just one hit the rest of the way.
Bating—Mickey Mantle, Yankees, hit 28th and 29th homers, two doubles and a single while driving in five runs in eight at bats in a 5-4, 12-6 doubleheader sweep at Baltimore that boosted New York back into first place.

U.S. RETAINS CUP

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—The United States retained the Wightman Cup Monday when Louise Brough and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode scored against Great Britain's women at the Westchester Country Club.
After Mrs. Knode defeated Angela Buxton, 6-3, 6-3, Miss Brough, Wimbledon champion, required only 26 minutes to dispose of Britain's No. 1 player, Angela Mortimer, 6-0, 6-2.
Brough triumphs gave the Americans a 4-1 bulge. One singles and a doubles remain.

Settle on Precarious Perch Half-Game Ahead of Tribe; Williams Belts Grand-Slammer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Both Cleveland and New York have won six of their last seven games in the ding-dong American League race, yet the Yankees have pushed the Indians out of first place.

The Yanks, who have played and won one more game than the Tribe, slipped back into the lead by a half-game Monday, walking off with their second doubleheader sweep at Baltimore in two days, 5-4 and 12-6.

Cleveland and third-place Chicago, now 1½ games behind, were idle.

BOSTON WINS

In the only other game, fourth place Boston stayed 3½ games back by smacking Washington 8-4 in way of a warm up for yet another crucial series with the Yankees opening tonight in the Bean-town.

Home runs powered the Yanks back into the driver's seat, with Hank Bauer's solo shot in the ninth inning, his third in three games, breaking up a 4-4 tie in the opener. In the second game, Mickey Mantle unloaded his 28th with two men on to give the Yanks an 8-0 lead in the fourth, then belted No. 29 to make it 10-2 in the sixth inning. Mickey clubbed the first one left handed, the second right-handed. He also contributed two doubles and a single in the opener.

Rookie Johnny Kucks was the first game winner, relieving Bob Wiesler after the last-place Orioles got four in the fifth. The Yanks then started Gary (Rip) Coleman, added to the roster Sunday from Denver, and he got his first major league victory, a 4-4 tie in the opener. Bob Grim, back from the disabled list, in the nightcap.

GRAND SLAMMER

At Boston, Ted Williams made the big noise, belting a grand slam homer that made it a 6-0 ball game in the second inning. Washington chased Mel Parnell with four in the third as Roy Sievers homered with two on, but south-paw Leo Kieley shut them off with one hit the rest of the way.

Jim Piersall homered for the Red Sox' other two runs in the seventh. Williams' homer, his 20th of the year, was a 450-foot wallop off Ted Abernathy. It was his 13th grand slammer, tying him with Ralph Kiner among active players.

In the lone National League game, Milwaukee slammed St. Louis 12-1. Willard Schmidt, who one-hit the Braves last week, was the loser, giving way in the fifth as Milwaukee made it 5-0. Eddie Mathews hit his 31st homer with one on in the first for the Braves. Warren Spahn won his 11th game of the season and drove in three runs with a triple and home run.

Favorites Lead March To Tennis Crowns

TORONTO (CP)—With half the field in the men's and women's singles left for today's play the favorites remain unscathed in the Ontario international tennis championships.

John H. Kupperburger, first-seeded south African star, led the way Monday with an impressive 6-1, 6-0 win over Toronto's Steve Elashchuk. The quiet University of Miami student's alert net play and the fact that he has been playing the faster grass courts in the United States established him as an odds-on favorite to take the men's singles.

In other singles play three Canadian Davis Cup team members advanced to the second round Wednesday. Seventh-seeded Don Fontana of Toronto was the only one to have any trouble, winning a well-earned 6-2, 6-4 victory over a game Harry Peacock, Toronto.

MAIN, PLATT WIN

Third-seeded Lorne Main of Toronto breezed to a 6-3, 6-0 win over Ed Brandreth of Hamilton while Toronto's Don Platt, seeded sixth, bested Alex Kalil, also of Toronto, 6-3, 6-3.

Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., fresh from taking first place at the Canadian tennis championships last week, could not arrive in time to play Monday but will take to the courts against John Bonus of Toronto on Tuesday.

J. Mitchell, Toronto, defeated W. Eagan, Cornwall, 6-3, 6-2. Blond, blue-eyed Sara Mae Thurner of Evansville, Ind., lived up to her No. 1 rating, lacing T. Saleeba of Toronto 6-0, 6-0 in the women's singles. Second-seeded Louise Brown of Toronto pounded out a 6-0, 6-1 win over Jill Kaye, Toronto, while third-ranked Ann Freedhoff rubbed 1, Barechy of Toronto by the same score.

Organdy-Oldie Sieglind Boeck of Toronto, named the "Gussie Moran of Canadian tennis," came up with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Mrs. J. Burns of Toronto.

Egyptian Bests Tom Park In Channel Swim

DOVER, England (Reuters)—Husky Tom Park, California marathon swimmer, lost out in Monday's international race across the English channel to a brawny Egyptian in a furious battle through choppy seas. Only four of the 16 contestants managed to finish the 22-mile race.

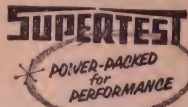

Abdel Latif Abu Heif, 27, overcame Park's early lead and stroked his way to victory in 11 hours, 44 minutes. He finished 18 minutes ahead of Park, a former resident of Hamilton, Ont. Park was sick repeatedly as he fought to get ahead.

In an unrelated channel-swimming effort, Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., was unsuccessful in her attempt to complete the first swim across the channel and back.

After 7½ hours in the water, Miss Chadwick was pulled out nine miles from the French shore on her outbound trip. The Egyptian won $1,500 and a $3,000 silver cup for beating off Park's determined challenge, which was maintained for hours at a pace of 58 strokes a minute.

Royals Smack Down Leafs In 'Mead Mile' at Exhibition

By GEO. H. CARVER

Sports Editor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Toronto Maple Leafs figured to wait back until the International League lead against Montreal they better forget it. Royals are playing their best when the chips are down.

Montreal which snatched first place from Toronto last week but hadn't been able to build up much of an edge, smacked Maple Leafs 7-3 Monday night in the first game of their showdown series and moved into a one-game lead.

Day Plans 'Complete Change' For Toronto Hockey Leafs

TORONTO (CP)—General Manager Harry Day, dissatisfied with the performance of Toronto Maple Leafs during the last four years, said Monday he plans a "complete change" for the coming National Hockey League season.

Day recalled that since they last won the Stanley Cup in 1961 the Leafs have finished out of the playoffs once, won only one game in 13 playoff contests and were the league's lowest scoring club last season.

This season, he told a press conference, he hopes to restore Leaf prestige with a combination of "guilt, goals and glamor."

"Guilt," ranks No. 1 on his program. The Leafs displayed plenty of courage before the home fans last season but "they were being pushed around too much on foreign ice."

"NO BACK STEPS"

Day said he has instructed coach King Clancy to see that "no back steps are taken this year."

The club's next requisite is goals and the Maple Leafs hope to get them from among the 11 new faces invited to their fall training camp, opening at St. Catharines, Sept. 15.

The Leaf boss, starting his first full season in charge of the club after taking over from Conn Smythe last February, is particularly high on the prospects of two forwards who played junior hockey last year: Centre Billy Harris of Toronto Marlboros and left winger Dick Duff of Toronto St. Michael's.

Harris, who stands 37 inches and 235 pounds, is Marlboros' top prospect and is being groomed to succeed veteran Ted Kennedy, now retired after 13 seasons with Leafs.

Day hopes that Duff—33 goals and 20 assists with St. Michael's—will add firepower on left wing, supplied almost totally last season by flashy Sid Smith, the NHL's all-star performer at that spot.

The Leafs have no deals pending in an attempt to bolster the club. "You can't get a 'name' player in a trade today," Day said. "We'll have to produce our own from our farm system."

South Hastings Baseball League

Latta and Cannifton battled to a 5-5 deadlock on the latter's home diamond last night before a record crowd in a South Hastings baseball league semi-final game. Read and Shannonville are doing battle in the other half of the series with the winners to meet for the league title.

Shannonville is at Read tonight while Latta travels to Cannifton for a replay of last evening's fixture on Wednesday evening.

Foster, starting off for Cannifton, gave up five hits and four bases on balls. It was a good game with Latta tying up the score first in the third innings, off an error and two infield hits, and secondly in the fifth with three more runs off two hits and a single by Glass, a walk by Sullivan and a double by Meeks. In the sixth, however, they jumped ahead by one run to lead the way for the first time in the game.

Rollins getting on base by an infield hit and followed up by two stolen bases, and after a bunt by Hall, Rollins raced for home and was called safe. Ray was struck out and Parks out on a fly ball to retire the side. No score in the fourth and seventh innings.

Hall, on the mound for Latta, gave up four hits and one walk, and the game at this point was what could be called a "comedy of errors" without the comedy, as four Cannifton men, Marner, MacDonald, Sheffield and Foster each got on base by being hit by the pitcher.

Marner getting his hit and with two men out MacDonald squeezed in a single to bring his teammate home for the first run of the game in the first inning. The second or third saw no scoring, but Cannifton rallied in the fourth to go ahead with three runs. Cole, Wynne each a single with Harder a double, an infield hit bringing Harder home. Again no score in the fifth, but Foster in the sixth was safely home to tie up his own ball game. It was a tough break for Marner when, as third man, he raced home only to be called out as he crossed the plate. The seventh and final inning, saw no further scoring, leaving the game at five runs for each team, which will result in another replay game. Latta had six men left on bases, Cannifton, eight.

The teams:
Latta—Ray, Parks, Glass, Sullivan, W. Gow, Meeks, G. Gow, Rollins, Hall.
Cannifton—Marner, Moore, H. Stolliker, MacDonald, Sheffield, Cole, Wynne, Walker, Foster.
Umpires—plate, Strahan; bases, Williams.

Line score

Latta	001 031 0—5 3 5
Cannifton	100 301 0—5 3 5

TO TRY FOR RIDERS
OTTAWA (CP)—Hugh (Bones) Taylor, pass-catching end for Washington Redskins in the last eight seasons, is scheduled to report to Ottawa Rough Riders later this week, club officials said Monday.

Beaches 'Hire' Two Coaches For Grid Team

TORONTO (CP)—A football team cut adrift by Toronto Argonauts because it cost too much to run announced it has "hired" a couple of coaches.

The reorganized Toronto Beaches of the Ontario Rugby Football Union said Zeke O'Connor has been appointed head coach and Billy Bass playing backfield coach.

Neither will receive any payment for his services, nor will any of the team's players.

Pay or no pay, there was no shortage of candidates. Sixty-four players asked for uniforms Monday night at the first practice turnout.

TO KEEP IT ALIVE

Argonauts, parent club of the dropped sponsorship of the ORFU club last June. A group of Toronto sportsmen, headed by club president Sam Shekely, decided to keep it alive.

Bass played last season for Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four but did not figure in their plans for this year. O'Connor, one-time Argonaut player, was one of the numerous assistant coaches with the Beaches last season.

Ulysses Gault, one of the many imports dropped by the Argos after last season, turned up Monday night. Beach officials said they believed he will line up with the team.

Grant Injunction To Bombers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Paul Jones today granted an injunction forbidding Bobby Freeman and Jack Locklear to play with Cleveland Browns.

The injunction was sought by Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football League, with whom Freeman, a quarterback, and Locklear, a centre, had signed 1955 contracts before joining Browns.

Winnipeg declared its team badly crippled by the loss of the two stars. The club acknowledged it did not expect Freeman and Locklear to return and play in Canada, but contended they should not be allowed to play for any American club, either.

The ruling left the Cleveland club with only one quarterback, George Ratterman.

Since the suit was filed Locklear has quit pro football, complaining of a heart murmur.

Canadian Football Roundup

WINNIPEG (CP)—Toronto Argonauts displayed a solid running and passing attack to roll over an upset Winnipeg Blue Bombers team 29-6 in an exhibition football game before 15,726 fans at Winnipeg Stadium Monday night.

Import quarterback Tom Dublin from Detroit Lions and home-brew quarter Jerry Doucette supplied the passing and half Dick Shatto, second-year import from Kentucky, headed the ground drive as Argos scored their first win in three exhibition contests against western teams. Argos previously had lost to British Columbia Lions and the Canadian champion Edmonton Eskimos.

Bombers showed little in the way of an attack as coach Al Sherman kept most of his first-stringers out of the one-sided game. All-star tackle Dick Huffman and fullback Lorne Benson both were out with injuries while halfbacks Bob McNamara from Minnesota and Leo Lewis from Lincoln College, Missouri, never left the bench. Shatto scored two touchdowns for the Double Blues, with singles going to imports Whizzer White and Sam Pino. Don Klosterman, former Loyola quarterback, converted two, while Jungle Jim Martin, Argo line coach from Detroit, booted two field goals and a single.

Elton Taylor, second-year graduate from Winnipeg junior ranks, ate from Winnipeg's lone major on an 18-yard sweep around left end. Bud Korchak converted.

Argos poured through for 22 first downs to Winnipeg's 10 and out-rushed Bombers 191 yards to 85. Passing was about even as Toronto was good for 22 of 143 while Bombers completed 12 of 26 for 139 yards.

Toronto was never headed, taking a 5-0 lead in the first quarter, boosting it to 17-0 at the half, then keeping in front 23-6 at the three-quarter mark.

SPORT IN BRIEF

PIRIE READY
TORONTO (CP)—Gordon Pirie, British track star, arrived here Monday to meet the United States' top milers in a special mile race.

Pirie will run in Varsity Stadium Saturday against Wes Santee and Fred Dwyer. All three have raced over the distance in a little more than four minutes.

Santee, with 4:00.5, has the best time of the three. Pirie has done it in 4:05.2 while Dwyer's fastest time is 4:01.8.

Arriving with Pirie Monday was his brother, Peter. The pair will run in a series of exhibition races in the Toronto district, with Peter probably entering three-mile and six-mile events.

ENGLAND LEADS
LONDON (Reuters)—England, all out for 151, Monday dismissed South Africa for 112 to gain a first innings lead of 39 at the close of the second day's play in the fifth and final test cricket match at the Oval.

Seventeen wickets fell for 193 runs. England's overnight batsmen, Denis Compton, 30, and Willie Watson, 25, did well to add 35 this morning. Then the innings collapsed with four wickets falling while 13 runs were added.

Offspinner Hugh Tayfield had three of them for one run. He finished with three for 39. Leftarm medium pace-bowler Trevor Goddard had five for 31.

The third closed crown decided Monday was in the boy's singles where Andre Toupin of Montreal came out on top. Toupin defeated Don McKush of Winnipeg, 6-0, 9-7 in the final.

Steel Worker Fails in Attempt To Swim Lake

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (CP)—A husky steel worker lasted just five hours Monday night in his attempt to become the first man to swim across Lake Ontario.

Leon Bouchard, his fast starting stroke slowed to a feeble crawl, was pulled from the water at 11:50 p.m. EDT. Severe back cramps following shortly after a stomach upset forced him to quit.

Bouchard left the mouth of the Niagara river here and headed for Toronto full of confidence that he would match the record of a Toronto schoolgirl who last year became the lake's first and only conqueror.

Marilyn Bell, 16 at the time, completed the 32-mile swim in just under 22 hours.

Bouchard, 26, started at a rapid 54 strokes to the minute after a sendoff by a crowd of 500, including some of his fellow workers at a St. Catharines steel plant.

He churned through two miles of 72-degree water in the first hour. About 11 o'clock he complained of gas pains in his stomach. Fifty minutes later he was taken aboard an escorting motorboat carrying his wife and coach, Sara Jane.

Garry Cowan Shoots a 74

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Garry Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., shot a 74 Monday in the first round of the 36-hole qualifying tournament for the international Jaycee junior golf championships.

Ray Duff of Dulcan, Okla., and John Litchy of Iowa City, Iowa, fired three-under-par 69s to take the first round lead.

The 100 low qualifiers and ties will compete in 72 holes of medal play for the championship starting Wednesday. Those failing to make the championship rounds will continue in a "B" division.

ACROPOLIS FAVORED
LONDON (Reuters)—Backers, still awaiting decisions about plans for the French colts Wimpy and Phil Drake, showed no interest in Monday night's second St. Leger call-over at the Victoria Club here.

Acropolis, who had an impressive training gallop over 1½ miles at Newmarket Saturday, remains favorite at 2 to 1. The Derby winner Phil Drake, went out to 10 to 1 from his previous odds of 7 to 1.

Golfdom's Big Names Minus Boros Will Tee Off in Canadian Open

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—The 72-hole Canadian Open starts at the suburban Weston Golf Club Wednesday—without Julius Boros, golf's No. 1 celebrity. Julius is probably too busy counting his money.

The Fairfield, Conn., shotsmith was entered in the $15,000 open but tournament officials haven't heard a peep from him since he hit golf's all-time high jackpot Sunday in the "World" championship at Chicago. That victory was worth $50,000 in cash and $55,000 in exhibition contracts.

Officials have completed the draw for Wednesday's 18-hole round. There's Sam Snead, the old pro from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va. There's Chattanooga's terrible-tempered Tommy Bolt; the power-hitting George Bayer from South Pasadena, Calif., but no Boros.

TOO MUCH ON MIND
"We didn't even figure on Boros after his big win at Chicago," one tournament official said. "The guy has too much on his mind to hit the tournament trail so soon after winning the big one."

Even without Boros, officials are ballyhooing this as one of the best and biggest in the tournament's 46-year history. It could be one of the biggest—at last count 195 professionals and amateurs were listed to meet the starter's call when play starts Wednesday morning on the 6,428-yard, par-72 layout.

Included in this big field are three former Open champions. Snead won the title in 1938 and again in 1940-41. Dave Douglas, the lean golfer from Newark, Del., took the honors in 1953 and Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon is defending titleholder. Fletcher became the only Canadian to win the title when he beat out a big field at Vancouver last year.

Also in the field are golfers who finished high up in the Chicago Tam O'Shanter. They are Freddie Haas of New Orleans who took the $10,000 second prize; Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn.; Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., and Bo Winginger from Oklahoma City, Okla.

The Canadian contingent, besides Fletcher, show Mo Norman, Kitchener, Canadian amateur champion; Al Balding, Toronto, Canadian Professional Golfers' Association titleholder; Stan Leonard, Vancouver, who gave up his club pro job this year to try the tournament trail; Toronto's Gerry Kesselring and Bill Thompson; Rudy Horvath, Windsor, Ont.

At the end of 36 holes the field will be reduced to the low 100 and ties and on completion of 54 holes, it will be further cut to the low 60 and ties for Saturday's final 18.

GIANTS CALL SHORTSTOP
NEW YORK (AP)—New York Giants Monday called up shortstop Billy Gardner from Minneapolis to replace injured Alvin Dark.

Dark recently suffered a cracked rib while being tagged out by Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati and will be out of action for at least a month.

Why only TCP gets the full power from High Octane Gasoline

You might expect that all you need to get the full power out of a high compression engine is high octane gasoline. Actually you need more than just high octane—you need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

That's because the way most of us drive most of the time—short trips here and there—creates a power-wasting problem that neither engine design nor highest octane gasoline can solve by themselves.

This problem is the increased build-up of certain deposits within the combustion chambers... the principal cause of power waste.

What happens is this:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fire-proofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

U.S. and Chinese Envoys Meet

GENEVA (AP) — United States and Communist Chinese ambassadors met for nearly 2½ hours today and then recessed their talks until Thursday. They gave no indication of any progress toward the release of 41 Americans held by Peiping.

They said only that they would again take up the issue of civilian repatriation at their next session.

Costume Designer for 'Adam And Eve' Sought by Producer

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the first time in Hollywood memory, a producer is conducting a worldwide search for a costume designer.

And what's really strange about the search is that the job requires costumes for the original Adam and Eve, but no nudists need apply.

Somewhere, Vanessa Brown and her producer-husband, Robert Alan Franklin, are convinced, there's a genius who can figure out a way to costume their forthcoming "Mark Twain's Adam and Eve." The script is derived from Twain's "Excerpts from Adam's Diary and 'Eve's Diary.' This is believed to be the first Adam and Eve script ever given the green light by the motion picture code administration.

Franklin wants to make the picture — and costumes — completely acceptable to the code. The movie censors, in giving the script a go-ahead, warned that final approval would have a lot to do with costume.

Shapely Vanessa will play Eve. She's the one who created the part of the sex-on-wheels girl in the Broadway version of "The Seven Year Itch." Marilyn Monroe did it on the screen.

The international designer search stemmed from the dearth of ideas that the Hollywood designers came up with. So far, the local seerssers men haven't come up with anything better than plant-sized fig leaves, flesh-colored tights, tree-bark wraparounds and feather sarongs.

Franklin thinks he can do better than that outside of movietown. He has definitely rejected the idea of Vanessa playing Eve with nothing but knee-length tresses covering her anatomy.

The script calls for Lilith to braid Eve's hair and pile it on top of her head in one scene," he states. "Where would we be with the censors then if we had only hair for a covering?"

However, he insists on some suggestion of nudity, with good taste, to keep the picture in the spirit of genesis.

Otherwise, he notes, there will be no dramatic impact in the scene where Adam and Eve are banished from the Garden of Eden and try to cover their bodies for the first time.

One Hollywood designer at a major studio came to him with the idea of Eve wearing mink skin and Adam in leopard pelts like Tarzan.

"That won't do either," says the producer. "We're using more animals than Walt Disney in the Garden of Eden and they all get along beautifully. There was no slaughter in the Garden of Eden, so Adam and Eve can't wear animal pelts."

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, August 17, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Like yesterday, watch out for distracting changes. Keep mind and energies keenly tuned to end objectives. Don't wind up on a dead end street.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Stir up a healthy potion of ambition. This coupled with your innate ability, can spell great success. One caution: Don't attempt more than you can reasonably handle.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Patience and understanding of what lies ahead are essential now. You can't tackle situations successfully unless you are familiar with all their phases.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Benefic aspects are yours to take advantage of. Prepare for a busy day. Master it with enthusiasm and "bring-home-the-bacon" drive. Close friends are in a position to aid.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Mixed vibrations. Unruffled thoughts and proceed with clear purpose and a firm step. Avoid risky or get-rich-quick schemes, no matter how enticing. Soft pedal emotionalism.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—A middle-of-the-work day may hamper your efforts... you don't fight it. Keep trying and you'll leave the slowpokes and inactive ones far behind. Everyone likes a winner. It can be you!

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Take advantage of any sound opening. If you don't, someone else will while you are debating the point. Siphon off detrimental ideas and lackadaisical attitudes.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Excellent indications, particularly for clerical personnel, patrons connected with the medical profession, civil and government employees. Frantic, your ideas, prospects are good.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Preserve dignity, common sense and practicality during this energetic period. There's much to be gained if you conduct yourself smartly, snappily. Tact, diplomacy big aids.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Keep yourself in trim for any eventuality. Times are always changing and those who keep up-to-date reap rewards. Effective help from an unexpected source possible if you play your part rightly.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Deliberation and calm analysis will be needed to get the most out of this day. Irritating situations may loom up. If so, handle them adroitly. A sound approach plus "heads up" performance is best.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—The day's vibrations are more auspicious for personal and routine matters than for speculative business or financial undertakings. You do best when care free and lighthearted.

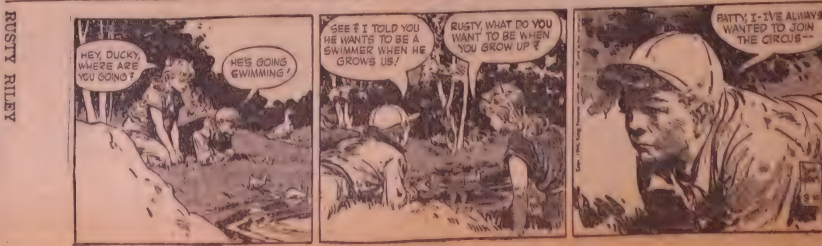

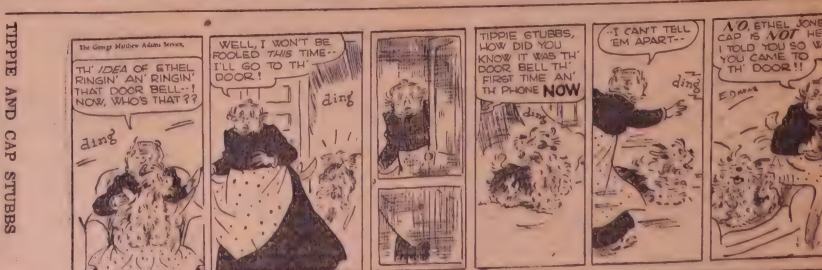

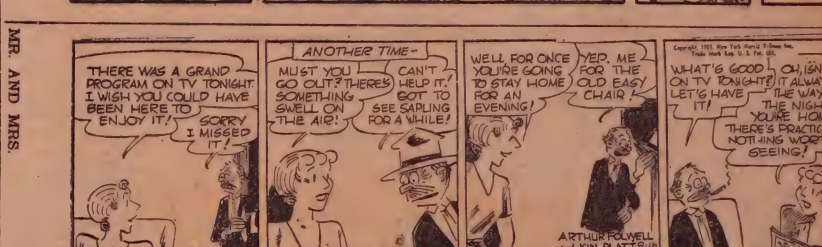

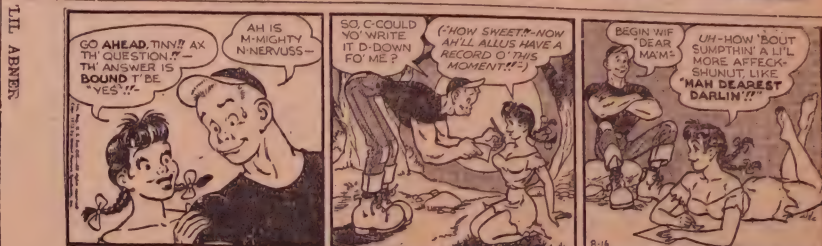

You born today are warm-hearted, sunny in disposition, clever and intelligent. But you may be inclined to boast and to be a bit domineering and egotistical at times. These failings are a menace to your finer qualities and could keep you from reaching the really high place you can attain in business or whatever your profession or calling; also in the social sphere to which you belong. Recognize that humility always attracts true greatness and graciousness wins friends, business and financial aid. Strive for the spiritual and mental gains as well as the material. Birthdate David Crockett, American frontiersman.

Eisenhower
Favors Another
Atomic Parley

GENEVA (AP) — Lewis L.
Strauss, chairman of the U.S.
Atomic Energy Commission, announced today President Eisenhower favors a second world conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy within two or three years.

Strauss made his statement at a luncheon attended by top members of the American delegation to the current atomic-for-peace conference.

He said it would be out of order for a formal proposal to be laid before the present meeting, but added the U.S. delegates to the United Nations presumably would initiate a proposal "in due course."

Strauss said that the discussions here and the informal contacts between atomic experts would produce in the next two years much progress and many new discoveries in the field.

COMMITTED IN DEATH
WINDSOR (CP) — Simon Casey, 33, Monday was committed for trial by higher court on a charge of murder laid in connection with the death of his wife, Alice, 37, on July 21. He is scheduled to appear before a sitting of the Ontario
Supreme Court on Sept. 18.

CANSO CAUSEWAY FULFILLS DREAM OF NOVA SCOTIANS

Dream of Nova Scotians for generations is now realized with the opening of Canso Causeway, which links Cape Breton Island to the mainland. The causeway, costing $23,000,000, was built by depositing millions of tons of rock across the strait. To fulfill the wish of the late

Premier Angus L. Macdonald, who started the construction, the hundred killed pipers led a procession of thousands across the causeway in the opening ceremonies. Their tune was, appropriately, "Road to the Isles." (Centre Press Canadian.)

Major Ontario Cabinet Shuffle Is Forecast, Frost Rumored Seeking Federal PC Leadership

BULLETIN
TORONTO (CP) — Mr. Frost failed reporters today: "I can assure the people of Ontario I have no intention now or ever, of going to Ottawa. My past statements still stand. I made such a statement during the election and I made one in the legislature and I haven't changed my mind."

TORONTO (CP) — A major shuffle in the Ontario cabinet, involving six or eight portfolios, was expected to be announced this afternoon by Premier Frost.

Queen's Park observers speculated that the premier would give up the treasury portfolio he has held for 12 years and hand it over to Attorney-General Porter.

They suggested that A. Kelso Roberts, member for Toronto St. Patrick and chairman of last year's highway fraud committee, would become attorney-general.

Provincial Secretary Nickle would be named minister of planning and development, replacing

W. K. Warrender who would become minister without portfolio and vice-chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, 77, would become provincial secretary for one year and then retire from the cabinet.

Welfare Minister Goodfellow would become municipal affairs minister and Travel Minister Cecile would succeed him in the welfare portfolio.

Bryan Cathcart, member for Lambton West, would replace Mr. Cecile in the travel and publicity portfolio.

The Telegram says in a story on the impending changes, the premier of the burden of two jobs, also strengthens the views of many leading officials at Queen's Park that Mr. Frost is clearing the decks for his resignation as premier to enter the federal political field as a candidate for leadership of the national Conservative party.

Tossed from Car In Accident, Baby Is Drowned

BARRIE (CP) — A 13-month-old child was drowned in a creek 15 miles west of here Tuesday night when thrown from a car.

Police said David Lawrence of Angus was hurled from his mother's lap into the water when his father's car crashed into the steel rails of a bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lawrence groped in darkness for 20 minutes before provincial police arrived with torches and found him submerged in shallow water. Police applied artificial respiration for more than two hours without success.

REPORTS ON MISSION

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synops: Hurricane Diane reached the Carolina coast early this morning and was moving towards the north-northwest at 14 miles per hour. As it moves inland the hurricane is expected to gradually lose its force and become a tropical storm.

A weak disturbance lying north of the Great Lakes will cause widely scattered showers across most of the province today. The remains of hurricane Diane is expected to bring rain over the lower lakes region Thursday. Winds in the lower lakes regions are expected to reach about 30 to 40 miles per hour Thursday afternoon and evening.

Most of India Back to Normal, Strike Continues

NEW DELHI (AP) — Most of India returned to normal today but a general strike continued in Calcutta, the largest city, in protest against the killing of Indian marchers into Portuguese India Monday.

First reports from Calcutta, home of 2,000,000 Indians at the country's eastern edge, made no mention of any violence today. Demonstrators there Tuesday sacked the Portuguese consulate and halted all but essential services.

Other large cities also were reported quiet today after anti-Portuguese riots and strikes in which nearly 100 persons were injured Tuesday in Bombay, a headquarters for the Indian "peaceful invasion." Monday of the three small Portuguese territories on the west coast.

Prime Minister Nehru today offered his "deep regrets and apologies" to the foreign missions attacked in the rioting. He told Parliament his government "is prepared to pay full compensation" to the foreign governments for any damage done.

The prime minister said latest official reports listed 14 killed in the march Monday into Goa and Daman, six or seven more presumed dead and 24 others missing — believed either dead or in Portuguese jails or hospitals.

A government spokesman later said 112 Indians had entered the third Portuguese territory, Diu, and they were missing.

Wartime Human Torpedo Going To Take 'Windfall' from Admiralty

By BRUCE LEVETT
CANADIAN PRESS Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP) — Rodney Dove feels "a little strange" taking his $700 windfall from the British admiralty — "but don't get me wrong—I'm going to take it."

The 34-year-old airlines passenger agent, a former Royal Navy lieutenant, told in an interview here Tuesday night how he came to be in line for the $700.

"I was a pilot on one of those two-man human torpedoes which operated from three-man midge submarines," he said.

The submarine would launch a torpedo equipped with two seats and two torpedoes would guide the self-propelled missile below the surface of the water into an enemy harbor and finish it to the hull of a ship. The riders would set a time clock and attempt to swim back to Dope.

National Health Insurance Plan Possibility in 1957

OTTAWA (CP) — National health insurance, long a controversial issue in Canada, now appears to have a 50-50 chance of becoming a reality in two years time.

This is the view of some federal officials here who see the outlook for the $750,000,000-a-year scheme considerably brightened by recent events. These include more interest by the provinces and the possibility of a flattening out of Canada's heavy defence expenditures.

Premier Frost of Ontario has been one of those insisting that federal consideration be given a national plan of contributory health insurance. At the April federal-provincial conference he demanded a full-scale study.

Prime Minister St. Laurent disclosed in an interview Tuesday that he recently discussed the matter with Mr. Frost and has asked him for a memorandum of his views.

In Kingston Tuesday night, Premier Frost said that the subject of health insurance is definitely on the agenda for the coming federal-provincial conference in October.

Mr. St. Laurent told reporters that the cost in Canada of hospital payer must not be lost sight of. A countrywide plan could cost the federal treasury about $25 a person annually in addition to present costs of supporting medical institutions through health grants and other means.

In the years of tension since the war defence costs have been eating deeply into the federal budget. This, federal officials say, has been one stumbling block against federal support of such a plan. But now the indications are there may be declines in these defence costs with the slackening of world tension.

Any national plan would be administered at the provincial level with financial contributions from the federal government.

TORONTO (CP) — A member of the provincial council of the Transvaal, South Africa, said Tuesday his province has found free hospitalization unsatisfactory from a financial standpoint.

Dr. J. J. S. Wassenaar, conducting an unofficial investigation of Ontario's hospitalization — subsidy program, said the Transvaal is spending $27,000,000—80 per cent of its budget—annually on the hospitalization plan.

Dr. Wassenaar said many people stayed in hospitals longer than they would if they were paying the bills themselves. Many hospitals had become virtual convalescent homes which the patients never leave.

Firm's Error Left Campney Involved in Lease to Govt.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Sun says Defence Minister Campney was for nine months a shareholder and director of a private company which owns a suburban Burnaby postal station now leased to the federal department of public works.

The Sun identified the company as Com Investments Ltd. It says Mr. Campney was one of its three directors and still owns the one-third interest shares. Com Investments had had when a director.

The newspaper quoted William Murphy, one of the defence minister's law partners, as saying it was a "comedy of errors" and that Mr. Campney knew nothing about the postal station or his Com directorship.

The Sun says the government took a seven-year lease on the Burnaby postal station Dec. 13, 1950, at an annual rental of $6,924. It said the property is assessed at $28,650 and is registered under Com's name as of Dec. 3, 1954. Mr. Murphy was quoted as saying that "a ghastly mistake" was the reason Mr. Campney's name was on the Com board of directors, and that it was contrary to the orders of the minister who assumed he had been dropped as a director.

Mr. Murphy said Mr. Campney asked to have his name removed from directors' lists when he entered the federal cabinet in 1952. The newspaper added, "but by some unfortunate oversight we forgot about Com." Mr. Murphy was quoted as saying that when the Burnaby property was purchased, Mr. Campney knew nothing about it.

The newspaper says a letter dated Aug. 8, 1955, was received by the registrar of companies, signed by Mr. Murphy. It gave notice that Mr. Campney had resigned as a director of Com Dec. 4, 1954.

The House of Commons Act forbids a member of Parliament to transact any agreement or contract with the federal government for which public money is to be paid.

Whirlwind Tour Of Seaway Valley Made by Premier

CORNWALL (CP) — Ontario's Premier Frost Tuesday made an unscheduled whirlwind tour of Seaway Valley for a first-hand look at the $900,000,000 development on the St. Lawrence river.

The premier told reporters in an interview that he was much impressed by the progress being made on the big seaway-power project. Most valley citizens who will be flooded out by the project seem satisfied with plans for their re-habilitation.

"There have been large projects carried out in Ontario where there has been disturbance of citizens and they have received fair treatment," he said. "It is certain the same will be done on this project."

Mr. Frost, accompanied by Highway Minister Allan and other officials, inspected the site of New Iroquois where preparations are being made for the moving of 200 homes. He also toured Morrisburg and at Cornwall took a look at the main cofferdam project in the river.

OSLO (Reuters) — Robert Austin, 16-year-old British Boy Scout missing since last Saturday, was found dead Tuesday on Skredfjell mountain, near Bergen, Norway, said a fall from a 1,000-foot ledge within sight of his hotel.

Hunt Stratford Bank Teller, $35,000 Missing

STRATFORD (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police, armed with a warrant, today continued the search for an 18-year-old bank teller who disappeared from his home Friday night after a final game of pool in a downtown billiard parlor.

Police said he was last seen by the Stratford cable driver who reported spotting Dickson heading toward London and carrying a black suitcase.

Bank authorities touched off the search for the missing teller Monday when the money was discovered missing. Dickson had not reported for work.

Michael Fitzgerald, 20, a friend, said Dickson had made no mention of a weekend trip when they met Friday afternoon. The youth came to the bank three years ago from high school and was described as an "honour student" and oratorical champion. He is single.

In Toronto, a bank official said Dickson usually handled part of large payroll sums and balanced his cash at the end of the late Friday closing. He said the missing money is in five, 10 and 20 dollar bills.

Crying Child Awakes Family In Blazing Home

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — The crying of a seven-month-old girl saved her mother and seven brothers and sisters early Tuesday when their house, 20 miles west of here, was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Eva Moore, 39, awakened by the crying of her daughter Janet took her children to safety. They were: George, 9, David, 8, Jimmy, 7, Beverly, 5, Dianne, 4, Wayne, 3, Douglas, 2, and Janet.

Mrs. Moore's husband is working in Belleville.

Old Fort Henry Guard Presented With Queen's Colors in Ceremonial

KINGSTON (CP) — The thin red line of the British Imperial Army marched again here Tuesday night as the Fort Henry guard received the Queen's colors.

Life and drum music followed the parade square and surrounding easements as Premier Frost of Ontario presented the colors in an impressive ceremonial tattoo.

Mr. Frost announced during the ceremony that the scarlet-clad guard will be invited to attend the next opening of the provincial legislature.

The Fort Henry guard is a non-military body of university students employed for the summer by the Ontario department of highways. It commemorates the 40 British and Canadian units that garrisoned Fort Henry from 1812 to 1940.

Such famed regiments as the Royal Welch Fusiliers, the Black Watch and the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders once served in this 150-year-old garrison.

Tuesday night's ceremony snuggled valleys.

FOUR ARE KILLED TWO RESCUED IN NORTHERN CRASH

Survivors Found Miles from Wreckage

THE PAS, Man. (CP) — Four of six men aboard an oil company plane which crashed in northern Saskatchewan died trapped in the flaming wreckage by the tools of their trade.

The geologist and engineer who survived the Saturday crash of an Imperial Oil Company Beaver aircraft were found Tuesday wandering dazed and burned nine miles from the wreckage.

C. J. Kendall, 25, and Owen Smith, 24, both of Regina, told rescuers the plane's engine coughed and died when they were only 35 miles away from their take-off point, near Rocky Lake.

Those who died before the crash were through the crashed aircraft they managed to scramble free but the others, up front in the plane, were trapped by piles of tools and cooking equipment.

HAD CROSSED BORDER

The flat-equipped Beaver had crossed the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border on a 350-mile flight south-west to Regina Beach near Regina. The pilot had planned to land at Sturgeon Lake, the crash scene, to allow the oil men to pick up some limestone samples.

Those who died before the crash were pilot Don Knox and Waldo Waring, both of Regina; A. A. Hutchison, 34, Virden, Man., and Bob Brown, Calgary. All worked for Imperial Oil.

Pilot Tom Lamb of The Pas, who brought out Kendall and Smith after RCAF searchers had located the wreckage, told of the dazed condition of the survivors.

Lamb, head of Lamb Airways, said: "We spotted Smith first and flew in to get him. He waded out into the water through rocks and was pointing at my engine."

"I saw him and Smith said, 'That's that thing been overhauled?'"

"I assured him that it was a new engine and he said 'Ours wasn't.'"

The pilot said he asked Smith what the other survivor was and was told that he had returned to the wreckage to look for food.

"I flew back down the lake and spotted Kendall waving his hands frantically. I circled him and I think he thought we were going away because he bent down and clasped his head in his hands."

"When we landed, Kendall waded out to us but kept falling down. He was burned about the face and hands. The boys got him out and helped him aboard."

Hurricane Hits Carolina Coast, Damage Is Light

Tormental Rains, Raging Seas Whip Coastline

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Hurricane Diane, churning menacingly eight days up the coast from the tropics, hit the North Carolina coast today but did relatively little damage.

She pushed into central North Carolina with falling force. The weather bureau said she would have 60-mile-an-hour winds by the time she reached the Raleigh-Durham area. Her route, northeastward, would carry her on into Virginia tonight.

The office of North Carolina Governor Luther Hodges said scattered and "very preliminary" reports indicated damage along the beaches was "almost miraculously light."

Diane invaded the land only five days after hurricane Connie had sideswiped northeastern South Carolina, invaded this area and blown out in Pennsylvania. Connie took 43 lives and wrought damage estimated in the millions.

While the hurricane was losing force, the bureau warned coastal sections that they should continue to take all precautions against dangerous winds and high tides until both subside.

Hurricane warnings flew from Cape Hatteras, N.C., about 50 miles northeast of Charleston, to Cape Fear, N.C. The coast northward to the Virginia capes was under hurricane alert. Storm warnings were up all the way north to Atlantic City, N.J.

FOLLOWED CONNIE

Diane followed Connie's path, but the hurricane was losing force, the bureau warned coastal sections that they should continue to take all precautions against dangerous winds and high tides until both subside.

Hurricane warnings flew from Cape Hatteras, N.C., about 50 miles northeast of Charleston, to Cape Fear, N.C. The coast northward to the Virginia capes was under hurricane alert. Storm warnings were up all the way north to Atlantic City, N.J.

RAINS SPREAD

Heavy rains preceded the centre and were expected to spread over eastern North Carolina and into Virginia as the storm progressed. Most of the exposed beaches had been evacuated as Diane approached. Hurricane-wise Carolinians took no chances with Diane—as they had taken none with Connie.

Last week's storm lashed the same area and swept northward at reduced force, pouring flooding rains on areas as far north as Lake Ontario. Forty-three deaths were attributed to Diane, but no one died on the beaches.

Burglars Run Tavern 6 Hours To Boost Loot

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The regulars at Emil A. Singer's tavern in suburban Cheektowaga were delighted to find the place open Tuesday.

It is normally closed Tuesday, but two cheerful young men tended bar and served meals for nearly six hours. Then, with business thriving, they suddenly vanished.

Investigation showed they were burglars, who had made off with $40 from the till and about $65 they had taken in.

Police Arrest Man Who Skipped Bail 2 Years Ago

HAMILTON (CP) — Police who struck just before dawn today arrested John Zaplancinski, alias "Red," said he has been sought since he absconded $25,000 bail in Toronto nearly two years ago.

The combined Toronto-Hamilton squad issued an extradition warrant charging the 42-year-old man with armed robbery and other offences in West Virginia.

Police said that during extradition proceedings before Judge Robert Forsyth in Toronto in November, 1953, Zaplancinski stepped out for a milkshake during a court recess and disappeared.

KIWANIS GIVE CLASSIFICATION TALKS

Kiwanians Fred Rawson and Bill Reilly yesterday were speakers at Kiwanis, continuing the Club's special summer program of classification talks by its members.

Mr. Rawson spoke on his city bus transport company while Mr. Reilly addressed members on the photography profession.

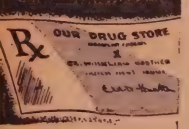

An interesting film on the manufacture of camera lenses concluded the meeting. The film was shot in the Hawkeye works of the Kodak company.

Chairman of the meeting was president Staff McKenna, while Taylor Franklin introduced the guests.

TWO MINOR ALARMS

City firemen answered two minor alarms on Tuesday. One call was to the corner of Lingham and Pine street for a rubbish fire, and the other was to the corner of Lingham and Pine street for a smoke investigation. Children playing with matches in the basement were said to be the cause. No damage resulted from either blaze.

FAIR ATTENDANCE CONTINUES HIGH

Hopes that attendance at the Belleville Fair may set a record this year continue high as fair weather prevails.

Last night a huge crowd thronged the grounds and overall admissions are reported to compare favorably with those recorded on the second day of the fair last year, which set an attendance record.

Last night's grandstand show also played to a capacity audience while Monday's attendance, based on paid admissions, was reported to be as good as the best attendance in other years.

INDEPENDENT DISPLAY

Electrolux Can. Ltd., manufacturers of vacuum cleaners and floor polishers, has an independent booth in the manufacturers' building at the Fair. It was reported yesterday that the Electrolux exhibit was part of the display of the John Lewis Co. Ltd.

Plywood Show Makes Eastern Debut Here

The multitude of uses for British Columbia ply wood and the mill processing which makes the easily worked sections possible is graphically demonstrated at the Belleville Fair this week by The Plywood Farm and Home Show, being seen for the first time in Eastern Canada.

The show represents the entire B.C. plywood industry and is packed full of ideas of interest to the home craftsman and builder. A model of a big plywood mill showing the various processes necessary to transform a fir log into sheets of plywood is an interesting feature of the exhibit, as are the many panorama windows showing the many uses to which plywood can be put.

A 35-minute color movie, "The Plywood Story", covering the entire manufacturing process of plywood, gives fair patrons an opportunity to rest their feet and at the same time enjoy a highly interesting and educational film.

The entire show is completely lacking in the use of trade names, the idea apparently being to get the plywood story across without the use of sales talk.

This is the first time the exhibit has visited Eastern Canada, Belleville being chosen for the initial stop because the sponsors feel the Belleville Fair is a good show and on visited by residents from a large area.

Obituary

MRS. BESSIE OVENS
R. R. 3 Belleville

Ill only ten days, Mrs. Bessie Owens, R.R. 3 Belleville, died at the Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday. She was in her 71st year.

Born in Rawdon township, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Mason, she had lived in the Belleville area since the past year. Previously she resided at Stirling and Campbellford. She was a member of the United Church and also belonged to the Wellesley Woman's Association, her husband, the late Edward Owens, predeceased her in 1945.

Surviving are two children, a daughter, Mrs. Donald (Rush), R.R. 3 Belleville, and one son, Wellington Owens, also of R.R. 3 Belleville. One sister, Mrs. Elmer Campbell of British Columbia and one brother, Clarence Mason, of Killarney, Manitoba, and six grandchildren and two great grandchildren, also survive.

Resting at the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling; the funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

JOHN ENRIGHT
(Read)

The funeral of John Enright, of Read, was held Tuesday, August 16, from his late residence to St. Charles' church for Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. Rev. E. Briceand sang the Mass and led the prayers at the graveside in St. Charles' cemetery.

Members of the Holy Name Society of St. Charles' church formed a guard of honor in the church. Bearers were Joseph Bennett, Joseph Daley, Thomas J. Corrigan, Thomas Vincent Corrigan, Vincent McDermott and J. T. Farrell.

The funeral was under the direction of the Funeral Residence of George F. O'Brien.

GERALD LYLE TUGWOOD

The funeral of Gerald Lyle Tugwood, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tugwood, was held from the residence of his grandfather, Mr. Hilton Lewen, Tyendinaga, on August 15.

Interment was in All Saints Anglican cemetery.

Rev. W. F. Smith, chaplain to Tyendinaga Reserve, officiated at the services.

The bearers were: Wayne Boomer, George Maracle, Donald Brand and Eidon Maracle. Flower bearers were: Lillian Lewen, Norma Maracle, Donna Hill and Florence Moon.

The infant, aged eight months and twenty days, died suddenly at the residence of his grandfather on August 11. Born at Pembroke, Ont., he had been living in Petawawa for some time before his parents came to Tyendinaga.

He is survived by one brother, Hilton Henry Tugwood, four, and one sister, Fern Louise, 19 months.

Read This and Who Can Then Wonder If Johnny Is So Long at the Fair?

The home cooking display being shown in the horticulture building at the fair this week somewhat resembles a large bake shop.

Pies to suit any man's sweet tooth are in this exhibit. Cherry lemon, apple, raisin, and berry are among the kinds which have been brought in. The crusts are decorated in a variety of ways, ranging from designs made with a fork, star-shaped dough, or lattice strips on top, to fluffy meringues.

The cakes are just as attractive and just as varied. Angel, chocolate, white, and fruit cakes are in abundance. The icing on many of the cakes is topped with cherries, coconut, nuts or small chocolate chunks.

Delightful macaroons, large marble size cookies, and date squares are included in the exhibit. Plates of candies on display are fudge, chewy lemon candies, chocolates, and sea foam, berry, lemon, and cinnamon tarts are also shown.

Home-made breads are also being exhibited. Besides the round and long loaves, tea biscuits, buns and whole wheat muffins, doughnuts, buns, and a date loaf are in this category.

In the canning department are various jams and jellies, as well as vegetables. This latter group includes tomatoes, string beans, pickle relish, corn, and different types of pickles.

A display of healthful school lunches, each presented in a lunch box, adds to the exhibit. Hokey, butter, eggs, and lard also had a part in the showing.

Stirling: Doreen Dickens, Plainfield; Lennox and Addington — Joan Baker, Moscow; Doris McNell, Moscow; Mary Ellen Creighton, Napanee; and Donna Bartlett, Napanee; Northumberland — Sandra Little, Campbellford.

Interclub exhibits were placed by the Cooper and Remington club; Wallbridge club and Quinte club from Hastings; the Moscow club from Lennox and Addington; and the Seymour West club from Northumberland.

Interclub garden exhibits were by the Plainfield, Wallbridge and River Valley clubs.

4 Sets Compete For Square Dancing Title

Gaily costumed junior farmers swinging their partners to the music of well known square dance tunes, were an added attraction for grandstand patrons at Belleville Fair Tuesday night.

Competing in last night's contest were teams from Thurlow township and from Prince Edward county. In all four teams will be seen in action at the fair, the final round scheduled for Thursday evening.

The Thurlow group received the nod of the judges at last night's will return tonight to compete competition and the same team against a second team from Thurlow. The winners of tonight's competition will compete against a team from Peterborough county in the finals Thursday night.

Members of last night's winning team were Harvey and Kay Homan; Warren Heinz and Muriel Swan; Ellis Heinz and Gotha Joslin; and Dale Balanquell and Mona Swan.

The Prince Edward county team was composed of Jean Barber and Bill Barber, Gertrude Parliament and Jack Barber, Jim Latchford and Carmelita Latchford, John Walt and Marion Conklin.

"Cam" Burnett acted as official caller for the fair board, while Ivan Clare called for Thurlow and Roy Goodwin for Prince Edward.

Robbery Suspect In County Jail To Await Hearing

James Ross, 32, of Toronto, charged with the $5,400 armed robbery of the Toronto-Dominion bank at Marmora June 29, early this morning was lodged in the Hastings County jail to await a special preliminary hearing next week.

Ross, who was arrested by Toronto police July 23, was escorted here by Marmora police chief Charles Lockwood and was lodged in the jail shortly after 3 a.m. A warrant for his arrest was issued in Marmora about two weeks after the robbery, when two men, posing as plumbers, gained entrance to the bank before it opened, lined up the employees and made off with over $5,400.

As yet the second man has not been found.

The bandits made their getaway in a stolen car, which later was found abandoned the same day near Peterborough. The owner of the car, Thomas Cullen, 25, of Peterborough, told police the bandits had kidnapped him the previous night and then stuffed him, trussed and gagged, in the car's trunk while it was parked outside the bank.

Investigations in the case were placed in charge of OPP Inspector J. L. McDermott of the Criminal Investigation Bureau, Toronto.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market moved listlessly today with first-hour volume of 1,115,000 shares the lowest in the last 17 sessions. Tuesday's figure was 1,239,000.

Uranium provided the only feature. Base metals were subjected to some selling. Industrials drew only scant interest but managed a narrow index gain. Western oils were moderately higher while golds showed a few penny gains.

Industrials scored small advances in foods and papers. Changes were limited to about a point.

Some senior issues added fractions among uraniums. Gains up to 25 cents went to Can-Met, Faraday, Gunnar warrants, Lorado, Nesbitt Labine and Rayrock.

Losses were mostly light in base metals.

Midcon was a western oil feature, showing a 35 cent slump at 90 and trading 60,000 shares. The stock won back a little ground after dropping to 81.

Golds traded very lightly. Yellowknife was off 4 to $2.39 on 15,000 shares in holding companies.

DOLLAR RATE

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 1-7/16 per cent in terms of U.S. funds today. Pound sterling 1-3/4 higher at $2.78 3/4.

Cheese Exchange

Prices for white and colored cheese were down Tuesday on the Belleville Cheese Exchange.

The price of colored cheese was off 1/4 cent to 29 cents a pound and white cheese was off 5/16 at 29 cents over prices paid a week ago.

A total of 4,353 cheese were boarded. Included in the total were 1,056 specials, 504 white and 2,793 colored.

Passing Driver Gives Alarm But Barn Burns

MARMORA — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn and adjacent outbuildings such as the henhouse, cattle shed and root cellar, on the farm of John W. Richardson, Marmora Township, about 10 a. m. on Tuesday.

The 105 year old barn was ablaze as a passing motorist first saw the fire and stopped to inform the owner. It was then impossible to save the barn and the outbuilding. The barn was practically empty at the time of hay or grain and there was no loss of live stock.

Mr. Richardson was unable to estimate the loss sustained. Some insurance was carried on the buildings.

ITALIAN ADMIRAL DIES

PIEVE LIGURE, Italy (AP)—Admiral Giuseppe Siriani, 79, who was credited with rebuilding Italy's navy in the early 1930s, died Tuesday. He served as Mussolini's minister of navy.

Disciples Open World Convention

TORONTO (CP)—The massed voices of 500 singers welcomed delegates to the 15th world convention of the Churches of Christ (Disciples) at the Maple Leaf Gardens here Tuesday night.

The 8,000 delegates representing 32 nations heard convention president Edgar G. Burton of Toronto in his keynote speech call for more interest and participation in church work.

The Toronto businessman, president of Simpson's Ltd., told delegates that they and the church are responsible for a lazy attitude toward religion.

He said although people now have more leisure and higher standards of living they seem reluctant to give time to help others. He criticized the church for lack of proper program and methods of arousing interest.

Girl, 12, Wins $8,000 in Quiz

NEW YORK (AP)—An engaging 12-year-old girl, who reached the finals of the U.S. national spelling bee last May, Tuesday night won $8,000 on the television quiz show, "The $64,000 Question."

Gloria Lockerman of Baltimore, made a bit of a show over picking her category of questions, and then with a knowing smile, said: "I think I'll take spelling."

She rippled through coyote, dinosaur, chinchilla, and hippopotamus to get $512. Then, for $1,000, she knocked off penitentiary, Gingham and taffeta brought her $2,000, and minute, wait and mazarine took her to the $4,000 stage.

For $8,000, Gloria rattled off one of the longest words in the English language — antidisestablishmentarianism.

Next week Gloria can take her $8,000 or try for $16,000. If she misses, she gets funds for a college education as a consolation prize, instead of the CBS program's usual convertible car.

Ottawa Plans Montreal Bridge

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government plans to build a four-lane highway bridge between Montreal and the south shore of the St. Lawrence river, it was announced today.

The bridge will be a toll structure crossing Nun's island, upriver from the present Victoria bridge.

It will be administered by the National Harbors Board, which now operates Jacques Cartier bridge. A statement issued from Transport Minister Marier's office said it is expected tickets will be valid for use on all three bridges.

Boy Scout Norman Gerow Presented With Gold Cords Before Grandstand

Thirty-two boy scouts from the city and Hastings county are taking in the sights of the city and at Trenton Air Station today as a preliminary to their departure early Thursday for Niagara on the Lake where they will attend the Boy Scout Jamboree.

Tuesday night the Niagara bound scouts with troop leaders paraded the fair grounds where they saw one of their members, Norman Gerow, Herchimer Ave., receive his gold cords, the highest award a boy scout can attain.

In full view of the some 2,500 persons on the grandstand Norman Gerow was called to the stage where Mayor Jack Both presented him with his gold cords. It was an honor which only two other scouts had achieved in all the history of scouting in Belleville. Other local scouts who won their gold cords in recognition of their attaining 18 proficiency badges were Kenneth Moore and blind scout Clarence Morris.

This afternoon the boy scouts will visit the Trenton Air Station. Early tomorrow the 32 boy scouts with their leaders will depart for Niagara on the Lake for the Jamboree. Sixteen of the scouts going to the jamboree are from Belleville and the remainder of the 32 from other points in the county.

Scout Master John Rankin, chief of police at Madoc, is in charge of the group.

Bear, Two Cubs Alarm Village Near Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Residents of the Albion Hills, less than 20 miles northwest of Toronto, have oiled their guns and set up ammunition reserves in their homes following reports of a 400-pound black bear and her two half-grown cubs roaming the area.

The bears, which farmers and commuters living in the district believe are refugees from northern Ontario bush fires, are blamed for death of a horse, the young pigs and a calf. Two dogs were routed in a brief encounter with the trio, residents say.

Children in the area have been warned not to stray from their homes and not to wander at nights. Would-be bear hunters have scoured the area in vain. Two farm hands are reported to have sighted the bears and followed them for three miles, but lost the trail.

Good Racing Seen at Fair On Tuesday

There has been some good horse racing at Belleville fair in the years gone by but on Tuesday afternoon, the visitors to the exhibition were treated to two races that could be put in the excellent class.

Peter Strutter, a brown stallion, teamed by Lloyd Hess of Kingston had too much foot for seven others in the 225 class and the consensus was that Mr. Hess has a pretty shaply pacer for the slow class races around the fair circuit this season.

Reddy Gratton Royal, a nicely-turned stallion owned in this city by R. Newton, showed real potential in finishing second each heat. The little fellow appeared to be a little short, when the drive to the wire was on. Linda Jene Lee was the next best in the field, while the others were strung out in both heats.

The 217 class for the better pacers at the track was a split affair. Tim Blacklock, which has been racing around these parts for some years, turned the fastest mile of the afternoon in winning the first heat. A Defosse's Golden Hal from Trenton was a close second and finding racing room turning out of the back stretch in the second heat went on to take the previous heat winner. The field in this class was closely bunched the entire journey of the two heats and the crowds received a real thrill as the horses pounded to the finish line, all the drivers getting every inch out of their mounts.

The starts of all heats were perfect. Roy Mitchell with the starting gate had his fields well under control and they came to the wire in each heat closely bunched and all on stride. Cameron Bunnitt kept the viewers well versed in the progress of the race with his placing of the horses during each heat. The summary follows.

Trenton Council to Consider Home for Aged and Disabled

TRENTON (Special)—Town council is giving consideration to providing homes for the aged and disabled. The matter was brought to council's attention last night by Eve Morrison, president of the Quilts Disabled Persons Club, in a letter pointing out that the club had made this movement a No. 1 project.

Miss Morrison appealed for the town's help. Council is setting up a committee to investigate the possibilities and bring in a report.

Summer Folk School Held

"The Future Belongs to Us" was discussed in its many aspects at Hastings County's fifth Folk School, held at Snow Lake, near Coe Hill. Director of Folk Schools in Ontario, Miss Eleanor Sweeney of Waterloo, had charge of the school with assistant Andy Thompson from Canadian Citizenship and Immigration.

"Farming Tomorrow," "The Canadian Personality of Tomorrow," "Cultural Activities in Your Community," "Looking at Co-operatives Economically" were some of the topics discussed by approximately twenty-four people who composed the school. "Conservation" was very ably dealt with by Doug Ketcheson of Foxboro, who explained the value of farm ponds and preservation of wood lots and also gave information on the Moira Watershed, O'Hara Mill and the park to be situated on Black River near Actinolite.

Other members of the school who led discussions were Joyce Gay of Ivanhoe; E. K. Whiteman of Shannville and Bernard Hollinger of Foxboro. Another highlight was "Minerals in Hastings County" in which Mr. Frank Baalim of Madoc, displayed a part of his fine collection of rocks. With the use of fluorescent lights Mr. Baalim made things of beauty of rather uninteresting-looking rocks, amazing everyone with the rich and varied colors in rocks and in cuts of Sumac. The school appreciates the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peters in opening their home so that electricity was available for this unusual display.

Mrs. B. Hollinger of Foxboro, gave demonstrations in practical first aid with special emphasis on the Hudson-Neilson method of artificial respiration. Snow

Weddings

JONES—SHARPE

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized on Tuesday, July 19, at 2:00 p.m., in the Welsh Presbyterian Church, Waterloo, Liverpool, England, by the Rev. T. Madoc Jones, O.B.E., assisted by the Rev. Maurice Williams, when Ois Joyce Sharpe, formerly a teacher at Albert College, Belleville, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Walker Andrews, of St. John, New Brunswick, became the bride of Dr. John Llewellyn Jones, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Jones of Blundellsands, Liverpool. Pink and white carnations, interspersed with ferns, formed a lovely setting for the ceremony.

Miss Roberts presided at the console of the organ and accompanied the congregation in the singing of "The Lord is My Shepherd," and "O Perfect Love." Given in marriage by the uncle of the bridegroom, Mr. H. Jefferson Chambers, the bride was charmingly attired in a waltz-length period gown of pink lace over tulle and tulle. From the trimly fitted strapless bodice, fell a voluminous skirt of lace, shirred at intervals over an underskirt of tiered tulle. A brief jacket with sheath sleeves and scoop neckline added a pleasing Lake's sandy beach was the scene of much activity as each person took a turn at performing or receiving artificial respiration.

Special interest groups in photography and nature trails found many interested participants. Family worship around the breakfast table got each day off to a good start and a bed-time thought and the Folk School theme song "Beauty Around Us" closed each day.

Sunday morning the whole school attended St. Andrew's United church in Coe Hill, with the Rev. L. J. Hardy as minister, and an impressive vespers service on the lake shore brought to a close a successful Folk School.

Special thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hollinger and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hubbe for the use of their cottages, and to Mrs. Hollinger and daughters, Marilyn, Marie and Joyce for preparing meals for the Folk School "family."

accent. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was caught to a tiara of lace and seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Nola Worrall was maid of honor, gowning in champagne lace and net with matching accessories, with red velvet sash and matching picture hat. The short sleeved jacket featured a scooped neckline. She carried a sheaf of red roses.

Miss Carolyn Sharpe, daughter of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a miniature replica of the bride's period gown in lace and tulle in petal pink with hole type hat and matching accessories. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Mr. D. Geoffrey Roberts attended the bridegroom, while Dr. Raymond Coppe and Mr. David Morgan were ushers.

The reception was held at Blundellsands Hotel, where the bridegroom's mother, wearing navy taffeta, with molded bodice and three-quarter sleeves, and bouffant skirt, with navy accessories, and corsage of red roses, received.

For travelling through the British Isles, the bride chose a printed blue frock with blue duster coat with lining matching the dress, navy blue accessories, and white orchid corsage. They saw the Lawrence Oliviers (Vivian Leigh) in Twelfth Night at Stratford-on-Avon. Dr. and Mrs. Jones will reside at "Linkstone", Warren Road N., Blundellsands, Liverpool, England.

Twenty-five cables were received from Canada, and Major and Mrs. R. F. Fendisk, of Ottawa, were special guests at the ceremony.

WOODHOUSE—EBORALL

MARMORA.—A pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday, August 12, at the United church, in Campbellford, when Mrs. Emma Eborall, of Toronto, was united in marriage to George Wellington Woodhouse of Marmora, by the Rev. Dr. Mansel Smith.

The couple were attended by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowe, of Dossie Avenue, Campbellford. The bride was attired in a white gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Trent House, Campbellford, for the immediate families. They will reside in Marmora, Ontario.

Many Attractive Articles Shown In Women's Divisions

Again, as in former years, the women's section with its bountiful assortment of fancy work, household linens, clothing, quilts and rugs was a mecca for those who delight in 'sewing a fine seam', and in making things to beautify the home. The following women were in charge of this display: Mrs. Ben Blecker, Mrs. Bert Docter, Mrs. Sam Nicholson, Mrs. M. B. Weese and Mrs. Allan Weese, whose kindly interest in the visiting public will long be remembered.

In section 1-3 of Class O there were some fine housecoats; fancy aprons, among which was noted one in pink and blue crocheted; knit sweaters in rose with bead trim; blue, two-tone and coral.

LOVELY HOUSEHOLD LINENS

Household linens comprised beautifully worked luncheon cloths in cutwork and embroidery and some with fine crocheted; fancy lace-edged handkerchiefs; dainty tea aprons in white or gaudy with embroidered floral motifs on the triangular pockets; crocheted gloves; crocheted lace-topped gsmisoles, as well as pot holders in purple grape design with green leaves; pillow slips, lace-edged and embroidered; Queen Anne crocheted lace table cloth, and gossamer, frilly doilies; baby dresses, and cluster-stitch jackets; knit sets in blue comprising cap, jacket, and little socks; pyjama sets and tatted-crocheted luncheon cloths done in varying shades of pink.

The bed spreads were eye-catching, one lovely spread was in rose satin nicely quilted in diamond design with black, floral motif lending a pleasing note. Some were crocheted and in many designs, and others again were knitted in block form with raised leaves.

COLORFUL RUGS

Rugs were colorful and, in round, oblong and square shape; some done in square blocks, floral centred in yellow, rose and pink. One outstanding rug was done with a grey background, centred with one large mauve pansy, and finished with deep mauve fringe. There were braided rugs and hooked rugs colorful and attractive bringing to mind the old-fashioned open fire-places and the sleeping pussy. One round rug was done to simulate a target with its black bull's-eye centre, surrounded by deep red, purple, green, beige, blue, mauve, brown and black. One oval-shaped rug was centred by a colorful floral design.

WORKS OF ART

The cushions were works of art and fashioned from satin either tufted or braided in shades of wine, blue and one in fillet crocheted depicting a tall stork or crane viewed by a little child. One cushion represented a huge slice of watermelon, complete with black seeds, and looking almost good enough to eat. Another type done in by-gone days was that of the huckaback towel and its zig-zag colors of yellow, orange and brown; still another was done in round rows of rainbow hue in crocheted.

Quilts! Not just what one would welcome on this hot, humid and sticky day, but which would be most welcome in about two months. These began with a lovely light-as-a-feather wine satin comforter; followed by the colorful 'star' quilt; the primrose design; two interesting quilts were for a child's crib, one depicting a circus ring with trainer and animals, enhanced by colorful balloons; the other was done in the shape of a large circle with animals and a tent in the background. This was quilted on a yellow background, and the former on a white ground with pink border with narrow band of blue.

KNIT SOCKS

Other articles in this division included men's knit socks in diamond pattern; sweaters, one of which was done in white with blue designs; sleeveless sweaters; some nice needle point in runners and cushion top; cutwork runners; cross-stitch embroidery; fancy mitts, tatted runner and dolly.

Afghans were also shown: one in three-color panels of blue, grey and rose; others in red and white, with star motif; one in green squares with raised leaves, while another had squares of maroon and green with inter-lacings; a woven afghan was in squares of blue and grey with floral and plain alternating, finished with wine colored fringe. A crocheted afghan was fashioned in coral and maroon squares and fringed. In all a most interesting and delightful display of what skillful and willing fingers are able to accomplish.

Trent River. Members and friends enjoyed the lovely summer surroundings. After a short business meeting when the president Mrs. Clifford Reid, presided, the ladies enjoyed a social time. The tables were placed out on the lawn and members partook of a bountiful supper.

Thanks were tendered to the Sanderocks and another delightful picnic came to a close.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

BETTER SUFFER A LITTLE NOW, THAN RUIN YOUR FUTURE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I am all mixed up and confused, and I do hope you will be able to help me.

I am 22 years old, and engaged to a young man of 25. He told me, shortly after we became engaged, that he is the father of a son born to a girl he went with several years ago. The child is now just a kid when this happened, and the girl had had affairs with other men and urged him into one. His family are always knocking the girl and they say she is awful.

I recently learned from friends of his, however, that the girl is a decent person, and that his family have unjustly condemned her and don't even know her. I learned also that she was only 23, at the time, and my fiancé and his parents always told me she was 30. Another thing I learned was that the girl had had him in court for support for the baby, so, feeling that there was a great deal I didn't know, I took it upon myself to get the true facts by checking with his Probation Officer. Through him, I learned that while my fiancé had told me he only saw the girl two or three times in his life, he had actually gone steady with her for six months; that he had denied being the father of the baby and had tried to get other men to come to court and admit they had had relations with the girl. When she demanded a blood test, he then admitted the baby was his.

When I asked him about all this, he said that it had been his parents' idea for him to say what he did and to lie about the girl. He has told me that after we are married he will stop contributing to his son's support. My mother thinks that is the reason he wants to get married—so he won't have to take any responsibility for the boy.

Now I don't know what to do. I have already told everyone about our coming wedding and I have even bought my wedding gown. But I somehow have lost respect for my fiancé after knowing that he did this girl wrong.

Would I be making a mistake to marry him? — A.

Dear A.:

Well, what do you think yourself?

Could you ever be really happy married to a man for whom you had no respect? Could you ever really trust him as you would want to trust a husband? Could you ever feel entirely confident that he would always be loyal and honest with you about everything when you know he not only wronged a girl but was so cowardly that when confronted with the consequences he denied everything and tried to blacken the girl's character?

Personally, I don't think you could. Nor do I see how you could go into his arms in the full and beautiful surrender of love when your mind, full of doubts and reservations, was holding back.

Somehow I feel that what you are worrying about the most is, not breaking your engagement per se, but having to do it in public, so to speak. You are, I suspect, asking yourself: "What will people think?" or "What will people say?" if, after having planned your wedding and even bought your gown, you suddenly call the whole thing off. In other words, you're afraid of gossip.

But wouldn't it be better to suffer a little embarrassment now, and have it all over with, than to go ahead with your plans, and then, perhaps, after you and this man marry, find yourself suffering embarrassment over and over again because of him, and being bitterly unhappy because you have taken

Wanted--Tough Meat Cooking Skill

By Mary Moore

Thinking I was being ever so conscientious by "covering" the supermarket twice in one day I was surprised to hear our neighbor boy, who works there, say "Weren't you here once before to say Mrs. Moore?"

I was so lost in listening to customers' comments at the meat counter that I was nonplussed for a moment then lamely answered "Yes I was, Shamus!"

What had taken me back to the store was the meat problem of husband and wives huddled, puzzled at the meat counter, wondering what there was that they could buy that wasn't hovering around 80¢ per pound.

Many working men cannot afford meat at that price with six or more mouths to feed, and their wives don't know how to cook the cheaper cuts such as beef and pork shoulders and rolled brisket. The smoked picnic was much lower in price too, but then there's the surplus fat to consider.

It dawned on me that the reason they skipped over the flank steaks and less familiar "one-meal" cuts of meat was because they just didn't know what to do with them.

That is why I have selected stuffed flank steak to feature today for it gives you a dish that looks like a roast on the platter, tastes extra good and will serve six. If yours is a small family you will have some leftover and it slices nicely when cold.

Let me persuade you to learn to cook these less expensive cuts. You will then be conserving your housekeeping money, broadening your cooking repertoire and giving your menus a new fillip. Anybody can push an expensive roast of beef or a roasting chicken in the oven and produce a delicious meat course, but it requires skill and imagination to transform the cheaper cuts into a delicious meat course. I hope you timid cooks will try.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK

Two pounds flank steak (roughly corresponds to the muscle tissue on the abdomen of a human).

1 clove of garlic, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons each flour and shortening, 2 cups tomato juice, (another) 2 tablespoons flour. Spread the steak out on board and score the surfaces shallowly with tip of sharp knife and pound the meat with meat-pounder or edge of saucer to break fibres. Rub raw surfaces with the cut clove of garlic. Season with the salt and pepper. Spread Stuffing over steak: Stuffing—3 cups 2-day-old bread cubes, 1 tablespoon parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1-4 cup each finely chopped celery and onion. Gently saute the celery and onions in the shortening before adding to all other ingredients. When this is spread on steak roll it up with the fibre of the meat. Fasten ends and centre with skewers or tie. Roll in the flour and brown the roll on all sides in hot shortening in heavy frying pan or Dutch oven. Add 1-2 cup of the tomato juice, cover bring to just below boiling point and simmer 2 hours or until meat is tender, turning meat once or twice. When tender, lift meat to hot platter and remove fastenings. Mix flour with remaining tomato juice, stir into liquid in pan until thick. Pour over meat roll. When serving this slice it across the fibres of the meat.

While this is better hot it is a good item to make and bake and have on hand cold if you are expecting week-end guests.

For the sake of safeguarding your future, my feeling would be that a brief period of discomfort now would be worth the cost.

on a husband you don't respect and don't trust?

Certainly it will be a hard experience to go through. But other girls have had to go through similar experiences, have lived through them and eventually found the right man.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

TO GIVE PRE-REHEARSAL BUFFET DINNER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We're the groom's parents, and we'd like to follow your suggestion in a recent column that it is a good idea for the groom's parents to give the dinner before the rehearsal.

In the case of this wedding we think this plan would be particularly useful and appropriate, because the bride's mother, who is quite frail, has been making such wonderful plans for parties for those connected with the wedding, and we are hoping that with our taking over the rehearsal dinner (we've talked over our plan with her), she will be able to "go to bed early" and rest the night before the wedding.

The bride's parents think, and we do too, that it would be best for us to include only the bride and groom, the members of the wedding party (maid of honor, matron of honor, six bridesmaids, best man and six ushers), bride's parents, and us. Now I would very much like to give this rehearsal party in our house, which is quite large and has a good-sized dining room. But we could not have a seated dinner for this number. My husband and I are quite expert at giving buffet parties, and we very much enjoy this way of entertaining. Our question is: would it be proper and appropriate to give this dinner buffet service? — S.L.U.

Yes indeed... buffet service is entirely correct for this rehearsal dinner. And it's so much more charming to give this happy and significant party in your own home. You'll have so many young gallants as "assistants" in the buffet service! Also, since it's so important to get the group to the church on time to keep the appointment with the minister, it will doubtless be easier to speed up buffet service, if speeding up is necessary.

HER TWIN AS ONLY ATTENDANT... WITH EIGHT USHERS!

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We are to have a very large, formal wedding, in the afternoon, in our church. My twin is my only sister, and I would like to have her as my only attendant, my maid of honor. No bridesmaids. The groom is to have his brother as best man, and as our wedding to be so large (and also he says, as he has been either best man or usher in the weddings of several of these close friends of his) he is having eight ushers. Do you think (as my mother does) that this is an "impossible" plan, this plan of mine to have only one attendant and for father's right arm. The Rehearsal: you and your bridegroom us to have eight ushers? — Margaret

I don't at all think this is an "impossible" plan. As a matter of fact, I think it might very well be eight ushers, two by two.

Princess Margaret Will Be 25 Years Old on Sunday

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Princess Margaret will be 25 years old Sunday. With her 25th birthday comes her first glimpse of real freedom to marry a person of her own choice. But only a glimpse.

If she follows tradition, Princess Margaret will spend her birthday quietly with her sister, the Queen, and her family at Balmoral Castle, Scottish holiday home of the Royal Family.

If the weather is fine, there may be a family picnic in the afternoon on the heather-flecked moors and a private party for close friends in the evening.

But Sunday, no matter how peaceful, could be a momentous turning point for the bright-eyed princess—if she so chooses. A new pathway to wedding bells will open for the first time.

TOWNSEND LEADS

British newspapers have competed with one another in picking prospective husbands-to-be for the gay princess, and since 1953 Group Capt. Peter Townsend has been a leading contender. Townsend, handsome hero of the Battle of Britain, is divorced. He now is air attaché in Brussels.

Up to now, Margaret needed her sister's consent if she was to marry. After Sunday, she still must seek the Queen's approval, but if it is refused, she can give notice of her intentions to the Privy Council.

The House of Commons and the House of Lords would have 12 months in which to register opposition to Margaret's proposed wedding. If both Houses of Parliament opposed the wedding, the princess would have to admit defeat, for her marriage would be null and void.

But if neither House of Parliament—or only one—votes against her marrying whoever she chooses, Margaret could go ahead with complete freedom. These are the terms laid down in the Royal Marriage Act of 1772.

Women's Institute

ELDORADO AND BANNOCKBURN W.I.

The Eldorado and Bannockburn Women's Institute held its August meeting at the summer home of Mrs. Charles Pigden, Moira Lake, with 22 members present and 11 guests.

Mrs. James Bailey was co-ordinator for this meeting, it being the "grandmothers' meeting". Prizes were given to different grandmothers. Oldest grandmother, Mrs. Wanamaker was presented with a corsage; youngest grandmother, Mrs. Blatherwick, least gray hair, Mrs. Palmer; most grandchildren, Mrs. Bronson; truest grandmother, Mrs. H. Empey.

Mrs. Bailey gave a reading on "Grandmother's Word". Mrs. Hugh Barker gave a selection on the accordion. Mrs. Russell Empey, a paper on the first St. Laurent. Mrs. Bailey read a paper on "Public Relations" and Mrs. Headley Shaw gave a reading "My Prayer".

Mrs. Bosley introduced Miss Marilyn Parks, who had won a trip to European countries on her high standing in Junior Farmers' work.

Miss Parks showed pictures of her trip which were most interesting.

Mrs. Bosley thanked Marilyn for coming to the meeting. Mrs. Pigden and assistants served refreshments. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Pigden by Mrs. Bailey for the use of her cottage.

Big Hearted Benefactor

Rollicking Family Enjoys
Holiday in Unexpected Way

COLCHESTER, Ont. (CP) — A large, rollicking family from Boston is enjoying its first real holiday at this tourist centre on Lake Erie, 35 miles south of Windsor, thanks to unusual circumstances.

It all started 14 years ago in Newfoundland, when the Richard O'Reillys got married.

Mrs. O'Reilly brought to her new home two convictions—first, that a big family would be the happiest one; secondly, that she could raise a big family in spite of being born with only one arm.

As the years passed the O'Reillys got their large family—nine children. But they could never afford a holiday for the whole family, and after they moved to a Boston suburb eight years ago, they watched other families going away during the hot summer months while they stayed in the city.

SUMMER, SANTA CLAUS

Then a Detroit manufacturer, John Green, read a newspaper story several weeks ago telling of the courage of Mrs. O'Reilly in raising her happy brood despite her handicap. He invited them to spend two weeks at his summer resort near here. He offered to pay the entire expenses, including food and transportation.

"We were so excited we started

The family travelled in their coupe, with four sitting in the front seat, and the rest piled into the back.

The morning after their arrival, the children—Gerard, Clara, Constance, Margaret, Tony, Mary, Anne Marie, Theresa and Richard Jr.—were given bathing suits and rushed down to the private beach. "They've been practically living in the water since we got here," Mrs. O'Reilly said. "They're turning positively black. I don't think any of the neighbors back home will recognize them."

HAPPY HOST

Host Mr. Green is also happy about the way the children are enjoying the water. "You know," he said, "a beach isn't much use unless there are kids to use it and make some noise."

Neighboring families are also helping the O'Reillys to enjoy their holiday. Detroit's Harold Chisholm made his cabin cruiser available so the family can tour the lake. Jack Smith, a Windsor merchant brought a small horse and cart to the summer home so the children would be able to ride around in style.

Mr. Green smiled as he watched the children splash each other. "You know, I was a little worried about this whole deal. I had no idea what the family would be like. But now that I've met them, all my worries are gone. They're as fine a bunch as one could meet."

GALES HIT ZAGREB

BELGRADE (AP)—Tremendous gales followed by hailstorms hit Zagreb, second largest city in Yugoslavia, and parts of Croatia Sunday, causing damage to crops. Reports from the city did not say if there was any loss of life.

Official Denies Company Frowns
On Marriages

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—A top official of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., today denied the crown company discourages marriages between workers at Canada's Chalk River atomic-energy plant.

J. L. Gray, vice-president of administration and operations, was commenting on a report from Geneva Park, Ont., today quoting Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, president of the National Research Council, as saying the crown company attempts to prevent such marriages.

"There is absolutely no such attempt made," Mr. Gray said. "At the present time there are about 50 married couples working on the project."

Dr. Steacie was reported to have told the annual Couchiching conference sponsored by the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and the CBC that marriages between workers are discouraged as a safeguard against the remote possibility that atomic radiation will affect the genes which transmit hereditary characteristics to children.

He was reported to have said that radiation damage to genes is a remote possibility and that every precaution is taken against it, including avoiding having married couples work at the plant.

Former Detective Says Brother Died Rather Than Tell Story Of Corruption in High Places

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former detective, testifying before a coroner's jury, said Tuesday his brother died rather than tell a story of corruption in high places.

Jack Whelan refused to heed objections of counsel as he gave what he said he believed were the reasons behind the death of police superintendent Harry Whelan.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide "while under extreme mental strain."

"Mr. Coroner," Jack Whelan said, "I believe the main reason he killed himself was because he was going to have to name deputy chief Gordon Ambrose and Joe Celona as having a direct pipeline in the narcotics traffic into the police department."

DIED FROM BULLET

The police department has been under investigation by a royal commission since July 12. Supt. Whelan died from a bullet in the heart three hours before he was to have testified under cross-examination.

A few hours after his brother's death, Jack Whelan told reporters he would tell everything Harry knew of corruption within the force.

Other "reasons" behind the suicide, Jack said, were:

"That the chief constable was responsible for turning the city over to thugs and murderers and that the Vancouver police commission was aware of the intimacy between Gordon Ambrose and Joe Celona and that the police commission, and particularly Judge Sargent, was aware of the morals of Ambrose."

Whelan said Ambrose was "in my brother's own words, a 'moral leper.'"

NAMED BY WITNESS

The names of both Ambrose and Celona have come before the Tupper commission. Ambrose was named by a witness as an officer on whose behalf gambling payoffs were asked and Celona was named as a bootlegger.

Whelan refused to heed J. G. A. Hutcheson, counsel for commissioner R. H. Tupper, who asked that evidence before the inquest be confined to relevant matters in order that information would not be brought out which might "embarrass" the commission hearing at this time.

The six-man coroner's jury also heard black-clad Victoria May Whelan testify that her husband was near a nervous collapse.

The commission was called following a series of articles in the Toronto weekly tabloid Flash, alleging graft within the department; a Senate narcotics committee report criticizing the force for laziness and the attempted suicide of Det.-Sgt. Len Culbert.

SHOWED HIM LETTER

Jack Whelan said his brother had showed him a constable's letter on the narcotics racket.

Earlier, barrister Neil Fleishman told the coroner's jury that he warned Supt. Whelan two days before his suicide that police chief Walter Mulligan planned to smear him at the commission.

He said he had learned the chief planned to prove both Whelans were insane and had already prepared the papers.

He said Supt. Whelan was afraid the commission hearing would result in the suicides of his daughter and father being dragged before the public. His daughter committed suicide in California in 1953 and his father killed himself several years before.

TO BUILD SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK (AP)—Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation announced Tuesday it will build a new 41-story, $40,000,000 home office on Park avenue close to Grand Central terminal.

Hosiery Strike Lasting Forty Days Settled

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Textile workers at the Holeproof Hosiery Company plant went back to work today following settlement Tuesday of a 40-day strike that a week ago had appeared unbreakable.

A mass meeting of 170 strikers, members of Local 826, Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) voted Tuesday to accept a company proposal produced Saturday during the second attempt at negotiating a settlement.

The proposal pledges the company to maintain present wage levels for duration of the agreement which will date from Aug. 17. A clause will permit a reopening of wage discussions Dec. 31, however.

The men, who have been off work since July 6 when the company announced it would implement wage cuts recommended in a conciliation report, will go back to work along with about 80 supervisory personnel and office employees also idled by the strike.

Under the agreement talks will reopen on inequalities in wage rates within 30 days from the signing.

George Watson, district director of the union, in a statement released following the meeting, said wage reductions agreed upon for workers whose salaries are considered high will be used to raise lower rates.

If no agreement is reached in wage negotiations by Dec. 31, the company and union will apply for leave to terminate the agreement.

The wage schedule was not available until union officials, who fought any reduction in wages throughout the strike, said the proposed cuts would have ranged from 25 to 60 cents. The company had proposed to cut wages of 97 of the 170 workers.

Efforts to Build Scenic Lookouts Present Problem

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Disappearing rapids and a river that won't stay where it has been for centuries are only two problems plaguing Ontario Hydro Commission's effort to build scenic tourist lookouts along the St. Lawrence seaway route.

Hydro has planned two lookouts—one overlooking the seething Long Sault rapids, the other a platform above the Cornwall transformer station just off the present highway No. 2.

But next spring the rapids won't be there. The river will be rerouted for construction purposes, flooding them out.

NEED SIDE TRIP

And the view of the transformer station?

This fall, seven miles of highways will be relocated, carrying tourists back from the construction area. A side trip will be necessary to reach the lookout.

And that isn't all. The area to be flooded on Canada's side of the river—close to 30,000 acres—means that a 40-mile piece of scenic highway which now follows the river, must be moved three miles away from the water line. Reconstruction will take some time.

HAVE BIG MAPS

One of the most interesting sights will be the moving of the community of Iroquois to the sight of New Iroquois. But the tourist must be careful to pick dry weather to see the operations or he may lose his car in the mud.

But Hydro hasn't given up. It sponsors guided tours of construction projects for interested groups. Eventually its lookouts will be completed and easy access provided. Billboard-sized maps are being raised at both lookouts so the visitor will know what is going on.

By next summer the tourist department should know where the river will be. Then the self-guided tour will enter into its own.

TO UNVEIL MEMORIAL
LONDON (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh will unveil a memorial Nov. 1 commemorating the 18,000 Allied officers and airmen killed or missing while operating from Royal Air Force stations in northeast England during the Second World War.

The Toronto Telegram said this wreckage beside the wreck, discovered the 40-foot white oak keel, studded with hand-hammered spikes in 1900. Vail said historians have found "many clues confirming its authenticity but not a single detail which could dispute the claim." (CP Photo).

Atomic Plant Accident Proved Control Possible

GENEVA (CP)—A Canadian scientist said today exposure to atomic radiation can be controlled within acceptable limits even under emergency conditions.

Dr. A. J. Cipriani, director of the biology and radiation hazards control division at Canada's Chalk River, Ont., atomic energy plant, said this was proved during the dismantling and repair of the NRX on any after effects which may have been suffered by the individual.

in December, 1952.

However, Dr. Cipriani told the international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy that exposure of workers to increased radiation levels now is recognized as a major problem in atomic energy plants.

ONLY ONE

He said only one person received more than the recommended limit of radiation exposure during the 14-month repair job on NRX, code name for the reactor. The identity of the worker has never been disclosed and no statements have been issued by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., crown company which operates the Chalk River project, on any after effects which may have been suffered by the individual.

ual.

NRX broke down Dec. 12, 1952, and was back in operation in February, 1954. The $11,000,000 pile was damaged when several uranium fuel rods sprang leaks, spreading radioactive materials throughout the reactor and the building in which it is located.

Dr. Cipriani said the one worker contaminated during the repair job is the only person to receive more than an allowable exposure of atomic radiation during the 10 years the Chalk River plant has been in operation. There had been no other significant radiation accidents.

Discovery Starts Speculation Wreckage May Be from Griffon First Ship to Sail Upper Lakes

TOBERMORY, Ont. (CP)—Examination of a 40-foot keel and some ship's ribs found in a lonely cove on a Georgian bay island has started speculation the wreckage may be that of the Griffon, first ship to sail the upper Great Lakes.

Built at Niagara by the French explorer Sieur de la Salle in the summer of 1679, the Griffon won her first voyage picked up a cargo of furs at Green Bay, Wis., sailed out into the lake and vanished.

The Georgian bay wreckage was found in 1900 by Orrie Vail, Tobermory commercial fisherman. He kept his find secret more than half a century.

Historians and archaeologists say they have found some evidence the wreckage is old and that the workmanship is similar to that of the French era.

DOUBTS LINK

However, Roy F. Fleming of Ottawa, considered an expert on the Griffon mystery, said he doubts any marine ruins ever found could be linked more closely to La Salle's ship than the wreckage he discovered in 1930 at the western end of Manitoulin island.

Samples of the iron work from the Manitoulin wreck were sent to the French national laboratory. French authorities expressed the view they were from the Griffon. Bits of the woodwork were identified by other experts as white oak from the Niagara region.

Six skeletons were found in a cave near the spot on Manitoulin. The Griffon carried six men. "Actually there have been 12 'griffons' found already, from as far south as the Detroit river up to Lake Michigan," Mr. Fleming said.

OLD VESSELS

The rocky coasts of the Bruce peninsula are littered with the skeletal remains of old vessels.

Many of the coasts bear names taken from ships that foundered nearby.

John MacLean, Toronto Telegram reporter, wrote Tuesday that he first heard of the Vail find two years ago when he met Vail while doing a shipping story. Vail showed him two pieces of wood from a ship he said was extremely old.

Last month Vail told him more about the wreck and then a chance remark by another newspaper man about the Griffon sent MacLean on a check of newspaper clippings and reference works concerning the mystery ship of the lakes.

Early this month MacLean and Vail examined the wreckage in shallow water in the sheltered cove on an island between Tobermory, at the tip of the Bruce peninsula, and Manitoulin island. The exact location of the island is being kept secret.

Crusading Newspaperman

R. Munro, Jack-of-All Trades,
Thorn in Side of Many People

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP)—A national magazine called him "the screwball with the flashlight," a prominent criminal lawyer called him a psychopath.

And a well-known newspaper executive said:
"I named one of my ulcers after him."
Ray Munro, 34-year-old crusading newspaper man, is many things to many people.

To the Squamish Indians, for instance, he's Chief Siskiyulch—rock-that-stands-forever.

To Lord Beaverbrook he's the photographer who kidnapped him from a press conference and took him on an ambulance-chasing tour of Canada's third largest city.

He's the only man ever to win National Newspaper Awards for both reporting and photography.

And right now he's being sued for libel by Police Chief Walter Mulligan.

WAS SPITFIRE PILOT
The tall, Montreal-born jack-of-all-trades flew spitfires during the war and still holds his flying licence; he has found people lost in the Coast Range mountains and flown blood to storm-bound outposts.

And for a while he toured as "The Great Raymond—master hypnotist." He even played Toronto's Massey Hall.

To relax, he and photographer Art Jones headlined at the city's largest night club as "Munro and Jones, two mad Russians."

To round out his theatrical escapades, he played Hildy Johnson, high-binding, murder - hiding reporter in the Hecht-MacArthur play "The Front Page."

The play was produced by the Vancouver branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club and cowriters insisted "he never stepped out of character."

SKILLED PHOTOGRAPHER
Even the police chief who is suing him for statements contained in Flash, a Toronto weekly tabloid, has a Munro photograph hanging in his office. The shot, showing a police horse nuzzling a baby lamb and goat, was picture of the week in Life magazine.

The same honor was accorded another Munro picture, the shot of a police horse under attack near the stump-nest of a goose in Stanley Park. It shows a gander flailing the horse's rump and is captioned "the gallant gander."

His writing award came as an award of merit for the work he and reporter Don McClean did in 1949 in capturing a "lover's lane" rapist in Stanley Park.

He and McClean, the reporter wearing a red wig, posed as spooks for several nights until, around midnight, their car door was snatched open and a voice snarled: "This is the vice squad." Munro hit him high and McClean took him low and when the tussle stopped Munro took pictures of the carnage. The man got 15 years.

SURVIVED CRASHES
Munro has worked for the Star and Globe and Mail in Toronto and the Sun, Province and Herald in Vancouver.

He has survived four air crashes and a near miss. Three of the crashes occurred while he was in the air force. He enlisted in 1940 and mustered out with bad burns in 1942, washed up at the age of 20, and married his teen-aged sweetheart, Grace. They had two children, Robin, now 10 and Jo-Anne, 12.

"Grace died of heart trouble at the age of 22," Munro says.

He went into the newspaper business, which prompted Himie Koshovoy, Sun editor, to say years later:

"I named one of my ulcers after him."

His ulcerating activities included the release of a greased pig at a Women's Press Club ball — "the darn thing was tired, it just lay there"—and the borrowing of a corpse during a murder investigation. "Nothing to it—it turned out to be a suicide."

STUDIED HYPNOTISM
He says he first came across hypnotism during his air force stint when he "lectured in hypnotherapy."

"I've got a book written which I call 'Raymond on Hypnotism,'" he says, "but no publisher yet."

"I'm working on another one which I haven't named yet. It's going to be about screwballs in the newspaper business — sheer humor."

It is his gay abandon in the use of the personal pronoun which has led to him being something less than popular among some of his more prosaic colleagues.

DRAMATIC EPISODE
It was Munro's articles in Flash which helped spark the Tupper royal commission, investigating all phases of police work in Vancouver.

Det-Sgt. Len Cuthbert, who attempted suicide with his own gun, gave testimony as to his encounter with the reporter. Cuthbert has testified that he took gambling pay-offs and split them with the chief.

The sergeant said Munro came to his home, pulled some affidavits from a brief case, said he was working for the attorney-general and that the papers implicated the officer in graft.

"Then he pulled a black automatic. He said I had three choices—I could blow my bloody brains out, go to jail, or see the right man—his lawyer."

The attorney-general later said Munro was never working for him and the reporter's attorney told the commission:

"He just did it to get the story—and he did it."

Of the Flash articles, Munro says:

"I left the Province to write the story. Jack Whelan and I are the only men who can put these people in jail. We're doing it for the 300,000 people in the town."

Whelan is a former detective and wrestling promoter, a key figure in the hearings.

Munro quit Flash Aug. 7 over an editorial for which both Munro and the paper were cited for contempt of the commission. He went back later under a new contract.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By FRANK FEAVER
(Secretary, Ontario Amateur Softball Association)

On Good Friday, 1943, at Belleville, a new era was ushered in for Ontario Softball. The only OASA annual to be held at Belleville, the 1943 meeting proved to be a most important one for this provincial organization which claims to be one of the greatest sports organizations in the world.

With the election of George Spooner, Galt as president, and Belleville's own Harry Rollins as first vice-president, a new aggressive approach to organizing was taken with emphasis on the minor-age players of the province. Continuance of the program under the guidance of the following presidents: Otto King, Simcoe; Ernie Simpson, Kingston; George "Soup" Campbell, Ottawa; Toronto's Doug Smith; Bill Jacko, Kirkland Lake, and the current proxy, balding Johnny Brady of Oshawa, not only overcame the doldrums induced by the World War conditions of the early '40's but carried the Ontario Amateur Softball Association to great heights of membership and competition.

The "Belleville era" has maintained a continuous climb from the 35 affiliated leagues in 1942 to the present total of 245 member leagues and district associations. During the same period the competition afforded in Ontario softball has been "something out of this world"—resulting not only in the keenest of championship play but also in the first world competition ever won by a Canadian team—the Toronto Tip Tops—1948 world softball champions.

Continual progress is assured by the attention to the minor-age groups which have increased from three classes in 1942 to the present ten series which occupy more than 45 per cent of the entire OASA membership rolls. The unselfish efforts of such groups as the Belleville Recreation Commission and the Belleville Fire Department in close co-operation with the Belleville Softball Association maintain this attention and in sloganized words "help the kids to help themselves."

Citizens of Belleville may well be proud of the tremendous jobs turned in by Chief Gerald Vance, director "Red" Doran, Recreation's Bill Van Tassel, Softball's Don Lee and Cy Barriaghe, and all the others who have worked so hard to keep Belleville's perfect record in the juvenile delinquency field.

Congratulations to Belleville — and — keep up the good work — PLAY THE GAME!

The late "Harry" Knott kept softball alive until his passing. Many fans will remember Harry when he donned the manager's cap to lead the Belleville Percivals to the provincial Intermediate "A" championship in 1936. He acted in all capacities on the local executive and his interests took him to all the OASA annual conventions where he became popular with the parent body. His knowledge and fine sportsmanship raised the eyebrows of the Ontario big wigs and was appointed and elected to OASA executive body in 1951.

Frank Feaver, secretary of the OASA, generously furnished us with the above column. Nowhere has Frank mentioned his name. However, knowing him, we know he's just that kind of a guy. Frank has a truly warm spot in his heart for Belleville, as it was here, back in 1943 that he was elected to his present position.

A KEEN BATTLE

Tonight's softball clash between the Frankford Merchants and Point Anne looms up as one of the big games of the season. Phil Lot's crew has their backs to the wall in their best-of-three series after dropping that 7-6 decision Monday night in Frankford and they must win this one to stay in the running for the city championship.

The Cementmen are still smarting from the double defeats handed them by the Orpuns and would like nothing better than to meet their arch rivals for "all the marbles", but disposing of Frankford is going to be a definite problem first. It will likely be Maracle against Radnor, with activities getting under way at 6:15 p.m. on the Pointer's diamond this evening. Should Point Anne win this eve the third and deciding game will also be in Point Anne Friday night.

THE WHIP RETURNS

Many of the faithful wrestling fans have been calling for their all-time favorite, Whipper Billy Watson, to appear here again, so now they get their wish. Whipper will make his second debut here this season on Friday night when he meets one of the newest editions of Frank Tunney's long line of evil villains, one Doc Gallagher.

The "Doc" has downed the opposition here for five straight weeks, via the "sofen" (em up and break their necks) method, but he'll find the going considerably tougher when the Whip and his 1001 holds attempt to flog the stuffings out of him come Friday.

Another special bout will tend to heat up matters as the famous midgets meet in a tag team bout. Little Beaver and the Brown Panther mixing it with Fuzzie Cupid and Tom Thumb. Mickey Gold and Firpo Zbysko provide the action in the opener.

"Let's play the course backwards today. We're almost sure to run into something interesting!"

Yanks Tumble Higgins' Crew Well Off Pace; Tribe Loses To Tigers, White Sox Drop A's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is the bubble busted in Boston? The once-hot Red Sox, stepping on the heels of the leaders barely three weeks ago, now have tumbled to six defeats in their last 11 games, slipping 4½ games behind in the American League pennant race.

The Sox took a real pasting Tuesday night, crumbling before the New York Yankees 13-6 as the Bombers won their seventh straight to snatch a 1½-game lead in the mad pennant scramble. The Yanks added a full game to their margin as Detroit knocked off the Cleveland Indians 7-0 behind Billy Hoelt's two-hitter and Chicago replaced the Tribe in second place by finally subduing the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in 11 innings.

The White Sox, who have played five fewer games than the Yanks but have lost only one less than New York, now have a four-percentage point edge on Cleveland.

MANTLE HOMERS

Seven-run third inning, their most productive frame of the season, got the job done for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle clubbed a two-run homer, his 30th, and winning pitcher Don Larsen walked a three-run homer as New York scooped at Boston ace Frank Sullivan in the big inning.

Larsen won his fourth since returning from Denver, but wasn't around at the end. Tom Morgan mopped up for the righthander after Jackie Jensen's 20th home run in the eighth inning belted Larsen from the mound. Earlier, Larsen had given up homers to relief pitcher Dick Brodowski and Ted Williams.

Cleveland got Bobby Avila's single off Hoelt in the first inning, and one by Larry Doby in the second, then went limp as the left-hander retired 21 men in order before giving up his only walk to Al Smith with two gone in the ninth.

PINCH SINGLE

Kansas City scored just one run on a double and three singles to tie the Chicago in the eighth, then made it 4-3 on Gus Zernial's pinch single in the 11th. The White Sox came right back against Tom Gorman, Art Ceccarelli and Bill Harrington, leading the bases to second, but Jim Rivera's bunt, Jim Busby's sacrifice fly tied it and Bob Kennedy's single won it.

In the National, New York dumped Brooklyn 5-3. St. Louis edged Milwaukee 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Chicago 11-2, and Philadelphia trounced Pittsburgh 12-3.

Willie Mays got the Giants home safe with his 37th homer, a two-run blow, for a 5-0 lead in the fifth before Roy Campanella finally solved Ruben Gomez for a three-run shot, his 26th, in the sixth.

The Cardinals dumped the Braves to a one-game edge over third-place New York on Bill Sarni's run-scoring triple in the eighth. Stan Musial smacked his 26th home run with one on in the first as Harry Haddix won his 10th. As the Phils belted the Pirates, Del Ennis drove in five runs and Jim Greengrass had four hits, including two doubles.

Toronto Leafs Edge Montreal In 14 Innings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syracuse Chiefs, fighting for a first-division berth in the International League, have stymied Havana Sugar Kings' bid to overtake Montreal Royals and Toronto Maple Leafs.

While Royals were failing to make any headway Tuesday night in the battle for first place, Sugar Kings were losing 1-0 to Chiefs on a six-hit shutout by Lynn Lovenguth. Leafs edged Royals 5-4 in 14 innings.

In other games, the fourth-place Rochester Red Wings held their 1½-game lead over Syracuse by downing Buffalo Bisons 5-3 and Richmond Virginians defeated Columbus Jets 9-7.

DROVE IN RUN

Lovenguth drove in the only Syracuse run in the second inning with an infield out. He walked five and stranded 10 in gaining his 12th victory against seven defeats. Havana remained 2½ games back of Montreal.

Lou Limmer's 14th-inning single with the bases loaded enabled the Leafs to move within three percentage points of Royals. Jack Crimian, last of four Toronto pitchers, held Royals to one infield hit in the last five innings to gain his 16th victory in 22 decisions.

Loren Babe hit starting pitcher Pete Wojey's first pitch for a home run in the first but Rocky Nelson got that one back in the second with his 30th of the season. Royals took a 3-1 lead in the fourth but Toronto tied the score in the fifth.

TIED IT ONCE AGAIN

Royals took the lead in the 12th but Archie Wilson tied it once again with a home run in the Toronto half. Southpaw Ken Lehman, last of four Montreal pitchers, gave up the winning single in the 14th.

Stan Jok drove in four runs with a triple and a single as Red Wings took the season series from Buffalo 15-7. Jok broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth with a bases-loaded single, driving in two runs. Tony Jacob pitched 2 1/3 innings of scoreless relief hurling to pick up the victory.

Bill Voiselle picked up his seventh victory against four setbacks in five innings of four-hit relief pitching for Virginians. However, the Jets took the season series 12-10.

Brooklyn Dodgers Will Play Seven Scheduled Games In Jersey City Stadium Next Year

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers, growing restless in light of the fact that they will play seven of their regularly scheduled games in Jersey City Stadium next year, are planning to build a new stadium in Jersey City.

In action unprecedented in modern baseball, club president Walter O'Malley announced the Jersey City plan Thursday. He said the National League leaders also would play an exhibition game there against an American League club.

The seven other National League clubs have consented to the arrangement, O'Malley said. The Jersey City park will be the site of International League baseball games until five years ago. Since then it has been used for stock car racing. Major boxing bouts also have been held there.

The move was interpreted today by baseball people as a psychological move to stir up Flatbush fanism as well as the city fathers.

It is no secret that O'Malley is only disappointed over the comparatively poor attendance figures at Ebbets Field this season.

NEW STADIUM

O'Malley said "We plan to play almost all of our home games at Ebbets Field in 1956 and 1957 but we will have to have a new stadium shortly thereafter."

O'Malley said that Roosevelt Stadium will seat about 25,000 and have parking facilities for 4,000 cars. Ebbets Field will hold 32,000 but is antiquated. Its parking facilities are almost nil.

Dodger attendance, although the club is far out in front in the National League race, is slightly below that of a year ago.

In his statement O'Malley pointed out that he and borough president John Cashmore had been hunting a new home in Brooklyn for the Dodgers since 1948 and in the last four years it has reached the drawing board stage.

"The matter has progressed to the point where final engineering and legal study will be made," said O'Malley. "The result will determine the future of the Dodgers."

Etcheverry Wins For Squad By Accurate Passing

QUEBEC (CP) — Sam Etcheverry's accurate passing sparked his Montreal Alouettes "Red" team to a 25-3 victory over Joe Zaleski's "Whites" Tuesday night in an exhibition football game before some 6,000 fans.

Etcheverry hit Chuck Hunsinger and Canadian Tom Moran for two touchdowns apiece and booted one convert. Hunsinger converted the other Red Touchdown when he skirted the end on a handoff from the quarterback.

The only touchdown for the Whites was scored by John Anderson, a new import from the University of Kansas, on a two-yard plunge late in the fourth quarter.

It was the first taste of Big Four football for the Quebec fans who attended the charity contest. They followed the play unenthusiastically during the first quarter but perked up when the two quarterbacks took to the air in the second.

Field of 200 Pros, Amateurs To Tee Off in Canadian Open

By JACK SULLIVAN

WESTON, Ont. (CP) — Practice rounds and predictions out of the way, a field of nearly 200 big league pros, top-flight amateurs, and a few ordinary golfers, today got down to the more serious business of winning the Canadian Open championship.

They've got a long haul ahead with 18 holes carded each day until Saturday's winnow. Any one of 10 or 12 shotmakers can take the big payoff in the $15,000 Open and almost certainly an American will top the list.

Defending champion Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon, who gave Canada its first Canadian titleholder in 40 years in 1914, isn't too highly regarded by the experts—and himself—to make it two in a row. He is bothered by the flu and, in addition, hasn't played much tournament golf since his big win.

"I would like to be able to win it two years in a row," the westerner said Tuesday after smacking of two under-par practice round of 70. He predicted a 28-30 under par would take the $3,500 top money.

Other Canadians, such as Vancouver's Stan Leonard, Toronto's Gerry Kesselring and Rudy Horson of Windsor, Ont., haven't set the golf trail on fire although they have been picking up smaller ends of the prize money while gaining invaluable experience. Al Baiding, of Toronto, CPGA winner this year, is rated a money spot.

Any of these could end up as low Canadian, although they may expect serious competition from fast-playing Moe Norman, of Kitchener, winner earlier this month in the Canadian Amateur. Moe, who lugs around his own bag and invariably takes a practice swing, has been playing consistently good golf all summer.

SOULAK FAVORED

The public choice is Mike Souchak, the touted huskie from Grosingers, N.Y., top-money winner of the pros, ready to tackle the 6,428-yard, par-72 Weston course.

He is currently third on the pro circuit behind Julius Boros, Tom "Shanter" World" winner and Dr. Cary Middlecoff. Neither one of these is entered in the Open.

Souchak, the 26-year-old player-turned-golfer, shot a 69 in practice Tuesday, a predicted "270 or a little better" would win the tournament.

The big field necessitated a 7 a.m. EDT start with the last cover's Stan Leonard, Toronto's Gerry Kesselring and Rudy Hor-

Swimmer Loses In Attempt To Cross Lake Erie

WINDSOR (CP) — Ray Muench, 29-year-old marathon swimmer, Tuesday lost out in his bid to cross the 18-mile stretch of water between Pelee Island and the mainland.

His trainer said he was defeated by the strong Lake Erie currents. The currents pushed the swimmer and his accompanying boat more than 10 miles off course, after Muench had covered more than 20 miles.

He was pulled from the water at 12:27 p.m. EDT but his failure was not known until late in the afternoon when the accompanying boat reached mainland. The boat was not equipped with radio.

Muench was in the water more than 11½ hours. His trainer Alex Henderson said Muench was "disappointed but not disheartened."

He said they will try the swim again within a month, when they will mark the course with buoys from the island to the mainland.

IF PRICE RIGHT

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP) — The sports paper Stadio said heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano's manager Al Weill is willing to put the crown on the line in Bologna against European champion Francesco Cavicchi—if the price is right.

Stadio correspondent Lino Manchia, who now is in Grossinger, N.Y., said he had been requested by Weill to reach Italian promoter Renato Torri. Cavicchi, 34, is Germany's Heinz Neuhäuser for the European crown before 60,000 persons here in June.

LAST ENTRY

MONTREAL (CP) — Frankie Brunelle, a lanky 16-year-old high school student from Philadelphia, Tuesday became the last official entry for the Canadian swimming and diving championships at McGill University's Memorial pool Aug. 18-20.

Brunelle's entry brought to 172 the number of competitors scheduled to take part in the event. Forty are from the United States and 133 from 22 separate clubs across Canada.

Calgary Stamps Pin Hopes On Coach, American Talent

By FRANK MCCOOL

Canadian Press Correspondent

CALGARY (CP) — Dubbed the "have nots" by the majority of western observers and chosen to finish last in the standings, Calgary Stampedeers are out to upset the dopesters this year as they head into another Western Interprovincial Football Union season.

The Cowboys have fallen on hard times since they ruled western grids from 1948 to 1949. They have reached the playoffs only once in the last five years.

Calgary fans are pinning their playoff hopes on a new coach and an array of American talent battling for 12 positions allowed this year under Canadian Rugby Union rules.

Jack Hennemer, former line coach at University of Maryland, is head coach. He is assisted by Bob Robinson who also is team manager.

In pre-season drills, the Cowboys also had the help of Tommy Mont, a backfield coach at University of Maryland; Gerry D'Arcy, former end coach at Tulsa University and Bob Freeze, coach of Calgary's junior Bronks.

TWO HOLDOVERS

Only two import holdovers are with this year's squad. They are end Tom Miner from Tulsa University, and Ed Henke, a stand-out tackle who gained all-star rating last year. Henke graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and saw professional service with San Francisco and Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Stampeder officials are proudest of their pass-catching ends. Along with Miner they have Willie Roberts, also from Tulsa University. Bill McKenna from Brandeis University and Don Luft of Philadelphia Eagles.

Roberts, just out of the armed services, came to Stampedeers in preference to turning out with Los Angeles Rams.

McKenna and Luft have demonstrated ability as both offensive and defensive ends.

TALENTED QUARTERS

At quarterback, Stampedeers have Tom Dickerson and Ronnie Morris, graduates of Tulsa University who have been in the services the last two years. Both are talented ballhandlers.

In the backfield the Cowboys have imports, Dominic Moselle, Fred Tesone, Odie Posey, George Figner and Andrew Terpening.

Moselle, former star with Philadelphia, has been handling full-back duties. Tesone Posey and Figner from Denver University, are running halfbacks while Terpening handles majority of the kicking duties.

On the line Stampedeers have Joe Sheppard, formerly of Kansas State and Edmonton Eskimos; Michael Hovsepian from Tulane University; Burdette Hess from Idaho; Gordon Brown from Louisiana and Bob Morgan from Maryland and Washington Redskins.

The Stampedeers haven't much to worry about concerning their Canadians.

BOTTOMS TOPS

The club's first halfback Lynn Bottoms, winner of the rookie-of-the-year award in the western conference last year. Bottoms is a graduate of Calgary high school and junior ranks. Peter Muir and Bar Nagle from Vancouver, Ivan Livingstone and Charley Ballie from Montreal, Joe Yamauchi from Edmonton and Harry Rothwell and Alex Yakunin of Calgary round out the group of Canadian backfielders.

Up front there's Dean Bandiera, a former stalwart with Winnipeg; Harry Langford, Roy Jensen, Jim Meakin, Porky Brown, Bob Geary, Gilles Archambault, Tony Pajackowski and Don Walsh, Montreal; Alex Macklin and Bill Horton, University of Toronto.

At quarterback is Bill Stevenson, former star signal-caller with the University of Toronto.

Hennemer says Stevenson, given a couple of years experience, will develop into one of the best split-quarterbacks in the business.

Stampedeers finished in fourth position in the five-team union last year.

The club's annual budget is about $300,000, meaning 17,000-capacity Mewata Stadium must be filled every game if the club is to wind up on the right side of the ledger.

Stampedeers open at home for the first time in several seasons, they meet their traditional rivals—and the Grey Cup champion—Edmonton Eskimos this Saturday night.

Orfuns Enter City Finals, Oust Bobcats With 5-3 Win

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Exploding for three runs in the top of the ninth, two on John Batchelor's home run, the Belleville Orfuns scored a narrow 5-3 victory over the Bobcats at the C.N.R.A.A. Park last night to eliminate Temple's crew two games to none in their best-of-three B. and D. softball semi-final series. The Orfuns will now meet the winner of the Point Anne-Frankford series for the Bill Ott Trophy and the city championship.

The two clubs battled on even terms for most of the fixture, the Orfuns taking a 1-0 lead in the first, the Cats knotting it in the fifth and the winners going one up in the sixth. The Bobcats rallied for two in the eighth but could not control the Orfuns' batting power in the ninth.

Jackie Wardhaugh opened the big frame with a single to left and Soule sacrificed him to second for the first out. Doug Hull followed with his third hit of the game, a single through the centre plat, and Wardhaugh for a 3-3 score. John Batchelor then settled the issue with a long blast to the left field fence for the 5-3 score. They added a pair of singles but both were left on base. The Bobcats placed two men on the sacks in the bottom of the ninth but to no avail as Lockyer hit into a force play to end the game.

Bobby Hunter picked up his second victory of the series, this time in a two-inning relief stint. He took over from McCurdy with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth and gave up but one single while fanning none and walking one. One other man reached base, when hit by a pitched ball. Bruno McCurdy worked the first seven innings plus and hurled fine ball. He gave up three hits, whiffed two and walked five.

WENT ALL THE WAY

At Adams went all the way for the loser's allowing 13 hits including two homers and a triple. He nipped a pair on third strikes and passed four.

McCurdy drove in the first run of the game with a triple to right field following a walk to Jones but a walk and Ken Duesbury's double tied it for the Bobcats. Vern Goyer ratted the first pitch thrown to him for a lined homer to deep centre field in a pinch-hit roll to put the Orfuns back in front but the loser's loaded the bases on Duesbury's single, interference by Carr and a walk to by Bone at Craggan scored the two lead runners and gave the Bobcats their short-lived 3-2 lead.

Doug Hull had three singles, Goyer and John Batchelor pounded a homer and single each to pace the winners. Jack Wardhaugh poked a pair of one-baggers and McCurdy tripled while Bromley also hit safely. Ken Duesbury doubled on Thursday evening while Junior Day and Stan Craggan claimed singles.

Line-ups:
Orfuns — Wardhaugh, Barclay, Soule, Hull, Batchelor, Carr, Locke, Jones, Bromley, Belnap, V. Goyer, McCurdy, B. Hunter.
Bobcats — Duesbury, J. Hunter, Day, Lockyer, Bone, Craggan, Empey, Dracup, Woods, Hurst, Adams, Temple.

PLAYERS EXCHANGED

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night optioned Floyd Woodbridge to Rochester and brought up John Mackinson from the International League farm club. Both are right-handed pitchers.

Goyer, Lockyer Capture Softball Batting Titles

Gerry Goyer, slugging second baseman for the Point Anne Cretmen, captured the Pellers Trophy, emblematic of the batting championship for the Belleville and District softball league, "A" section, for the 1955 season with a .404 average according to final league statistics.

In the "A" section, between players from Madoc and the Belleville Bobcats, Dave Lockyer, Bobcat shortstop, boasted a .319 average to edge out Harry Brown of Madoc for the Conger Coal Trophy. Brown had a .312 average.

Goyer led from the first week of play in the Peller race, compiling 23 hits in 57 official trips to the plate including two home runs, two triples and seven doubles. He reached base 19 times in unofficial times at bat while scoring 23 runs, also tops in the league. His hits and times at bat were identical in number to those of Doug Hull, last year's champion.

John Batchelor had the second highest average, a .348 mark with 23 safe blows in 66 tries. Bob Schofield, Madoc; Carl Austin, Frankford; Dave Lockyer, Bobcats; Fred Nickle, Madoc and Batchelor shared the home run honors, each with four.

Bobby Green, ace southpaw for the Belleville Orfuns, had the best pitching average, a perfect 1.000 on six wins and no losses while Pat Maracle was credited with two wins, 10. He suffered one setback in scheduled play.

Including all league games and bases on at least 40 official times at bat.

Minor Softball

Elliott's Regents pulled out a narrow 6-5 victory over Tip Top Cleaners in the first game of their two-of-three series for the right to enter OASA bantam play last night. The second game will be played tonight and the third if necessary on Thursday evening.

Jim Hook went all the way on the mound for the winners, giving up just two base hits while whiffing four and passing nine. Clapp was his battery mate. Hull toiled for the losers and gave Hook a good battle. He was touched for five hits, fanned five and walked 11 while Smith caught.

The winners committed two errors and Tip Tops four.

Jim Hook also spearheaded his club's attack with a double and single while Lewis and Stoneberg poked two-base blows. Moreau added a single. Kieft and Hull had the only hits in defeat, both singles.

Juniors Rally To Tie Picton In Playoff Game

The Belleville Haggis Juniors ripped home six runs in the top of the fifth frame in Picton last night which enabled them to tie the Picton Lightfoots 6-6 in the third game of their best-of-three Belleville and District baseball semi-finals. The game was called off because of darkness, with the homesters at bat in the sixth frame.

Although no definite date has been set for the replay, it is expected that the two teams will go back at it again tonight in Picton. League rules call for all uncompleted or postponed games to be played the following night.

The Lightfoots opened the scoring in the second frame with a single rally and opened their lead to 3-0 in the third. The Juniors exploded in the fifth, driving starting pitcher Bill Greer to the showers with six tallies but Fitzpatrick's lads roared back with three in their half of the inning for the 6-6 score. Cornolius of Picton was hit in the face by a pitched ball in the sixth as darkness fell and the officials immediately halted the game. The Picton player was rushed to the hospital but at time of writing his condition was not known.

Leo St. Denis and Cameron Buskard formed the city's squads battery while Bill Greer and Miller shared the mound chore for Picton, between them allowing seven runs, M. Stacey caught.

Bobby Hull had the only extra-base hit for Belleville, smashing a two-bagger while Gerry Goyer, Charles Kingston, Gord St. Louis, Cameron Buskard, Ted Batchelor and Harvey Stolkier each picked up a single.

South Hastings Baseball League

Shannonville earned their way into the South Hastings baseball league finals last night when they edged Read 5-3 in a hard-fought game at Read. Shannonville took the series three games to none with one tied and will now meet the winners of the Cannifton-Latta series for the league championship. The winners took a 3-0 lead in the second frame last night but Read foared back to knot the score in the fourth. Shannonville plated the deciding marker in the fifth and added an insurance tally in the seventh and final frame.

L. Reid for Shannonville had eight strikeouts and two walks. In the fourth inning was Read's scoring frame with G. Brennan a single, Hanley and Brennan each a three base hit, Kirby after an infield hit and error got to base and forced Bronson in for the third run.

Hanley for Read had seven strikeouts, gave up two walks, two men being hit by pitched balls.

In the second Shannonville shed with Bennett and P. Maracle each a single, Howard hit by pitcher and Stuart on base by an error to bring in one run. Barberstock slashing a two baser for two more runs but was out on second base.

With their fourth run in the fifth, Barberstock got a single, L. Maracle a sacrifice fly ball, L. Reid an infield hit for second man out, but N. Sero whammed a triple to tie the game. The fifth and final winning score was made in the seventh, with a single by Maracle and Reid to enable Maracle to complete the round to home base as Sero got a base-on-balls.

Read had five men stranded on bases while Shannonville had six left on.

How to Reduce Swollen Painful PilesHere is a nice, clean, easy way to get real relief from the nagging distress of swollen, painful piles without the inconvenience of ointments, pile pipes or operations.
The answer is in taking just one small Ham-Road Tablet, with water, two or three times a day. It is a mild, non-habituating, internal action. Quickly eases constipation, relieves itching, burning and pain. Pile sticks melt and prevent them from returning.
Who suffer needlessly when Ham-Road offers you so much. Get a package today.
See for yourself how easy Ham-Road is to

City and District News

SUSPICIOUS LOOKING CHARACTERS INNOCENT

Their suspicions last night were a bit misplaced but nobody can say that officials at the north station are not observant.

Early last evening city police were called from the railway station with the statement that two suspicious looking characters had possession of a considerable silver coin in their possession were trying to use a ticket to Brockville.

The city police investigated and find everything was in order.

Two men in question were workers who had quit the fair.

The manager had paid them off in coin and bills.

TRUCK HITS CAR PARKED IN LANEWAY

Your car is not safe in your own alleyway anymore it seems.

Yesterday John Zebedeo, Graham street, had his car parked in his driveway—or so he thought.

But he reckoned without the unexpected. The driver of a local trucking firm had parked his truck in the driveway of the Zebedeo residence. The truck slipped and the truck moved downhill running into the Zebedeo car causing damage amounting to about $60.

BELLEVILLE NATIVE BACK AFTER 66 YEARS

George Arthur Haines, of Beeton, Ont., is at present making his first visit to his native city of Belleville since he left here on August 15, 1889.

Mr. Haines remembers nothing of the Belleville of olden days, since he was just three years old when he left here.

He was born here on April 4, 1886, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haines. His father was a weaver with John Coats's woolen mills in Perth and continued to work in that town during the family's comparatively brief residence in this city.

SHRINERS HOSTS TO CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Belleville Shriners yesterday treated nearly 40 crippled children to a day at the fair.

The children, from Belleville and district, were given front row seats in the grandstand and, ringed by paternal Shriners, sat through the afternoon show. The enjoyment of the children was given an additional boost with the distribution of cokes and candy.

Artists in the show took time off from the stage to pass among their young audience and meet them personally. Afterwards, the Shriners rounded off the afternoon at the grounds by entertaining the children at the fair restaurant.

In charge of the day's proceedings were Shriners Ken Smith and Dave Stevenson.

TRAFFIC MILESTONE

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Fort William Wednesday marked its 50th traffic fatality-free day.

Police chief W. S. Brown said the milestone was reached at 1 a.m. and motorists and pedestrians should be congratulated. He said few cities of comparable size in Ontario had achieved such a distinction.

Accident Mars Harness Meet At Local Fair

Graydon Sheldon, of Peterborough, uncovered a "sleeper" in Gadabout F in the Free-for-All staged at the closing day of racing at the Belleville Fair.

The shifty pacer took both heats and toured the second trip in 2:12 3/5 to win the $10 prize for the horse meeting the fastest heat at the meet.

Tim Blacklock, driven by Burns McKain of Kingston, which started the previous day, took down second money. He did not have enough "lick" to even set the winner to pacing.

Leon Dewey from Brighton, which won a couple of races at the Woodbine, did not have a foot in that field.

An accident marred the running of the 2:21 class, when Delbert Sands, Battersea, was badly shaken up as the horses were closely bunched.

In some way Lucky Rhumba Gratton and Black Magic, driven by Mr. Sands became entangled and both Sands and Boyce, driving the Gratton colt were thrown heavily to the ground. The horses, Black Magic with a broken sulky and Lucky Rhumba Gratton with a whole cart stayed in the field and paced the whole mile and at the conclusion slowed up to be easily caught.

Black Magic did not start in the second heat and the Boyce horse was too badly shaken up to make a showing.

Mr. Sands suffered a severely bruised shoulder but was able to continue to his own home after the races were concluded.

The class was split with Serenity, the good trotter from Kingston winning the first heat but was headed by Nipper McKinney in the second trip.

The racing during the two days was formful and enjoyed by a large crowd.

Many Farmers Going West To Help in Harvest

With excellent ripening conditions rendering the crop earlier than in the normal year, the Western Canada wheat harvest is already attracting district men, according to H. H. Reed, manager of the local unemployment office.

So far this season about 25 district farmers and farmers' sons have left for the West from the Belleville area to assist in the harvest and it is expected that an additional 50 workers may be sent.

For the most part only farmers or farmers' sons are sent west for the harvest as only those with farm experience can be expected to cope with present day farm machinery.

The current employment picture in Belleville and district is the brightest of the year, it was noted by Mr. Reed.

As of last week-end the number of persons receiving unemployment benefits had dropped to 592.

The opening of canning factories, the harvest and picking of tomatoes has done much to reduce the total of unemployed in recent weeks.

Police Blotter

City police are investigating the disappearance of $165 from a desk drawer at Greenleafs on Station street.

The loss was reported to have been taken some time Wednesday shortly after the noon hour.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Len Tierney, Charles street, escaped injury, Wednesday evening when she broke away from her father's hand while they were walking near the post office and darted into the roadway where she was struck by a passing car.

The little girl was taken to a doctor who examined her and said she apparently had not been hurt.

Two drunks were apprehended for fighting on the street and were given lodging at the jail house.

PARKING PICKINGS

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton will receive $9,000 yearly for five years from advertisements placed on the city's 1,500 parking meters.

An advertising company told board of control Wednesday it will pay 50 cents a month for each meter, or 15 per cent a month of revenue—whichever is the higher figure. Council must approve the measure.

Senior Thurlow Square Dance Team Wins

Junior farmers swung their partners and themselves into the second round of the square dancing competition at the Fair grounds.

Competing last night were two Thurlow teams, senior and junior.

The senior team, last night's winners over a Prince Edward team, continued their winning streak by defeating Thurlow juniors 95-50.

The senior team now will compete against a team from Peterborough County tonight.

Members of last night's winning team were: Harvey and Kaye Homan, Warren Heinze and Murial Swan, Ellis Heinze and Goshin, Dale Balcanquell and Mona Swan.

The junior team was made up of: Jack Vermilyea and Ruth Lutton, Gary Chambers and Carolyn Thompson, Andrew Yoc and Patsy Dafeo, Tony Gouthorpe and Betty Lou Stewart.

Judges were: Mrs. F. Clare, of Belleville, and Jim Campbell, of Stirling.

Trade Is Active On Market Here

"Trade on the local market was fairly active today with a good selection of produce being offered for sale. Prices were mostly unchanged.

Buckwheat plums were 25 cents a quart box, 75 cents a basket; green grapes were 25c a quart, and 80c a 1/2 basket. Baskets of apples brought 75c for Melbas, 65c for Astrachans and $1 for crabapples. Pears were 75-95c a basket for Clapp's Favorites, while melons and canteloupes ranged from five cents to 50c, according to size.

Eggs were 73 cents for grade A large and 85c for mediums.

Cucumbers continued in heavy supply with gherkins bringing $1.25 a basket, and dills 85c to $1. Slicers were 10c apiece. Beets were 10c a bunch, while corn ranged from 35c to a dozen, according to size and quality. Red peppers were 5c apiece for hot two for 15c for sweets. Tomatoes ranged from 40-50 cents. Spring onions were 10c a bunch and Spanish onions 10c each. Carrots sold at 60c a basket, while marrows were 10-15c apiece. Pepper squash was 10c and Swiss chard 10c. Cabbage, in short supply this season, was 10c a head. Potatoes were 50-60c a basket.

Gladioli continued to bring $1 a bunch.

G. N. Reid, C.N.R. Brakeman, Killed by Train at Cobourg

Four young Belleville children were left fatherless Tuesday night when a Belleville C.N.R. brakeman was killed near Cobourg when struck by another train as he stepped down from his own train to set out flares.

Glen Norman Reid, 28, of 132 East Main St., had left Belleville as crew member on a freight about nine o'clock Tuesday evening.

Outside of Grafton, Reid's train was forced to stop because of an overheated axle box and he climbed down to set out flares.

As he did he was struck by a freight travelling in the opposite direction.

Unaware that anything had happened, the engineer of Reid's train started it moving. Several hours later a C.N.R. section foreman found Reid's body in a ditch along the railway track.

Reid had worked for the CNR as brakeman only for about one month.

Mr. Reid was born in Point Anne, son of Mr. Norman Cecil Reid and the late Mrs. Reid. He was a member of Christ Church and was associated with the local branch of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association.

He had previously served in the Merchant Marine.

Besides his wife, the former Hazel White, he leaves four children, 2-1-2-year old son, Ronnie, and three daughters, Patsy, 6, Paula, 5, Gail age 4.

Also surviving are a brother, George Reid, and his wife, Mrs. Ted Hall, Long Branch.

Huge Steam Locomotive May Be Placed on Permanent Display in West

CALGARY. (CP)—Its days are numbered now, but it wasn't so long ago that the 5900 was the biggest steam locomotive in the British Commonwealth, a symbol of man's triumph against the rugged Rockies.

There is a possibility that one of these 36 iron horses will be placed on permanent display here.

Eighteen of the giant locomotives are reported idle in the CPR shops near Calgary, but some are still in service on some runs. Their main job—the haul over the Rockies—has been taken over by diesel locomotives.

The suggestion that one of the 5900s be put on exhibit was made by Ken Liddell, Calgary Herald columnist. The tourist committee of the chamber of commerce took the idea and a railway officials have expressed interest.

French Tumblers May Open Air Force Station Near Timmins

Belleville is not only "the friendly city" it is also the "most honest city" in the whole world.

The latter judgment was pronounced Tuesday by the "Three Ghezzis" the tumbling French cutups in the grandstand show at the Belleville Fair.

The Ghezzis were shopping on Tuesday afternoon in McIntosh Bros. store on Front St. They left the store and hurried back to the fair grounds for an afternoon performance. After the show one of the trio discovered he had lost his wallet containing "beaucoup d'argent"—literal translation, "a lot of dough."

"Ou sont les dollars?" became the $64,000 question.

Back to McIntosh's went the trio as they retraced their course through Belleville's shopping district. They arrived after 6:00 p.m., to be greeted by the caretaker.

The caretaker assured them that "le directeur" would be returning to the store in a short time.

Within minutes manager Jack McIntosh appeared. A brief outline of the dilemma brought reassurance and heartfelt thanks from the Ghezzis as Mr. McIntosh produced the loaded wallet from the store's safe where it had been placed for safe keeping.

The Ghezzis, who never expected to see the money again, were overwhelmed.

"These place and these people, they are so honest," was the gist of their remarks.

The Ghezzis, brought to North America from France for an appearance on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" say they will be leaving this town when they return to France.

Shipbuilding Program Slowed

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's $219,000,000 destroyer escort construction program has been "stretched out." The last of the 14 subchasers will not be delivered to the navy until late 1958 instead of 1957, it was learned today.

An informed source said that if pressed, the escorts could be turned out at a faster pace, but international tensions had eased and there was not the same need for them as there was some time ago.

The original target was to deliver six of the ships by 1956 and the other eight by 1957. However, authorities said today there has been a change in targets.

The navy now does not expect to get more than three or four by 1956; another four or five by 1957; and the remainder by 1958.

Thurlow Girl Top Scorer In 4-H Calf Club

Carolyn Thompson, Thurlow township, with a score of 947, was winner of the Belleville 4-H Calf Club achievement day held Wednesday afternoon in connection with the Belleville Fair.

Carolyn had the highest points on the year's work but two brothers, Jack and Bill Vermilyea, fought it out for showmanship, ally getting the nod from the judge.

It was so close, however, that both boys will compete at Mador Fair for the championship showman in the county.

Third place in the showmanship went to Carolyn Thompson with Allan Hamilton and Ivan Phillips coming in for fourth and fifth spots.

The achievement day saw 20 boys and girls turn out with their calves in the blistering heat in the show ring inside the race track.

Judge was Gerald Nelson of Port Perry, district field judge for the Holstein Friesian Association.

Ivan Phillips, Sidney township, was a close second in total points with 946, just one behind the winner.

Placing of the other contestants was as follows: J. Vermilyea, 938; Douglas Rollins, 932; George Harrington, 911; Ruth Lutton, 907; Ron Hamilton, 901; Lewis Cummings, 899; Gordena Cummings, 897; Robert Rollins, 896; Billie Vermilyea, 883; Bruce Loney, 882; Carl Richards, 876; Robert Cummings, 869; Allan Hamilton, 867; Francis Chard, 855; Morris Morris, 839; Nancy Sills, 821; Arnold Hitz, 812, and Gerry Jones, 610.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved ahead in first-hour trading today in quiet but persistent fashion. Narrow gains were scored on a broad front in industrial and uranium. Volume was 1,202,000 shares compared with Wednesday's 11 a.m. figure of 1,233,000.

Utilities, steel, papers and foods attracted chief buying interest in the industrial group.

Among uranium, better by fractions were Pronto and Consolidated Denison. Base metals were mixed. A gain of ¾ put International Nickel at a high of 78½.

Midcoast lost ground again in western oils, dropping 25 to $3.00. Golds showed moderate improvement. There was little movement in holding companies.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — A light offering of common and low-medium fatting cattle sold slowly at steady prices at the Ontario public stockyards today. There were no good or choice slaughter cattle on the market.

Receipts: Cattle 85; calves 25; hogs 200; sheep and lambs 40; carryover from Wednesday: 600; mostly plain killers and stockers.

Prices: Medium steers 16-18; commons 12-15; medium heifers 16-18; commons 12-15; boner steers 16-18; commons 12-15; medium fed yearlings 16-18.50. There were no cows or bulls.

Replacement cattle: Some medium stockers 16-18; commons 12-16.

Calves were steady at 21-23 for good and choice vealers with some sales to 23.50; mediums 15-20; commons 10-15; grass calves sold for slaughter 10-11.

Hog prices: Grade A 28.50; with two loads out at 29; some 18.25 dressed; stage 15 dressed.

Lambs were steady at 21 for good handweights and western and bucks were discounted $1 a hundredweight while heavy lambs were discounted 2; common and medium lambs 14-18. Good light sheep were generally 8 with common light and heavy sheep down to 3.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was steady to firm with offerings sufficient for a steady demand.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, in fibre cases, graded: A large 64; A medium 61; A small 58; grade B 38; grade C 28. A whole sale to retail: A large 69; A medium 66; A small 44; grade B 43; grade C 33.

Butter: solid, Ontario, first grade, tenderable 53; non-tenderable 57½; 58 (nominal); western 58½ (nominal).

N.B. Teacher Heads Assoc.

OTTAWA (CP) — G. Forbes Elliot, 43-year-old Saint John, N.B., high school principal, yesterday was elected president of the 74,000-member Canadian Teachers' Federation for the coming year.

Mr. Elliot succeeds Dr. L. P. Patterson, director of the School for Crippled Children in Montreal.

The new board of directors includes Mrs. Ruth Clarke, Fort Hope, Ont.

George C. Roskery, permanent secretary-treasurer of the federation, told the convention that the slogan of national education week: "Education: everybody's business" — will be unchanged until a better one is found.

Reports submitted by panels which discussed the status of Canadian teachers said teachers are underpaid and criticized provincial governments for permitting unqualified persons to teach.

Two Runaway Tanks Kill Four Sleeping Soldiers

TILSHED, England (AP) — Two British tanks still on the secret list broke loose from their hillside moorings early today and plowed through tents of sleeping troops, killing four and injuring four others.

A British army south command spokesman said no one was in the tanks — named were "national service" or reservists doing two weeks' annual training.

Boy, 5, Tells How He Caused Two Brothers' Deaths

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A five-year-old boy tearfully told police Wednesday how he accidentally caused the death of two playmates and then fled, afraid of the consequences.

Carl Jenkins said he was playing around an abandoned refrigerator Tuesday with two brothers Lewis Andrews, 5, and Lee, 2.

The boys took turns going inside the refrigerator in an empty apartment. When the brothers were inside, police said, Jenkins found he couldn't open the door.

The bodies were found six hours later.

Two Men Die When Their Car Runs Into Truck

BARRIE (CP) — Two men were killed today when their car collided with the rear of a truck on Highway 400 near here.

Police identified one of the victims as George Bailey, Vaughan township special constable, assistant clerk and recreation director. They were unable to identify immediately the other victim.

SPANKED, FIRED

LONDON (Reuters) — Bus conductor Douglas Haven, fined $3 last week for spanking a 19-year-old girl passenger, was fired Wednesday.

Bogus Holdup Planned to Cover Bank Shortage

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The FBI today announced discovery of a plot in which the head teller of a bank and a cohort allegedly planned to stage a bogus holdup in order to cover up a $28,500 shortage.

Officers arrested 19-year-old Joseph Edward Coyle on a charge of aiding and abetting a bank robbery at a branch of the Commonwealth Trust Co. at Union City, N.J.

Seized Wednesday — just six hours after the bank reported the money missing — was the head teller, Allen Trampoler, 27.

The FBI said $6,138.96 of the bank funds were found in a locked suitcase among the effects. In addition, FBI agents found a note which said: "This is a holdup. Hand over all the money or die."

Apparently, the FBI said, the pair contemplated using this note to stage a phony holdup.

Opposition Leader Plans Speaking Tour of Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, plans to speak from public platforms across Canada this fall on issues developed at the last session of Parliament.

The major issue, he told a press conference today, is the return of responsible government to Parliament.

He said his party's extended filibuster against the government's contentious Defence Production Act resulted in the government following the course it should have adopted in the first place — yielding to opposition demands for a time limit on the act's wide powers.

"But it would be unwise for anyone to suggest the disease has been cured by a single treatment," Mr. Drew said.

CROSS-CANADA TOUR

The Opposition leader outlined the tour he will make from Sept. 16 to Nov. 14. He estimated he will cover some 15,000 miles.

He said that besides meetings with party workers across Canada, there will be a number of public gatherings sponsored by various organizations.

He said he will meet various party representatives in Ontario between now and Sept. 14, when he will attend the western Ontario fair at London before heading west.

Details of his itinerary have not yet been completed, but Nov. 13-14 have been set aside for visits to Ottawa, Cornwall and Brockville.

MEETING DELAYED

Mr. Drew said that the national party association's annual meeting, originally planned for late November, is being set back to some time in January. The last session had lasted later than expected and had left less time than he had anticipated for his trip.

Mr. Drew commented on a variety of topics, mostly issues raised during the last session.

He declined to comment on prospects for an early start on a national health insurance plan, saying it depends on whether the provinces can reach agreement with the federal government.

VIEWS ON SENATE

On the recent appointment of 13 new senators, he said some choices were good. He added, however, that the addition of a few good members to the upper chamber will not relieve the need for Senate reform.

Mr. Drew repeated his longstanding demand for appointment of a commission of experts, like the United States Hoover commission, to keep a continuing inquiry into government spending and efficiency.

Evidence of the need for such an inquiry was mounting daily. Every inquiry which had been held in the past had turned up loose methods in government operations.

ENGINEER STRUCK VICTIM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Anders Tufvesson, engineer of the Norwegian motorship Tancred, died of burns Tuesday night in hospital here. The 55-year-old engineer was the third man to die from an explosion which wrecked the ship's engine room last Saturday 100 miles off the Golden Gate. Three other men, critically burned, are reported improving.

Inmate of 'Pen' Has Big Share In Pheasant Conservation Project

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — The inscription on the aluminum bands says: "Notify Game Farm, P. A. Pen."

It was scratched on 200 bands by a prisoner in Prince Albert penitentiary and today 200 pheasants are flying about north Saskatchewan wearing the identification pieces. The game farm is his.

He is known "outside" only as Jimmy. If there is an open season on pheasants in North Saskatchewan in the next few years, the thanks of the sportsmen must go to Jimmy.

William Carroll, secretary of the Prince Albert Fish and Game League, told in an interview how Jimmy had helped the league's pheasant conservation project.

"Jimmy became interested in raising pheasants in 1954," said Mr. Carroll. "Wardens C. C. Coates gave permission for Jimmy to go ahead."

The Saskatchewan Fish and Game League game farm south of Saskatoon gave Jimmy two dozen birds, six weeks old, and from these he wintered 10 birds.

"In the meantime, we had become dissatisfied with our pheasant raising," said Mr. Carroll. "Ernie Beggs had released some birds in the Prince Albert and Buckland rural municipalities, but predators got most of them. We weren't making much progress and a league meeting was called early this spring to review the project."

It was decided to establish a breeding farm.

"That meant a lot of work and a lot of time which most of us could not spare," said Mr. Carroll. "Then J. C. McKibbin, a guard on his own penitentiary, spoke to Ernie Beggs about Jimmy and his birds."

Jimmy became a prime mover in the pheasant conservation project. The league promised 200 birds, feed, and a brooder.

Jimmy did all the work himself. He enlarged the pens, built runways, set up the wiring. Wiring is a special problem and the league set aside $100 to provide extra wire for the pens. But Jimmy scrounged the extra wire and saved the league its $100. Jimmy now has an additional 100 birds.

Before birds are released they are banded with a regulation aluminum band typed "Notify game farm, Saskatchewan, Sask." Jimmy asked if the inscription couldn't be changed to "P.A. Pen."

"We couldn't change the dies for 300 bands," said Mr. Carroll, "so Jimmy went to work on his own and each night scratched the words 'P.A. Pen' on each band."

Lawyers Lose Prized Salmon

GUELPH — Salmon which cost two Guelph lawyers an estimated $13 a pound, ended up on the tables of a city restaurant under the title of lake trout.

The lawyers went to the Marlitts on a fishing holiday and spent a week catching Atlantic salmon in Northern Nova Scotia. It took them three days, five purchases of ice and four changes of aircraft to get their fish back to Guelph. They arranged with a local restaurant to store the prized salmon in a deep-freeze — but nobody informed the chef.

When orders came in for lake trout, the chef sliced up the salmon — which have the same color as trout — and served lucky diners got fresh salmon for $1.25 a plate.

GOVERNOR RESIGNS

Drew Criticizes Gov't's Pipelines, Uranium Policies

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government was accused by Progressive Conservative leader Drew today of leaving Parliament and the public uncertain as to cabinet policy on natural gas pipelines and government purchase of uranium.

Mr. Drew, at a press conference, on his return from a holiday, also criticized government handling of food surpluses.

He said the question of how Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., is to bring Alberta gas to eastern Canada is a matter of uncertainty.

"The proper use and effective sale of Alberta gas is a matter of major policy," he said, "yet it seems the members of the government themselves don't know the situation."

THREE PROJECTS

He said that late in the parliamentary session Prime Minister St. Laurent had stated the cabinet was considering three projects, but later Trade Minister Howe had said he did not know of them.

"This is contrary to our basic concept of responsible government," he said. "Either there are three plans or there are not. If there are plans, the prime minister and Mr. Howe should know of them."

Referring to uranium, he said a series of conflicting statements were issued last month — by the prime minister, Mr. Howe and anonymous spokesmen — on purchasing policy.

"We haven't the slightest idea of what the position of the government really is," he said. "The government statements leave the picture vague."

STOCKS FLUCTUATED

As a result of the statements, uranium stocks had fluctuated, when there should be stability in the uranium market.

While stock market behavior was not of direct concern to members of Parliament, Canada should not have "profits by prophecy." However, he was not suggesting profits were made by those who made prophecies.

"But the government as the only purchaser of uranium has an added responsibility for statements of this kind," he said.

Mr. Drew also said the government displayed "complete irresponsibility" in the way it dealt with sales of surplus butter to Czechoslovakia and wheat to Poland during the last session of Parliament.

Grateful Children Present $100,000 Restaurant to Their Dad in Hull

HULL, Que. (CP) — Joseph Sim's feelings were hidden by his calm Chinese face the day his children presented him with a brand-new restaurant. But his thoughts were probably lingering on the weary labors of the past.

Now 70, Sim came to the Hull-Ottawa area from China some 50 years ago. In the beginning, he worked long hours in restaurants for $3.50 a week.

He saved enough money to attend night school where he learned to speak English. Today he speaks some French, too, with an oriental lisp. His first venture into restaurant ownership came when he acquired part ownership of a place on a downtown corner where one of the city's biggest hotels now stands. Later he borrowed $1,800 to open his own restaurant.

Through the years he acquired and sold other restaurants. He lost money when he opened the Mandarin Gardens on Ouellette street in Windsor, Ont., in the pre-depression days of 1928. But he made no mistake when he bought a place called El Ranchito on Eate island in the Ottawa river. When it was burned down in 1948 the New Champlain Cafe took its place, a popular spot halfway between Ottawa and Hull along the Champlain bridge.

As his business interests grew and prospered, so did his family. Joseph Sim and his wife sent all nine of their children to college. Only the oldest son, Jack, didn't get a degree. He is a past president of the Canadian Restaurant Association. Harry, an architect, graduated from McGill University. A graduate of Ospeode Hall, Toronto, is to be called to the Ontario Bar this year. Paul, McGill graduate, is managing his father's new gift restaurant, and Norman is still at McGill.

The four daughters are all McGill graduates and all married. Florence is the wife of a dentist in Trinidad. Lucy is the wife of Rev. Paul Chan, a Presbyterian minister. Violet is married to Dr. Allen Chan, a horticulturist at the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa and Margaret now is Mrs. Eddy Chung of Montreal.

All the children joined in the decision to give their father as a token of their appreciation the new Paris Cafe on downtown Bridge street. Costing them $130,000, it stands on the spot where Joseph Sim opened his first restaurant here.

SAYS WILL RUN

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Postmaster-General Arthur Summerfield, who directed President Eisenhower's campaign in 1952, said Wednesday that in his opinion the president will seek re-election next year.

FLY TO TORONTO

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's secretary of labor and industry will confer with Labor Minister Charles Daley of Ontario at Toronto next week. John R. Torquato said he was invited to exchange ideas with Ontario government leaders on conciliation and mediation services, industrial safety and migrant labor. He will fly to Toronto Sunday.

Hurricane Hazel Relief Fund Report Is Made

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund, set up last year to aid victims of hurricane Hazel, today submitted its final report.

Col. W. Eric Phillips, fund chairman and president, said the fund collected $5,376,621 from an estimated 250,000 donors and paid out $5,132,024.

Col. Phillips said $56,600 has been set aside to cover final costs and $30,000 of $150,000 donated by the Canadian Disaster Relief Fund has been returned.

The fund was set up four days after hurricane Hazel swept over southern Ontario bringing death to at least 82 persons and causing an estimated $1,699,280 property damage.

HUMBER VICTIMS

Most of the victims lived on the banks of the Humber river near Toronto and were swept to their deaths by floodwaters.

The fund paid out $500,015 in emergency assistance to 3,425 persons soon after the flood. Later the fund set about assessing claims of victims.

A total of $1,810,345 was paid to farmers and $1,392,633 for replacement of contents and clothing in 1,663 houses. Provincial and federal government assistance was given to persons who lost their homes.

In addition the fund granted relief payments to small businesses, owners of trailers, institutions and widows of flood victims now are receiving an annuity of $100 each an additional $50 a month for each dependent child. Dependents also will receive $2,500 when they reach 21.

Stirling

STIRLING — Scoutmaster Joe Irish and Mrs. Irish, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harding and seven Scouts of the local patrol, Route Wood, back, Tommy Wells, Allan Wells, Douglas Harding, Martin Secker, John Ray and Douglas McIntosh, are attending the World Scout Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake for ten days, August 18th to 28th.

Five of the group will have special jobs while at the Jamboree. The Stirling group gathered in Trenton where they met other groups and all will be known as the Stirling Troop, No. 23, with approximately 100 boys in the group. They left on Wednesday for Niagara to attend the Eighth World Jamboree.

GOVERNOR GENERAL OPENS JAMBOREE

On Saturday, August 20th, Chief Scout His Excellency the Right Hon. Vincent Massey Governor General of Canada will officially open the Jamboree ceremonies. "SUNSHINE SUSIES"

River Valley Sunshine Susies 4-H Club convened at the school house and made plans for the month day. The girls displayed vegetables and flowers and practice work was done in judging beets and carrots.

On Friday the group with their leaders Mrs. George Heasman and Mrs. Phil Connely attended Achievement Day at Stirling Community Hall.

Miss Faye L. Irvin home economist was in charge of the proceedings and 11 clubs were in attendance. The flowers and vegetables were of exceptionally good quality. Mrs. Ernest Gifford of River Valley Women's Institute was this is a busy season, with thrashing and canning garden produce at its peak.

On Tuesday the "Sunshine Susies" displayed their garden vegetables and flowers at the Belleville Fair.

The Rev. W. H. V. Walker, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Walker, attended the annual school for Rural Clergy at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. They enjoyed special lectures and tours.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Faulkner, Miss Shirley Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Faulkner and family attended a miscellaneous shower in Peterborough in honor of the former's daughter, Miss Barbara Faulkner, Reg. N., who is a bride-to-be.

Miss Linda Morrison, Eldorado, is holidaying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morrison, at their cottage, Oak Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bateman recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Turner and family, of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Royce and children, and Mr. S. Brady visited relatives and friends at Niagara and Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Green and Jimmie are holidaying at Papineau Lake.

STARLINGS POISONED?

NORTH BAY (CP) — Ontario land and forest officials here today said they are puzzling over a shower of dead starlings which littered the lawns of a funeral home. More than 20 of the birds were picked up off the garden and drive way within a short period. Officials said the only possible explanation was the birds had eaten poison possibly off a tree or shrub sprayed against insect pests.

Life of Car-Driving Tester In Manitoba Hazardous One

WINNIPEG (CP) — One of Manitoba's most dangerous occupations is probably that of the car-driving tester. The highway safety branch must take out special accident insurance to protect him.

Sixty-one per cent of the people he drives with fail to pass the test. Of these, 77 per cent fail the road test and 18 per cent can't pass the written test. Most of the others can't see well enough to drive.

Of those who fail the road test 26 per cent drive dangerously while taking the test. Another 14 per cent commit serious traffic violations and 11 per cent can't park properly. Among the others, five per cent are drunk and the test has to be discontinued before the driver and tester are exterminated. One per cent, or 78 persons, had accidents last year while taking the test.

In proportion, more Manitobans fail the driver's test than in any other province, and R. B. Baillie, commissioner of motor vehicles, says this is because the Manitoba test is harder.

KEEP ON TRYING

Hopeful drivers take the test as many as seven times in an attempt to pass, and as a result the percentage who can never get a licence because of poor performance is higher.

Shannonville

SHANNONVILLE — The Rev. R. R. Hinchey, of Edmonton, Alberta, was a recent guest of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Plato and Larry, St. Catharines, spent their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burr.

Mrs. Charles Keir, Mrs. S. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Kenneth Vivian, Mrs. Stanley MacDonald and Mrs. Frank Doxtator were among those who attended the Quinte Institute meeting, which was held at Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sandercock's cottage near Frankford. Following the meeting the tables were set on the lawn and a picnic supper was enjoyed by all.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid on the birth of their son, Kerry, at Belleville General Hospital Monday, August 8. Mrs. William Graves, Syracuse, New York, has been visiting Mrs. Eliza McFarlane, Mrs. Lela Stewart and other relatives.

Mr. Wallace Robertson has returned to Toronto after holidays with his mother and Donald. They enjoyed a week-end motor trip accompanied by his cousin, Mrs. Vernon Kilpatrick and Mr. Kilpatrick, to Lake Simcoe, where they visited friends at their summer cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chisolm and family, Roslin, were Thursday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Juby, Gail and Cheryl. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ray, Halton, spent the dinner hour Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doxtator.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peniston and Mr. Thomas Thompson, of Hamilton.

Terry Solliker has returned home from a three-weeks' vacation at Camp Merrywood-on-the-deau. While at camp Terry passed the junior swimming test and expects to try for the intermediate class next year.

Mrs. Ethel Corby, Toronto, is spending a vacation with relatives here. Friends of Mrs. William White will be pleased to hear that she returned home last Saturday after a lengthy stay in Kingston General Hospital.

The Diment School of Dance is opening a new branch studio in Shannonville, with Miss Gail Juby as teacher. Barbara Diment will be at the Juby home from 7 to 8 p.m. September 6 for registering anyone wishing to join the dancing class.

Miss Isabel Handley, Toronto, is guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowdell. Miss Grace Cox spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Houston at Alltown.

Highway traffic detoured thru the village Saturday, owing to the seven car pileup near Shannonville bridge on highway No. 2. The accident occurred during the heavy rain storm in early afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall spent the week-end in Toronto. Recent evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doxtator were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Port and Mrs. Bruce Port.

A large number of villagers attended the Belleville fair this week. Mrs. Elmer Orden is progressing favorably following an operation in Belleville General Hospital and is now convalescing at her home. Her mother, Mrs. John McLeod, from Nova Scotia, is staying with her at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fritz, Larry and Sylvia are spending their vacation with relatives at Timmins. Mr. Bill McCarthy, Ottawa, spent the week-end with his father, Mr. Cecil McCarthy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fonger.

Large crowds are attending the ball game of South Hastings baseball league and much interest is being shown. They are now playing the semi-finals.

Four Directors Defend Action In Salary Hike

TORONTO (CP) — Four directors of the Canadian National Railway Wednesday defended their decision to recommend a $25,000-a-year increase for Donald Gordon, the railway's president.

J. A. Northey of Toronto, Wilfred Gagnon of Montreal, W. J. Parker of Winnipeg and B. L. Daly of Montreal said they considered the increase helped to bring Mr. Gordon's salary into line with earnings of men in private industry who carry comparable responsibilities.

Mr. Northey said the CNR president's salary of $75,000 still is below those paid to other railroad presidents. He said the president of the CPR is believed to get approximately $100,000 while the heads of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads — both smaller operations than the CNR — get $125,000 and $110,000 respectively.

Mr. Parker, head of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, said in his view Mr. Gordon's position is second only to the prime minister's for military and heavy burden. Mr. Daly said directors were impressed with the fact Mr. Gordon could earn more money in private industry.

Point Anne

POINT ANNE — Mr. Alvin Cox of Toronto, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Cox.

Mr. James Macdonald, Toronto, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Macdonald.

Mr. Gordon Casselman has returned to Germany, where he is stationed with the RCAF.

Mrs. John Logue and son, James and daughter, Mrs. Leslie Lough and her son, Ricky, have returned home from a two weeks' motor trip to Calgary and the coast, where they visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Cox spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Akey, Long Lake, at their cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Amab Akey are also visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Akey, Long Lake.

Mrs. W. J. MacLaurin and children have returned home after spending a few days at their cottage at Mazinaw Lake.

Wesley Struble Preparing For 50-Mile Swim

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Wesley Struble of Rochester, N.Y., is expected here tonight to prepare for a 50-mile swim across Lake Ontario from Salmon Point to Rochester. He has set no definite date for the attempt. Three companions will be with him. Arrangements have been made for the party to stay at the home of Stanley Rankin, Salmon Point fisherman.

Struble, 29, has swum the 38 miles along New York State barge canal from Albion to Rochester in 20 hours. Swimming is a hobby of the salesman.

Swimmer Suffers Brain Injury In Deep Dive

PICTON — Condition of Miss Nellie Vanduren, who is a patient in Kingston General Hospital, suffering from a brain injury, is reported improved today. The 27-year-old girl was swimming in the Outlet river. She dived from a low diving board into 12 feet of water. Coming to the top she struggled until she reached shallow water and then collapsed. She was unconscious from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday morning and is still unable to explain what happened. Hundreds of bathers use the spot and no sunken objects are reported.

Norsemen Forced To Land Due To Lack of Fuel

EDMONTON (CP) — A commercial Stinson aircraft, winging on the Eastern Airway radar screen, was forced to land today after being stranded on an island in the Northwest Territories like the lack of fuel.

Officials of Associated Airways Ltd. said the plane made a forced landing Sunday with three men aboard when it used up most of its gasoline bucking strong winds.

The landing was made 20 miles east of Bathurst, about 1,000 miles northwest of here. Another commercial Norseman, piloted by Dave Ford, senior pilot and Yellowknife base manager, spotted the downed plane about noon Wednesday.

FUELED BY PLANE

The aircraft was fueled by the Norseman, which found it. The forced landing came on a 140-mile hop between Coworth Lake and Bathurst inlet. The plane left Yellowknife Sunday on a series of potential radio sites for the DEW radar line.

Operations manager Vern Simmonds said radio contact was made Monday night. He said pilot William McKinney, 28, outlined the situation and gave his general position.

Besides McKinney the four-man crew included a Stinson pilot, Smith, 22, of Yellowknife, an aircraft engineer, and a Mr. Beauvais, an American employed by Western Electric Co., contractors for the DEW line.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Best and Larry accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott on a trip to Algonquin Park over a recent week-end.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MAYBE YOU HAVEN'T ATTACHED THE PROBLEM RIGHT

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I have been married for two years—and it seems like fifty.

The first year, and a couple of months in the second, were wonderful, except that I had a baby who died. But my husband and I lived very happily together.

Then, all of a sudden, he seemed to change completely. He complains about everything I do, likes to go to bars, and if I object, he says it's his worry. He doesn't kiss me or show me any affection. I'm just like a maid who cooks and cleans for him.

I've tried getting down and talking to him, and he doesn't say anything. I've already told him that if he goes into bars, so will I, and he says "Go ahead." If I tell him that I am losing my love for him, he says "All right." He tells me that he still cares for me and doesn't go out with other women, but that I am true, what is the problem?

When I was married, I had a lot of clothes and he didn't have a thing, so all this time we've been married I have bought everything for him. I haven't minded doing it, but now when I see what is happening, I feel bad.

If you think that there must be two sides to every story, let me tell you that except for going shopping a couple of days a week, I have come home all the time. I don't work because I am not well. I would do some kind of work at home but I can't find any.

Now, with my husband the way he is, I feel that I'm going to crack up. I am getting sick and can't eat or sleep. None of our friends or relatives can imagine what is happening to him. He has changed so much. To me, it is a nightmare.

What can I do? I can't stand living like this, yet if I leave him, I have no one. Please help me if you can. L.R.T.

Dear L.R.T.: You say you have tried to discuss this situation with your husband but got nowhere. I wonder just how you have gone at it. Have you cried and begged and reproached him? Told him he was making you sick and that you were going to crack up if he didn't behave differently? In other words, have you attempted to talk with him from an emotional angle? I suspect they have, and if so, I'm not surprised that they came to nothing.

Under the best of circumstances, emotional scenes are hard for anyone to take, whether justified or not. And if the target of the scene is a person who has not been doing the right thing, and is being accused and berated, it's a awful waste of time, breath and emotional energy. In fact, it just makes everything worse.

On the other hand, if you could exert enough control over yourself to talk calmly with your husband, you might really accomplish something. For example, if instead of blaming him for everything that is wrong, you could say quietly that you are sure he realizes things are not right between you and you have been wondering if there is something in which you are at fault, he might open up and say something that would throw a lot of light on the problem. He may be keeping things to himself that he would welcome an opportunity to get off his chest. If it could be done without bringing about an emotional crisis on your part. Then, if you could keep it all on this quiet level, you might talk it all over and go far toward straightening out the trouble. Don't you think that might be worth a try?

You speak of being at home so much of the time. Haven't you any friends with whom you could go out, or who would come and see you? If not, I think it would help you a great deal to begin making some. You live in a good-sized city, and close to a very large one, and there are many ways you

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

FEET CAN BE GLAMOROUS, TOO

Do as well by your toenails as you would by your fingernails and you will go a long way toward having pretty feet. You'll have to take care of your feet, of course, massaging them regularly, keeping them clad in comfortable shoes and keeping their skin texture soft and smooth as the skin on the rest of your body. But if you will give your feet a pedicure once a week and give it the same importance you give your manicure, you'll add that "extra touch" which makes for the real prettiness that, especially in these days of sandals and open-toed shoes, attract the masculine eye.

Browned, well-groomed feet, with blushing matching that on the hands, have always had an irresistible fascination for the male animal—possibly because he sees so few well-groomed feet.

To give yourself a pedicure the way the professionals do it, start by removing all traces of old polish. Then start working on your left foot. File the nails straight across—never into the corners or you may invite ingrown nails. After filing, smooth off the tips with an emery board. Now buff the nails, but in one direction only. Buffing back and forth too vigorously may injure the nails. The next step is to soak the foot in warm soapy water while you are filing and buffing the nails on the right. Soak the right foot in turn and, while doing so, massage nail cream around the nails of the left. Next, dampen a bit of cotton with cuticle remover, wrap around an orangewood stick and, with the stick, push the cuticle back very gently. Do the same thing to the right foot, then, with a nail brush, scrub the toes of both feet to remove all traces of cream. You are now ready to apply your polish. Take small pieces of cotton and place them between the toes to separate them so that the enamel will not smear. Use a base coat first and then apply two coats of polish. Finish off with a protective seal.

One more tip: To prevent cutting around the toenails from becoming too heavy or growing too close to the nail, make it a habit after your daily bath, to push it back gently with a towel. Or you might, now and then, use an orange stick tipped with cuticle cream for the purpose.

could make new friends and acquire fresh interests that would give you a whole new outlook on life and keep you from so much lonely brooding over your problems.

You say, too, that you would like to work at home, but haven't been able to find anything to do. Well, if you have any skills at all, it's quite possible that you might be able to make some money at home on your own. A great many women are doing this.

If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope so that I can reach you personally, I'll forward to you a list of books that describe dozens of ways women are earning at home today.

Think over these things that I have said. They offer you a practical way to make at least a start on working out your problem. And you have something specific to report, let me hear from you again. There are further suggestions I would like to give you if you really do something about these first ones.

INSTITUTE ENJOYS TRIP

Last Thursday, some 39 Hillier Institute members and friends went by bus by way of Port Hope, passing through Woodbridge where hurricane "Hazel" had left so much destruction. Stopping at Guelph for a picnic lunch at the Experimental Farm, a guide was furnished who showed them the animals, buildings and flowers.

The bus arrived at Stratford in the early evening, which was the objective of the trip to see the Shakespearean play "The Merchant of Venice".

The Shakespearean Garden was also viewed and many other places of interest. Swans had been brought from England for this festival and were much admired.

Some of the members stayed at the Y.W.C.A. and some in private homes.

The genial bus driver had grips and parcels packed by nine o'clock next morning and the members were on their way home travelling by way of Galt to Hamilton where grain in that district was cut by the binder. Large straw stacks were seen in many farm fields and the large long stone fences, showing hard work of past generations.

They visited many gardens and greenhouses and arrived in Hamilton where they saw the sights of the city and the visited the stores, until three p.m. Later they travelled over the Queen Elizabeth Highway to Toronto, where the company stopped for refreshments, then on home.

They are planning a trip for 1956.

The women all thanked Mrs. Delbert Boyle, convener of the committee, for a well-planned trip.

Mrs. Walter Forsythe is visiting her daughter and family in Toronto.

A Summer Apple Pie

By Mary Moore

By the time this reaches the print stage I hope it will be out of date with a drop in temperature.

To keep from sticking to the paper as I write, and the keys as I type I'm downstairs in our "rec" room with the fan on and not much else but a halter and shorts. Everywhere else it is 95 deg. In my kitchen it is higher because I'm baking an apple pie.

The occasion that it is for will interest you I believe. One June 16th when the Canadian Women's Press club junket arrived by BOAC plane at Prestwick in Scotland, they were met by Anna Smith, a representative of the British Travel Agency. Anna stayed with the girls (we three met them at Edinburgh) on their bus trip to London via the lake country, Chester, Stratford-upon-Avon and Oxford. We became admirers and friends of Anna's and she confided that that trip was her last assignment with BTA for on June 23, she was sailing for Canada and new adventures.

Can you imagine a perfect group for tea to meet on the eve of her departure for Canada? Everyone of those Canadian girls gave her their address and firm promises of any kind of help she needed. They came through too. She is now working on one of Canada's largest newspapers. To night she is to have dinner at my sister's home and I am taking an apple pie for dessert made as follows:

SUMMER APPLE PIE

I used 8 Melba apples for a 9-inch pie but you can use Duchess or Yellow Transparent if you like. Pastry: (This is given in detail for Mrs. H. McI. who says she is having trouble with hers—see column of Saturday August 20). Two cups unsifted but not packed all-purpose flour, 2-3 cup best quality shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, exactly 4 level tablespoons cold water. Cut shortening into flour and salt with pastry blender until it resembles oatmeal in size. Sprinkle 1 tablespoon water over surface and cut it in with a knife. Do this 1 tablespoon at a time until 1 tablespoon of water into ball. Press half of pastry into ball. Twelve palms and roll out with deft strokes on lightly floured board to fit 9-inch pie plate. Fold over to facilitate lifting and line pie plate with it and trim off edges evenly with knife. Pars and slice summer apples—8 apples measuring about 2-1/4 inches in diameter—into the pastry-lined plate. Sprinkle with about 1-1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg and 1-2 cup granulated sugar—no more for you do not want to bury the lovely new apple flavor in a sickening sweet syrup of sugar. Roll out top crust with remaining dough—handling the pastry as little as possible—and fold over. Gash along fold with sharp knife (to allow steam to escape and juice to bubble through). Fit over apples and top of pie, fastening edge of bottom crust to seal it better. Press edges of pastry together, trim off overlapping pastry, press edges together with fork or between thumb and finger. Put in oven of 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and brush top with mixture of 1 tablespoon each sugar and milk, return to oven and reduce heat to 375 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes longer—or until crust is golden and juice is bubbling slightly through gashes. Mine will be served cold but it is good too served slightly warm—with cheese of course. Does anybody in this audience know how to make genuine Devonshire or Cornish cream?

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

BRIDE'S HANDSOME WEDDING PRESENT TO GROOM

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Don't I remember that I've read in your column that it's proper for a bride-to-be to give the groom-to-be a wedding present, and that you approve of this "gesture" I'd give my Peter a really good wedding present, lasting and something I can have nicely monogrammed. We are both enthusiastic about silver, and his sister, a long-time friend of mine (she is to be one of my bridesmaids) happened to say the other day that Peter had said he was going to buy himself a pair of silver-backed military brushes to take on our wedding trip. So would you think it would be a good idea for me to give him these as my wedding present to him, and have them properly monogrammed? If you approve when should I give them to him? Edna L.

A wonderful plan, this one of yours, thoughtful and generous. Indeed it's proper for the bride-to-be to give a wedding present to the groom-to-be, and you're fortunate to know what your Peter would find most useful and acceptable. The pair of military brushes would be an excellent present, silver-backed, as you say, and, please, of completely simple design. Have them handsomely engraved with heavy block initials (not in monogram form for a man); or on the plain silver back you would, I am sure, have space enough for "To" followed by his initials and "From" followed by your initials, and then, either underneath or in the lower right corner, the date of the wedding. (As a matter of fact, it's very practical to use a generous amount of engraving on plain silver surfaces like these brush-backs as then they are not easily scratched.)—I advise you buy and present to him your wedding present to your groom-to-be as soon as possible, so you'll be ahead of his buying the brushes he has in mind. As a matter of fact, it might be wise to tell him your plan... there's no reason it should be a surprise present.

JUNIOR BRIDESMAID AND JUNIOR USHER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My daughter will be married soon. She is decided about having a maid of honor and two bridesmaids. Also she would like to have her 12-year-old brother as a junior usher. Is this correct? And would it also be correct to have an 11-year-old girl as a junior bridesmaid, to walk down the aisle with the junior usher?—Mother

It would be quite all right to have the 11-year-old girl as a junior bridesmaid... but she shouldn't be chosen only for the idea of having a "partner" for the bride's young brother to talk with in the Recessional. If there is a junior bridesmaid, she walks alone in the Processional, after the ushers and before the adult bridesmaids, and in the Recessional she walks alone before the pairs of bridesmaids and ushers (or, if they do not walk in pairs, she walks alone before the pair of bridesmaids).

The bride's 12-year-old brother may be called a junior usher, and if the bride and groom wish, he may be given the honor of escorting you, his mother, up the aisle just before the procession starts, and down the aisle (your husband following) after the Recessional.

SHOULD ACKNOWLEDGE WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have received the formal announcement of a wedding that took place about a month ago. Enclosed was an "At Home" card. The woman who married was a widow and a grandmother. What is the proper thing to do when one receives a wedding announcement?—R.F.

It is the way-of-courtesy to make some acknowledgment of the announcement which was thoughtfully sent to us. If you are a friend of the bride and groom, or of either, you would naturally write a friendly note thanking them for sending you the Happy News. And telling them "Every good wish for your happiness, always." If you are a friend, or an acquaintance, you still should write a note of good wishes, even though a brief one... to register your politeness.

in the exciting DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT!

Mr. R. J. Watson, 6 Yorkview Drive, Willowdale, Ontario, was the lucky winner of $4,000 in last week's DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT. Mr. Watson won $3,000 by answering his telephone with the words "Dominion Stores—Glide Liquid Laundry Starch," and also qualified for the additional bonus prize of $1,000 by having a Glide label and a Dominion Store cash register receipt in his possession. Other calls were made Saturday night to Brighton, Hamilton, Peterborough, Kingston, Windsor, Brantford and Campbellford.

You can win $2,000 this week in the DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT. First, find the "Phantom Famous Brand" listed on this page but not illustrated. Next, if your telephone rings between 8 and 9 o'clock E.D.T. next Saturday evening, DO NOT ANSWER HELLO or you will be automatically disqualified from an opportunity to win $2,000.

Instead of answering HELLO, say "DOMINION STORES" and then state the name of this week's "Phantom Famous Brand." If you do, and it is the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calling, you will win the Grand Prize of $1,000.

$1,000 BONUS! If you win the Grand Prize and have in your home at the time a box top or label from this week's "Phantom Famous Brand" (or a reasonable facsimile) PLUS a Dominion cash register slip dated this week and totalling $5.00 or more, you will qualify for a bonus prize of $1,000.

$100 CONSOLATION PRIZES! If the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calls your telephone number and you make the mistake of answering HELLO, but can still name this week's "Phantom Famous Brand," you will qualify for a consolation prize of $100.

GRAND PRIZE MUST BE WON! If this week's Grand Prize is not won on Saturday night, it will be added to next week's Grand Prize of $1,000. This will be repeated if necessary until someone wins the accumulated Grand Prize.

Employees and agents of Dominion Stores Limited and their families are not eligible for this contest.

Atomic Workers In Soviet Union Get Short Hours

GENEVA (CP) — Many atomic workers in the Soviet Union are getting a six-hour day and a month's vacation with pay — unprecedented in that country — as part of a plan to guard their health from radiation, a Russian scientist told the atoms-for-peace conference Wednesday.

Dr. A. A. Letavet said these workers also get their vacations at bargain rates if they spend them in sanatoriums or rest homes. Letavet said that not all Russian atomic workers get the six-hour day and longer vacation time — just those on certain jobs where the radiation standard might be exceeded. These included workers on nuclear reactors or atom-smashing research machines, and on certain jobs using radioactive isotopes.

NEW MINE SMELTER

A 500-foot stack rises above the smelter where a new $30,000,000-a-year copper-mining industry is getting into operation at Murdochville, in the Gaspé peninsula of Quebec. Copper is to be taken from Needle Mountain, rising in the background. Other buildings house the concentrator, offices and other structures needed in the big operation. (CP Photo).

RICH NEW MINING AREA

The new mining town of Murdochville, Que., lies in what was five years ago part of the Gaspé wilderness. This map shows the location of the town, named after James Y. Murdoch, president of Noranda Mines Ltd., and its subsidiary, Gaspe

Copper Mines Ltd. When in full operation, the mine is expected to produce 42,000 tons of copper a year, worth $30,000,000. Transmission lines under the St. Lawrence River will carry power to the huge enterprise and also supply the power-short Gaspé peninsula. (CP Photo).

Gigantic Copper Mine and Townsite Carved Out of Wilderness in Gaspé Peninsula

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

MURDOCHVILLE, Que. (CP) — Five years ago this town was a wilderness, traversed only by trails diamond drillers and woodsmen. Today it is the centre of a great new mining industry. Some 2,000 people live here, probably 4,000 will be here within a couple of years, and the 25-square-mile townsite is laid out for 10,000.

Copper did it—a mountain of copper on which $10,000,000 has been spent in creating a mine which went into production in April and which provides a payroll of around $50,000 weekly. When in full operation the mine is expected to produce 42,000 tons of copper yearly, worth, at 35 cents a pound around $30,000,000, compared with a total Canadian production in 1954 of 303,000 tons.

NEW COMMUNITY

The copper is in Needle Mountain—which doesn't look like a needle except for a sort of pimple on top—and beside the mountain are the big mining structures to process its ores, the concentrator, smelter with 500-foot stack, offices and a miscellany of other buildings. A mile away the residential area is laid out in neat blocks.

Town and copper are in Quebec's Gaspé peninsula, a chunky area 578 miles around and nearly 100 miles across, bounded on the north by the wide mouth of the St. Lawrence river, on the east by the Gulf of St. Lawrence and on the south by the Bay of Chaleur and New Brunswick.

Two new, good gravel roads, built by Quebec's department of mines, lead out, one 27 miles to Anse Pleureuse on Gaspé's north coast and one 62 miles to the town of Gaspe on the east coast.

The industry is the creation of Gaspe Copper Mines Ltd., subsidiary of Noranda Mines Ltd., big northern Quebec copper producer, and the town is named after James Y. Murdoch, president of Noranda and of Gaspe copper.

Legend says Jacques Cartier or Samuel de Champlain's men took samples of Gaspé's ore to France, but whether or not the ore existed in paying grade and quantity remained a 500-year question.

VAULT RESERVES

Copper mountain, which adjoins Needle Mountain, drew first attention because of surface indications, and Alfred Miller, forest ranger and prospecting enthusiast who still lives in the Gaspé, drew first serious attention to the area in the early 1920s.

In 1938 Noranda Mines went in diamond drilled, stopped during the war and started again afterwards. The result was to establish existence in Needle Mountain of 67,000,000 tons of low-grade ore estimated to average 1.3 per cent copper, but reported to be running higher on current production. Two per cent would mean 40 pounds of copper to the ton of ore.

Modern methods of mining, concentrating and smelting, plus increased world demand, made this a commercial proposition.

TRAINED WORKERS

In 1951 Gaspe Copper Mines was formed and in February, 1952, W.G. Brissenden, now assistant manager came in with 12 experienced miners from Timmins, Ont.

They found about 50 men—diamond drillers, exploration men and carpenters—a few bunkhouses, a small cookery and 18 feet of snow.

The Timmins men quickly became foremen and trainers as their force expanded into hundreds drawn from the fishermen and wood cutters of the Gaspé coast and the attack on Needle Mountain was on.

In June gangs of men from Foundation Company of Canada came in to start work on mining buildings and townsite.

TUNNELS AND SHAFTS

Murdochville is nearly 1,900 feet above sea level and Needle Mountain rises 1,100 feet above the surface. In 3½ years here is what miners and construction men have done to them:

At the Murdochville level an adit, or tunnel, penetrates 1,000 feet into the mountain and at the end of it a shaft sinks downward 800 feet. Running off from the shaft at various levels are tunnels into the ore body, which is mined by the "room and pillar" method; that is, the ore is cut out to form large rooms and pillars of ore are left standing to keep the mine from collapsing.

Running off from the bottom of the shaft are mighty chambers hewn out of the rock, with ceilings up to 60 feet high.

These chambers house giant "jaw crushers" whose steel jaws, moving in a cud-chewing motion, smash rocks weighing up to a quarter of a ton into four-inch pieces; and "cone crushers" which reduce the four-inch pieces to less than an inch.

GRAVITY METHOD

From the working levels ore passages are cut through the rock to connect with the bottom level so that the ore may be carried down to the crushers by gravity. Even ore from an open-pit operation at the mountain's top will take the gravity route, so that all ore will be crushed underground.

The ore goes from the cone crushers to a 2,200-foot conveyor belt, one of the longest in the world, which carries it to the surface along a 19-degree slope for a total lift of some 700 feet. The conveyor tunnel measures about nine feet square and also carries a flight of stairs, air lines and high tension cable. The belt delivers the ore to a concentrator building. There it is further crushed by rod and ball crushers and then mixed with water until it looks like a grey, muddy fluid.

FLOTATION PROCESS

Then, through a flotation process copper concentrate rises to the surface and, as perhaps 20 to 25 per cent copper or better, is sluiced off in one direction while waste matter goes off in another.

At present the concentrates are being stockpiled until the smelter goes into operation, probably later this year. The smelter will then smelt the concentrates into about 99 per cent copper, after which it will be sent to Canadian Copper Refiners Ltd., another Noranda subsidiary, at Montreal.

Power for the smelter will come from the north shore of the St. Lawrence, from Pointe de Manicouagan near Bale Comeau, 32 miles by cable under the St. Lawrence river to Les Bouches, east of Matane, and then 140 miles by transmission tower. The power was expected by last October, but cable troubles have delayed it.

FLUID WASTE

Disposal of waste materials is a major job in itself. At present the mine produces about 2,000 tons of ore a day but later will produce 6,500 tons.

Even at a high average of up to two per cent copper each day's production will be about 125 tons of copper and more than 6,000 tons of waste.

Waste from the concentrator, still in fluid form, is piped some four miles to a settling-basin area nearly a mile square, where the muddy fluid pours out through a series of holes in the pipe. By raising the pipes as required the waste can build up and up, perhaps as much as 100 feet in places. However, the present settling area will take care of the problem for only 10 to 15 years.

The smelter will produce 300 tons of waste slag per day and this will be taken in molten form by railway car to another disposal basin.

SPECIAL FEATURES

John B. Watts, chief mining engineer of Gaspe copper, describes some of the mine features as follows:

First copper producer in Canada to project such a large starting milling capacity—6,500 tons compared with a usual 1,000 to 2,000 tons.

Concentrator designed in two segments which can be run independently. Capacity could be doubled by doubling the power on the conveyor belt to 1,200 horsepower.

One of perhaps two mines in Canada with Diesel-mechanized underground equipment such as trucks and loaders.

Open pit workings at the top, in addition to containing copper, also provide silica flux needed in smelting.

And, Mr. Watts added wryly, it is the mine with probably the most snowfall, some 20 feet each winter.

Concurrently with development of the mine and its buildings, the residential town came into being a mile away—streets, water, sewer, hospital, hotel, stores and houses.

Expressed in money: The 1954 annual report of Noranda Mines showed advances to Gaspe Copper Mines at Dec. 31 of $37,129,290. The 1954 annual report of Gaspe Copper Shows $35,278,000 spent at Dec. 31 as follows:

Mill (or concentrator) $6,151,000; smelter $4,893,000; other buildings and equipment $6,805,000; underground development and mining $4,293,000; townsite development and housing $4,273,000; indirect and other charges $5,070,000; administration and general expenses $1,684,000; cost of financing $2,217,000.

Newfoundlander Starts 111th Year With Big Party

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Thomas Sugg had a big grin for everybody Tuesday as well-wishers gathered around him and a monster birthday cake to congratulate him on the start of his 111th year.

His 110th birthday was Tuesday but the party was held up a day because of a local holiday. He is considered the oldest white man in the British Commonwealth.

His chief enjoyment now is smoking a pipe. He is confined to bed but has his faculties and is in good health.

His birthday present was a new pipe and a supply of tobacco. He lost some teeth during 110 years of living but still has enough to hold his pipe.

Mr. Sugg has no known relatives.

FROST NAMES TWO

The announcement, made by the premier at a press conference, ended months of speculation concerning cabinet changes. Queen's Park observers had been anticipating a shuffle since the election. Premier Frost said the province's 25th legislature faces a period of continuing expansion and change, with living standards following the economic betterment of Ontario and Canada.

"The latter is dependent upon the increasing financial strength of our country, and the capacity of the economy as a whole to produce and earn and market our goods, and upon the productivity of our province and our people," he said. "The changes I now announce are designed to enable the government and the legislature to meet the requirements of the coming year when, as I have said, every effort of the people and the government must be devoted to stimulating sound development and productivity in our province."

DUTIES INCREASED

The premier said during the six years he has headed the government the duties of the premier have increased. During the 12 years he had been treasurer the business of the province has expanded fourfold in revenues and expenditures. Growth was to the extent that the treasury required the full time and consideration of a minister, he said. Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver said he had no fault to find with the new appointments but one —that of Mr. Roberts. "It appears that promotion comes quickly to those willing to defend the government in time of crisis," the Liberal leader commented.

BOYCOTTED IT

Mr. Roberts was chairman of the legislature's select committee investigating irregularities in highways department contracts last year. Mr. Oliver, a committee member, boycotted it when government members refused to call 11 witnesses the opposition sought to question. Mr. Dunbar took advantage of Wednesday's press conference to squelch rumors that ill health may soon force him to retire from the cabinet.

The minister said there is nothing wrong with his heart. His illness in the last year was due entirely to an attack of pneumonia and its after-effects.

16-Year-Old Girl Said Youngest Pilot in Canada

PICTON — Helen Bradley, 16, is believed to be the youngest woman pilot in Canada. Daughter of Mel Bradley, chief flying instructor of Prince Edward County Flying Club, at Picton, she made her solo flight yesterday. Previously she had flown ten hours when she was accompanied by her father as pilot and instructor.

She will have another twenty hours' solo flying before completing her training as an airplane pilot and she cannot receive her pilot's licence until she is seventeen next October 28. Student at Prince Edward Collegiate Helen enters her final year next month.

Mel Bradley formerly served with the RCAF and RCME. He has held a pilot's licence since 1939.

Following collegiate graduation Helen plans to become a nurse, training at Ottawa Civic Hospital, she hopes. She is one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley.

Open-Air Concerts Still Popular

The Sunday Night Open Air Concert at Crowe River Bridge was smaller this week, owing to several other band concerts. However, all were glad Hurricane Connie was not present at the concert.

The following is the program: Welcome by Mrs. Don Kerr, Master of Ceremonies, and Mr. Harry Bourne, Picnic Grounds owner. Theme Song, "Come to the Church in the Wildwood." Several numbers by the Madoc and Community Brass Band. Community Singing, under the leadership of Mr. Aylmer Petherick, "Joy Bells," "I Am Thine, O Lord," "What a Fellowship," and "Take the Name of Jesus With You." Mrs. Petherick was organist for these choruses, by the "Rylstone Merry Maids" Girls Club, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are" and "Dear Hearts and Gentle People," with Mrs. A. Petherick as accompanist. Vocal Solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Sylvia," by Eidon Petherick. Ladies Quartet, "By Quiet Waters," and "No Love Like Thine," by Misses Fernie Tinney, Elizabeth Barnum, Harriet Fry, and Grace Pierce. Group Singing, under the direction of Mrs. Earnest Irwin, Juniors, "Jesus Loves Me," led by Darlene and Barbara Burritt, Intermediates, "The Old Rugged Cross," led by the Quartet, consisting of Gordon Osborne, Eidon Petherick, Earl Owens, and Bob Tinney. Hymns by the Madoc and Community Band, "Abide With Me," "Sun of My Soul," and "The Sands of Time are Sinking." Seniors, "There is a Fountain," led by the men's trio, Earnest Stoggett, Earnest Irwin and Aylmer Petherick.

The Band closed the program with a few marches and God Save the Queen. The program next Sunday will be supplied by the Rylstone and Stanwood communities. Havelock Pipe Band will also supply music for the evening. Owing to the earlier darkness, it is planned to start the concert at 7.45 instead of 8.00 as before. There will only be one more concert, after this one. The concert on Sunday evening, August 28 will be "Neighbors' Night," when the surrounding communities, some of which have been unable to help out in the earlier concerts, will take part.

Adult Leaders Badly Needed

TORONTO (CP) — Lady Baden-Powell, chief of the World Girl Guide movement and widow of the founder of the scout and guide movements, said Wednesday the spread of scouting ideals is everywhere being held up by lack of adult leaders.

"We could double our members tomorrow if we had more leaders," said the pioneer of the movement who is visiting Girl Guide officials here before attending the opening of the world jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

PLANS HOT ACTION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former president Truman is planning a give-em-hell speechmaking campaign aimed at helping return the Democratic party to the White House. The former president said Wednesday the Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower or any other Republican candidate in 1956 by starting early and "taking the issues to the people" in every state.

Dark, dreary days depress canaries, too. They just don't feel like singing. But now—good news for canary coloratura! If they'll arrange to have the bottom of their cages lined with aluminum, they'll sing through the darkest day. The light reflected from the sparkling metal foil gives their souls that springtime lift.

People find endless household uses for aluminum foil. So does industry—for everything from fire-fighting clothing to photo-flash bulbs, to wrapping for candy and food. Canada used 8 million pounds of foil last year.

W.I. Holds Grandmothers' Meeting

IVANHOE — The August meeting of Ivanhoe W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Downey on Wednesday afternoon with 21 members and six visitors and six children present.

The meeting was opened by the president in the usual manner by community singing with Mrs. Keith Bray at the piano.

As this was "Grandmothers' Week", the convener, Mrs. Willeming, opened the program with a poem "Grandmother's Day" with a motto "The beauty of the face may fade, but the beauty of the soul grows more beautiful".

An interesting account of the history of Ivanhoe and West Huntingdon, was given by Miss Jayne Gay.

A chorus was given by all the grandmothers present.

A prize given to the grandmother with the largest waistline went to Mrs. Phillip McAvoy. Mrs. C. Grass Sr. was the grandmother with the smallest foot.

An apple contest was conducted by Mrs. Percy Downey.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Downey and her assistants.

Heavy Schedule For Russ Experts

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian tour of the 12 Soviet farm experts, to start Aug. 25, will be spread over at least four provinces and will include visits to the big annual Toronto and Ottawa exhibitions.

The itinerary, as outlined by the agriculture department today, will include visits to Ontario and Quebec fruit and dairy farms and agricultural colleges, and a glimpse of Manitoba and Saskatchewan grain harvesting and research sights.

The Soviet delegation, due in Montreal Aug. 25, will spend the next few days visiting Quebec province, then will fly west.

TO VISIT LAKEHEAD

They will fly to the Lakehead Sept. 1 for a glimpse of the big grain elevators and shipping activities.

From there they go to Windsor, Ont., to begin a tour of the Chatham farming area Sept. 2. They will drive through southern Ontario Sept. 3, see Niagara Falls, the Niagara fruit belt and the agricultural college at Guelph.

On Labor Day, Sept. 5, they will visit the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and the following day tour farm machinery and packing plants in the Ontario capital.

A train will take them to Ottawa Sept. 6 and they likely will remain there until Sept. 9. They will return to Moscow via New York.

Truckload of Melons Headed for Alaska

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. (CP) — Two Alabamians headed through this Peace River district for Alaska with ten tons of watermelons. J. W. Hamburg and Don Watts of Foley, Ala., estimate their trailer-truck contained 700 melons.

The melons are to be sold in Fairbanks on a trip which is a combined business and pleasure jaunt. Having heard that melons may bring up to 19 cents a pound in Alaska, they felt they will be well rewarded at the end of their 3,000-mile journey.

TENNIS STAR DROWNED

LUEBECK, Germany (AP) — Vladimir Jacec, 21-year-old Yugoslav Davis Cup tennis player, was believed to have drowned in high waves 30 yards off the Baltic beach Friday. Police tried in vain in the rough seas to come close to the point where Jacec was reported by a Yugoslav fellow tennis player to have gone down while swimming.

Solemn Code of Conduct For U.S. Prisoners of War Laid Down by Eisenhower

By C. YATES McDaniel
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military code calls on every captured American fighter man to withstand enemy pressure to the most, and to avoid at all costs disclosure of vital military information and disloyalty to his country or his comrades.

Drawing on experiences in the Korean war, it recognizes that physical and mental torture can force a man to the breaking point. It proposes idealistic standard and indoctrination to keep that breaking point high.

President Eisenhower proclaimed the new code Wednesday and directed the military services to train all men to stand up to it.

The code holds to the loftiest ideals of bravery, but recognizes, as Gen. John E. Hull phrased it, that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him."

Hull, one-time supreme commander in the Far East, was vice-chairman of a committee of retired officers and civilian officials who drew up the code and an accompanying report.

It officially relaxes for the first time the old requirement that a man give his captors only his name, rank and serial number. It calls on him to avoid answering other questions "to the utmost of his ability."

NO DISLOYALTY

The report says he should stand "on the final line of resistance to the end—no disclosure of vital military information and above all no disloyalty in word or deed to his country, his service or his comrades."

The framers of the code drew on the advice and personal experience of many experts, including Americans who survived the worst that the Communists could do to them in Korea. The committee rejected as impractical the "Spartan code of silence" that would demand of a prisoner that he say absolutely nothing to his captors.

The committee also rejected the advice of some who advocated either letting prisoners tell as much as they wanted to and others who would encourage prisoners to talk a lot but say nothing.

The report criticized the actions and failures of some Korean war prisoners who "failed to keep the faith," but said that on the whole those taken prisoner "cannot be faulted."

Of 7,199 American servicemen captured in the Korean war, 2,730, or 38 per cent, died in enemy camps. Of the survivors, only a maximum of 192, or one out of 22, were "suspected of serious misconduct." More than that percentage of American civilians is charged with crime, the report noted.

Under the new code of conduct each member of the United States forces will pledge:

1. "I am an American fighting man. I serve in the forces which guard my country and our way of life. I am prepared to give my life in their defence."
2. "I will never surrender of my own free will. If in command I will never surrender my men while they still have the means to resist."
3. "If I am captured I will continue to resist by all means available. I will make every effort to escape and aid others to escape. I will accept neither parole nor special favors from the enemy."
4. "If I become a prisoner of war, I will keep faith with my fellow prisoners. I will give no information or take part in any action which might be harmful to my comrades. If I am senior, I will take command. If not I will obey the lawful orders of those appointed over me and will back them up in every way."
5. "When questioned, should I become a prisoner of war, I am bound to give only my name, rank, service number and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the utmost of my ability. I will make no oral or written statements disloyal to my country and its allies or harmful to their cause."
6. "I will never forget that I am an American fighting man, responsible for my actions, and dedicated to the principles which made my country free. I will trust in my God and in the United States of America."

In its report, entitled "The Fight Continues after the Battle," the committee said that the code of conduct may well be the code of all Americans "if the problem of survival should ever come to our own main streets."

WAS LE DROIT DIRECTOR

HULL, Que. (CP)—J. Victor Chabot, 82, a former director of Le Droit, Ottawa's only French language daily, and founder of a large wholesale grocery business, died Saturday. He founded a baseball club in 1925 which represented Hull in the International League for a few seasons, and was active in lacrosse and snowmobile circles.

Mother Makes Plea to Son to Return With Bank's Cash

Police are searching for Neil Dickson, 18, teller of a bank at Stratford, Ont., who has disappeared simultaneously with $35,000 from a bank strong box which was in his custody.

The mother, Mrs. James Dickson, has issued a distraught plea by radio to him to return with the $35,000 if he has it. (Central Press Canadian.)

10 Jet Fighters Set Two World's Records in Flight

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Ten F-84F jet fighters Wednesday set two world's records—one for time, one for non-stop mass flight distance—by streaking from England to Austin between breakfast and lunch.

The fighters—Thunderstreaks of Austin's 27th Strategic Fighter Wing—zoomed into Bergstrom air force base, just east of the city, Wednesday at 11:57 a.m. CST (1:57 p.m. EDT).

Ten hours and 48 minutes after they had taken off from Stratford air force base in the English midlands, 5,118 miles away. There is a time difference of six hours between England and Austin.

Average speed was 480 miles an hour but actually at times the jets flew much faster. The average was dropped by slowdowns for the in-air refuelling of the fighters by tanker planes. Some of the refuelling was carried out over the Atlantic.

The longest previous distance covered by jet fighters non-stop was 4,840 miles from Tokyo to Australia last May in 12 hours and two minutes.

Parents Given Six Months For Beating Children

CANASTOTA, N.Y. (AP)—A mother and father were sent to jail for six months Wednesday after two of their children were found beaten and lying on a bedspring with their hands tied.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hobart appeared in Madison county children's court on charges of physical neglect and abuse of minor children. Hobart, 35, an employee of a fertilizer firm, pleaded guilty. His wife entered no plea.

A policeman, called by neighbors who heard screams, found five-year-old Carol and four-year-old Donald Hobart in their tenement room Tuesday night about two hours after the parents had gone to a carnival.

Police reported that Carol said her father had beaten her with the refrigerator without permission. Carol's arms and back were covered with welts and cuts. Donald had cuts and welts on his back and puffed eyes and lips.

Judge Clarence E. Conley sentenced the parents to Onondaga county penitentiary and placed the Hobarts' four children in custody of the county welfare department.

HANDS BACK OIL

VIENNA (AP)—Soviet Russia Saturday handed back to Austria the fish Zlatosdorf oil fields, 28 oil refineries and 319 factories it had held since the end of the war.

Austrian workers took down huge red stars which had been mounted on Soviet orders on the tops of the installations, and hoisted red-and-white Austrian flags in their place.

Attorney General A. Kelso Roberts Born in Belleville

TORONTO (CP)—A. Kelso Roberts, fellow veteran of the First World War and a law school classmate of Premier Frost Wednesday was sworn in as Ontario's attorney-general and one of two new cabinet members.

In recommending the appointment to Lieutenant-Governor Louis O. Breithaupt, Premier Frost referred to Mr. Roberts as a fellow war veteran and classmate in the 1921 class at Osgoode Hall.

Premier Frost said Mr. Roberts was taken prisoner by the Germans in 1918 in the same battle that he, the premier, was wounded. They were serving with Allied forces trying to hold back the last desperate stand of the Germans.

Mr. Roberts, a Toronto lawyer, was born at Belleville and practised there and in northern Ontario for several years. His wife is the former Lillian F. Braithwaite of Blind River. They have three sons.

WAS CHAIRMAN

He was elected to the legislature in 1943. Last year, he was chairman of the legislature select committee which investigated the highways department and irregularities in highways contracts.

The other new minister sworn into the Ontario cabinet is the only United States-born member, Bryan L. Cathcart, 58, who has represented Lambton West in the legislature since 1943, becomes minister of travel and publicity.

He came to Canada from Spokane, Wash., with his parents at the age of one year. A retired merchant, he lives at Courtview, near Sarnia. He has a son and daughter.

Premier Frost, referring to Mr. Cathcart's appointment, said: "As a resident of one of Ontario's great ports of entry, he brings a wide knowledge of the tourist industry to this department."

Policy Must Be Aimed At Preventing War

GENEVA PARK, Ont. (CP)—A Canadian defence expert says any policy on thermonuclear weapons must be aimed at preventing a war rather than winning one.

C. M. Drury, formerly deputy minister of national defence, said at the Couchiching conference Wednesday that Canada's primary role in such a policy is to help the United States strategic air command become capable of retaliating against an enemy.

At the conference sponsored by the Canadian Institute in Public Affairs and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Mr. Drury said Canada should also aim at convincing any potential enemy that the country would not fall apart if a few atomic bombs were dropped.

Although he did not say whether long-range bombers to carry thermonuclear weapons are based in Canada, he did say Canada's part in any plan would involve guarding air bases for such bombers.

Mr. Drury also said a permanent voluntary force is superior to an army of conscripts because the professional force could be more highly trained. He said Canada's forces stationed in England are the envy of many countries where compulsory conscription programs are followed.

Defence Minister Declines Comment On B.C. Story

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Campney has declined immediate comment on a Vancouver report that for nine months he was a shareholder and director of a private company which owned a suburban Burnaby postal station now leased to the federal government.

The minister said that he might issue a statement on the matter after he has read the report published Tuesday by the Vancouver Sun.

The Sun identified the company as Como Investments, Ltd. It said Mr. Campney was one of its three directors and that he still owned the one-third issued shares of Como that he had when he was a director.

The newspaper quoted William Murphy, one of Mr. Campney's law partners, as saying it was a "company of errors" and that Mr. Campney knew nothing about the postal station or his Como directorship.

He said Mr. Campney had asked when he entered the federal cabinet in 1952 but by an oversight his name remained on the Como list.

BROTHER OF DALAI LAMA IN U.S.

Announcement that Dampa Rabche (left), elder brother of the Dalai Lama, had escaped from the Communists in Tibet a month ago is made as Rabche receives a visa to the United States. Delivering the papers in Tokyo, where he has been hiding, are Forest K. Greenken (centre), U.S. consul general, and Vice Consul Arthur Wortzel. A spokesman said Rabche would be admitted to the United States as a refugee and become a student. (Central Press Canadian.)

Armed Gunman Takes $5,000 Company Payroll

OTTAWA (CP)—An armed gunman Wednesday held up an executive of the Bruce Coal Company on the stairway of a mid-town office building and escaped with the company payroll estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

Police immediately spread a city-wide alarm for the robber, described as a tall, thin man about 30 years of age.

The man confronted company executive Stewart Bruce on the stairway as he carried the money in two briefcases on his way to the company's yards.

"I thought he was fooling," Bruce told police. "I said 'Stop fooling.' He said something like 'I'm not fooling, this is a holdup.' Then I saw the gun."

The gunman grabbed the two briefcases containing the payroll and rushed out of the building. Mr. Bruce pursued him but lost him in the afternoon crowds on Queen street.

Duke to Unveil Memorial To RCAF Dead

OTTAWA (CP)—The air force announced Wednesday that the names of 5,722 RCAF personnel killed in the Second World War are contained on a memorial which will be unveiled in York, Eng., Nov. 1 by the Duke of Edinburgh.

The memorial has been erected in the famous Yorkminster cathedral at York to honor more than 20,000 Allied airmen who died while operating out of northeastern England. Many of the Canadians belonged to the famed RCAF 6 bomber group.

The cathedral was selected as the site because its towers served as a familiar landmark to the thousands of airmen who flew in the area. Canada has shared in the cost of the memorial through voluntary contributions by RCAF personnel, members of the RCAF Association and private firms.

Seats will be available at the unveiling ceremony for next-of-kin of Canadians. They may be obtained by writing to the RCAF Association in Ottawa.

Labor Leader Criticizes Salary Given Gordon

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A labor leader said Wednesday night a recent $25,000 a year raise granted CNR President Donald Gordon "seems silly" in the light of the railroad's refusal to meet wage demands.

Don Northey, secretary of the London and District Trades and Labor Council, criticized the railroad president's $75,000 salary at the regular August meeting of the council.

Seaway Right On Schedule Says Chevrier

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—Lionel Chevrier, head of Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, said Wednesday that construction of the Canadian portion of the seaway was on schedule.

He qualified his statement by saying that some work was slightly behind and other phases ahead of schedule, but did not specify the work to which he referred.

"Over-all," he added, "we're right on schedule."

Some Canadian newspapers have criticized Chevrier, claiming that work on the $300,000,000 project was lagging. Chevrier said that land acquisition for the project had produced some snags. He did not elaborate.

Chevrier and a group of Canadian officials joined with U.S. engineers Wednesday in inspecting the seaway project. He said that work on the U.S. side was progressing at an "excellent" rate and added that co-operation between U.S. and Canadian administrators was "perfect."

Hunted Gunman Exchanges Shots With Detective

CHICAGO (AP)—A 26-year-old ex-convict, hunted for the killing of a detective Monday night, shot and wounded a rookie policeman in a gun fight Wednesday night in a movie theatre.

The slayer, believed wounded, fled from the theatre while some persons watched the movie. Several persons screamed as the policeman and the hunted gunman exchanged shots, but police said there was no panic.

Police, with top-ranking officers in charge, intensified their search for the gunman, whom they identified as Richard Carpenter. They said he killed detective William J. Murphy 34, in a gun battle in a subway station Monday night.

Nearly 50 officers were sent into the northwest-side district around the Biltmore theatre, where Wednesday night's gun fight between carpenter and policeman Clarence Kerr, 25, occurred.

"The gunman was Carpenter, and we know he is wounded," said Philip Bretzke, deputy commissioner. "He's somewhere around here, we know, and we'll get him."

Kerr was shot in the chest.

ATHENS (Reuters)—Philosophers and scholars from all over the world are in Greece to begin a week of ceremonies and conferences in honor of "The Father of Mathematics," the ancient Greek philosopher Pythagoras, who died 2,500 years ago. They will visit his birthplace in the island of Samos.

Attack on Roman Catholicism By Filipino Minister Jolts Unity-Preaching Convention

TORONTO (CP)—An attack on Roman Catholicism by a young Filipino minister jolted the unity-preaching world convention of the Churches of Christ (Disciples) here Wednesday.

Aurelio de Castro, of the United Christian Missionary Society in Manila, accused the Roman Catholic Church of trying to gain control of the Philippine government and people.

Before an audience of 8,000 delegates representing 32 countries he lashed out at Roman Catholicism "for keeping Filipinos in ignorance and slaves to ecclesiastical authority for more than 300 years."

He charged that superstition is still encouraged "to the advantage of power-hungry priests," and that the Church on the islands still maintains "indifference to the truth."

CONTRAST SHOWS

The speech by the slim pastor, who appeared in the national white costume of his country, sharply contrasted with Tuesday night's convention-opening speech of Toronto's Edgar G. Burton, layman president of the world convention.

Mr. Burton suggested his church take the lead in a new plan for unity among the Christian churches of the world.

A warning to guard the Christian education of children against the influx of communism was heard at Wednesday's sessions.

Dr. Nelson Chappel, general secretary of the World Council of Christian Education and Sunday School Association from New York, said Communists are only too well aware of the future value of young minds.

REALIZE POWER

The Communist youth movement, he said has been asked to preach anti-religious propaganda because Communists are beginning to realize the power of the church over youth.

Prime Minister Garfield Todd of Southern Rhodesia, a former New Zealand missionary outlined some of his mission work in Rhodesia. "We are very proud of the good relations which exist between the 1,800,000 Africans and the 163,000 Europeans in our country," he said. There had been no uprisings or massacres in his land for more than 60 years.

The current wave of religious revival got a searching appraisal by a Texas minister, who said he has some "misgivings" about its depth.

Rev. Lawrence W. Bash of Austin said there were more church members than ever before and more money donated to good works—"and Billy Graham continues to draw vast throngs—but are the morals of the people really improving, is our crime falling and are our taverns closing?"

Destroyer Escort Ship to Cost Twice Estimate

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says the first of Canada's 14 new anti-submarine destroyer escorts will cost about $15,000,000 when finished—almost twice its estimated cost.

The newspaper says the navy "frankly admits it underestimated construction time and cost and that plain bad judgment may have been partly to blame."

It quotes unidentified naval officials as saying, however, that the main reasons were that it was a completely new design of which there had been no previous experience, and that the program was concerned not only with building ships but laying down facilities for building others more quickly and cheaply should they be needed.

When the first contract was let in 1949, The Globe and Mail says, it was estimated that the cost would be about $8,000,000 a ship.

It says the St. Laurent, now undergoing builder's trials in the Lawrence river, will cost about $15,000,000 when finished.

CAMPBELLFORD

'Traffic Light' Parable Given At Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD — The Parable of the Traffic Light was the topic chosen by the Rev. Gordon Whitehorse, when he addressed the Campbellford Rotary club on Monday.

He began by making several observations concerning the traffic lights in general, commenting on their usefulness in the handling of present day traffic, and observed that they can be annoying, as well as useful. He pointed out how there are many lessons to be learned from this commonplace object.

WARNING SIGNAL

The red light is the signal for the motorist to stop, as in the physical sense, a pain or other indications warn a person to stop a strenuous way of life and take a rest. The red light of conscience serves to forbid from doing wrong, and finally the red light of death ends all earthly endeavors.

The amber reflector indicates a necessity for caution to the motorist whereas it advises a slow procedure and the weighing of our actions and words as applied to everyday living. As in a large radio station the tubes are warmed up long before the actual broadcasting begins, it is advisable to learn to stop and think before broadcasting ill-considered opinions or gossip. Mr. Whitehorse went on to say:

The green light means "all clear," signifying that the way is open. One should proceed forward with moderation however, with due regard to the rights of others, and not "race our motors" in an effort to beat everyone else to the gateway. "The green light within one's heart is the symbol of a conscience devoid of offence between man and God," the speaker said.

Rotary President Arn. Bright, expressed the thanks of the club to Mr. Whitehorse.

Canadian Pacific And TCA Swap Three Air Routes

OTTAWA (CP)—Three major air routes are being shuffled between Trans-Canada Air Lines and Canadian Pacific Airlines in the biggest Canadian deal of its kind in many years.

The cabinet Tuesday approved the transaction, which gives CPA a Canada-Mexico run in return for two franchises which that company holds in Quebec and Ontario.

Part of the exchange is that CPA will run a non-stop service between Toronto and Mexico City, replacing a TCA operation that now has a refuelling stop at Tampa, Fla. QUEBEC AND NORTH

For this, the publicly-owned TCA gets:

1. CPA's franchise between Montreal, Quebec City, Saguenay, Que., and Sept Iles, Que., the outlet for the Labrador iron ore development.

2. CPA's service between Montreal, Val d'Or, Que., Rouyn-Noranda, Que., and Toronto.

A by-product of the main swap is that Quebecair, an independent firm, takes over CPA's present service between Quebec City and Baie Comeau and Forestville on the lower St. Lawrence river, where Quebecair now flies extensively.

MUTUAL BENEFITS
The swap, approved by the air transport board before going to cabinet Tuesday, was described at Montreal by a TCA spokesman as being mutually beneficial.

TCA gets routes that blend well with existing services, he said. A government statement added that Trans-Canada will strengthen its northern air service and break into the Quebec area east of Montreal for the first time.

CPA's Toronto-Mexico link will tie in with its service that now goes from Vancouver to Lima, Peru by way of Mexico City. This will enable Toronto passengers to go as far as the west coast of South America by a single company.

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG — Mrs. George Walker, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Melvin Gadke, of Clifford, Ontario, has returned to her home here.

Dr. J. H. and Mrs. Dennison, Paul and Margaret of Fort William Ontario, also Mrs. W. A. Holbert were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Vance and family, on Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morton, Nancy and David, enjoyed a motor trip to St. Catharines, Ontario, last week.

The Rev. F. C. and Mrs. Beazer of Peterborough, Ontario, called on Miss Emma Porter on Tuesday last. Mr. Beazer is a former Rector of Roslin Parish.

The storm which followed hurricane Connie passed over the village on Saturday afternoon but no serious damage was reported. Hydro service was interrupted for some time and a few trees were blown down. The rain which accompanied the wind, was most welcome to everyone, although threshing operations will be halted for a few days.

Divine service was held in Christ

Church (Anglican) at 9:30 a. m. on Sunday.

Messrs. H. K. and Earl Morton, proprietors of Morton's Garage, and distributors of Ferguson tractors and farm implements, have their machinery on display at Belleville Fair, this week.

NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. Thomas Ball narrowly escaped being buried alive on Monday, August 15, as he and Mr. D. Walker were engaged in digging a trench for the installation of a drainage tile, at the rear of Mr. C. Adams' new residence, north of the village on highway No. 37, when the side suddenly caved in, completely burying him for a couple of minutes.

Fortunately, Mr. Walker, who gave the alarm, knew exactly where the victim was, and along with the men from the auto wreckers, reached him before he suffered any ill effects.

The Dept. of Lands and Forests rescue squad from their Tweed, Ontario, district headquarters, arrived on the scene in a matter of minutes with an inhalator which was, however, not needed.

All are sorry to report that Mrs. Harold A. Morton is confined to her home after suffering a nasty fall at her home on Saturday morning, also that Mrs. Charles Latchford is a patient in Belleville Hospital at present. Their many friends wish them a speedy return to good health.

Screw American League Race Even Has Four Top Managers Rattled

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By LAURIE BRAIN,

(Sports Editor, Galt Evening Reporter)

When friend George Carver invited us to do a spot of pinch-hitting in his regular space while he was off sunning himself in some secluded rendezvous, he said, "Write on any topic."

Well, the public prints are loaded these days about the torrid battle in the American Baseball League. Five teams are staging a merry old race to be on top when the curtain comes down about seven weeks hence.

It's a different story in the National where the Brooklyn Dodgers are so far in front it appears that nothing short of an atomic explosion in Flatbush will keep the World Series out of Ebbett's Field. And besides that, the Giants have run out of miracles and Sal Maglies.

Matter of fact, the only excitement in the senior circuit is centered on the second slot—which only gets you a small slice of the World Series' loot—and the duel for home run honors currently being fought among the Duke of Flatbush, Edwin D. Snider; Ernie Banks, the colored young phenom of the Chicago Cubs, and Ted Kluszewski of the Redlegs.

Only a week ago the long distance splashes were hogging the spotlight. The lady-of-the-lake, Marilyn Bell, once more captured the hearts of all Canadians with her successful swim across the English Channel.

Then there were countless tugs at the heartstrings when Shirley Campbell, after an epic struggle, was forced to give up her bid to emulate La Bell's Lake Ontario conquest—when less than two miles from her goal.

Down in Atlantic City, two more Canucks were bringing further honors to the Dominion. Tom Parks, of Hamilton, and Cliff Lumsden splashed over the finish line 10 minutes apart, after a gruelling 26-mile grind.

The football boys are at it again, with exhibition games being the order in the east and in the west.

The golf season has reached the championship stage. Moe Norman, who is practically a next-door neighbor of ours in nearby Kitchener, has won the Canadian Amateur title. Little Marlene Stewart, who makes a habit of grabbing golf laurels, did it again in the Canadian Women's Close championship. That's five in a row for the free-lance kid from Fonthill. And she makes it look easier every time out.

In a few weeks' time the hockey drums will be beating, but not in Galt, it seems. Junior A operators here have been forced to withdraw. And it wasn't so long ago that Galt and Belleville enjoyed a hockey tie-up. Now there aren't enough Junior A calibre players in the city to make one forward line.

Why that brings us up to boxing, we wouldn't know, unless it is the approaching heavyweight championship match between champion Rocky Marciano and aging Archie Moore.

Aging Archie figures to be the sentimental favorite in that one, but everything in the books points to the Brockton better to defend his title at New York, September 20.

First of all, the Rock has never been beaten in 48 fights and has won 42 by knockouts. Moore, on the other hand, has failed to win in 24 of his 144 fights which cover a span of almost 20 years. He has been knocked out four times, lost 13 decisions, lost twice on fouls and engaged in five draws.

Four fighters have faced both Marciano and Moore, namely Ezzard Charles, Art Henri, Ted Lowry and Phil Muscato. And here is where the Rock has his big margin.

Marciano won a one-sided decision over Charles the first time they fought, but flattened the former heavyweight champ the second time they met. Moore has fought Charles three times, losing by a decision twice and by a knockout. They went the 10-round distance in May of 1946 and in May, 1947, and in January of 1948 Charles won by a knockout in eight rounds.

Moore has also been knocked out by Eddie Brooker (1944), Jimmy Bivens (1945) and Len Morrow (1948.)

Both Marciano and Moore won 10-round decisions from Ted Lowry and both knocked out Phil Muscato, and Art Henri. The Rock polished off Muscato in five heats and Moore needed six. But where Marciano required nine rounds to get rid of Henri, Archie did it in four.

Age also is in Marciano's favor. He will have been 31 years old only 19 days when he enters the ring against Moore. The record book shows that Moore is 38 and will be 39 less than two months after fighting the Brockton Blockbuster.

That brings us to the end of our little contribution to Mons. Carver's corner. It's been nice visiting with you folks in Belleville and district.

As for Mons. Carver. Have a care, keed, wherever you are!

WRESTLING

Doc Gallagher, 235-lb. firebrand from New Jersey, will oppose Whipper Billy Watson of Toronto, in the wrestling headliner at the Memorial Arena on Friday night. In his previous bouts here Gallagher has shown himself to be a rugged, experienced ringster. He's done the same wherever he's appeared and predicts he'll prove his ability by a win over the Whipper. That's a big assignment he's taking on, but the hardy Gallagher is confident he can do it.

The marvellous midwits will be in a special event on the same program, a tag-team match. The partnership of Fuzzy Cupid and Tom Thumb will go against the combination of Little Beaver and the Brown Panther.

In the first match, Firpo Zbyszko, of Poland, will meet Mickey Gold, of California.

Tribe Hurlers Fail to Go Distance as Tigers Take Them For Two Straight; Yanks Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League race is so screwy even the contending managers are talking with tongue in cheek. Each maintains his guys are going to win it, but none of them sound convincing.

Just a couple of days ago, Al Lopez of Cleveland, observing there were no pushovers in the league, figured there wasn't much chance of one club getting hot and racing off with the flag—but if any club could do it, his Indians were it.

So what happens? Detroit up and busts Cleveland for the second straight day Wednesday 8-5 as the Tribe lost its third in a row behind the failures of its mound aces—Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon.

And Boston, still persistent if not as consistent, walloped Yanks off a seven-game streak 7-1 behind the excellent pitching of Ike Delock.

AHEAD OF SOX

All of which left Yanks just one game and three percentage points ahead of White Sox, who were idle pending a doubleheader with Kansas City today. Chicago, in turn, is half a game up on Indians, who are but two games ahead of the fourth-place Boston.

Tigers, who had lost six straight to Cleveland before making it two in a row over the Tribe, mistreated Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings. That's the longest any of Lopez' Big Three has lasted in the last three games.

Jim Bunning gave up solo homers to Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling before Babe Birrer came on to win in relief. Al Kaline, back up to .350 to top major league batters, and Bill Tuttle had three hits each in Tigers' 14-hit attack as Cleveland used four pitchers for the third straight game.

BIG SIXTH

Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning. Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way.

Delock, a 25-year-old right-hander who had failed against New York in two previous tries, checked the Bombers on two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1. Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4. Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2 and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Willie Mays led Giants' attack with a triple, two singles and a walk and figured in all of New York's runs.

GRAND SLAM DID IT

Del Crandall's grand slammer in the eighth put Braves beyond reach following earlier homers by Andy Falco and Ed Matthews that had built a 5-4 lead. Milwaukee now trails Brooklyn by 14 and still heads New York by one.

Hank Sauer, only a sometimes starter with the Cubs these days, belted a pair of homers for all of Chicago's runs. Smokey Burgess hit a two-run shot in the first for the Redlegs before Bob Rush settled down for his 10th victory.

Philis got three runs in the first, but the Pirates battled back with 15 hits. Richie Ashburn, tops in National League hitting, pulled a back muscle trying to bust out a hit and left the game in the second inning.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching—Ike Delock, Red Sox, young right-hander held New York to two hits in first six innings, then relaxed to yield three more in 7-1 triumph.

Batting—Hank Sauer, Cubs, hit two home runs for all Chicago's runs in 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

"He should know better than to try to use a pitcher's favorite bat. After all, back in '53 Lefty got a hit with it!"

ABANDON SWIM

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The choppy waters of Lake Okanagan Wednesday forced Bert Thomas to abandon his attempt to swim the 35 miles from Kelowna to Penticton, B.C.

The 29-year-old Tacoma, Wash., logger last month became the first person to conquer the treacherous strait of Juan de Fuca.

OFFERS $1,000

WINNIPEG (CP)—Radio station CKRC, Winnipeg, is offering $1,000 cash and a trophy to the first person to swim 18 miles across Lake Winnipeg.

Program director Jack Hill announced Wednesday night that the swim must take place between Grand Beach or Grand Marais on the east shore and any point between Gimli and Mafloch on the west side.

Middle Distance Swim Record Expected to Fall

MONTREAL (CP)—Within minutes after the starter's gun opens the Canadian swimming and diving championships today, a Canadian middle distance record is expected to fall.

The three-day meeting gets underway with the men's senior 1,650 yard freestyle event. There are to be three heats, without a final, with the best time in the bunch getting the title.

The three top American contenders have been matched against each other in a three-pronged onslaught on the Canadian record of 20:11.3.

They are Frankie Brunelli of Philadelphia, 16-year-old American outdoor long-distance champion and the junior national champ in the medley swim; and two speedsters from Cincinnati, Charles Stigman and Orin Nordstrom.

HAVE BEATEN IT

Each has turned in better times than the present Canadian record. There are 176 entries for the 35 events in the meeting. Of these, the 40 Americans signed up are given the nod to swim off with the lion's share of the titles.

Canadian hopes are pinned on Helen Stewart of Ocean Falls, B.C., and Sarah Barber of Brantford, in the junior women's category, while Irene Service of Vancouver, Lenore Fisher of Ocean Falls and Montreal's Gladys Priestley are the top home standard-bearers in the senior field.

Bill Slater, a 15-year-old junior from Vancouver, and George Park of Hamilton, leading Canadian freestyle swimmer, top the Canadian male entries.

U.S. National Negro Champion Equals Canadian Open Record In Firing 63 in First Round

By W. R. WHEATLEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WESTON, Ont. (CP)—If Charlie Sifford can push his luck and his dogs again today he will send the Canadian open golf championship chase into another talsip.

The betting is he won't. His record doesn't say so. Just the same, the jazz-minded United States national Negro champion pranced on the Weston course Wednesday humming snatches of breakfast music and fired a sensational first-round 63, nine under par.

This figure equalled the Canadian Open record for any one round. It sent the galleries of 3,000 into a brand new dither only a few minutes after word had got around that little Jerry Barber of Laguna Beach, Calif., had a shot a hole in one at the 130-yard par three fourth.

IT STOOD UP
The Philadelphia Negro's 63 stood up despite everything the highly-favored American pros—plus a superb round by Vancouver's Stan Leonard—could do.

One stroke back, with 64, was Arnold Palmer, last year's U.S. amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., and now a pro, and at 66 came Leonard along with Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Four more cashed in with 67s—Barber, Art Wall, Jr., of Pecono Manor, Pa., Jackie Burke, Jr., of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., and a surprise-package Canadian, 27-year-old Bob Dean of Cornwall.

When the last threesome of the 182 starters finished early in the evening, 48 had broken Weston's par of 72 and another 16 had equalled it. The course has several changes this year, after a visit by hurricane Hazel last fall, and every new score is a course record.

Moe Norman of Kitchener, the new Canadian amateur champion, was low amateur for the first round with a 70—a par 35 on the new score is a course record.

FLETCHER LAGS
Pat Fletcher, defending champion from Saskatoon, found himself 12 strokes off Sifford's sizzling pace with a 75. Big Pat got away to a poor start by going three over par on the first two holes. He steadied and came down the back nine in even par.

Sifford couldn't do anything wrong and attributed his good luck to the phonograph jazz music he heard at breakfast—"Boy, I really love jazz, and I was stepping it off high down the fairways."

His driving was almost perfect—his best game—and he surprised even himself with his approach 63. The longest putt he needed was little more than 10 feet. He was never over par, sinking nine birdies, one-upping 11 of the 18 greens and finishing with a grin as wide as his putter.

Palmer almost got even with Sifford, finishing late, the former U.S. amateur champ needed only a par four at the home hole to tie Sifford's 63, but his drive went under trees and he had to play on the fairway, getting down in five. It was the only hole he slipped over par and he finished with two 32s.

Leonard also was off regulation figures only once, driving into a clump of trees at the 10th. He had seven birdies, running down putts from six inches to 25 feet.

Hamtramck Girl Out to Retain Tennis Title

OTTAWA (CP)—Virginia Hesse of Hamtramck, Mich., will be out to retain her Canadian junior tennis championships.

Miss Hesse, top-seeded foreign entry in the event, meets Judy Holman, also of Hamtramck. Miss Hesse defeated Judy Borland of Winnipeg 6-1, 6-2 in one semi-final while Miss Holman took care of Maria Stubbs of Winnipeg.

Warren Daene of Shaker Heights, Ohio, Wednesday captured the open juvenile boy's singles with a 4-6, 6-2 victory over Fred Drilling of Hamtramck, Mich.

Play has already begun in the doubles but is far behind the

JUNIOR SINGLES

The last semi-finalist in the junior men's singles will be decided today when Tony Lieberman of Philadelphia meets Geoff Black of Montreal.

Phyllis Saganaki of Hamtramck and Eleanor Dodge of Montreal Wednesday reached the final of the junior women's singles. They will meet today.

Miss Dodge, the top seeded Canadian, entered the final with a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Georgetowne Delacretz of Cornwall, while Miss Saganaki, the top seeded foreigner, powered her way to a 9-7, 7-5 win over Ann Barclay of Vancouver, the No. 2 seeded Canadian.

TO OPEN HALL

TORONTO (CP)—Charles (Newsy) Lalonde will officially open the Canadian sports hall of fame at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds next Wednesday night, officials of the Hall of Fame said Wednesday.

Lalonde, a member of the international hockey Hall of Fame and one of the National Hockey League's greats, will travel here from his home in Montreal Tuesday.

Loren Babe Hitting Hero As Leafs Gain Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Loren Babe, former New York Yankee and Philadelphia Athletics third baseman, has whacked five hits in his last 11 times at bat to help Toronto Maple Leafs regain first place in the International League.

Babe knocked in two runs as the Maple Leafs edged Richmond Virginians 3-2 Wednesday night, to climb back into the top rung, one percentage point ahead of Montreal Royals who split a doubleheader with Columbus this.

Babe helped to win Tuesday night's 14-inning game against the Royals with four hits in seven times at bat. Wednesday night he got one in 4 at bat to make it 5-for-11 in his last two games, including two homers.

TOOK THE OPENER

Jets took the opener 4-1, but Montreal came back behind the three-hit pitching of Glenn Cox to take the nightcap 7-1. Havana Sugar Kings felt three games off the pace by dividing a twin-bill with the Rochester Red Wings.

The Cubs ended a 28-inning scoreless string with a 3-0 decision after dropping the opener 4-6. Buffalo Bisons and Syracuse Chiefs also swapped a pair. Bisons won the first game 1-0 and Chiefs took the second 4-3.

Leafs received some steady five-hit pitching from southpaw Ken Johnson to edge Virginians. Babe drove in the first run of the game struggle to hold off the Bisons the with an infield out and after Rich-rest of the way.

Bob Satterfield Decisions Valdes In Ten-Rounder

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield, giving up 32 pounds in weight and a half foot in height, blasted giant Nino Valdes to the floor in a savage last round Wednesday night but could not keep the Cuban there and settled for a unanimous 10-round decision.

The crowding, lashing Satterfield—34 underdogs—appeared to be tiring in the last four rounds as the two heavyweights tried to land their knockout punches and end the televised Chicago Stadium brawl.

But suddenly Satterfield uncoiled a left hook that caught Valdes flush on the jaw and followed with a whirling right to the face. Valdes fell to the canvas. He was up at the count of five but took a mandatory eight count.

Satterfield weighed 183, Valdes 215.

Dodgers May Transfer Series Games to N.Y.

BROOKLYN (AP)—The National League leading Dodgers, who Tuesday hurled a bombshell into Brooklyn by announcing the transfer of seven 1955 home games to Jersey City, are said to have also toyed with the idea of shifting their world series games from Ebbets Field to Yankee Stadium next fall.

The assumption, of course, is that the Dodgers go on to win the pennant, as expected.

Keenly disappointed over the sag in attendance at Ebbets Field, Dodger president Walter F. O'Malley is reported at first to have wanted to make the switch but abandoned the idea.

By transferring their series home games to Yankee Stadium, the Dodgers figure to accommodate an additional 100,000 cash customers.

Yankee Stadium seats 67,000 as compared to Ebbets Field seating capacity of 32,111.

6 Seeded Players In Quarter-Final Tourney Berths

TORONTO (CP)—Stiff competition is forecast today at the Ontario International tennis tournament here with six seeded players holding down quarter-final berths in the men's singles event.

Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Gardiner Mulloy of Toronto, tournament here with six seeded players holding down quarter-final berths in the men's singles event.

Mulloy, top-seeded veteran from Denver, Colo., will arrive Friday to play his second-round match.

The 43-year-old star has been delayed in rain-hit Boston where he is competing in the U.S. national doubles tournament.

TOUGH MATCHES

The women stole the show Wednesday as top-seeded Sara Weisberger of Evansville, Ind., and fourth-ranked Miriam Ruinboth of Ottawa survived tough matches to move into the semi-finals against each other.

Second-seeded Mrs. Louis Brown of Toronto outlasted former Ontario junior champion Joe Smith 6-4, 7-5, 6-1 to move into another semi-final berth.

Blond Mrs. Truber, who admits to only four years' playing experience, took the measure of Siegfried Boeck 6-1, 7-5 with steady play and strong cross-court placements.

Miss Rainboth, Ottawa district champion, took a hard fought 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 win from Mrs. Benita Sen of Toronto.

In men's play, third-ranked Lorne Main of Toronto, looked anything but impressive in the first set of his match with Austin Macpherson of Toronto, but perked up to win 6-4, 6-2 and move into the quarter-finals against eighth-seeded Don Platt of Toronto.

Scores included:
Men's Open Doubles, 2nd round B. Cooke and R. Talbot, Toronto defeated H. Hall and C. Bolton, Kitchener, 6-2, 6-1.

Frank Holt-Trile, Jamaica, and Austin Macpherson, Toronto, defeated J. Bersalt and J. Koehler, Kitchener, 6-1, 6-4.

Cementmen Even Semi-Final Series With 6-4 Victory Over Frankford

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Climaxing an uphill battle with two runs in the bottom of the 9th, the Point Anne Cementmen shaded the Frankford Merchants 6-4 to even their two-of-three Belleville and District softball semifinals at one game each last night at the Point.

The third and deciding game is scheduled for Friday evening, also at Point Anne with the winners meeting the Belleville Orfuns for the league championship.

Frankford jumped into a 3-0 lead in the top of the first and were never behind until the ninth as both teams fought hard for the all-important decision, several players turning in excellent fielding plays.

Jack Elliott was responsible for the deciding tally when, with one out in the last of the ninth, he dropped a bloopster into short left field and slid into second with a double. He took third on a passed ball and Pat Gilmour lifted a long fly to left field. Gilmour of the Merchants went back but dropped the ball with Elliott carrying home the Pointer's fifth tally and Gilmour also circling the bases for the 6-4 score.

The deep fly would have won the game so the fielder's error had no bearing. Pat Maracle gained his first playoff victory, taking over from Burshaw with one out in the 8th and his team trailing 4-3. He allowed one hit, whiffed one and walked one. Burshaw started and gave up all four tallies on 11 hits but threw fine ball most of the way, fanning three and passing two.

RADNOR WORKS WHOLE GAME

Doug Radnor worked the full game for Frankford, tagged for two safe blows while striking out nine and walking four.

Leadoff man Mike Cosgrove poked a single to open the game and Dafeo beat out a punt to put Point Anne in trouble. Cooke sacrificed and was safe on an error to load the sacks. Rankin popped a four hit Austin singled for one run while Wade's throwing error on an attempted double play plated two more.

The Cementmen came back with two tallies on a pair of walks. Bob Hull's sharp single and an infield out.

Point Anne knotted the score at 3-3 in the sixth on Hull's double and singles by Mulholland and Whalen. Bill Rankin doubled in Cosgrove who had singled to put the visitors back in the lead in the seventh. The Merchants loaded the sacks with one out in the eighth but a terrific backhand play by Gerry Goyer, cutting his man down at the plate by a step saved the day. Hull again led the way to the tying marker in the eighth, banging a double and trotting home on twin errors by Dafeo and Murphy on the same play.

Bob Hull and Jack Elliott shared the hitting honors for Point Anne, Hull slamming two doubles and a single in three tries, while Elliott had a pair of two-baggers.

Bert Whalen punched a brace of singles with one each for Goyer and Mulholland. Bill Rankin had a double and single in defeat while Cosgrove, Austin, Murphy and Radnor each claimed two singles. Cooke and Dafeo also hit safely.

Line ups:
Frankford: Cosgrove, Dafeo, Cooke, Rankin, Austin, Murphy, Wickson, Gilmour, Ackerman, Leavitt, Radnor.

Point Anne: Elliott, Gilmour, Hull, Goyer, Wade, Mulholland, Whalen, Bennett, Burshaw, Maracle.

Four in Ninth Give Shellelles 13-9 Victory

A four run uprising in the top of the ninth broke a 9-9 deadlock and gave the Belleville Shellelles a 13-9 victory over RCAF last night in a replay of the first game in their best-of-three OASA women's series. The second fixture is slated for the Alameda Field Friday night at 8:00 p.m.

The scoring was spread out for both sides, Belleville drawing first blood with two in the first, RCAF tying it in the second and finally playing four in the seventh after the Shellelles had scored three in the eighth.

Linda Wang went all the way on the hill for the victors, surrendering 17 hits while fanning one. Her control was perfect as she walked none. Brooks and King shared mound duties for the losers, surrendering four and passing 11.

Rita Harder had a field day at the plate for Belleville, pounding five hits in as many trips. Shirley Fox aided with three-bagger and two singles. Lois Batchelor punched three singles and Carolyn Baker a double and single.

The pitchers paced RCAF's attack. King with four singles and Brooks with three Andrecheke pounded a home run and a single.

The Shellelles committed two errors while the homesters bobbled three times. The eleven bases on balls handed out by the RCAF hurlers plus plenty of timely hitting proved the margin of victory.

Elgins Score 5-4 Victory Over London

ST. THOMAS (CP)—A walk, with the bases loaded and two out in the last of the 10th inning, gave St. Thomas Elgins a 5-4 victory over London Majors in an Inter-county Senior Baseball League game Wednesday night.

Roy McKay, last of three hurlers, came into the game with two out and the bases loaded and pitched four straight balls to Jim Halkard.

Elgins took a 4-0 lead in the first four innings with single runs in each but London came back with three in the sixth and one in the eighth.

Leftfielder Don Butler hit a bases-empty homer for St. Thomas in the first and Russ Evin hit a Major circuit clout, good for two runs, in the sixth.

Lew Fisher, who lasted until the 10th inning, was charged with the loss after pitching a fine ball game. Gene Floryck, who relieved starter Bill Jamison in the seventh, was the winner.

Changing Habits of Wage Earners Force Owners to Leave Ebbets Field

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The changing habits of the nation's wage earners made it inevitable that the Dodgers, though one of the great sons of baseball history, would soon or later be forced to abandon their rattle trap plant in Brooklyn and seek the open spaces, as Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Braves did before them.

The solid core of loyal fans which for generations crowded its way into Ebbets Field and made the operation a profitable one no longer lives in the crowded borough across the East river. The sons of the oldtime Dodger rooters now own their homes out on Long Island and prefer to motor to and from their entertainments.

Anyone who has ever attempted to drive through Brooklyn still bears scars of the experience. If he has attempted to find Ebbets Field, and, having finally triumphed on that score, then sought a parking space within commuting distance of the ancient arena, the chances are he's still bleeding.

THEY WON'T DO IT

What the oldtime baseball fan happily endured for the sake of seeing his heroes in action—the endless trolley or subway ride, the eternal sitting behind a broad girder—the modern fan simply will not put up with in large numbers.

That was the message of the president, Walter O'Malley, saying when he announced, in effect, that his club was throwing in the sponge. He knows he's fighting a losing battle.

If the plan to play seven games in Jersey City next season is a desperate move aimed at rousing the Brooklyn civic fathers into building a new municipal plant for the Dodgers, it won't work. They don't rouse easily in this part of the country any more. Besides, the amount of land which would be required for such a project couldn't be found in Brooklyn short of raising eight apartment houses and a school.

Not the least important factor in the club's desire to get out of Ebbets Field is the great value of the ground the park occupies. It would fetch a bundle and make the stockholders much happier than they ever have been in the past.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

You may be an optimist about the tricks you can take in the no-trump department. But there is no reason to be foolish about it. The best basic no-trump tactic is the high cards; aces, kings, queens.

There are 12 of these high cards. A 13th trick is floating in the air. It must be taken with some card lower than a queen; with a jack or ten or some smaller card. This is the basic idea.

With enough high cards for a basis, more than one jack or ten may develop into trick takers. Providing, of course, they combine with high cards to capture or nullify opponents' higher cards.

This is why experts take a chance at counting some jacks and tens as no-trump trick takers. But their experience warns them which jacks and tens they can take a chance on for this purpose. Players of lesser ability see and hear of such tactics. Instead of confining themselves to the safer combinations, however, what do they do? They foolishly count on all their jacks and tens.

Unless you know when to make the exceptions, therefore, you are taking the worst of it in counting jacks or tens as trick takers. It is particularly foolish without a preponderance of high cards. South and north have this partnership pair of hands:

SOUTH		NORTH
♠ A 10 3	♥ K 8 7 6	♠ K 8 7 6	♥ A J 3
♦ K 8 4	♣ A 8 6	♦ K 8 4	♣ A 9 6 3

South counts five high cards in his hand. North counts three high cards. Between them are eight high cards which should prompt them to reach a contract of two no-trump.

Boostered by so many high cards that are within one trick of game in no-trump, it is human to look about for a ninth, possible taker. So, you eye with desire and hope the jack of hearts or spade ten.

Maybe one of them will produce the ninth trick. Maybe neither. Maybe the fourth heart or a fourth black card will come in. So, a player may take a chance. But it is not sound.

Take No Action

WASAGA BEACH, Ont. (CP)—Council of Wasaga Beach village has decided not to take any action on recommendations by a corner's jury on increased safety precautions at a stretch of beach where seven men drowned Aug. 8.

Reeve Wilbur Nigh said council will wait to see what plans or proposals would come from the Ontario department of lands and forests.

Councillors said they hope to receive a grant with which to erect standards and life buoys and to construct beach facilities.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Approximately 400 persons were forced to leave the luxury hotel Fl Rancho Vegas Sunday night and three persons were overcome by the fumes of a fire broke out in the kitchen of the establishment. The fire was contained in the kitchen, but smoke spread through the dining room where a show was starting. The orchestra kept playing and the chorus girls kept dancing as the diners fled out.

Rossano Brazzi, Italian Star, Sets Feminine Hearts Spinning

By STAN SWINTON

ROME (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida and Sophia Loren steal the headlines, but Hollywood is more excited about another Italian—husky-voiced Rossano Brazzi.

Perhaps not since Charles Boyer whispered his invitation to the Casbah has a continental leading man hit American movie-goers with such impact. Universal-International, with a keen ear to the feminine reaction to his role in "Summertime" with Katharine Hepburn, recently signed Brazzi to a contract for one picture annually for three years.

He plans two outside pictures each year and has a round dozen offers to pick from. He is favored for the coveted lead in the film version of "South Pacific," the role played by Enzo Pinza on Broadway.

What is there about Brazzi which sets female hearts spinning? He isn't the typical tall leading man with handsome, regular features. Rossano's height is average, his build solid. His face is rather square, with lips which break often into a friendly smile. He is 38 years old and looks it.

Yet at a recent balcony party under the Roman stars, a circle of handsome women clustered around Brazzi minutes after his arrival. Standing inconspicuously to one side, beaming with pride at her husband, was Mrs. Brazzi, a fat, cheerful woman who fits to perfection the average American idea of a middle-aged Italian.

Asked to explain Brazzi's appeal one girl answered: "Rossano just looks nice—like someone who would be good to you; romantic, yes, but kind, too. A man wouldn't understand."

Neither did producers—for years, Brazzi made more than 70 Italian pictures with little notice abroad. Only once did Hollywood call—in 1948 for "Little Women" with June Allyson. Brazzi took the character part and was so disgusted I came home to Italy," Brazzi recalls.

Then an American company hunting an Italian leading man for "Three Coins in the Fountain" picked Brazzi.

"I thought it would be just a small part. Instead, as it turned out, it was the crossroads of my life."

The picture was a smash hit and Brazzi's touching love scenes with Jean Peters brought a flood of fan mail. Soon he was playing opposite temperamental Ava Gardner in "The Barefoot Contessa." Next Katharine Hepburn chose him as her leading man in "Summertime," which became another hit. All were filmed in Italy.

In September Brazzi goes to Hollywood.

"My first picture at Universal will be 'Love Affair' with Jane Wyman, an actress who can act, like Katharine Hepburn. But she is the kind of actresses it is exciting to work with. I'll stay at least a year in the states."

Being the Son of Well-Known Parents Has Its Disadvantages

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—There are both advantages and disadvantages to being the son of well-known parents. Some people might say that any break you get is due to pull. But when you produce, for brother, you'd better produce, for the eyes of the world are on you.

Such are the problems buzzing around the head of a cool young fellow named Jim MacArthur, the son of writer Charles MacArthur and actress Helen Hayes. But if he's aware of them he's not talking about them. At 17 he's being dealt into the game slowly.

On Thursday, Aug. 25, he makes his television debut in "Deal a Blow" on CBS-TV's "Climax." In that drama he plays the role of a youth who's badly misunderstood by his elders.

But when you meet Jim MacArthur in real life it's hard to see how his elders could misunderstand him. He's without guile and shuns a corny line.

"I think I want to go into the theatre," he says. "I've seen a lot of it, thanks to mother, and I think I'd like it. But I don't want to rush it. Maybe I haven't got what it takes, and that's why I want to go to college and be prepared for something else . . . no, I'm not sure what yet."

One thing both he and his mother regret. She's playing "The Skin of the Lion" in Chicago and will be on stage when he makes his TV debut. She hopes to see a rerun of the show. His father, currently writing in Italy, hopes to arrive home for the big event.

NBC news commentator Morgan Beatty begins a new series of profile sketches on NBC-TV next Sunday with this premise: "There are 2,500,000,000 people on this earth, and some of them are interesting. A British politician who refuses a title . . . an old violin maker who thinks the world is going raving mad because of all the noise in it . . . these are subjects for his program, entitled 'People.'"

Beatty says it will not be an interview show. "It is," promises NBC, "a program which spotlights the uncommon man, and lets him speak for himself."

lowing five hits and whiffing 7 while Phillips was touched for seven hits and fanned seven. Rose caught for Parkdale and Tracey for the losers.

McBride and Durrant were the winner's stars, the former banging two important hits and Durrant driving in the winning marker. Muirhead was the only loser with two hits, hammering a double and single.

Scoring all their runs in the last two innings, Parkdale edged TPT's 5-4 last evening to enter the pee wee city finals against Goldies Shellers. Parkdale took the series two games to one.

The losers took a 3-0 lead in the first stanza and added another tally in the third but Bob Minchew's bats fought back for three in the sixth and played the winning markers in the seventh and final frame.

AT THE MCCARTHY — Heather Lures Mike Rennie To China Coast

Michael Rennie never thought he would see a sign pointing to Aberdeen on his trip to Hong Kong for the Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope adventure, "Soldier of Fortune," now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre in which he co-stars with Clark Gable and Susan Hayward.

Curiosity made him follow the sign and he reports that it resembles not at all grey granite town in Scotland where his father was born. The Aberdeen he visited is a bustling fishing village on the southwest coast of Hong Kong is land. Located on a small sheltered bay, the place has been a fishing village for many hundreds of years, and was first called Shek Pai Wan, the British actor discovered. Shortly after the British took control of Hong Kong in 1841, a young Scotsman, in a mood of nostalgia, named the village after his home town.

Mike who plays a waterfront inspector in the drama about illegal commerce with Red China currently playing at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre, was surprised to discover that more than half of Aberdeen's 20,000 population live almost completely on the water. Their homes consist of "streets" of sampans and junk, where there are shops, restaurants, churches, and every other facility needed for living.

When Rennie reported his discovery of the unusual Scottish namesake, Edward Dmytryk, director of "Soldier of Fortune," added scenes incorporating the village into this first film in CinemaScope of the China coast.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, August 19, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Auspicious vibrations should encourage your best efforts. Wind up the week with an extra spurt of accomplishment. Amiable associations, get-togethers with family, friends sponsored.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Daydreams are pleasant, but not productive. Be realistic about offerings. Tone up ambition, incentive. A sense of proportion is essential in determining the relative importance of plans.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Interest yourself in civic and church matters in spare time. There is always satisfaction in aiding others. During trying day complete assigned tasks with your usual capable enthusiasm.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — This day's excellent vibrations prestage a time for the doer to make a record. In striving for perfection don't be sidetracked by non-essentials. Maintain the tempo that generates best effort.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — An unique method, tested for worth, can lead to gain. Observe its effect on others; vary it as occasion demands. Legal and business matters, financial affairs require tact.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo) — Read Leo, which is also applicable here. Corral workable plans, and drive them to successful conclusion. Watch out for enticing but hairbrained schemes. Their perpetrators are always around looking for a victim.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — A responsive period for finishing incomplete tasks or starting new undertakings, if important and well understood. Confidential matters, activities connected with water favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Dentistry, surgery, manufacturing of fine tools, machinery; investigating scientific matters; investing sponsored with home and family interests. A November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius) — Energetic, vigorous influences. Dealing in mechanical matters, tools, machinery, etc., on first favored list, with the handling of foods, beverages, groceries, journeys by water and domestic interests a close second.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — Encouraging for new and unusual inventions, matters connected with chemicals, medicines, dental and surgical instruments, for improving home and family needs. Building, railroad, mining among other sponsored activities.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — You should feel ambitious, enthusiastic. Your planet Uranus, also the Moon and Neptune, in splendid aspects, tend to invigorate, increase desire for gain. Keep usefully occupied.

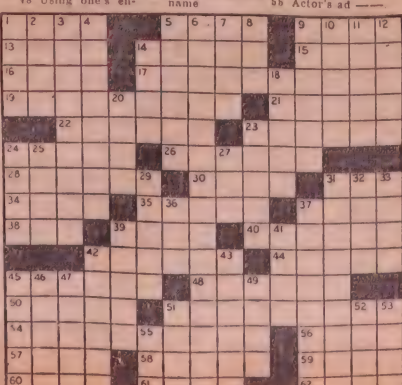

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Don't give into idleness or pointless efforts. Today is for the doer, the Go-getter, and that certainly can and should be you. You have the ability for much achievement.

You born today are a Leo-Virgo cusp, born when the sun was leaving Leo to enter Virgo. You have great talent and versatile capability. Your natal characteristics are very promising and you possess the personality and mental equipment to carry through your birth prognostications. You are a quick and sensible thinker, will usually attend to duties and chores without delay or considering hardships. You are suited to various professions, but have a usual talent for writing, acting, public speaking; perhaps painting, sculpturing, designing and selling. Curb a tendency to be too self-centered and to overdo. Birth date: Orville Wright, pioneer in aviation.

Policeman's Slayer Caught After 72-Hour Manhunt

Fly Swatter Used to Land

4-Pound Trout

NEWBERRY, Mich. (AP)—With the help of her two sons, Mrs. John Johnson caught a four-pound 24-inch trout with a fly swatter.

Seven-year-old Steve spied the fish Thursday near the shore of Round Lake in this upper Michigan community. He called his mother.

She dashed out of the house with a fly swatter and took a cut at the trout. It jumped right onto shore and between the legs of 12-year-old Johnny.

New England's Polio Outbreak Still Growing

BOSTON (AP)—The New England polio outbreak continued to increase today with the six-state total 2,001, compared with 374 cases on this date last year.

Thursday 106 new cases, 80 of whom in hard-hit Massachusetts, were reported.

Boston reported only 16 new cases Thursday and Boston health commissioner John H. Cawley said the active cases were "slowly declining."

The city listed 275 active cases under treatment. Previously, Boston has reported up to 26 new cases in one day.

Polio has killed 72 in New England this year, 53 of them in Massachusetts.

Britain's Chief Scout Ready For Jamboree

TORONTO (CP)—Lord Rowallan is in, for a busy time at the world jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, but he figures he's had it tough before.

"This is really nothing like my two-week visit to Malaya," the chief scout of the British Empire said after his arrival here Thursday.

There I attended 57 rallies, travelled 1,800 miles, met 22,000 scouts, left my footprints in seven concrete slabs, opened three scout headquarters, opened three new camps, made three broadcasts, addressed two annual meetings, attended several luncheons and teas—all this in weather far hotter than Toronto.

His visit here is twofold. After attending the jamboree, he will officially open the Canadian National Exhibition here later this month.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP)—Synopsis: Sunny, hot and humid weather will continue across Ontario today and Saturday. After following a northwesterly track across Virginia, the remnant of Diane abruptly changed course Thursday and moved northeastward to the east side of the Appalachian mountains towards the New England coast. It carried heavy rains along with it up the Atlantic seaboard. In a 24-hour period two to three inches of rain fell over an area extending from Virginia northeastward to Boston. Over seven inches of rain were reported at Hartford, Conn.

SWOLLEN RIVERS SPREAD DEATH IN PENNSYLVANIA

1,000 Are Marooned On Islands, in Trains

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Swollen rivers and streams rampaged on a path of death and destruction through eastern Pennsylvania today, with the threat still increasing in other parts of the northeastern United States.

The swiftly rising waters marooned 650 youngsters on two island camps in the Delaware river about 10 miles north of Philadelphia, virtually cut off Scranton and smaller Pennsylvania communities, and brought a major flood warning at Bethlehem, Pa.

Another 300 persons were stranded in two Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad trains in the Pocono mountains. The railroad said the army has promised helicopters would try to remove the passengers.

At least nine deaths were reported, and there were instances of persons totally unaccounted for. The rains killed more than nine inches in one sector.

FLOODS WIDESPREAD
While Pennsylvania was hardest hit by what was left of hurricane Diane, there were floods throughout a wide area of the northeast states.

Southeastern New York state, bordering on Pennsylvania, was inundated and children from a number of summer camps were evacuated to higher ground. Port Jervis, a city of 10,000, was put under a state of emergency as more than seven inches of rain in 24 hours swelled the Delaware river.

Torrington, Conn., suffered floods that prompted Governor Abraham Ribicoff to send in the national guard.

Massachusetts reported numerous highway floods and two train derailments, at Medford and Russell. Thirty persons suffered minor injuries in the Russell accident caused by loosened road beds.

RAFT CREW PLANS
Another Attempt To Cross Atlantic

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three Frenchmen dismissed the ill-fated saga of the raft L'Eglise with a Gallic shrug today and set their sights on another bid to beat the Atlantic next summer.

Paul Lapointe, 23, told of their plans. He said L'Eglise was ideally suited for the transatlantic crossing and would have made it easily if it hadn't banged into the rocks.

"If we take the Gulf stream next year, we'll make it," Lapointe said. He said the trio will stick together during the winter and plan for another crack at the trip out of Halifax.

Guilty in Murder Of Korean POW's

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (AP)—A court-martial today found St. James C. Gallagher guilty of four charges involving unpremeditated murder, mistreatment and informing on fellow Korean war prisoners and collaborating with the Chinese Reds.

Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, was accused of throwing three American prisoners from a prison camp into frigid outside temperatures and leaving them to die.

Greek Fleet Lost 2,368 Years Ago Found in Silt of Harbor in Sicily

SYRACUSE, Sicily (AP)—Divers have found water-logged hulks which experts believe are those of a Greek war fleet lost 2,368 years ago in one of the greatest naval defeats of ancient history.

The first skeletal wreckage was sighted this week by men who have been working for almost a month in the silt at the bottom of the broad bay of Syracuse, on the east coast of Sicily.

They describe the giant ribs and sharp prow of what appeared to be an ancient trireme, a galley with three banks of oars. The wooden wreckage crumbled at their touch.

"There can be no doubt," said Prof. Luigi Bernardi, director of the historical museum here, "that the wreckage is from the Athenian fleet that besieged ancient Syracuse. We stand at the site of a discovery of perhaps the most ancient warships ever found on earth."

The war fleet was sent by Athens against Corinthian-held Syracuse, a Greek colony, in the day of Alcibiades. The Sicilians trapped them by blockading the mouth of the harbor with the bulks of old ships. All but 15 of the Greek ships were sunk.

Organized Christianity Shows Shortcomings as Unifier Says Pearson at Convention

TORONTO (CP)—"External Affairs Minister Pearson says that to assume that real peace has been achieved because four men smiled into the cameras at Geneva would be dangerous and unrealistic."

Mr. Pearson told 8,000 delegates to the world convention of the churches of Christ (Disciples) Thursday night that hope could be taken from the easing of international tensions in recent months.

But, he added, real peace is not to be found in conferences of leaders at or below the "summit" but in the hearts and souls of men.

"We should not indulge in any premature rejoicing or loud hosannas," he said. "We must not be unreasonably exultant when things seem to be going well on the international front; not unreasonably discouraged when there are setbacks, as there will certainly be."

In the long run there was only one answer to the challenge of interdependence in the hydrogen age.

It is the answer of Christian charity and understanding; and in showing by our actions—not merely by our words—that we are in truth our brother's keepers.

At the same time Mr. Pearson, a Presbyterian minister's son, questioned the influence of organized Christian religion as a unifying force for world peace.

"Records of the past make us doubt whether organized christian religion is likely to play an important part in driving home the recognition of that interdependence of peoples which will lead to greater unification than has ever been achieved before."

After 2,000 years, he said, Christianity remains the religion of a relatively small minority of the world's people. It was so divided that in the United States there were 70 different Protestant faiths, and Christians for centuries had contended against each other religiously and on the battlefield.

"Charity and tolerance have always been a character of Christianity but Christianity has on occasions caused strife and intolerance. In the mistaken and often sincere belief that God's will was being done, Protestants were set against Catholics, Christians against Moslems, and the Jews and unbelievers have been persecuted."

"Unless Christianity can spread among Christians as well as non-Christians, charity, tolerance and understanding it will not be adequate to face the challenge of this shrinking atomic world."

Quebec Husband Finds Wife Trussed and Fatally Knifed

BAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP)—Provincial police are continuing an investigation today into the discovery of a woman's knife-stabbed body in her home in this Lake St. John community.

The partly-clad body of Mrs. Leger Tremblay, 43, was found Thursday night by her husband, lying on a blood-soaked bed with a large knife-wound in the stomach. Her hands and feet had been securely tied with a rope, and a length of rope had been tightly looped around her neck.

Mr. Tremblay, a man's clothing merchant in Bagotville, made the grisly discovery upon his return from a six-day fishing trip with some friends.

A medical examination of the body revealed Mrs. Tremblay had been dead for some three or four days. She was living alone in the house during the absence of her husband.

Flag-Breaking Ceremony Starts World Scout Jamboree

By BILL BOSS

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (CP)—The flags of 60 countries, breaking out this morning from as many poles surrounding this campsite's circular flag plaza will symbolize the unofficial opening of the world scout jamboree.

Scouts from 60 countries, many opening the jamboree officially Saturday at 2:30 p.m. before 8,000 scouts massed in the jamboree arena while another 2,000—mainly Canadian—will line the route of the subsequent marchpast.

For Roman Catholic scouts attending, the jamboree begins tonight with a benediction at 7:30 p.m., presided over by Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, who will read greetings from Pope Pius.

But for the 9,000 scouts under

Canada Does Not Plan to Match U.S. Military Code

Say Code Embodied In Army Regulations

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has no plan to set up a military code similar to the new ethics set up for United States servicemen.

The spirit of the new U.S. code—prescribed for American servicemen by President Eisenhower Wednesday—already is embodied in long-standing Canadian military regulations, Ottawa officials said Thursday.

The six-point U.S. code says an American serviceman should be ready to give his life for his country. He should refuse to surrender on his own initiative, continue to resist after capture and evade to the utmost any questions put under physical and mental duress after capture.

IMPLIED VARIOUSLY
Officials have said the code's principles seem to be at least implied in the Queen's Regulations. "Records of the past make us doubt whether organized christian religion is likely to play an important part in driving home the recognition of that interdependence of peoples which will lead to greater unification than has ever been achieved before."

After 2,000 years, he said, Christianity remains the religion of a relatively small minority of the world's people. It was so divided that in the United States there were 70 different Protestant faiths, and Christians for centuries had contended against each other religiously and on the battlefield.

"Charity and tolerance have always been a character of Christianity but Christianity has on occasions caused strife and intolerance. ## Wins His Bet, But Loses Life

LAC MEGANTIC, Que. (CP)—Eugene Deschenes, 51, won a bet but it cost him his life.

Police said Deschenes drank 40 glasses of alcohol in six minutes Wednesday night after friends wagered that he could not consume that amount in less than 20 minutes.

He died an hour later.

Radar-Equipped Car Automatically Stops When Something Gets in Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—A radar-equipped automobile which he said stops automatically when something gets in its way has excited enthusiasm from Representative Louis Rabaut (Dem. Mich.).

Rabaut described for the Congressional Record the mechanism devised by Carl Rashid, Detroit scientist engineer.

The car has a radar screen directly below the grillwork, several inches high and extending the width of the automobile. This projects an impulse, he said, "that is guaranteed to halt the car before anyone or anything gets in its path."

There is a similar apparatus on the rear of the car to prevent jarring pedestrians or property while the car is moving in reverse.

Rabaut's account continued: "The natural tendency of a person viewing this invention for the first time is to expect to be hurtled through the windshield; however, this is not the case. The

Has No Plans Yet For Fuca Strait Swim Says Marilyn

Hopes to Do It Some Day She Says on Arrival Home

By JOHN E. BIRD
CANADIAN Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Swimming star Marilyn Bell said today she has no definite plans yet for tackling the treacherous Juan de Fuca straits on the Pacific coast.

"It is just an idea at present," she told reporters at nearby Uplands airport on her arrival from Britain. The TCA Superconstellation originally was to have landed at Montreal's Dorval airport but was diverted to Uplands because of fog at Dorval.

"My only thoughts now are for school this year," added the popular 17-year-old Toronto girl, youngest to swim the 21-mile English channel and only person to swim Lake Ontario.

"I want to study physiotherapy later on."

300 JOIN IN WELCOME
Coach Gus Ryder was with her at the airport where some 300 spectators gathered. About 80 per cent were children. They had heard the news of the arrival on the radio and rushed out to see Canada's swimming darling.

Coach Ryder told reporters: "We had a grand time overseas. Everyone was wonderful to us but there is no place like Canada."

Marilyn appeared slightly nervous when the children clamored around her.

The TCA plane carrying her and other passengers landed at 9:20 a.m. EDT. Marilyn left at 11:30 a.m. on a TCA four-engine Viscount for Toronto where a ticket coach welcome awaited her and her coach.

GOES THROUGH CUSTOMS
It took Marilyn 30 minutes to go through customs.

She wore a white dress with black dots, black shoes, but no hat. A choker around her neck bore a maple leaf.

"We had a wonderful trip across the Atlantic," she said.

She said she has no immediate plans to swim the Juan de Fuca straits "but I hope to do it some day."

In Toronto she will participate in the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand performances.

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—

Death and a number injured. They are still pulling people out of the wreckage. W. G. Key, superintendent of Marked Tree schools, said, "Several persons were badly hurt and I have been told there are some dead."

Key said the diesel-powered train, carrying 13 cars, remained partly on the rails.

"The last two or three cars are the ones in bad shape. One coach is about 50-per-cent demolished, and the last part of the dining car has been destroyed, crushed right in."

The passenger train left the rails as it moved along a 20-foot embankment southeast of the Marked Tree depot.

Ambulances and doctors sped from Memphis, Tenn., 50 miles to the southeast, to care for the injured.

At Memphis, the railroad said four cars were involved—two coaches, the diner and one coach. It said the last four cars remained on the rails.

Police Refuse To Tell Wife Man Is Sober

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP)—

Wilbur Damon, 27, Keokuk, phoned the police station from a tavern, asking them to rush an officer over.

When patrolmen arrived in a squad car, Damon asked them to deliver a message to his wife saying he was sober.

Police disagreed. Damon Thursday was fined $10 on an intoxication charge.

Mother of Four Stabbed to Death In Toronto Home

TORONTO (CP)—Pasquale Dinardo today was charged with murder in the stabbing of his 33-year-old wife, Mary.

Police said earlier that a 13-year-old boy, one of the couple's four children, saw his mother slain with a butcher knife in the Dinardos' west-end home.

Thelma Wilson, 26, a next-door neighbor of the Dinardos, family summoned an ambulance and she heard a "horrible scream" from the Dinardo house.

"It sounded as if something terrible was going on," she said. A few minutes later, Mrs. Dinardo's 14-year-old son, Nickie, ran into the Wilson home and burst into tears, she said.

She said the boy told her, "I've got to phone the police. My mother has just been stabbed." Constable Donald Murray said he arrived at the house to find Mrs. Dinardo close to death. He said he summoned an ambulance and the woman was taken to hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Officers said they talked to Pasquale Dinardo, the woman's husband.

Several Persons Reported Dead In Train Wreck

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—The Kansas City-Ft. Smith special fast train, wrecked near here today, several persons were reported dead and a number injured.

They are still pulling people out of the wreckage. W. G. Key, superintendent of Marked Tree schools, said, "Several persons were badly hurt and I have been told there are some dead."

Key said the diesel-powered train, carrying 13 cars, remained partly on the rails.

There is a similar apparatus on the rear of the car to prevent jarring pedestrians or property while the car is moving in reverse.

Rabaut's account continued: "The natural tendency of a person viewing this invention for the first time is to expect to be hurtled through the windshield; however, this is not the case. The faster the car is moving the farther the beam is projected. "If you are approaching an object at a high speed, the radar is actually aware of the object before you are aware of it. The car will then, if not manually halted, stop before striking the object."

Tests were conducted where two radar-equipped cars tried unsuccessfully at 50 miles an hour to crash head-on. Both stopped with ease many yards apart, he added.

A car changing lanes and "cutting you off in traffic will bring your radar into immediate action, thereby eliminating the possibility of a collision."

Rabaut said the radar does not work at less than 10 miles an hour, "therefore it does not hinder parking or entering a garage."

BLAZE STARTED FROM WELDER'S TORCH

A grass blaze started from the flame of a welder's torch took firemen to an auto wrecker's yard on the Kingston Road east of the city Thursday afternoon.

A workman was using a torch to cut up the frames of wrecked autos when the grass got afire and spread to a nearby bush before it was brought under control by firemen.

The car he leapt from during his act was travelling about 60 miles-per-hour.

REVOLVER SHOT ENDS SKUNK'S LIFE

A lone skunk which found its way into the centre of the city came to the end of its days this morning as city police and city dog catcher Charles Thorn combined their efforts to despatch the striped animal.

The skunk was reported by a Charles street resident and it was found beneath a fence. A few shots from a police service revolver ended the skunk's life.

PAIR OF OXEN HITCHED TO BUGGY PAYS FAIR VISIT

Shades of a century ago? Fair patrons attending the grandstand show at the last day of the Belleville Fair rubbed their eyes in disbelief Thursday afternoon when they saw a pair of oxen hitched to a buggy ambulating down the race track.

Driver of the oxen owned by a West Huntingdon farmer, was Corah Howard, Belleville Fair board director. His companion for the half-mile trip around the race-track was Mrs. John Bush.

'Slide for Life' Brings Injury To Dare Devil

Unknown to watching spectators, a member of the Canadian Dare Devils, thrilling final-day crowds at the Belleville Fair, suffered injury during the premiere afternoon performance yesterday.

Daredevil Joseph "Lucky" Haymes, who hails from Maryland, was taken to hospital just after 7 p.m., yesterday evening, following belated reaction of a grandstand crowd at the fair about two hours previously.

Haymes, who had been performing more than was bargained for when as part of his act "Slide for Life", he leaped from the trunk of a fast-moving automobile to slide across the surface of the racetrack.

However, instead of skidding he hit the ground heavily and rolled over several times before coming to a halt on the ground.

Where he lay prone while members of the crew ran to his assistance. At first it appeared he might have been seriously injured but he was helped to his feet and walked back to the pits to relieved applause.

About 7 p.m. however, he collapsed below the fair's midway and was taken to Belleville General Hospital by ambulance where, after preliminary examination he was admitted to await the results of X-rays. His part in the night show was cancelled.

This morning hospital authorities reported Haymes satisfactory, while no bones were broken. A fellow Daredevil said Haymes had been with the show only about three weeks.

The car he leapt from during his act was travelling about 60 miles-per-hour.

The show opened gently enough with two cars criss-crossing each other's path at about 60 mph all the way down the track - and built up to a climax to finish with a bang. The bang was both literal and figurative, when you figure the literal part of it was provided by a charge of dynamite in a giant cannon that hurled a convertible through the air, complete with Bobo at the wheel onto a ramp some 80 feet away. And as if that was not sufficient the Congress elected to have Bobo drive an auto beneath the mouth of the big gun and keep pace on the ground beneath his cohort in the sky.

Another feature thrill of the show was the two-car Roman Chariot Riding, that saw two devils balanced on the roofs of thundering cars, riding the vehicles' chaotic fashion as they careened around the track.

JUMPS SEVEN MEN

Seven Devils lay prone on the ground while a motor-cyclist leapt off a ramp, crossing above them and dropping to earth, inches from the last man to give the audience another outstanding second of tension.

Easing the atmosphere slightly were the antics of Shorty and Bobo, two clowns who despite their light-hearted antics showed they too could look horns with the best of the Devils when it came to nerves.

Both in the afternoon and evening the Dare Devils worked like demons to keep the spectators alive and in this they succeeded. Crowds lined the fences on both sides of the grandstands, down off the midway by the spectacle.

A capacity crowd last night, there were over 2,000 paid admissions in the grandstand, packed the stand to cheer the Congress in its premiere performance here.

As for the spectators themselves, there appeared to be more of them, although the paid admission returns were slightly lower than last year.

This year exactly 25,002 people paid entrance to the exhibition compared with 25,069 last year. Grandstand admissions were lower at 6,739 against 7,707 in 1954.

WEDNESDAY BIGGEST DAY

A further breakdown shows Wednesday as the day registering most admissions to the grandstand with 2,281 paid admissions compared with 2,100 on Tuesday and 2,030 last night.

With the exception of Monday night, the grandstand was filled practically to capacity. Crowds sat in sweltering, brilliant sunshine in the daytime and in sultry temperatures at night to see two of the best arena shows ever to appear here.

A high-ranking presentation was aired before spectators Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by the New York company of George Hamid Productions. People still are talking about the shows high-light-high in the air-by a group of aerialists who swayed on steel poles of dizzy heights to bring the show to a close each night.

Then last night the curtain came down with a bang with the explosive Congress of Canadian Dare Devils hurling their way through a motorcycle of chills.

SPLENDID HORSE SHOW

One of the best pointers to the increasing prominence of the city's annual fair this year was the extent of and classiness of its horse show. This year about 150 horses, both light and heavy breeds, contested, the 18 classes open on the fair's roster. Their appearance and performance were greeted with enthusiasm by judges and veteran fair-goers alike. The latter voted it the finest in history.

"The quality of the horses you have here is on a wining plane," Mike W. Minogue, of Montreal, judging light horses opined. Mike, one of the top experts in the field of horses, added: "It is a Number One show."

Exhibitors from as far as London, Ont., were represented in the parade of equine aristocracy, viewed by spectators during the four-day run of the fair.

Dare Devils Put on Thrilling Show of Car Driving Before Curtain Rung Down on Fair

After three days of being thrilled by jugglers, acrobats and thrilling aerialists, spectators at the Belleville Fair yesterday turned out to see the Canadian Congress of Dare Devils bring the curtain down on the grandstand show. Then the fun began.

The Dare Devils not only brought the curtain down. They brought the house down.

No spectators of person or persons' blood-pressure, life, death or good. For automobiles, the Devils roared through afternoon and evening performances with the fury of a hurricane, chilling spectators sitting through a heat wave to slide across the surface of the racetrack.

However, instead of skidding he hit the ground heavily and rolled over several times before coming to a halt on the ground.

Where he lay prone while members of the crew ran to his assistance. At first it appeared he might have been seriously injured but he was helped to his feet and walked back to the pits to relieved applause.

About 7 p.m. however, he collapsed below the fair's midway and was taken to Belleville General Hospital by ambulance where, after preliminary examination he was admitted to await the results of X-rays. His part in the night show was cancelled.

This morning hospital authorities reported Haymes satisfactory, while no bones were broken. A fellow Daredevil said Haymes had been with the show only about three weeks.

The car he leapt from during his act was travelling about 60 miles-per-hour.

The show opened gently enough with two cars criss-crossing each other's path at about 60 mph all the way down the track - and built up to a climax to finish with a bang. The bang was both literal and figurative, when you figure the literal part of it was provided by a charge of dynamite in a giant cannon that hurled a convertible through the air, complete with Bobo at the wheel onto a ramp some 80 feet away. And as if that was not sufficient the Congress elected to have Bobo drive an auto beneath the mouth of the big gun and keep pace on the ground beneath his cohort in the sky.

Another feature thrill of the show was the two-car Roman Chariot Riding, that saw two devils balanced on the roofs of thundering cars, riding the vehicles' chaotic fashion as they careened around the track.

Harold Harris Wins Trophy For Second Time

For the second year in succession Harold Harris has won the South Hastings Swine Club Achievement Day program.

Competing in the junior farmer event at the final day of the Belleville Fair, Harold not only won first place on the year's work, but also topped the top award for showmanship. He was presented with the Hastings County Hog Producers' Trophy by Ray McTory.

Placing of other club members in the day's event were Doug Rollins, John Sager, Doug Donnan, Ross Bateman, Doug Carleton and Ted Burnside (died for sixth place), Doug Burnside, Ken Sager and Grant Ketcheson.

Grant was injured two weeks ago when a firecracker exploded in his face and his injuries kept him from competing at the Achievement Day, although his pair of gilts was exhibited.

Judge for the event was Bill McMullen, senior livestock fieldman, Production Services, Canada Department of Agriculture.

BELLEVILLE SCOUT WINS GOLD CORDS

On the eve of his departure to the world's scout jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Larry Gerow, member of the 1st, Belleville Troop, was presented with his Gold Cords this week at Belleville Fair. The picture shows Larry receiving his Gold Cords from Mayor John Both during a presentation in front of the grandstand.

Financial Returns from Fair Slightly Down from Last Year But Exhibition Is Best Ever

The Belleville Fair finally was put to bed last night but it was a bed of pleasant dreams, both future and immediately, as the one-record shows its establishment well over 100 years ago—the board of directors this year finally decided to do something solid about marking its centenary.

However, its centenary officially was hailed with a quiet ceremony Monday at the entrance to the grounds when memorial gates were unveiled. The gates now stand handsomely facing posterity.

It had a great horse show; its many exhibitions were up to par; it had an exciting midway and it never rained a solitary drop all week despite shower warnings on the last night.

As for the spectators themselves, there appeared to be more of them, although the paid admission returns were slightly lower than last year.

This year exactly 25,002 people paid entrance to the exhibition compared with 25,069 last year. Grandstand admissions were lower at 6,739 against 7,707 in 1954.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market had its duller first-hour trading in more than three months today. In a thoroughly mixed list volume at 11 a.m. was 981,000 shares against 1,202,000 Thursday. Previous low was 938,000 shares May 25.

In the industrial group changes went to a maximum of a point. A few gains in steels, foods and utilities gave best support.

International Nickel again led the improvers in base metals. The stock added a point to 80 1/2 after touching a high of 80 1/2.

Algom, Pronto, Gunnar and Consolidated Denison lost fractions among uranium, but a number of the lower-price issues recorded penny gains.

Bell — Seaborn dropped 35 to $9.50 among western oils. East Malartic headed easier, off 26 to $2.25.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was steady with offerings sufficient for a quiet demand.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture, in fibre cases, graded: A large 64; A medium 61; A small 39; grade B 38; grade C 28. Whole sale to retail: A large 69; A medium 66; A small 44; grade B 43; grade C 33.

Butter solids: Ontario, first grade tenderable 58; non-tenderable 57 1/2; western 58 1/2 (nominal).

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Cattle prices were uneven in an active market this week at the Ontario public stockyards. Calves were steady while hogs gained 50 cents a hundredweight. Sheep and lambs were unchanged.

The cattle receipts were some 400 head more than last week and some 700 head less than the same week in 1954. Receipts from western Canada were 638 head, an increase over last week of 450 head.

The westerners were all stockers. There were no exports to the United States.

Prices on top grades of steers and heifers held steady. Good and choice fed yearlings cleared at prices 50 cents a hundredweight higher. Cows were 50 cents lower than the bulk of sales last week. An estimated 400 stockers and plain slaughter heifers were unsold at the close.

Prices: Choice steers $20-21; with sales to $21.50; good steers $19-20; mediums $17-18; commons $12-16; good heifers $18-19.50; with a few choice heifers to $19; mediums $16-18; commons $12-16; choice fed yearlings $21-21.50; with a few small lots up to $22; good fed yearlings $20-21; mediums $17-20; good cows generally $13; with light heifers cows up to $13.50; canner and cutter cows down to $7; good heavy bologna bulls $13-13.75; with some good light butcher bulls to $14.50; common and medium light bulls down to $9.

Replacement Cattle: The improved demand of last week for this class continued throughout this week with some sales showing gains of 50 cents a hundredweight. Only common and medium grades were offered with medium selling at $16-18 and commons $12-16. One or two small lots of good stockers sold at $18.50.

Half receipts were some 300 head more than last week. This class held steady with good and choice vealers selling at $21-23 with tops of $23.50. Mediums were $16-21 with commons $10-16. Grass calves sold for slaughter were $10-12 with stock calves selling up to $15.

Bowling News

Due to a heavy schedule at the fair, the bowling news has been neglected to a certain extent but the writer will try to bring the members up to date on the happenings of the club members.

The members wish Jolly good luck to Bruce Miller and Gordon Watkin in the doubles and Fred Harper, Jim Hanna, Gordon Edwards and Gerald Hyde in the rinks as they leave this afternoon for Kitchener to take part in the Provincial championships on Saturday. It is the first time in the history of any club in the district that has sent two representatives from the same club from the zone final to the provincial championships and everyone is agreed they will acquire themselves with honor to the club and district. A full report of their games will be given in Monday's edition.

Bruce Miller, Gordon Watkin, Gordon Edwards and Gerald Hyde brought home some more silverware from the Gold Cup tournament held in Oshawa on Wednesday. The rink finished fourth in the final standing, beaten by only three points for the top spot. Tommy Mead of Balm Beach won the trophy and top prize while Walter Robson of Morningside Club, Toronto, was second and Erin Black of Peterborough in third.

Walter Robson, with three Stirling players also won the last three-game high prize, which is a good showing for the club in such a large field. Hyde and his rink beat C. Kellow of Coburn Park 20-12 in their first game, Dr. Hord of Lawrence Park 16-7 in the second and Dick Edney of Kingston 17-11 in the third.

The trip to Ottawa for the Governor-General's trophy is off for this year. On Monday evening a rink of Claude D. Ties, Percy Graham, Gordon Watkin, and Austin Watkin journeyed to Kingston to play a rink of Walter Cable, Louis Papi, Lloyd Smith and Morley Galt and was successful in winning, 16-15 but a rink of Harold Parker, Ernie Jones, Jim Hanna and "Ab" Wonnacott was defeated by H. W. Swaffield, Ed. Denison, William Duncan Sr. and Dick Edney by 23-12 with Edney getting the verdict in the last two ends. The combined score was Kingston 38, Belleville 28.

Preparations are complete for the O'Keefe tournament in trebles to be held on the local greens on Saturday. Through the kindness of the O'Keefe Brewing Company a beautiful trophy is up for competition, while the company has also donated the first three prizes.

It is expected that 40 rinks will take part in the tourney. The women's section of the club will provide sandwiches, pies and coffee during the play. Percy Graham, chairman of the tournament committee and Austin Watkin, the president, Orlo Smith and others, have worked hard to make this annual affair a complete success. Good weather is promised and Jack Smith says the greens will be lightning fast so a good day is in prospect. Jimmy Williamson, representative of the firm will be on hand to make the presentation to the first winners of this beautiful trophy.

Frankford Community Honors Couple Married for 60 Years

FRANKFORD (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howard celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary at home yesterday were honored by officials on behalf of the village and many friends, neighbors and relatives. They were still receiving people bearing congratulations as darkness fell last night.

On a day in August not so hot and sultry, Agnes Smith, eldest of the 13 children of George and May Etta Smith, was united in marriage to Wesley Howard, son of James and Lybia Howard. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. White in the Stirling Methodist Church parsonage. They spent their honeymoon visiting relatives and then, as Mrs. Howard proudly explains, "we went to work on my husband's farm."

In those early days the Howards recall there were no dams or newer houses along the Trent River. The farm they lived on was between Frankford and Glen Miller.

Soon, however, the Howards exchanged farm life for village life and settled in Frankford. They now live in the same house they moved into 57 years ago.

This union in matrimony produced four children. Three girls, Mrs. George (Eva) Tucker, Mrs. George (Bernice) Morey and Mrs. Charles (Annie) Cleveland, all of Oshawa, and one son Edward Howard of Oshawa.

At the reception for the guests during the afternoon and evening Mrs. D. Mallory, Miss M. Moore and Mrs. C. Powell poured tea. A beautifully decorated cake with the letters "60" inscribed on the top icing graced the elaborate hosts table.

New Commander At Oakville Gen. Sam Clarke

OTTAWA (CP) — Maj.-Gen. Samuel F. Clark, 46, the army's quartermaster - general, was named Thursday as the new commander of central command with headquarters in Oakville, Ont.

He succeeds Maj.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, recently named to fill the post of chief of general staff vacated by the retirement of Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds.

The new quartermaster-general will be Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, 46, of Brantford, now director-general of military training, who will be promoted to the rank of major-general.

Brig. Walsh's post will be filled by Brig. Cameron B. Ware, 42, of London, Ont., until recently commander at Tokyo of the Canadian Far East military mission.

The changes will take place at the end of August.

Legion Juveniles Whip Pets 21-1

TRENTON — (Special) — Mark Street United Church's juveniles of Peterborough never had a shot of a chance after the second inning under lights here last night when the Trenton Legion team took an early eight-run lead to romp away with the opening game of the first round of the Ontario juvenile championship. Trenton defeated the Liftlock city aggregation 21-1.

The Legion youngsters drew 5 runs from Hayden in the first half of the opening innings to start the merry-go-round. The visitors' weak retaliation in their half resulted in a run, the only one marked on the scoreboard for Peterborough during the entire nine innings.

The locals were better in every department, B. Jones' strong right arm dictated the policy from the mound while his team - mates supported him with flawless fielding and powerful hits when they were best needed.

The return engagement takes place at Peterborough on Tuesday night.

The teams: Peterborough — Crowder, J. Harding, Darrington, Ayotte, McNamee, English, Harding, Ellis, Hayden.

Trenton — G. Austin, B. Jones, D. Alexander, H. Cole, R. Drake, B. Burns, W. Whitney, W. Kennedy, W. Wilman.

Umpires — Collins, Peterborough, J. Ellis, Trenton.

Chatham Woman Held for Arson

CHATHAM (CP) — A 52-year-old Chatham woman was arrested and charged with arson Thursday in connection with the Aug. 9 fire which destroyed the home of Fred Rose near Thamesville.

Mrs. Annie Robinson was arrested after Mr. Rose told police the woman at one time had worked for him as a housekeeper. He said the night of the fire Mrs. Robinson came to his house to pick up some belongings.

William Rose, a nephew of Mr. Rose, said he left the house about 9 p.m. while Mrs. Robinson was still there. Both men said the fire started about 11:30 p.m. while they were away.

SPIDER BITE FATAL

PARAGROULD, Ark. (AP) — A 71-year-old farmer died Thursday from a spider bite. Jesse Isaac Melton was en route home in an ambulance when he died five hours after he was bitten by a "grey spider." He had been treated at a clinic.

Bike Riders Without Lights Using Streets

Complaints of youthful bicycle riders on the streets after dark without the required lights and reflectors are reaching the city police department with Police Chief Waffar Probert having issued instructions for a strict check on such practice.

"Riding bicycles at night without lights or reflectors is a very dangerous practice," stated Police Chief Probert, "especially so with the days now commencing to shorten rapidly."

An added word of warning from the chief was for bicycle riders to ride single file on the streets and roadways and to obey all traffic signals.

"And watch out for other traffic," he urged.

Korea Halts Trade With Japan

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea has ordered a halt to virtually all trade with Japan on the heels of its ban on travel between the two nations. Japan's foreign office retaliated with a statement charging "extremely unjust" treatment of Japanese fishermen held in what it called two dirty, jammed prisons at the southeast port of Pusan.

The new exchange sent the never-cordial relations between the two nations plunging to a new low.

A. KELSO ROBERTS, Q.C.

Hon. Alexander Kelso Roberts, Q.C., Progressive Conservative member for Toronto St. Patrick's, and Ontario's newly-appointed Attorney-General, is the first native Bellevillian to hold a provincial cabinet portfolio in 20 years. He is the first native son in the provincial cabinet since the late Dr. Albert "Bert" Faulkner was named Minister of Health in the Hepburn government of 1935.

Mr. Roberts was born in Belleville, September 11, 1898, the son of Archibald A. Roberts, a partner in the law firm of Northrup and Roberts. He received his Christian name of Kelso from his mother who was Elizabeth G. Kelso before her marriage.

Mr. Roberts was educated in Belleville primary schools, at Upper Canada College, Royal Military College and Osgoode Hall.

He served overseas in World War I and in 1918 was captured by the Germans in the same battle in which Premier Frost was wounded. After the war he was a classmate of Mr. Frost's at Osgoode Hall.

Mr. Roberts was called to the bar in 1921, created a K.C. in 1944. From 1924 to 1929 he practised in Cobalt and Kirkland Lake where he made a special study of the law as it pertains to mining. Since 1929 he has practised in Toronto.

Mr. Roberts was elected to the legislature in 1943 and has represented Toronto St. Patrick's since that time. He was chairman of the special committee of 1952 to study revision of Ontario company law; was deputy speaker of the legislature for the 1953 session; and in 1954 and 1955 was chairman of the legislature select committee which investigated the highways department and irregularities in highways contracts. Following the resignation of George Drew as provincial premier and leader of the provincial Progressive Conservative party, Mr. Roberts was a candidate for party leader.

Mr. Roberts' elevation from the ranks to the important post of Attorney-General is a well deserved reward for service already rendered this province. It is a particularly striking testimony to his many abilities and to the esteem in which his party holds him that he should succeed Hon. Dana Porter, newly-appointed provincial treasurer, and the man whom many feel is heir to the party's provincial leadership.

Mr. Roberts' energy and ability have been demonstrated in his record of public service. He is eminently qualified for the position to which he has been elevated. His native city joins with his constituents, his colleagues and his party, in extending best wishes for the successful discharge of his new and serious responsibilities.

"IMPAIRED" DRIVER

At Oshawa the other day Harold Hingley was acquitted of a charge of drunken driving. An Ontario Provincial Police constable testified that he chased Hingley's car at 90 miles an hour on Highway 401 and could not catch him until he stopped at Pickering. The court doubted that a drunken driver could stay on the road at 90 miles an hour.

Most people will share the court's doubts. Still, some people accomplish amazing feats when drunk, in some instances feats of which they would be incapable when sober. This Oshawa case has interesting implications and they are pointed up by the fact that Hingley, while acquitted of drunken driving, was found guilty of driving an automobile while his ability to do so was impaired by the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Now there are a great many car drivers who could not drive a car at 90 miles an hour and avoid an accident even if they were sober. It is thus evident that, if Hingley could do so while his driving ability was impaired by alcohol, he possesses much greater ability as a driver than do many who hold licences. Indeed, if he had been driving at a reasonable speed, he might be a safer driver after drinking than many another would be without taking a drink.

It should not be argued from this that a highly skilled driver should have the right to impair his ability by drinking. Highway hazards are so high that it is imperative that every driver's ability should be at its peak and if one man's ability is higher than another he should be thankful for his talents and safeguard them.

At the same time, common sense suggests that the menace of a drink, or even of drunkenness, is not the same with every driver. Why, then, should there exist the uniformity in penalties? A man who is a poor driver, or whose driving ability is greatly affected by the consumption of alcohol, ought to be doubly cautious before impairing the limited ability to drive which he possesses. Performance on the road ought to count for something. The penalty ought to be measured by the manner in which the offender drives. That is what the Oshawa court did and it is to be congratulated.

At the same time drinking drivers should be cautioned against any tendency to endeavor to drive 90 miles an hour in an effort to prove to a policeman that they are not drunk.

Someone in Britain has invented a machine that will extract a protein from grass and forage in the form of milk.

Cows have been doing this for centuries.

There is a great deal to be said for an educational approach to the rehabilitation of convicts. Such a policy was severely tested in Australia recently when a convict, illiterate on confinement in the penitentiary, was arrested on 17 charges of forgery two weeks after his release.

CHANGE-WORKER.

The baby came the other day.
Now there's a cure to hear.
And be as careful as they may
There will be pins to fear.
There will be moments of dismay
Which turn the blood stream cold.
When some one in an awkward way
The baby starts to hold.
There will be bills that must be paid.
For things they'll have to buy.
There will be changes to be made
And feedings to supply.
The baby came the other day.
And this is plain to see.
Much different by night and day
Both life and home will be.

Most Writers Are Careless

(Montreal Gazette)

Canadian literature has been weakened not by those who cannot write, for they are taken care of by natural processes. The weakness comes, rather, from the many Canadian writers who could write, and write well, who will not take the trouble to do so.

Mr. Arthur S. Bourinot of Ottawa, has some interesting comments on this subject in his recently-printed collection of essays, The Quick and The Dead. Mr. Bourinot is speaking of the many years he was editor of the Canadian Poetry Magazine. He says he would class the manuscripts he received, broadly speaking, under three headings: those that came from persons who could not write; those that came from the real writers; and those that came from persons who could write, but who wouldn't take enough trouble.

This last classification included most of the manuscripts. "So much work is received," says Mr. Bourinot, "that it is obviously the first thoughts of the writer too hastily put down, the first careless rapture," with the emphasis on the careless.

Mr. Bourinot's conclusion is that also formed by many a Canadian publisher. None of them lacks manuscripts to consider. One Canadian publisher says he receives, on the average, two manuscripts every day of the year. Some of these, of course, come from those who cannot write. The rare manuscript is the work of the real writer. But most of them are the work of those who undoubtedly are able to write, but who send off to the publisher work that they themselves have not really finished.

Their manuscripts are rough, confused, with good passages side by side with poor. They are the materials for books, rather than the books themselves. They are the record of an effort, rather than the product of achievement.

Possibly this carelessness is part of the mood of a country still developing and not quite settled down to literature as a serious pursuit. Possibly it reflects the undervaluing of literature by Canadian writers who hardly expect to have their work published anyway, and who know how limited the sale would be if it were.

Whatever the cause, the result, in many cases, is a promise that is never fulfilled. And, in its own way, it is a very real tragedy.

Substitutes For Sirloin

(Vancouver Sun)

Odd, isn't it, that as soon as government statisticians announce any rise in the cost of living, usually based on a rise in the cost of food, some expert in nutrition comes out with a statement that we eat too much, spend too much on food, or have a liking for too-expensive dishes.

Somehow we never like the menus these self-appointed do-gooders tell us we should substitute for sirloins, lamb cutlets, oysters, and out-of-season asparagus, or artichoke hearts. Somehow the idea of cheap alfalfa-like spinach, or sawdust-like cereals bought by the sackful ("you buy more cheaply in large quantities"), or spongy old potatoes when the first blushing Early Rose local new ones are in, doesn't tempt us. Well, the cost of living went up this week — not enough to send anyone into a cold sweat, but up. And out comes the same old nothing on how to live on practically nothing a week and the accusation we eat more than is good for health.

Two persons can eat well on $9.50 a week, says some woman who works back East as an "executive director" of a "diet dispensary", whatever that is. Just one two persons? Or the executive director and A. N. Other? The news report doesn't say. As usual, in the sample menu she dishes out, she only names cheap foods of the week and the next week.

Molasses plays a large part — ugh! Oranges are beneficial and cheap. Who says so? The banana is responsible for so many of Tommy's tummy-aches among the poor is a piece of resistance. We guess that's because bananas are filling... they have no other virtue.

Then, says this expert, we spend too much on food because "eating is regarded as a pleasure rather than as a means of gaining nourishment." And she bases her findings on learned discoveries by the Canadian Nutrition Council — which we hope lives on its own merits.

To all the horrid substances she proposes we should eat we'd like to add our word, Nutri! And the council can take that whichever way they choose.

Trenton Air Force Scouts Attend Jamboree

Standing beside the RCAF's Memorial Gates at Station Trenton four representatives of the Air Force Troop Boy Scouts of Canada examine the jamboree badge being worn by Troop Leader Diamond. Left to right the Scouts are: Patrol leader H. LeRoy Wood, son of flight sergeant and Mrs. H. W. Wood, 20 Regina Crescent, Middleton Park, Patrol Leader, E. Fred Lynch, son of Squadron Leader and Mrs. J. H. Lynch, 37 McEwen Drive, Middleton Park; Troop leader Gordon Diamond, son of Group Captain and Mrs. G. G. Diamond, House 41 South Station, Trenton, and Troop Leader Robert E. Alborough, son of Warrant Officer First Class Glass, and Mrs. E. H. Alborough, 25A Johnson Drive, Middleton Park. All four left Trenton Friday morning for Niagara-on-the-Lake and will remain at the Jamboree until August 28th.

Special Ceremonies to Mark Centennial Of Y.M.C.A.'s World's Alliance in Paris

On August 22, at Paris, France, commemorative ceremonies will be held recognizing the founding of the World's Alliance of Young Men's Christian Associations, 100 years ago at Paris. Participating in the several YMCA conferences at Paris this year in conjunction with this observance, are more than 330 Canadians representing communities with "Y" services from coast to coast.

This year's international meeting takes on special significance, as delegates from over seventy countries, nearly 10,000 of them, will meet together in a great centennial observance of the founding of this international ecumenical organization.

A hundred years ago, August 22, 1855, ninety-nine young men from nine different countries, representing thirty-eight associations met in Paris and formed one of the earliest international federations, the World's Alliance of Young Men's Christian Association. These young men, their average age was 22, were concerned with the conditions confronting youth in many countries, uprooted from their homes by industrial revolution. They provided to be both visionaries and men of action, for today, their movement spans the world, and has a total membership of over four million, in some 80 countries, with more than 10,000 branches.

FOUNDED IN LONDON

The first YMCA was founded by a dozen young men in 1844, in London, England, under George Williams "to improve the cultural and spiritual conditions of youths working in city firms." From London the movement spread rapidly all over Britain, to Ireland, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, France, Belgium, to Australia, India, and in 1851 it came to North America with the founding of branches in Montreal and Boston.

The YMCA which started for the purpose of Bible Study, has during its first century extended its sphere of work and pioneered programs in other areas of needs. A few of these are Physical Education, Boys' Work, Leisure Time Recreational Activities, Summer Camps, Evening Schools, Rural Work in India and other countries, a program of nation-wide mass education in China, work in the armed forces and with prisoners of war, a World Services program in 38 countries; work with railway men; refugees, student association work, Y's Men's Clubs, Girls' and Women's Work, Foremen's Clubs; invented basketball and volleyball and programs encouraging social, interracial and international contact. This concern for the development of effective program has led the YMCA to sponsor international conferences on many aspects of association program activities.

Prior to the twenty-second of August, day of the centennial observance, the thousands of delegates will meet together in separate conferences, dealing with matters pertaining to their own age groups.

Five hundred boys ages 11 to 14, will attend the World Boys' Camp at Le Rocheton, Melun, near Paris. They will be living in five "common language" villages with boys from other countries.

Each village will be directed by a village chief. Basic accommodation will be in tents. Large tents for camp activities, for meals and for reading and writing have been erected. A sports field and a camp fire site have been constructed.

DAILY SCHEDULE

Their daily schedule will be fully international. Their spiritual and educational program will be based upon daily devotions, short daily stories and simple discussions based upon boys of the Bible and upon Tales of All Times. Games and sports, swimming, camping, hikes and campfire are also included in their daily schedule. Special events are, visits to Fontainebleau, to Versailles and Paris; a village Olympiad; and a closing ceremony of the "Fire of Friendship" followed by a torch-light procession. Nine Canadian boys are attending the World Boys' Camp.

Two thousand youths, ages 15-18, from many lands will attend the World Older Boys' Conference at the Cite Universitaire, in Paris. Using the 40 hostels, comprising the dormitories of this huge international education centre, as sleeping quarters, the young delegates will meet daily for Bible study and discussion groups, for sports, hikes and sight-seeing; worship services by confessions; and platform addresses on "Living Together" theme of the Older Boys' conference. Plenary speakers include noted figures such as Dr. Tracy Strong, former general secretary of the World Alliance of the YMCA's, Switzerland, Pastor Johannes Burch, well-known "Y" leader of Germany, Dr. John Karela Smart, of West Africa, member of the United Nations and Dr. John O. Nelson, of Yale University Divinity School. Forty-five youths from Canada are attending this conference.

Three thousand young men are expected to attend the world conference of Young Men with sessions at the Palais des Sports and colleges in the Sorbonne area.

Paris. One hundred and forty of these are Canadians. This conference will feature discussions on ideologies, society, international affairs, and the church. The theme of their study is "We are not Alone." Their two plenary speakers are: Sir Douglas C. High Commissioner to Canada, and Dr. Robert Bilheimer U.S.A., director of studies and associate general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

A World Conference of Y's Men to which 16 Y's Men from Canada have registered is being held at Maison de la Chimie, Paris, Henry D. Grimes, U.S.A., secretary treasurer of the Int'l Association of Y's Men's clubs will be the speaker at their opening session, and Dr. Paul Lambert, general secretary of the World Alliance of YMCA's will be their banquet speaker. From August 16 on, the Y's Men's Conference delegates will join with the XXII World Conference and other conferences.

The XXII World Conference opening its session on August 16, had 125 official Canadian delegates attending its legislative sessions at the Palais des Sports, the Sorbonne and Lycee St. Louis, Paris. Three thousand official delegates from YMCA's all over the world comprise this body. The President of the French Republic was invited to attend. M. Andre Siegfried, noted French writer and public figure, will address this conference. Other speakers include Dr. John Smart of West Africa; Dean Lion Pope, of Yale Divinity school, U.S.A.; Sir Frank Willis, C.B.E., general secretary of YMCA's of England, Ireland and India; and Dr. Paul Devanandan of India and Ceylon; and J. F. Welling University, England.

A centennial study guide "Fellow Workers for God" will be used in group discussions. "Program of Advance" and the "History of the World's Alliance of YMCA's" will be presented. Special church services for Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox members were planned for August 21. Several hundred young YMCA leaders, representing all national movements will share in a mammoth centennial rally on August 22, the anniversary of the day on which the Paris Basis was signed in 1855, under the leadership of Ralph Reader, M.B.E., widely known throughout the world for his leadership in the production of British Legion, Scouts and Coronation pageants. Delegates from all six conferences ten thousand of them, will participate in this huge rally, which will culminate the centennial celebrations and a century of YMCA work throughout the world.

Miss Toronto Of '54 Engaged

NORTH BAY (CP) — Cathy Diggle, Miss Toronto of 1954, is engaged, her parents announced here Thursday.

Miss Diggle, Canada's entry in the recent Miss Universe competition at Long Beach, Calif., will be married "sometime in the fall" to a Toronto real estate broker, her mother said.

The North Bay girl, who now works for a Toronto model agency, won her first beauty contest in 1953 when she was crowned Miss Byline by the Toronto Men's and Women's Press Clubs.

Her fiancé is Gordon Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richardson of Toronto. Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Diggle.

CONTROLS TIFFANY

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of Manhattan's fashionable jewelry store, Tiffany and Company, said Thursday control of the firm had been acquired by the Hoving Corporation, owner of Bonwit Teller, Tiffany's Fifth Avenue neighbor. The Hoving corporation acquired control by purchasing more than 90 per cent of the Tiffany stock at a cost of $3,825,000. This brought to an end announced efforts by the Bulova Watch Company to gain control.

HEAVILY GREETED

Smart Finishing Schools Concentrate on Debutantes

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — The day of the dumb debutante is past.

Smart finishing schools round London these days concentrate on a stiff, ordered curriculum for the teen-age daughters of society families.

Take the Cygnets House. The exclusive pre-debutante school was so named by principal Mrs. Eve Rennie - O'Mahony because the young things emerge as graceful and learned—swans in a year.

DIPLOMATIC TALK

"If they should happen to find themselves seated next to Sir Anthony Eden, they would be able to talk about diplomacy quite easily," she says.

Her girls, accepted after detailed investigation of their background, learn to appreciate the arts, try to get a grip of politics, plus practical cookery and dress-making.

It all comes in handy for the presentation at court and the accompanying social whirligig involved in "coming out."

"I don't like a jack of all trades," says Mrs. Rennie-O'Mahony, herself a product of fashionable Cheltenham Ladies' College and holder of a Cambridge University teacher's diploma.

WORKING DAY

In their seven-hour working day, the pre-debutantes struggle with the art of conversation, public speaking and committee procedure. Professors and specialists deliver daily lectures. Members of Parliament of all parties go along to give the girls an outline of politics.

Thirty girls straight from exclusive schools pass through Cygnets House yearly, each at a price equivalent to $1,030 and this does not include the clothes, entertainment and other incidentals. Of hundreds of applications that pour into the school, Mrs. Rennie-O'Mahony has a hard time sorting out those for interview.

"Generally," she said, "it's first come, first served. But of course, I have to know a bit about the girl's background, family, education and all. I like to have serious-minded girls but I'm not in favor of the 'blue stocking' type of woman."

"I want a girl to be intelligent, gracious, know the art of stimulating conversation, and also how to make the best of herself. And they come here just to learn these things."

WHO'S WHO

The list of names over the last two years reads like a page from "Who's Who in Society." Only one girl from each dominion is accepted every year, plus one or two other nationalities, like Princess Ira Furstenberg from Cyprus and the daughter of the Dutch naval attaché in London.

Mrs. Rennie - O'Mahony is kindly, brusque principal, now in her early fifties. She enforces certain rules. There is no smoking, and the front door is locked at 11.00 p.m. Night clubs are out of bounds at all times for the members of the premises situated in the Kensington area. The Cygnets House members are allowed out to lunch and dinner with family and friends—after the principal knows who the friends are—and only after having received a written list from parents beforehand of friends. Cygnets round, 18 may go out unchaperoned.

"During the war it was the thing to get a job and do your bit after finishing school," Mrs. Rennie-O'Mahony said. "But now there is a slight tendency swinging back for the girls to stay at home afterwards and do a bit of hunting, helping with the garden and organizing charity committees."

It's fun when the girls meet others abroad, and discover they both attended Cygnets House," she said. "They love discussing which year the other did and their experiences while preparing to be gracious."

Mirror Requests Margaret To Make Up Mind

(By NATE POLOWETZKY)

LONDON (AP) — The mass-circulation Daily Mirror is asking Princess Margaret to make up her mind, once and for all whether she is going to marry Group Captain Peter Townsend, 40-year-old divorced war hero.

The paper, which claims the world's largest daily circulation of more than 4,500,000, prints a large front-page picture of the radiant princess with this headline: "Come On Margaret."

Below the portrait is this: "Please make up your mind." The Mirror's is only one voice in the growing chorus of speculation and gossip as the pretty Princess prepares to celebrate her 25th birthday Sunday in seclusion with the Royal Family at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

Once 25, she will be free of the royal marriage acts ban on Royal Family weddings without the sovereign's approval. It is generally accepted that Townsend, father of two children, who divorced his wife for misconduct, is the man of the Princess's heart. Because the Queen is head of the Church of England the church disapproves the re-marriage of even the innocent party in a divorce, she could hardly sanction officially her sister's marriage to Townsend. But after Sunday, Margaret can bypass the Queen and give a year's notice of intent to wed to the Privy Council and both Houses of Parliament. Unless they expressly disapprove, an unlikely development in this day and age, the marriage can take place.

Townsend is on leave in Belgium from his post as air attaché at the Brussels embassy. He is due to visit Britain for the annual Farnborough Air Show September 5 and to stay in the country for a week. The Daily Sketch reports in a Brussels dispatch that crucial messages have passed during the last 48 hours between Townsend and the Royal Family.

The messages, the Sketch says, "have been concerned with the decision Margaret is expected to make shortly about marriage to him."

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, is running a series of stories on Margaret. It speculates this way on what kind of a birthday Sunday's will be.

"For the Princess there'll be poignant memories this year of more carefree times before an affair of heart became an affair of state." Times like the day when she and Peter Townsend rode out together and built a

Skin Disease By Inhalation

Inhaling such substances as house dust and ragweed pollen can cause skin disease as well as asthma in some children, according to Dr. Louis Tuft, of Temple University School of Medicine, in a report reprinted in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Tuft was reporting on "inhalated" allergens in the American Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Association.

He says that for many years allergic eczema, a form of skin disease, was treated like other "eczemas" and was blamed on allergy-producing foods such as milk, wheat and eggs. He said that food can cause this kind of skin disease, but that it often results from simply inhaling allergens, notably ragweed. Frequently, both skin disease and asthma are caused by the same substance.

Chief causes of the disease are house dust, plant pollens, wool, silk, tiny scales from animal hair or feathers, insecticides, and atmospheric molds (particularly in the Midwestern or grain areas of the country). Children may get allergic eczema from rabbits, cats, horses and dogs. While some cases may be treated by desensitizing injections like those used in asthma, the usual treatment is to remove the cause.

Dr. Tuft noted that it is even possible children may be allergic to dander in the scalps of their parents—but this has never been proved. "Until it is," he said, "one must withhold judgment."

cairn, a memorial mound of stones, on a hillside, because it was a tradition there for lovers to do that.

It will be a lonely time and formal enough even at her sister's home in Scotland. "Princess Margaret may well ponder the simpler joys of husband and family that she is not at liberty to plan more confidently."

European Girls Excel As Fashion Models

TORONTO (CP) — Girls from Europe are bringing fresh charm into the fashion modelling profession here.

In their former homelands, many of these lovely immigrants never thought of such a career, but now increasing numbers are appearing in fashion shows.

A typical example is Connie Veldhuisen, statuesque blonde from Holland, who came to Canada two years ago. A Toronto textile manufacturer spotted her working behind a hotel magazine counter, and now she models swim suits.

Maja Weiss, 23, a Danish brunette, is among the top models here. She is taking drama lessons and hopes for a theatrical career. A fresh-faced blonde charmer from Germany is Beatrice Mues, 18. "Back in Bremen, if anybody had told me I was to become a model, I would have laughed in his face," she said. Now she is in demand as a photographers' model.

A young Estonian girl who escaped from behind the iron curtain to come to Canada from Denmark, Ivi Riives, was elected "Miss By-Line" at this year's Toronto Men's Press Club ball, and a modelling career followed.

They are serious workers. Asked about beauty competitions, the girls said: "We don't get time."

QUESTION:

I recently had some very delicious pickles—it was (or appeared to be) peeled sliced cucumbers—large size—and small onions in a mustard dressing. May sound unusual, but it was really very nice and I would like so much to make some this year.—(Mrs.) Margaret P.

ANSWER:

It is the flavoring in the mustard dressing that gives any mustard pickle its character. The following recipe is an old favorite. Try it—adding 1-2 cups sugar, then taste it. If it does not seem sweet enough add more sugar. From this beginning I think you will be able to work out a mustard dressing to your liking. For your purpose use three parts sliced large cucumbers to two parts peeled small onions.

ALL PURPOSE MUSTARD PICKLES

For this recipe altogether you need five quarts vegetables. These may be cauliflower, button onions, gherkin-sized cucumbers, and sliced large cucumbers, butter beans, celery, green pepper slices, and even carrot rings but the usual combination is one quart each gherkins, sliced cucumbers, onion and cauliflower, beans. Prepare the vegetables in the desired shapes and sizes, over with ice water and sprinkle over 3-4 cup salt. Let stand 24 hours in cold place. Do not drain. Bring to boiling point and immediately remove from heat. Meanwhile mix together 1 cup each flour and mustard, 1 tablespoon (or more if desired), 1-2 to 2 1-2 cups white sugar. When these dry ingredients are well mixed stir in 2 quarts of vinegar until smooth, then stir constantly over direct heat until thick, then cook over boiling water until there is no taste of raw flour—about 30 minutes stirring occasionally. Add the sliced vegetables to the boiling point, immediately drain and cover with the cooked mustard dressing which is boiling hot. Fill into sterile jars and seal.

The above mustard dressing may be used for yellow string beans mustard pickle too.

QUESTION:

I am a keen follower of your page and wouldn't miss it for anything. I have followed Marie-Anne with interest. I am wondering if you may have a recipe with interest. I am most anxious to obtain. . . one of the chain stores make a Brownie square. . . double decker. . . the base is the usual brownie but the second layer is a white mixture containing coconut, . . . moist and white.

ANSWER:

Try this:

DE LUXE DOUBLE DECKERS

Bottom Layer: (Superior Brownies)—2 eggs, 1-4 cups well-packed brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate (melted), 1-2 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 cup chopped walnuts. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar with a spoon. Stir in vanilla and chocolate. Gradually add flour and beat. Add 1-2 nuts and pour into greased pans 8x8x2 inches. Spread out with spatula, then sprinkle remaining nuts on top. Then spread with Top Layer: Beat 1 egg white until very stiff then gradually add 1 cup white sugar, beating until stiff. Fold in 1-2 to 3-4 cup coconut. Spread over bottom layer. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 25 to 30 minutes. When cool cut in 2-inch squares.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

SHOULD WRITE NOTE OF EXPLANATION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I'd like to have you tell me if it was really necessary for me to write a note to a hostess in this circumstance. A woman I know—I like her very much, but we aren't really close friends—gave a large tea the other day, and telephoned me to invite me to come. I thanked her, told her I'd love to come if it were possible for me to leave my office early enough on that day. She said she understood, and to come if I could. I planned to go, but on that day I just had to stay late at my office. I didn't think, under the circumstances, it was necessary to telephone her or to write to explain. But now my mother is making a big fuss over it, says I'm most impolite not to do something about it, even though at this late date. What do you think?—Marie

I agree with your mother. You didn't make a courteous gesture to a very hospitable hostess. Not too late now, I suggest you send the hostess a little note explaining, and if you wish (and I hope you do) enclose it with a few flowers.

THANK-YOU NOTES FOR ANNIVERSARY GIFTS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

For our Silver Wedding Anniversary we have received many beautiful gifts. Now my problem is: How to word the thank-you notes. Will you please help me out with some suggestions?—M.M.

Three things especially to keep in mind when you write these important thank-you notes: (1) Thank for the kind thought. (2) Thank for the gift itself, mentioning it specifically by name (not vaguely "your gift"). (3) Comment enthusiastically about certain features of the gift: for example, the color, the design, its adaptation for use in your home, or other comments that will make the givers proud and happy about their choice of that particular gift.

For example:

Dear Marie, You and Jim are such dear, good friends, to make us so happy on our Silver Wedding Anniversary! Bill and I thank you, most heartily, for your goodness to us, and for your beautiful gift. The silver tray is a beauty, and just what we dreamed of having some day. It's so radiant, such a lovely design, aid of just right size for so many, many uses. To Bill and me it will always mean your dear friendship and your generous thoughtfulness. Thank you, thank you.

To both of you our dearest love, and again our deep appreciation.

Affectionately,

DARK COLOR FOR BRIDE'S MOTHER'S DRESS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please tell me if there are any set rules regarding the color dress the bride's mother should wear? For example, for a September church wedding would it be appropriate for the bride's mother to wear a dark color, such as navy-blue (set off with white) instead of a lighter color?—B.D.

The bride's mother may correctly wear a dark color . . . although of course not black . . . at any season of the year, if the color she has in mind is becoming to her. Blue, particularly a dark shade like navy, seems to be a perennial favorite for brides' mothers of all ages, and is indeed becoming to most women. For a September wedding, a p e c i a l thought should be given (1) to the material of the dress, so it will be suitable for this between-season month; (2) to the style-simple, uncluttered, of course; and (3) to the wise choice of accessories—hat, gloves, shoes, purse.

SHE YEARNS TO HAVE A BRIDAL SHOWER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am planning my wedding, which will take place rather soon. I would so very much like to have a shower given in my honor, but if no one suggests giving me one or puts forth any effort to give one, how shall I go about it? I am a likable person, well-educated, but the people in my community aren't very thoughtful along the lines of giving showers.—Reader can't think you're very wise to attach such importance to having a bridal shower given for you when obviously your friends and neighbors don't attach any importance to it or to giving them. There's no way you yourself can, as you say, "go about" giving one, and it isn't proper for a member of your family to give it. If you're good at hinting, you might try some subtle hinting to a particularly close friend or group of friends, or you might cling to the hope that your group of attendants might plan a shower for you.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

EVER HEAR OF A FEMALE "PEEPING TOM"?

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

You've heard of "Peeping Toms," but I bet you never heard of a female one. You've also heard of a man who went into his girl friend's house looking for her, but did you ever hear of the girl friend sneaking around the man's house at night looking for him?

Well, I never have before, but for the past three or four years I've had to put up with it. To her I've tried so hard to stay awake so that I could follow him, but he seems to know when I'm playing possum. Our doctor gave me some pills to try to keep me awake, but I can't seem to make it. The police won't help me because they say it's risky business. Yet, if it were a male "Peeping Tom" or prowler, they'd catch him in a minute.

What do you think of such a situation? Don't you think my husband has very little respect for me and our children to have this woman come right to our home?—Mrs. J.E.L.

Dear Mrs. J.E.L.:

Well, the first thing I think of your situation is that it can't be worrying you very much when even pills won't keep you awake to do anything about it. It seems to me that if you were really seriously upset about this thing that you say has been going on for the past three or four years, you wouldn't have the least bit of trouble staying awake. Most people who have a serious problem on their minds lie awake worrying about it.

The second thing I think of is, how do you know your husband goes out to meet this woman if you're sound asleep? Do you mean that when you do happen to wake up you find him gone and take it for granted it's the woman he's gone to? Or what?

And the third thing that occurs to me is that if you do wake up and find him gone, and you suspect he's out on a rendezvous with the girl friend, why not, instead of trying to find them and confront them, just lock the doors of the house so he can't get back in again?

Of course, I assume he has a key to let himself in and out, but what's to prevent you from putting a chain on the inside of the door which you could fasten after he has left? Naturally, he'd see this extra security when he locks up the house for the night before going to bed, but if he questions you about it, you could just say that you were afraid when you woke up and found yourself alone so you had it put on. Then say nothing more.

If he takes it off, it would be in the nature of giving himself away, wouldn't it? And if he did go so far as to take it off, there are plenty of other things you could do to show him up if he goes out in the night. To mention just one, you could stack furniture up in front of the door in such a way that if the door were opened from the outside, it would fall over with a crash that might be loud enough to wake even you.

No doubt you have argued and argued. . .

TIPS FOR THE UNDERWEIGHT

Because of the great emphasis put on reducing campaigns these days few persons realize that there are far more underweights in this country than there are overweights. And most of these underweights, particularly women, do little or nothing about their situation. For one thing, their heavier friends are constantly envying them which feeds their vanity, and for another, many have convinced themselves that being underweight is a desirable state of affairs since both medical men and beauty experts are constantly pointing out the dangers of overweight.

Being underweight, however, is far from desirable since the factors which cause it are health hazards in themselves. Nervous tension and the inability to relax is one of the common causes of the situation but other reasons are poor digestion and the inability to assimilate food properly, poor muscle tone and sluggish circulation. All these things can lead to a generally run-down condition which lowers resistance to disease.

The woman who is definitely underweight should consult her doctor about the situation and do everything within her power to improve it herself. Diet is an important factor, of course, and her doctor will no doubt prescribe one which includes plenty of milk, creamed soups, a wide variety of meat and fish, eggs and vegetables rich in starch. The underweight will also be permitted to eat far more sweets and fats than her heavier sister, but this does not mean that she should "stuff" her diet has to be as carefully balanced as the diet of an overweight person. Furthermore, "stuffing" worsens digestion of the chronically underweight. Exercise is important, too. Those underweights who do try in one way or another to gain pounds frequently think they are helping themselves by sitting around a great deal and doing nothing. This, they believe, "conserves their energy." Nothing could be further from the truth. Exercises, particularly such natural ones as walking and swimming, promote appetite and restore lost muscle tone. Regular sleep is essential in restoring normal proportions. The number of hours varies with the individual, of course, but their sleep can be gauged by how they feel upon arising. If, after seven or eight hours of sleep, the underweight awakes feeling thoroughly rested, refreshed and energetic, then that—and we do mean sleep—there's no use hopping into bed at 10 P.M. and reading the latest whodunit until the wee hours. That may be fun but it won't help to put on a single pound. In fact, it will probably take a few more off.

Women's Activities

MOIRA W.A.

Mrs. Fred Elliott of Stirling, visited Moira W.A. to her home for the August meeting. A number was in attendance.

The vice-president, Mrs. N. Ketcheson, took charge of the meeting. Scripture reading from Matthew 12 was read by M. Wesley Farrell.

A piano solo was rendered by Mrs. George Postle; a reading by Mrs. W. Farrell "He's Only Dog," and solo by Mrs. Ang Mummy "Speak a Kind Word." The guest speaker, Mr. Aras Wannamaker of Stirling, was introduced and spoke on "In I Name Shall the Gentle Trust" which was inspiring to all.

A solo by Mrs. Gordon Ford "I Shall Not Want," was followed by a reading by Mrs. Melroy, "God Understands" and piano solo by Mrs. James Vandewater.

Thanks were tendered everyone and especially to M. Mrs. Elliott for inviting M. W.A.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and helpers and soci half-hour spent.

Chateau de Ramezay Museum Shelters Many Unique Exhibits

Arden

MONTREAL (CP)—Model ships separated by centuries and continents are sharing the same berth at Montreal's historic Chateau de Ramezay.

The good ship Emerillon, small-scale of Jacques Cartier's three vessels, rests in the centre of the exhibition. Across the room, lake carriers such as the 75-foot modern giant, T. R. McLagan, represent progress, in miniature.

The marine exhibition is being held in the attic of the chateau where the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal is celebrating the building's 250th anniversary.

FIGHTING SHIPS
The collection amassed by curator Louis Carrier ranges from 150-year-old canoes to models of ships of the line that saw action at Trafalgar, and of modern Canadian warships.

There is a canoe that Pierre Ste. Marie dug out of a single tree trunk 150 years ago to carry mail between Montreal and Longueuil. It still looks solid enough to carry out the same task.

Much of the material was brought up from the chateau basement, where it has long been in storage.

A ship's steering wheel, almost five feet in diameter, stands at the rear of the upstairs room housing the exhibit. Behind it is a five-foot wooden carving of a sailor of the last century. A note tacked to its uniform explains that it once served as a sign over Joe Beef's tavern on the waterfront.

INDIAN CANOES
Besides Ste. Marie's canoe is another dug out of a tree trunk by Iroquois Indians in 1880. A third was built by the Abenaki tribe downriver from Montreal in 1875.

One of four birchbark canoes built during the last century is coated with a native paint composed of clay and plant oils.

A model of a vessel, the Virginie, bought by a Lt. George Macrae of the Royal Navy from French prisoners taken at Trafalgar and made by them during captivity, rests at one side of the room. Beside it is a model of an 1836 British steam corvette.

The marine exhibition is only part of the celebrations marking the chateau's anniversary. When

KEYNOTE FOR SERVICE
The sermon struck the keynote for service and could not have been chosen at a more appropriate time. Just now when people are "foot-loose and fancy-free" it is well to have a goal, something to do each day and what better than witnessing for the Master of mankind. In our opinion, everyone present was witnessing to their belief, by being present, but the minister, using the Apostle Paul as an authority, pointed out we must be active witnesses, telling both by precept and example the glorious news.

So let us go out into the wide world telling, teaching and living our belief. While our local ministers are away on holiday, could we urge you to attend a neighboring church where you will be welcomed and surely receive a blessing.

More and more people are doing things themselves around the home. This applies to such jobs as fixing the plumbing, painting the house, or wiring for an extra light in the basement, or garage.

Now it applies to using Formica, the popular laminated plastic for covering kitchen cabinets, sink tops, bathroom Vanities (R) and table and counter tops. The city folks find this an easy and satisfying new experience. Folks living in the small town and country are taking the "Do-It-Yourself" installation of Formica right in stride. . . because the farm folks were the original "Do-It-Yourselfers."

In the old days Dad held the sully rake together with bailing wire. Twice a year mother tacked new oil cloth on top of the back porch catch-all. Even a sick hen was not always reason for calling in a veterinarian if (Name of Company) knew the rural areas would take fast to the idea of installing Formica themselves. That's why they recently became a Formica outlet offering a nice selection of colors and patterns.

Rolling down the new Formica top.

Terms from this popular line of laminated plastics. They also stock the Formica Contact Bond Cement you'll need to hold the Formica in place. With it comes an applicator. The other tools you'll need are few and simple. Chances are you already have them.

Formica cuts easily with a wood saw to the desired shape. After cleaning the surface on which the Formica is to be applied you spread on the adhesive and let it dry for about 40 minutes. Then you position the Formica and roll it down tight with an ordinary rolling pin.

(Name of individual) says: "This is about all there is to installing Formica yourself. When anyone purchases a sheet of Formica we give them a folder which tells the step-by-step procedure to follow, including finishing edges and replacing the sink. How to do it pictures illustrate this folder, which means you can't miss."

"I sincerely believe that

Admiral TV for 1956 is the # biggest step FORWARD since TV began"

VINCENT BARRECA, President of Canadian Admiral

"For the first time in TV history you are guaranteed dazzling performance, whatever you may pay for your set.

WE, AT ADMIRAL, have for some years made and sold more television sets than any other name in the industry. That kind of leadership carries with it great responsibilities. The product we make must not only be better... it has to get better all the time. It must give you, the buyer, more and more for your dollar... more quality, more performance, more trouble-free service. I'm proud to think that Admiral leadership has come about through proof of quality where it counts... in your home.

A "New Deal" for TV buyers

"That's why I'm now especially pleased to announce that, after three years of intensive research, planning and occasional setbacks, Admiral is the first to bring about a basic and important change in TV.

"As you well know, the most important single thing about any TV set is the picture you get. How good the picture is depends on the power of the chassis and the quality of the picture tube itself. But, until now, it has been an unavoidable fact in the industry that, as price came down, many components, absolutely essential to top picture-performance, often came out. Low-priced sets just didn't have the power to pull in a really good picture everywhere or the refinements to beam the best picture into your living room.

"What we set out to do was to eliminate this difference in essential TV quality. We wanted to bring about a "new deal" for TV buyers. I can now tell you that we alone, and first in TV, have succeeded. Admiral TV now offers you something no other make can. It's something you should consider very carefully when you're buying television.

Television's Best Picture in Every model

"Every 1956 Admiral TV set in 21", 24" and 27" sizes now gives you the same three basic quality features without which it is simply impossible to get perfect picture performance. Regardless of the price you wish to pay you get:

1. Our new Super Cascode Chassis. We have tested this remarkable chassis under the worst reception conditions... in aircraft, in mountain ranges, over tremendous distances and in every climatic extreme. We are now certain that it is far and away the world's most powerful.
2. Our "Magic Mirror" Aluminized Picture Tube which produces a truly brilliant picture with a high fidelity range of tones from black to white... and
3. Our "Optic Filter" screen which completely eliminates all glare. The Optic Filter works like a photographic filter to create absolute crispness and clarity.

"It's not hard to see what this means to you as a TV buyer. You can now choose any Admiral model in any price range... and you can be absolutely sure that not one element has been sacrificed which contributes to chassis quality and peak picture performance. In other words, even our lowest priced table model will now give you a superb picture on local and distant stations.

"I sincerely believe that this Admiral achievement in uniform picture quality... regardless of price... is the biggest step forward ever made by any TV manufacturer.

TOP-FRONT Tuning in every model

"There are two other points about 1956 Admiral TV which I'd like to mention briefly. The controls on all our sets are in the same place. In every model we've placed the controls where they belong... up top, out front. You have only to tune a set once from a comfortable, upright standing position to know what a difference TOP FRONT Tuning makes to the enjoyment of using your set.

"Top Front Tuning also contributes to the design of our new cabinets. These were created by a group of eminent furniture stylists who, to my mind, have achieved a slender, timeless beauty which I know will please you and be a genuine contribution to the beauty of your home.

A Word about Automation

"Naturally, to do what we have done for TV this year, a way had to be found by which sets could be built more efficiently and economically. That way was through the proper use of the Automatic Assembly techniques which Admiral has pioneered. Automation is simply the true efficiency of mass production brought to TV manufacture. It has made it possible for us to make more TV sets, increasingly better sets, at lower prices to you. It has made possible the uniformly great performance of every Admiral TV set in 1956.

"I hope you will make a point of seeing and trying Admiral before long. There is no doubt in my mind that our 1956 models are the greatest TV sets ever to bear the name of Admiral."

Yours Sincerely

Vincent Barreca

PLAYOFFS AND PLAYDOWNS

Anyone who says softball is dying in Belleville had better take a close look at the schedule of playoff and playdown games on tap for the next week or so. No less than eight OASA playdown series are under way at present, or will be next week, not to mention three more sets for city and district titles.

There'll be plenty of action tonight on two fronts when the Frankfort Merchants and Point Anne go back at it in the third and deciding game of their city semi-final series and the Shell-ettes clash with RCAF in another women's OASA fixture.

To date, Point Anne and Frankfort have battled on two occasions for the right to meet the Orfuns for the Bill Ott trophy and the city title, with each team having emerged on top at home with ninth-inning rallies. The Merchants pulled out a 7-6 victory, while Phil Lot's boys won their "back-to-the-wall" game 6-4 in a real thriller on Wednesday night.

Both teams came up with some spectacular fielding plays and clutch hitting, so tonight's clash will likely provide more of the same with Pat Maracle and Doug Radnor, the "must" choices to hurl. Activity gets under way at 8:15 on the Point Anne diamond.

Meanwhile, at the Alewife field, Leo Lucciola's smart young ladies' club, the Osterhout Shellettes, tangle with the RCAF ladies in the second game of their OASA first round series at 6:00 p.m. They have met twice so far with the first game ending in an 11-1 tie and Belleville taking the replay 13-9. The third game, if necessary, will be played Monday with a flip of the coin deciding the site of action. The winner of this series will likely meet Madoc in the next round.

On Saturday the Belleville Bantams trek to Peterborough for their initial OASA start of the season. Return game is here next Saturday.

The Bobcats were to have played host to Kingston tomorrow in the Intermediate "AA" section but OASA convenor Don Lee announced this morning that the Kingston Club had defaulted the series.

The Belleville Orfuns run into another Kingston team in the Senior "B" series which opens here Tuesday night at the CNRAA Park.

Coach Bill Spafford and manager Don Dolan have high hopes for the Orfuns and rightly so. The team has played terrific ball all year, taking top spot in the city schedule after some hard-fought battles with Point Anne. Spafford has an excellent pitching staff in Bobby Hunter and Bobby Green, and Bruno McCurdy for relief. All softball fans will remember the Glen Roy Juniors of 1952, when "Lefty" Green and Hunter combined to pitch them to the Ontario championship with several "Iron Man" stunts by Hunter amazing one and all.

The Orfuns also boast a hard-hitting lineup with John Batchelor, Doug Hull and Jackie Wardhaugh always a threat, just to mention a few. The second game will be in Kingston Thursday.

Trenton Town will be the scene of another big game on Tuesday night when Point Anne visits that town for the initial game in a best-of-three Intermediate "A" series. The return game is Thursday night.

Pat Maracle, who has tossed three no-hitters in the past two seasons, will be a tough out for Trenton to hurdle. Backed by the power hitting of Gerry Goyer (404) and Bobby Hull (.455) on the year's play, Maracle picked up 10 wins in 11 decisions. The Cementers' batting order is loaded from top to bottom but it remains to be seen what they can do against the neighboring town.

Besides the above mentioned series, the Bobcats and Madoc will clash for the Labatt Trophy, the Orfuns and the winner of the Point Anne-Frankfort series meet for the Ott trophy, Madoc and Hastings meet in OASA Intermediate "C" action, Trenton and Peterborough in Juvenile "A" and Pictou vs. Frankfort in Intermediate "B". Then there's the Peebles of Belleville, who drew a bye in the first round and will take on either Oshawa or Brooklin in the second round.

Secretary Frank Fearer has laid the law down on game times, stating in his latest bulletin: "Daylight games must commence at least two hours before sundown" and "floodlight games must not start until one hour after sundown." Local teams, take notice.

TWO MAIN EVENTS?

Tonight's official main event on the Memorial Arena wrestling card will be Whipper Billy Watson vs. "Doc" Gallagher, but the semi-windup just might steal the show.

True, the Whip and the Doc will rough it up plenty in what should be a wild one, but when the midgets meet that usually means the big boys share the glory for it's always as exciting as a three-ring circus.

Little Beaver and the Brown Panther will form one-half of the tag-team hassle with Fuzzie Cupid and Tom Thumb playing the villain roles. Sam Gold takes on Firpo "The Pole" Zybsko to open matters at 8:45 p.m.

The teams chasing the American League pennant seem reluctant to rule the roost. The four contenders stay within reach but always manage to blow a chance to take command.

Boston started it, dropping the final game of a three-game set at New York after splitting the first two. Then Cleveland dissipated a two-game lead at last weekend by losing three in a row. Next, Yankees, who appeared to be rolling, misfired after winning seven in a row, and, though still on top, settled for a slim one-game edge.

Chicago missed the boat Thursday by dropping the second game of a doubleheader with sixth-place Kansas City 5-3 after slipping ahead of Yanks, who were rained out at Boston, with a 6-2 victory in the first game.

ENDED SLUMP

Cleveland, meanwhile, climbed back to within a game of first place and within three percentage points of White Sox, by ending its slump with a 5-3 decision over Detroit.

White Sox got two unearned runs for an early lead in the nightcap but still couldn't get home safe. Vic Power smashed a two-run homer in the sixth off loser Harry Byrd to tie it. And after Sherm Lollar homered Sox back into the lead 3-2 in the bottom half of the frame, Byrd collapsed in the seventh.

Virgil Trucks won the opener, his 12th, although forced out when hit by a line drive in the sixth. Cleveland waltzed in as two Tiger errors led the way to a five-run eighth. That broke up a 1-1 duel between rookies Frank Lary and Herb Score, Indians' southpaw smash, who fanned 13.

Detroit, now 9 1/2 games behind in fifth place, scored two in the ninth as Score walked two and gave up a double to Frank House, but Ray Narleski came on to save the young lefty by getting Harvey Kuenn on a pop fly.

BEAT THE GIANTS

In the National League, Brooklyn broke out of its "slump" to score three runs on five hits while pasting Jim Hearn in the first inning and rumbled on to an 8-5 decision over New York Giants. Jim Besover New York's pitcher, but he sent won in relief as the Giants ousted Karl Spooner with two in the third and two in the fourth.

Cincinnati moved back into fifth place, displacing Chicago with 2-1 victory over the Cubs. Four singles after two were out in the sixth scored the Redlegs' run over loser Paul Minner. Art Fowler gave six hits for the triumph.

Milwaukee Braves defeated St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in the only night game. Warren Spahn thus recorded his second victory in four nights and 40th of his career over the Red Birds.

Montreal Girl Wins Jr. Title In Tennis Play

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian junior tennis championships go into their eighth and possibly final day today.

All the closed events have been decided along with four of the six open singles classes. The junior men's singles and the girl's singles will be decided today.

Play in the five doubles classes has been moving along slower with the exception of the junior women's and men's, where the finals have been reached.

Three open championships were decided Thursday with two Ham-tracks, Mich., players winning and a top-seeded Canadian taking the other.

Eleanor Dodge of Montreal won the open junior women's singles 6-3, 8-6 over Phyllis Sganski of Hamtramck, Mich.

Virginia Hesse and Gerald Dubie, both of Hamtramck, captured the juvenile girls' singles and the boys' singles titles.

Francois Godbout of Quebec City scored the upset of the tournament so far when he eliminated the top-seeded American, David Breckner, of Brooklyn, N.Y., 6-4, 10-8 to enter the finals of the open junior men's singles.

Godbout will meet the winner of the semi-final match between Tony Lieberman of Philadelphia and Smith Chapman of Montreal in the final.

Chapman has a chance to become the first player to win both the open and closed junior men's singles since the closed was started three years ago.

Arnold Palmer Heads 102 Golfers Into Second Half 72-Hole Canadian Open

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WESTON, Ont. (CP)—Arnold Palmer, a recruit to golf's money ranks, is heading towards an all-time low score in the Canadian open championship. Right now, he's making a mess of par figures.

Palmer, 194, in S. amateur champion from LaTrobe, Pa., headed 102 golfers into the second half of the 72-hole tournament today with a 132 built on rounds of 64 and 67. At the rate he's going the 288 mark set by South Africa's Bobby Locke in the 1947 open at Toronto is well within his reach.

Palmer, no great world beater against the seasoned pros he joined the play-for-pay brigade this year, took over the lead with two blistering rounds that matched the hot, humid weather. He opened the championship Wednesday with a 66 and a fine recovery after a masterful 67 Thursday.

TWO AHEAD
His rounds were good enough to send him into a two-point lead over Jackie Burke, Jr., of Klamath Lake, N.Y., who put together a 67 and a 66 for a 133-total. Charlie Sifford, the first-day leader with a record-equaling 63, blew sky high to a 74 over the 6,428-yard course when his putter chilled.

The Philadelphia Negro was two under par after three holes but the pressure was too much for him. He fluffed easy putts, scrambled to hit even-par figures in the first nine and went two over coming home.

While Sifford's game was gradually going to pieces the well-known pros on the tournament trail continued to knock the par-72 figures for a loop. The leading 25 players after two days broke regulation figures Thursday, except Sifford.

Thursday's best score was a 65 by Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., who won the $15,000 Open two years ago. Edmonton's Henry Martell and Bo Winger of Oklahoma City, Okla., each posted 66s. Martell now has 137 after his first-round 71 and Winger, who shot an opening round 73, has 139.

LEONARD THIRD

Stan Leonard of Vancouver went into the second round in third place an eight-under-par 64 and added a disastrous tee shot on the first hole gave him a 69 for a 133, just one stroke behind Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, Calif.

Leonard was three over par after two holes. He had three pars and birdies the rest of the way and at the turn had a par-36. He had four birdies on the back nine and went over par on the 15th.

Leonard now is tied with Douglas, one stroke up on Mike Fetchick Lake Mahopac, N.Y.; Mike Sou-chak, Grossinger, N.Y., and Art Wall, Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

FOUR EAGLES

Four eagles were registered during the day and the most sensational was a 90-yard approach shot by Bob Lamb of Toronto on the par-five 525-yard seventh. Martell shot an eagle on the par-five third; defending champion Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon eagled the seventh and Barber got one on the 12th—also a par-five hole.

The surprise of the day was Palmer. His drives mostly were down the middle and he was murdered with his approach shots. He seldom had to putt from more than 10 feet.

Looking over the draw Thursday night Palmer said he wasn't worried about being front-runner at this stage and felt that since he has been playing well "All I have to do is keep that up and I can win the tournament."

Ken Lehman, Montreal's Ace Lefty, Hurls Perfect Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After nearly two seasons with only one no-hitter, the International League has erupted with two in less than a week.

Ken Lehman, Montreal's ace lefty, hurled a perfect game, retiring 21 in a row, in the seventh inning first game of a doubleheader at Columbus Thursday night. The leaver was Dick Hoover, who four days ago hurled a one-walk no-hitter against Richmond.

Earlier in the year, April 29, Duke Markell of Rochester had a nine-inning masterpiece but then he had to go back to Sept. 9, 1953, when Al Lary of Buffalo turned the trick in a seven-inning game.

Lehman's perfect game meant a split for Royals, who lost the second game 6-5 after the lefty's 3-0 triumph.

Royals lost no ground in the hot race, however, as Toronto split to leave the teams in a virtual tie for first with Leafs ahead by .002.

Toronto racked up Richmond and Jim Konstanty 7-1 before bowing 8-5. Buffalo and Syracuse split their twin-bill, each game decided by a single run. Bison won the second game 3-2 in regulation time after dropping the overtime opener 3-1.

In a single contest, Havana downed Rochester 7-3 to move within 2½ games of the leaders.

Jets have been involved in all three no-hitters this season. Markell victimized them 9-0 when he became the fourth pitcher in league history to notch two no-hitters. His apiece.

other was early in 1953.

For Lehman, it was the first of his professional career.

Columbus' three-run rally against reliever Glenn Mickens in the eighth inning of the second game gave starter John Gray a one-run victory—his third.

In league history there have been only two nine-inning super performances. Chester Carmichael of Buffalo had the first back in 1910 and in 1952 Bisons' Dick Marlowe registered the other.

Marlowe did not fare so well Thursday night, dropping a heart-breaker to Jim Owens and Syracuse Chiefs in their extra-inning encounter. Both hurlers fashioned three hitters in the nine-inning duel, decided by Jim Westlake's grounder scoring Bob Bowman from third base.

In the second game, Steve Demeter, Bison third sacker socked a triple and a single to bat in all three Buffalo runs while Ben Flowers held Chiefs in lay and evened his record at 8-8.

Konstanty, who wore the New York Yankee uniform a few days ago, was opposed by another recent repatriate, Mike Fornieles, late of the White Sox.

Leafs held a 2-1 lead until the sixth when they smacked the relief artist for five runs on three hits, a pair of walks, a hit batsman and two Richmond misplays.

Virginians tore into five Toronto hurriers in the afterpiece. Ed Kasko and Vic Marasco led the Richmond attack, driving in two runs to notch two no-hitters. His apiece.

With the retirement of passer Jack Jacobs, coach Al Sherman expects to have his Winnipeg Blue Bombers do plenty of running in the 1955 Western Interprovincial Football Union games. Directing the attack is import quarterback Buddy Leaks from Oklahoma, handing off to Bob McNamara, right half from Minnesota. Running interference are Lorne Benson, fullback, and Leo Lewis, left half from Lincoln College, Missouri. Centre is Gene Mears from Minnesota. (CP Photo).

Major Changes During Summer Make Blue Bombers Threat

By AL VICKERY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Over the years in Canadian football, Winnipeg Blue Bombers have been both the scourge and the butt of the gridiron.

The Bombers have won the Grey Cup three times — best record of any western team — and the Western Interprovincial Football Union championship five times in the last 10 years.

However, last year they barely made the playoffs — edging Calgary Stampede for the third and last spot. Some changes had to be made.

Major change came this summer when veteran star passer and quarterback Jack Jacobs announced his retirement. The swing was towards youth and speed, and Jacobs at 36 had neither.

Coach Al Sherman, returning for his second season with the club, indicated from the start of the spring training that his quarterbacks would have to run. He lost fleet-footed Bob Freeman of Auburn, who preferred to sit out football to joining Bombers after he had won an injunction to prevent him from playing in the United States.

NEW QUARTERS

Sherman elevated halfback and relief quarterback Buddy Leaks of the University of Oklahoma to the No. 1 signal-calling slot and brought in George Elliott from Northeastern State Teachers College, Oklahoma, to fill the second position. Backing them up will be Gerry Vincent from the Winnipeg junior Reds.

Hard-running Bob McNamara from University of Minnesota and speedy Leo Lewis from Lincoln College, Missouri, give Bombers the best ground attack since Bob Sandberg carried the load himself in the late 1940s. Pat Oleksiak from Tennessee and Canadians Lorne Benson, Chuck Lumsden and Ron Kelly give the club lots of power at fullback.

Glen McWhinney, obtained in an off-season cash deal from Edmonton, gives Bombers one of the best flying wings in the West. Place-kicking Buddy Korchak and Nick Miller, both local products, give solid depth to the flying wing spot.

Reserve backfield strength includes Gerry James, most valuable Canadian player last year but injured in early workouts, and veteran Tom Casey, who also will spearhead the defensive backs.

END IS INJURED

The declining of Keith Pearce, one of the better Canadian ends, puts Sherman in "a bad hole." If Pearce remains out of action long, Sherman will keep an import end to go along with third-year man Bud Grant, former Eagle passer-catcher and WFLU all-star end last year.

Line coach Larry Cabrelli has developed a front wall that will give little away to any of the other four clubs in the loop. Veterans Dick Huffman and Buddy Tinsley are backed up at tackle by import-returnee Stav Canakes, Mario Dare from University of Southern California, Floyd Harwood from Tulsa and two Winnipeg products, Steve Patrick and Roger Savole.

The guards, all Canadians, will be picked from holdovers Siggy Paulson, Winty Young and Buck Rogers and first year men Ed Kobowich, Russ Haines and Bill Smituk.

ORDERED INDOORS

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Rain washed out the 75th U.S. national doubles tennis tournament for the second straight day Thursday and the men's competition was ordered to be played indoors for the first time in its history.

Juniors Default, Wellington Meets Picton in Finals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Belleville Haggis Juniors defaulted the third and deciding game in their two-of-three Belleville and District baseball semifinals with Picton on Wednesday, placing Picton in the finals against Wellington.

Coach Al Kelleher informed this newspaper that he had not returned to Picton for the third game because of the late appearance of that team on nearly every occasion this year. The Lightfoots won the first game of the series at Picton and the Juniors took the second here but because of the late arrival of Picton, seven innings could not be completed and the decision was tossed out.

Picton returned here for the replay and again the Juniors won. With the series officially tied one game each, the clubs met in Picton Tuesday night. The game was scheduled for 6:30 but according to Kelleher the game did not start until 7:00 although he had his team present shortly after 6:00 p.m. Darkness once more halted activities before the seven frames were completed, the score tied 6-6 in the sixth when play was stopped.

The league executive ordered another game in Picton on Wednesday night but Belleville refused to go and Picton captured the series.

The league finals open Tuesday night with Wellington playing host to the Lightfoots. The game is scheduled for 6:00 p.m. with the second fixture in Picton the following evening, also at 6:00.

Canadian Swimming Records Smashed Eight Times in Meet

By LE EUSTACE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) —The Canadian Amateur Swimming Association will have a wholesale rewriting job on its hands if American aquatic stars continue to mock Canadian records.

The U.S. invaders, as the three-day Canadian swimming and diving championships got under way, shattered seven records Thursday, leaving four others to be broken by Canadians. Only one of the 12 events survived the attack. Two of the records were broken in heats.

Frankie Brunelle of Philadelphia, Shelley Mann of the Walter Reed Hospital Swim Club in Washington, D.C., and Charles Wagner of Cincinnati each posted double wins Thursday and at the same time set six records.

Canadian relay teams broke two records in the final events, while individual Canadian stars set new marks in heats.

WON JUNIOR

Helen Stewart of Vancouver, who won the junior women's 200-yard medley swim in 2:33.5, set a record of 2:33.1 in the final. Both times were better than the old figure of 2:37.8.

Sera Barber of Brantford, who won the 100-yard back stroke in 1:09.3, set a record of 1:07.9 in the first heat. As in Miss Stewart's case, both times were better than the old mark of 1:12.4. Miss Barber also placed second behind Miss Stewart in the medley first heat and final.

Peter Fowler, Woodstock, Ont., won the first heat of the junior men's 200 yards breast stroke and placed second in the final behind David Gayton of Vancouver.

The relay records were set by the Ontario section "A" of the C.A.S.A. with a time of 3:16.4 in the junior women's 400-yard freestyle—and by the Camp Chikipi, Ont., "A" squad—4:23.6 in the junior men's 400-yard medley relay. The old mark for the women's relay was 4:20.7 and for the men's 4:46.3.

Brunelle set a new mark of 53.9 in the junior men's 100-yard freestyle, and then went on to win the senior men's 400-yard medley swim in the record time of 4:54.4. The previous record in the freestyle was 54.2 and in the medley swim, 5:08.8.

SETS TWO MARKS

The senior women's 100-yard freestyle and the 200-yard medley swim fell to Shelley Mann. She out-distanced clubmates Wanda Werner and Dougie Gray to win the freestyle in the record time of 58.9 to wipe out the old mark of 59.2. The medley swim Miss Mann completed in 2:26.4, chopping 4.8 off the Canadian mark.

Stagman staged one of the most impressive performances of the day in winning the senior men's 1,650-yard freestyle, which was run off in three heats with the fastest time, the automatic winner. He knocked exactly 59 seconds off the Canadian record as he churned to victory in the first heat in 19 minutes and 42.3 seconds.

The Cincinnati youth also took the senior men's 220-yard butterfly, completing the distance in the record time of 2:21.7. The old mark was 2:23.4.

Mary Jane Sears, another clubmate of Miss Mann, set the seventh record for the Americans in the senior women's 200-yard breast stroke. She edged out Vancouver's Irene Service to take the event in 2:39.8, beating the old mark of 2:41.7.

Minor Baseball

Elliott's Regents earned the right to represent Belleville in the bantam O.A.S.A. playdowns last night by scoring a 12-10 victory over Tip Top Cleaners. Elliott's captured the series two games to one and will travel to Peterborough in the first round of the playdowns tomorrow with the return game here next Saturday.

Ted Hook and Clapp formed the winning battery, Hook stopping Tip Top on six hits, whiffing two and issuing nine free passes. Locke hurled in defeat allowing 14 hits, fanning five and walking four while Smith caught Elliott's error twice and Tip Top four times.

Serimeshaw led the 14-hit attack with two doubles and as many singles while Keller and Lewis had one of each. Lane bear singled twice. Stoneburg doubled with one-baggers for Clapp, Hook and Dever. Gardner and Locke rallied a double and single each for the losers as Sheridan and McGuire had singles.

Joe Adams is the coach of Elliott Regents.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, August 20, 1935

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Happy aspects for leisure hours and for those in the armed forces. Aggressive action sanctioned where needed. Get in the swim of happy things but be sure they are honorable.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — You, too, can look forward to a generous, productive day in almost any field if it has good and sound motives, objectives worth working for. Be your genial, hopeful self.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Influences bright for your particular interests and family needs. Do not overexert or overdo; it will harm nerves and disposition and fail to bring the results you could achieve with calmness and moderation.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Hearty, wholesome influences. Home, family affairs, honored; business, other interests advance.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — A day for fruitful gains, advancement in worldly undertakings. In your usual occupation, daily duties. Unexpected assistance may come from friends and others, and as a result of your own previous good deeds.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo) — This day should be encouraging for imagination, intuition, all creative ideas and matters. Seek new and diverting interests occasionally to improve your general outlook, increase desire for advancement.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Many fresh opportunities and benefits possible. Fine ray. Your own initiative and innate ability can, rightly applied, lighten your task and bring you friendly assistance you did not expect.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — If wise in judgment and your usual acquisitive self, you need not fear stiff competition or "tough" propositions. Start the day with a prayer, then finish duties and make ready for good fun.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — You have fine incentive today for original ideas, well planned undertakings. Good headway is likely, particularly in personal interests.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — New business, worthwhile clients, customers favored. A lively helpful period that should return gain for worthy efforts. Be amenable to sound advice, cheerful with family.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Splendid Jupiter and other planetary rays helpful to sound financial and business transactions; also to usual daily routine. Vacation activities favored.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — A good day (and month) for raising funds for charitable, church, hospital funds. A good day, for a sensible, progressive you. Personal interests can advance, gains realized in work, business.

You born today are spirited, enthusiastic, ambitious and generous-hearted. You may tend to a fondness for luxuries greater than you can afford, or those which would not be good for your well-being. Be more temperate in all you do; keep emotions and actions under control. You have fine talents and capability; cultivate them and use them daily. Do your best always; you can succeed to a high degree. Birthdate: Benjamin Harrison, 23rd U. S. President.

Council, School Board Meet To Discuss New School Plans

CAMPBELLFORD - A joint meeting of the Campbellford Town Council and the Public School Board was held in the council chamber here on Monday evening, when the school board presented facts and figures in connection with an effort to show that no time should be lost in making the first moves toward the construction of a new six-room school in the town.

Hector Macmillan of the school board presented figures showing that at present the average number of pupils per room is 39.5. He said that the Home and School Association this spring conducted a survey to ascertain about how many children would be entering the public school in each of the next five years. The survey showed that in 1936, 34 students would be leaving the school and 75 new students would enter kindergarten, for an increase of 41 pupils.

In 1936, there will be 40 pupils leaving the school and 69 entering kindergarten, for an increase of 29. In 1937, 60 leaving and 76 entering; 1938, 52 leaving and 75 entering; 1939, 42 leaving and 76 entering. This is a five-year increase in school enrollment of 137 pupils.

The board feels that the survey is a little on the light side if anything, because while the survey showed about 32 students entering the school this fall, the board said that 41 have already been registered.

William Tatham, chairman of the building committee of the school board, said that the survey showed that a new school would be the only solution to the problem. At present the school buildings are overcrowded, and the board has had to erect a temporary room in the basement of one of the two schools, to accommodate the increase for the fall term.

Mr. Tatham outlined the steps that must be taken by the board in bringing about the eventual construction of a new school. First, he said the board must make a survey to see what type of accommodation is needed, and make application to the Department of Education for approval to build a school. This has been done. Next an architect must be secured to prepare plans and have them approved by the Department of Education. The board must then make application to council for a debenture issue covering the cost of the school. The debenture by-law must be approved by the municipal board.

The $130,000 figure the board has suggested the school will cost is only an estimate. The actual cost will not be known until the plans are drawn up.

Some members of council objected to taking a vote on the school until they had more chance to think the matter over, so the meeting was adjourned and a date set for a special meeting when the matter will be discussed again. This will be Monday next.

Fine Growing Season, Fewer Rabbits Boost Crops in Britain

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) - British farmers have begun reaping one of the best harvests in living memory.

One of the most potent reasons for the exceptional crop has been a spectacularly sunny summer in a land where there's usually so much rain that umbrellas are a part of the national dress. Last year steady rains and high winds throughout the summer damaged much of the crop.

Secondly, myxomatosis, a pest disease, has killed off tens of thousands of rabbits which in past years have destroyed and damaged agricultural products.

And then there's the increased efficiency of the formerly-traditional British farmer. During and after the war he opened his arms and farms to mechanization.

Harvesting has started in earnest in the northern counties and is rapidly spreading southward.

Reports from Norfolk, famous for its matting barley, say the quality of this year's grain is exceptionally good.

In Lincolnshire, the combines have started on winter barley. Harvest work in the west Midlands will reach its peak later this month. Herefordshire's prospects appear the best, but the lack of rain has hurt the potato crop.

From Cornwall in the west come reports of a harvest 50 per cent completed and reaping is in full swing in Kent.

Liberal Leader Asks Premier To Reconsider

EDMONTON (CP) - Liberal opposition leader J. Harper Prowse suggested in the Alberta legislature Thursday that Premier Manning reconsider his "ill-considered" action of banning Alberta's two largest newspapers from his press conferences.

Mr. Prowse said the premier's action does not hurt the newspapers because they are able to obtain the news from news services and other sources. Only the public is hurt, he added.

Mr. Manning followed the Liberal leader as speaker but made no reference to press conferences.

Reward Offered

STRATFORD (CP) - Stratford city police Thursday posted notice of a reward of $1,000 for information leading to arrest of Neil Elsworth Dickson, 18-year-old Toronto - Dominion Bank branch teller, missing since Friday night.

The police said a warrant for his arrest in connection with the disappearance of $35,000 from the bank is held by Stratford police department.

Sunday School Lesson:

Hope Must Have Solid Foundations

By ROY L. SMITH

The days through which we are living, with their accompaniment of international tensions, the threat of an atomic war that can mean the suicide of civilization, and new and strange race conflicts, are having the effect of spreading a dreadful undertone of fear throughout all of life. In the face of our uncertainty we are being assured by easy optimists that everything will come out all right, because "God is in His heavens and all will be well with the world." Much of such preaching is nothing more than a spiritual sedative which serves no better purpose than to deaden our sense and blind us to the realities of the times.

HEBREWS WERE DETERIORATING

The Scripture of this week's Sunday school lesson was originally composed as an anthem to be sung for the inspiration of the Jews in the midst of their Babylonian exile. It had been a terrible shock to them when their beautiful capital had been destroyed and they had been led off into captivity. But Babylon had not been entirely unkind. In fact, the exiles were treated with unusual generosity.

They were permitted to engage in business, make money, amass fortunes, share in the educational and cultural advantages of the country, and in various ways improve their lot. As a matter of fact, the land was a vastly easier one in which to make a living than the homeland from which they had come. "It's not so bad," they were beginning to say. Indeed, some of them were saying, "I'm not so sure I'd want to go back if I had the chance."

In the meantime the idolatry and the moral laxity which were a part of the life of Babylonia was being accepted by thousands of the Jews, and life among them was deteriorating in general terms. The old religious loyalties and moral standards were breaking up.

A LONELY VOICE

In the midst of the general thaw in morals and religion a few lonely voices were to be heard calling the Jews back to their ancestral faith. The beautiful poem of this week's lesson represents the plea of one such. Well aware of the secularism that has crept into the life of the people, and being in terror lest it completely corrode away the soul of the nation, he pleads with infinite tenderness for a return to their ancient altars.

The Uniform Sunday school lesson for August 21: "Hope For the Exiles," Isaiah 55; Jeremiah 31; 50; Ezekiel 36.

Many another preacher would have exhausted himself in invectives. He would have heaped accusation and imprecations upon the people, threatening them with the wrath of God. But our poet-preacher is of an entirely different cast of mind. He loves Israel with an unending love and, like a mother praying for an errant son, he pleads tenderly and affectionately for reform, penitence and rehabilitation.

GOD IS SO VERY PATIENT

No chapter in all the Old Testament has so much of the spirit of the New Testament in it as this one has. One can easily believe that Jesus Himself drank from the beauties and the charity of the chapter many times, for we know that He was well versed in the prophets.

It is true, of course, that our God is a moral God and that His laws are exact. But the Christian faith (as also the Jewish) declares that God is likewise merciful and patient. It was this confidence that inspired the Twenty-third Psalm; it was this faith that underlay the 13th chapter of 1 Corinthians; it is this mind that conceived many of the parables of Jesus.

Alongside the mercy of God, however, we must always be reminded of the moral character of God.

Six Pilots in One Family Enough Says Owner of 54,000-Acre Ranch

By WALTER GRAY

Canadian Press Staff Writer
THE PAS, Man. (CP) — Tom Lamb has put his foot down. Six pilots in one family, he says, is enough.

His youngest son, 18-year-old Connie, would like to be a pilot along with his dad and five brothers.

"But we've got enough pilots in the family now," says Tom. "I want him to be a veterinarian." So Tom has sent his youngest to far-off Seattle to take a veterinarian's course. Eventually he will manage Tom's 54,000-acre cattle and muskrat ranch at Moose Lake, 25 miles east of this northern gateway town.

Father and the other sons will look after Lamb Airways Ltd., a unique family air service operating out of The Pas to far-flung points in northern Canada.

Born in Grand Rapids, Man., in 1888, Tom started out in the trading business which he took over from his father in 1925. A natural-born mechanic, Tom spent his spare time working on the old Vedette flying boats that first flew over the north country.

The early bush pilots taught Tom how to fly and he soon was flying fish into The Pas from the surrounding district.

When I saw there was a few dollars to be made in this business I decided to form my own company," he said. That was in 1935. Now 57, Tom is still flying and is top physical shape.

BIG FAMILY

Married in 1925, he has nine children. The three oldest are Sheila, 28, married and in Seattle; Carol, 27, also married and running Tom's trading post with her husband at Moose Lake; and Phyllis, 26, wife of Cal Gibson, the airways' office manager.

After them came the boys: Greg, 24, is chief pilot and assistant manager; the twins, Dennis and Din, 22, both pilots; Jack, 21, a pilot; Doug, 19, a pilot; and Connie.

Tom taught his sons how to fly and they obtained their commercial licences in Winnipeg.

Up to last May the company had an accident-free record. But driving out to the seaplane base at Grace Lake, three miles from The Pas, Tom will sadly point out the remains of the one and only major accident, involving his son Jack. Jack's plane crashed on the lake while taking off from the lake. Dougie raced up the road and dragged his brother from the burning wreckage. Jackie is still in hospital in Winnipeg recuperating from a series of major skin grafts.

Tom said he stopped keeping a log of his flying hours after 10,000 hours, but estimates he has about 14,000 to date.

And with all the activity going on in the north country the Lamb brothers are logging a staggering amount of hours. Tom spoke casually about the 1,400-mile flight Dougie took the other day to a new radio station site on the Hudson's bay coast. The flight was made over country which still has no planes from the Grace Lake base which Tom created by building an island and a jetty on the lake. Each plane is equipped with a stove, fishing net, food and sleeping bags. Should a plane be forced down, the crew has enough equipment to survive until rescue. Tom says the waiting-out period is an experience every person should encounter.

"It gives you time to meditate, to think about things . . . it's a wonderful experience," he said.

??? THE 5 MOST ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT...

What is the best size for a canoe to be?

A long, slim, light canoe is the most satisfactory to handle. A 16-footer, weighing about 65 pounds, is a good choice for average conditions.

Are aluminum canoes more practical than canvas?

Aluminum canoes continue to grow in popularity. They need no paint and no shelter from the weather. Sharp rocks are not so likely to do damage, though a puncture in metal is harder to repair. Cold aluminum solder for patching can be bought at hardware stores.

Should a paddler sit or kneel?

Good paddlers prefer to work on their knees. On long trips you'll feel quite comfortable in this position if you make a pair of foam rubber pads, and slip them over your knees with elastic. Changing sides from time to time relieves fatigue.

What are the Safety Rules?

Plain good sense prevents many a tragedy. Never stand up or change places. If the canoe should tip, don't try to swim for shore. You can lie inside a half-swamped canoe and hand-paddle. With two or more people, grasp one another's wrists across the overturned keel and tread water. Never overload a canoe. Keep freight down low, and balanced so the canoe won't list.

How far can you travel in a day?

Figure on fifteen miles or a little better for an average day's trip. It's not how far you go! It's how much fun you have.

Betty Berry, nurse at Oshawa, who is attempting to swim the 16-mile reach from Picton to Deseronto, left the Prince Edward Yacht Club dock at 10:59 a.m. this morning on the first leg of the swim.

She expects to arrive in Deseronto between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. In smooth warm water, she "struck out" from the shore, strongly swimming at 58 strokes a minute.

She is being accompanied by a boat carrying her father, Jack Berry, employee of the Bell Telephone Company at Belleville, and Charles (Sixty) Wager, pilot for the swim.

Thousands of Scots Join Royal Family at Picnic

BALLATER, Scotland (AP)—Thousands of Scots jammed this hamlet today to picnic with the Royal Family and per chance find some hint whether Princess Margaret's 25th birthday Sunday may set the stage for a betrothal announcement.

The festive birthday whetted interest in the royal lawn festival beyond all expectations. At 25, Margaret will be free to marry—if she wishes—Peter Townsend, hand-some 40-year-old wartime pilot and divorced father of two children.
